White Robin Frequents Grove Avenue Gardens

A pure white robin has caused quite a little interest among residents on Grove avenue during the last week. The bird has been a frequent visitor in the gardens of Mr. and Mrs. William Thorp, 517 Grove avenue and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Virden, 616 Grove avenue.

White robins, known as albinos, are considered rare, especially when they are entirely white like the one in Barrington. Except for having no color pigment whatsoever the bird is no different from any other robin. Its size, song, flight, and other characteristics are identical with an ordinary robin. The bird is frequently seen bathing in a bird bath, and it keeps its plumage in a snow-white condition. Its eyes are red, a natural condition with all pure albinos.

Little is known to scientists regarding the cause of albinism, although it is thought to be either an absence or degeneration of the pigment to some form of physical weakness. The condition is quite common among domestic animals including white mice and rabbits.

A white blackbird and a white crow have been observed in Barrington before, but this is the first report of a white robin.

Firemen Willing to Tackle Rural Protection Job

Village Protection Must Not Be Impaired, Board Declares

Several obstacles in the path of a successful plan for rural fire protection appeared at the joint meeting Friday night of the village board, fire department, and other interested persons, but advocates of the plan found some in one thing—the fire department is willing.

One of the obstacles is insurance rates inside of Barrington. The fire fighting equipment here can not be impaired by tying up part of it for fighting rural fires. Another is that firemen's compensation rates must not be increased by adding to the duties of the force. These are obstacles which can be removed, the board felt.

The cost of a new truck for rural use was estimated at $2,500, fully equipped. Such a truck would have strong pumping motor, sufficient hose for connecting the pump with a stream, cistern, or lake reasonably near the scene of a fire, and would have a 200 gallon water reserve tank. Such a tank would be kept full of water while not in use and could be easily opened and replenished by bucket brigade or pumped in through an extension hose during use.

The cost of equipping one of the old Barrington trucks and placing it in extra good condition for rural use was estimated at $1,400. Further investigation will be made and the matter considered at another board meeting.

In case a truck is purchased it will be paid for out of a subscription fund raised by rural residents who want the fire protection.

Mrs. Fowler-McCormick,
Son, Hurt in Separate
Airplane Accidents

Two airplane accidents in the same family occurred Wednesday evening when Mrs. Effie Stillman McCormick and her son, Alexander, were slightly injured in separate landing accidents.

The young man, who was making a solo flight from New York to Sky Harbor, near Barrington, elected a landing in a pasture near Gary when approaching darkness made further flight hazardous. The plane turned over and was damaged in landing. The pilot received two deep head cuts and deep bruises. He limped across a field to a nearby highway from where he picked up a ride to a hospital in Gary.

A message was sent to Mr. and Mrs. McCormick at Barrington, but they had gone to Sky Harbor to await the arrival of Alexander. The message was transferred to the airport. The McCormicks decided to go to the injured youth and charter a plane for Ford airport at Lansing, Ill., ten miles from Gary. Their plane turned over in landing at Ford airport, but the occupants were not hurt beyond slight bruises. They were taken by taxi to the hospital.

Lions Will Hold All Day Picnic Early in August

The annual all day picnic of the Barrington Lions club will be held early in August, according to sentiment expressed at a recent meeting of the club, but the place for the picnic has not been decided. Earl Schwemm is chairman of the picnic committee. The members favor a picnic cooked and prepared on the grounds, probably at some lake in the southern part of Wisconsin or in the extreme northern part of Illinois. Last year the Lions spent a day at Lake Lawa, on Delavan lake.

Hoffman Co. Gets Offer; No Decision Announced

Whether plans for the Hoffman Manufacturing Co.'s move to Barrington have been discarded or are hanging fire was not known today by members of the committee who held a favorable conference with Mr. Hoffman late in June.

The last report from Mr. Hoffman was to the effect that he is prepared to build a factory structure, estimated to cost somewhat more than $30,000 on a vacant lot near the railroad tracks.

Mr. Hoffman reported that he would build without requiring local financial assistance, although the members of the committee assured him that they would engineer a loan of $5,000 to help take care of operating expenses of the plant while it was being started. This of course would be protected by good security.

Several weeks have elapsed since the last meeting. No further information has been received by the manufacturer.

Barrington Post Goes Over Top in Membership Drive

The immediate goal for business organizations, lodges, institutions generally, and individuals is to keep their 1932 records from slipping below their 1931 records; but the Barrington post of the American Legion has already established a membership record equal to the one for last year.

In other words, Barrington post has gone over the top and reached its quota 100 per cent. At the regular meeting last Thursday evening, the post adjutant, T. M. Rolfe, announced 64 paid up members in the post, the same as last year. The Legion drive for membership, in competition with other posts, closes officially on Saturday, July 23.

Whether Barrington is to go over the top by equalling its own record of the year previous or whether it will exceed its last year record will be determined this week.

Famous "Drys" at Camp Meeting at Des Plaines

An eight day meeting of organized dry forces, united for a fight against repeal or modification of prohibition, will open at the Des Plaines camp near Des Plaines Sunday with morning, afternoon and evening meetings scheduled.

This Chicagoand dry assembly will be held under the auspices of the Illinois Conference of Associations supporting the eighteenth amendment. Speakers from all parts of the country will gather in Chicago to address the assembly. Dr. William A. "Billy" Sunday, and Bishop E. G. Richardson, national president of the anti-saloon league will speak on the moral and strictly political issues while Prof. Paul H. Douglas of the economics department of the University of Chicago and John E. Edgerton, chairman of the board of the National Association of manufacturers will touch on the business side of prohibition.

Reese, Carroll, Plagge Homes Win in Contest

Heat Wave Continues After Brief Relief

The heat wave which started Wednesday of last week reached its peak Friday when the high mark of the year, 94 degrees above zero, was registered at 3 p. m. The temperature began to drop off early Saturday morning, and although a 90 degree maximum was reached Saturday afternoon, that day and Sunday, when the maximum was 88 degrees, comprised a temporary relief for persons in the vicinity.

On Monday the temperature again reached 90 degrees and on Tuesday the high point was 92 degrees. On Wednesday the temperature climbed again to 94 degrees equalling the high mark of the year. The highest temperature Thursday was 93 degrees. Late Thursday afternoon the wind which had been blowing from the southwest slipped around to a northwest wind and the temperature began to fall. Weather observers predicted the end of the heat wave before Friday morning.

Rush to Get in on Installment Tax Pay Plan

Approximately $2,000 in tax installment money has been received by Cook county from Barrington township residents within the last week, the result of information published in the Barrington Review and elsewhere that 1933 taxes can be paid where they are levied.

Since the article appeared in the Review a week ago, there has been a rush of Barrington township residents to pay one-fourth of their 1933 taxes and apply for permission to pay the other three-fourths in three installments due in September, in November, and in January, 1934, a county official reported.

Next Monday, July 25, will be the final day for applying for the four installment plan. The plan is such that it not only gives the property owners the opportunity to get rid of the burden gradually but releases them from one-half of the penalty for paying late.

Approximately two-thirds of the 1930 Barrington township taxes have been paid to date. Approximately 95 per cent of 1929 taxes have been paid.

Local Church Plans Outing at Biltmore

Two hundred and forty people, members and friends of the St. Paul Evangelical church, will gather for their annual outing Sunday afternoon at the Biltmore Country club. The outing is sponsored by the Sunday school, Women's union, Gleaners club, and the Brotherhood of the church.

A basket lunch will be served at 5:30 p. m. after which the pastor, Rev. Hermann E. Koehn, will conduct a devotional service. The committee in charge of the outing requests that all who have no means of transportation to the grounds should assemble at the church not later than 1:30 p. m. where transportation will be made available. Small white flags will direct the route to the picnic grounds on the country club.

Attand Royal League Picnic

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Walgren and children, 216 Franklin street, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. L. Walgren and daughter Patricia of Edison Park and Miss Sigrid Walgren of Irving Park attended the Royal league picnic at the model farm near Mundelein Sunday.

Report Julian Green Hurt in Gun Accident

An unverified report has been received in Barrington that Julian Green of Evanston, formerly of Barrington, was wounded recently in Florida when a gun was accidentally discharged.

According to the report, Julian's father, Harry Green, was visiting in Michigan when he received word of the accident. He chartered an airplane to make the trip to Florida, but found that the wound was severe but not serious, it was said.

Details of the accident were not learned. Mr. and Mrs. Julian Green had spent the winter in Florida.

An Easy Choice

The future of agriculture is dependent on the choice the individual farmer makes today—whether he cooperates with his fellows for the common good, or whether he continues to do business as a separate entity in a world in which cooperation, in all lines, grows steadily more necessary. The former course means eventual prosperity and a sound and progressive agricultural structure.

Three Quarters of Mile of Paving In on Barr. Road

Will Pave From Algonquin
Road to Village by August 7

Approximately three-quarters of a mile of pavement has been laid on the Barrington road north of the Algonquin road, and road crew officials expect a mile of paving will be installed by the end of this week.

The paving crew started pouring concrete last Saturday at the Algonquin intersection working north towards Barrington. By August 1, the road will be completed to the Dundee road intersection and by August 7 to the village limits of Barrington, unless an unusual amount of rainy weather prevails to slow up the work.

Construction work has not been as rapid as was anticipated. Grading through several peat bogs south of Barrington has held back the program.

A grading crew will start work next week on the Barrington road between Higgins and U. S. highway 20 (Lake street). That part of the road, about 4½ miles long, will be finished by September 1, according to present plans.

A two mile stretch of the road between Higgins road and Algonquin road may not be done this year. It has been held up pending a dispute over right of way. The full route from Lake street to Barrington, as planned for paving, is 10 miles long.

The Barrington road extends north of town only to highway 22. Lake county surveyors have laid out a route, for possible 1933 construction, straight north to Wauconda.

Mrs. Mollie Chambers May Be Made Guardian of Billy Gale, Age 11

Mrs. Mollie Chambers of the Barrington Hills Country club has prepared a request to be made sole guardian of Billy Gale, the 11 year old son of Mrs. Dorothy Gale who died last week in the Grant hospital, Chicago, from injuries received in an automobile accident near Barrington. It is expected that she will be made the chief guardian over the child by a court action. A brother of the deceased has indicated his approval of such action.

Funeral services for Mrs. Gale were arranged by Mrs. Chambers and were held Friday morning at nine o'clock from the Danielson and Williamson funeral chapel. Burial was in Evergreen cemetery.

Mrs. Gale was employed as a waitress at the country club and was intimately acquainted with Mrs. Chambers, who assumed personal responsibility for the funeral arrangements.

School Building Being Renovated for Opening

The Barrington public school building is undergoing a few minor repairs preparatory to the fall opening on Tuesday, Sept. 6. The three janitors of the school have been busy for the past week applying white paint and enamel to all basement walls, locker rooms and lavatories. Other incidental repairs and improvements are also being taken care of, although there is considerable less work of that sort being done this year than usual.

The classes throughout the school will be conducted in much the same way as in previous years, according to a statement made by E. S. Smith, superintendent of the local schools. In the interest of economy a few curtailments have been made, including the suspension of the kindergarten department.

London

The city of London is said to have been originally Lyndin, a Celtic name signifying "town on the lake." The Romans called the place Londinium, adapting the native name to a Latin form, and the modern name is subsequent corruption.

Good Building Material

Adobe houses have stood for hundreds of years. The secret of longevity is a dry stone foundation, because moisture absorbed from the ground or from a defective roof is the chief cause of the crumbling adobe walls.

Plan Annual 4-H
Tour and Stock
Judging Contest

The annual tour and judging contest for livestock and dairy judging teams of the local 4-H clubs will be held Wednesday, July 20, and Thursday, July 21, respectively.

Lake County Team Flogs
McHenry County 22 to 2

The Lake County Farm Bureau Baseball team defeated the McHenry County Farm Bureau team at Harvard to the tune of 22-2, Saturday. William Bratzke pitched the full nine innings, allowing only eight scattered hits and striking out three men.

McHenry county used three pitchers and gave up 23 hits. Cremin got two three-base hits. Wilson and Wallace knocking two baggers. It looks as though Lake county has improved their lineup by playing Portage at first, Wallace at right, and alternating between pitching and centerfield with Pete Dowell and William Bratzke. With these changes, together with the brilliant fielding of Junior Frank Wilson and the stellar playing of Dore Cremin at short it makes a real defensive lineup. On the offensive, the team is well fortified with Cremin batting .484, Wallace batting .357, and Hironimus .314.

The team is now tied for first place with the DeKalb county team, which they are to play here July 30. They are to play Boone county at Belvidere on July 23.

Ancient Belief in Luck
of Four-Leafed Clover

The idea that a four-leafed clover will bring luck to the one who finds it is an ancient superstition, and there can be no way of learning for a certainty how it started. Old writers suggest that its resemblance to the form of the cross is the root of the notion.

"The person who carries a leaf of the four-leafed or cruciform clover about with him," asserts one of these, "will be successful at play, and he will dream of his beloved, or the maiden may, by slipping a leaf into her lover's shoes without his knowledge as he is about to set out on a journey, secure his sure and safe return to her embrace."

It may be noted that the three-leafed clover also had much virtue, because it symbolized the Trinity, and the tradition is that St. Patrick converted the whole Irish people to Christianity by showing them through the trifoliate leaf of the shamrock, how the three persons in the Godhead might exist and yet be one.

Lyre-Bird Stamp

In reproducing the lyre-bird on the first of its new series of stamps, Australia has chosen at once, perhaps, the best known and most elusive of antipodean birds. Its greatest claim to fame lies as much in its extraordinary powers of mimicry as in its brilliant tail feathers, the shape of which give the bird its name. It can, and does, imitate sounds, from the knocking laugh of the cockaburra to the sawing of wood, with the most deceptive accuracy imaginable. A curious habit of the lyre-bird is the building of "dancing mounds," on which it struts and minces while going through its program of mimicry. Probably the first white men to see a lyre-bird were members of an exploring party sent out, in January, 1793, from the infant settlement that later became Sydney.

Dogs' Wonderful Hearing

A dog can hear tones of a much higher pitch than the human ear can detect. Russian scientists have asserted that some dogs tested for this quality were found to hear sounds vibrating over 100,000 times a second while the human ear ceases when the sounds reach 20,000 vibrations a second.

Practical Advice
A well thought-up young lady, who can handle a car in the country, is a real scare of herself in traffic. I added recently to take a course one of the auto schools around a lumbus circle to brush up on driving.

To her utter amazement, so after she had started out on her first lesson, the instructor team over, close to her ear, and quivering softly: "Did I hear you call me a ding?"

"Sir," cried the young lady, not forgetting all about her driving, a turning to glare.

"That's just to teach you, Miss the instructor responds sternly, matter what anybody says to you keep your eyes on the road."—New Yorker.

The chemicals generally used in sky-writing are tar, with a certain amount of kerosene and kerosene alcohol. The machines used are equipped with smoke generator or ejector in the fuselage. The smoke is produced at the rate of 2500 cubic feet per second; according to one calculation it takes about 500,000 cubic feet of smoke to each letter, a mile long.

The Seven Sleepers

Archangel's Watch Kept Through the "Day's Eye"

The white-headed angel or Michael, who is said to be the guardian of the righteous, is common from Maine to Minnesota and southward. It is named for Michael, archangel of heaven, "who is like God," and is mentioned in the Bible as being in special charge of the Israelites as a nation. It is said that through the "day's eye" of this little daisy Michael, who disputed with Satan about the body of Moses and with his angels warred against the devil in upper regions, looks out from Paradise upon the ways of human beings, their troubles and joys. It was the Archangel Michael, who, accompanied by a group of Cherubim, drove our father Adam and mother Eve out of the Garden of Eden. The Cherubim were mysterious composite beings, winged footstools and chariots of the Almighty; figuratively, fullness of knowledge or an influence proceeding from God and descending upon men. The Michaelm daisy, aster ericoides, has tiny flowers, white with yellow disks and 15 to 25 rays. Stems and flower peduncles have very small health-like linear leaves. Lovers sitting in Paradise on old turnstiles in the gloaming, or mossy logs by woodland roads, the "day's eye" of Michael upon them, should remember that for their sin earth's first lovers were condemned to earn their bread by the sweat of their brows.—Otis Swift in the New York World-Telegram.

Eye Care Saves Much

Bodily Nervous Energy
Six of the twelve sets of nerves in the head lead to the eyes, according to M. J. Julian of the Better Vision Institute, utilizing more of the available nervous energy than is required for any other one organ of the body. One authority has estimated that one-half of the energy required by the five senses is absorbed by the eyes alone, moving the eyelids, shifting the eye, dilating the pupil, recording the visual and color images and transmitting them to the brain.

"Eyes that are out of adjustment require even more energy," says Mr. Julian. "It is even worse if one eye is normal and one subnormal, for then there is a conflict between the effectiveness of the images that are registered and the corresponding messages sent to the brain. Eye-sight specialists, in normalizing sight, are in reality conserving the resources of energy of the body, balancing the budget of 'current' that the various organs require. No eye has estimated the amount of energy which a pair of glasses saves in a lifetime, but it can be easily guessed from the headaches and general tiredness that weak eyes invariably lead to."

Making for Happiness
To look fearlessly upon life; to accept the laws of nature, not with meek resignation, but as her sons, who dare not search and question; to have peace and confidence within our souls—these are the beliefs that make for happiness.—Maeterlinck.

Fish in Swimming Tank

It seems that the French people are not so keen about making use of swimming tanks in the winter months and the result is that these places are not profitable in the cold weather. In order to make use of his plant during the dull season, a Parisian pool proprietor stocked his swimming tank with fish and it proved a great attraction for anglers. The fishermen are charged an admission fee and are allowed to catch a limited number of fish. If they desire to go over the limit they must pay for the privilege, the charge being reckoned by the number of fish.

Columbus and Cannibals

Columbus himself never came into contact with any tribe of people whom he knew to be cannibals. The friendly Indians with whom he conversed in San Salvador, Haiti and other West Indian islands told him of man-eating tribes known as the Caribs. The Caribs, who were a warlike and ferocious race, originally lived in the West Indies, but at that time they were on the mainland of South America. Columbus, in his journal, wrote that the natives of the Antilles lived in great fear of the cannibals, that is, the Caribs or people of Cariba.—Exchange.

High Lighthouse

On a tiny island, Lelua, in the Hawaiian group, the government has the highest lighthouse service. It is on top of a high rock and stands 707 feet above the Pacific ocean. Because it is difficult to climb the rock, the light, which shows ten flashes a minute, is capable of burning a whole year without attention. Twice a year it is visited by a lighthouse tender for installation of new tanks of gas. Ordinary lighthouses are made to stand 100 or 200 feet above sea level, so they will not be obscured by low-lying fogs. But in Hawaii, where the trade winds cross, fog is a rarity.—Capper's Weekly.

Herren Airplane in Test Flights at Elgin Airport

"Elgin aviation advocates and enthusiasts are invited by Charles D. Vary, head of the Elgin Flying Service to come to the airport to inspect a new plane manufactured by the Herren Aeronautical corporation of Barrington, and likewise to witness tests flights of the ship by William Klingenberg, transport pilot.

The new plane, a recent production of the Barrington concern, is patterned after the conventional two-place biplane type, powered by a three-cylinder aerial-marine engine. One of its features is its maneuverability, its agility and ease of handling. It is light in weight, and almost "flies itself." It is capable of landing at the low speed of between 24 and 26 miles an hour, which is considered exceptional. Not the least of its features is its low price.

"Pilot Klingenberg is maneuvering the plane each day through a series of experimental flights, testing every part of the structure. These flights are being made for the purpose also of obtaining an "A. T. C." certificate, to make the plane eligible for the "N. C." governmental rating. Test flights will continue for the next four or five days, until at least 10 hours of experimental flying has been accomplished."—Elgin Courier.

The new car was named the Terraplane, because for the first time it incorporates principles of airplane construction in automobile manufacture.

Local Singer Is Given Position on Steamship

Mrs. Luella Bartholomew, solo singer well known in Barrington, was honored with appointment as soloist on the S. S. South American traveling the Great Lakes.

Mrs. Bartholomew was given a try-out by the social hostess of the boat and was then engaged to sing three nights per week for the balance of the season. Her opportunity to try-out for the position was the result of a "break." Miss Julie Robertson was on the South America on a recent trip when the social hostess was looking for talent because a regular entertainer had missed the boat. Miss Robertson suggested Mrs. Bartholomew, and the try-out and engagement followed.

A comment from Carl W. Dipman, editor of The Progressive Grocer (grocery trade magazine) sent to Mr. Stubbins stated in part: "This ad is certainly interesting and I am sure was very effective. I want to congratulate you folks on this very intelligent type of advertising. Sometime in the near future we hope to have the opportunity of interviewing you and learning more about methods you use which have proven so effective."

A comment on the same advertisement from M. D. Weaver, secretary of the Chicago Cook County Retail Grocers and Butchers association stated:

QUIT KICKING

Continual howling about reduced earnings of many corporations is doing much to prolong the depression, intimidate the individual and drive money into hiding.

Why shouldn't corporation and private earnings fall below the peaks of two or three years ago? We were then living under abnormal conditions.

When an automobile salesman without any capital could open an expensive show room and sell automobiles as fast as he could get them, we were not living in normal times.

This is true of individuals and it is true of companies. Industrial concerns expanded beyond any normal requirements. They have endeavored to maintain operations on an inflated basis which cannot be done because there is no longer any artificial demand to maintain such production.

All over the nation, one-man industries and one-man farms are starting again on a deflated basis. You can drive through the country and see little "shacks" springing up on cheap land and in the far-away places. The occupants of these little homes are going to produce their living and gradually make a little surplus. The big farmers who bought high-priced land on the strength of high-priced crops, as well as the industries which built and equipped plants at peak prices and built up overheads, are all going to have to readjust themselves to the basis of the man who is starting at the bottom today. The laboring man who enjoys wartime wages for the past decade is in the same boat.

WILL HEAR SILVER TALK

Washington will have plenty of unofficial observers at the British Empire conference at Ottawa. Many questions which may directly affect the United States are to be discussed among the delegates from the various members of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

Among them will be the monetary position of silver, which Canada wants restored to its pre-war status. Canada produces about a quarter of the world's silver. India consumes about half of all silver. India has been trying to maintain the gold standard, and that has forced the price of silver down until Canada can no longer make a profit on it. The far may fly when the Canadian and Indian delegates get into an argument on this subject.

On the outcome of the silver discussion at Ottawa will depend the date and program of the international conference on silver and commodity prices which is to be held later in the summer, with the United States taking part.

An African tribe which confines its language to grunts has been found. That language is known in the United States, too, but is used only at breakfast.

BITES AND STINGS

Summer is the time to look out for biting and stinging insects. An author, friend of mine, mentions the mosquito and the bed-bug as the chief offenders. I shall not discuss the latter; he is taboo in our set this year. I confess I have grown rusty in my clinical data on the bed-bug.

But the mosquito—the malaria-carrier, you know. The more bites the more malaria. Keep out of his way. A strong solution of camphor with twenty drops of carbolic acid to the ounce is a good lotion for mosquito bites; wet cloths with the solution and leave in contact with the stings.

The poison—almost a venom—of hornets, wasps and bees, is believed to be acid in nature; hence an alkali is the logical antidote. A bottle of aqua ammonia should be kept in the medicine closet for stings, to be applied freely when needed. Coarse "bayonets" may be left in the wound, bear in mind. Get them out before the medicine is depended upon.

If a wasp-sting just chanced to enter a vein of the victim, as in case of a child, serious symptoms may be caused, and even deaths have been reported from them. The nests of these insects should be searched for, and destroyed. I know of nothing more agonizing for the moment than the sting of a hornet. They are plentiful in wooded districts in our country. Remember your ammonia solution.

I have seen quite a fever arise from bee-stings—in fact, my last adventure with the little honey makers was a case in point: I went to bed for several hours, aching all over, with temperature 103. I had had over a dozen bee-wounds before armistice was declared. We are never too old to learn, it seems.

THE WAY OF LIFE

By BRUCE BARTON

TO THE LAND

Here and there we run across a fact which shows that important social changes are working themselves out silently in a time like this.

For instance: The insurance companies are experiencing a rather brisk demand for some of the farms they have had to take over during the past few years.

So are the Land Banks.

In one southern city, a canvass of the unemployed revealed nine hundred families that had formerly lived on the land. These people were moved out to vacant farms and are being helped to self-support.

The president of a charity organization in a middle western city came to see me, with figures showing the abnormal growth of our cities and particularly of the negro population in northern cities, in the two decades between 1910 and 1930.

Said he: "In my own city we are feeding many thousands people, including almost the entire negro population. The negro in the first to suffer in a time like this, for the white man is likely to be favored in the distribution of jobs. The negro is a good farmer. On an acre of land he can raise enough food for his family. Our city could well afford to build cottages and settle a large proportion of its unemployed on the land. For no more than it will cost us to take care of them in town another year we could make them permanently independent."

In the depression of 1873, the unemployed in our city was almost one hundred per cent, but only a quarter of our people were in the cities; we were seventy-five per cent rural. The unemployed simply moved back to the land until the storm was over.

The expression "back to the land" is unfortunate; it seems to imply defeat in the city and subsequent retreat. I prefer "forward to the land," to a freedom and security the city too often fails to provide.

Certainly many men are now saying to themselves: "I should much rather have a roof over my head and potatoes and cabbage in the cellar than to be an ex-president sitting on a cold curbstone."

Perhaps as a result of that thinking we shall find ourselves, one of these days, with a better balanced, less top-heavy social organization.

Must of the lost faith in heaven may be due to the assumption that marriages are made there.—Milwaukee Leader.

The depression has proved at least one good thing. Even the big men can have a lot of little troubles.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

By National Editorial Association
(Special to The Review)

IN WASHINGTON and every important European capital statements are forthcoming which leave the average citizen in this country completely befuddled as to just exactly what has happened in the reparations—war debts business. "Gentlemen's Agreements," "new ententes cordiales," "accords and compacts," indirectly entangling the United States with the plan to relieve Germany of her obligations, are affirmed and denied. Participation in the Lausanne negotiations by representatives of America is alleged in Europe and disavowed over here. Regardless of the meaning of these many phrases political leaders have no desire to explain the foreign debt situation to the voters and are hoping to have the entire matter ironed out so that this issue will be kept out of the forthcoming campaigns.

THE END of the first session of the seventy-second congress marks the beginning of the inquisitorial season, which will last during the summer and fall months. The investigation will range all the way from inquiry into the loans of the Reconstruction Finance corporation to a study of American trade in China. Some of them may produce spectacular headlines for newspapers. There are others, however, which seem likely to produce nothing more than nice cool junks this summer, assuming that the appropriations are adequate and politicians still have the nerve to go on junks. As in previous years, both the senate and house have appointed committees to keep an eye on campaign expenditures. In the past such committees have uncovered some devastating materials, but in this year the outlook is not so exciting.

NO BETTER SUMMARY of the present economic and political situation can be given than to repeat the centuries old comment in Homer's Iliad, "these issues lie in the lap of the gods." In this instance it is the laps of the American people and not the Grecian deities. Congress in winding up its affairs leaves the country in a highly emotional state as to its real performance and worth. Time which permits sober judgment is the great debunking force. The temporary over policies affecting congressional and administration affairs has been so strong that perspectives will not be cleared of partisan haze for several weeks.

POSTAL RATE INCREASE on letters which became effective Wednesday, brings the tax problem more intimately to the attention of the public. An increase of a cent in mailing costs is something that reaches the average citizen and makes him conscious of the cost of government. Taxes on checks, theater admissions, gasoline and other taxable items also hit directly at the pocketbook. It is a potent argument for reducing government expenditures when the burden is saddled on people in times when money and jobs are scarce.

WITH THE FINAL SWING of the gavel to sound the signal for adjournment in the senate and house of representatives, weary legislators who have been packed for weeks have started their trek to face the folks back home. Not since the World war has a congressional session been so full of political developments and persistent polemics. There are various reasons why senators and representatives are not in high spirits in department from Washington. One is the universal realization that congress is in bad with the country at large. Another is that every member knows he must give an accounting to his constituents and have his life peppered for jobs and federal aid. Few statesmen and stateswomen expect to find the bands out and Main street decorated in their honor.

THE GIFFORD committee on unemployment relief, which started out with a tremendous bang, is now singing its own swan song. Since the old appropriation expired with the end of the fiscal year on June 30, there has been no authority to engage in even the simple operation of sending a telegram. A handful of loyal workers, serving without pay or the promise of pay are making an effort to carry on. The typewriters are silent for all the classified civil service stenographers who have been resigned to the departments from which they were borrowed last year. However, among those who are picking up their labors there is a sort of an unspoken conviction that "something will turn up."

TREMENDOUS CUTS in appropriations for the federal farm board indicate that this outfit is on the way out of existence. In addition, there is pending a complete investigation by a senate committee which apparently forebodes its abolishment after the elections. It would not be good politics to wipe out the farm board now as it was created largely on the recommendation of President Hoover. The farm groups expected much from this federal agency, but now have turned thumbs down. The retrenchment plans in the two party platform have alarmed government bureaucrats as to their future. Congress has placed the responsibility for consolidations and economic squarely with the chief executive who must submit recommendations at the next session.

THE POLITICAL prophets are now explaining that events will change with the signature of congress. It is rumored around Washington that President Hoover has been waiting for congress to adjourn to issue a series of blasts on the economic situation. Contrary to the opinions of many that Mr. Hoover would allow his campaign to be dominated by members of the cabinet and others gifted with oratorical powers, Hoover's political advisors now say that the republican nominee for presidency will fire his own opening gun in the campaign for his reelection. Those whose business it is to advise political trends concede that today the tide is flowing toward Governor Roosevelt. However, the republicans take comfort from the ancient rule that the democrats generally win in July, only to lose in November. On the other hand, the democrats view this year as a victorious one and are confident that nothing can dim their prospects except a wholly unexpected improvement in business conditions between now and election time.

Wandering From This to That

Art Institute Part of '33 Fair

The Art Institute of Chicago has been constituted the official exhibitor of fine arts by the Chicago Century of Progress exposition. Therefore, no official fine arts exhibition will be held within the confines of the World's Fair enclosure, although state, foreign government and other buildings may house such fine arts exhibits as may serve to supplement exhibits of a general nature. The exhibition of fine arts will show primarily the progress of the fine arts in the last one hundred years, thus offering a parallel to the general exhibits of science and industry presented by the Century of Progress exposition. The large contemporary section will comprise both foreign and American paintings and sculpture including a representative group of works by Chicago artists. The retrospective American section will adequately cover the period from the American pre-Colonial painters to the time of Homer and Duveneck. Retrospective foreign sections will fill a number of galleries with emphasis on the Impressionists, a school in which the Art Institute is particularly strong. As a background to the "Exposition of One Hundred Years of Art," the Art Institute will arrange in sequence individual galleries devoted to Italian, Dutch, Flemish and French primitives, to Dutch 16th and 17th centuries painting, to Italian 15th and 16th centuries painting, to Italian painting of the 16th and 17th centuries, to the 18th century French and English painting. The collections of the Art Institute will be supplemented by loans of masterpieces borrowed from American and foreign museums and collectors.

Bigger Illinois Pig Crop

From December 1, 1931 to June 1, 1932, a total of 730,000 pigs farrowed in Illinois and 2,285,000 pigs according to estimates made by the Illinois Cooperative Crop and Livestock reporting service. These estimates are based on the survey completed during June through the cooperation of the rural mail carriers with the federal and state departments of agriculture.

According to the report there were 74 per cent more sows farrowed in Illinois this spring than in the spring of 1931. However, the number of pigs saved per litter was the lowest since the spring of 1928 as a result of heavy losses sustained during cold weather early in March. The total Illinois 1932 spring pig crop amounted to 1.8 per cent more than the 1931 spring crop.

For the entire country there was a decrease of 3.3 per cent in the number of sows farrowed this last spring and seven per cent in the number of pigs saved compared with 1931. The United States total was 8,654,000 sows farrowed and 50,093,000 pigs saved from December 1, 1931 to June 1, 1932, which is the period designated as the spring 1932 crop.

Charley Joy

"Bringing the joy of the country to the city." Garden owners of Barrington who are doing just that by generously contributing flowers to the Chicago Plant Flower and Fruit guild, should know what their offerings mean in crowded tenement districts on sultry summer days. Let Miss Edna L. Foley, superintendent of the Visiting Nurse association of Chicago, several of whose substations are on the Guild's distribution list, tell you.

"The flowers have never been more welcome. One supervisor reports from a territory where thirty delivered maternities were given cars during the month of June. We were sorry to lose one of the new babies when it was but three days old. Flowers which the Guild so generously bestowed lend a soothing influence at this time." From another supervisor: "Our patients do so enjoy the flowers from the Flower Guild. They have been beautiful, peonies, huge bunches of them and many other early flowers. Sandwiches came twice. Needless to say it was easy to dispose of them."

Who I Am—

Libertyville, July 15.—"Evidently you don't know who I am," the lady explained.

"I'll tell you," the policeman pondered, "who are you?"

"I'm Mrs. Gaw, wife of the Chicago greeter."

"Well then, let's greet the judge," the officer proposed.

And that is how Mrs. Gaw, wife of the Chicago "greeter" Gaw, found how Libertyville policemen treat persons who park cars in the middle of left hand traffic lanes.

You may be a first class "greeter" on such occasions, but the Libertyville policemen are not socially minded while on duty.

Justice of the Peace Fred Smith accepted a $15 bond on the illegal parking charge for Mrs. Gaw's appearance Thursday.

Illinois will set up an embargo that will forbid the importation from European countries infected territory of any farm product that might harbor this insect pest, according to an announcement made by the state department of agriculture. This action has been deemed necessary by the withdrawal, July 15, of the protection that the federal government has provided by its quarantine service. Illinois and other states concerned, he said, had tried, but failed to induce congress to provide funds to carry on this work. The state embargo, he said, would provide protection only to the extent that public sentiment and county peace officials brought

ARTICLE No. 35

With what type of hand should a player raise his partner's bid? One of the first points to notice is that the player has a suit bid and his partner's suit bid unless he has at least three small trumps or two to an honor. Lacking such holdings in the trump suit, a player should deny, not assist his partner's bid. Provided, however, that the player does hold at least three small trumps, he may assist his partner's bid if he holds any of the following supporting values: (first) ace, king and queen of the other suit; (second) ability to trump some short or missing suit; (third) the fact that the supporting hand holds four or more cards of partner's suit, or three to an honor. Please note, that the values of the high cards in support of partner's bid are very nearly double their sure trick or defensive value.

"Ability to trump some short or missing suit" is usually valued as follows:

A doubleton is worth 1/2 trick with 3 trumps and 1 trick with 4 trumps. A singleton is worth 1 trick with 3 trumps and 2 tricks with 4 trumps. A blank suit is worth 1/2 trick with 3 trumps and 3 tricks with 4 trumps.

The fact that the supporting hand holds four or more cards of partner's suit or three to an honor, is usually valued as follows:

Three small trumps.....0 tricks
The ace or king.....1/2 trick
The queen.....1/4 trick
Four small trumps.....1/2 trick
Four trumps headed by an honor.....1 trick plus honor value

Five small trumps.....1 1/2 tricks
Five trumps headed by an honor.....2 tricks

Two values must be placed on all high cards: First, their value in defense of opponents' bids. This is their sure trick value. Second, their value in support of partner's bid. The latter valuation is much higher than their sure trick value because the chance that they may be trumped is less and the chances of setting up a suit much stronger. Their value as cards of re-entry is also considerable. These additional values are practically double their sure trick value.

There are no trumps and Z is in the lead. How can Y win six of the eight tricks against any defense?

Z should lead the nine of spades. If A covers with the jack, Y should pass the queen and then lead the three of clubs. If A refuses to cover, Y should also play low. Y should then play the king of clubs. He should then lead the four of clubs. A can either (a) win the trick with the queen or (b) allow B to win with the jack.

(a) If A wins the trick with the queen of clubs, he can lead a club, which Y will win and lead a diamond, putting B in the lead and forcing him to lead hearts to Z's tenace or spades to Y's tenace. A can also lead a diamond, putting B in the lead with the suit, and then lead a club to Y's tenace. Y would win these two tricks and lead a diamond, putting B in the lead and forcing him to lead hearts to Z's tenace.

(b) If A allows B to win the third trick with the jack of clubs, the result is the same. All B can make is the king of diamonds, so that Y must make six of the eight tricks against any defense.

One of the best players of the New York Club is an old Professor of Chess at one of the local universities. He has read every book that has been published on the game, but has not been able to become a good player. Every time he wins a hand, he loses the next, and while he does, his partners try to grin and bear it. The following hand is an illustration of the Professor's game and is applicable either to Auction or to Contract.

The Professor's contract was five spades and A led the ace of hearts and then a low heart, which the Professor won with the king. He then took the trumps and led a low diamond, dummy and finessed with his queen. The king was in A's hand, so that the Professor failed to make his contract as he subsequently lost the king of diamonds, which was also in A's hand.

After the hand was over, the Professor said to his partner, "Well, partner, if the king of clubs had been on the right side, I would have made my bid." His partner, a very good player, replied: "You could have gone along without taking the finesse. After you had taken out the opponents' trumps, you should have led a low diamond toward the queen in dummy. A had the king of clubs and led a low diamond, so that your diamonds were set up. Up to the last trick in your hand, you could have drawn two more clubs in dummy." This criticism was correct and the Professor apologized for taking a finesse when it wasn't necessary. His partner was silent for a minute, and then said: "Well, Professor, it looks as if anybody can teach a head, but bridge seems to require a

The Professor's contract was five hearts and he led the ace of hearts and then a low heart, which the Professor won with the king. He then took out the trump and led a small club into dummy and finessed with his queen.

The king was in A's hand, so that the Professor failed to make his contract. He subsequently lost the king of diamonds which was also in A's hand.

After the hand was over, the Professor said to his partner, "Well, partner, if the king of clubs had been on the right side, I would have made my contract. A had the king, so that your diamonds were set up and on the last two in your hand, you could have discarded two losing clubs in dummy." This criticism was correct and the Professor apologized for making a mistake when it wasn't his partner's fault. His partner was silent for a moment and then said, "Well, Professor, I take it as if anybody can teach you, but I judge seems to require a little more than that."

Bears Vanquish Lake Zurich Pirates

Pirates Hold Lead Until the Sixth Inning Is Played

Barrington Boys Face Strong
Waukegan Ball Team
Next Sunday

The eighth game of the season, featuring the Barrington boys' team, was played last night at Lake Zurich.

The Pirates, who have been leading the league since the first game, were defeated by the Bears, who won by a score of 10 to 2.

The Bears' victory was due to a combination of factors, including a strong pitching performance by their ace pitcher, who pitched a complete game and allowed only two runs.

The Pirates' offense was stifled by the Bears' defense, which made several key plays to keep the score down.

The game was a close contest until the sixth inning, when the Bears scored three runs to take a 10-2 lead.

The Pirates' manager, who was confident of a win, was disappointed by the result.

The Bears' manager, on the other hand, was pleased with his team's performance.

The game was a well-played contest and a credit to both teams.

Wolverines Tie One and Win Another Last Week

The Wolverines, a baseball team consisting of Barrington boys ranging in age from 14 to 17 years, tied the Crystal Lake Black Sox 0 to 0 in eight innings last Wednesday when the game was called on account of darkness.

During the remainder of the game Paul Miller, the team's manager, and Willie Altenburg settled down and struck out eight men of the twelve who faced them. The Wolverines did their best hitting after the fifth inning.

The Wolverines scored a victory of 17 to 5 over the Des Plaines Croation team on Friday night. The score was 5 to 1 in favor of the local boys at the end of the second inning, and from then on they continued to pile up the score.

The next scheduled games will be with the Des Plaines Croations and a Cary team this week.

The Wolverines' season has been a successful one, and they are looking forward to a strong performance in the future.
