...dandy center, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Baker. Done in the Tudor style, the building, with its beautiful shadows and half-timbered exterior creates a medieval atmosphere about the room.

Geneva, too, has this charm of the old English villages. You cannot possibly get an idea of what Geneva is like by driving through on the highway; you must turn off and ramble down the residential streets.

Batavia is as attractive as any of the trio of cities. It has a character that distinguishes it. You cannot possibly visit here and say, "Well, that's just another town." The centennial celebration in September of this year would not have been possible in any other place, because ordinary people could not have produced such a mammoth and colorful pageant. This quality in the people is reflected in the architecture, in the ambitious projects of Batavians. I am told that hundreds of Chicagoans visit Quarry Park every summer, which marks these visitors as people of discernment. Quarry Park is worth a visit.

There's mounting enjoyment along the banks of the Fox, and all-weather roads take you there.

Attenburg Ranks 7th in Conference Individual Scoring

Willie Altenburg and Claude Conn were the leading scorers in the Broncho football campaign just ended with three touchdowns each. Willie scored two of his touchdowns in conference games to rank seventh in the individual standing. At the start of the season Altenburg seemed destined to be the big gun in the Broncho attack especially after the Warren battle in which he scored two touchdowns, but unfortunately the old injury jinx came around and forced him out of all but a few of the later games. Only one of Conn's scores was put over in a conference game which rates him even with Etters who chalked up the fourth conference touchdown for the Bronchos. Latta is credited with one point after touchdown, the only one made by the Bronchos during the season.

Rip Van Winkle Siestas

There are numerous tales similar to the one about Rip Van Winkle. Epimenides, the Greek poet, was supposed to have slept 57 years. Such legends hang around the names of King Arthur, Charlemagne, Barbarossa, the Seven Sleepers of Ephesus, Tannhauser, Sebastian, Roderick, Peter Klaus, and many others.

Chicago Collegians, All-Stars to Tangle Saturday Night

Gieske, Hosford, Wichman, Mundy and Harder in Local Lineup

A first rate basketball tilt will be available for local fans at the high school gym Saturday night at 8:15 when the Chicago Collegians, a group of former college stars, oppose a team composed of the best cage talent in Barrington. The Collegians are competing in a few games around this section of the country before leaving for the west coast where they will engage in a winter basketball tour. The Chicago lineup includes many clever exponents of the game, men who were outstanding stars in college such as Perry, Northwestern; Morrow, University of Illinois; Shubert, Wabash college; Appleblood, Crane college; Fisher, New York university; Yerges, Earlham; and Evans, DePaul university.

Chet Perry, captain of the Collegians, has had an interesting basketball career. At Muncie high school he was captain of the team which won the Indiana state championship and was named on the all-state team for two years. In 1929 he was a member of the South Side Turners of Indianapolis, which won third place in the A. A. U. tournament held at Kansas City and at Northwestern he played with two big ten championship teams.

Scoring Ace in Lineup

Byron Morrow, from the University of Illinois is the high scoring ace of the team. Last year as a member of the Southern Oriolos, which won the South Florida championship, he was the second high point scorer in the state.

The Barrington All-Stars will take the floor with a strong quintet of former college and high school players. Mundy of Northwestern; Hosford of Knox college; Wichman, captain last year at Wisconsin; Gieske of North Central; Harder, former member of Dundee high school's famous high scoring five; and other local stars will be out to show that the brand of basketball played in Barrington is of top variety. To round out the evening a preliminary game will be played between Barrington and Lake Zurich lightweight teams at 7:15 p. m.
