SMOKE IN BARRINGTON

In coming through the character points of a small community to discover objectionable features for elimination, Barrington people should not become so engrossed in sewer and road problems that they lose sight of smaller but no less important adverse features.

Disagreeable smoke is an evil which Chicago people coming to Barrington to live do not entirely escape.
"Moving into the country and fresh air" is a slogan only partially true. While mid-summer is not the time of year to worry about smoky chimneys of the present, it is the ideal season in which to start eliminating smoky chimneys of next winter. A great many coal bins are being replenished now while fuel prices are low.

Coal dealers sell all grades and varieties of fuel.
Usually the cheapest in price is the smokeiest and in-decently the most extravagant to burn. Ask your coal dealer, he makes as much profit selling one grade of coal as another and will be impartial.

Cheap coal smoke is not the only smoke evil. One that is more disagreeable and stays with us twelve months a year is garbage smoke. Garbage consuming stoves are located throughout the village. One that fills many people with its nauseating fumes is located almost in the central part of the business district. Many Barrington people would be grateful to the owner if he would have his waste food hauled away rather than burned.

A SERIOUS INDICTMENT

Perhaps the most shocking revelation that has been made public for many years is the report by the Wicker-ham Commission on Crime and Punishment of the way in which child offenders under Federal laws are misused and neglected, even tortured in various state penal institutions to which they have been sent by the Federal courts.

The Federal government maintains prisons for adult offenders, but has to turn children who are convicted of violating Uncle Sam's laws over to state and county institutions. Investigators report that in some of these prisons they are placed in damp, unsanitary, dark cells, in others mixed with hardened adult criminals, in others practically starved, and in others beaten and otherwise mistreated for the slightest infraction of discipline.

If anything can turn a boy or girl of 15 or so into an adult criminal, it is prison treatment such as that.

These children have done nothing to merit any such treatment. It is only occasionally, to be sure, that a minor comes under the ban of the Federal laws. These young prisoners have been found guilty of running a stolen automobile across a state line, which is one of the most recent crimes under Federal laws, or of acting as messenger for drug-peddlers, again crossing a state line, or of other inter-state acts which, while serious enough, do not call for such brutal and heartless treatment as these youngsters get.

If the United States Government must send children to jail, then let the Federal authorities establish their own prison for minors and see that they are humanely treated.

TOO MANY GOVERNMENTS

One reason for the rapid increase in taxes is in the increasing number of governments and government officials which the taxpayers are called upon to support.
Governor Roosevelt of New York recently pointed out that no citizen of that state can live under fewer than four governments, and many of them live under no less than ten different sets of public officials.

There are the Federal, state, county and city governments, as a minimum. "If one lives in a town outside of a village he is under five layers of government: Federal, state, county, town and school. If he lives in an incorporated village another layer is added. If he lives in a town outside of the village he may be in a fire, water, lighting, sewer and sidewalk district, in which case there are ten layers of government," said Governor Roosevelt.

Similar conditions exist in every state. Most of the work of administration could be done by half as many people as are employed at the public expense, merely by merging the different governmental units. Dr. C. J.
Galpin, sociologist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, suggests the consolidation of townships, small villages and even of counties. This is necessary in many rural districts, he says, if adequate modern facilities for education and other community enterprises like hospitals, libraries, parks, playgrounds, churches, fire companies and the like are to be available. He estimates that it takes a community of at least a thousand families to support up-to-date facilities of such kinds. If he is right, then there is no way out for small communities except such a merger of interests as Dr. Galpin and Governor Roosevelt propose.

County government in general is not very satisfactory anywhere in the United States. It is natural that people give their first attention to their local, town, village or city government. They do not, in many sections, have occasion often to come in contact with their county governments. If all the functions now delegated to local communities became the business of the county as a whole, perhaps the effect would be beneficial not only in making county officials more responsive to public opinion but in lessening the burden of multifarious taxes and superfluous public officials.

Of course, the professional politicians will resist any movement of this sort. They will always resist any movement which reduces the number of office holders and reduces the number of prizes that can hang up for their partisans to scramble for. But local government ought not to be the plaything of politicians, and the time will come when it will not be.

The art of glass making in the United States has progressed to such a stage that the product of famous European glass factories is being equalled.

Educational programs broadcast by radio to some 500 elementary schools in Chicago are becoming an integral factor in the classroom work of the city's schools.

A SUGAR REVIEW

My patient readers may be possibly amazed at some of the ideas here advanced. Let me say at the outset that I very seldom peddle the ideas of others—at least I seldom quote; but much of the thought herein expressed is borrowed from current literature.

An authority from Vienna attributes "striking favorable results" in the treatment of heart disease and stomach ulcers, with table sugar. If I had these sort of complaints, I'd consult my doctor as to how to use the sweet. You know, sugar is one of our staples.

The value of sugar "in relieving fatigue and supplying quick energy," also has scientific endorsement. The Vienna authority is believed to be the first to suggest the use of sugar in the treatment of certain, widely prevalent diseases. He, (Dr. Roehle) claims to have used sugar in the treatment of stomach and duodenal ulcers, with good success. He noticed increase of appetite, with better food-tolerance, in an increased supply of mucous, favored by the sugar.

He saw improvement in the habitual constipation in such cases, with notable gain in weight. Too, remarkable increase in nerve-forces, less melancholia, and more happy disposition in the gloomy victims.

The relief was not immediate, but gradual and lasting. He says "sugar is the most important nutritional element of the heart, in that it lowers blood-pressure and stimulates the liver and kidneys." Dr. Donald A. Laird, of Colgate University, contributes to a scientific symposium on sugar; he states that sugar contributes to restful sleep. This argues, almost, for a chocolate at bedtime, doesn't it?

Dr. Laird also declares it to be valuable in curing "vague feelings of fatigue, so common among physicians' patients." A remedy for "that tired feeling," so commonly met. In short, if sugar helps relieve mental and physical tire, and favors restful sleep, then it certainly is among our most valued foods.

The United States Postoffice now handles a volume of magazines and newspapers 30 times that of 50 years ago.

The total cost of railroads in Australia up to date is estimated at $1,600,000,000.

It's hard to convince a jobless man that his hunger is merely psychological.

THIS WEEK IN Washington

Special Correspondent

THE FEDERAL FARM Board is one independent government agency that cannot close down or run in neutral during the hot spell. It is operating full force, for its existence is at stake in the wheat price controversy.
The mid-west legislators who fostered the Board are now at odds with the Board's policies—under political pressure from their wheat growing constituents. Veteran Democratic leaders are not banking heavily on the independent exhibition in these states where the Republicans have been in power.
They realize that criticism of today seldom reaches the point of revengeful voting for real or fancied wrongs a few months hence. True, there is an occasional protest vote but this is recorded in Congressional elections rather than on Presidential tickets, especially in the Middle West. It is in the thickly populated, industrial centers where the present minority party hopes to muster new strength in 1932 because city folks are not sticklers for traditional party loyalty.

THE NUMEROUS PRESIDEN-TIAL commissions appointed during the past two years are temporarily submerged. There has been little public discussion of the commissions, with the exception of the so-called Wicker-ham group investigating law enforcement. This agency because of its study of the vital prohibition question claimed more attention than others.
The President's Emergency Committee for Employment has been remarkably quiet with Colonel Arthur Woods the chairman, abroad. There is another group recently formed having to do with the stabilization of employment. Just how these agencies and the bureau at the Department of Labor function without stepping on each other's toes is a nine-day wonder.

THE WOODS COMMITTEE had an expensive staff of publicity trumpets but apparently the "higher ups" did not approve of the hallyhoo about searching for jobs for the callow and Colonel Woods spent his days in Europe instead of serving as a government job-hunting head. The Department of Labor has also hushed the depressing talk about employment but the American Federation of Labor continues to question government figures of the jobs and living costs.
Colonel Woods is said to have gathered up data which will be used to combat proposals for employment insurance and the much-feared "dole" at the next Congress.

PICTURES OF A man doing simple chores about a farm have stirred the pulse of politicians and voting ci-zens. Because public opinion is always colored by imagination and inference the latest stunt of Calvin Coolidge has captivated the people's fancy. It may have been a coincidence that the jobless and living costs should come out of the shades of retirement at the same time his successor was at sword's points with all news distributing agencies.

The contrast of Coolidge patiently posing for two hours for appreciative news camera men in the poses about the haystack and country store—propaganda that helped elect him in 1924, and Mr. Hoover at loggerheads with the photographers and newsgatherers groups is something well calculated to stir the interest of practice men and women. The incident may do more to recast the public relaxation policies of the President than a long-drawn warfare with the press.
Coolidge has never been out of the picture. The Democratic leaders have conceded that Coolidge is a real threat to their hopes in 1932 for he has a standing with the country that cannot be discounted. Another matter that adds to the President's travail in office is the recent publication of political anecdotes concerning his alternate negotiations with the late Franklin Lane, Secretary of the Interior under Wilson and Franklin Roosevelt, then assistant Secretary of the Navy—a deal for the Democratic nomination either in 1920 or four years later.

Lane is dead and Roosevelt is today a candidate for the same nomination.
The argument advanced in political quarters is that if Governor Roosevelt keeps silent the spread of the story will weaken Hoover's influence with his own party especially with the militant group which has opposed him because they considered him a Democrat, bearing their party label without wariness. Casting doubt on the chief Executive's political gains, they may play havoc with pledges of delegates at the national Republican convention next year. The harsh reality of it all is that even myths if unexplored away multitudes in their voting.

Boy Scouts

Activities of Troop 21 for the Month of June Troop twenty-one of Barrington started the month of June by taking an over-night hike. The camping site chosen was along the Fox river just outside of Fox River Grove. Eighteen scouts turned out. A large tent was furnished by a local man to shelter the scouts in case of rain and the tent was bought by everyone when a sudden downpour occurred.

The following day a hike was taken to the Cary ski jump. When the scouts returned they took a dip in the river. Water games were played and boat races were run off to complete a pleasant time.

The following weekly meetings were spent in the school gym in preparation for a Court of Honor which was held the last week in June. It was a combined Court of Honor with Troop 10 of Barrington. Awards were given to many scouts in a simple but impressive ceremony common to all scout troops throughout the United States of America.

LOCAL RUNNER MAKES FOUR MILES IN 20:30

William Dreyer, local runner in the Illinois Athletic club, ran the Amphen four-mile marathon in the fast time of 20:30 in a sensational rally from the poor showing he made in the Chicago Daily News four-mile race a week ago in which he finished seventeenth. The winning time in the Daily News race was 21:31.

Dreyer will run in a five-mile race Sunday and a three and a one-mile race a week from Sunday. He recently returned from Lincoln, Neb., where he attended the national championships with all expenses paid.

The first round of the Dale Trophy tournament and a medal play for men, and the second round of the Auxiliary Trophy match for women were the main activities at the Biltmore Country club during the past week.

The pairings and scores of the first round of the Dale trophy are as follows: B. Beaulieu defeated E. B. Heren by default; M. Custin defeated F. C. Garling, 1 up; 1. Valeta defeated E. P. Lauten, 4 up; P. R. Jeanmaire defeated A. B. Berg by default; East Drogosh defeated F. C. Sampson, 6 up; Dr. F. E. Adams defeated H. Greedon, 1 up; F. Smith defeated R. Dickinson, 2 up; and E. Morrissey defeated H. Schell, 2 up.

Pairings in the second round will be Beaulieu and Custin, Valeta and Jeanmaire, Drogosh and Adams, and Smith and Morrissey.

W. B. Nestlerode won first prize in the medal play with low net and full handicap Saturday and Sunday with a gross 94, handicap 24, net 70. Other winners were: second, F. C. Stankus, gross 88, handicap 14, net 74; third, Earl Drogosh, gross 92, handicap 18, net 74; fourth, C. J. Schreiber, gross 83, handicap 8, net 75; fifth, Charles Glocke, gross 95, handicap 20, net 75.

The results of the second round of the Auxiliary Trophy match for women are as follows: R. Faust defeated C. Houston, 1 up; A. Henry defeated J. Higgins, 3 up; G. Wallace defeated R. Smith, 7 up; and A. Leibold defeated Euberg.

St. Pauls Win From Methodists to Hold 1st Place in League

Lose to Crack Northwestern Railroad Team, 6-2, in Special Game

The St. Paul softball team tightened its hold on first place in the Sunday school league by defeating the Methodist team 11-7 Friday night. The success of the St. Paul team was attributed to its usual heavy hitting. One home run was scored by Clarence Lines of the Methodist team in the fourth inning.

The St. Paul team met their first defeat of the season Monday night in a non-league game with the Northwestern railroad crack team. The score was 6-2. The four winning runs were made through St. Paul's errors.

Plans are being made for a return game with the railroad team when the local team hopes to find revenge. Some consideration has been given toward holding a tournament at the close of the season for the three local indoor leagues to determine the best team in Barrington. This would include the Lions, Jewel Tea and Church leagues.

The present standing of the church league is:

	W	L	Pct.
St. Paul	5	0	1000
Salem	5	2	714
Methodist	2	8	200
Baptist	1	6	143

The St. Pauls are scheduled to meet the Baptist team Friday evening and will take on a Lake Zurich team in a game on the local diamond Sunday starting at 1 p. m.

Everett Nelson, professional at the Biltmore Country club will meet some of the leading golfers in the country when he enters the St. Paul Open tournament at St. Paul, Minn., next Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

Nelson, who also played in the tournament there last year, has been putting in considerable practice the past few weeks getting in shape for the event.

Miss Dorothy Foster of the Grandview Country club, Springfield, was winner of the women's western junior golf championship in the final 18 hole match over the LaGrange Country club course. This championship is the first in many years to come from outside of the Chicago district.

POISON

in Your bowels!

Poisons absorbed into the system from pouring waste in the bowels, cause that dull, headachy, sluggish, bilious condition; coat the tongue; foul the breath; sap energy, strength and nerve-force. A little of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will clear up trouble like that, gently, harmlessly, in a hurry. The difference it will make in your feelings over night will prove its merit to you.

Dr. Caldwell studied constipation for over forty-seven years. This long experience enabled him to make his prescription just what men, women, old people and children need to make their bowels help themselves. Its natural, mild, thorough action and its pleasant taste commend it to everyone. That's why "Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin," as it is called, is the most popular laxative druggists sell.
