Otto Is Elected Commissioner of Cuba Town Roads

Wins Over Joe Welch in Close Race; 5 Other Candidates Trail

After a strenuous campaign that raked up 879 votes in Cuba township, Fred Otto was elected on Tuesday to the office of town highway commissioner with 52 more votes than were cast for Joe Welch, second place candidate, and more than twice the number of votes cast for Verne Hoben, who finished in third place.

The results of the seven way election were: Fred Otto 262, Joe P. Welch 210, Verne Hoben 114, Leo Riley 98, Henry Pepper 79, Martin Jurs 75, and Herbert Kampert 41.

Mr. Otto succeeds Mr. Pepper as commissioner and will take office on a pledge of economy built on plans to reduce the amount and cost of road work in the township.

The total vote cast was the heaviest ever recorded for a township election in Cuba, even though the present time is the "off-year" when only one officer is elected as compared to the regular election year when all other township officers will come up.

Dr. Kirk Smith Tells Local Lions of Hospital Work at Great Lakes

Surgeons at the U. S. Naval hospital at Great Lakes performed nearly all operations under local anesthetic with satisfactory results. Dr. F. Kirk Smith, lieutenant in the navy told members of the Barrington Lions club at the weekly luncheon Monday evening.

Mr. Smith who is completing his internship at the naval hospital, told that the hospital camp is nearly filled up with veterans of three wars in addition to the sailors in training at the station. During the last few months a daily average of 802 patients were received in the hospital camp. Since January 1, a total of 443 operations have been performed under local anesthetic and of this number not a single patient has developed pneumonia, a menace to patients recovering from the effects of general anesthetics.

The wooden ward buildings, constructed in 1917 and 1918 for war and post war service are still in use. These buildings have been kept in excellent repair and make comfortable quarters for sick veterans and sailors. Every bed in every ward is equipped with radio air phones which are connected with radio receiving sets in the office of the day's room.

The Red Cross is just as active in organization now as it ever was. Dr. Smith said. It supplies the patients at the hospital with soap, razor blades, candy, and other items.

Many of the patients are World War veterans and are sent to Great Lakes from the U. S. Veterans Bureau hospital at Hines.

Deny Knowledge of Threat to Kill Judge if Divorce Is Granted Barrington Man

Attorneys for both plaintiff and defendant in the divorce case of Krone versus Krone which is being heard by Judge E. D. Shurtliff denied knowledge of a telephone call received by the judge Sunday night in which he was told he would be shot if he granted a divorce to Fred Krone, Barrington filling station owner.

Krone's wife, Anna, filed a bill for divorce last August charging her husband with cruelty and asserting that he had threatened her with a revolver on one occasion. The husband filed a cross bill last October, in which he charged his wife with cruelty. Also he asserted that she had struck him with a frying pan and that she gave him a black eye by hitting him while he was asleep.

Judge Shurtliff indicated on Oct. 21 that he would give the divorce to Krone, signing of the decree has been held up pending the arrangement of a property settlement by Attorney Louis Deane of Chicago, representing Mrs. Krone, and Attorney George McGaughey of Waukegan, representing the husband. They appeared yesterday before Judge Shurtliff.

"I don't know whether I ought to go on with this hearing or not," Judge Shurtliff told the attorneys. "I've been warned that I was to be shot if I gave a decree to Krone."

Then he described the threat received Sunday. The call to his residence was traced by Sheriff Leslie Edginger of McHenry county to a public telephone in Chicago.

"I assure you that neither myself nor my client would do anything like that," Attorney Deane told Judge Shurtliff. The judge asked if he had any associates in the case. The attorney said he had not.

Judge Shurtliff said that he would adhere to his announced intention of granting a decree to Krone, but postponed the case until next Monday when he will be sitting in Waukegan, where he originally heard the case.

Speaker Relates Joys of Reading With Children

In describing the joy of sharing books with children, Miss Margaret Armstrong Ayres of Oak Park stressed the following seven joys of reading in her talk at the Parent-Teacher program held at the high school auditorium Thursday evening: joy of familiarity, surprise, sympathy, appreciation, expansion, assimilation, and revelation.

Miss Ayres, who is experiencing her twenty-fifth year as librarian of the children's department at Oak Park, told her audience that each year her happiness increased because of the fact that she was dealing with two lovely things: children and books.

She said in part: "The heading of good books is extremely important in character building and it is not only a duty but a great pleasure." She spoke of her own happy childhood, giving much credit to her father, who spent his evenings reading to the family. She told how children love the sound of large words even though they do not understand the meaning. They enjoy the music of poetry and often ask to have a poem read over and over. This is also true of a story.

In speaking of books, Miss Ayres said that one of the greatest joys is to share them. A good story is twice as good when shared with a friend, and at this point she enumerated the seven joys of reading. In speaking of these joys she stated that children love the things familiar and too often parents do not take the time to re-read stories.

Understanding this very wonderful attribute comes through books, and here she spoke of the "Just So" stories in particular.

Appreciation, Miss Ayres likened to violets in spring. She said it is of slow growth and comes gradually. She made a plan for the reading of poetry to little children and here she spoke of "100 Best Poems" and "100 Famous Poems" that she very good and can be obtained in inexpensive editions. She also recommended "The Singing Lady."

The joy of expansion comes in getting the opinions of others. Miss Ayres believes that mothers need a vacation and suggests that it be taken each day. When a mother gets to the point where she feels like "flying," then is the time to drop everything and read. She needs the change and what an opportune time it is to travel with books when so many can take trips in no other way. Children need to have the parents read to them; they need the quiet and rest that comes with the reading. And how much they will assimilate we can not know.

In conclusion she recommended "The Singing Lady" by Louis Untermeyer and "The Poetry Cure" by Schaeffer.

Land Is Surveyed for Extension of Hough Street Road

A surveying crew from the Lake county engineer's office has been busy surveying the land north of Barrington and east of Waukegan for a new road connecting the two villages.

"It is the tentative plan of the county to build a concrete road extending north from Hough street through the Biltmore Country club property to Waukegan," Supervisor H. D. Kelsey said. All surveying work will be completed this spring. It is possible that a contract for the new road will be let for the summer.

With the announcement of the extension of the road north to Waukegan, Barrington is now assured of concrete road outlets both north and south from the village. Cook county engineers have surveyed the Barrington road for a concrete county highway south of the village and the commissioners have already purchased some property for road bed.

Expect Large Vote at Annual School Election Saturday

Seven Candidates for Board Members; Two for President, on Ballot

A heavy vote may be expected at the annual school election next Saturday when a president and two members of the board of education will be elected. The polling place will be in the public school building, and the polls will be open from 2 p. m. until 8 p. m.

Due to competition both for president and members and some active campaigning more interest will be shown in this election than in elections held on previous years. Peter L. Anderson and William H. Sott are candidates for president of the board.

Newton O. Flagg, Ernest C. Lines, C. E. Billings, H. L. Meiners, and Lydia H. Beerman are candidates for board members.

Although the campaign at first promised to include competition between two definite groups (actual tickets are not filed for school election), it developed into a campaign of one group and several individuals. Lines and Billings for board members, and Anderson for president entered the campaign at one time while Flagg, Meiners, and Mrs. Beerman are not associated in a group. Mr. Sott, now president of the board, is seeking re-election individually.

This election will not be a one-sided affair. There is no platform on plan of conducting the office of school board member that will be of special interest to the voters except the plan for economical operation of the school system. These candidates who entered in convincing the largest number of voters that they will trim expenses to further taxes are the candidates who will be elected.

All Cuba Officers Decide to Accept Salary Reductions

Officers' salaries and wages will be trimmed all along the line in Cuba township for a total savings of between $300 and $400 to the taxpayers, it was decided at the town meeting held at the Schauble Bros. & Collins garage Tuesday afternoon.

Approximately 100 people attended the meeting including the candidates for highway commissioner, some of their supporters, and taxpayers interested in the affairs of the township. With two or three of the candidates for office taking the floor, the discussion became somewhat heated for a few minutes. Officers were called on to defend their records which they did while giving the annual reports.

Among the salary cuts decided on was a voluntary reduction of $100 from the township supervisor's salary. It was reduced from $350 a year to $250. H. D. Kelsey, supervisor, reported that he volunteered to take a reduction along with other county officers a year ago. The highway commissioner's salary was cut from $30 a working day to $25 a working day. The assessor's salary was reduced from $7 a working day to $6 a working day, with $5 a day provided for on days when he makes trips to Waukegan.

Poor—Abolished

The town clerk's salary was reduced from $20 a month to $18 a month. The thistle commissioner's salary was reduced from $6 a working day to $5 a working day. All of the present office holders agreed to the reductions. These various reductions will result in a total cut in expenditures for salaries of between $300 and $400 and possible more than that if several of the officers can do their annual work in a smaller number of days than the time heretofore required.

Two Educations

There are two sorts of education. There is the education where you get your knowledge and the education, which is equally important, of friction with other human beings and that you cannot get as long as you sit by yourself in your lodgings.

You only get it through rubbing your brains with those of other people. You get the corners knocked on, you learn toleration, and you emerge an infinitely better fellow, able to get at work at once amongst your fellow men. Work will be infinitely better done if you have gone through that process of friction and massage with other human minds and men.—Stanley Baldwin.

Custer Pledges Tax Reform

Omer N. Custer of Galesburg, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor at the primaries April 12, says:

"The people of Illinois, from Galena to Cairo, are demanding these three things:

Mr. Custer is highly qualified for the important position of Governor.

"Drastic reduction in the cost of all government.

He is a newspaper publisher, a banker, the head of several industrial enterprises, and the owner and operator of farm lands. As county treasurer of Knox County in 1906 he was the first official in the State to return interest on public funds. As State treasurer for two terms, he was honest and efficient in the administration of the duties of the office.

"Consolidation, reorganization or abolition of overlapping or unnecessary governmental functions.

Never in the history of Illinois has there been so great a need for business brains in executive positions in the government.

Barrington Woman's Club

One of the most enjoyable programs of the year was the musicale given on Wednesday at the Barrington Woman's club.

Miss Florence Gullane and Mr. Harold Van Horn were the two fine Chicago artists secured by the program committee for this musicale.

A sincerely appreciative audience thoroughly enjoyed every song and musical composition rendered by these talented musicians.

Miss Florence Gullane, whose youthful appearance and charming personality had captured her listeners' ears even before she sang, has a lovely mezzo-soprano voice. Her voice has the rich warm quality of a contralto and at the same time the brilliancy and lightness of a soprano. She uses her vocal gifts in a most artistic manner, interpreting the mood of the song so that it is understood by her audience, a fact that adds greatly to the enjoyment of her recital.

Mr. Harold Van Horn, who is so well known to radio listeners almost needed no introduction. His piano solos over the radio have been a great delight to all, but one really needs to see him play to fully comprehend his art.

To The Voters of Barrington

The coming election affecting our local government is important. Much work is yet to be done. I desire to finish it, hence my candidacy for re-election.

Before starting my term, special assessment bonds had already been forged and over-issued. Yourself and myself were paying interest on them. Soon after my election I submitted a comprehensive report covering the situation, which report was tabled. I then worked to force a general audit which has just now been completed. I beg of you to attend the regular meeting of the Village Board which will be held on Monday, April 11, at 8 p. m., when I shall render another report and summarize this audit. I believe it will give us all plenty of food for thought. It may give you some idea of which trustees and former trustees are watching the best interests of the village. Your vote for me at the polls will be an indication of your approval on three of the major issues for which I stand:

FIRST: Avoidance of any and all supplemental special assessments which may become necessary unless the board takes action to protect the property owners.

SECOND: Further economy in administration of village affairs.

THIRD: Reduction of our tax rate which is fast becoming confiscatory.

If You believe in the platform I have outlined, and

If You believe in a local government run on the principles of common sense, public honesty and decency, the books although not yet a report on the audit of the water department. The report called attention to the fact that the water department was not paying its bills. At the date of the audit, the water department had a cash overdraft of $82.43 in the general fund. It was made up by balance in water fund. Other funds except for net of $8,747.28.

The auditors offered several suggestions relative to bookkeeping. One was the institution of a double entry system. Suggestions in brief were: The water department should be in check except for minor items which may be paid out of a cash fund kept for the purpose of propounding and tax levy should provide for specific expenses based on the past years and anticipated requirements for the year in which the revenue received should authorize for expenses which the books coincide with the authorization.

Wins Silver Medal Contest. First place in the silver medal contest conducted by the V. P. M. club was won by John J. Hobel, who won the "Country" Miss Landwer gave "The Disc of the War" and Howard read "Helen's Plan." All were given.

Speaker Describes George Washington as Nature Lover

Howard P. Castle described "Washington, the Lover of Nature," at the meeting of the Barrington Bird club, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. D. Blanke, 533 Summit street, Tuesday evening.

He designated this bi-centennial year as appropriate to consider Washington's life and named Washington as an example of manhood and virility in addition to being a great military leader and explorer.

Mrs. Lester L. Higgins, club secretary, gave tentative plan of a chart showing a record of arrival of birds—this to extend over a period of five years.

Mrs. Robert Work presented Chapman's "Handbook of Birds" as a first donation of bird literature to our public library.

Mrs. R. W. Dawson sang "Where the Albion Flows" from a cycle of songs, "A Lover in Damascus" by Amy Woodforde Fildes, and the "Slave Song" by Teresa Del Riego.

"At Mt. Vernon," said Mr. Castle, "Washington was surrounded by the loved most of all. His home was completely equipped for him as a methodical farmer with deep knowledge of soil conditions. He was an early exponent of rotation of crops. His farms were all numbered and mapped; he knew the quality of the soils of each. His acquaintance with the nature of soil and desirable land gave him valuable information for later life. Very observing, he knew land values and was always happy to resume farm life.

"In the historic attack on the Hensons Washington was successful because he had become accustomed to battling with the elements."

State Archives Render Real Service to People

The State Archives Division of the State Library renders a real service to the people of the state as well as to the different state officials. Certified copies of all important records are issued by the department of origin and are filed in the State Archives division. The system has been worked out so completely that these records are instantly available. Reference questions involving the use of the archives for other than strictly official purposes, particularly by historical students, are answered by a staff familiar with the history and development of departmental agencies and methods. This service relieves other state officers and departments from the interruption of their regular work to make research on those questions. The Illinois State Library is headed by Secretary of State William J. Stratton, and Miss Margaret C. Norton is superintendent of the Archives department.

At the annual conference of the Association of American State Geologists, held at Washington, D. C., recently, Dr. M. M. Leighton, chief of the Illinois state geological survey, was re-elected president of the national organization. Other officers chosen for the 1932 term of office are: Dr. George C. Branner, state geologist of Arkansas; Secretary, Dr. Arthur C. Bevan, state geologist of Virginia, member of the executive committee. Dr. Bevan was formerly a member of the department of geology at the University of Illinois.

Wandering From This to That

Get Old Age Relief

Approximately 60,000 indigent aged persons in New York and Massachusetts are now receiving financial relief under the old age relief statutes of those states at the rate of $16,000,000 a year, and during the coming year, with the New Jersey act becoming effective, 12,500 citizens of that state will be granted assistance totaling $3,800,000 annually.

The number of beneficiaries and the cost of relief during the first year of operation of the New York law ended Dec. 31, 1931, exceeded initial estimates.

The principal reason for the excess over the anticipated cost is that directly and indirectly applicants for old age relief have been affected by the economic depression of the past two years. The fact that many persons 70 years of age, who until the depression were able to earn their livelihood, are now unemployed, and the further fact that in many cases responsible relatives on whom they depended are no longer able to provide for them, has greatly increased the number of recipients of relief and the amount disbursed for that purpose.

Inspect Income Taxes

States which have intangible property taxes may inspect the income tax files of the federal government to check up returns filed by their citizens, under an executive order issued March 22 by President Hoover and announced by the bureau of internal revenue on March 30.

For some time state officials have been allowed to use the federal tax returns, and the executive order enlarges the use to which the federal files may be put, it was explained orally. A treasury decision, making appropriate revisions in the regulations, accompanied the executive order.

Immigration Declines

Immigration declined again in February and the total of 1934 aliens admitted was 81 per cent below the average in February for the seven years beginning in 1925, according to a statement March 31 by Harry E. Hull, commissioner general of immigration.

Deportations numbered 1,503 in February, an increase of 19.6 per cent over the total for February, 1931. The statement follows in full text.

Immigration continued to decrease, 1,984 immigrant aliens having been admitted in February, compared with 2,200 for January and 2,042 for December last. European countries with 1,243 supplied nearly two-thirds of the February immigrants. Italy again led the list with 457, about 60 per cent of whom were admitted under the Immigration Act of 1924 as wives and unmarried children of American citizens; Germany contributed 177, Poland 91, and Great Britain 80, the other countries of Europe sending less than 60 each. Immigrants from Canada numbered 349 and from Mexico 104.

Farm Prices Up

The index of the general level of farm prices showed an advance for the first time in five months during the period ended March 15, with the price of meat animals making the most significant advance of any group, the department of agriculture announced March 30.

Cotton continued the upward trend in evidence since the middle of December, according to the announcement, which follows in full text:

For the first time in five months the index of the general level of farm prices advanced over the preceding month. On March 15 the index was 61 per cent of the 1910-1914 level, 1 point above the figure for the corresponding date in February. In the subgroups the index of the farm price of grain was 51 per cent on March 15, the same as for the month previous. Slight advances in wheat, barley and rye prices were offset by a slight decline in the farm price of corn.

The index of the farm price of meat animals made the most significant advance of any group, amounting to 4 points between February 15 and March 15.

More Criminal Research

Hoping that the information eventually will be of great importance to legislators, the bureau of investigation of the department of justice has begun collecting data on the age, sex and criminal record of persons committing crimes in the United States, J. Edgar Hoover, director of the bureau, announces in a memorandum made public March 26.

The bureau set up on Feb. 1 a tabulating unit to record "in so far as possible, the types of persons who are committing crime," Mr. Hoover says.

in his memorandum, and the data collected will supplement statistics which the bureau already has showing the incidence and volume of various types of crimes.

The first study, made during the month of February and embracing 23,000 persons, showed that persons committing murder and other bodily assaults were less frequently persons with criminal records than were those committing robbery, burglary and other offenses aimed at securing property, according to Mr. Hoover's memorandum.

The daily industry will be well represented at the Century of Progress, Chicago's World Fair in '33. Industry, through a dairy exhibit, incorporation, has applied and paid for space in the agricultural group. This space is to take the form of a special building, and the representatives of the dairy industry hope to put on an exhibit costing $250,000 or more. Each different branch of the industry will be shown.

Senator William McCauley of Olney appeared before a recent meeting of the Illinois Road Commission and advocated the building of gravel roads.

His FARM TELEPHONE Pays for Itself... PLUS

A farmer, living a few miles from Moline, Illinois, operates a fruit and vegetable farm, the products of which he markets from house to house in the city. He has found in the past, when he arrived in town with his produce, that he did not have certain items, or did not have them in sufficient quantity. To save time and increase sales he now telephones certain of his regular customers before beginning his route. The result has been a five per cent increase in sales, or, more than six times his monthly telephone bill! A farmer's telephone not only is economical... it's very profitable... and necessary.

JUST SOME OLD MAN

Who is dead?
Did you ever ask that question when you heard the tolling of the church bell?
And if you did, did you receive the answer:
"Oh, it's some old man."
Yes, just some old man.
Even his face is no longer remembered.
His face may or may not have been familiar upon the streets of the town he inhabited.
He was just an old man.
Ah, the irony of fate.
It is not long since the old man you bury today was young, ambitious, and just as handsome as you are.
He, too, then replying, "Oh, some old man."
The same old query and the same old answer.
Generation after generation it is "just some old man."
Some day you too will be "some old man."
Just some old man.
It does not seem possible, does it?
It certainly can't be that you, the handsome, well dressed, perfectly groomed, smart, clever, cunning cock-of-the-walk will be "just some old man." Well, we'll admit that it does not seem probable and that Providence should make an exception in your case.
But the exception would be made.
Nature is as exact as the multiplication table.
And Providence has pretty much gone out of the exception business. So you better make up your mind that some day you will be just some old man.
"Oh, it's so disagreeable."
"Yes, we know but we can't change it."
So when you hear the church bells tolling and you ask, "Who is it?" and the answer comes back "some old man," just say to yourself: "There's my funeral if I live a few years more."
Yes, there it goes.
See how they hurry!
They want to get the old man stored away as quickly as possible, that they may go back to their business and their pleasure.
The casket is lowered. The minister says "Dust to dust."
It's all over and the crowd scrambles home again.
"Whom were they burying today?" you ask, as you see the empty hearse return.
"Oh, some old man."
When you hear that just say to yourself, "Some day I'll be that 'some old man.'" Yes, in spite of all the fuss and all the feathers, you will be just some old man.—Minnesota Mosaic.

DISCOURAGING PRIVATE BUSINESS

It matters not on which side of the political fence one happens to find himself, if he be at all reasonable he must admit that whenever the government, using the taxpayers' funds, enters into competition with its own people it is likely to be discouraging to the development of private enterprise.
There are some public matters which the average citizen should just as easily discern as the problems of "two plus two equals four."
The matter of governmental subsidization of business, in whatever form it shows itself, should be equally intelligible to the average working citizen as it is thoroughly understood and properly evaluated by the thorough student of public affairs.
Governmental operation of the railroads during the war was a most glaring illustration of "inefficiency run wild." The annual postal deficit, running well above the ten-million-dollar mark, would not be countenanced by any private corporation. Everybody's money, like everybody's business, is nobody's.

Entirely too much paternalism has already been allowed to insidiously creep into our administrative structure. And paternalism is a half-sister to socialism and communism. Upward of a half hundred various communities and types of service, from envelope printing to manufactured ice, are being fostered and financed under one guise or another by the federal government.
Let us tell our senators and congressmen in no uncertain terms exactly what we think of this growing tendency of self-seeking sycophants to hide economic inefficiency under the transparent cloak of governmental paternalism.—Republican, Santa Rosa.

GOOD OLD DAYS

The old-time livery stable and corner saloon have given way to the ornate garage and filling station; the movie show has replaced the town hall; we go in an hour now a distance it formerly took a day to travel. One can go from coast to coast in a single day in the air. He can telephone from a ship at sea to any one of the 18, 000,000 telephones in the United States. He can listen on his radio to speakers thousands of miles away. In a short time he'll be able to see them, too. Our homes are heated by scientific and healthful methods. We have our own cooling systems. Oil and gas and electricity have taken the place of coal. We have the news of the world on our doorsteps, morning and evening, thanks to the style of modern newspapering. Our lives are full of events. We go places and see things. Our horizons have broadened. Back-breaking drudgery has been eliminated in every avenue of activity. Household appliances, electrically operated, have come to lessen the work of the housewife. We have more time for play, and the golf links are an adjunct of every village and hamlet as well as the larger cities. We have improved our highways and have made our cities sanitary and attractive.
But, why go on? Truth is the so-called "good old days" are only a figment of the imagination. The days we are living now are the best the world has ever seen up to now.
And "we had it seen nothing yet."—Atlantic Telegraph.

Jazz drummers sometimes are subject to a form of partial paralysis, according to a scientific investigator.
Some unassuming persons would probably be unmoved if the paralysis were complete.

PROSPERITY NEWS

BY H. L. WILLIAMSON III
Secretary, Illinois Press Assn.
Springfield, Illinois

Eight hundred workmen were recalled to the Standard Manufacturing company plant, Louisville, Kentucky, April 1.

Springfield, Ill., showed increases in both employment and payrolls during the period Jan. 15 to Feb. 15.

Officials of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas lines have announced that about 1,000 employees have been re-called for temporary work in repairing and re-conditioning rolling stock.

Beginning April 1, the work in the big shops of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad located at Baltimore and Cumberland, Maryland, will be increased from a four day week to a five day week. Nearly 2,000 shops and mechanical workers will be affected.

The Monessen tin mill of the American Sheet & Tin Plate company, Chazaro, Pa., will resume operations April 4, giving work to 800 men.

The Hydraulic Press Brick company's plant near Spartanburg, Ill., has resumed part-time operation, after having been completely idle for about three months.
About 100 men are employed.

The Blue Valley Creamery company has concluded arrangements with the chamber of commerce at Dardan-elle, Ky., for construction of a plant with a capacity of 2,000,000 pounds of milk annually. The plant will be in operation about May 15.

At Mascoutah, the Forrest City Manufacturing company, a newly located dress factory in that city, has been operating full time for several weeks. To date, 130 girls are employed and more help is needed to take care of the increased demand for the product of the company.

According to the Illinois Chamber of Commerce, one of the gratifying signs of industrial development in the state during 1931 was a payroll increase of $5,247,000.

WASHINGTON
LETTERBy National Editorial Association
(Special to The Review)

TRoubles were piled on the doorstep of the senate when the house delivered the tax bill for consideration and concurrence. It is generally agreed that the senate will be obliged to follow the footsteps of the house in an endeavor to balance the budget.
The high dry light of reason is gradually filtering through political trained minds that the country and the congress are facing grave economic conditions. Whatever the legislators do with the tax measures will not be based on conviction but on circumstance. This trend was observable in the house when many swallowed revenue items ordinarily unpalatable and indigestible to their own ideas.

THE PASSAGE of the revenue bill in the house along non-partisan lines indicated that the same action would be expected of the senate. The senate, proud of the title "the most deliberative body in the world" and when the occasion demands, pass important bills with a speed that dazzles the galleries. The senate finance committee hearings will not be as extensive as the house group. Hope has been expressed that the tax problem will be out of the way before the June presidential campaign season breaks up their debates. The trend in national, state and municipal government costs has been steadily upward, which means additional worries for the taxpayers.

THE CONGRESS has taken advantage of public sentiment in regard to financial houses. With much gusto the senate has undertaken an inquiry into the stock market in an effort to correct or curb questionable practices.
Another probe deals with propaganda attributed to the bankers opposing changes in the federal reserve laws.
The house showed its hand with the imposition of heavy taxes on stock transactions and other speculative matters. Bankers, once feared for their power in local communities, are now on the defensive. The public, never inclined to delve deep into real causes, attribute present economic conditions to the supidity of the banking profession. Hence, the legislators act on a situation to make political capital without fear of bankers getting their scalps at the elections.

THE HOUSE will have another major problem on its hands with the demand in some quarters for the veterans bonus. The president has notified congress that a veto awaits legislation of this sort. There are powerful groups but not the American Legion fighting for these bills involving an expenditure of two billion.
Just how the money will be obtained is not quite clear to the proponents, especially with an agreement to balance the budget. A few enthusiasts have recommended inflation of currency to pay the certificates. This means turning the printing press on without bothering with gold and silver security. It is a proposition similar to the fantastic "green-back" era when paper money flowed from the printing presses.

THE TARIFF is a subject which has languished for a year. It has now been revived with an eye to the forthcoming presidential campaign. The senate has been giving the tariff a perfunctory consideration. The house is scheduled to discuss this matter, particularly items affecting agriculture. The rank and file of congress is content to leave tariff studies with the tariff commission which they have clothed with power to give constant study to the subject. Despite the best efforts of this scientific body the tariff continues to be the "football of politics."

THE FEDERAL TRADE commission, which has been in the limelight more than any other bureau of the government in late years, regarding its jurisdiction over advertising and other functions which it has been claimed it usurped, has recently been faced with the question of finances.
In days of prosperity it was comparatively easy to obtain additional appropriations from congress, but this year, due to the slogan of congress being "balance the budget" the commission's demands went unheeded. Consequently, the commission issued notices to 100 employees that there would be no need for their services beginning April 1, and sent a copy of the notice to congress. The gesture worked and now the commission is assured that the necessary funds will be forthcoming so that these government workers, the great majority of whom are from out of town, will not be forced to return home to seek employment.

SO MUCH MUD has been splattered that political sign-posts are difficult to read. Only a guess may be hazarded as to the time when a way will be found out of the maze that the rejection of the manufacturers sales tax has left with the leaders.
The political angle is not the most disturbing factor, however. Uneasiness as to what the future may mean to business is expected to retard recovery and postpone the upturn in employment. Leaders on both sides lost control of the house when rebel leaders united factions to destroy the tax bill drafted by a bi-partisan committee. Senate and house chieftains are dubious about an adjournment in June. They may take a recess for the nominating conventions and return.

SEVERAL POLITICAL POSTS in connection with the presidential campaign will find few takers. They are unenviable jobs of collecting funds for party expenses. This applies equally to the republicans and democrats.
With the public in temper against the continuance of the depression and suspecting political trickery in every proposal for relief, the men and women who knock on doors begging alms for political wars will waste time and patience. Assignments to fund-raising committees are shunned.

Treasures in Sea's Depths Parts of the sea are paved with gold. Ships and cargoes whose value is really incalculable invite treasure hunting enterprise. Partly as a boast and partly as a threat the German admiralty published a unique chart of the North sea area during the World war. It showed 300 ships on the ocean floor as a result of one year's warfare with U-boats. In the English channel shipwrecks lie almost on top of one another. Practically all this booty is unexploited, notwithstanding that British salvage concerns have recovered about £100,000,000 from wrecks all over the world.

John A. Swanson's Fine Record as State's Attorney
Shown by Statistics

JOHN A. SWANSON

Citing the accomplishments of State's Attorney John A. Swanson, during his first three years in that important office, J. P. Cornelius, president of the Business Men's National League, said that his work gave the organization's reason for supporting Mr. Swanson for reelection and for asking the voters of Cook county to go to the polls in his behalf Tuesday, April 12.

"During the yet uncompleted term of Mr. Swanson, he and his assistants have convicted more persons in Criminal Court cases than did any other Cook county prosecutor in a four year term—a total of 820 convictions in the war against crime," said Mr. Cornelius. "During this period he has obtained indictments against more than half a hundred bankers accused of conspiracy and fraud in the closing of their banks. A number of these bank officials have already gone to prison."

"Incidentally, Mr. Swanson is the only Republican candidate called qualified for State's Attorney by the Committee of the Presidents of the Chicago Bar Association. This urge his nomination."
"Do not be deceived by the rantings of demagogues. Study the record, and we feel sure that you will go to the polls Primary Day and cast your vote for John A. Swanson for State's Attorney."

"SOMETIMES MY BATH IS LATE"

"I don't like to complain, but it happened again this morning. Mother got out my towels and my tub, my alcum powder and everything else. Then something went wrong. When she turned on the hot water, it didn't come out hot at all. It was much too cold for me.
Mother didn't like it a bit—and neither did I. I had to wait 20 minutes for my bath. And that meant my bottle was late, too."

Of course you can't really blame it all on Mother. She has so many things to think about all the time that occasionally she will forget when she uses a lot of hot water doing dishes or washing out clothes. The sensible thing to do is to install an automatic gas water heater. Then there will always be plenty of hot water for everything. Without waiting, without fuss or bother. Just turn the faucet and there it is, piping hot, ready for baths, dishes, cleaning.
This luxury of having all the hot water you want costs only a few cents a day. No more than you spend for many things that mean much less in comfort and convenience.
Your LOCAL PLUMBER or your PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY STORE will be glad to give you all the facts.

off lights at 1:30 a. m.—$30

Total	$ 695.00
Present monthly expenses	$10,31.00
Proposed monthly expenses	585.00
Saving each month	$ 480.00
Plus saving on lights	50.00
Total saving	$ 480.00

A saving each month of $480.00 plus $50 a month saving on water collections, would total monthly saving of $530.00 or $6,360.00 a year. This amounts to a saving of $5,839.00 under the expenses of the last year while there were only five trustees instead of the full board of six trustees.

There can be savings on supplies, repairs, etc. Legal and engineering expenses can also be trimmed.

It is further proposed that instead of hiring one man to work on the streets, that the old system be re-adapted of having this work divided among local village people (taxpayers preferably) who need work. These people can make application to the clerk for work which can then be equitably divided among them as it is available.

A wholesome and efficacious effect might be produced by having it a standing rule that none of the salaries of officials (trustees, mayor, etc.) be paid until all other bills are paid.
