Annual Mission Festival With Interesting Talks Sunday at St. Matthew's

The annual Mission festival of St. Matthew Evangelical Lutheran church will be held Sunday. The topic for the two services will be missions in America and in foreign lands.

The first service begins at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Rev. Emil Zoff of Chicago, missionary to inmates of state and city institutions located in Chicago, will be the speaker and has promised to relate some interesting experiences in his work. The St. Matthew mixed choir will sing several selections.

Another inspirational service will be held in the evening at 8 o'clock. The speaker will be Rev. A. R. Kretzmann, pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran church of Chicago and well-known also because of his leadership in the Walther league, a young people's organization.

At this service the St. Peter Lutheran Children's choir of Arlington Heights will sing several selections. This choir of forty voices sings under the direction of Prof. Theo. Preuss.

New Lighting Fixtures, Shelves and Curtains Installed at Library

Rose-colored curtains, new shelving and practical lighting fixtures have been added to Barrington public library, increasing the beauty and efficiency of the room.

Drop lights have been installed on all shelves which border the walls and additional shelving has been built to provide space for new books recently added to the library.

A practical new magazine rack displays the latest periodicals—a service which has become increasingly popular with patrons of the library, according to Miss Olive Dobson, librarian.

"Story hour" was resumed at the library Saturday and will be continued at 2 p. m. each Saturday throughout the winter. All school children are welcome to come, it was reported.

Offer Compromise to Dairies After Farmers' Meetin

$1.75 as a Flat Rate Would Be Accepted by Heads of Group

Resumption of disrupted milk service to Chicago is expected by authorities by the end of the week as the result of a meeting held Tuesday evening at headquarters in Elgin. It was agreed by farm leaders that a flat price of $1.75 per hundred pounds for a flat basis would be acceptable. It is reported that this figure has been accepted by a majority of dealers.

Little violence has been reported as milk shipments have been resumed to a large degree. Barrington farmers began shipping to local dairies Sunday.

This arrangement was made possible after officials at the head of the "farm marketing" program called both local dairies to Elgin Friday and discussed the situation. It was decided then that milk could be delivered in Barrington at the former price but when the difficulty is settled a new price reached would be paid by the dairies. At a meeting Saturday afternoon in Pedegrew dairy local farmers accepted the proposition as put forth.

Brandt's dairy started delivering Thursday morning but withheld them Friday after farmers had expressed disapproval and picklets were stationed near the plant. An agreement had been reached previously by farmers and Brandt's dairy to pay whatever figure would be accepted later as the permanent price.

Officials at Elgin felt that this was not equitable to all farmers and called a meeting of the parties. The agreement to allow deliveries was the decision reached.

According to reports a low figure of $1.75 a hundred pounds was reached after those heading the movement for $2.50 felt it was a hopeless undertaking as waning interest of farmers to participate brought about an increase in shipments.

When the movement started two weeks ago the controversy was directed more towards dealers attempting to run truck loads of milk through from Wisconsin but last week showed a marked split of two factions in the farmers' group, one being termed the Pure Milk Association farmers and the other as Union Producers.

Circuit Judge Edward D. Shurtleff of Marengo has been asked to head the new milk sales agency known as the Union Producers but what his final action will be is not definitely known.

Many farmers have complained that the PMA has not acted for their best interests and have swung over to the new organization.

Humphrey School Celebrates 100th Year in Servic

Humphrey school, district 9, located on Algonquin road, will celebrate its 100th anniversary in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Achievement club Tuesday evening, Oct. 22, starting at 8 p. m.

A program is being arranged for that night and two speakers have been engaged. J. C. Butler, assistant superintendent of schools in Cook county, and Mrs. Minnie Albright will talk.

Mrs. Albright will be the principal speaker as she is the granddaughter of John J. Henderson, who gave the land to the school district upon which the school house now stands.

This part of the evening should prove highly interesting to residents of the community who have attended school there in former years. Also, any person having an intimate knowledge of the school's history would be able to bring back memories of former years.

The Achievement club, which will hold its annual meeting in conjunction with the anniversary, devotes considerable attention to instructing students in parliamentary law and procedure as well as civic matters.

Miss Laura Witt is teacher of Humphrey school and she is in charge of arranging the event. Miss Witt has issued an invitation to all persons to attend who so desire.
