Sausage Long Esteemed

by Men of Discernment

A book dated A. D. 228 tells of sausages 700 years older still. About 500 B. C. Epicharmus was so entranced with this savory dish that he wrote a play about sausages. He was not a lone prophet crying in a culinary wilderness, either, for the celebrated Aristophanes said in the "Clouds," written about 423 B. C.: "Let them make sausages of me and serve me up to the students." Charles Lamb was another enthusiast. In his "Essays of Elia" he mentions sausages—"as the savoiest part you may believe of the entertainment given at the annual feast of Chimney Sweepers, held in Smithfield upon the yearly return of the Fair of St. Bartholomew."

Perchance this most succulent variety has migrated to America. There are one hundred varieties of sausages over there, and in one year 779,983,976 pounds of meat was chopped up to make them.—London Mail.

Valuable, but Hard to Get

The Indian rhinoceros is now a comparatively rare animal and is found only in the plains region of Assam, in northeastern India. It is fond of wallowing in the mud. Its chief foods are canes and shrubs. The reasons for the great expense involved in bringing a specimen to this country for exhibition are its rare occurrence, the fact that it can be hunted only with elephants and the difficulty of capturing and shipping safely so large an animal.

Composition of Water

Water is a chemical combination of two gases, hydrogen and oxygen.

chairman of the committee is that with the number of transient players flocking into the village during the cold months, extra police protection is needed for the night hours, especially 11 p. m. until morning.

Sewer Overlooked
A complaint was made that flow from that part of the system which serves Jewel Park and Jewel Tea Co. floods the basement of the houses in the park. The sewer system in the park was discovered to be faulty and the sewer outlet, which is into a pump, is at the rate of gallons per minute. That amount of water used in the Jewel Park and in the 17 houses in the park is believed to be the reason for the flooding. The board instructed the village engineer to investigate the matter and report to the sewer committee. The board took formal action, ceasing the additional flow of water from the northwest highway, chased by the state for the widening the highway last year. No expense was involved.

Village Attorney Maloney was directed to prepare a village ordinance requiring all justice to pay fines—from arrests in Barrington into the village treasury. The village hall will be equipped with toilets, one on the second and one in the jail room. The instructed Mr. H. H. Brown to plan for the improvement of the jail.

Ethiopian Fish Poisons
In Ethiopia two fish poisons, toxicants, have been in use many years. The more common is a tree called barberry, which is a true alkaloid, which is in large quantities along the streams. The powder of the tree is spread on the surface of the water in the midst of the dry season when the current is slow and from torrential mud. Sometimes fish succumb quietly; at other times they are excited to intense activity.

MILLER'S FUN

Christmas time again, think of it! Just when we are getting used to writing it "1931," another year comes smiling along. Thinking back over the last twelve months, however, we realize that we have crowded a lot of activities into them. These are busy times. And because they are so busy, we don't see our friends as often as we'd like. Isn't it fine, therefore, that we have a holiday season that gives us an opportunity to get together again?—A Merry Christmas!

"Appetite" and "Hunger"

There is a common belief that appetite and hunger are the same thing, yet the two are different. Scientists have definitely localized hunger as a function of the stomach, and find that the contraction of an empty, or nearly empty, stomach is the source of hunger pains. As the stomach is filled and the walls are expanded hunger disappears. Appetite has been found to emanate from the mouth and throat area and is influenced by previous tastes or odors of food. Pavlov, the Russian physiologist, defines appetite as the flowing of digestive juices aroused by the memory of food. The familiar watering of the mouth at the sight of what is considered appetizing food does characterize appetite, he says.

Movers by the Calendar

When we think of nomads we invariably picture in our minds a people who wander from place to place picking up a living here and there as they go. Yet this is not a correct idea of nomad life as it was lived in Asia. It is true that many parts of Asia, as well as in many parts of other countries, there are certain small tribes of gypsies and nomads who lead a kind of a nomadic life. But in Asia, for centuries, thousands and thousands of nomads have lived in the western part of Asia, and the favorite summer resort of these people. Although they live in a nomadic life it is just as real as their winter life in villages. Bubbles are born, grandmothers die, gardens are made and sheep and cattle are fattened.

The new electric percolators with their gleaming chrome-plate finishes are much more than just good-looking—they also "percolate" a coffee of superior flavor. The secret is simple. Your coffee cooks slowly—doesn't boil. And it's always handy right at the table to serve with the meal or later—which ever way you like.

The eight-cup percolator pictured, with instantaneous heating element, is only $7.50 cash—$1 down. Many other styles for slightly more. Electric coffee urns are priced as low as $8.50. Urn sets (including tray, sugar bowl and cream pitcher) are as low as $15.

Observes Fortieth Anniversary

The Barrington Auxiliary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church observed its fortieth anniversary Sunday morning. Mrs. John Bell, president of the society, gave several very interesting facts stating that the first group of interested women was organized in 1891, a society in December, 1891, and Mrs. Ada Harnden as president, and Mrs. Harnden is the only charter member still living in Barrington. The first year 27 members were enrolled with Mrs. C. O. Winter as president for the second year. Mrs. Stella Welby may well be called a life-long member as she was enrolled as a member of the Auxiliary at the age of six weeks and she has proven to be a most efficient worker.

During the first year the society sent $34.88 for missionary work and the last conference year an amount of $408.95 was sent, besides many Christmas boxes, hospital supplies and gifts to missionaries. The local society supports a day school in China and a Bible woman in India.

The Christmas offering taken Sunday morning will be used in paying the transportation of new missionaries to the foreign field.

Mrs. Earl Fiedler, a missionary from India, gave the address of the morning service which was both interesting and educational.

W. R. C. Party

Is Success

The W. R. C. gave a benefit party in the Catlow hall Wednesday night which was very well attended and much enjoyed by those present. There were eighteen tables of the following games: pinocle, bridge, 500 and buncie with prizes for each table. Part of the proceeds of this entertainment will be used for a theater party for sailors in the hospital at the U. S. Naval Training station and part for relief work.

A short business meeting of the Corps will be held Wednesday, Dec. 23 at 2:30 p. m. in the Catlow hall.

Senior League in Program

The members of the Senior league of the Salem church enjoyed a seven o'clock dinner followed by a program in the church parlors Friday evening. At the business session the following officers were elected for the coming year: president, Earl Schaefer; vice president, Bertram Schultz; recording secretary, Faith Solt; corresponding secretary, Ruth Schultz; and treasurer, Donald Schroeder. At the close of the business hour a musical program was enjoyed.

Christmas Party for Lions Bridge Club

Mrs. Arnold Schauble, 329 E. Liberty street, was hostess Monday evening to the Lions Bridge club. Five tables of members and guests enjoyed the lovely Christmas party, and prizes were awarded to Mrs. F. W. Lindberg, Mrs. Warren Meier, and Mrs. Alfred Church. Mrs. Jack Welch received the guest prize. Dainty refreshments completed an enjoyable evening.

Mrs. F. T. Seaverns Entertains at Bridge

Mrs. Frank Seaverns, 212 Lincoln avenue, entertained a group of friends at bridge Thursday afternoon. At the close of a very pleasant afternoon awards went to Mrs. Emma S. Smith and Mrs. John Schveum and an enjoyable lunch was served by the hostess. Mrs. Luella Austin of Evanston was one of the guests.

Barrington Woman's Club

The regular Christmas party was held Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 16 in the lobby of The Catlow theatre. Each member brought a gift for a certain child of the Little Wanderers' Nursery and all of those lovely remembrances as well as the stamped Christmas cards for the Ex-Servicemen were piled under the Christmas tree which the committee had so beautifully decorated.

Mrs. Lawrence York led the community singing of carols.

Mrs. R. R. Hammond gave a number of delightful readings—old favorites of Christmas time—in her own inimitable way.

A rather unusual bit of entertainment were Mrs. Lester L. Higgins' whistling and piano-accompanied numbers.

Mrs. Robert Work has chosen "England's Crisis" by Andre Siegfried to review before the Study Class, Thursday, Dec. 17, 2:30 p. m. at the public library. There has been splendid attendance at the two previous meetings and anyone else who is interested is most cordially invited to attend.

Ela Student First in Judging Contest Held at Sycamore

Glenwood
Eichman Honored;
Team Third—Other
School Notes

Eichman, a student of Sycamore, won first place in the judging contest for vocational agriculture held at Sycamore, Dec. 12. The team composed of Eichman and Harold placed third in the contest. The judging was offered by the Sycamore school. Thirty vocational agriculture at Ela this year.

Eight more schools have been given this rating in Lake county during the past few months by Charles Watts, assistant state superintendent of schools, who has made a tour of inspection in the county.

When Petty took office, Lake county had fourteen superior schools. During the past summer, many school district boards ordered extensive improvements in the buildings, and added teaching facilities.

Cooperation of the school boards, Petty said, has been excellent, and he predicted that four or five other schools would be given the superior rating next week.

The superior rating is given schools which fill certain requirements concerning heating, lighting, ventilation, equipment and quality of instruction.

Lake county farmers are organized to prevent the attempts of the Chicago city council to force the price of milk down to ten cents a quart. They will be assisted in their fight against further reductions by McHenry county farmers, all members of the Pure Milk Association.

Henry Pfister, Lake county representative of the association, declares that the farmers cannot stand another cut, and still produce grade A milk.

Charles W. Wray, Grayslake, president of the Lake County Pure Milk Association is opposed to the comparison of the milk prices in Chicago and Milwaukee. He, together with Mr. Pfister, claim that the farmers have stood as much of a cut as is possible.

According to Mr. Pfister the farmers have stood the major percentage of all cuts to date.

James A. Watson, supervisor of budget, has announced that the state's portion of the general property tax is one-fourteenth, or less, of the total of all direct property taxes, not including federal tax, collected annually in Illinois.

Lake County News Notes

First Installment Lake Taxes Due May 1

Property owners in Lake county will not have to pay the first installment on taxes in 1932 until May, it was learned on the passage of the bill which asks that the taxpayers be given more time because of the "distressing economic conditions."

Under the provisions of this act, introduced by Senator Bohrer on Nov. 12, and amended by the house on Dec. 2, the tax installments will have to be paid by May 1 and Aug. 1. These dates are effective for 1932 only.

After 1932 the installments will have to be paid on Feb. 1 and Aug. 1, to have the taxes from becoming delinquent.

The senate had passed the bill, classed as an emergency measure, on November 24. It was sent to the house on that day. On approval of the house the bill was forwarded to Governor L. L. Emerson for signing.

Lake County Schools Rated First by Petty

More rural schools in Lake county are rated as "superior" than in any other county in the state, W. C. Petty, county superintendent, announced Monday.

Eight more schools have been given this rating in Lake county during the past few months by Charles Watts, assistant state superintendent of schools, who has made a tour of inspection in the county.

When Petty took office, Lake county had fourteen superior schools. During the past summer, many school district boards ordered extensive improvements in the buildings, and added teaching facilities.

without any relief until death released him.

He had chosen for his life's calling the Gospel Ministry and Salem Evangelical church of Barrington recommended him. The Illinois Conference of the Evangelical church granted him a license to preach of which opportunity he made use serving frequently as supply pastor while in college and also during his attendance at the Stanford University. However, his ambition was not to be realized, Providence ruled otherwise and he resigned himself to the inevitable, never allowing himself to think otherwise, but that the will of God was being fulfilled in his life. It was especially trying for him because he was separated from his loved ones frequently. His mother, with comfort and cheer, was at his bedside during the last days of his life which greatly comforted him as well as his parents.

He leaves to mourn him his parents, two brothers who are Rev. R. H. Aurand, pastor of the Western Union college church, Le Mars, Ia., and O. H. Aurand, teacher and athletic coach at the Van Nuys high school in California.

Rev. S. E. Schrader, pastor of the First Evangelical church, Los Angeles, Cal., officiated.

More than 89,000 People Are Back at Work

As a Result of the Introduction of the New 1932 Chevrolet and $20,000,000 worth of new cars or parts had already been built at the time of the public announcement, according to a statement by W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager of the company.

The statement follows: "Chevrolet Motor Company has its normal force of men back on the job after a two-week's shut-down for inventory and an equal period of model change shut-down during the months of October and November.

"The Company's policy during the last year has been to retain as near an equal number of men on the payroll as possible and vary the hours according to the demand for cars. In addition, during the short demand periods, inventory has been built up to increase the weekly hours to the greatest possible number.

"The result has been that the number of employees in any month during the year, except the shut-down month of October, has not varied more than 7 per cent on a total of 84,000 men, and the hours have averaged close to forty per week; 30 1/2 to be exact. When inventory takes place, no workman is required to turn in his badge but remains on the payroll until work starts up again.

"Present force numbers 34,000 men working 4 days or nights per week minimum, and more than $20,000,000 worth of new cars or parts for new cars have been manufactured. Of the 34,000 employees now on the payroll, over 25,000 are employed in the company's plants in Detroit, Flint, Saginaw and Bay City.

"In addition to the 34,000 men employed countrywide by Chevrolet, Fisher Body Corporation maintains 20,000 men working exclusively on Chevrolet bodies, and in addition to this, the dealer organization and their salesmen amount to 35,000 people, having a grand total of over 89,000 people working directly on Chevrolet product.

"The company feels its responsibility during times like these to extend every effort to keep its organization employed, and with the splendid countrywide reception of the new 1932 Chevrolet, has every confidence in being able to do its bit in the most constructive way."

Treasury to Sell Warrants on Past Due Cook Taxes

ceived from the court house in Chicago from the 1929 tax levy is only $23,190 as compared to $26,041.00 from the court house in Waukegan for the 1929 levy. The latter figure represents almost a clean-up of the Lake county money due from the 1929 levy, whereas there remains several thousand dollars outstanding from the Cook county levy for 1929.

From the 1930 levy, Barrington has received $11,200 from Lake county and not a cent from Cook county. Another $15,000 or more is due from Lake county, but some of that will not be received until early in the year 1932. The beginning of the Cook county 1930 levy is expected almost any day, and at least half of it is expected to dribble in during the first three or four months of 1932. As this money is received it will be used to retire the warrants issued in anticipation of it.

Water Bills Unpaid

The lack of funds on hand to meet demands for public benefit, assessment and interest, is not in reality a deficit. Assessment bonds call for payment of principal and interest Dec. 15 whereas the assessment payments from property owners do not fall due until Jan. 1. Actually assessment bonds should be made out to fall due after the payments are due from property owners, but were not made out that way at the time the special assessment improvements were made six years ago.

While the village board is getting itself out of difficulties foisted onto it by the cluttered up Cook county tax machinery, and the pre-paying of assessment bonds, it is also finding itself faced with financial problems which are strictly local.

Many water bills remain unpaid in Barrington. In fact the total of 2,450 is one of the greatest accumulations of unpaid water bills ever recorded in Barrington. The board finds itself tied up without a proper ordinance to regulate the payment of these bills. At the meeting Monday night, the village attorney was instructed to prepare an ordinance with teeth in it which will authorize the superintendent of water to shut off the supply for delinquent subscribers. It is expected that this ordinance will be passed at the next meeting, Dec. 28.

Garfield Monument

The Garfield monument occupies the highest spot in Lake View cemetery, Cleveland. It cost $225,000, was begun in 1885 and dedicated in 1890. The monument is 180 feet high, the tower 50 feet in diameter. There are five panels on the outside depicting scenes from Garfield's life. The stained glass in an allegorical presentation of the funeral of Garfield. A second east-erly panel contains the body of Mrs. Garfield, the President's wife, who died in 1918.

Jewel Tea Co. Awards $15,000 in Bonuses

A large number of junior executives and other employees of the Jewel Tea Co., Inc., will receive bonus checks Friday morning from the company, according to announcement made by George Barrett of the publicity department of the company. These bonus checks totaling more than $15,000 represent the employees' portion of the company's earnings as set aside for that purpose by the board of directors.

The bonuses will be awarded to those of the 250 employees who were on the company payroll Jan. 1, 1931, and whose services have been satisfactory.

The "Cosmic Ray"

Since 1902 it has been known that the air is being traversed by a form of radiation capable of discharging an electroscope and having a greater penetrating power than X-rays. This radiation is capable of penetrating a lead block 16 feet thick. Experiments with balloons indicate that it comes from outer space, and it has been found that its intensity is independent of the solar or sidereal time and of the latitude of the observer, and that therefore it does not come from the sun or any particular region among the stars. The term applied to this radiation by Millikan is cosmic rays. (Its wave length is about 0.0001 Angstrom.) Doctor Millikan has suggested that these rays originate in the depths of space by the transmutation of radiation back into atoms.

Maple City Four on Stage Program at Catlow Sunday

"Hush Money," "Heartbreak," "Cisco Kid" and "Wicked" on Week's Bill

A most adorable boy, Ronald Cosby, three years of age, who also played in "East Lynne," is winning the hearts of all in "Hush Money," the feature to be shown at The Catlow Theatre Saturday night. Ronald is the screen child of Joan Bennett and Hardie Albright in the story with Owen Moore, Myrna Loy and Douglas Cosgrove in prominent supporting roles. "Hush Money" is a saga of rackets and racketeers in the modern manner. It is not in any sense an underworld or gangster story but is of a certain stratum of the underworld: people who evidence wealth and refinement but are really dangerous crooks.

Sunday afternoon and evening The Maple City Four popular WLS quartet, will appear in person on the Catlow stage. No group of entertainers have more radio followers, and their many friends in this territory will have more radio followers, and their bearing their famous quartet at one of the four shows offered by The Catlow theatre Sunday.

The screen feature for the evening will be of added interest. It is O. Henry's story, "The Cisco Kid," a sequel of the adventures begun in "Old Arizona."

An unusual tale of the Old Southwest—a woman's loyalty and another woman's kindness, and of the dual romance that came about as a result—of a picturesque outlaw who broke hearts as he broke banks—of a cavalry sergeant who found circumstances too much for him—such is the interesting basis of "The Cisco Kid," which has for its stars, Warner Baxter and Edmund Lowe. A Silly Symphony Cartoon, News and Comedy will round out the program.

Monday night "The Cisco Kid" together with short screen subjects will be repeated at Friend's Night prices. With the public's acclaim of her last two pictures, "Body and Soul" and "Always Goodbye," still ringing in her ears, Elissa Landi comes to The Catlow Theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday in her third picture, "Wicked." This beautiful and talented English star heads a cast of important players, including Victor McLaglen, Una Merkel, Alan Dinehart and Theodore Von Eltz.

"Heartbreak," romantic drama of an honorable deserter's exemplary valor, starring Charles Farrell, Hardie Albright and Madge Evans, will play The Catlow Theatre Christmas Eve and Christmas night.

Roofed With Turf

In the ancient Hurdanger village of Vik, in Norway, the tourist will find an epitome of many of the attractions in this region. It is one of the oldest and most picturesque. Here will be found some of the old turf roof cottages. The turf is laid on several layers of birch bark, and is absolutely waterproof. Splashing wheels and looms will also be found in some of the homes. The church is a typical peasant church of pre-Reformation days and one of the first of its kind. It has ancient frescoes and carved furniture, all the work of local talent. An ancient leather collection bag, fixed to the end of a long stick, has a small bell attached to awake the sleeping worshippers.

Father of "Canning"

To an Italian priest, Father Spatanzani, goes credit for first announcing the principle of preserving foods by using heat. Dr. Henry M. Loomis, research director of the National Canners' association, said not long ago.

A Frenchman, Nicholas Appert, first employed the heat process in 1795. The true father of the canning industry, however, was the French physicist, Louis Pasteur, according to Doctor Loomis. Pasteur's pioneer work in bacteriology laid the foundation for all modern canning formulas.—Detroit News.

SOMETHING WRONG WITH THE LAW

Too many people are taking advantage of our bankruptcy laws. This may mean that there is something wrong with the law. Or there may be something wrong with a good many of our people. Whichever it is, something needs fixing. If it is the law that needs changing, that is easily done. If it is the people, there's also a way to handle those who go into bankruptcy to defraud their creditors.

The bankruptcy law was meant to serve a good purpose. It was not intended that it should be used to cancel a man's debts simply because he had bought more than he could pay for. It was meant to protect an honest man who had suffered unavoidable handicaps, disappointments and losses, who was unable to meet his indebtedness for the time being and above all, it was meant to protect the creditors from further loss. It was not intended to be used the way it is being used today in a great many instances.

There have been times when it seemed a bankrupt set out with the deliberate intention to defraud his creditors. He would live in luxury, denying himself nothing that could be bought on credit. His family dressed like millionaires. His house furnishings were a dream. But when the time came to pay for all these fine things, he would take the bankruptcy law, and another entry would be made to the profit and loss account on his creditors' books.

Men have done this even though drawing the same salaries as when the account was made—sometimes even larger salaries. There were not—or at least didn't appear to be—any good reasons why they shouldn't or couldn't pay their just debts. It looked like they just didn't want to pay, and the bankruptcy law provided an easy—if not an honorable—way out.

There's a flaw somewhere in a law that will allow a man to defraud his creditors. It doesn't matter under what pretext it is done. There's something wrong with a law that will hold out a hope of something for nothing. There is something wrong with a law that will suggest a shifty transaction, and then leave a loophole to slip through. There is something wrong when men can cancel their honest debts just by a stroke of a pen.

Our bankruptcy laws certainly needs fixing.—Journal, McComb, Miss.

3-CENT GAS TAX ENOUGH

Although motorists have not decided that it is useless to have against the existence of a gasoline tax, which seems to have come to stay, they are beginning to realize the importance of carrying on an unflagging war against the extortionate rates which are being charged in some states.

Every state in the Union now has a gasoline tax. Only five are as low as two cents. Only eleven are as low as three cents. Four and five cents seem to be the popular rates. But there are at least five states with six-cent taxes and one with seven.

The gasoline tax was first imposed by three western states in 1919. Rapidly other states climbed on board. In 1921 thirteen states collected $5,000,000. Two years later the total collections were $38,000,000. Last year the total reached $495,000,000.

"After all," says Collier's Weekly, "this tax is the heaviest that has ever been imposed on any article except those like tobacco and liquor, which the government has sought to discourage or suppress. When a man pays five cents for a gallon of gasoline and another four cents tax he is paying 100 per cent."

"Of course some defense can be made for the principle of the tax. It is said to be an equitable way in which to collect the cost of the roads from those who use them, in proportion to their use. On this basis, it would seem that a 3-cent tax was quite enough. The taxes collected on motor vehicles in other ways, added to the gasoline tax, amounted last year to $1,000,000,000. The cost of roads that year was $1,650,000,000. Thus the motorists paid over 60 per cent of the costs of roads. And they paid another large percentage through their other property and income taxes. That is more than enough, for the motorist is not the only beneficiary of the roads. The real estate which adjoins the roads is benefited. So are businesses of all sorts, restaurants, hotels, hot-dog stands, soda emporiums, and so on. The motorist is already paying his share. He should resist vigorously any further increases in the tax."

The Family Doctor

By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M. D.

SPEAKING OF TEETH

I doubt if any one ever fully appreciates his or her teeth quite so much as when they have just been all extracted by the dentist. When the victim struggles through the agonizing days, trying to "break in" a new set of artificial teeth he remembers what a treasure he has lost in his natural teeth; if it were to do over again, he'd treat those native molars and incisors with a great deal more respect than he did when he had them.

The modern advice as to care of the teeth is plenty voluminous; the ether-wave sizzles with the bray of the charlatan. The hawk mercilessly beats you with his sugar-coated nostrum, and wise columnists hand you tooth-theories, sophistries and "isms." . . . There are many more. Why should I add my bit? Well, common sense at this time may not be amiss.

There is no law on God's green earth that requires obedience as to how often you should see your dentist, or how often a man or child should apply a nostrum to any part of the mouth, gums, teeth or throat. Just the simple, well-known admonition: Be clean, alert against any harmful practice—and consult your dentist at the first symptom of rebellion in the dental region. There is no minimum or maximum on your visits to the tooth doctor; go when you need his services, be it one, none, or twenty times a year.

Continual and senseless scrubbing of the teeth is highly capable of doing grave harm; many a case of pyorrhea has been set up by the use of septic tooth brushes; the enamel of your teeth was not put there as a field of exploitation by the swarms of nostrum-vendors that infest the land.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

By National Editorial Association
(Special to The Review)

WHAT TO DO—If you have ever stood in the vestibule and wondered what to do and what to say to make a favorable impression on your host, then you have a fair idea of the problems of democratic leaders in congress.

They are now admittedly floundering around seeking the right word or policy as the doors swing open on a presidential campaign year. To make their triumph more than evanescent as represented by control of the house of representatives the new majority must formulate definite fiscal policies to submit to the voting public as substitutes for those advanced by President Hoover and his secretary of the treasury. Their hopes for a final clean-up at the polls next November will be frustrated unless they can whip a politically effective tax bill into shape supplemented by other vital legislative policies.

HEARINGS ON TAX bills will start within a few days. Republican office-holders will find themselves in the unenviable position of making their recommendations hold with the opposition party now in command.

Neither is it a sinecure for the democratic chieftains to frame measures which will sail past the republican controlled senate and meet with presidential approval. The democrats are not at present cohesive on tax proposals. The school of thought which advocates taxing the rich is admonished by the veterans—they must have an eye on sources of campaign funds. The sinews of party warfare will not be supplied if a democratic house imposes excessive tax burdens on men with large incomes. On the other hand, they must make an appeal to the folk of smaller incomes. Here is a first-class puzzle in political strategy.

THE SENATE is convinced of the wisdom of Solomon. It was ascribed to this ancient that "a soft answer turneth away wrath, a grievous word stirreth up anger." That is the story book of the bitter inter-party fight against the election of Senator Moses as republican president pro tempore. The senate is a place of ready tongues, but Moses was too quick with invectives. The private war has delayed important legislation, like the moratorium on war debts and other emergency measures. No power of divination is necessary to predict that the rebels are not placated by the peace-makers.

WHILE HUNDREDS of the 5-000 bills introduced during the first week of the congressional session were outright "pork-barrel" measures, it remained for Representative Allgood of Alabama to strike a responsive chord in the hearts of his colleagues. He introduced a bill providing for the construction of federal post office buildings in all county seats. The condition of the treasury is such that no matter how appealing from a political viewpoint, the project could not be carried out. Legislation authorizing an expenditure of $185,000,000 over a period of seven years for buildings for post office occupancy was passed in 1928. Total general authorizations for government buildings in Washington and elsewhere amount to $620,230,000. There is a definite movement to have this sum increased as an unemployment relief matter.

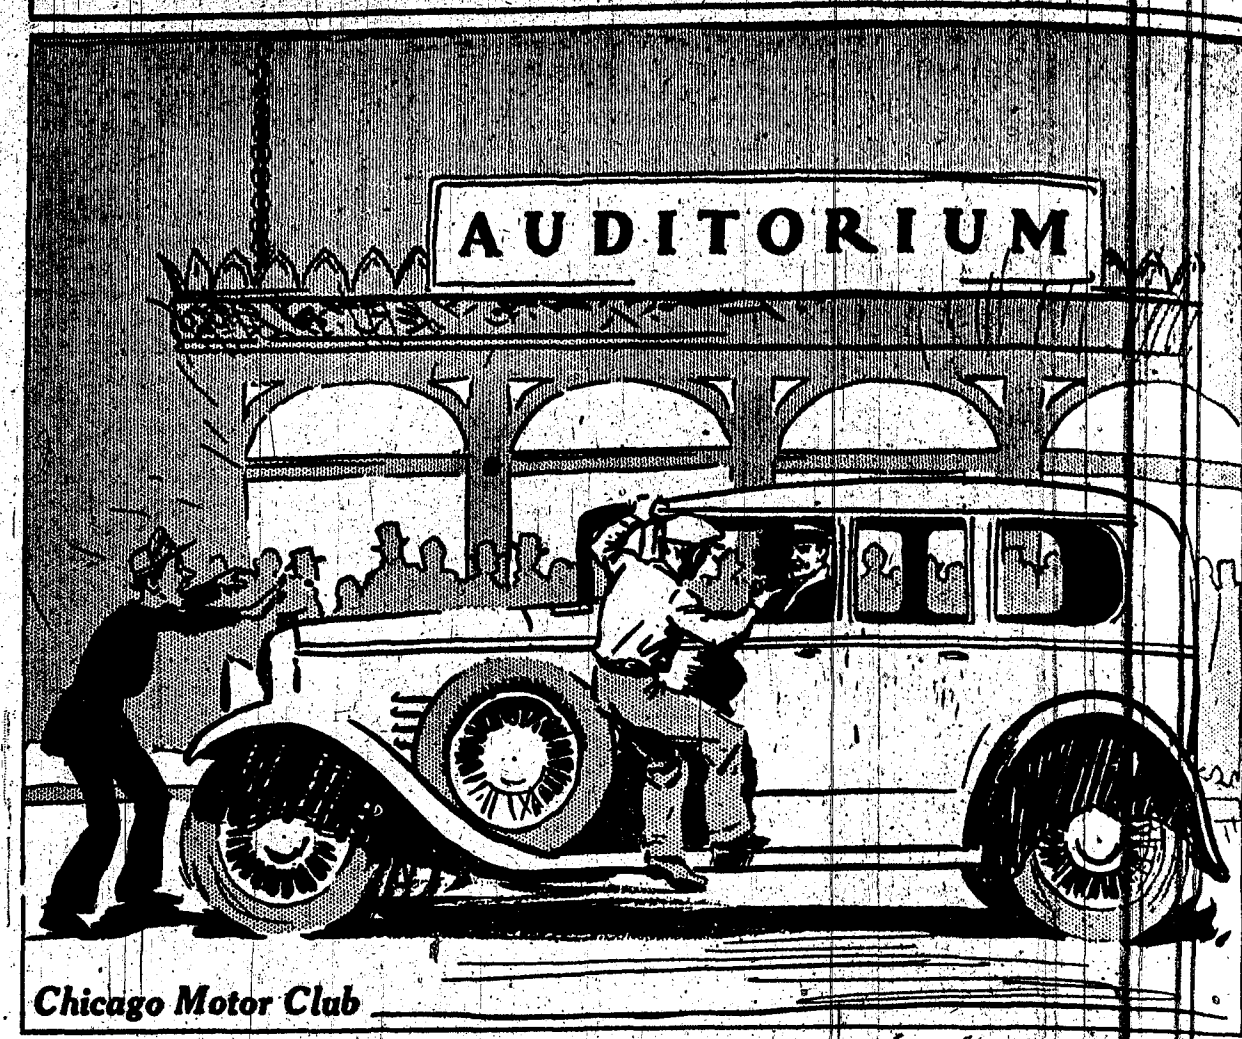

THE GOVERNMENT printing office has been working at full blast to meet the demands of congress. The printing of the congressional record has taken time but the print-shop has been taken in publishing the legislative measures dumped into the hopper. The Record is already assuming its old-time characteristics as a receptacle for propaganda, letters and clippings printed in the appendix as a way to elude the various Congressional districts. Representative Howard, democrat of Nebraska, feels that the circulation is too limited and now proposes to have the Record mailed to all public and parochial high schools. School officials, however, may take exception to the proposal for the Congressional Record is not the most desirable publication for students.

THE ENGLISH PARLIAMENT system of making officers of the executive branch of government appear before the assembly to answer questions is suggested in a bill of Representative Clyde Kelly, republican of Pennsylvania. Mr. Kelly wants the responsible officers of each department, that is, members of the President's cabinet, to attend certain sessions. There is little support for the proposal as it would bring endless complications under the American party system.

A BILL introduced by Representative Rich, a new republican member from Pennsylvania, to cut salaries of all government officials and employees ten per cent is one economy proposal that provoked condemnation from the 600,000 Federal workers. Rich argues that with millions out of work and untold millions of private workers sustaining wage cuts, it is only fair to taxpayers that those on government payrolls should share in the nation-wide economy movement. Needless to report, it is one bill that has little support.

In a communication to Governor Louis L. Emerson, representatives of the American Automobile association clubs, which have more than 100,000 members in Illinois, voiced disapproval of any increase in the gasoline tax for the unemployment relief. The communication expressed full sympathy with the movement to relieve unemployment, but stated that motorists should not bear the added tax burden.

REVIEWPOINTS

To the Editor: While Mr. Grebe's letter on the holiday lighting of the business district, appearing in the December 10th issue of The Review, actually answered itself, its faulty logic merits a reply.

Admitting that the gentleman's remarks concerning the depression are true—though exaggerated—I respectfully submit that talking about the depression in his lugubrious fashion only magnifies it. Further, to upset the mountain of "great burden" which he has made of this molehill of expense, I itemized as follows my cost for two trees—doubtless the same number which Mr. Grebe might be expected to maintain:

2 trees at 45c ..... .90
Wires (used old wire on hand) .02
Tape ..... .02

Labor (included in present overhead) ..... .00
Current (32 10-watt bulbs—4 hours per evening for 10 evenings) at 6c per K. W. .77
Total ..... $1.69

As many merchants have but one tree, their "burden" would be the staggering sum of 85c.

To offset this heavy investment I list below the good which will come to me in return:

(a) By helping others, I probably have helped myself. A certain part of the present depression is psychological rather than economic, and by attracting the public to the business section, through increased sales I may even realize on this investment.

(b) I have aided in beautifying Barrington and as multi-colored lights aid greatly in stimulating a friendly spirit, particularly at Christmas time—I have helped, at least in a small way—in spreading cheer and goodwill at a time when they are sorely needed.

(c) I have contributed my portion to a civic participation in a religious festival and have achieved that pleasant feeling which comes from friendly unselfish cooperation with my fellow men.

Any one of these benefits is worth much more to me than $1.69.

Lastly—as Mr. Grebe has been so free with his well intentioned but misguided advice—may I offer the following in substitution therefor—

To the patronage of the public by giving 100 cents worth or more for every dollar spent with you and never miss an opportunity to work with one another for a better community.

To the public: Buy as near normal as you can for by doing so you help not only the merchants, but your neighbors and yourselves. Think and talk as little about the depression as possible for talking only makes it worse and 1932, with better times, will soon be here. Read Dickens' "Christmas Carol" before Christmas.

Be sure and come downtown during the holidays and see how the lights improve Barrington's appearance.

To Mr. Grebe: Pick a larger subject for the next time you "take your pen in hand."

How to play Bridge
AUCTION and CONTRACT
by Wynne Ferguson
Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

Copyright, 1931, by Hoyle, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 7

Very frequently in Auction and Contract a player has a suit which is strong enough to take all the tricks but one, and the way or the time to lose that trick becomes a puzzling proposition. Whole books might be written on this subject, but there are a certain few situations that come up so frequently that they should be thoroughly analyzed and understood. As a general proposition, the trick to lose is the first one. Suppose the dealer has bid one no trump, you as second hand bid two hearts, third and fourth hands pass and the dealer bids two no trump; what should you lead with the following hand:

Hearts—A, Q, 10, 7, 6
Clubs—8, 5, 4, 3, 2
Diamonds—K, 7
Spades—10

The proper lead with this hand is the seven of hearts. The bidding indicates that the dealer has at least three hearts to the King or King Jack, so that, if you lose the first trick and your partner later obtains the lead, a lead through the dealer's hand will enable you to win the balance of the heart tricks. Suppose, however, you decide to open the trey of clubs and your partner later obtains the lead. Even if he now leads the hearts to you, the declarer must still make a heart trick. In other words, one lead through the dealer's hand is not enough and the chances are that your partner will not obtain the lead more than once. If you must lose one trick in your suit, let it be the first and not the second or third.

Almost the same proposition confronts the declarer when he is playing a no trump hand. Suppose his dummy has a suit such as A, K, 7, 6, 2 or A, K, 7, 6, 5, 2, only two in his own hand and no re-entry. If he wants to establish this suit, he must lose the first trick and hope for the drop on the next two rounds. This method of playing such suits is called "ducking."

Hearts—10.
Clubs—9, 7, 3, 2
Diamonds—K, Q
Spades—none

If spades are trumps and Z is in the lead, how can Y win six of the seven tricks against any defense? This is a tricky little problem and particularly interesting because it is not solved by forcing discards, the usual way of solving problems.

Sadly, Z should lead the eight of clubs, and trump in Y's hand with the deuce of spades. Y should now lead four of hearts. B must now play the ace of hearts for, if he does, Z will have three set-up heart tricks on which Y can discard his ten of diamonds; B must play a low heart, Z must now lead the jack of clubs and trump in Y's hand with the deuce of spades. Y should now lead four of hearts.
