Homuth Elected School Trustee of Township 43

Attacks Pomeroy, Treasurer's Office, Answered in Open Discussion

More than one side of the coming election participated in the political campaign which got under way at the village board meeting Monday night, following a lengthy report read by Trustee Carroll charging D. B. Pomeroy, former trustee, with failure to sign an earlier report or make a counter report. Mr. Pomeroy asked Mr. Carroll several questions and concluded with a statement in his own behalf. Henry Riecke also made a few statements in behalf of the village treasurer who was a target of Mr. Carroll's report.

"How many meetings of the committee of Carroll and Pomeroy were held prior to the time you submitted your report?" Mr. Pomeroy asked.

"I tried to see you at your place of business seven or eight times," Mr. Carroll answered.

"How many actual business meetings were held? Only one meeting as I recall it," Pomeroy added.

"Whose report was the one you submitted in the fall of 1931?" Pomeroy further explained Mr. Pomeroy asked Mr. Carroll who wrote the report. When Mr. Carroll answered that he wrote it, Mr. Pomeroy asked him to repeat the answer. He then asked who checked the report for any ability to the village. Carroll answered that Attorney Hoffman checked it. Mr. Pomeroy asked why he (Pomeroy) was not included in the business of drawing up the report. He stated that he would have been willing to attend any meeting of the committee at any time. He concluded by saying that he did not sign the report because the whole matter had been investigated and the report was drawn up by persons other than himself and that he could not sign someone else's report.

Mr. Riecke directed his talk against criticism based on the village audit by Arnold, Himmelblau and Co. He started by declaring the audit report was neat and easy to understand but was not entirely accurate and in place was misleading. The audit stated in the year from April 30, 1927 to April 30, 1928 the water department showed a deficit of $3,283.55. It was during that year that new pipes were laid at a cost of more than $5,000. This expense was figured in although it was a capital and not a current expense, he said and should not be used in computing the annual running power of a single year. If that were correct, Mr. Riecke said, it would be equally correct to state that there was a $50,000 deficit the year the big water tank was installed. He criticized the report for including no explanation of the deficit.

Mr. Riecke declared the criticism that the records were mixed up and hard to audit was unfounded. He added that the records were badly mixed up by the auditors themselves and were left by the auditors in such a condition.

In asking whether the people could rely on the audit report of Arnold, Himmelblau and Co., Mr. Riecke reminded the trustees and members of the audience that Arnold, Himmelblau and Co. had contracted for the work at a price of $1,000; that the firm after having completed part of the work had written to the board asking approximately $2,700 for completing the job, although under contract at $1,000. He added the auditors had favored paid the firm the full $2,700 and asked if that made it appear that Carroll was sincere in his statement that he was endeavoring to save the taxpayers as much money as possible.

Man Found Dead in Barn in Barrington Township

Strangulation caused by hanging was the verdict of a coroner's jury at an inquest into the death of Lewis F. Calbow, 51 year-old cattle buyer, who was found Tuesday morning in the barn on his country home five miles southwest of Barrington. Mr. Calbow left his house shortly before 6 o'clock Tuesday morning. His son, Lewis, found the body at 9:30 o'clock by his son, Lewis.

Mr. Calbow has suffered from neurotic attacks and had been at one time a patient at the state hospital. The coroner's jury decided the man ended his life during an attack of temporary insanity.

Funeral services were conducted Thursday afternoon by Rev. M. S. Freeman at the funeral chapel, 203 S. Cook street.

Lewis F. Calbow was born June 29, 1880, at Algonquin. He has lived in or near Barrington township most of his life. He is survived by two daughters and one son.

Attended I. O. O. F. Banquet

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Landwehr, 213 W. Lincoln avenue, attended a banquet for the Independent Grocers Alliance Monday evening at the LaSalle hotel in Chicago.

Homuth Elected School Trustee of Township 43

F. W. Homuth, for several years school trustee of Barrington township, was elected school trustee of township 43 (includes Cuba town and territory in McHenry county extending two miles west) at a school election held Saturday. A total of 21 votes were cast.

Mr. Homuth was trustee in Barrington township until he moved into Lake county several years ago. He succeeds John W. Suchy who has been school trustee of No. 43 for the last 15 years.

New York Cold Spot

The coldest spot in the eastern part of this country is thought to be Owl's Head, in Franklin county, New York. Temperatures of 30 to 40 degrees below zero are not unusual there. A few winters ago the hard frosts which inhabit the hamlet averaged 60 below. Verification was impossible, for the mercury in all local thermometers went down and out about 50 below. Owl's Head lies 1,300 feet above sea level on the northern tip of the Adirondack plateau. From this point to Malone the railroad drops 800 feet in less than ten miles. Winds coming direct from the North pole first strike Owl's Head and then Franklin county, which was once described in a speech in the legislature as "the Speria of New York." Owl's Head is its chilliest spot. A native, questioned about the climate, once said: "We have two seasons here, July and winter."—Washington Star.

Earth's Ice Supply

There are about 6,000,000 square miles of ice on the earth's surface. Of this amount 5,000,000 square miles are in the Antarctic.

Uncover "Main Street"
of Ancient Olynthus

Main street, Olynthus, Greece, which has lain in ruins ever since 348 B. C., has been excavated by a Johns Hopkins university expedition, led by Dr. David M. Robinson, professor of archaeology.

An entire city block, with 27 houses, was uncovered by the expedition, and the fine street running north was given the name "Main street."

In the houses we found floors of beautiful pebble mosaics, in red, purple, blue and white," said Dr. Robinson, describing the discoveries. These are the oldest mosaic floors known. Some have famous myths beautifully pictured in the pebbles. One floor shows Belshazzar and his winged horse encountering the mythical beast, the Chimera, which had a lion's head, goat's middle and the tail of a snake.

In his previous expedition of 1928, in which the ruins of Olynthus were first found and identified, Dr. Robinson was unable to locate the cemetery. This time he found two cemeteries.

The houses that have been uncovered date from about 400 B. C. Dr. Robinson concludes, Olynthus was a large city, having a population of some 65,000, judging from its ruins. It was destroyed suddenly and violently by Philip of Macedonia, the father of Alexander the Great, in 348 B. C.

Historic Mount Vernon
Noted for Hospitality

In a day when every true son of the Old Dominion prides himself on being a genial guest and a generous host, General Washington of Mount Vernon was famed for his hospitality, not only in Virginia but throughout the length and breadth of the Atlantic seaboard.

Morris from Philadelphia and New York met Adams from Boston, Carroll from Carrollton and Byrd and Carter from the James at his table, and often a visiting Frenchman or two.

Humble visitors, too, were at days assured a welcome at Mount Vernon. The rule was that none was allowed to go away hungry.

Washington himself once described his home as "a well resorted tavern," and in a letter from Mount Vernon after his second term as President he wrote: "Mrs. Washington and myself will do what I believe has not been done within the last 20 years by us—that is, sit down to dinner by ourselves."

Check Your Fence Lines
Now—

It pays to check your fence lines regularly, replace broken or rotting wood posts promptly. It can be done quicker and easier before stock breaks down the fence, than afterward. Just drive in a Red Top alongside each broken or rotting wood post and fasten the fencing to it. Following this practice at odd times during the year, you will quickly put your fence lines in sound condition, and in a few years you will have permanent, economical All-Steel Fences.

In the meantime, you will want to be ready for emergency fence repairs. Keep a supply of Red Top posts on the farm. Your fence lines are always developing weak spots which often lead to losses of crops and stock unless immediately repaired. When stock breaks through a fence, there is no time to waste in going to town for posts. By keeping a few bundles of Red Tops handy, you can repair the fence easily and quickly, and make it stronger than it has ever been.

Come in and let us show you why Red Tops are the biggest value your fence post dollar will buy.

After carefully considering the qualifications of the various candidates, the Taxpayers' Better Government League recommends for the contested offices Herman Kuhlman, John J. Carroll, and William H. Thorp. These candidates are all taxpayers home-owners of unquestioned honesty and ability, and are vitally interested in bettering our local government.

HERMAN KUHLMAN, a life long resident of this community, is well acquainted with our local problems. He is recommended as an honest, practical, progressive and clear thinking candidate, well qualified to serve as Village Trustee.

JOHN J. CARROLL has been a resident of Barrington for 32 years. His splendid constructive record during his past two years of service on the board and his intimate knowledge of the special assessment situation demands his reelection.

WILLIAM H. THORP has lived in Barrington for 40 years, and, having retired, is now able to give freely of his time and mature judgment in handling the intricate problems of local government.

J. Carroll Reads Audit Report at Meeting of 250

that the time was again ripe to reopen the question of the financial situation of the village.

The first report of the committee went so far as it could in investigating the situation without a complete and accurate auditor's report. Although the committee had full power under the resolution setting up the committee to employ auditors, yet this member of the committee felt that an up-to-date report should be authorized by the village board so that no one could say that the committee was incurring a large auditor's expense against the village on what might prove to be "barking up the wrong tree," because the most that this committee member had heard were rumors, the truth of which could only be verified by an accurate auditor's report. After much discussion, the board authorized a report, which has finally been rendered by the accountants, Messrs. Arnold, Hinnebaugh & Co., certified public accountants. This report has been rendered in two sections, the first dated March 28, 1932, on the special assessment funds, and the second dated March 31, 1932, on the general funds of the village.

These two reports disclose a very serious situation and one that no village official can disregard. Like most auditors' reports, they are extremely complicated. The committee therefore wishes to point out to the board a few of the salient features in these reports, together with its recommendations thereon, and, for convenience, these items will be numbered consecutively.

Commingle of Funds.

1. The report discloses that the village treasurer: "merged all of the cash in his custody, including school district funds as well as his undrawn commissions, in his bank accounts." The committee feels that this is extremely unfortunate and that the treasurer should be immediately instructed to segregate all funds in his hands under their proper heads, and furthermore, that none of his personal funds should be commingled with the taxpayers' moneys.

Interest on Village Funds

2. The auditors' report further discloses: "That the interest credited by the banks on village funds on deposit has not been accounted for in the records of either the special or general funds of the village."

In other words, the village has not been receiving proper credit for interest earned on its own funds in the bank.

Inadequacy of Village Records

3. The auditors' report also sets forth the "difficulties in ascertaining the special assessment taxes had interest receivable because of the inadequacy of the village records."

Special Assessment Funds Loss

4. The auditors' report also discloses: "Numerous errors and omissions which resulted in a net loss to the village special assessment funds of $2,410.70, as detailed in Exhibit 'D' and 'D-1'."

This net loss is the difference between a "Loss to Village" of $2,384.75 and a "Loss to Taxpayers" of $247.00. The largest item making up this amount is for "tax payment entered on tax roll record but not included in cash receipts."

The committee recommends that the village treasurer immediately account for this amount.

Hay's Breakdown of "Settlement"

5. The auditors' report also takes up the "settlement" made with Roger H. Hay, formerly employed by the board of local improvements, which settlement was made in May, 1931. The board may remember that various criminal prosecutions were begun against Mr. Hay, but they were delayed and delayed month after month in the hope that somehow or other Mr. Hay would reimburse the village, or those who held over-issued bonds. Finally, under date of May 10, 1931, an "agreement" was entered by Mr. Hay—signed by Mr. Hay only—whereby he agreed to pay $9,472.41, as shown in the auditors' report. This amount has been increased by the new auditors' report to $9,856.27, or an additional $383.86. It has now turned out that Mr. Hay apparently is financially unable to carry out his agreement.

With the inability of Mr. Hay to pay for the over-issued bonds, the board is now again confronted with the same question as it was in September, 1930: "Is anyone else of the village officials legally responsible in a civil suit to the holders of over-issued bonds or to the village taxpayers?"

The board of trustees is once again faced with the question of whether it will place the financial responsibility for the over-issued bonds (and also for other items discussed in the auditors' reports) on such other of the village officials who may be liable for the part that they played at the time Mr. Hay was employed by the board for local improvements, now that Mr. Hay apparently has no financial ability to wipe out this liability to the bondholders.

Additional Legal Fees Paid From Special Assessment Funds

6. The auditors' report further shows in Exhibit "E," which contains details as to the legal fees paid in connection with the various special assessment funds, that:

"The fees reported as paid to Hagganjos and Hay include those paid to R. H. Hay in the total amount of $3,320.41, which were in addition to the legal fees properly charged against the funds."

For a long time there were rumors that this extra payment had been made, and while the committee felt that there was truth in the rumors, yet it is not until this auditors' report that the rumors have been definitely verified.

Interest on Vouchers

7. The auditors' report further discloses that the treasurer paid interest on certain vouchers, but did not give a corresponding credit to the village fund when funds came in to pay the vouchers. In other words, if the village had no cash balance in a particular special assessment fund and it had a bill payable represented by a voucher, the treasurer would advance the money from apparently village funds to pay the voucher and accrued interest thereon. Then, when the particular fund had money come in, it was charged not only for the voucher and accrued interest, but also for additional accrued interest; but, when the treasurer reimbursed the village funds, he did not credit it with this additional accrued interest.

The committee recommends that the treasurer be made to account immediately for these items.

New Financial Records

8. The committee is heartily in accord with the recommendation of the auditors that a complete new and understandable system be installed for keeping the financial records of the village so that the treasurer can from these records prepare and submit to the village board each month a report that is understandable.

Rebate Due to Taxpayers on Main St. and Dundee Ave.

9. The auditors' report further shows that in special assessments No. 4 and 7, being for paving on Main street and Dundee avenue, there is a surplus of $2,771.20 as of April 30, 1931, all in addition to delinquent taxes of $1,471.64.

Inasmuch as the principal and interest on all outstanding bonds on these special assessments are paid, the committee recommends that the taxpayers on those streets be rebated immediately by the village treasurer their pro-rata share of the $2,771.26.

One cause of high taxes is the fact that there are so many different local governments, each levying its own separate tax, all on the same taxpayer. If the individual taxpayer is to get any substantial relief, each local government must cooperate to lower its spending, which will enable it to lower its tax levy. For these reasons, this committee member suggests that a conference be called immediately by the village board, at which the boards of the other local taxing bodies be invited to attend.

Conclusion

To sum up the situation briefly from a standpoint of figures, the auditors' reports show the following apparent items that should be paid or accounted for to the village and which the taxpayers will lose unless the board takes immediate action:

Loss to Village (on "Errors and Omissions")	$2,384.75
Loss to Taxpayers (on "Errors and Omissions")	237.90
Increase on Hay Liability	382.80
Extra Legal Fees Paid to Hay	3,320.41
Excess Interest on Vouchers	208.80
Total	$6,540.87

Interest on Village Funds on Deposit in Banks (Estimated for a Period of Years) 3,500.00

Total $10,040.87

It is to be noted that these items are in addition to the items arising out of the over-issued bonds which already total at least $14,319.02, making a total amount involved of over $24,000.00.

The committee also again calls the attention of the board to its original Report No. 1 and Supplemental Report No. 1 and the recommendations and observations made therein, which the last year and one-half, to the gratification of this member of the committee, have proved to be true in practically every instance.

Use for Water Clock

Used by the Babylonians several centuries before Christ, the water clock has become essential in the manufacture of paint. It is declared the simplest means of testing ever invented. The old water clock was a cone with a tiny hole in the bottom, which, when inserted in a jar of water, was known to fill to a certain level within an hour. In its new field, the cone is inserted in varying grades of paints, the viscosities of which are measured by the length of time it takes each sample to fill the cone to a certain level.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

To the Voters of Barrington:

I am your community candidate for Village Trustee.

I will appreciate it if you will give me a vote of confidence so that I can help to untangle our bond and sewer muddle, that some of the former trustees led us into.

Public confidence must be restored. Our tax rate can only be reduced by economizing in the affairs of our village, and conserving the interests of the property owners. Public honesty, common sense, and decency must be our watchwords.

If you believe this, then go to the polls next Tuesday, April 19, between the hours of 6 a. m. and 5 p. m., and put a cross in the square before my name, and ignore all party circles.

If you visit the of French pictures at a house, London, you will see portions of the picture in the second time in five centuries.

For years it was not known had happened to three pieces. One was in the Paris, but where were it. Eventually it was found second was in Amsterdam in Brussels, and the fourth was in a collection in this country. The four pictures were placed together, and they placed together again.

The first occasion since painted it when the picture was a whole was two years ago at an exhibition in London. Other great pictures cut up in the same way nearly every one of the century have eventually come into hands and have been placed together again.

Exercise of the Veto Traced to Roman

The use of the veto by executive of a state has which has been traced back as the old Roman state tribunes, by using the "interdict," which means "I forbid," the legislative assembly.

As far back as 1642 the veto was recognized in Poland by any member of the assembly being able to block legislation by proclaiming the "liberum veto" in substance "I do not assent."

The king of England had a veto, but it is a power of recourse has not been generations, the last record being in 1707.

Wonderful Cheddar

The caves of Cheddar, England are beautiful. Beneath the rugged slopes, in a vast network of narrow passages, may be seen stalactites and stalagmites, dross crystal and color; pools, crystal clear and calm of dazzling whiteness, folds of coral-pink; there in the ice-cold lighted by electric light, the caves through the is a remarkable experience. The bottom of the steep road the white village of Cheddar, the stream comes bubbling very heart of Mendips.

Here, too, there are some caves. The story goes that were once inhabited who was turned into an ancient clerk of Gloustershire.

Place of Tragic Memory

The Black Hole of Calcutta is a cell in the old Fort of Calcutta, formerly a guard room. On the night of June 1, 1782, when the British were in Calcutta, the British nabob of Bengal, who was with the British authorities, 140 employees of the British company into this cell, feet long by 14 feet 10 inches. It had but two small windows with iron bars and by a veranda. The heat of air killed 123 of the prisoners.

The site of this cell is now a monument to the event is commemorated by a black marble monument.

Temple Built to Honor Great Egyptian Goddess

The temple at Denderah is one of the most famous temples in all Egypt. According to the historical facts which the scientists have been able to dig out of the hieroglyphic records, it was restored by Pharaoh Ptolemy I, who lived four thousand years ago in the sixth dynasty.

There is a high wall round the temple, with a majestic gateway and to walk through this gateway is to be awed by the majesty of the columns of the entrance hall. The capitals of these columns are carved in the image of Hathor, the goddess to whom the temple is dedicated. She is represented as a woman with the ears of a heifer and with hair flowing down both sides of her head.

A center aisle leads through the Hall of Columns to the shrine proper. On each side of this aisle are chambers which are identified by hieroglyphic inscriptions denoting their particular uses. Also there is a gallery encircling the shrine and from this still other chambers open.

On the roof of the temple is a shrine to Osiris and here there are hieroglyphs describing the ritual of the Osiris cult.

Flower Growing a Gamble

Southern France and Italy and Spain to a lesser extent have succeeded certain oriental and Balkan regions as the center of production of flowers and their essences. It is a quite lucrative trade from them. It is an important business since growing regions for choice products are small, crop failures not unusual with so delicate a product, cause abrupt and violent fluctuations. For the same reason speculation in these commodities is gambling for a most precarious sort.

Umbrella Nothing New

Joseph Hunkay was the man who brought umbrellas into common use in England. The British museum has a carving showing an Assyrian king leading troops into battle while carrying an umbrella. Date, 700 B. C.

Indian Relics Gathered

From New Jersey Caves

Scientists carefully going over the ground at Mendota Rock and several other places have recovered some very interesting relics of the Indian occupation of that part of the state of New Jersey. These articles are on exhibition at the state capital and include celts (blade-like instruments), arrowheads of Jasper and chert (a whitish quartz), and a flint spearhead, several knife blades, hammerstones, flint, shells (a species of mussel), beads and a thumb scraper of red flint used by Indians to smooth bone and soft stone implements.

At Boven there are two caves, one to the left and right of the rock roof projection, which is about 20 feet long. The cave to the right is low and damp, the one to the left is dry, habitable and 7 feet high. While material had been taken from this shelter during previous excavations many years ago, further diggings uncovered a variety of the flint, obsidian, chert and rhyolite, together with a flint spearhead, several knife blades, hammerstones, flint, shells (a species of mussel), beads and a thumb scraper of red flint used by Indians to smooth bone and soft stone implements.

Ireland's Big Wind

The big wind of Ireland refers to a storm which raged for two days and nights along the coasts of England and Ireland. It was the most violent storm which had ever been recorded in Ireland within the memory of man.

Planoid's Value

The planoid Eros, only 20 miles in diameter, is of great value in determining accurately the distance of the sun from the sun and stars.

Rock Thrown at Pohlman Window Misses Plate Glass

A carload of vandals sped through Barrington at 3 a. m. Thursday morning, according to a report given by Ernest Wessel, night policeman. The night officer saw the car speed west along main street and as it approached the Pohlman Pharmacy building, a small rock was hurled towards the show window. The rock struck the frame eight inches below the glass and caused no damage.

Mr. Wessel said he did not follow the car as he felt it would not be a good policy to leave the downtown section to one man. The officer was inclined to believe the rock was tossed by someone in a party of hoodlums rather than by a professional intent upon drawing the night watchman away from the business district.

Misleading Dodger Is Circulated in Barrington

A circular was passed out on the streets of Barrington Monday which carried an endorsement of Emmett Riley for Cuba township committee. A line across the top of the circular credited The Barrington Review with the endorsement.

This was published in The Review, but it was published as paid advertising in an advertising column and as such did not necessarily express the opinion of The Review. The circular or dodger was not printed in The Review office and the editor had no knowledge of this circular until after it was distributed on the streets.

Although the editor does not believe Mr. Riley meant to mislead the public into thinking the reader article was other than paid matter, he wants the public to know that IT WAS advertising matter and not editorial opinion.

Crafts of England

Of all the souvenirs which tourists love to bring back with them, objects of national or local craftsmanship hold a first place. In England many old crafts still survive in the country places, but they must be searched out. Famous old Buckingham lace can be obtained near Beaconsfield from hobbins aged old, real old turned wooden bowls in cherry, yew or elm from Ches.

From Walsden in Essex and at Newport in the same county, the Distaff Cottage industry, old furniture and at Widdington, rush matting the earliest form of carpet, made from the sweet-scented rushes of that green and beautiful land.

Mysterious Magnetic Rocks

Magnetic bowlders may have played a part in a shipwreck when the American liner Western World went aground off Ponta do Bol, on the Brazilian coast. According to shipping men the rocks exert a powerful magnetic attraction similar to that of the loadstone. Although the force of attraction is not nearly enough to draw a ship upon the dangerous shoal, it is known some times to throw compasses of passing ships as much as ten points out of true. Thus a liner may lose its bearings and be swept on the rocks by an inshore current.

No Profitable Market for American Seaweed

America's interest in its own seaweed resources dates back to pre-Columbian times, when Indians used it as fish bait and for basket weaving. In 1902 a scientific discovery that seaweed on the Pacific coast contained iodine, important for fertilizing element. But he could interest no one in the discovery for a decade.

As in the case of many other raw products, a World war was necessary to make its importance known. German iodine supplies were cut off. The farms called for a source. A company manufacturing explosives also needed a substance from seaweed and an irrigator for its products, and built a $2,000,000 plant in California.

Groups of men first attacked the vast seaweed "plantations" with sickles, but it was not long before steam and gasoline-propelled mowers equipped with mechanical harvesting machinery dotted the Pacific seaweed fields. A dozen or more plants were established.

When the armistice was signed, the companies disbanded almost as quickly as they were established. Today one remains. The others succumbed to cheaper German iodine or imported seaweed products. National Geographic Bulletin.

Even Primitive Peoples Had Reckoning Systems

There have been systems of reckoning time found among the records left by the most primitive peoples. Well regulated systems existed in the Egyptian, Babylonian, Syrian and many other early nations. The Roman and Greek calendars were taken from the Egyptian, Babylonian, Phoenician. The Julian calendar was derived from these and from the ancient Roman calendar and was proclaimed about B. C. 46. Pope Gregory in 1582 A. D. authorized the revision of the Julian calendar, which was adopted by the Roman Catholic countries, but not by Great Britain or America until 1752. By this time there was a variance between the calendars of these nations and those adopting the Gregorian calendar at the earlier date, necessitating an adjustment of 11 days. The Gregorian calendar has now been adopted by practically all the Christian nations and for business purposes by such nations as Japan and China.

From Popular Opera

Sir Arthur Sullivan wrote the music to "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here." It was taken from the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "The Pirates of Penzance." The melody used occurs in act 2, song 12—Samuel and chorus of pirates—beginning, "Come, friends, who plow the sea," etc. This melody is exactly as it was written in the operetta, but begins in the middle of the chorus. Theodore Morse made a slight change in the notes at the end of the present arrangement.

Ideal of Truth-Telling "Hardest Thing in Life"

On the moral side an inextinguishable habit of truth implies most of the virtues. Courage, for example, without courage, for example, truth, and without truth there can be no other virtue. It was one of Sir Walter Scott's frequent ethical judgments.

It is also a social grace. There is no greater bore than the man who, from some mental twist or defect, is habitually dishonest in his statements of fact. John Buchan, writing in the London Graphic, ascertains. I do not refer to the pleasant habit of making things a little more dramatic and amusing than they actually are, or giving a story "a cocked hat and a horse"; or the exaggerations and understatements which have a humorous purpose. I mean the incurable, half-unconscious inexactness which afflicts some people who have no intent to deceive.

But when we pass from the obvious duties of not telling cowardly or cruel lies and of aiming at the rough-and-ready fidelity to fact which ordinary life demands, we find the ideal of truth-telling a difficult one—the most difficult thing in life. A right conception of what truth means does not come early in education; it is its ultimate goal and a goal not often reached.

A right conception of what truth means does not come early in education; it is its ultimate goal and a goal not often reached.

Top Cylinder and Valve Oil

Ask us about our Top Cylinder and Valve Oil—a Spring, Summer, Fall, and Winter tonic for your motor. Remember that valves in the modern motor open and close more than 1,000 times a minute—80,000 times every hour you drive. They must have proper lubrication or their action will be sluggish causing loss of power, and eventually trouble.

Real Purpose Served by Cultivating Hobby

If more people had real hobbies there would be fewer cases of nervous breakdown, according to Dr. H. F. Klander, writing in Hygieia, the Health Magazine. Hobbies keep children out of mischief and they relieve the monotony of routine life for adults. It is well to be able to lose oneself for an hour, an evening, or even for a day in something that is not related to the daily tasks, this author related.

A desirable hobby should furnish enjoyment, pleasure and gratification; it should require a minimum of equipment and expense, in Doctor Klander's opinion. Many hobbies may be distinctly educational, literature, music and astronomy are examples of that type. Physical as well as mental health may be improved by a hobby; sports are of distinct value.

Many hobbies are started accidentally without forethought, it is well, however, suggests Doctor Klander, that parents and educators should plan indirectly to guide children in certain desirable interests in order that their leisure time may be wisely spent.

Recreation has become a necessity, writes Doctor Klander. The trends of the times indicate that the schools must include more training in the use of leisure time not only for the years that the student is in school but also for the time when he is an adult.

Old Hand-Woven Linen of Marvelous Fineness

Twelve dozen of everything—that was the quantity which the proper continental bride of a century ago received in her trousseau. It sounds lavish, but it was actually common sense, because our great-grandparents had a grand laundering only once every three months!

A relic of those brave days appears on special occasions now, in a smart New York home. The linen damask cloth was woven by hand in the days when George Washington was more than a memory, and hand woven so finely that linen experts of today marvel at it. Narrow looms compelled the weavers to make their cloth in two strips, which are sewn together down the middle of the table.

An interesting feature of this setting is that the ancient damask creates a background of harmony for the latest silver, whose design identically matches the china.

Coffee in 1634

As to the precise date when coffee was introduced into England, authorities differ, and very little of real value on the subject can be found, wrote Edward R. Emerson in "Beverages, Past and Present." Sir Henry Blount visited Turkey in 1634 and in one of his letters says: "The Turks have a drink called 'cauphe', made of a berry as big as a sunflower seed, dried in a furnace and beat to a powder of a sooty color, in taste a little bitterish, that they seethe and drink, hot as may be endured. It is good at all hours of the day, but especially at morning and evening, when to that purpose they entertain themselves two or three hours in 'cauphe-houses', which, in Turkey, abound more than inns and alehouses with us."

Corn's Many Products

Not much more than half of the great corn crop of the country finds its way to the dining table. The remainder goes to the refineries to be made up into a large variety of materials. These include the "sparklers" which do Fourth of July duty, explosives, face cream, soap, artificial rubber and silk, varnish, tanning extracts, radio batteries, textiles, paper, carpet, mullage, salad dressing, strap, cooking oil, vinegar and milk acids. Some considerable success has attended the manufacture of paper from the stalks, and it is probable that at no distant day a profitable use will be found for the piles of corn stalks which accumulate each year on the farms of this country.

Alleges That Insects Are Menace to World

Insects are conquering in a mass attack on humanity. This is the view of A. Moore Hogarth, chairman of the College of Pestology, London, England, who has made a life study of insects.

"Insects are establishing such a stronghold that one day man will wake up to find that he has met his master," Mr. Hogarth said. "The trouble is that men in their ignorance take no well-organized steps to fight the insect menace, and they don't realize that insects have brains. Before the war mosquitoes were unknown in England. Today every fourth or fifth person has been bitten by one."

"I am not a scaremonger. That eminent scientist, Sir Oliver Lodge, for example, has said that the end of the world will not be caused by such a calamity as an earthquake or flood, but by the ascendancy of the insect world over man."

"Some simple-minded local authorities imagine that they are destroying mosquitoes when they solemnly spray ponds with paraffin. In their ignorance they have alone large tracts of ground where mosquitoes breed in shoals. As for cockroaches there are cases where you could not get them out of a building without pulling it down."

"Why are insects defeating man? Because all of their brains are devoted to the main thing of life, to satisfying hunger and the welfare of the species, while man's brain is dissipated in various other interests."

Million "Plunks" Makes One's Serenity Secure

A million dollars spread over seventy years of a man's life accomplishes one great good at least. It spares him from an immense amount of anxiety. It is ammunition in his arsenal against care. Serenity, some philosophers think, is the greatest good. They have secured it, but at the sacrifice of everything else. They have usually been lonely and imperious hermits.

One cannot imagine much serenity or even personal comfort without money. Now, take a million dollars, and if you don't court trouble by trying to increase it, it drives away most mental distress and brightens every hour of the day. We do not adore wealth, but we understand its importance. It is worth while not to be bothered by the vicissitudes of life, and most of them can be eluded with a million dollars.

There are more "Hallelujahs" and fewer "Oh, hades!" with it. One may be freer and less circumspect in the expression of opinion; and certainly there isn't any excuse for a repentant attitude toward the mighty. With a million, you are somewhat mighty yourself. —St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Fabulous Birds of Old

Mostly portents of good luck, birds of fantasy and fable, bringing joy to those they favor. More ferocious is the griffin, with its bird head and lion body. This weird animal with its dual personality was reputed to punish greed by leaping on despoilers of the earth's riches and tearing the offenders to pieces. In Asia, the griffin prowled and hovered over deposits of gold and precious stones, guarding them from adventuring caravans trekking the wilds to fill capacious saddle-bags with riches.

Mankind Really Knows Little About the Seas

An outward spinning whirlpool is an oddity added to the long list of unexplained mysteries of the sea, says a bulletin of the National Geographic society. It is half in jest and half in awe that old tars refer to the bounding main as "that old devil sea." In olden days the sea was believed to be peopled with strange monsters which devoured both ships and men. Even today, with all the safeguards and comforts of modern travel, a ship voyage is not without its hazards. Mother Ocean constantly plays new and unexpected tricks because man's knowledge of the sea, for all his centuries of study and experience, is extremely meager.

Explorers and geographers who have been sighing for new lands to conquer may find their best field, paradoxically, in the sea. When it is realized that nearly three-quarters of the surface of the globe consists of water, it is rather remarkable how little we know of the vast surface of the solid sphere which lies under this screen of liquid.

The most impressive thing about the sea is its shallowness as compared with the size of the earth, and its depth as compared with the height of the land. If one were to take a globe six feet in diameter and excavate the deepest trench of the ocean thereon, it would be a bare pinprick deep—about one-twentieth of an inch.

Royal Soup Calls for Variety of Ingredients

The recipe for the famous "ollo" soup made for the Austrian court "since the time of Empress Maria Theresa's father," has been printed in Budapest. It is said to have originated in Spain, and the secret was revealed by a pensioned court chef. The stock consisted of veal or ham, mutton, venison and other game roasted in butter and then boiled. Calves' feet and ox feet, turned into jelly, were added, together with white cabbages stewed with smoked and fresh pork, maize seed, chestnuts, lentils, pearl barley and carrots roasted with sugar.

The combination was laid on ice for four hours, so as to remove every trace of grease. Next a bouillon was prepared of beef and veal bones, mushrooms and other vegetables, making a liquid to be cleared by the addition of hashed beef, ox liver and white of eggs. The boiling bouillon was strengthened by cooked fowls, ducks, turkey, pigeons, pheasants, goose and wild duck. It took five days and two nights to complete the process.

The last thing done was to drain the concoction through muslin bags. When porcelain jugs were filled, the guests were served in small china cups.—New York Times.

City of Immortals
The city of the Medici, Dante, Boccaccio, Savonarola, Raphael and scores of others mighty in the Renaissance must never be passed by. No matter what your interest in life, Florence has something for you. When Bayard Taylor was there he said it was the cheapest and most charming city in Europe. He breakfasted for five cents, dined for twelve cents and saw the opera every night for ten cents in a good seat. It is yet a good city to live in, if you want to live well and at small cost. Here you can wander over the Ponte Vecchio, track some of the work of Michelangelo, meet George Eliot's Roma, walk in the very homes of Duse, Galileo, Mrs. Browning, Amerigo Vesputi, and near the Arno, see where Shelley wrote his most famous ode.—Exchange.

STATE CAPITOL NEWS

Work of Dr. H. F. Klander, the botanical staff of the Illinois natural history survey has discovered a surprising fact—that the great collections of the state, which work almost entirely of many 100,000 specimens of plants and animals, are no longer found in the old building. The old building, which was the site of the state capitol, is now a ruin. The old building, which was the site of the state capitol, is now a ruin. The old building, which was the site of the state capitol, is now a ruin.

State and local leaders in a very organization took part in a convention at Quincy on April 10, which was the first of the new building. The old building, which was the site of the state capitol, is now a ruin. The old building, which was the site of the state capitol, is now a ruin. The old building, which was the site of the state capitol, is now a ruin.

Parent Teacher associations in Illinois are turning their thoughts to the choice of delegates who will represent the state at the annual convention of the Illinois Association of Parent Teachers in Rockford, April 21 and 22. The convention theme is "Education for the Future." The convention theme is "Education for the Future." The convention theme is "Education for the Future."

According to the state and departments of agriculture, the corn acreage will be decreased by two or three percent and oat acreage by about 4 percent if farmers do not plant plans of the state. The indications are that there will be a slight decrease in the acreage of Illinois field crop. This decrease is due to shift to acreage for pasture.

The growing of trees and for transplanting has become the important institutional action in Illinois. Inmates of state's penal and charitable institutions are engaged in the work. In last year, 57,240 trees, shrubs and plants were planted. The work provided 1,000 for state highway beautification.

Attorney General Oscar E. Strom has ruled that the entering of a mine should be by a qualified examiner before the men go down to do repair. It is not sufficient to have the examined only at those places where the men are to work, according to Carlstrom.

According to the United States report at Springfield, injury to wheat crop during the recent spell was confined to the top of plants will resume growth. The indications are that the apple suffered 50 percent damages as a result of the cold weather.

How to play Bridge AUCTION and CONTRACT

by Wynne Ferguson

Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

Always go game if hearts or spades are trumped and there is a five-card major suit in either hand. On the other hand, if there are hearts or spades that will score in hearts or spades that are not trump, hands in no trump.

For these rather evident reasons, the writer advocates free take-outs of partner's no trump with major suit bids. From then on it is up to the original no trump bidder to use his judgment as to whether he should try for game at the major suit or go on with his no trump.

An English writer who doesn't believe in the American Informal style, says that one way to settle the question of a take-out of partner's no trump, is to adopt the following convention: "When I take-out in (from weakness, say, I bid two hearts), when from strength, say, I make it two hearts." This is, of course, the English idea of humor and a more or less severe criticism of the Informal style. In England they don't entirely believe in the double, nor do they consider it a fair convention. Needless to say, we will continue to believe in the Informal style and not adopt the English suggestion as to the take-out.
