Girl friends and schoolmates of Miss Louise Boehmer tendered her a surprise party Wednesday evening, May 18th, in honor of her sixteenth birthday. The occasion proved very enjoyable to all who participated.

Rev. Honeywell of Norwood Park, who is filling the Methodist pulpit during the absence of Rev. Tuttle, on Sunday night lectured very forcibly against the amusements of dancing, card- playing and theatre going. The great controversy now existing at the Methodist convention in San Francisco relative to these three pastimes has occasioned a wave of discussion throughout the Methodist world. Great emphasis was placed in consuming these things. While many truths were told, the general talk was a tribute strong. However a man's courage to give his honest views is always admired. Perhaps the low-lived disciples of Chicago fixed such plain words but certainly clean minded Barrington young folks do not especially need information on the disgraceful city conditions. The audience was somewhat startled to be told that the discourse would be on "The Three Disreputable Towns of Barrington" and rather eagerly awaited the scathing remarks which however proved to be directed towards Iva. "Merry-mac, Devotee and Apathy" who live in all towns and are great influencers to all that is wicked.

NEW HOMES IN THE WEST.

Two Million Acres of Government Land to be Opened to the Homesteader by C. & N. W. Ry.

Almost half a million acres of Government land in the Rosebud Indian Reservation, in the Southeastern part of South Dakota and one and a half million acres on the Shoshone Reservation in Wyoming are to be opened for homestead settlement on April 27 to day. Registration for the Rosebud tracts will begin Aug. 8 and the final allotment take place a month later. The Rosebud lands are well watered by the Missouri, Niobrara and White rivers and are situated in the great corn belt where farm lands are selling from $25.00 to $40.00 an acre. The region that is to be opened is reached by the direct line of the Chicago & Northwestern Ry from Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Sioux City DesMoines, Omaha, Fremont, the Black Hills and other points in the west through to Bonesteel on the eastern reservation border.

Shoshone or the Wind River reservation is on the high plateau lands in Central Wyoming, bounded on the south by the Wind River on the north, by Owl Creek mountains, while the Big Horn drains the eastern portion of the lands that are to be opened.

These lands are reached on the Chicago & North-Western Ry. to Casper thence by stage to Lander, via the Chicago, Burlington & Pacific & North-Western line to Rawlins.

The treaty has been made by which the Shoshone lands north of the Wind River are to be opened to settlement and awaits early Congressional action. Government lands of good quality are scarcer than they were at one time and the evidence by this announcement of new lands to be opened to the settlers are very great. A heavy movement westwards of those who desire to avail themselves of the United States Homestead act will doubtless begin as a result of the announcement that these lands are opened.
