Names of Witnesses of Lincoln-Douglas Debate Wanted for Honor Roll

This fall marks the 75th anniversary of the famous Lincoln-Douglas debate, classed as the greatest verbal battle ever held on the American continent, and an effort is being made by Dr. Louis A. Warren, director of the Lincoln National Life foundation of Fort Wayne, Ind., and one of the world's most noted Lincoln authorities, to find as many people as possible who heard these historic speeches.

One task which should be undertaken on this anniversary occasion, Dr. Warren suggested, is the compiling of an honor roll comprised of all those who attended any one of the seven debates. To this end Dr. Warren has asked The Review to assist in finding through its columns as many people as possible who are eligible for a place on this roll of honor.

It would be of special interest, he pointed out, to learn how far each individual now living was obliged to travel to reach the scene of the debate, so the most vivid impression remaining with each.

Seven Illinois cities entertained the debaters in 1858; Ottawa, August 21; Freeport, August 27; Jonesboro, September 15; Charleston, September 18; Galesburg, October 7; Quincy, October 13, and Alton, October 15.

"Should slavery be extended in the United States and territories?" might be suggested as the major question discussed, although no formal statement of a specific theme for debate was submitted. Douglas supported the affirmative and Lincoln the negative side.

"Two great debates stand out in the history of American literature," said Dr. Warren—"the Webster-Hayne discussion of 1830 and the Lincoln-Douglas contest of 1858. Judged from the wide public interest it created and the ultimate political movements it set in motion, the Lincoln-Douglas series should be set apart as the most important in our history, and the 75th anniversary of their delivery should not pass unnoticed."

Unemployment Relief Is Big Task with Legislators

Unemployment relief took the center of the stage this week at the first of a series of special sessions which a reluctant legislature fears may last through the winter.

The printed call for the special session covers nine subjects which can be summarized as follows:

Section 1. To enact laws to provide funds for the Illinois Emergency Relief commission to be used for the relief of persons who are destitute and in necessitous circumstances. This opens the way for approval of a $30,000,000 state bond issue for relief to be paid out of motor fuel tax receipts and to be approved at a referendum in November, 1934.

Section 2 would permit political subdivisions of the state to get federal public works funds for local improvements. Section 3 would give building and loan association and others the rights to acquire bonds of the federal Home Owners' corporation.

Section 4 would permit the federal government to complete the Chicago Sanitary district sewage disposal plants and lease them back to the district until paid for.

Section 5 will cooperate the work of the state employment bureaus with the federal employment system and pave the way for the state to get some federal funds. Section 6 is technical, clearing up a question regarding county tax levies. Section 7 will deal with interest on state funds. Sections 8 and 9 cover appropriations to be made at the special session.

Capers

The small dark-colored objects about the size of peas, which are sometimes used in sauces and dressings for salads are called capers. They are the greenish buds of the caper shrub. This prickly plant grows wild and is also cultivated in the regions around the Mediterranean. The greenish buds of the plant are pickled to be used in sauces and dressings later.

To prove that every home can now afford to heat with gas, we install it at our expense... remove it at our expense, if you don't like it

EVENTUALLY you'll have modern, automatic gas heat. When your neighbors tell you of the joy and comfort that gas heat brings into their homes you'll want it, too. Then why not have it now? There's no need of putting off the day when you'll have this twentieth-century convenience. Before you order fuel, get the full facts on gas heat.

Now at new low rates, every home—even the most modest—can afford gas heat. Rates for gas are now one-half of what they were in the 1930-31 heating season. And our special offer lets you try before you buy. We'll install it at our expense and you pay only $3 a month rental during the first year for the equipment in the average home. This charge will be included in the bill for the gas you use. Use it for one month, two months or a year.

There are many reasons why you want gas heat. It ends coal shoveling ... the shaking and hauling of ashes ... chopping kindling ... the watching of fires, setting dampers. Walls and drapes stay clean, free from dust, grime and soot.
