Cleveland Theatre.

Commencing with matinee next Sunday, May 29th, at Cleveland's theatre the largest all-star show in the history of vaudeville will be given. There are no fewer than ten headliners on the program. The magnitude of the company is such proportions that vaudevill goers wonder how Mr. Cleveland secures so many stars at one time and how he can afford so many expensive artists. However the business that is now being done at this theatre is quite sufficient to permit of expenses away out of the ordinary. The distinguished Kimura Proctor Otis, who is a great Chicago favorite Julian Rose, the Hebrew impersonator one of the brightest, stars and biggest, friendest artists in vaudeville; Mr. & Mrs. Robyns in their play "The counsel for Defense;" Wilson trio, German vocalists and yodlers; Marie Laurens character operatic singer, Bartlett & Collins novelty sketch; Cordes & Maud the European equilibrist and performers on the double light rope wires, Milo Vasye, European loop roller and bag puncher and the Potter family go to make up the bill which for quality is really remarkable but this is not all to go, next week's magnificent program the grand opera prima donna-star has been engaged as a special feature and Chicagoans have paid $3 and $4 per seat to hear in the recent past; Mme Mantelli who will represent a new repertoire of selections from numerous grand operas in which she has sung principal roles and her costumes and jewels she will wear are more beautiful than any that have been worn in vaudeville. The same popular prices will prevail for two performances daily. Large and delighted audience throng Cleveland's theater at every performance.

John Hughes, conductor of the wrecking train on the North-Western, returned to work this week after a severe illness.
