A barn dance was held Saturday night at the Wendt home on the Castle farm southwest of town. About a dozen from here attended.

The Barrington baseball nine beat the sixth of twelve shots, slippers and rubbers at less than cost. You can save money by calling on him and purchasing footwear.

The wording of a sentence in last week's paper relative to the W. R. C. cars, parties seems to have been misleading. The final party has not been given as several supposed.

The closing recital of the Lake County School of Oratory will be held Monday evening, June 18th, at Odd Fellows hall. Nearly three hundred invitations have been issued.

A surprise party was given Wednesday evening for Miss Anna Listhartzke at her home east of town. Twenty young people attended. Games, music and supper afforded amusement.

Flag Day was generally observed in the village especially in the business district. The large town flag is flying in several places and needs attention. Will some sewing society or lodge donate its services?

Have your mail directed to the proper postoffice and route and save delay. The postmaster is not authorized to stop mail directed to another office even though said mail can be delivered on a route from his office.

Monday evening's storm caused trouble in the lighting and telephone service of the village. Lightning burned out a commutator on a dynamo at the electric light plant and a number of telephone fuses were burned out.

The week's mission at St. Ann's begins Sunday at 10 o'clock when mass will be read by Father Livingstone, Jesuit Priest. Continuing through the week mass will be celebrated each morning and benediction in the evening, followed by a lecture.

The exterior painting of the Baptist church is finished and presents an improved appearance of the building. Papering and painting is to be done on the interior and the work is to be completed as quickly as possible.

The Thursday club was entertained by Mrs. Philip Hawley yesterday afternoon. A number of guests were present and the program entertaining. Mrs. Brockway contributed an interesting paper. The ladies furnished pictures of their husbands taken in childhood days and Mrs. Howarth was awarded a prize for grouping them.

The Barrington Cornet band will furnish music for the celebration at Lake Zurich July 4. In our last issue we stated the celebration to be held in Barrington would be under the auspices of the Barrington band. That was the understanding but the band seemed unwilling to shoulder the responsibility of financing the affair. The citizens committee will carry forward the plausible for the celebration here.

One of the most successful of any of the recitals in point of merit was held June 11th at the home of May Lane Spanner. The Misses Throop and Lund of Crystal Lake did great credit to themselves and to their instructors. The selections were rendered with ease and grace and the interpretation excellent of music was furnished by Misses Sadie Hooks, Alta Powers, Beulah Otto and Elsie Costello.

Last Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. George Lytle entertained a number of young people at their home on West Main street. Various games were played during the evening, also a musical program was rendered to which the guests contributed money to the amount of $2.25. It was decided to donate this amount to the W. R. C. monument fund. A dainty luncheon was served by the hostess, and several toasts were responded to.

Election of officers in the Eminent Ladies lodge will be held Monday evening, June 20, and a full attendance of members is requested.

HONORED THEIR DEAD.

Odd Fellows Hold Services in Memory of Departed Members.

Sunday was the day set apart by Grand Master Brown of the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F. Illinois as a Memorial day for members of the order who have passed to that great lodge above and where the golden links of friendship are never broken. Throughout the entire jurisdiction of Illinois the members met and paid tender patriarch and paid loving tributes to the departed ones.

Barrington lodge, No. 836, gave full measure of attention to the occasion. At 10:30 o'clock in the morning members assembled at the Baptist church. The house of worship was beautifully decorated for the occasion with a profusion of floral offerings. A quartette composed of Frank H. Plagge, R. L. Landwer, John Bleke and Wm. Sodt rendered selections of a high order; Miss Nora Plagge presided at the organ.

The opening invocation by Rev. Garth was an eloquent appeal to the Father to bless the great organization whose work was the relieving of suffering kind, care of the widow and orphan, and teaches lessons of the love of the Great Samaritan.

The discourse by Rev Garth was one of the best ever delivered from a pulpit in this village. It recited the history of Odd Fellowship from the time when Jonathan pleaded for his friend David and the scripture story while familiar to every wearer of the lodge was listened to with rapt attention. The discourse was replete with word pathology, of epigrams which every man and woman in the audience could follow and thereby add their mite to the happiness and prosperity of the human family.

The speaker said: "It is not more churches nor more religion that the world needs but more practical, more brotherly love, more friendship, love and truth. Any organization whose motto is: Friendship, love, burying with care and reverence its members, caring for the widow and the orphan, is doing the work as precisely as did the Great Samaritan, whose brotherly love was so great that he gave his life for humanity. In accomplishing noble deeds and deserve every encouragement from the church. The great secret order should walk side by side in hand with the church; there should be no antagonism."

Memorial service was held at the lodge room at 2 o'clock, at the close of which Rev Garth again addressed the lodge. A parade to Evergreen cemetery where decoration ceremonies were carried out closed the exercises of the day.

Delegates were present from Palatine, Wauconda, and Cary and the entire service was productive of much good to the cause of Odd Fellowship in this community.

Sears' School of Music and Oratory.

The pupils in the Sears school of music will give their closing concerts Monday, June 20, at the same hours, at 10 a. m., 1:15 p. m., 4 p. m. and at 8 p. m. in Robinson free Public cordially invited to attend.

The department of oratory under the direction of Mrs. May Lane Spanner, will give their closing recital at Odd Fellows hall, Saturday evening June 17, for which invitations have been issued.

The program of the school of music is a most meritorious one, each pupil having been assigned a prominent part. Interspersed in the musical programme are readings by pupils from the department of oratory. Sears' Barrington band and orchestra will furnish several numbers.

CHILDREN'S DAY.

Appropriately Observed by Scholars of the Baptist Sunday School.

There is no day in the year more full of suggestions than the second Sunday in June, which has been christened Children's day. It is not an accident that the Sunday was selected as the pleasantest of the twelve months, nor is it an accident that our houses of worship are made beautiful with flowers and ring with songs.

The setting apart of a lovely June Sunday as Children's Day is just an illustration of what the church is continually doing for the young folks. Is there a sober, more sure way?

Although floral offerings garland the churches the best and most beautiful with flowers in the churches.

At the Baptist church Sunday evening the children of the Sunday school presented a program which delighted every one of the large audience assembled in that house of worship. The platform erected in the chancel was covered with June foliage and banked with choice flowers while choir box and surroundings were festooned with garlands of green leaves. It was a scene of beauty for the chief settings being the pretty, happy little ones in grown of white.

The program was in charge of Mrs. W. L. Wilmer and Miss Grace Otis. Miss Beulah Otis presided at the organ and a choir of soloists led the choruses. Miss Beatrice Hawley delivered the poem of welcome. Mrs. May Lane Spanner gave a reading, "The Angel and the Shepherd," in a manner most pleasing to all. Mrs. F. O. Wilmer and Mrs. Lewis Cady two vocal solos most acceptably. Miss Jennie Lines gave a reading, one Paul Dunbar's poems. Misses Florence Collins and Viola Lines contributed a pretty vocal duett. Miss Mamie Murphy rendered J. Whitcomb Riley's poem "In the Orchard Where the Children Used to Play." Mrs. Eva Tuttle rendered a vocal solo, which was well adapted to her rich soprano voice. Little Pearl Wilmer gave two recitations and a vocal number the latter which won for her many compliments. Other little folks appeared in musical selections and recitations which merited the praise given.

The programme closed with a tableau "The Shepherd and His Flock" rendered by Rev. Garth and scholars of the school.
