BARRINGTON REVIEW

Gifts for the First Baby Born in February, 1932

The next two months are going to be lucky for new born babies in the Barrington district. Every business man whose name is listed in this page of advertisements is going to make a gift to the first boy or girl born in each of these months. Official records at the village clerk's office, where the birth should be reported and recorded, will decide the "lucky" baby. Any baby is eligible if the parents reside in Barrington, Lake Zurich, Fox River Grove or within Barrington and Cuba townships or within Elia township south and west of Gilmer, or within Palatine township west of the village of Palatine. All babies within the district can and should be registered with the Barrington village clerk to be eligible. Will it be a boy or a girl? That makes no difference. The new arrival will receive a substantial welcome in the form of the many gifts described on this page. A similar page of this kind will appear prior to each of the next three months.

Broadway Stars in Operetta at Erlanger Theater

That ever-delightful Oscar Straus operetta, "The Chocolate Soldier," with Vivienne Segal and Charles Purcell, two well-known Broadway favorites, co-starred, comes to the Erlanger theater, Chicago, on Sunday, Jan. 31.

The libretto of the operetta was adapted by Bernauer and Jacobson from George Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man." The English translation was made by Stanislaus Stanislaus. Shaw wrote "Arms and the Man" long before the late World War. His opinion of martial heroes and hero worshipers might have been altered by what he learned during and after that conflict, but his earlier attitude was such as moved him to pen a caustic satire on military operations and commanding officers. His Captain Bluntschli or Lieutenant Bumerli, as he is called in the operetta, ridicules the bravery of all men at arms.

Straus' score is tuneful—never trivial or commonplace. His famous "My Hero" number is one that is encored and encored.

Miss Segal and Mr. Purcell, the two stars, are well fitted for their roles in this international favorite. Miss Segal has been one of Broadway's real prima donnas for several years. She has played leading roles in "Oh, Lady, Lady," "The Little Whopper," "Tangerine," "The Yankee Princess," "Ziegfeld's Follies," (four editions), "The Florida Girl," "Castles in the Air," "The Desert Song" and "The Three Musketeers." She lately returned from Hollywood, where she did considerable screen work.

Mr. Purcell's attractions in which he played the leading male roles include "Maytime," "Oh, Please," with Beatrice Lillie, "The Magic Melody," "Monte Cristo, Jr.," "Poor Little Rich Girl," "The Rose Girl" and many others.

Others of prominence in the cast include Allan Rogers, also a Broadway favorite; Sarah Edwards, Marion Palmer, Edmond Mulcahy, John Dunsmore and Theodore Von Tassel. There is also a mixed group of choristers totaling 36 in number and a special orchestra of 20, under the direction of Max Handlander.

Matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday.

During the quarter beginning October 1, and ending December 31, 1931, the amount of $1,207.03 was earned in interest on the moneys collected during the quarter, according to Secretary of State William J. Stratton.

She'll Learn
Another optimist is the lass who thinks the boy friend who honks from the curb instead of ringing the doorbell will turn out to be the kind of husband who'll always put on her rubbers for her and serve her breakfast in bed.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Look to the Future
There is a past which is gone forever. But there is a future which is still our own.—Robertson.

Corporations' Limit
The saying, "Corporations have no souls" is attributed to Richard Coke, famous British lawyer. They (corporations) cannot commit the sin nor be outlawed, nor be prosecuted, for they have no souls. Hence the phrase "Corporations have no souls to save and no bodies to kick."

Look to the Future
There is a past which is gone forever. But there is a future which is still our own.—Robertson.

Ela High Freshman Boys Present Style Show and Program

Activities of Lake Zurich Schools Recorded by Pupils

The assembly program on Feb. Jan. 15, given by the Freshman boys, was very entertaining. The program consisted of a style show, models were shown of afternoon, evening, and sport dresses, and styles in pajamas, and even a style show several vocal selections were given.

The seniors have chosen "The play of Ghosts" for their class play. James Liska, a junior, has been named manager of the production.

The hot-dog sale last Friday at the basketball game, sponsored by the girls' club, was a huge success. The only trouble was that the girls did not have enough hot-dogs to all, and some of the basketball players only got a small one.

The second team boys won a 15-10 victory over a team from the University of Wisconsin.

Many of the sophomore and junior girls attended the Women's club luncheon last Thursday. They enjoyed the talk on interior decorating in which they were very much interested.

The Freshman class had the first semester examinations last Wednesday and Thursday. They thought they would be harder than they were. One day in the Freshman English class, Miss Hinchliff asked, "How many of you have a headache?"

When they had in their mouths. When they "cough drops," Miss Hinchliff was little suspicious of the necessity of the cough drops. As long as you not permitted, they hoped to "get with cough drops. Those poor, poor freshmen!"

The Freshman boys are taking milk in the agriculture class. Each boy takes turns in bringing milk to school.

Everyone was wondering why the dresses were worn by all of the Freshman girls last Friday, but curiosity was relieved when they saw an interesting program in assembly. The program consisted of several vocal numbers by the girls and a short play, entitled "The M. C. Tragedy." After the program the girls, the coach and boys of basketball teams gave a talk telling what they intended to do at the game with Barrington.

changing of their signal system to consider, but also had the problem of changing all suburban stations. Since the advantages of right-hand operation were about equalled by the advantages of the left-hand system, the expense in changing was not thought justified.

Lake Shore Last

There is disadvantage to left-hand operation. It is signalling. Right-hand operation permits signals to be built along side of the track in the direction of traffic; left-hand operation makes this impractical with the large engines now used. The North Western has taken care of this difficulty in some instances by building overhead signal bridges. Recently the installation of continuous automatic control on the 500 miles main line between Chicago and Omaha has eliminated all signals, and thereby eliminated signal disadvantage at that section of the North Western.

One Distinct Advantage
But there is also a distinct advantage to left-hand operation. The North Western official contended. It places the engineer on the inside of the track where he may see his right-of-way clearly. Having the engineer in the center of a double-tracked stretch is advantageous in the same manner as having an automobile driver on the left in "keeping-to-the-right" traffic.

"One thing certain, against advantages of one system against advantages of the other as you may," he said. "The Chicago and North Western railway will continue to be the only railroad operated completely left-handed probably for many years to come."

more help is needed along that line than any other. The child is often handicapped by one or more things—poor health, a limited vocabulary, an unstable emotional background, or retarded mental development.

"In case of retarded mental development, we must wait for time to solve the problem but the other handicaps can be overcome by patient work in the schoolroom. A child who is slow to learn must be given easy things to read at first and must be made to feel that he is being successful in grappling with his reading. A day by day chart, which shows his progress, is a great source of encouragement. More difficult lessons are introduced gradually. In brief, patience, frequent repetitions, and encouragements are needed to overcome reading errors and problems."

Mrs. Wirt Lawrence, president of the newly organized P.-T. A., presided at the meeting, which was concluded by a social hour.

trustees and the plat as submitted by Mr. Walbaum was accepted. A. C. Lines appeared before the board and asked that an easement for a sewer line connecting his property and running through a neighbor's lot be drawn up and placed on the village records. The village attorney was instructed to draw up the easement and present it for signature of the persons concerned.

The matter of moving the fire siren to the north side of the North Western tracks was brought up and a decision rendered in favor of leaving it in its location. Trustee Schroeder presented an estimate on the cost of moving the siren and re-routing the wires, the estimate amounting to $300.

To Repair Sewer Pump
The village engineers presented a report on the sewer situation in Jewell Park. An auxiliary pump was used near the Hough street bridge to pump the effluent into Flint creek in order to determine the cause for the "back up" water. No leaks were found in the system. It was the engineers' contention that the pump was not pumping to capacity and upon recommendation of the board the pump will be taken up for cleaning and repairs.

The street committee was instructed by the board to buy gravel and fill in holes wherever found necessary for thoroughfare in the outlying streets. The library board was instructed that all bills accrued in the operation of the library be paid through the village treasurer upon approval of the village board.

necessary that the records be "broken down" and reconstructed.

"It is because of finding this situation that we are asking that we be paid additional compensation for furnishing the detailed information called for."

"We believe that you should have the information called for in the contract, and that in addition thereto you should install a system of accounting."

The actual cost of the work thus far done, aside from any charge for overhead of profit, amounts to about $2,250.00, and it will probably cost an additional $750.00 to complete the audit, furnish the detailed information, and an accounting system layout.

"In order to show our absolute good faith and our desire to be perfectly fair in the matter, we are willing to complete the audit and furnish the detailed information called for, down to April 30, 1931, and in addition thereto, to furnish an accounting system layout and supervise the making of the entries on the new system forms for the period from April 30, 1931 down to and including December 31, 1931, by your officers or employees, such supervision to be furnished from time to time as the entries are being made, or until the same have been completed, for the sum of $1,800.00."

"We believe the trustees want to be fair in this matter, and that if they will give this matter their earnest consideration they will agree that our offer is more than fair."

"We will appreciate it, if you will present this letter to the board of trustees at the next regular meeting."

Very truly yours,
Arnold, Himmelblau & Co.

Institution for Study of Human Intelligence
The most curious museum in the world is in Vienna. It is attached to a scientific institute for the study of human intelligence and its exhibits consist entirely of brains.

Already the museum contains the brains of many men who achieved great eminence in their day, and nearly 1,000 persons now living have bequeathed their brains to it.

The brain of the average European man weighs about forty-five ounces, and that of a woman forty ounces. Generally speaking, the more intelligent its owner the heavier the brain. Byron's brain weighed 60 ounces, Kant's 65, and that of the great Russian, Turgenev, 67 ounces.

The weight of the brain can be calculated with extraordinary accuracy from measurements of the skull. It has thus been possible to find how many types of primitive men compared, as regards brains, with human beings of today. "Missing links," such as the ap-man of Java, the Pekin man, and the Pit-down man, had very light brains; but the people who lived 20,000 or 30,000 years ago and made the wonderful flint implements found in some parts of France, or the beautiful paintings discovered in Spanish caves, had brains as heavy as those of modern men.

But the heaviest brain on record—It weighed seventy-five ounces—belonged to an idiot!

Healthful Humidity
Humidity in houses should be from 30 to 50 per cent, but in most houses it is probably 20 per cent or lower—too dry for health. The dryer the air the more difficult it is to heat a house, as moisture in the air carries and retains heat. If frost forms freely on the inside of the glass, there is probably enough humidity. If there is no sign of frost, the air is too dry.

Water, in Middle Ages, Drunk Only as Penance

In his volume, "The English Medieval Feast," William Edward Mead sets forth a myriad of curious facts about the eating habits of those valiant trenchermen, the Anglo-Saxons of the middle ages. (Castronomic habits) of the period. Mead shows, were based more often on necessity arising from conditions under which they live than from national idiosyncrasies, but many of them survive in some form in the present-day recipes.

It is staggering to compute the amount of beverages (water excepted) that was regarded then as an average day's ration in a single household. At one feast lasting a week in the home of the Archbishop Neville, brother of the "kingmaker," for instance, the guests were provided with the equivalent of 18,000 dozen of wine and 75,000 gallons of ale, he states. The small household of the earl of Northumberland accounted annually for 1,100 dozen of wine and 42,000 gallons of ale.

Water in those times was drunk only as a penance, and was known commonly as "rot-gut stuff." Since sanitation was entirely outside the ken of the wisest of the age, and the quality of any water used for drinking likely to be extremely inferior, it was a wise enough precaution to ignore it.

Mr. Herman Hunkis of Detroit writes: "A few lines of thanks from a rheumatism sufferer—my first bottle of Kruschen Salts took all the aches and swellings out of my joints—with my first bottle I went on a diet and lost 22 pounds and now I feel like a new man."

To lose fat SAFELY and quickly take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast.

For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen—the salt for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle at any drugstore in the world and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied, with results—money back. Fredlund Drug Co. and all good druggists will be glad to supply you.

Lady's Erudite "How-dy-Do"
At a literary tea party, D. H. Lawrence took me across the room to introduce me to his wife, who, interrupting her conversation with another woman, beamed at me very largely and said: "What do you make of life?"

"Come, come," said her husband. Our discussion continued for several hours. Lawrence's idea of immortal life was not something which would start after death, but "a living reality within us going on even now, all the time, though intermittently clouded over by the illusion of time."—William Gerhard! in the Saturday Review.

How to play Bridge AUCTION and CONTRACT

by Wynne Ferguson
Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGES"

Hearts—10, 7
Clubs—J, 9, 4
Diamonds—Q, 6
Spades—J, 10, 6, 4, 2

When you hold six or more hearts or spades, it is obligatory for you to bid that suit over partner's no trump and the obligation is just as strong when the no trump has been doubled. Such a bid is a partner's exact information that you have a justifiable take-out bid and that information may be very valuable.

Problem

Hearts—10, 9, 8, 7, 5
Clubs—Q, J, 4
Diamonds—9, 2
Spades—7, 6, 4

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and opened no trump and A doubled. What should Y now bid at either Auction or Contract? In case Y passed, B passed and Z bid two spades, which A doubled, what should Y now bid?

From the foregoing discussion it should be obvious that Y should bid two hearts over the double. He has six hearts and therefore an obligatory take-out of the no trump. After making the mistake of passing, however, the right thing for him to do is not so obvious. When B also passed the double, it was evident that he did so because he was certain of defeating Z's no trump bid. In other words, both A and B have indicated strong hands. Z's subsequent bid of two spades merely indicated that he realized he had no trump bid would probably be defeated and that he figured he had a better chance to get out of trouble by bidding spades.

As a double of two spades indicated, A could defeat that bid; so Y was confronted with a difficult problem. If he passes, he would have a good chance to win the game. If he bids, he would have a chance to win the game. If he passes, he would have a chance to win the game. If he bids, he would have a chance to win the game.

As the season progresses it begins to look as though the final result will be just the reverse of last year. Beerman and Pomeroy teams are now trailing in third and fourth place. These two teams were the winners last season—but then you never can tell.

Bronchos added to their record by defeating the right side of the conference when they defeated 27 to 10 and 22 to 10 on Saturday. In the first game, the Bronchos were within one point at the end of the first half, but the superior play of the Elgin boys won the game. Salems Lose to Northbrook Five; Play Aurora Next

Salem basketball team lost a fast and exciting game to the Northbrook five Wednesday night by a 34 to 32 count. Northbrook took the lead early in the game, but the Barrington boys caught up at the end of the half and it was anybody's game from then until the final whistle.

Northbrook took the lead and at the end of the first quarter the score was 10-2. Tate and Harder located the rim in the second quarter and at the end of the half the score was 18-10 in Barrington's favor. The second half proved to be another fast twenty minutes of basketball. Barrington's offense began to click while Northbrook's was stopped. The score was tied up for most of the entire fourth quarter. The score was 32-32 with three minutes to go. Then Northbrook started its rally and ran up two points to defeat Barrington.

Salem eagles play Elgin Thursday, Jan. 28, at Elgin and one Wednesday, Feb. 3, they play a strong quintet from Aurora which is composed of former high school and college players. The games will be played at the Lake Zurich high school gym.

Cadwallader Pin Team Still First in Lions League

Hager's Keglers Drop Back 35 Pins in Race With Leaders

Hager's pin team dropped back 35 points in their race to overthrow Cadwallader's team from first place in the Lions bowling league when the latter ran up 2,320 pins to the Hager's 2,294 in the series Monday night.

Two weeks ago the Hager keglers were only two hundred pins behind their opponents. Since no league games were played last week, they are now trailing by 235 pins.

Junior High Cage Team Rallies in Last Half to Win From Palatine

The Barrington Junior High basketball team nearly bowed in defeat before the fighting Palatine eagles last Friday evening, but a strong comeback in the second half changed an almost even score to a 32 to 14 victory.

Although Palatine rests in a much lower position than Barrington in conference standing, they are improving rapidly and a surprise awaits any team that expects an easy victory from them.

Latta again led in scoring for Barrington, collecting a total of 17 points, most of which were made in the last half.

This week brings Junior High's annual game with the high school freshman team and next week will find them at Dundee in a conference battle of great importance if Junior High is to remain in the conference fight for the trophy.

Lake Zurich Church Cage Teams Win Pair of Games

The basketball teams of the Evangelical church of Lake Zurich won two of three games on last week's schedule.

This girls' team won from the C. A. C. girls at Arlington Heights Wednesday by a 25 to 23 score.

The boys' heavyweights found themselves on the short end of a 37 to 35 score with the Des Plaines heavyweights Thursday, but won from the strong Dundee quintet 10 to 10 on Friday. Both games were out of town.

Hebron will meet Lake Zurich at the latter's gym Friday evening, Jan. 29. The opening game will be between teams consisting of boys of grammar school age from Lake Zurich and the Bensenville Orphanus home.

Laurel and Hardy in New Comedy at Catlow Saturday

Five Acts Loop Vaudeville to Feature Sunday
Program

A double feature consisting of Richard Dix in "Secret Service" and the Laurel and Hardy comedy team in "Beau Hunk" will be the offering Saturday night at the Catlow theatre. "Secret Service" is based on a Civil war incident of espionage behind Confederate lines. It gives Richard Dix another of those acting holidays in which the star walks away with the part, playing with the fine spirited gusto and verve which have made him the idol of millions of fans.

In "Beau Hunk" Laurel and Hardy are first seen as a couple of ordinary citizens and Hardy in the throes of a beautiful love affair which is suddenly ended by the sudden change of heart of the lady in the case. Brokenhearted Hardy decides to join the Foreign Legion and, of course, insists that Laurel share his self-imposed fate. Many and hilarious are their experiences upon joining this group of hardboiled fighters, who evidently have also joined the Legion forces to forget the false charms of some woman.

"Her Majesty, Love," featuring Marilyn Miller, will be shown on the screen Sunday in addition to five acts of loop vaudeville. The screen presentation is Miss Miller's third picture, and said to be her most captivating. She is first seen as a barmaid in a Berlin cabaret, later evolving into an unwilling baroness. Ben Lyon is the Prince Charming who rescues the twinkling coquet from her aged spouse—but that's the story. The big four of funniness are in the cast—W. C. Fields, Chester Conklin, Leon Errol and Ford Sterling.

James Dunn and Sally Eilers again come to the screen Monday and Tuesday nights in "Over the Hill," a story of mother love, devotion and sacrifice. Selected shorts, comedy and news complete the bill. Norma Shearer and Robert Montgomery are featured in "Private Lives," a farce comedy which plays The Catlow screen on Thursday and Friday nights, Feb. 3 and 4. This farce concerns the diverting complications which arise when a divorced couple make another try at marriage with fresh partners and find themselves sharing adjoining suites on their second honeymoons.

State News

The state department of public health has announced that more than 3,000 people in Illinois were bitten by "mad" dogs during the last ten years. Of this number, 45 died from hydrophobia. The Pasteur antirabic treatment was given to over 2,000 of the people that were bitten. The material for the treatment was furnished free by the state department of public health. More than 7,000 animal heads were examined in the public health laboratories which found evidence of rabies in 3,020.

According to G. H. Boewe, field biologist for the Natural History survey at Urbana, Illinois truck farmers will benefit by heading the reports of neighboring states on plant disease over the past few years. Late blight of potatoes has cost Wisconsin $5,000,000 and Ohio $2,000,000 in a single year, and Michigan reports of loss of $1,000,000 from late blight. Mr. Boewe stresses the importance of fungicide sprays in the control of truck garden diseases.

Springfield will commemorate the 123rd anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln with public exercises to be held at the arsenal at 8 p. m., February 11. The guests of honor and speakers will be Governor Clifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania, and Dr. Jose Manuel Puga Casarum, ambassador of Mexico to the United States. Governor Ruby Laffan of Kentucky is also expected to attend. The program will be given under the auspices of the Mid-day Luncheon club of Springfield.

According to Frank T. Sheets, chief highway engineer, about 15 per cent of the funds expended for maintenance work in general goes to keep the traffic moving on state highways when snow storms occur. In 1930, the snow removal bill amounted to $400,000. In computing snow removal costs, the highway officials include all direct labor, salaries and expenses of employees engaged in this arduous service.

Illinois fruit and vegetable last year found their way as far east as Boston, as far southwest as the Texas Panhandle, and even went across the international boundary into three Canadian provinces, according to the Illinois Agricultural association. Nearly 1,000 carloads of these products were distributed by the Illinois Fruit Growers Exchange to 200 markets scattered over half the United States. Peaches led the field in volume with 639 cars going through the cooperative.

The Egyptian Poultry show, the fourth annual exhibit, was held in Harrisburg, January 19-21. There were many exhibits from southern Illinois schools and seven silver cups were given for exhibits and skill in judging.

C. E. Canterbury, of Cantrall, has been declared "Soy Bean King" of Illinois. He also won the state championship in early oats.

Flood Protection
The dikes which protect the Netherlands and the German coasts of the Northern sea go back to the old Roman times. Apparently even before the Romans appeared the Batavians at the mouth of the Rhine protected themselves by dikes. During, after the conquest of Holland, 10 B. C., built an elaborate system of artificial canals and dikes. Plying the Elder gives an interesting description of the artificial hills which were erected as places of refuge during the floods.
