Flower Garden Settings Are Especially Popular for June Nuptials

Several marriages were celebrated in Barrington last Saturday. The following couples were united: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Jones. The ceremonies were performed by Rev. J. M. White at the home of the bride.

With a view of safeguarding the company during the difficult financial situation through which the country is passing, directors of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois have decided to reduce the dividend on the common stock this quarter from $2 to 75 cents a share. The regular quarterly dividend on the company's preferred stock will be paid.

James Simpson, chairman of the company, in making the announcement stated that a readjustment of salaries and wages of officers and employees was being worked out, the heaviest reductions being at the top. Similar action, both as to dividends and pay, have been taken by the Commonwealth Edison Company and The Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company, which serve Chicago.

These reductions in dividends and expense are being made to allow all three companies to safeguard their current position, even though their earnings for the year ended March 31 were satisfactory, a statement issued by Mr. Simpson says.

"In accepting my present responsibilities in these companies," Mr. Simpson continued, "I had in mind a three-fold obligation: to the customers served; to the employees of the company; to the owners of their securities—both bonds and stocks."

Former Barrington Man Credited With Saving Chicago Man

Barrington residents, Al Caplan now given credit for the rescue of Earl Kuehn, 53, of Chicago, from the boat sinking at Little Lake. Mr. Kuehn, who was brought to shore by Caplan, was the only one to survive the sinking of the boat. Caplan's heroic deed was reported in the Chicago Tribune.

Predict Quiet Fourth of July in Barrington

A quiet, restful Fourth of July, the first in several years lacking in public celebration, is anticipated by Barrington people. Although the highways may be crowded, the forest preserve filled with picnickers and the North Side Park swimming pool a center of activity, the village as a whole probably will be comparatively quiet.

Family picnics, friends in Barrington for the holiday, and possibly a few persons going north for fishing and outing trips, may be expected as the principal activity of the day.

Few business houses will remain open all day. Most of them will be open for a few hours in the morning. The post office will be closed except for window service from 9 a. m. to 10 a. m. There will be no city or rural delivery.

New Chairman of Board Declares Steps Taken to Safeguard Company

With a view of safeguarding the company during the difficult financial situation through which the country is passing, directors of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois have decided to reduce the dividend on the common stock this quarter from $2 to 75 cents a share. The regular quarterly dividend on the company's preferred stock will be paid.

Brother and Sister Off on Six-Weeks' Tour of Europe

Earl and Miss Irma Mae Wewstzer, 114 Garfield street, left Chicago today with the Hubbel touring company for a six weeks' tour of Europe. Before sailing they will spend a day of sight-seeing in Washington, D. C., and a day in New York City.

Village Auditors Complete Work on Audit and Books

The audit of village records for the fiscal year which ended April 30 was completed last week and copies of the audit were presented to the board of trustees at the regular meeting Monday night. The board adjourned early to attend a special meeting with the auditors to discuss the new audit and look over the new set of books the firm is installing. The matter of appointment for the office of village treasurer was to have been discussed but was not brought up at the meeting. Temporary appointment was given to P. L. Waterman at the beginning of the current year.

The auditing firm of Spohr and Grundset, who conducted the audit and installation of books completed the job as stated. The men were given the combined jobs at a price not to exceed $550 on May 23 and they agreed to have the job completed in five weeks. Four neatly compiled copies of the audit were given to the board Monday night, but the statistical nature of the report prompted the board to decide to hold another meeting with the auditors later which would give the trustees time to go over the report more carefully. The trustees inspected the new set-up of books and suggested only a few slight changes.

The work of auditing the records and installing the books was done by Mr. Spohr and Mr. Grundset personally. Both men are certified public accountants and have had considerable experience in municipal accounting work.

Diving and Polo Exhibition Will Be Held July 15

Water polo, a fancy diving exhibition, swimming races, and other water carnival events have been planned for the North Side park swimming pool on Friday evening, July 15, according to an announcement from Mrs. Ruth Purcell, manager.

The talent will be furnished by the Waubesa Y. M. C. A. swimming team and will include several well known athletes. This mid-month specialty will take the place of a Fourth of July event, thus leaving the holiday open for local bathers. Low priced monthly swim-tickets will be on sale July 1, giving all who wish to take advantage of the pool an opportunity to include the Fourth on their program and 40 boys and girls—more girls than boys—are receiving regular instruction in diving and swimming from Miss Dora Bever, who has been engaged by the park board. Miss Bever's program of instruction for children includes: Beginners (swimming), from 10 to 10:30 a. m.; advance swimmers from 10:30 to 11 a. m.; beginners (diving), from 11 a. m. to 11:30 a. m.; advance divers, from 11:30 to 12 noon.

Disputed Right of Way Holds Up Plan for Bg. Road

While preliminary work has been done on three of four divisions of the Barrington road south of the village, and actual grading work is being done on one of them, one division of the route is being held up because of disputed right-of-way with little prospect of any construction work there this summer.

For engineering purposes the road is divided into that part between Barrington and the Dundee road, the section south of the Dundee road and north of the Algonquin road, the section lying between the Algonquin road and Higgins road, and that lying between Higgins road and Lake street extension.

No right of way has been secured between the Algonquin and Higgins roads, a distance of two miles. All the remainder of the Barrington road, from Higgins south to Lake street, and from Algonquin road north to Barrington has been surveyed and will be paved this summer.

A double grading crew is widening and filling in that part between the Algonquin and Dundee cross routes. As soon as the men complete the fill there, they will move south of the Higgins road to do whatever grading is necessary. The grading work done by another crew while the south end is being finished. When the work planned for this summer is completed, the Barrington road will be paved from the village limits to Lake street except for a two mile break between the Algonquin and Higgins roads.

Committee of Women in Barrington Community Raise Funds for Aid of Needy Children at Camp Algonquin

Two thousand children are being cared for at Camp Algonquin this summer, partly by the efforts of a group of women in the Barrington community. Mrs. Potter Smith and Mrs. Russell Pettengill are the chairwomen of the committee that is sponsoring the work in the Barrington region.

John Hunter, Well Known Endurance Flyer, Is Killed

A whirling airplane propeller ended the career of John Hunter, one of four brothers who became locally known when two years ago they set a world's airplane endurance record at Sky Harbor airport, Chicago. The accident occurred Monday while John and his brother, Kenneth, were en route to New Orleans where they planned to open an air mail route.

John and his brothers, Kenneth, Walter, and Albert, made several visits to Barrington at the time they established their endurance record of 553 hours, 41 minutes and 30 seconds in their plane the City of Chicago, two years ago this June. The boys became acquainted in Barrington through the manager of their endurance flight, Wilson Herren, president of the Barrington Aeronautical corporation. During the first 400 hours of the endurance flight the boys made frequent trips over Barrington, but as they drew toward the end of their flight and after they had broken previous records they flew within landing distance of Sky Harbor.

Struck by Propeller
The accident that resulted in John's death occurred at Rosedale, Miss., where he and two of his brothers had been forced down Sunday night by a heavy rainstorm. They were each flying an amphibian plane. When the ships had been warmed up on the next morning, John climbed out on the wing of his plane to untie it from the dock, and the steel propeller struck him on the head.

The record which was achieved when John and Kenneth Hunter landed their City of Chicago at Sky Harbor on July 4, 1930 still stands as the world's endurance airplane record. Their brothers, Walter and Albert, flew the refueling plane, Big Ben, and their sister, Irene, remained at the airport to cook their meals.

Delinquent 1930 Taxes Due on Half Million Parcels in Cook County

One-half million pieces of Cook county real estate are delinquent on 1930 taxes, according to an announcement from Mr. McDonough, county treasurer. The delinquency amounts to an increase of 100,000 parcels over the number delinquent a year earlier on the 1929 taxes.

Barrington Cooks Rank High in Culinary Art

Culinary experts are not wanting in Barrington. At least that conclusion might be drawn from the fact that three out of the 120 winners in a national recipe contest were Barrington women. The local winners were: Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. Harry Coffman, and Mrs. John Engelman. In addition to each of the women receiving a merchandise gift, Mrs. Brown, who was the eleventh winner in the contest, received a $10 cash prize. Mrs. Brown's recipe is displayed in the window of the Royal Blue store, a local business house which handles the brand of food that sponsored the nation-wide contest.

The recipe, a summer salad follows: one avocado pear, two cups of cantaloupe balls, lettuce leaves, blue valley French dressing, and blue valley mayonnaise. The recipe will serve six people.

Annual American Legion Carnival Nets $250 Profit

Proceeds Will Go to Support Scout Pack and Drum and Bugle Corps

A profit in excess of $250.00 was realized by the American Legion as a result of their annual three-day carnival which closed on Saturday night. This report, which is made too early to be authentic, indicates that the hundreds of people who patronized the event cooperated to make it a financial success.

The chief purpose in having the carnival was to raise money for the Legion, boy scout pack, and for the drum and bugle corps. The local post was particularly concerned that this year's carnival be a success, since the funds necessary for the Corps' appearance in the 1933 Century of Progress exposition was largely dependent upon it. All effort will henceforth be directed to making that appearance a success.

Board of Trustees Again Fight Over Village Attorney

Contention over Village Attorney D. B. Maloney, who was granted temporary re-appointment in May broke out anew Monday night when Norman T. Maxon presented a resolution to the village board asking that the law firm of Wetten, Pegler and Dale of Chicago be employed as special legal counsel in the solution of Barrington's sewer problem. The resolution was presented with supplementary remarks by Mr. Maxon and J. J. Carroll to the effect that they were not satisfied with Mr. Maloney and that the firm which they were recommending had a solution to the sewer problem, which was for the best interest of the village. Neither of the men would intimate what the solution is without first securing some preliminary agreement between the board and the firm.

Mr. Maloney assailed the resolution as an unethical and unprofessional attempt by his contemporaries to "horn in" on a job half completed. He stated that he had gone to a lot of work in collecting material for the case should the board decide to appear and that he feels he has the matter well in hand, although he will always welcome any information whether it comes from another attorney or any interested party, that will help in the solution of the case.

Dispute Interpretation
The resolution was so broadly stated, the attorney and some members of the board felt, that it virtually meant that the case would be usurped by the "special counsel" should the firm be engaged. The resolution was signed by Mr. Maxon, Mr. Thorp and Mr. Kuhlman. After hearing various interpretations of the resolution, Mr. Kuhlman stated that he was no longer in favor of the resolution. It was his understanding that the Wetten, Pegler and Dale firm would be employed to work with Mr. Maloney, if that arrangement were agreeable and acceptable to him. Mr. Kuhlman said the issue was virtually settled when the board split on a motion made by Mr. Hatje to table the resolution. Mayor Cadwallader, who holds authority to cast the deciding vote in case of a tie, suggested that the motion remain table for further consideration.

The clause in the resolution which conflicting interpretations were expressed follows: Be it therefore resolved, by the board of trustees of the Village of Barrington, that the law firm of Wetten, Pegler and Dale be employed as special legal counsel to represent the village of Barrington in said suit and it is hereby authorized to take such steps as in its judgment may be necessary to protect the interests of the village of Barrington.

Resolution Tabled
Those voting against the motion to table the resolution were trustees Carroll, Maxon and Thorp and those voting for the motion were Hatje, Kuhlman and Glecke.

Both Mr. Glecke and Mr. Hatje expressed the opinion that in fairness to Mr. Maloney, whom they believe has faithfully performed his duty, it would be neither ethical nor wise to "change horses in the middle of the stream." Charges of subsiding were hurled at the proponents of the resolution.

The consensus of the board throughout the argument was in favor of appealing the sewer case. Mayor Cadwallader made a plea for consideration in the matter of village attorney as well as the sewer case, but stated that he favored appealing the case rather than accepting the proposed agreement by the Barrington Hills Country club.

"This is one of the lowest tricks ever pulled on me in my experience," Maloney said in defense of his that kind of tactics to get business when I don't want to be in the business. As village attorney I have always had the interests of the village at heart and I am sure that all my dealings in this position have been beyond reproach."

Review circulation is paid, circulation... that is the kind that counts.

Legion Sets Tentative Date for Big Convention

A tentative date for the 1933 national convention of the American Legion has been set for the third week in October, providing the Illinois delegation is successful in bringing the national convention to Chicago. Cecil E. Paxton reported after attending a meeting of the Legion '33 corporation in Chicago Tuesday night. The meeting was held at the Sherman hotel.

The Legion '33 corporation is an organization of Illinois Legion leaders who are making plans for holding the national convention in connection with the Legion's participation in the Chicago World's fair. To-date no other state organizations have asked for the 1933 convention, but there is a possibility that the bid for the affair might be contested. Regardless of bids, the Illinois groups will have the Century of Progress as a strong argument in favor of getting the convention to Chicago.

Relative of Mrs. L. Powers Is Brought Here for Burial

The body of Ralph Doak, Jr., of Atlanta, Ga., was brought to Barrington Tuesday afternoon for burial at Evergreen cemetery.

Mr. Doak was employed in the Ford plant at Atlanta. While working Friday afternoon he was struck on the head by a falling beam and killed instantly.

Mr. Doak was a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Powers of Edison Park. Mr. Powers is a son of Mrs. L. Powers, 201 W. Lake street, Barrington.

Old English Church of Interest to Americans

Southwark cathedral, one of London's ancient churches, known to Londoners as the "Church of the Hole," is falling into decay, says an article in the Montreal Family Herald. Shakespeare used to attend divine services there. His brother, Edmund, is buried in the church. John Harvard, whose donations founded Harvard university, was baptized there in 1607. Some years ago the steeple of Harvard cathedral is the only English church in which a Fourth of July celebration ever was held. This took place some years ago. Shakespeare and his contemporaries used to come over to Southwark to see their plays produced. They often lodged in Southwark and attended the cathedral services. In recognition of these visits, there is now a memorial window to the famous Elizabethan dramatist in the cathedral.

The collection was made by Princess Elizabeth, daughter of George III of England.—German Tourist Bureau.

Five-Day Week Common Forty Centuries Ago

Soviet Russia, in establishing a five-day week, merely adopted a calendar which was in use more than forty centuries ago among the ancient Hittites and Assyrians, Dr. L. J. Gelb of the Oriental Institute at the University of Chicago, discovered.

Tablets containing the business correspondence of some Assyrian merchants who went to trade in the Hittite city about 2300 B. C., were also found. Their messages were inscribed on clay, which were baked into brick. The tablets disclose that the credit ratings of the Hittites were none too good with the Assyrian visitors.

The visiting merchants charged the local business men from 50 to 60 per cent for loans, and one Assyrian lender got 180 per cent and a bonus in honey.

The terms never exceeded six months, and there was no difficulty in enforcing a judgment. If the borrower didn't pay, he became the slave of his creditor. Between themselves, the Assyrians loaned money at from 20 to 30 per cent.

The borrowers were not without legal protection, however, it was disclosed by one tablet deciphered by Doctor Gelb. "I am returning here with the half mina of silver which I owe you," the debtor wrote, "and if you again request payment, I have the right to kill you."

Flax Cultivation Old Matter to the Maoris
The application of science to industry has done much to increase the productivity of New Zealand soil, but in one instance at least science has now only discovered what the old-time Maoris knew 100 years ago.

This fact was readily admitted by Dr. E. Marsden, secretary of the New Zealand department of scientific and industrial research, when discussing the development of the flax industry. Doctor Marsden said the Maoris had a complete knowledge of the varieties of flax suitable for their several purposes.

Three of the best varieties used by the department for breeding and crossing have been obtained from old Maori women. Some of the plants owned by these Maoris had been maintained for specific uses for the past 100 years, and the knowledge of the peculiar properties of the different varieties possessed by the aged cultivators had surprised the research officers.

An ideal wife is one who saves her own vocal chords and her husband's money.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Japanese Customs Odd to Visiting Westerners

At the door of a theater or a restaurant the Japanese hand the attendant their shoes instead of their hats. At a dinner the sweets, if they come at all, are served early in the meal instead of toward the end. Acting in the theater is modeled not on life, but on the movements of dolls in marionette shows, and in the classic "No" drama the possibility of showing emotion by facial expression is eliminated by the use of carved wooden masks.

And, where the people have not been "civilized" out of their natural courtesy, a chauffeur will refuse to pass another on the road from motives of politeness. To us the Japanese method of beckoning would signify "go away."

Boats are beached stern foremost; horses are backed into their stalls, sawing and planing are done with a pulling motion; keys are turned in their locks in a reverse direction from that which is customary with us.

Detail Overlooked
When an anonymous donor recently mailed $150 in currency to the city chamberlain of Glasgow, Scotland, toward the city's debt, he neglected to put a stamp on the envelope.

Fitted to Custom

It has long been a custom for the cars of the Chicago & North Western to be fitted to the custom of the passengers. This, however, is the only one of the practices which the company has adopted. The cars are fitted to the custom of the passengers, and the company has adopted this practice.

John Barrymore in 'State's Attorney' Coming to Catlow

Edward G. Robinson in 'Two Seconds' Booked for July 4 and 5

DANCE

At the North Lake Zurich Park, 3 Miles North of Lake Zurich on Road.

Every Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday Evenings.

5c per dance. No Charge for Admission or Parking.

Steady Company, romantic film of flying fists and fluttering hearts will play The Catlow theatre Saturday night, with Norman Foster in June Clyde appearing in the feature leads.

The story is built around a young truckdriver who falls in love with a pretty blonde telephone operator and who immediately determines to get fame and fortune for her to court him.

The girl thinks her hero has been going to night school to become a surgeon and when he surprises her with a handful of newspaper clippings that laud him in his first prize fight he receives rebuke instead of enthusiasm.

Included in the short subjects are "Perfect Control," a comedy and cartoon, "The production of a woman," the production in which Warner Baxter portrays the role of a lover involved in the international intrigue of the nation's capital, comes to the local screen Sunday night.

The story deals with the friendship of two men, the ties of which are broken when a woman comes into their lives. It leads to jealousy, hatred, romance and tragedy, but, in the end the men again become friends as both defend the woman when she becomes involved in a murder.

Karen Morley, recently in "Arise, Lucifer," portrays the leading female role. Others in the cast are Constance Tarnie, Lillian Bond, and Alan Mowbray.

Additional subjects added to Sunday's program are Ring Crosby in "Dream House," news, "Kitty Cartwright," and "The Broadway production of 'Two Seconds'." Vivienne Osborne and Guy Kibbee.

Short subjects of unusual interest are added to this program.

Two stars appear in the cast of "State's Attorney," the picture booked for Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday nights of next week.

John Barrymore is starred in the production, "Blonde Helen." Twelve times the star supporting him in the feature lead.

In the past, stars have jealously guarded their starring privileges by refusing lines are being eliminated from productions strong enough to warrant sacrificing the individual honor that goes with stardom. Such a picture as "State's Attorney," a powerful drama of the courtrooms, and a clashing love and ambition.

In addition to Miss Twelvevores Barrymore is supported by William Boyd, of stage and screen; Mary Duncan, and Jill Emond.

Longevity of Elephants
No accurate information is obtainable as to the extreme age an elephant reaches in the wild state. Nor is there any positive evidence available that one ever lived to be more than seventy-five years old either in captivity or the wild state, although it is supposed that one may occasionally live to be ninety-five or one hundred years old. The director of the New York Zoological park states that the extreme lifespan of wild animals may be estimated with a fair degree of accuracy by multiplying by four or five the number of years which the young of the species requires to reach maturity. Elephants reach maturity at about twenty-five and begin to get old at sixty or sixty-five.

State News

Brandon, director of the State Department of Public Welfare, has announced.

On June 1 Chicago celebrated World's Fair day, by proclamation of Mayor Cermak, to direct attention to the fact that the Century of Progress exposition opens officially one year from that date. On the exposition grounds, the Hall of Science was dedicated with appropriate ceremony.

About 600 baby quail have made their appearance on the state fair game farm. Director Ralph F. Bradford, of the State Department of Conservation has been informed. This is the first hatch of the season. Several thousand birds were distributed throughout the state last year.

A biographical memorial tablet was dedicated to Abraham Lincoln at Bloomington on June 2, commemorating and marking the site where Lincoln wrote the only biography of his early life. It was placed on the east side of the McLean county courthouse and was dedicated under the auspices of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Gamma chapter of Epsilon Sigma Omicron Honor society has been organized by the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs. The purpose of the society is to further the education of its members by means of reading courses. The reading courses eligible for certification are those published by the American Library association, the Illinois Library Extension division and the United States Bureau of Education. The Library Extension division enrolls the women in the society, loans the books listed in the outlines, when obtainable through member's local library, and issues certificates for each course satisfactory completed, upon the submission of written reviews of the books included in the course.

The two free-for-all events on the Grand Circuit harness racing program scheduled for the Illinois State Fair, August 20 to 27, have attracted fields of starters that assure fast time, close finishes, and thrilling demonstrations of race track generalship.

Almost twice as many cases of malaria have been reported in Illinois this year as during the corresponding period of 1931, the state department of health has announced.

At the end of May, case reports this year stood at 45 against 20 for that period of last year. Furthermore, the statement continued, during 1931 the 501 cases reported gave by far the highest recorded annual incidence of that disease in Illinois for more than a decade.

Employment in Illinois coal mines, at low ebb during April because working contracts ended March 31, showed some improvement during May, according to the monthly production report issued by John G. Millhouse, director of the state department of mines and minerals. There was a 23.3 per cent increase in the number of mines working; 40.3 per cent more men were on the payroll and the output for May was 45.3 per cent more than that of the preceding month, according to the records.

Depredations of Birds

The fickleness among allied nations and their shifting from one side to another in different wars has a counterpart in the course conducted by some of man's allies in the war on insect pests. The birds, for instance, sometimes do tremendous damage to crops through the damage to young shoots first coming through the ground and to the entire crop through the eating of seed. Fruit trees and berry bushes also suffer from the depredations of birds.

In spite of the damage they do, however, the birds as a usual thing are to be found on the side of man when it comes to the war with insects. It has been noted by experts studying the insect problem that any unusual outbreak of pests usually finds the birds flocking to the section where the outbreak has occurred. Every insect seems to have an overwhelming number of enemies among the birds. The gypsy moth, for instance, is eaten by 40 different types of birds. The cotton boll weevil is attacked by 60, the army worm by 43, the leaf hoppers by 175, the potato beetle by 34 and the wireworm by 205.

The birds, when they feed on the insects, really set themselves down to serious eating. One killdeer, shot and examined for research purposes, had 383 alfalfa weevils in its stomach while a blackbird was found to have 442. Such a capacity for insects makes the birds welcome allies when the insect outbreaks are on, no matter how much they may be opposed to the best interests of man when they are carrying on their own depredating activities.—Washington Star.

Device That Records

Defects in Machinery

Patterned after the earthquake-detecting seismograph, a miniature instrument has been developed to measure the vibrations of heavy machinery running at full speed. Thus flaws in construction are detected and remedied before the piece leaves the factory.

The instrument records vibrations so slight that they can be measured only in thousandths of an inch. Popular Science Monthly reports, in use, the case of the instrument, containing a hanging lead weight, is bolted to the machine being tested, and vibrates with it. The lead weight, because of its inertia, tends to remain stationary. Bar magnets on the vibrating case generate a minute electric current as they move past coils on the stationary weight.

This current, recorded on a sensitive meter, affords an accurate measure of the degree of vibration.

Tree Adopts Temple

In the dense forests of French Indo-China there is a temple which has stood for many centuries. Many years ago a tree began growing from the soil which had lodged between the cracks of the rocky roof. In the course of time the roots of this tree twined themselves around the temple. The building is believed to have been erected about 1,000 years ago. There is no record of when the tree began to grow. Each year it takes a firmer grip upon the little temple and shoots its roots farther and farther into the surrounding ground until only the steps and the entrance are clear.

His Way

There had been a somewhat heated argument in the club card room, and when the battle was over one of the younger members present sought advice from an old member wise in the ways of cards and card players.

"Question is, sir, if one is playing against opponents weaker than oneself in knowledge of the game, should one point out errors, or should one remain silent?"

"As a younger man," said the old player, "I used to try to be helpful, but now I think heaven silently, keep my face straight, and take their money."—London Tit-Bits.

Clew to Happiness

I am middle-aged and my life seems to have lost all savor; mourns a correspondent. New thought is new life and renewed life. Make a new plan, find hope in carrying it out, and forget your years.—London Tit-Bits.

Hart-Smith Nuptial

The marriage ceremony of Miss Polly Hart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Stillion Hart, to Harold Byron Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Smith of Lake Forest, was performed at 5 p. m. Saturday in the gardens at Hartwood, the country home of the bride's parents, one mile west of Barrington.

The bride entered the garden on her father's arm, who gave her in marriage. They walked on a long white carpet. The bride was dressed in white satin, trimmed with heirloom lace. Her wedding dress formed a long train, and the tulle veil fell from a simple cap and was fastened by a spray of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor, Miss Betty Hart, and the bridesmaids, Miss Anne Smith, Miss Isabel Gordon, Miss Caroline McNair, Miss Betty Smith, and Miss Betty Seely of Montreal, wore white chiffon gowns and large white horsehair garden hats with crowns of white velvet flowers. They carried bouquets of garden flowers.

Cyrus H. Adams III of Lake Forest was best man for Mr. Smith and the ushers were Edward Baumann, Keith Bowman, Donald Bateman, John P. McWilliams II, George Bent, and George Healey of Newark, O.

The wedding ceremony was conducted by Rev. Dudley Stark of St. Chrysostom's church, Chicago. Following the service Mr. and Mrs. Smith left for a trip into Canada. They will later live in Barrington.

Cleveland's Beginning

Moses Cleveland was never a resident of the city of Cleveland, the place he founded and named. He was a solid citizen, honored and well established in his own Connecticut community. He did not migrate to the West, but came to the reserve for the purpose of exploring, surveying and laying out part of the properties of the Connecticut Land company, of which he was a member. General Cleveland and his surveyors arrived at the mouth of the Cuyahoga on July 22, 1790. About the middle of October they left again for the East, having no desire to be overtaken by winter while en route. The work was not finished, and other surveying parties came out in subsequent years.

More Marriages, Fewer Divorces in Lake County, 1931

Cook County Shows Marked Decrease in Number of Unions

An increase in the number of marriages and a decrease in divorces in Lake county in 1931 as compared with 1930 is shown in a report issued by the census bureau of the department of commerce. In 1931 there were 5,156 marriages and 194 divorces as compared with 4,779 marriages and 190 divorces in 1930.

Excluding Cook county, the state of Illinois showed an increase in marriages of 582 couples in 1931, as compared with 1930. Cook county's decrease in the number of marriages of 4,908 brought the figure for the state down to 4,326 fewer marriages than in 1930. McHenry, Kane, and DuPage counties showed an increase in marriages, but only DuPage county had an increase in number of divorces.

Census returns showed that there were 71,035 marriages performed in Illinois during 1931 as compared with 75,961 in 1930, indicating a decrease of 5.7 per cent. The total number of divorces granted in the state during 1931 was 13,883 against 15,432 in 1930, a decrease of 10 per cent. There were 204 marriages annulled in 1931 and 203 in 1930.

In 1931 Cook county led in the number of marriages with a total of 30,493; Lake was second with 5,156, and its nearest competitor was Madison county with 2,150.

The county at the bottom of the list in the number of divorces is Brown which is recorded with only one, while there were three counties that had three divorces—Kendall, Marshall and Putnam. Putnam had the lowest number of marriages with but 27 while Brown ranked second with 61. Both Scott and Calhoun counties had 63 marriages.

The figures for the number of marriages was furnished by the county clerks of the various counties, and data for the divorces was given out by the clerk of the circuit court of each county and by city clerks having divorce jurisdiction. Although the figures for 1930 are authentic, those for 1931 are preliminary, according to the census bureau, and are subject to correction.

461 Auto Accident Victims in State in Four Months

A total of 461 people were killed in automobile accidents in Illinois during the first four months of 1932, according to statistics issued by the state department of public health.

Based upon the estimate that 30 people suffer painful and more or less serious injuries for each fatality due to auto accidents, the health authorities have calculated that some 13,830 people have suffered more or less pain, disfigurement or disability since January 1, as the result of motor transportation. The records show that of 123 fatalities in April, 9 were due to monoxide gas poisoning—a cause of death that can be prevented by guarding against fumes from motors running in close quarters.

America's "Kangaroo"

The nearest thing native to North America to a kangaroo is the so-called jumping mouse. This small forest and field rodent with a head and body length of not more than three inches can leap as much as 15 feet in a single bound. Its hind legs, suggestive of the kangaroo, are much longer than the forelegs and are used in the huge leaps the kangaroo effects on a larger scale.

The jumping mouse is a night-roaming animal, seldom making an appearance in the daytime. It feeds almost exclusively on grain and seeds. It is sought after by most of the smaller predaceous animals.

Fruits in Temperate Zone

The squillid, the chayote, the akee, breadfruit, jackfruit, mannos, sapodilla and durian are some of the tropical fruits that are not yet common in the markets of the temperate zone. Tomatoes, eggplants, pomegranates, limes, oranges, lemons, grapefruit, bananas, pineapples, figs, dates and alligator pears are as familiar as many of the native fruits of the temperate zone.

Why the Coolerator Is Different

The Coolerator is not an ordinary refrigerator. The Coolerator gives a constant temperature. It does this because the air in the food compartment is circulated only under the ice instead of over the top and down the sides like old fashioned refrigerators.

This means shorter travel for the air from the food compartment and as a result faster circulation.

Instead of only one little spot under the ice being refrigerated as is the case with old fashioned refrigerators, the entire food compartment is thoroughly chilled.

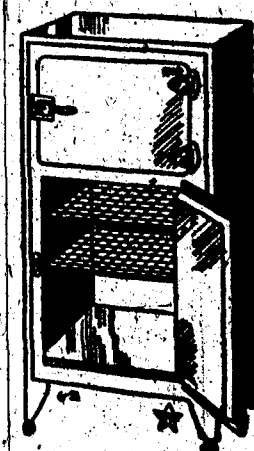

And best of all, the low temperature in the food compartment is maintained constantly whether the ice chamber is full or nearly empty, because the circulation is only under the ice.

The air in the space above the ice in a Coolerator is inactive. It does not circulate through the food chamber.

COOLERATOR AIR CIRCULATION

1. Ice melts only from the bottom. Always the same ice exposure.
2. Air from food chamber is thoroughly washed in passing through fog between ice cake and drain pan.
3. Warm air returns to ice at the front.
4. Cold, clean air comes down across the entire rear of the food chamber. The entire food chamber is really cold.

This scientific principle of correct air circulation assures a constant, safe temperature and a uniform food chamber temperature at all points on only two icings a week even in the hottest of weather.

FOR A SAFE FOURTH

This year most of the nation will celebrate the Fourth of July with a three-day holiday. Such a long period for recreation is awaited eagerly by us all. Yet its unusual length doubles the hazards and danger to which we will be exposed.

Independence Day is known as the worst accident day of the year. This year may break the tragic record unless everyone guards himself closely and observes all safety rules. A list of "don'ts", all excellent advice follows:

If you drive your car—DRIVE SAFELY:

1. Don't drive recklessly—it's a long holiday and there's plenty of time.

2. Don't take out your car unless it is in first-class condition.

3. Don't drive on the wrong side of the road—keep to the right.

4. Don't drive too long without resting—mental lapses due to fatigue cause accidents.

5. Don't pass other cars unless you have a clear view ahead; don't cut in and out of traffic lines; don't pass or fail to slow down at intersections.

If you go swimming—SWIM SAFELY:

1. Don't attempt marathon races by swimming too long or too far.

2. Don't venture out into too deep water if you're not a strong swimmer.

3. Don't swim away from the crowd—"In unity there is strength."

4. Don't indulge in ducking others or in frightening weak swimmers or children.

5. Don't lie too long in the sun—sun poisoning is injurious and can be fatal.

If you celebrate with fireworks—CELEBRATE SAFELY:

1. Don't hold lighted firecrackers in your hand or throw them close to others.

2. Don't explode firecrackers near combustible materials.

3. Don't celebrate with guns loaded with real cartridges or shot; firecrackers and toy cap pistols are dangerous enough.

4. Don't fail to treat injuries, even the most minor ones, immediately and intelligently. Tetanus poisoning works slowly but surely.

5. Don't get too close to a display of fireworks—premature explosions occur.

WHAT THE NEW TAXES MEAN

A recent Associated Press dispatch from Washington gave an interesting insight into what the new revenue bill will mean to the wage earner.

A married business man with one child, having a net income of $6,000, will pay an income tax to the federal government of $124 as against $29.43 in the past. If he buys a $600 automobile he will have to pay a new tax of $18 plus 60 cents for taxes on tires, etc. If he uses 700 gallons of gasoline during the year and 30 gallons of lubricating oil, he will pay a tax of $8.20 in addition to state gas and oil taxes. If his wife gets a $200 fur coat the tax will be $20.

If he makes home brew he will pay about $3 in taxes on malt. His wife's perfumes, powder, etc., will cost another $3. If he buys a $75 radio and pays $100 for an electric refrigerator, the taxes will be $3.75 and $5, respectively. He will pay increased taxes on cameras, electricity, matches, the telephone and a hundred other commodities and services. If he spends $2 a week for shows and movies, the treasury will get $10 from him by the end of the year.

His total direct taxes will be about $310, as against about $174 under the old rates—an increase of $236.

It looks as if the new bill will fatten a depleted treasury but it's going to make a deep hole in the public pocketbook. And these taxes are only a beginning unless definite steps are taken to curb the expense of government, the cost of which increases like compound interest as the number of public employes grows.

LEARN HOW TO WALK

An extremely important phase of the automobile accident problem is carelessness or ignorance on the part of the pedestrian. During 1931, pedestrian deaths reached 14,500, out of a total of 34,400 caused by automobiles, and the number of pedestrians injured non-fatally was 300,000. Consequently, if we are to make definite progress in reducing deaths and injuries, we must teach the public to walk.

In the case of the walker on the highway at night, the old rule of "Keep to the right" may be suicidal—the left side is the right side. Wearing dark clothing increases the hazard because of its invisibility. Weather conditions are all important, and at the hour between light and darkness, when the pedestrian tends to blend into the background and figuratively disappear, he must be extremely careful, inasmuch as the driver may not be able to see him at all, and hence cannot take care of him.

Carelessness in crossing streets, stepping suddenly out from between parked cars, walking around the end of a street car into traffic and thoughtlessness and abstraction regarding traffic lights, crowd disaster, if pedestrians can learn "good walking practices," deaths and injuries from automobiles will be reduced.

THE TAX FUTURE

1913 government expenditures of all kinds represented 8.5 per cent of the national income; by 1929 the proportion had reached 15.3 per cent.

This year the national income will be about 40 per cent below the 1929 level, while government expenditures of all kinds have increased. As a result, it is forecast that government will absorb not less than 30 per cent of the national income.

The prospect for the future, unless there is an immediate and aggressive public demand for economy, is bleak indeed.

Church News

FIRST BAPTIST

Bible school, 9:30; morning worship, 10:35; prayer service, 7:30 Wednesday evening.

The pastor's subject next Sunday morning will be, "America and Its Author." It was July 4, 1832 that this great national hymn was first sung in public.

The composite church choir will lead the congregational singing, and there are to be vocal solos by Miss Blanche Frye and Ilo B. Shepard.

CHARLES R. DRUSSEL, Pastor.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL

We do well to include plans for our presence at and participation in a worship and prayer hour in our over-the-Fourth of July plans. In times like these such a challenge comes to us as patriotic citizens. We therefore urge those not worshipping elsewhere to come with us at the 10:35 a. m. hour of worship, prayer, music and sermon.

RELIEF EXPENDITURES

As an outlet for surplus labor, highways offer the best opportunity inasmuch as they are about the only thing that can be produced without glutting the market, according to the president of the American Association of State Highway Officials.

Some 5,000,000 American farmers are still situated on roads that become impassable in winter, preventing them from marketing their goods at the most advantageous time from sending their children to school, from receiving quick medical attention when needed, from keeping social contacts, etc.

The expenditure of a road dollar serves a double purpose, in that it puts money in circulation while actually providing something we need, and so is not to be confused with "relief" appropriations that put money into circulation but do little permanent good. Placing a man to work on a road means that we provide another one with work somewhere else supplying materials.

It is said that the country could build a hundred thousand miles of good roads now and make use of every mile. There is something worth striving for. Every state and every county must do its part. Modern developments which have made it possible to build fine weatherproof, full-width highways for a very few thousand dollars a mile, allows us to do needed road work without plunging ourselves into debt.

FARMERS ARE THE BIG FACTOR

When it comes to the dairy industry, we hear more about the distributors of milk products than of the farmers who do the actual producing. But, from the economic standpoint, the distributors are pretty small fry when compared to the farmers.

The dairy industry represents an investment of $10,250,000,000. Of this amount about $9,000,000,000 represents the farmers' investment in land, buildings and equipment. The distributors' investment is the balance—$1,250,000,000.

In other words, the 3,000,000 farmers who own the cows and the farms and produce the milk, are a good deal more important than the 30,000 distributors, even though the latter are necessary to the business. Yet, the farmer gets the short end of the stick. When prices are reduced, the cut is usually taken out of his share. As a result, at a time when millions of farmers are losing money and few are making profits, other factors in the dairy industry are making as large a unit profit as they ever did.

The cooperative movement is the farmers' hope for remedying this condition. The fact that millions of farmers have created and are loyally supporting thousands of cooperatives throughout the country, is a fine augury for the agricultural future.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

By National Editorial Association (Special to The Review)

PRESIDENT HOOVER'S action on the relief measure now awaiting his attention will determine the duration of the congressional sessions it is candidly admitted in all partisan camps. If he exercises his power of veto it is obvious that the advocates of the measure cannot muster the two-thirds vote in both senate and house necessary to override the disapproval. Then, a prolonged session will be inevitable with the president and congressional campaigns centered in Washington instead of scattered around the country.

A VETO IS THREATENED, but it is argued that the chief executive would probably choose the lesser of two evils—patch-work relief bill contrary to his own ideas of economics rather than the menace of continued wrangling when the nation is calling for adjournment. If a decision could be based on his feelings as a president and not as a chosen candidate for reelection, the prophets say Mr. Hoover would return the Wagner-Garner bills post-haste without his signature. Campaign obligations frequently temper men's minds and actions.

CONGRESS is fully conscious of another angle and makes the most of the knowledge. The democrats have indicated that economic issues will be featured over the prohibition controversy. This procedure, if adopted, means that the politicians in all groups will play their game around the people's heartstrings and purse. The legislators would like to quit now before the president has an opportunity to veto or sign. Yet, they realize that it is impossible under present trend of public opinion to leave their bundle on the white house door-step and scamper to their homes. There is an incipient rebellion noted in the house and senate against adjournment which may prevent home-ward treks. Only a foolhardy solon would leave his post of duty no matter how much his political fences require repair.

THE ANTAGONISM against presidential commissions and congressional investigating committees has been pronounced at this session. Many proposals for creation of special groups of inquiry have been defeated as "economy measures." The house has authorized a special probe into the management of the post office department, especially relating to the letting of contracts for buildings, air and ocean mail, and other places where favoritism plays an important part. One legislator denounced this new investigation as a "smelling committee." It is not worthy that relatively few fishing expeditions into public affairs have been authorized. In each instance the congress has curbed the expenses which prevent junkets during the summer and fall.

FAIRNESS REQUIRES the admission that at least three probes are expected to justify the expenditure. The senate inquiry of stock market frauds is in response to public clamor, mostly from millions of victims of stock manipulation. The subcommittee of the house committee on Ways and Means has an important assignment in bringing tax studies up to date for the December session. Chairman Vison has explained to this writer that his committee wants complete data on the effects of double taxation in this country and abroad. They will endeavor to have a comprehensive report ready showing the increasing burden of federal, state and local taxes. The congressional leaders recognize that the new tax measure is an emergency proposition which must be corrected at an early date. The house committee probing government competition with private industry is scheduled to submit concrete proposals for a complete change in governmental policies.

NEW FISCAL year begins Friday with all government agencies in a turmoil. The reduction in salaries and changes in personnel were authorized a few days ago with resultant morale disorders overnight. Political pressure to retain federal posts has been of little avail under the stress of saving in departmental expenditures.

THE ACTIVITIES of the joint committees of leading industrialists and bankers in each of the twelve federal reserve districts is expected to stimulate business immediately. These groups are attempting to break down the uncertainty in financial circles about loans for industry and agriculture, supplementing the activities of the reconstruction finance corporation in relief work.

The Devil's Marks

In many parts of the Emerald Isle there are to be found traces of the devil. In beautiful Wicklow is the Devil's Glen cut out by the angry, slashing of Old Nick's tail when he came to lure a fair maiden from her convent. In Tipperary is the Devil's bite—a huge bite taken out of the mountain range and spat down to the plain below where it still stands as the Rock of Cashel. Then, of course, in Killarney is the Devil's punch bowl—but all it contains in these days is pure water.

Why Worry?

It is not what you do when you work that kills, but what you do when you do not work. It is worry and fear that disturb. It is unnecessary anxiety that makes for illness. Why not put by those foolish fears and through all this great year be fearless and free, strong and glad?

Wandering From This to That

Museum to Be Open July 4

To accommodate thousands of persons who find holidays the most convenient time to make museum visits, Field Museum of Natural History will remain open to the public all day Monday, July 4, during the usual hours from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. It was announced today by Stephen C. Simms, director of the institution. The exhibits have been greatly augmented since this time a year ago, and visitors will find much new material of great interest in all departments—anthropology, botany, geology and zoology.

Guide-lecture tours for the general public next week will include "Horned and Hoofed Animals" on Wednesday, and "Prehistoric Life" on Friday, while on Tuesday and Thursday there will be general tours of anthropological, botanical and zoological exhibits. All of these tours, conducted by staff lecturers, begin at 3 p. m. Any museum visitors are welcome to join the parties, which assemble inside the north entrance.

Gasoline Consumption Increases

Gasoline consumption in the United States last year was 16,719,239,000 gallons representing an increase of 5 per cent over 1930.

Luna Goes to Work

Focusing moonlight through a 14-inch lens, engineers have made the beam do the work of a copper wire. Men spoke to a radio network audience and to foreign countries by short wave over the beam. When a whistle was blown near the microphone it tripped relays and this turned on the floodlighting system of the new Cities Service building in New York.

Two Billions Spent on Roads

A total of $2,200,000,000 was expended for street and highway facilities throughout the country last year. The expenditure on streets was $500,000,000, and on highways, $1,700,000,000.

Children's Entertainment Announced

The James Nelson and Anna Louise Raymond foundation for public school and children's lectures today announced a summer series of free entertainments for children, to be given at Field Museum of Natural History during July and August. Following is the schedule of dates and the features to each:

July 7—Motion picture: "Winners of the West." Two showings, one at 10 a. m. and one at 11.

July 14—10 a. m., story hour, "Life in the South Seas" (illustrated with colored pictures); 11 a. m., tour of South Seas exhibits.

July 21—Motion picture: "Adventures in the Far North." Two showings, one at 10 a. m. and one at 11.

July 28—10 a. m., story hour, "Queer Birds of Other Lands" (illustrated with colored pictures); 11 a. m., tour of exhibits of birds.

Aug. 4—10 a. m., motion pictures, "Glimpses of South America"; 11 a. m., tour of South American exhibits.

Aug. 11—Motion pictures, "Animals at Rest and Play." Two showings, one at 10 a. m. and one at 11.

Children from all parts of the city and suburbs are invited to attend. Stephen C. Simms, director of the museum, announces

Motor Industry Provides Work

The motor vehicle industry in the United States last year provided direct and indirect employment for 4,030,000 workers, it has been estimated. This group is said to represent 9.5 per cent of the total gainful workers in the country.

STATE CAPITOL NEWS

Hiram L. Williamson, Illinois Press Association

The state has just recently retired $1,050,000 of anticipation notes, according to a report issued from the office of the State Auditor Oscar Nelson. Of that total, one million dollars has been issued against general revenue and the other $50,000 was against the University of Illinois fund. Retirement leaves outstanding obligations of $23,700,000 divided as follows: $10,800,000 borrowed against other funds in the state treasury; $400,000 in revenue notes for the University of Illinois fund purchased by the First National bank of Chicago; and $12,500,000 of notes sold for emergency unemployment relief.

The period from June 18 to Sept. 25 has been designated as the outdoor small arms target practice season for the Illinois National Guard, Adj. Gen. Carlos E. Black has announced. Shooting this summer will be limited because of the lack of money, with the target practice done by the men who need it most usually the first year men who have had no previous shooting. Schedules for shooting will be worked out by units in each locality. Automatic rifles, machine rifles, pistols and machine guns will be used.

Illinois was adding to its state and county highway systems at the rate of 38.3 miles per week, June 8, according to the tabulation of road construction work for the week that ended on that day.

Although the corn borer probably will advance closer to Illinois during the coming season, it looms as less of a threat to the state's principal crop than it is viewed in the light of "epidemic" experiments being conducted by the College of Agriculture.

How to play Bridge AUCTION and CONTRACT

By Wynne Ferguson

Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

ARTICLE No. 32

One important point about Auction and Contract that most players overlook is that when you bid, you are looking to buy something. It is really an auction and the privilege of placing the hand is what you are bidding for. Once that point is firmly fixed in your mind, let your bidding mean something, let it be backed by common sense and good judgment. If you attend an auction sale, you go with the idea of getting something for your money and with that end in view you exercise good judgment.

The same business judgment should be applied to the games of Auction and Contract, and you will soon get the good results. Don't make wild bids or take chances unless the angle warrants it.

To illustrate: as a young score, don't overbid your hand if you are in no danger; on the other hand, if you are in danger, then it is advisable to overbid. Take no chances unless the odds are more than offset by the risk you are taking. On the other hand, don't allow the risk of losing a trick or so to keep you from bidding when the proper justification is there.

The following hand illustrates the value of the shut-out Auction or at Contract when properly used:

Horse vs. Motor Contest Results From Runaway; Horse Yields to Motor

According to most modern thinkers "the horse has had its day," but one particular horse owned by Silas Jayne of the Chicago highlands, has not yet passed out of the picture. At least that is the opinion that the residents of the north side of Barrington got on Monday when Mr. Jayne's horse broke loose from its hitching post at the Krone Service station on Northwest highway, and four hours of chasing were required before the animal could be caught.

James Bailey, state highway policeman, made several futile attempts to capture the horse. He pursued the animal on his motorcycle through the Kainer and MacIntosh subdivisions. Many others saw Mr. Jayne's predicament and chased the horse in cars and on foot. Finally, at one o'clock in the afternoon the horse lost the contest when a rope was successfully thrown around his neck from an automobile.

Collections Total $84,000 in State Bank Liquidation

Income Ahead of Expense Liquidation of Closed Institution

Income has exceeded expense the extent of $1,346.44 in the process of liquidating the closed First Bank of Barrington, according to statement prepared by William J. Jr., receiver. The statement shows the resources, liabilities, receipts, disbursements up to June 30. The report shows receipts up to June 30 to be $42,900.11, bringing the total receipts in the liquidation procedure to $84,000.33. Total expenses of liquidation to the time the bank closed on January 28 is given at $4,874.13. The income during the same time amounted to $2,200.57, giving a credit of $1,346.44. Explanation of this is given in fact that the bank's earnings on loans continued after the bank closes as interest on deposits owed the closing bank.
