He was told that if such abuse resulted from the actions of his office he could not accommodate the patrons further. It takes leaths to build up a good thing but any fool can destroy.

ONE-THIRD HIGHER

Will be The Tax Rate for Barington Village Owing to New School Building.

County Clerk Hoxie of Lake county received the tax rate for village and school levies for this village and school district from Cook county Wednesday. The rate for school purposes has been fixed at $4.85 on each $100 assessed valuation against $2.95 last year.

The village rate will be $1.80 which is 20 cents lower than a year ago. The other rates remain practically the same and as a result property owners within this village and school district will pay a trifle over one-third more taxes this year than last.

The increase is caused by the school levy which was made to secure $6,700 for the first installment, toward a building for school purposes.

It was expected by many that the rate would necessarily have to be higher than this. However, we will have the new school building, an improvement so necessary to the welfare of the village, and the burden of taxes will be over when past this year.

The rate on properties outside the district remain practically the same as last year.

TO REGAIN HER HEALTH

Miss Lillie Harrower Camps Out Among the Snow-Capped Hills of Colorado.

Lillie M. Harrower who is spending winter in Colorado in the hope of regaining her health, writes the following letter to the editor of this paper, which will be read with interest by her friends in this vicinity:

DENVER, COLO., Jan. 5, 1905.

Editor Review:

On Christmas morn I was awakened by a chime from cakes' home, in that morning my thoughts naturally turned towards my native home thought of this one and that one, and how I wished I would be if I could be with them. Then I wondered if I should write you all a letter instead of the Barrington Review would not publish it. This my excuse for writing.

Christmas morn dawned bright and clear and many people left home that day who were sorry before night that they had not gone prepared for snow and cold weather. Towards evening it began to snow and turn cold. In the evening and next morning it was quite cold, for this country. Some say the thermometer went down to 16 degrees below zero, here on the hill, Monday night, the 26th. I know it was cold, for everything "freezable" I had in my tent froze. Thereafter I kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Appleby I was not allowed to stay in my tent that night nor the next.

I was very generously remembered at Christmas time both by my friends at home and here.

On Christmas Day I feasted on good things at Mr. and Mrs. Appleby's and New Years Day with Mr. and Mrs. Carlsen.

Would you like to hear about my home here? It is a tent 14x14 ft. It is situated in the part of Denver known as Cottage Hill. It is about three and one-half miles from the Rock Island depot and about five blocks from the car line. I can be run about every seven minutes. The Rock Island passes, which are ten miles from us seem to be only a mile or so away. Old Pike which is eighty miles away is plainly seen from my home. Several times lately the mountains and foot-hills have been almost pure white after a time the foot-hills become brown and gray and the range, farther west, remains white. At sunrise the view is grand.

Now about the inside of my tent. It is comfortably furnished and I enjoy almost the comforts of a home. I have all the real necessities that go to make a comfortable home—stove, chairs, table, dishes, two closets, one for dishes and one for clothes (of course I do not need to tell you what the closets are made of) and always plenty of kindling and coal on hand. Oh yes, I forgot almost to say plenty to eat! Ought not one to be comfortably settled be contented and gain in health? It surely seems so to me and I have no cause at all for complaint.

With best wishes for a Happy and prosperous New Year to you all, I am ever,

Your friend,
LILLIE M. HARROWER

A paper published at Platte, Neb., gives special attention to secret orders of the country. It tells of Barrington having "21 lodges representing nearly every known order and that the Odd Fellows are making rapid progress in the field so overworked." The first part of the item is very much exaggerated while the last half is true.

Postmasters have been notified by the postal authorities at Washington, who recognize the liability of postmasters to mistakes in getting letters in wrong boxes, that they are fixed a penalty of $20 on persons taking mail out of the office other than their own and not returning it. The law is to have people look at their mail before leaving the office and if they should get mail other than their own, they must return it at once. It includes newspapers. The excuse that it is the postmaster's fault "cuts no ice." If you have been in the habit of opening other people's mail you had better stop it or you may get yourself into trouble.

Thursday Club Entertainment

Souvenirs and photographs of Japan were much in evidence at the home of Mrs. Shipman on Lake St. where the Thursday club members and several guests were entertained most delightfully.

The usual form of program was carried out and sketches of Japan read by Mrs. Howarth, Mrs. Collins and Mrs. Mae Lane Spunner.

Need a Stronger Stimulant

Mrs. Corinne Brown, who ranks as one of the most daunless of feminine leaders, is justly exercised over what she terms the degeneracy of women's clubs. She is quoted as saying that the club woman has been intimidated by the work cut out for her in the discussion of masculine problems, such as "going to smash on the shoals of tea and wafers."

There is much food for thought in tea and wafers—an appropriate and elegant supper. In fact, women's clubs cannot expect to make any headway in the invasion of man's field until they adopt masculine methods and masculine problems. Tea, wafers and salads are all very well for diversion the history of Japan, for mere societies and such. Coffee and cotelone dipped doughnuts may enthuse the members of a cinch club but are too enervating for the great problems of masculine life.

Malt tonic, brandy and soda or ginger nightballs can be expected to serve the purpose of settling the social question and vexatious problems in which the women's clubs are seemingly interested.

A year ago or so a farmer residing in Boone county was kicked by a mule and died. His son in-law married the widow, his stepmother, and is now looking for a mule. He courts death.

THE MUSICAL NOYES

Appear at Odd Fellows Hall and Entertain a Large and Appreciative Audience.

One of the most meritorious entertainments given in Barrington for a long, long time, was that given by the Noyes and produced under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. at Odd Fellows hall Friday evening. The house was well filled and great appreciation shown from the opening overture to the closing number.

The program was one of the most excellently arranged to please an audience made up as it was of lovers of music and literary ability.

Miss Daisy Hoyle violin soloist's renditions were of a very high order and showed her marked ability.

W. G. Hoyle clarinet soloist's gave most excellent rendering of entrancing music on an instrument which is difficult to handle and produce pleasing effect.

F. Kolb in flute solos charmed every lover of music by the masterly manner in which he gave music.

W. R. Hoyle, a veteran cornetist added much to the orchestral numbers by his rendition of that instrument.

Miss Nettie Hoyle presided at the piano and showed her skill as a performer of merit.

Not one number of the many given by this popular quintet failed to please and encores were liberally responded to. Such harmonious blending of musical instruments was certain a rare treat.

The pleasure of the entertainment were greatly added to by the readings and recitations of Miss Nettie Yancey, who won popularity with the audience before she had concluded half of her first number, "Harvard and Yale," and she was recalled after each number allotted to her on the program.

The rendering of "Sally Ann's Experience" was exceptionally fine and a literary treat. It demonstrated her vocal training, mastery of elocution and high degree of dramatic impersonation. She has a cultured delivery, most pleasing personality and a reader whom people will be more than pleased to welcome at any time.

The entire program was of a high order and the Y. M. C. A. is to be congratulated on securing the Noyes to entertain our people. The company is assured of a cordial welcome should they visit us again.
