Legend of Sleepy Hollow in Moving Pictures in Barrington School Rooms

The program of moving pictures to be given at the Barrington school Tuesday includes a dramatization of the Legend of Sleepy Hollow, featuring Will Rogers, and two travel pictures, Spanish children and the children of Scandanavia.

Local teachers have learned to run the machine and now show the pictures in their individual class rooms in place of one showing in the assembly hall. This makes it possible for the teacher to stop and explain some interesting fact about people of other lands, repeat a portion of a picture that is especially interesting to her class, and in general adapt the picture to the needs of her group, according to Supt. Erman S. Smith. The parents are welcome to attend the showing of these pictures, says Mr. Smith.

Girl Formerly Employed in Barrington Township Ends Life With Poison

Miss Margaret Logan of Elgin, who had been employed at the W. U. Bardwell home in Barrington township early in the fall committed suicide at Elgin Wednesday evening by taking poison. She was 19 years old. Efforts to revive her at the Sherman hospital proved futile.

H. W. Grimm Takes Over Tydol Gasoline Service

H. W. Grimm, manager of the Shell Oil station along the Northwest highway, one block south of Main street, has announced in this issue of The Review that he has taken over the agency for Tydol Triple X gasoline but will continue to handle Shell Petroleum products also.

Mr. Grimm has been in the gasoline business in Barrington for eight years.

Joins Equitable Life Staff

M. B. Bowman, resident of Barrington for five years, has taken a position of local agent representing the Equitable Life Assurance society of United States, working in conjunction with and under the direction of Earl M. Schwemm, assistant district manager. Mr. Bowman has formerly been a salesman for a Wisconsin mill work company. He will devote his time to selling life insurance as well as other forms of insurance.

Increase in Population

The European population of the principal cities of Netherland India increase 44 per cent in ten years.

30 Families Are on Charity Roll in Town of Cuba

With 30 families on the relief roll in Cuba township, H. D. Kelsey, supervisor, is under pressure to find means for their support throughout the winter.

The fuel, food and some clothing support is supposed to be furnished by the Illinois Relief association, while medical care and hospitalization is provided by the township.

There may be a better supply of funds later, but at present the picture looks as though some assistance must be raised locally through work committees, relief entertainments, etc. Mr. Kelsey said that he plans a relief dance later this fall. He is going before the Barrington village board with a request that special jobs be created for some of the unemployed. Street work, traffic policing near the school, etc., might provide employment, he added. The vegetables from Cuba township gardens, tended by local persons is supplying needed food.

More than three-fourths of the Cuba unemployed reside in the village. There is a large number on the Barrington side of Main street also. These will be under the care of the Cook county organization of the Illinois Relief association.

Synonyms and Antonyms

No Such Race as "Asra"

The Asra, the poem by Heinrich Heine, refers to a legendary race of people who, when they love, perish. No such race is known actually to have existed. The legend is of Scandinavian origin.

She carried deep purple orchids shading down to a delicate lavendar.

Miss Harrison wore a crimson velvet gown trimmed with silver lame and carried a shrath bouquet of lilies of the valley and orchids.

The Barrington Hills Country club has started informal Saturday luncheons.

There have been many Halloween parties for the younger generation during the last week. Among them were Deborah Wilder's, Spencer Watt's and David Rowe's.

Mrs. Thomas Vennum of Minneapolis is spending several weeks with her daughter Mrs. Robert Hilton.

Many Barrington people had the pleasure of seeing how lovely Mrs. H. R. Ryan's new home is when Mrs. Helen Roesing gave a book review on Gertrude Stein's new book, "Alice B. Toklas."

Harmon of Zurich, Switzerland who is visiting her mother Mrs. H. S. Hart until after Christmas. Costumes were amusing as men went as women and women as men. To add to the amusement besides ping pong, puff billiards they had a chamber of horrors which was equally as funny as the men's costumes.
