Barrington Woman's Club

Mrs. Clayton Watkins gave a most interesting review of the book "Here I Stay" Tuesday afternoon at the public library. The book is beautifully written by a young author, Elizabeth Costaworth.

The story has its background in the state of Maine during the years of 1317-1818—during which time many people were leaving to seek adventure and fortune further west.

Miss Costaworth depicts the struggles and achievements of one Margaret Winslow, who stays along on the farm she had inherited from her father, finding happiness and contentment among her animals which she loved and in the surrounding beauty of nature. It is a book well chosen for the author's afternoon of reading.

The club is invited to the Wicker Park Reciprocity day program on January 17 at 1:30 p. m. The meeting will be at the North club, 1310 Keeale avenue.

A benefit tea and fashion show, sponsored by the Woman's Symphony Orchestra organization of Chicago, will be held in the Walnut Room of Marshall Field and Company Monday, Jan. 16, at 1:30 p.m. Music by the Woman's Symphony orchestra. Tickets may be secured from Mrs. E. T. Schutt.

Louise Holabird Wood, who spends her summers in Italy and France, will tell of conditions in those countries Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 18, at the regular monthly meeting of the club at the Methodist church.

Country Day School Organizing Cub Pack

A cub pack will be sponsored by the Barrington Country Day school for boys of nine, ten and eleven years of age, it was determined at a meeting held at the school Tuesday evening. Mr. Hapeman, cubbing committeeman of the Northwest Suburban council, Boy Scouts of America, Mr. Smith, chairman of cub pack No. 21 at Des Plaines, and Mr. Baker, principal of the Arlington Heights schools and vice president of Cub pack No. 323 in Arlington Heights, were present to explain the benefits of prospective cubbers at the meeting Tuesday night. Herbert Ivy Day school faculty, will be cubmaster of the new pack.

Mr. Hapeman stressed the important position parents have in cubbing. "The success of a cub pack depends so much on the activity of the parents," he said, "that before organizing a pack there must be several meetings of the interested fathers and mothers."

There will be another meeting Tuesday, Jan. 17, at the Country Day school at 8 o'clock to continue the "Pack Organization Course" for Parents" which the council conducts. Mr. Hapeman, Mr. Smith and Mr. Baker will be there again.
