The important committee on committees of the Lake county board met Thursday at Waukegan, and although no announcement has been made of the standing committees for the year, it is understood these have been appointed and will be announced at the first regular meeting of the board next week.

Two supervisors from the Barrington district were on the committee on committees including H. D. Kelsey of Barrington and Emil Ficke of Lake Zurich. Other members of the committee were Thomas Murphy of North Chicago, Dave Van Tatter of New Port, Bert Thompson of Zion, Ira Holdridge of Waukegan, and Harry Stratton of Lake Villa.

Several important items were taken up at the opening sessions of the board held Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Frank Stanton was elected chairman of the county board to succeed William Owe, chairman during the last year. Mr. Owe was not a candidate to continue as chairman.

The board voted to make a reduction of 10 per cent in salaries of all county officials except those whose salaries are fixed by statute such as clerk, etc. A reduction of from 2 to 10 per cent in the pay of county employees was also voted. Those employees who draw larger salaries will get the bigger reductions.

Sanitary Sewer Compromise Plan Reported Ready

No Agreement Has Been Reached but "Mutual Benefit" Plan Considered

A Lake county newspaper which published an article Saturday stating that a compromise agreement had been virtually reached by Barrington village trustees and representatives of the Barrington Hills Country Club and others interested in the sanitary sewer case, was a little bit ahead of the actual facts, members of the board informed The Review.

The article stated in part: "A new compromise plan offered by the Barrington Hills Country Club may lead to solution of the village sewage disposal problem, it was reported today. The village has dropped its appeal to the Supreme court in the sewerage and sanitation case today that an agreement satisfactory to all interests will be evolved yet this year."

In the meantime, sentiment in favor of establishing a sanitary district to serve Barrington and the neighboring communities is reported to be gaining strength.

Cub Pack Will Have Campfire Initiation

The younger fellows will learn how they do things in Scout troops Saturday evening when they congregate around the campfire which will be blazing away at the Barrington baseball park.

Saturday afternoon will be Pack Day. Cub pack 102, the organization of boys of pre-scout age sponsored by the American Legion, will meet at the ball park at 7:30 p. m. under the direction of O. J. Baird, scoutmaster for the club. Initiation and stunts will be on the program, all of them carried on around the fire in true Indian or woodsman style.

150 Pupils to Take Part in Junior High Operetta

On Friday evening, April 29, the Junior High school under the direction of Miss Esther Strauss, will present "The Inspiration," a novelty operetta featuring the Harmonica Band. In addition to the Harmonica Band Misses Margaret Kaylor and Shirley Lyons will be presented in dance numbers. More than 150 students will take part. The operetta will be presented in the high school auditorium.

Operated for Appendicitis

Miss Della Klopfenstein of Barrington township was taken to the Frances Willard hospital late Tuesday afternoon suffering from an acute attack of appendicitis and underwent an operation Wednesday morning. A late report gives her condition as satisfactory.

Sole Survivor of Massacre to Speak at Salem Church

Mrs. Tylee on Furlough From South America Will Be
Here May 1

Mrs. Ethel C. Tylee, missionary on furlough from South America, will speak at the Salem Evangelical church next Sunday. Mrs. Tylee, her husband, and party were for several years the only missionaries among the Indians of central Brazil, having been sent out by the Inland South American Missionary union.

In the spring of 1931 the three other members of the party became martyrs for the cause. Mrs. Tylee alone remaining to tell the story. Since her return home, Mrs. Tylee has been spending her time at missionary conventions in this country telling of the work there and of the need. She will be one of the principal speakers at the missionary convention of the Moody Memorial church of Chicago May 4 to 8.

Mrs. Tylee will speak at two services, one for the young people at 6:30 o'clock and the regular evening service at 7:30 o'clock.

Barrington Team Wins First Place in Junior Typing

Averages 39.01 Words Per Minute in District Contest
at Dundee

The junior typing team, Class A, of the Barrington high school, won first place in the Illinois district commercial contest at Dundee Saturday with a typing average of 39.01 words per minute for 15 minutes. Nine Barrington pupils attended this contest, and those who were on the junior typing team were: Gwendolyn Wolff, Etta Mae Hutchinson, and Mildred Biechele. Second place in this contest went to the team from Arlington Heights high school, which established an average of 26.38 words a minute.

In the junior shorthand team event, Arlington Heights placed first with an average of 92.3, Dundee second with 91.18, Barrington third with 90.5, Warren fourth with 89.8, and Grant fifth with 87.8. The juniors from Barrington were Harold Anderson, Loreta Miller, and Gwendolyn Wolff. Gwendolyn Wolff placed fourth as an individual with a score of 94.5. She tied with a Warren entry for third place but the time element gave her fourth place.

In advanced typing, Class A, Barrington placed first, Barrington second with 52.76, Dundee third with 51.75, and Huntley fourth with 42.78. The members of the team were Louise Kueck, Naomi Tate, and Florence Thies.

There was very close competition in the advanced shorthand events. Barrington took fifth out of six places in the 90 and 100 word events, with only a difference of two points between first and fifth places in the 90 word event and four points in the 100 word event.

The following schools entered contestants: Arlington Heights, Barrington, Batavia, Dundee, Elia, Grant, Huntley, and Warren. Winners of the first and second places are now entitled to compete in the sectional meet at East Aurora on May 7. Winners there may enter the state contest, which will be held at Champaign this year.

Gwendolyn Wolff placed first as an individual in class A typing event with a score of 42.24. Etta Mae Hutchinson placed second with 39.06. Mildred Biechele placed fourth with 35.73. Florence Thies placed fourth in the open typing event with 55.6.

Oak Park Man to Speak on Scouting at Dinner Meeting

Dr. Harold S. Stewart, pastor of the First Baptist church of Oak Park will speak on "Scouting" at a joint dinner meeting of members of the Lions club, Chamber of Commerce, American Legion and others interested in Scouting. The meeting will be held at Greengarden Grill at 6:30 o'clock next Monday evening.

Dr. Stewart is well versed in the subject of scouting and has accomplished a great deal in boys' work. His address will be worth while to all persons who are interested in child development.

The three service organizations are co-operating in the joint meeting to foster scouting because each club is a sponsor of a local scout troop. The Chamber of Commerce helped organize and maintain troop 10, the oldest troop in Barrington. The Lions helped organize and maintain troop 21, a younger but very active unit. The Barrington post of the American Legion was instrumental in organizing the Cub pack which is a troop of younger boys and acts as a feeder organization for the other troops.

A program of entertainment will be furnished, Franklin Lipofsky, who is chairman of the joint scout committee, said. Mr. Whitson, president of the Northwest Suburban council will be present at the meeting, and several other Northwest council members probably will attend.

This is not a meeting to raise money, Mr. Lipofsky said. We want all the men of Barrington who can attend to do so because we believe they will become interested in scouting after hearing Dr. Stewart. There will be no admission nor other charge except to cover the cost of the dinner.

Several Hurt in Auto Collision Tuesday Evening

Four People in Car Upset on Northwest Highway Near Barrington

Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, 222 Hager avenue, and Mrs. Carrie Thies and daughter, Florence, 233 Cook street, were severely injured in an automobile accident Tuesday evening.

They were driving west on the Northwest highway and turned into the Montgomery service station when a car also moving west bumped into the rear of their machine. The other automobile was driven by Mrs. H. Williams and contained a party of several people in addition to Mrs. and Mrs. Williams.

The Miller car was upset on the gravel driveway and the four occupants of the car tumbled scattered over the gravel while the automobile righted itself, rolled on into a post, and stopped.

Miss Florence Thies was badly cut, and one of the occupants of the other car brought her to the local hospital where she was given treatment.

It was found that she had received several lacerations which necessitated stitches.

Dr. Graber was called to the Montgomery station and attended the other injured people there. Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Thies were badly bruised and Mr. Miller received cuts that necessitated several stitches. Some of the occupants received broken bones. The car was badly damaged.

It is reported that the people in the other car were uninjured.

Village Trustees Listen to Survey on Recent Audit

Technical Points Disputed;
Arnold Himmelblau Representative Present

A drawn out discussion of the recently completed village audit was held at the regular board of trustees meeting at the village hall Monday night.

The two principals in the discussion were U. S. Schmaus of Arnold Himmelblau and Co., accountants who prepared the audit, and John Carroll, board member. Mr. Carroll undertook to defend himself from charges of inaccuracy in his report No. 2 read at a previous meeting of the board and based on the Arnold Himmelblau audit.

Mr. Carroll read a number of passages and summaries from the audit and wherever there was anything that might be construed as a criticism, Mr. Schmaus to explain the matter. The chief basis for contention was a statement made in Mr. Carroll's report that the audit showed there has been a loss to the village of Barrington of $2,384.73 from errors and omissions, and a loss to the taxpayers of $237.00. The report added the two figures together to show a total loss. A counter report given out during the recent political campaign declared the second figure should have been subtracted from the first to show a net loss to the village, claiming that if the taxpayers lost by overpaying, then this loss would be a gain for the village.

Based on Carroll's statement at the meeting claiming that mistakes by the treasurer causing loss to the taxpayers and mistakes by the treasurer causing loss to the village should be added together to give a total figure which would be the result of mistakes by the treasurer. He asked Mr. Schmaus to uphold him on this contention, and the auditor did. Village Attorney D. R. Maloney took exception to Mr. Carroll's claim and Mr. Schmaus' approval of it, insisting that if the village gained by the taxpayers' loss, the net loss to the village was the former's total minus the taxpayers' total loss. He offered this explanation, he said, that people present would not be misled. Again Carroll repeated that the two figures added together would give a total of money involved in errors.

Most of the time of the entire board meeting was taken up by a discussion of the audit. It was meant as an open report of the audit to enlighten the 125 to 150 people who were present. An audit at best is a comprehensive study in cold figures which when printed in black on white can convey a clear idea to those who study it carefully. An open summary of a municipal audit covering several years' time is too technical to be readily understood subject for public debate.

Herman Westenberg Is Victim of Heart Disease

Herman Westenberg, 118 W. Lake street, died Wednesday evening, April 20, of a heart ailment of over 20 years' duration. He had been severely ill for the last three months.

Mr. Westenberg was born in Germany Sept. 21, 1890, but had lived in the United States more than 30 years, and has been a resident of Barrington in the last year.

He is survived by his widow, and four children. A daughter, Helen, and son, Roy, are at home, Mrs. Milton Harris, a daughter, lives at Evanston, and a son, Victor Westenberg, is in Harvey.

Funeral services were held at the chapel, 203 S. Cook street Saturday afternoon. Burial took place at Lake Zurich. Rev. Milton Freeman officiated.

Funeral Services Held Wednesday Afternoon for Muri Eismann

Muri Eismann, 425 W. Main street, died late Monday afternoon from double pneumonia from which she had suffered since the preceding Tuesday.

Mr. Eismann, who was 32 years old had been a resident of Barrington the past eight years. He is survived by his widow and two small sons, William and Charles, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eismann, who live at Round Out.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at the chapel, 203 S. Cook street. Burial took place at the Lakeview cemetery in Libertyville. Rev. Milton Freeman officiated.

Want Removal of C. & N. W. Tower Near Main Street

Removal of the Chicago & North Western tower at Cook and Main streets and moving back the Washington avenue will be requested by the village clerk of Barrington at a meeting of the board of trustees. The board instructed the clerk to write to officials of the railroad company to learn what arrangements can be made for removing the tower inasmuch as it is not being used any more. The shanty is so close to the sidewalks that it tends to shut off view of approaching trains, members of the board said.

The trustees also instructed the clerk to request the railroad company to prevent rowdyism from parking in the driveway south of the walking room.

May 11 was decided as the annual clean-up day. The street committee was authorized to receive bids for the clean-up work. The same committee was authorized to arrange for painting parking lines on the streets. An orange colored lacquer paint will be used. Bids for furnishing the paint will be received from local dealers.

Seven Year Old Child Fractures Her Arm

Ruth Heuer, seven years old, 117 N. Hager avenue, fell while playing in the home yard Monday, April 18, and fractured the large bone of the elbow of her right arm.

Serve Lumber Camp Dinner

The Ladies Aid society of the Methodist church served a Lumber Camp dinner in the church parlors Wednesday from 6 to 8 o'clock.

Blanche Frye 1st in Contralto Solo at District Meet

Wins in Group of Ten Contestants; Don Maxon Fifth
Among 11 Contestants

First place in the contralto solo event of the Illinois high school district music contest held at DeKalb Saturday, is an honor won by Miss Blanche Frye, one of the two contestants from Barrington.

Miss Frye, Miss Lois Waterman, and Don Maxon, accompanied by Miss Esther Strauss, attended the contest. Miss Frye and Mr. Maxon won first places in the sub-district contest at Dundee two weeks earlier.

Maxon placed fifth among eleven contestants in the baritone solo event. Miss Frye won first among ten contestants in the contralto event. The judge of the latter commented on the extraordinary musicianship displayed by so young a person. Miss Frye played the accompaniment for Maxon's solo for which she was also complimented. As a result of her victory, Miss Frye will be entitled to enter the state regional contest later. Although she is known for her piano playing ability, Miss Frye has had little experience in vocal solo work having started only six weeks ago. She is a sophomore in the high school.

Both Miss Frye and Mr. Maxon were coached and trained by Miss Strauss, music supervisor. Miss Lois Waterman played Miss Frye's accompaniment.

Coroner's Jury Finds Cary Boy's Death Accidental

A verdict of accidental death was returned by a coroner's jury at an inquest following the death the night previous of 15 year old George Newbold of Cary who was struck by an automobile on the Northwest highway between Cary and Fox River Grove.

The boy was struck by an automobile driven by Arthur Nayler, manager of John E. Hertz Leona Farms of Cary while he was walking along the highway with three companions. Newbold was walking on the left side of the highway and was off the pavement when he was struck by Nayler's machine. He was walking with Edward Detrick, Robert and Frank Narowetz. They had attended a show at Fox River Grove and were enroute home when the accident occurred.

Nayler was driving northwest along Route 19 and when he made a curve in the road near Perlick's barbecue stand, he saw two speeding automobiles approaching him from the opposite direction. Nayler swung his automobile to the left side of the road to avoid being hit by the racing machines and he swerved off the pavement.

Nayler failed to see the four boys who were walking along the shoulder of the highway and did not know that he had struck one of them until after his car had plunged into a ditch. The two Narowetz brothers and Detrick managed to jump to safety but the Newbold boy was struck by the left fender and hurled into the air. He struck the hood and fender near the running board and then rolled to the ground.

The racing machines continued on their way toward Fox River Grove and no clue to their identity had been uncovered today by Sergeant Herman

Scouts Will Demonstrate Skill at Northwest Rally

Travel a mile in exactly twelve minutes, no more no less; light a fire by rubbing sticks together or by striking flint and steel; tie nine useful knots without error; send message in code without error; and build a human tower that will support a scout sledge while he sends a message. These are a few of the performances that are found in the boy scout scheme that will be demonstrated at the spring rally of the Northwest Suburban council at Lions park, Des Plaines, Saturday, May 14. In addition to these activities spectators may expect to see a number of humorous events such as a dressing and undressing contest, leap-frog contest and others that will be fun for both participant and onlooker.

The program of the rally provides for continuous activity from 9 o'clock Saturday morning until a similar hour at night. The high spot of the morning will be a kite flying contest that is expected to bring out all the latest ideas and skills of that ancient art. The closing event will be a huge campfire with a corresponding program that climaxes the day's activities.

Death of Mrs. Gahlbeck Occurs Monday Evening

Mrs. Hattie Bierman Gahlbeck died Monday evening at the home of her son, Elmer, 123 S. Wool street, following a short illness. Mrs. Gahlbeck was born in Elgin May 24, 1878 and lived there until seven years ago when she came to Barrington with her husband and family. She had made her home here since that time.

Mrs. Gahlbeck is survived by two sons, Elmer, Gahlbeck and Harry Gahlbeck and two brothers, Fred and Henry Bierman, all of Barrington. The death of her husband occurred last May.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the home and burial took place at Evergreen cemetery.

Mrs. Krumpholtz Dead

The death of Mrs. Dorothea Krumpholtz of Elgin occurred early Sunday morning. Mrs. Krumpholtz who was eighty-seven years old was the mother of Mrs. Mathilda Dorwaldt, 501 S. Cook street.

Enter the Yard and Garden Contest; Fun for Everybody Valuable Prizes for Many

"You win if you lose" is the slogan of the Yard and Garden contest being conducted by the Barrington Lions club. Every home that enters the contest will be improved to the credit and benefit of the owner so that everyone who enters will gain by it. Those homes not winning one of the three cash prizes will still have a good chance of winning a valuable merchandise prize. Seven merchandise prizes have been offered already. Several others probably will be listed later. Get into the contest, it will provide pleasant competition and furnish healthful recreation. And you will have a good chance of winning a prize. Ela High Pupil Places First in Typing Contest

Wins Individual Event at Dundee, Team Makes Excellent Showing

Ela township high school was very fortunate in placing first in the individual typing contest held at Dundee high school, Dundee, Saturday. Irene Koffen placed first in the individual event, typing 47 words a minute for 15 minutes. Helen Hans, sixth, and Elta Sturm, tenth. Eight schools, 25 contestants participated in this contest. There were representatives there from Dundee, Grant, Warren, Batavia, Barrington, Arlington Heights, Huntley and Ela. As a result of this victory, Ela can enter the state contest at Urbana, May 23-24.

The basketball banquet which was held last Wednesday night was a success. The main speaker of the evening, "Tug" Wilson, from Northwest, gave a very interesting talk on "Fair Play and Good Sportsmanship." Captain McCord spoke on the Citizens' Military Training camp. He mentioned the fact that a high school boy could receive a month's free training each summer and at the end of four years, he would be given a reserve commission in the American Army, after passing an examination. The basketball captain-elect for 1932-33, Richard Beckman, and Harry Branding, the captain for the past year, and Mr. Clements and Mr. Wiser gave short talks.

The cooking and sewing classes and one senior were surely tired after a hard day's work of preparing the dinner for the basketball banquet. Did you notice that these girls all seemed to have new slippers on Wednesday? Why? Because they waited on the tables at the basketball banquet.

Those of the senior class who are doing falling work are concerned about whether or not they are going to have to stay in school the first week of the term. Also, they aren't so confident that they will get their diplomas in June as they used to be. Wasn't that an exciting gopher chase some of the girls had Thursday after school? It was a lucky thing for the gopher that they didn't catch him though!

What has happened to Paul Krueger? He hasn't been to school for a couple of weeks. We are hoping that he will be back soon.

Hurray! No geometry test. Oh, how the sophomores hate that!

The girls of the senior class had their pictures taken last Monday, and all seem well pleased with the proofs. Miss Hinchliff was telling the sophomore English class what they should review for their literature test. She said she did not believe in dates. "We wonder what she means?"

The freshmen certainly didn't thank Mr. Wesner for making them write those two themes in science of two thousand words each. But they all feel better now because they don't have to write any exam in science nor did he make them write an extra in algebra.

"What a relief!" say several of the girls taking gym. When asking what the great relief is, we are told that the girls are now having baseball instead of dancing.

Ela played an exciting game at Gurnee, Friday afternoon. The score was 14 to 10 in favor of Ela. Good work, team! We're back of you!

Lake County Gets Big Share of Motor Fuel Tax

Lake county now has a sum of $154,565.04, representing a pro-rated share of the motor fuel tax, available, according to a notice received at Waukegan from Springfield Tuesday.

That amount is a portion of the total refund due to the county, amounting to $1,032,532. Exactly fifty-five Illinois counties will share in the first tax refund of $2,429,814.

Lake County News

Highway Workers Find Indian Burying Ground

Mute evidence of Indian tribes that ruled Lake county up to 1837 was uncovered Monday on Route 173 near the Des Plaines river in an extensive burying ground on the site of the county gravel pit.

The recently organized Lake County Museum of Natural History has gained permission to open the graves which, it is expected, will disclose a valuable collection of skeletons, weapons, and pottery utensils.

The discovery was made when one grave was broken into by accident several days ago by county highway employees drawing soil to the crusher for gravel.

Excavation of one grave revealed that the Indians had buried their dead in tiers. First a pit would be dug in the gravel. The body was placed in this and then covered with a flat black soil. Then the next body would be placed on top and again covered with black soil, thus making the graves in tiers.

The pieces of pottery, it is presumed, were placed alongside the body with food for the departed to eat on the way to the happy hunting ground.

Firemen's Group Divides County Into Five Zones

The districting of Lake county into five distinct fire zones, a move fostered by the recently organized Lake County Firemen's Association in order to give a more efficient fire protection to every district, was approved by the association at a meeting Monday night in Wauconda. The five zones follow:

District 1—Antioch, Fox Lake, Grayslake and Round Lake. Five pumpers.

District 2—Libertyville, Mundelein, Grayslake and Wauconda. Five pumpers.

District 3—Wauconda, Barrington, Long Grove, Lake Zurich and Mundelein.

District 4—Zion, Gurnee, Waukegan, North Chicago and Great Lakes.

District 5—Lake Bluff, Lake Forest, Highland, Highland Park and Deerfield.

Copies of the resolution designating the new fire zones are to be distributed to each of the eighteen departments of Lake county holding memberships in the association.

Primary Election Cost Lake County Voters 31c

Now that elections are over some people are asking the question—How much did it cost me? Voters at the primary in Lake county paid 31 cents for the privilege, it was revealed when the election bills were approved by the board of supervisors. This is probably "money well spent" for those who voted for winners, but may give some displeasure to losers.

In approving the election bills the county board of supervisors discovered that the total amount was $709,18. In dividing this it was found that $6,900 went to judges and clerks, renting of polling places, posting of notices, etc.

The other division included supplies and amounted to $2,800.18. Of this $823.75 was paid for democratic ballots, $828.50 for republican ballots, and another item of general supplies amounting to $947. Other items in the list included taking ballots to the polls and salaries for members of the canvassing board.

Millions of Pike Hatched to Stock County's Lakes

A batch of approximately 35,000,000 baby walleye pike, is all ready to do its turning at the state fish hatchery at Spring Grove. Later the minnows will be used to restock the lakes of Lake and McHenry counties, according to Henry Kern, state game warden for this district.

Kern said that the millions of baby pike are due to hatch this week but it will be some time before they are gathered into cans and transported on trucks to the various lakes which will be their homes until they are lured onto a hook by the sennuous wriggling of a worm.

The fish hatchery, an exceptionally interesting place to visit, is now open for public inspection.

Chemists to War on Weeds

A University of California botanist predicts that chemicals will be used increasingly to control weeds along roadsides, ditch banks and even in fields.

Passion History Will Be Shown at Fairfield May 1

A rare opportunity will be given to the public to see the wonderful Passion History of our Lord Jesus Christ in pictures. These pictures will be shown at the Fairfield Hall at Fairfield on Sunday evening, May 1, at 8:30 daylight saving time. In order to get the connection of the Bible history somewhat better Mr. Fales will show pictures of the third year of Christ's ministry. Then will follow pictures of the trial of Jesus, His Death and the wonderful Resurrection of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. The lecture ends with the showing of several pictures of Christ's Ascension.

Balanced Farming Would Help Farmers, Says Chicago Banker

Melvin A. Traylor Would Make Modern Farm More Self-Contained

Speaks From Own Experience

Speaking before the International Chamber of Commerce at Washington, Melvin A. Traylor, President of the First National Bank of Chicago, said in part:

Like all of us, in every line of activity, the farmer was deceived by high values in the time of his prosperity.

In a well-intentioned, but what now seems at least an unfortunate venture, the Government provided abundant credit facilities for the farmer's use.

These facilities were supplemented by other large and liberal lending agencies which, likewise, were misled by land values. The result was that millions of farmers assumed obligations out of all proportion to any possible normal farm income.

All of us interested in farm activity and farm finance must assume our share of responsibility for this situation. We are learning our lesson and will have to take our medicine with the farmer himself. For this mistake, time and hard work seem to be the only remedy. Certainly, more credit will not solve the problem.

I wish I possessed some prophetic vision that I might suggest an easy way by which the agricultural industry could be relieved of its distress and started on a course of well-being and profit. God has not given me that power, but I think there is at least a partial remedy, which the farmer himself can apply. That remedy will start him on the only course which, experience and observation convince me, any of us can hope to anticipate: the making of a comfortable livelihood.

When we find that on approximately 20 per cent of the farms in the United States there is not a milch cow nor a chicken, and that on more than 30 per cent there is not a hog, and on approximately 50 per cent not a sheep; when we know, further, that on many farms in our large agricultural states, no gardens are kept and almost every article of food is purchased at the store, we are forced to the conclusion that the farmer, by and large, is not farming as he should. I know that there are certain sections where some, or all, of these means of increasing farm income cannot be applied, but, so far as possible, every farmer should produce his own milk and dairy products, his own meat, and his own poultry, raise his own garden truck, and can the fruit and vegetables he requires for winter use.

Until he obtains from his farm every item for personal consumption which it is humanly possible for him to produce, he has not done his job properly. Pigs and chickens and cows are worth more to the individual farmer than all the government relief programs that may possibly be conceived.

Once the farmer lives at home, then I believe that whatever kind of money crop he may produce, whether it be large or small, the price high or low, his major difficulty will be solved and his margin of income for the necessities and luxuries he so much deserves will be greatly increased.

There is no romance about farming. If it is successfully done, I know it means hard work day in and day out. But so does any other business successfully performed. I know the privations of farm life. They are much less now than they were thirty years ago. I should like to see every farm home equipped with the modern conveniences of urban life. I should like to see every farmer with an automobile, a radio, and all other modern inventions which have contributed so much to social welfare.

Entitled to Modern Comforts

No one is more entitled to these advantages than the farmer; but the farmer, like everyone else, should have them only when he can pay for them. The income for such purposes will be largely determined by the extent to which the farmer exhausts every possible means of supplying his necessities from the farm itself.

The way out for the farmer is not an easy one. Neither is the course smooth for industry, finance or government, and the problem in one sphere is little less difficult than in any other.

Immense Desert Area

The area of the United States proper is about 3,026,030 square miles, while the area of the Sahara is 3,500,000 square miles; therefore the Sahara desert is larger than the United States exclusive of Alaska and its island territories.

Poetical Duty

It is not enough for a poet to make it known in dulcet and thrilling terms that he is taken by his gal; he must also offer his reasons for saying that she exists, and define love in the mystical vocabulary of Plotinus.—H. L. Mencken.

Styled, powered and priced for 1932

Here is the New and Finer

PLYMOUTH

—"the more-for-the-dollar car!"

It's a sensational car—this new Plymouth.

It's the car that brings all the important new engineering features to the low-price field:

Floating Power—Free Wheeling—Silent, Easy-Shift Transmission—Safety-Steel Bodies—Hydraulic Brakes with Centrifuge Drums—Rigid-X Double-Drop Frame—Silent Shackles! (Automatic Clutch at slight extra cost).

It's a big car—112-inch wheelbase—with big-car power, 65 horsepower.

And what a buy it is at the new, daringly low prices!

Compare this 1932 Plymouth feature by feature, with the other two cars in the lowest-price field. You'll quickly realize its greater value.

Then drive the car! You'll find its performance beyond compare. Drive it today.

Here Is Simple Way to Avoid Nervous Trouble

In one of his addresses, Dr. Charles H. Mayo said: "Every other hospital bed in the United States is for mentally afflicted insane, idiotic, feeble-minded or senile persons. That's worry. It is worry that breaks down the brain, not work as such."

In this connection we are reminded of the prescription which a physician gave to a highly nervous patient whose life was made miserable by a constant procession of fears and apprehensions. The physician sealed the prescription in an envelope, told the patient to take it home, to read it confidentially, but to use it freely in as large doses as was necessary. This magic seven-word prescription which has worked wonders with many people reads: "The things you fear most never happen."—From How to Live.

Meteors Move Fast

Meteors travel at the tremendous speed of 20 miles per second. This will explain why some meteors are not when they are immediately after they fall at that time so cold that frost forms on them as soon as they are exposed to the air. Meteors are dark and extremely cold bodies. When they approach the earth, the friction with the earth's atmosphere causes their outer surface to become white hot and molten.

IN A sense, the casket is as much a tribute to the departed as the stone placed above it.

This does not mean it must be costly. To be sure, caskets today are priced higher than twenty years ago, but, as prices have advanced, so have the art, craftsmanship, and better materials used by the makers. Out of a mistaken idea of devotion for the deceased, some are tempted to spend beyond their means. We advise the individual taste, not price, for the guide in selection.

Man's Egg Found

A man's egg has been presented to the Alexander Museum in Waukegan, New Zealand. This rare find was made by a party of men who were working on a cliff face of shales on Tokomura West road. A following of operations led to the egg. Until now a working broke it by hand shovel, but a part skillfully repaired the shattered portions, and the contents are not noticeable. It is stated that there are not more than 100 eggs in existence. The egg was a diamond-shaped having numerous legs and three toes. Its shape was absolutely round. It was 12 feet high.

Owners of Lake
Zurich Win
Supreme CourtHigher Body Upholds
Decision Rendered by Circuit Judge Shurtleff

The state supreme court affirmed the decree rendered by Judge E. H. Shurtleff of the county circuit court holding that the owners of the Lake Zurich suit was a summer resort. The Lake Zurich suit was a Margaret Pearle, who own half of the lake, tried to evict the owners. The owners became when truck loads of picnic drive out from Chicago and take possession of land and the discharged the rights of the owners. The case was argued before the state supreme court. Judge Shurtleff rendered the decision that the Lake Zurich suit was a summer resort. In the decision the supreme court said: "There is abundant evidence that such uses as the public from the waters and the shore were used as permitted by the state. A development of obnoxious uses caused the owners of the lake to sue for the use of the lake. This action simply amounts to a cancellation of the permit. The decision is affirmed. The decision is affirmed. The decision is affirmed."

Will Not Bar Public
Friedrich has said that he intended to bar the public but insists on keeping the resort open for the public. The decision places a large of bodies in Lake Zurich, the same category as Lake under the jurisdiction of the state.

Bornholm
For fantastic rock formations a wild coast, for the most castle ruins of Denmark, it is a journey by water to the island of Bornholm, south of the island of Zealand. The island belongs to the archbishopric of Lund, and since 1658 it has been part of Denmark. Whether the little fishing village on the coast or visits to large such as Rone, Rø or Ne last being the birthplace of the elixir, you will find it a full place for a holiday. It is ethnological and archaeological museums, beautiful forests, and a large number of lakes and ponds are ablaze with color change.

Rome's Downfall
The Roman empire after the battle of Actium, and the decline began. The death of Marcus Aurelius, 193. Contributing causes, three centuries were the aggressive of large numbers of Germanic; hostile advance of the empire; internal dissension; the provinces; ingratitude; the people; a pestilence which killed a million of the empire; the end of the empire. The end of the Roman empire of the West was complete by A. D. 476.

True Story
An excited foreigner was awaiting the arrival of his first-born in one of our hospitals. He was so certain to be a boy that he had his friends to an elaborate feast that evening and had sent the joyous news to his wife. When the nurse came him that the arrival was a girl, he knew no bounds. He made several telephone calls to his wife, cancelling the feast. Then, summoning the nurse, he said: "I'm going to my automobile and go home to tell the wife when she's come home to take a street car to take a street car to take a street car."

Fish Need Protection
Because of the fact that their natural enemies, fish, have been found that plants 1000 six-inch trout, raised to ponds, gives results equal to 100,000 small fry in streams.

Named for Developer
The will-resistant tomato, "Tupper," was developed by J. Pritchard, internationally tomato breeder of the Dept. of Agriculture, who died in 1931. As a memorial to his name of this variety has changed to Pritchard.

THEY YELL FOR AMERICAN COOKING

The story is told of an American traveler who dropped into a famous restaurant in Paris. He was handed a huge menu—in French, of course. The tourist glanced over the four pages of the menu and then turned it upside down. The head waiter stood by patiently. Finally, the traveler, after taking another glance at the menu, said:

"Bring me a hundred francs' worth of meat and potatoes."

The average American in his own home town likes to drop into a French restaurant and have a French dinner—now and then. But plant him in Paris or any other city where the French chef rules supreme in the kitchen, and feed him three French meals a day, day after day, and he'll soon be yelling for an American cooked meal.

Most Americans like to go to Italian restaurants occasionally or an Italian dinner. But when Americans go to Italy where they have a succession of Italian meals, they soon cry for help.

For two good reasons the American school of cooking is finding its way around the world. The first is that Americans in time of normal business are great travelers. And whether they journey to Europe or the Near East or the Far East they insist upon something resembling American food. The second reason is the great importation of American food products into foreign lands.

Americans in traveling abroad invariably complain that they can't get a good cup of coffee. One reason for this is that in America we are becoming accustomed to the advantages of fresh coffee. Then too, cream and not milk, is essential to a good cup of coffee.

TODAY

With the setting sun, your hopes of yesterday died out. All right. That was yesterday.

Things didn't materialize the way you dreamed they would. All right again. Now—the present hour—is today. Yesterday bears no relation to it, except perhaps, the relation that a nightmare bears to the morning after.

Forget all about yesterday. It is dead and buried in the cemetery of Time.

Today is alive. Are you? Well, then, get busy! Fling from your shoulders the depressing weight of those hopes that haven't come true. Stand erect. Man, the world is yours! You have just as much claim on its good things—on the things you've longed for and prayed for and worked for—as the other fellow has.

This hour has been handed to you as a gift from the overflowing storehouse of Eternity.

What are you doing with it? Answer that.

Moping? Growling? Despairing for shame!

God has favored you with another chance to make good. He has given you today. Prove your appreciation by making it a stepping-stone to happier, worthier to-morrows!—The Imprint, St. Paul, Minnesota.

IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION

The widespread feeling throughout this country that the effects of the depression are on the wane has now spread to Europe. The world has, in a remarkably short time, assumed a decidedly more optimistic view of both the economic and financial future. How soon this improved mental state will result in definite improvement in trade and the employment of labor is a question that is variously answered. The measures recently inaugurated in this country to restore normal credit, and aid stalled industries, are in active operation.

As was anticipated, the very prospect of the assistance that the new credit facilities will provide helped to turn the tide. Reports for February, just issued by the labor department, show that employment in manufacturing increased 1.2 per cent, and that earnings increased 2.1 per cent. The country is now moving in the right direction.—Washington Post.

LOCAL TAXES

We load ourselves up with local taxes until the burden becomes almost confiscatory. Then we have the nerve to sit around and abuse the president for the tax burden—a condition he has little or nothing to do with. As a matter of fact, Federal taxes have declined since 1922, while local taxes have continued to increase up to the levy for 1931. We are prone to howl about Federal and State taxes and forget the taxes imposed close to our homes. Compared to the years just prior to the war, our local taxes have about tripled. As a rule a local bond issue can be floated at any time for anything from a swimming pool to an airport, despite the fact that the bonded indebtedness of that particular unit of local government may be stretched almost to its limit. It is the local taxes that are hurting us, and not the national or state taxes.—Fessenden (N. D.) Farmer.

Major operations in the building of the huge dam and sea wall for the Mississippi river 9-foot channel are now under way. About sixty laborers, all of them residents of Moline, Rock Island, and Davenport were given jobs. The project will ultimately employ a large number of men.

Final building activities for the World's Fair at Chicago next year are about to be speeded up with bids now being taken for the $1,000,000 General Exhibition Hall and the $350,000 Agricultural Building. A $250,000 building is also to be erected to house five restaurants and a cafeteria.

Eight hundred and sixty-six men out of 1,162 persons who have applied for work to the Champaign-Urbana unemployment relief committee have been given work and compensation according to a statement issued by E. E. Rea, office manager of that civic organization.

Modernization campaigns have been launched in many Illinois cities. Freeport is active in the work; Kankakee has its citizens out after improvements; Belvidere reports favorable progress along such lines; Streator is hard at work; and Danville has already given employment to many jobless citizens through their sponsoring of a campaign of modernization. Chicago's efforts along this line are being pushed so that the city may make a favorable impression at the time of the 1933 fair.

Rounding out $5,000,000 worth of road work placed under contract since the first of the year, the state highway division has awarded 8,79 miles of paving on State Highway No. 150 in Union county, between Aldridge and Wolf Lake. Bids are to be submitted this month on 19.30 more miles of paving and an important bridge project along this same route.

A new bank has opened in Mendota, the National Bank of Mendota, to facilitate banking operations in that city after the closing last January of all three of the banks. The new bank has a capital stock of $50,000.

The village board of Wilmette has received bids for the construction of a municipal water works. The project was authorized at a recent special election by the voters.

Employment in 21 Decatur industries gained 6.3 per cent in the week ending March 26, according to figures compiled by the Association of Commerce in that city from reports made by the company.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

By National Editorial Association
(Special to The Review)

are displayed privately and publicly by our legislators as economic and political problems increase in numbers and complexity. A number have returned disgruntled and alarmed from the primaries in their own states. The lawmakers have found the home folks in bad humor and out of patience with their spokesmen in congress. The solons are showing the effect of mental strain and physical fatigue. There has been no pause in either the senate or house. Contrary to popular impressions, there has been little time for social activity at this session. The leaders have plugged night and day for all real estate on the record of this congress hinges political victory at the polls next November. The cost of running the national government this year is in excess of four and a half billion dollars.

EVERY COMMITTEE has been occupied with the consideration of legislative problems. The house appropriations committee, which controls the federal government's purse strings, has worked with a minimum of partisan feeling. Lately the specific problem of cutting down government activities and salaries was taken over by a special group known as the house economy committee. These five men had an unenviable task for no matter what they proposed it was equivalent to stepping on somebody's toes. The application of their pruning knife as a means of saving hundreds of millions made them unpopular with federal officials and employees. They are, however, content with an economy measure which will reduce the tax burden.

THE SENATE finance committee started drafting the revenue bill this week after extensive hearings. Groups adversely affected by the house tax bill petitioned the senate to change the plan. The senate may revamp the bill to its own sweet will. It is another matter to have the house accept a measure which differs radically from their own proposals. It has been indicated that the senate will tack on tariff amendments disguised as taxes on imports. The states where oil, copper and lumber are produced in quantity have formed a powerful non-partisan bloc for the purpose of obtaining protective tariffs on these commodities. Another group will endeavor to substitute the sales tax, rejected by the house, as a method of raising revenue.

SENATE INVESTIGATIONS, which are conducted without regard to witnesses' constitutional rights at times, are blundering. The inquiry into the New York stock exchange has been a "flop." As a consequence, the investigators are determined to show up the speculators by a sweeping probe. It is stated that the investigators may be found in reduced contributions to party campaign funds which are low at this time.

PLATFORM MAKERS of the two major political parties are receiving suggestions for planks or declarations of policy. These committees are always busy pressed at a small clique have their way in the end. It is generally agreed that the phrasing of the plank dealing with prohibition will require some masterful word juggling to appease all factions. It is easy to write the boastful claims of party achievements or to catalogue the shortcomings of the opposition. With such a delicate and politically dangerous subject as the "wet and dry" issue every precaution is taken against blundering.

THE SENATE is handicapped with the pressure of domestic business. The small coterie specializing in foreign affairs cannot gain the public eye with their discussion of international matters at this time. They must content themselves with brief discussions of the attitude of foreign governments toward the settlement of their debts to this country. The failure of the British to include payments of their war debts and post-war debts arouse a furry which under other conditions would have brought a storm on the senate floor. There is a growing sentiment that foreign countries should be obliged to pay rather than utilize this money in building armaments and purchasing concessions to compete against American industries.

Britain's Varied Climates. There is no other country of similar size which has so many climates as Great Britain. A man traveled in February from Aberdeen down to London, and next day went on to Falmouth. Around Aberdeen the country was deep in snow. The "hairs" were absolutely Arctic, and on Deeside curling was in full swing. Forty-eight hours later, at Falmouth, the sun was hot, daffodils and other spring flowers were in bloom, and it seemed like another world. From northern Perthshire up to Braemar is a great stretch of country where snow falls at the end of October and as a rule lies until the following March.

Values. Never underestimate your own ability, providing of course that you have made yourself really able in some line of endeavor. Most persons take you at your own estimate, so it won't pay to belittle accomplishments you have acquired.

Wandering From This to That

New Museum Display

The second habitat group of animals composed of specimens obtained by the William V. Kelley-Roosevelt Expedition to Eastern Asia, has been completed and will be open for public inspection today at Field Museum of Natural History. It is announced by Stephen C. Simms, director of the museum.

The principal figures in the new group are two large specimens, male and female, of the Asiatic water buffalo. Nearly as seen three small deer, male, female and young, and specimens of the white "cow heron," which habitually follows the water buffalo. All of the specimens were collected by Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, now the Governor-General of the Philippines, who with his brother, Kermit Roosevelt, led the expedition. The first group completed as a result of the expedition was that of the giant panda.

Car to Right

Nothing the somewhat prevalent practice of bluffing for the right of way at intersections and resulting "victories" on the part of the hold over the timid, the Chicago Motor club pointed out that the Illinois motor vehicle law specifically provides that vehicle shall have the right of way at intersections wherein neither thoroughfare is of a preferential nature.

The law provides, the club declared, that at such intersections... vehicles... shall give the right of way to vehicles approaching... from the right and shall have the right of way over those approaching from the left.

This law is in effect in practically every state, and courts are inclined to hold it in high regard.

Fence for World's Fair

Within the next few weeks work will commence on the first 2½ miles of what will eventually be a 3½ mile fence enclosing the grounds of Chicago's 1933 World's Fair—A Century of Progress, exposition officials announced. It will be the world's first all sheetmetal fence and peep-proof.

The 9-foot high, bizarrely painted and ornamented enclosure with 20-foot flanges at 100-foot intervals will furnish striking proof of the rapidity with which the exposition building are rising.

Auto Rail Competition

The private automobile is the principal cause of the diversion of passenger traffic from the railroads of the country, although the motor bus has become a "serious competitor," according to the report of the interstate commerce commission on rail-motor coordination made, public April 18.

During the period 1920 to 1925, the number of private automobiles increased by 9,270,000, or over 100 per cent, while during the same time passengers carried by the railroads dropped by 20 per cent, the commission pointed out, "and travel was just beginning to establish itself in a large way in these years."

As an example of the growth of private automobile competition, the commission referred to the operation of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad between Peoria and Galena, Ill. During the 12-month period from November, 1920 to October, 1930, the Burlington carried 22 per cent of the passengers between these points, its own bus subsidiary 16 per cent, and private cars 62 per cent, the commission's report stated.

Standard of Living

"It is by no means certain that a smaller population would mean a higher standard of living, as is commonly assumed, and it seems almost certain that a declining population would involve serious economic as well as social consequences," Dr. O. E. Baker, economist of the division of land economics, department of agriculture, said in an address here today, April 22 before the Population Association of America.

Recent studies of census data indicate, Dr. Baker said, that it is in the middle classes of the people that the number of children per family is smallest, and that the number is larger in both the highest and lowest economic or social classes.

Figures for the farm population indicate this relationship to be true, he said, and this is in line with recent investigations of the number of children per family in urban centers, where it was shown that "in passing from the lower to the higher economic or social classes in the cities the number of children per family diminishes, with a suggestion that at the very top there may be a reversal of the trend and a larger number of children per family."

Television Station

Permission to erect a new $20,000 visual broadcasting experimental station is asked in an application submitted to the federal radio commission by the Sonora Manufacturing company of Chicago, and made public April 20 by the commission. The Leonard C. Welling and Gustave Kraus, would enable experiments to determine the possibilities of television transmission and reception in metropolitan areas.

Compositors Kept Busy

The average daily output in the government printing office is 8,000,000 ems of type set. The yearly output is some 2,470,000,000 ems of type.

How to play Bridge AUCTION and CONTRACT by Wynne Ferguson

Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

ARTICLE No. 24

In the play of the hands at Auction and Contract there are numerous opportunities to make good plays, but the most important one of all is the winning of the trick that scores game or saves it. For example, suppose game is playing spades and it is easily possible to make three odd but there is no apparent way to score game. That is the time for the declarer to do some deep thinking and endeavor to figure out some way to make game. Sometimes this can be done by merely placing certain high cards in the opponents' hands in such a way that game is possible. At other times it can only be done by letting the opponents make a mistake and thus give the declarer his only chance for game. That is what is meant by getting the trick that scores game.

On the other hand, suppose your opponents are playing the hand at spades and it is up to you to save game. You can save it by how to take three tricks but cannot see any way for the fourth trick. Then you should figure out in your mind what card or cards your partner must hold to make that extra trick and play accordingly. You will be surprised how often the card that you figure must be there will be there and therefore save the game. It is on close hands of this type that the good player has an advantage. The all-important trick of every hand is the one that either makes game or saves game; so bond all your energies and concentrate all your thought on that one trick and, if it is in the cards, don't let it get away from you.

The following hand is given as an illustration of the declarer's failure to observe this rule and of the big loss resulting.

Hearts—9, 6
Clubs—K, J, 7
Diamonds—K, 10, 8, 5, 4, 2
Spades—A, K

Hearts—A, K, J, 7
Clubs—A, 9, 7, 6, 5, 3
Diamonds—9, 8, 7, 5, 3
Spades—A, K, J, 7

Hearts—3
Clubs—A, Q, 6, 2
Diamonds—A, Q, J
Spades—Q, J, 10, 6, 2

No score, rubber game. This hand is applicable either to Auction or Contract. Z dealt and bid one spade. A and Y passed and B bid two hearts. Z took spades, A three hearts, Y three spades, B four hearts. Z took spade and A doubled. All passed and A opened the king of hearts and followed with the ace of hearts. How should Z play the hand?

Solution: Z should let A hold this trick and discard a club or a diamond. By so doing, he could have made five odd in spades if A had then led either one of the other three suits, for in that case he could have taken A's trumps and his suit cards were all good. If A had led another heart at trick three, Z should have trumped in the dummy with the king and then led four rounds of trumps. He should then have led either clubs or diamonds until A made his last trump.

In this way Z could have made four spades. If, however, he trumped the second heart trick in his hand and led two rounds of spades, his hand was hopeless and he would lose his contract.

by one trick. This hand shows the importance of this kind of play of the hand and the possible cards held by opponents, even at the second trick. The minute the dummy hand has been placed on the table, Z should have figured what cards A must hold to justify his double. The only excuse for the double would be at least five small trumps and the ace of hearts. With any less holding in trumps, A's double would have been unsound.

It is an easy hand with all the cards exposed, but not easy if they are concealed unless you stop to think and figure out how the unseen cards must be to give you game. It is a fine illustration of the importance of playing for the all-important trick that will score game and of doing so from the very first card played.

In the following problem, try your own skill in solving before reading the solution. Then compare results and thus obtain a valuable lesson or evidence that you are really good, or dependent upon failure or success.
