Lake Zurich Community Woman's Club

The Lake Zurich Community Woman's Club was delightfully entertained at the December meeting Friday afternoon, the drama group of the Libertyville Woman's club who were guests of the Lake Zurich club at luncheon, entertained the club with a clever play entitled "A Hat and a Woman of Character." Mrs. C. E. Faust, chairman of the committee, in a brief synopsis introduced the play which centered around the hat which is "perfectly plain with a doo-dad on the side." In the play, ladies have gathered at the home of Mrs. Adams to hear a paper on "Realism in Art," but far more interest is displayed in the latest bit of scandal. One of their members, Mrs. Lange, on entering the shop of a French milliner to "look" at hats, discovers her husband in flirtation with the proprietress—and remains to purchase an expensive Paris creation.

"Will she come to the meeting?" "Will she wear it?" "Will she divorce Tom?" are the questions they are asking each other when she arrives, looking very dignified and very smart in the new hat.

The boys' and girls' glee club of Ela township high school gave a group of four beautiful selections, "Southern Memories," "Nobody knows the Trouble I See," a negro spiritual, "Good King Wenceslas," Neal, "Angels We Have Heard on High," an old French carol. They were directed by Melvin R. Eide.

Announcement was made of a project to be taken up by the Handicraft class which meets the second and fourth Tuesdays. January 8, they will meet to sew on layettes, which the class is furnishing for the Lake county hospital. The room will be open at 10:30 a. m. and a simple luncheon will be served at noon.

Mrs. Rockenbach announced that the Reading Circle will meet with Mrs. W. J. Pretzel Friday, Dec. 28 at 2:00 p. m. to hear Mrs. E. Jackson Dewire review the book, "Just Folks," by Ruth Sukow.

The hostesses at a charming Christmas tea following the program were Mrs. Charles Rudsinski, Mrs. J. D. Fink and Mrs. J. L. Clements.

Fox River Grove

The Grove post was honored at a state Legion meeting in Bloomington recently by being presented with the "Early Bird cup," given as an award for increased membership of 120 per cent during the past year. The auxiliary also won the cash award given a short time ago for increased membership. A junior auxiliary is being organized for young daughters of veterans in grade and high school. To-date, the juniors number 13.

A quiet wedding took place Saturday afternoon when Miss Jennie Opatrny became the bride of John Hegner in Chicago. She is the daughter of Mrs. Emma Opatrny and has spent her entire life here. Mr. Hegner is employed at the Board of Trade, Chicago. The young couple are making their home in the Grove. Several parties have been given for them during the past week. Mrs. Hegner was honored at a shower by her many young friends Wednesday and Sunday afternoon the bridal couple were guests of honor at a party at the home of the groom's brother.

Charles Schoeller of Chicago visited here Tuesday.

Local members of Eastern Star attended a Christmas party at the home of Marie Stewart in Cary Thursday night.

The newly organized club for young people, named "The Merry-makers," will meet in the village hall the first and third Wednesdays of each month. Young people of the Grove and all persons 16 years or over who wish to join from neighboring communities are eligible for membership, according to the organizers.

Word has been received here of the wedding in Chicago of George Trzanik and Emily Krie, also of Chicago. Mr. Trzanik operated a roadstory here prior to this year.

A crowd of relatives and friends from Chicago as well as the Grove swooped down on the H. Hankenson home Sunday to help celebrate Mr. Hankenson's birthday.

Mrs. Erwin LaGros left Saturday to spend the coming holidays at Fort Scott, Kan.

Dunda hall was taxed with an overflow crowd Friday night for the "Variety Show" sponsored by Grove Garden club. All village organizations participated each supplying a stunt.

Children attending the Catholic school at Cary are preparing a Christmas program to be given at the church hall next Sunday night.

Are you a victim of "stiff-as-a-board" work shoes? Switch to genuine Wolverine Shell Horsehides and see ché difference. You cannot squeeze your feet into leather that dries out stiff and hard after soaking and expect to enjoy foot comfort. Come in today and try on a pair of Wolverines.—W. N. Landwer & Co.—Adv.

Palatine

Palatine basketball teams defeated Wauconda teams at the local gymnasium Friday evening. Games scheduled for next week include one Tuesday night at Warren, Friday night at Bensenville and on Saturday night, the "Home Coming Game" with Arlington Heights here, at which time the queen of the high school will be crowned. Dancing will follow this game.

The Parent-Teacher association will hold its annual Christmas entertainment for children of the grade school in Cutting hall of Palatine high school Friday afternoon. The program will include a short play by the Girls' Athletic association of the high school, fancy dancing by local little folks and a story telling by a professional entertainer. Santa Claus will be there to give the boys and girls a treat. The Woman's club, Lions club, the high school board of education, and Business Men's association will assist in this project. The program will begin promptly at 2:30 p. m.

A new business firm was added to our list recently when Herbert Schroeder and Orville Holms opened a flower shop in the Dinse building. The firm is known as the "Roseland Flower Shop."

Mr. Schaffer, the baker, closed his piece of business last week, finding that too many stores were carrying bakery goods, he reported.
