One hundred and three members of the Thies family, descendants of the late Henry Thies of Palatine, held a family reunion at Lord's park, Elgin Sunday afternoon. Forty of those who attended the reunion were from Barrington, and the others came from neighboring towns. Mrs. L. F. Schroeder, 413 S. Cook street, Barrington, who is 81 years old, was the oldest member of the family to attend, and the youngest was the nine-month-old daughter, Susan, of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Thompson of Harmony. A picnic supper was served in the evening.

Local Persons to Attend Services at Elgin Sunday
A large number of the members of the local St. Paul Evangelical church are planning to attend a joint worship service known as "Evangelical day" and sponsored by the Arlington Heights Federation of Evangelical churches at Yeoman park, Elgin Sunday. As the interior of the local church is being redecorated, no services will be held for Sunday, consequently a large portion of the congregation is expecting to attend the Elgin meeting. This is the first time that the Evangelical churches of this region have had a mass gathering of this kind, and 20 churches northwest of Chicago are expected to attend.

Chicago People Hurt in Unusual Accident at Fox River Grove
An unusual accident at a park in Fox River Grove Sunday evening resulted in two Chicago people being brought at 6:30 p. m. to the Barrington General hospital for treatment. The injured were Miss Josephine Canselleri, 17, of 840 Cambridge avenue, and Pete Puleo, 19, of 419 West Oak street. They were attending a picnic with a large group of friends from Chicago when the accident occurred. One of the picnickers drove his car off the road and ran over Miss Canselleri and Puleo who were sitting on the ground. Although neither were seriously injured, both were painfully hurt. Miss Canselleri's chest, arms and shoulders were bruised and she received a slight cut under one ear. Puleo's back was badly scraped and bruised and his scalp was lacerated. Both patients were able to leave the hospital the next day. The driver of the machine that caused the accident is being held by police authorities.

Chinese Consul to Give Lotus the "Taste Test"

Crystal Lake Herald: Dr. Koliang Yih, Chinese consul to Chicago and a speaker here last spring at a meeting of the Community club, visited the lotus beds last week-end in an attempt to settle the dispute as to whether the flowers are genuine Oriental lotuses. Dr. Yih agreed that the flowers are lotuses but are a slightly different variety than the Chinese lotus. "These are genuine lotuses but the Chinese flowers are pink and white, while the white lotuses in Grass and Fox lake have a yellowish-green hue," he said. Dr. Yih says that if the lotuses taste the same it makes little difference. The proof of the lotus is in the eating, he said, and he will cook and eat a number of the seed pods and flowers to learn whether they have the same taste as the Chinese flowers.

Car Pins Woman Against Building; Breaks Her Leg

Overly Machine Fails to Stop at Curb Along Park Avenue

Stepping on the accelerator instead of the brake when she intended to bring the car she was driving to a stop, Miss Wilda Henning drove across the sidewalk on Park avenue last Friday afternoon crushing Mrs. Sarah Nemstow of Chicago against the brick front of the Quality Food Shoppe. Mrs. Nemstow's right leg was reported fractured between the knee and ankle and she received minor bruises. The woman, whose address is 1702 Chicago avenue, and who has been residing at a cottage in Lake Zurich, was shopping in Barrington when the car was driven out on the sidewalk and was turning into a parking space in front of the market. The machine climbed the curb and moved across the sidewalk forcing Mrs. Nemstow in front of it. The brick veneer wall was forced out of line and a display of watermelons on the sidewalk were crushed. No damage was done to the store display window or automobile. Mrs. Nemstow was taken to a hospital near her home for treatment. The automobile driven by Miss Henning was owned by Mrs. Harry Overly who is employed at the Hartwood farms west of Barrington. Two children were riding in the automobile with Miss Henning.

Thirty Seven Persons at Barrington Reunion Picnic in Los Angeles

Los Angeles, Calif., July 29, 1932. Barrington Review: It is no doubt will be of interest to the Barrington folks, to hear about what the folks who have left the good old town of Barrington, and have come out here to Los Angeles, Calif., are doing. Well, we are happy and contented in this land of sunshine and flowers, mountains and the big Pacific, where we have the lovely sea breezes, when at this time the Olympic games are to be on in a few days, lasting three weeks, where all nations are represented. To tell about what the Barringtonians are doing, last Sunday, July 24, we had our first Barrington picnic at Griffith park, Los Angeles, which was an ideal day. Many came from far and near, bringing their lunch and families and friends to spend a pleasant day with those they knew back in Barrington and get acquainted with those they did not have the privilege of knowing back there. We all gathered around one large table laden with good things to eat. All had a keen appetite in the great fresh air.

Take Pictures
T. C. Cannon made the coffee and you could tell it was not the first time. Pretty soon we heard clicking of a camera and Mr. Aurand was snapping some pictures of the good looking group. Quite a number of pictures were taken. We were glad that Mr. and Mrs. Barrett, speaking for the special committee of the farm bureau, lauded Dr. Rader's program and explained the merits of his plan. "The condition which we see on all sides is nothing short of ridiculous," he said. "I refer to the fact that within the borders of Chicago there are thousands and thousands of needy hungry people, while just outside the borderlines there are acres and acres of growing produce which will never find a market. There are truck loads after truck loads brought to the market and, for lack of a sale, are returned to go on the dump heap."

Surplus Products Will Be Utilized for Poor Relief

Arlington Heights.—Surplus farm crops in Cook county, richest agricultural county in Illinois, are to be salvaged and distributed among Chicago's needy families this winter, it was announced by O. G. Barrett, county farm adviser. "At the invitation of Dr. Paul Rader, evangelist of the Chicago Gospel tabernacle, the Cook county farm bureau has pledged its complete support to Dr. Rader's food salvage program and will help him gather the crop surplus for canning at Paul Rader's pantry, 825 Barry avenue," Barrett said.

Practical Plan
It seems that Dr. Rader's approach to this problem is the nearest practical of anything that we have so far witnessed; and our organization of sympathetic farmers stands ready to cooperate to the fullest extent in making the worthy project the success which we all hope it will be. There are 8,348 farmers in Cook county, Barrett pointed out, of which 1,293 are members of the farm bureau. "Whereas most people think of Cook county as the seat of metropolitan Chicago there is greater proof

Two Big Sales Open This Week in Barrington

The fourth anniversary sale of the Royal Blue grocery store and a special coupon sale at Hagenbring's Five Cent to One Dollar store will make Barrington the most attractive money saving shopping town in the Northwest suburban district. Both sales open Friday and continue well into next week.

The Royal Blue's fourth anniversary sale will continue for six days ending next Thursday evening. More than 100 special bargains, some of them below cost are offered to the public. Details of the sale with many of the bargains are listed on page 5 of this issue of The Review. The Hagenbring sale lists more than 50 items at special low prices. Articles of every day use as well as outstanding novelty merchandise are included in the sale, the full details of which appear on page 8 of this issue of The Review.

The reliability of these stores is well known and this factor will tend to augment the size of the crowd which will take advantage of the sales. Several other places of business in Barrington will contribute to the shopping mecca. Other stores are offering a tempting line of bargains which can be found in their advertisements on other pages of The Review.

Legion National Air Meet at Sky Harbor Sept. 11

Ninth District Massed Drum Corps Parade Part of Ground Festivities

Barrington post drum and bugle corps will participate in the ninth district massed drum corps parade at Sky Harbor airport September 11 as part of the all day program of the American Legion national air meet. The national meet will be one of the most important undertakings of the year in the Northwest suburban district and will bring together several world famous aviators. Among those who have been invited to the meet are Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam, first woman to cross the Atlantic by air, Major Reed Landis, Major Jimmie McMillan, and Captain Frank Hawks. The meet will be open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Participation of the massed corps in the ground festivities of the Sky Harbor meet was decided at a meeting of ninth district representatives at Elks Park, Chicago Monday night. Major Schroeder, manager of Sky Harbor, laid the plans of the air meet before the representatives after he had been assured by the various posts in the district that the Legion will sponsor the show. C. E. Paxton represented the Barrington post and corps.

Attend State Convention
Because of the inconvenience of attending massed corps drill in Chicago, the Barrington, Arlington Heights and Des Plaines corps will hold drill twice a week at Arlington Heights, with occasional attendance in Chicago. The local corps will add variety to its massed corps by attending the state convention at Danville as a separate unit. The American Legion state convention will open Saturday, August 13.

Locally Known People Are Injured in Highway Mishap at Terra Cotta

Two people were killed and 13 others, four of them known to many people in Barrington, were seriously injured Sunday night at 9:45 o'clock in an automobile crash on Terra Cotta on routes 61 and 12. Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Sid Dewey were the occupants of one of the cars, and all were seriously injured. Mr. Davis, who resides at Mayfair, is a C. & N. W. railroad engineer, and for several years he operated a train that made a regular Barrington run. He is a nephew of William Thoen, 517 Grove avenue, Barrington. Mr. and Mrs. Dewey are residents of Crystal Lake but are known to many here. Eleven were riding in the car which collided with the one that Davis was driving. Mrs. Joseph G. Shamet of Cicero, formerly of Woodstock, was killed instantly and a child died later as a result of the accident.

No definite details of the accident were learned. It occurred on a long and steep hill near Terra Cotta at a time when the highway was crowded and one of the machines was attempting to pass the other.

Tower Lake Family Is Accidentally Poisoned

The Peterson family residing at Tower Lake was reported seriously ill with ptomaine poisoning Friday evening. Mrs. Peterson lost consciousness for an hour. Others who became ill were John Peterson, June Peterson, 8, and William VanDerper, 9.

Annual Levy Will Be Slashed Sixty Per Cent for Year

Village Tax Receipts Will Be Limited to Less Than Appropriations

A village tax levy of approximately $22,000 was prepared by the board of trustees at a special meeting Friday night. The new levy, which will be voted on at the regular meeting next Monday night, calls for a total outlay for village expenditures 60 per cent less than the appropriation made a few weeks ago. Many of the items have been trimmed 70 per cent. The total amount called for in the tax levy equals the maximum the village can receive as based on the total assessed value of property in Barrington. The tax rate has been established, and the levy can equal only the tax rate multiplied by 60 per cent of the assessed valuation. This situation is peculiar to Barrington because it lies in Lake and Cook counties which are one year apart in tax collection. This caused the tax rate for the entire village to be agreed upon before the levy could be made.

No Bonded Indebtedness
There is one exception to the limit which can be obtained through tax levy. A village may use its limit to cover all general expenses and then levy additional for payment of interest on bonded indebtedness. In past years Barrington has included in its levy a sum for payment of interest on bonded indebtedness and then has used that sum for general expenses because Barrington has no bonded indebtedness at all.

Several changes may be made in the levy before next Monday night, but the trustees have set that meeting night as the date for passing the levy.

July Precipitation Is Reported as Heaviest on Record in District

July was the wettest mid-summer month of recent years in Northeastern Illinois according to reports from weather bureaus in various parts of the district. The total rainfall recorded in Lake and Cook counties varied from six to seven inches, depending on the locality, with an average of 6.45 inches for the two counties.

Less than four inches of rain falls during an average July. Last July the precipitation was 1.08 inches, marking one of the driest mid-summer months ever experienced in Barrington. The maximum temperature of the month was 94 recorded on Friday, July 15. This compares with a maximum of 97 degrees on July 1, 1931. The minimum temperature for the month was 53 degrees and the mean temperature was 77 degrees. In the past month, 18 days were clear, 10 were partly cloudy and three were wholly cloudy.

George M. Wagner Is Showing Improvement After Serious Operation

George M. Wagner, who for many years was the proprietor of a meat market in Barrington, was hurried by ambulance to the Sherman hospital in Elgin last Tuesday evening and was operated on at midnight for a hernia. A late report states that although his condition remains serious he is making some progress toward recovery. Mr. Wagner is 70 years old.

Refund Ordered Dundee and Main Street Property

Property owners along Main street and Dundee avenue who paid excessive assessments for paving on those streets and who have waited for several years for their refunds will be paid back by the village in the near future. One of the items of business taken up at a special meeting of the board Friday night was the long debated refund. The board ended the argument by instructing Village Attorney D. B. Maloney to make up a dividing order for those property owners along the two streets who have paid their assessments. The amount to be paid back totals $3,981. The total delinquency is $628. The refund will amount to 6 or 7 per cent.

Brought Up Year Ago
The refund was brought up last summer by Trustee Earl Hatle. The entire board agreed that the property owners should be refunded the money—which had been borrowed by the general fund—but held out on the grounds that the village at that time did not have the funds on hand to pay back. At a recent meeting of the board, Mr. Hatle contended that the money should be paid in preference to regular contracted bills. Regular bills are debts of the village that must be paid in course of time. The excess money paid in by property owners was money that did not belong to the village and the village had no right to use—consequently these property owners had prior claim over any other debtors, Hatle contended.

Bathing Suits of 1900 Desired for Carnival

Bathing suits, representing the latest sensations of 1900, or even 1890, that have been carefully stored away in the attics of Barrington homes, are sought by officials of the North Side swimming pool for use in the style show that will be given in connection with the home talent water carnival on August 19. Barrington residents who are able and willing to comply with this request are asked to telephone the swimming pool office, 687, to inform Mrs. P. R. Purcell, manager. Mrs. Purcell stated that the borrowed garments will be carefully handled and returned promptly after the carnival.

In the style show, which will be one of the novel events of the program, an attempt will be made to represent the evolution of swimming apparel beginning back two generations and ending with the very latest fashions in suits and beach garments. Local girls will be chosen to be the models for the show.

J. W. Langdale Leases Pure Oil Station of Which He Is Manager

Announcement has been made of the leasing of the oil station at Main and Hough streets to J. W. Langdale who for the last two years has been manager. Mr. Langdale will continue as manager of his own station. Mr. Langdale was district manager of the Keystone Co. when that organization built the station five years ago. Two years ago he came here to take charge of this unit. Early this year the Keystone Co. sold this station along with other units to the Pure Oil Co.

Many Water Sports Are Planned for Carnival at Pool

A novelty relay race, clown acts, fancy diving, and a style show are among the principal events planned for the home talent water carnival that will be presented at the North Side swimming pool Friday evening, August 19 at 8 o'clock. Mrs. P. R. Purcell, manager, and others in charge of the pool activities have been engaged in preparing a program consisting of a large variety of events which call for both skill and clever action. Anyone from the Barrington community is eligible to enter the contest, the only requirement being that participants must register at the swimming pool office. An early registration is recommended by Dick Drover, instructor in charge of the saving classes, to provide sufficient time to practice for the various contest events. Anyone interested in the carnival is welcome to attend.

Present Awards

The presentation of life saving awards will be an important feature on the program. In addition to the 17 swimmers who have already earned their awards, several more, who will have completed their course by the time of the carnival, will also receive recognition. New classes in life saving opened this week. Girls and boys' medley relay races and fancy diving from both high and low boards are the chief events that will require endurance and skill. The rest of the program will consist of novelty numbers. Plans have been made for a style show in which will be exhibited not only all the newest garments for beach and pool but also swimming suits a generation or two old. There will be a free style tub race and a diving exhibition featuring eight year old Barrington boys who have been displaying unusual skill in the use of the high diving board. A variety relay race has been planned. It will include a large number of unusual stunts such as running in shallow water, threading needles, undressing in the water, and carrying trays full of dishes. Numerous clown acts will be staged between the scheduled events.

Cook County Barrington Is in Arrears $33,000 in Special Assessments

A sum of money in excess of $33,000 for delinquent special assessments for the Cook county portion of the village of Barrington that was due Jan. 1, 1932 on all sewer, water and paving improvements was not paid on August 1 when F. L. Waterman, village collector, made his annual return to Joseph B. McDonough, Cook county treasurer. The sum exceeded last year's delinquency by more than $15,000. Hereafter delinquent special assessments will have to be paid at the Cook county treasurer's office in Chicago, Mr. Waterman stated. The treasurer will make application for judgment in order of sale on delinquents sometime this fall.

Baby Clinic Meets Tuesday

The regular monthly meeting of the baby clinic will be held in the lobby of the high school auditorium from 2 to 4 p. m., Tuesday, August 9. Dr. F. P. Brodke, assisted by a nurse Mrs. Lusk, will be in charge of the clinic.

Water Carnival, Beauty Contest at Pool, Aug. 26

Lions Club Will Sponsor Joint Affair; Procure Fine Water Talent

A bathing beauty contest for Barrington park district girls and a water carnival which will bring together some of the best swimming and diving talent of the Chicago district will be held at North Side park swimming pool Friday, August 26, under the auspices of the Barrington Lions club. The big affair which will start at 7:30 p. m. and last two hours will be open to the public free of charge.

The program will include four classifications of entertainment: fancy diving, swimming and other water exhibition, comedy water acts, the bathing beauty contest, and a program by the boys and girls scout. The Lions committee in charge of the affair includes: J. J. Mandelk, general chairman; M. H. Schreier, park board representative; A. H. Sess, in charge of water talent; W. R. Catlow in charge of comedy talent; Eric Etherington and John Catlow, in charge of the bathing beauty contest; A. D. Church in charge of boys and girls scout program; L. W. McClure, publicity; and Miss Blanche Frye (Lions Queen) registrar for entrants in the contest.

Limited to 10 Girls
Although no specific announcements have been made relative to the swimming and diving talent, a plan for the beauty contest has been given out as approved by the committee. The contest will be limited to 10 girls, four from each quarter of the park district, with Main and Hough streets the dividing lines. The group of 10 contestants will be limited to the first four girls from each section when roll with Miss Frye, who will not be a contestant herself.

The contest will be also a popularity event. The sixteen contestants will appear at the water carnival as a feature of the program. The public will vote for the winner of the contest both in advance of August 26 and at the carnival. Cash prizes will be awarded to the winners of first, second, and third places. Voting tickets will be sold for 10 cents apiece, and this money will go into the Lions club public welfare fund to help the club in the support of its several public welfare undertakings such as the boy scouts, the girl scouts, the Barrington relief, and other worthy but non-money making undertakings such as the Y and Garden contest, the Christmas lighting contest, etc.

Earl Schwemm Awarded C. L. U. Degree by College of Insurance Underwriters

Earl M. Schwemm was officially notified this week by the American College of Life Underwriters that he was successful in passing all five sections of the examinations taken in June. The notification was accompanied by a diploma of the degree of Chartered Life Underwriter. "This degree is recognized as the highest award in the field of life insurance underwriting," Only 50 men representing all the life insurance companies operating in Chicago and metropolitan area hold this degree. Mr. Schwemm is assistant agency manager of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the North Agency, Chicago.

Road Pavers to Reach Village Next Week-End

The Barrington road, already paved between the Algonquin and Dundee crossroads, will be completed to Barrington, with the exception of 600 feet, in eight more working days, according to a statement from the road superintendent of the John Mackler Construction Co., of Chicago which is making the improvement. "The six hundred feet exception includes a four hundred foot bog sink, hole and one hundred foot approaches to it. This bog is about three-quarters of a mile south of Barrington, and is about 20 feet deep. Although a grading crew has excavated most of the bog and is filling in rapidly, the new grade probably will not be sufficiently settled to be surfaced this fall. Two miles of paving have been installed and another mile and one-half remain to be finished at this end. The crew is paving about 900 lineal feet per day. After paving to Barrington, the crew will move to the south end of the Barrington road at Lake street and pave from there north to the Higgins road. Three peat bogs in that territory may prevent completion of the work in that section this fall. No contract has been let for paving between the Higgins and Algonquin roads."

Baby Clinic Meets Tuesday
The regular monthly meeting of the baby clinic will be held in the lobby of the high school auditorium from 2 to 4 p. m., Tuesday, August 9. Dr. F. P. Brodke, assisted by a nurse Mrs. Lusk, will be in charge of the clinic.

Diphtheria at Lowest Point in Many Years

Diphtheria is in a mighty retreat before the advance of scientific, preventive methods in Illinois, according to statistics assembled by the state department of public health. The department of prevalence, the department has announced, is the lowest found at any time in the state's history.

Never before, the health department stated, have so many children in Illinois been immunized against diphtheria as during the last 12 months. Numerous communities have immunized as high as 100 per cent of the susceptible population. This is accredited with the health decline in this disease.

A PLAN FOR BANKS

After hundreds of thousands of depositors in United States have lost a great deal of money and suffered considerable inconvenience, the banking situation has been temporarily stabilized. This improvement has been brought about with the help of the United States government and in many cases by the cooperation of depositors themselves.

It is highly possible that no person alive today will live long enough to see the financial systems of the United States and other nations so disturbed as they have been during the last year. And the bare possibility exists that banks generally will be more stable for generations to come than they have been the last 12 years. But this happy situation cannot come without some drastic alterations in the general plan on which banks are conducted.

Come "good times" with gradually higher prices, bank deposits increase and bankers must find profitable investments for the extra money on hand. Follow "hard times" with dropping prices and dwindling deposits, and bankers have trouble liquidating the investments to meet the withdrawal demands of depositors. The result is closing of weaker banks and a dangerous strain on the rest of them. Such has been the history of every business cycle.

Poor judgment of bankers is generally blamed when trouble develops, but a careful analysis of the situation reveals a pound of bank trouble to every ounce of poor bank management. The depositors, as groups, are more to blame than the bankers. Individually depositors are scarcely deserving of censure when they take their money out of banks that are already experiencing either steady gradual withdrawals or heavy runs. But the deposit group as a whole should never be allowed to drain the liquid from a financial institution and force its closing.

And right there is where the banking institutions are weak and the laws governing them are woefully lacking. The need of a severe penalty for unwarranted withdrawals has been demonstrated during these recent years of panicky banking. All banks have been under a strain, and every bank manager has been afraid of what might be just around the corner. Every bank has known the need of a substantial part of its deposits guaranteed against withdrawal.

That fact is most clearly seen by a comparison of the history of banks with the history of life insurance companies during the last few years. Banks have lost a tremendous amount in deposits while insurance companies have held their own. THERE IS NO REASON TO BELIEVE THAT INSURANCE COMPANIES HAVE BEEN BETTER MANAGED THAN BANKS.

The difference is in protection against withdrawals. Any depositor can withdraw part or all of his money from a bank at any time. An insured can cash his life policy but takes a heavy penalty in so doing. He only gets back a fraction of the money which he has paid in premiums. Consequently very few persons cash in their life insurance policies before they mature, and "runs" on insurance companies are avoided.

A plan is suggested for protecting banks against undue withdrawals. It is sketchy and lacks finished detail but it seems plausible as the basis for a completely new system of bank regulations.

This plan would have time deposits accepted for definite periods of time, such as one year time deposits, two year deposits, five year deposits, etc., at the option of the depositors. These would be acknowledged by certificates of deposit for these definite lengths of time, and the certificates would bear interest rates graded in proportion to the length of time. For example, a one year savings deposit would draw interest at the rate of 2 per cent per annum, a three year time deposit would draw interest at 4 per cent per annum, and a five year deposit would draw interest at the rate of 5 per cent. The depositor would be allowed to withdraw his money before date of maturity but would be forced to take a penalty of, say 5 per cent deduction from the principal for each year in advance of his date of maturity that the withdrawal was made.

Obviously the dates of maturity for different deposits would vary as do the dates for payment of life insurance. With a penalty of from 5 to 25 per cent for premature withdrawal starting a depositor in the face, he would hesitate a long time before permitting a false rumor to influence his judgment of his bank.

Such a plan should prevent "runs," curtail heavy withdrawals, and stabilize banking.

The Family Doctor

DIET OF CHIEF IMPORTANCE
IN DIABETES

A number of years ago the world enthusiastically acclaimed the discovery by medical scientists that diabetes is the result of damage to the pancreas. The pancreas, a gland situated behind the stomach, was found to produce a substance, which permitted the normal burning of the sugars we ingest. It was found that when for any reason the pancreas is injured it begins to lag in its production of this valuable sugar burning secretion. Consequently the sugars that are eaten are no longer completely burned, and accumulate in the blood and in the other tissues of the body. When we speak here of "sugars" we mean those that result from the ingestion of all sweets and starchy foods, such as bread and potatoes, and the sugars contained in a variable degree in various fruits and vegetables.

Of course, the diabetic must reconcile himself to the complete exclusion of such foods as contain sugars and starches in concentrated amounts.

Dietary treatment of diabetes is not always sufficient to control the disease completely, if it is severe. In such cases the use of insulin is indispensable.

Insulin is an extract of the sugar burning secretion produced by the pancreas. It can be used only by hypodermic injection, for it is entirely ineffective when taken by mouth.

THE WAY OF LIFE

By BRUCE BARTON

IN LATE AFTERNOON

It was very late in the afternoon in Galilee. The dozen men who had walked all day over the dusty roads were hot and tired. The sight of a village was very cheering, as they looked down on it from the top of a little hill. Their leader sent two members of the party ahead to arrange for accommodations, while he and the others sat down by the roadside to wait.

After a bit the messengers were seen returning, and even at a distance it was apparent that something unpleasant had occurred. Their cheeks were flushed and their voices angry. Breathlessly they told it—the people in the village had refused to receive them, had given them blunt notice to seek shelter somewhere else.

"Lord, these people are insufferable," one of them cried. "Let us call down fire from Heaven and consume them." The others joined in with enthusiasm. Fire from Heaven—that was an idea! Make them smart for their boorishness! Show them that they can't affront us with impunity! Come, Lord, the fire—

Quietly he gathered up his garments and started on, his outraged companions following. It is easy to imagine his keen disappointment. . . . Would they never catch a true vision of what he was about?

"And they went to another village."

Eighteen hundred years later an important man left the White House in Washington for the War Office, with a letter from the President to the Secretary of War. In a very few minutes he was back in the White House again burning with indignation. The President looked up in mild surprise. "Did you give the message to Stanton?" he asked.

"Yes, and he tore it up," exclaimed the outraged citizen, "and what's more, sir, he said you are a fool."

"Did Stanton call me that?" he asked. . . . "He did, sir, and repeated it." "Well," said the President with a dry laugh, "I reckon it must be true then, because Stanton is generally right."

The angry gentleman waited for the storm to break, but nothing happened. Abraham Lincoln turned quietly to his desk and went on with his work.

Next Week: "Boyhood Background."

LETTERBy National Editorial Association
(Special to The Review)

EVACUATION BY FORCE of the Bonus Expeditionary Force which has been quartered in the nation's capital for the past two months, and calling of federal troops to maintain order during the past week has aroused the citizens to a high pitch. To those who went "over there" the spectacle must have recalled the days in the Argonne and Chateau Thierry. The marching of soldiers, tear gas bombs, and clanging of horses hoofs, gave the city unprecedented scenes long to be remembered. An investigation is now underway by the supreme court of the District of Columbia to determine the cause of the disorders, which it is believed will bring forth some startling disclosures.

RECONSTRUCTION Finance Corporation board now completed by the appointments of former Senator Alton Pomeroy of Ohio and Charles A. Miller of New York, the complicated business of administering $300,000,000 in hunger relief loans has been started. More than half of the amount appropriated has already been requested by 13 states, and indications are that requests for twice as much money as congress made available will be filed with the corporation during the next few weeks. The relief act contemplated that any state asking help in curing for its needy should be given the money up to 15 per cent of the total fund, as soon as its governor filed an application in correct form. However, if the corporation attempts to make a thorough survey of the resources of all states and communities, loans may be considerably delayed.

RETIREMENT of Colonel John Q. Tilton, a member of congress from Connecticut for more than 20 years, was announced in a most unique manner. It has been common knowledge that Colonel Tilton has not been particularly happy in his congressional service since the republicans of the house last fall turned him down and gave his old place, republican leader, to Representative Bertrand Snell of New York. Yet, there was no intimation that he intended to retire until he made the announcement in a speech printed in the appendix of the Congressional Record after the adjournment of congress. Tilton is planning to return to private life and the practice of law in his home state.

FEDERAL FARM BOARD is now under violent attacks from all sections of the country. When the board was created and publicized as the "redeemer of the farmer," applications for positions were received from all parts of the country, most of them deeming it a privilege to be affiliated with an undertaking of such gigantic proportions and willing to work for compensation lower than they had been receiving. The attacks on the board are not pleasing to those in high command in the republican control of democratic ears for the board was inaugurated during the republican control of congress and during the Hoover administration.

MEMBERS OF CONGRESS will not have an opportunity of "passing the buck" regarding appointments to the Annapolis Naval academy and West Point Military academy in the future. Heretofore, lawmakers have made numerous appointments and placed the onus on the civil service commission to conduct competitive examinations and determine the winners. Now it will be necessary to make personal selections of young men from their districts for these military appointments as the commission has announced that because of reduced appropriations it will not conduct examinations of this character.

ONE EFFECT OF DEPRESSION and unemployment is an enormous increase in the pressure on members of congress, especially senators, for government jobs. When the Reconstruction Finance Corporation was formed in February job-seekers nearly ran members of congress ragged. Now a similar rush is on in connection with the federal home loan bank board. This board will be composed of six commissioners and a general counsel. It is understood that one state has recommended six candidates for each of the seven jobs.

Clever Fox

A gentleman who has often watched the habits of the fox tells of a ruse one adopted to catch rabbits. It crept from the edge of a copse toward several rabbits which were taking their evening meal. When at a suitable distance the fox indulged in playful gambols, which gradually brought it nearer the rabbits. The rabbits betrayed only curiosity, watching as though fascinated, and sitting up to get a better view. At length the fox made a sudden dash and seized a hapless rabbit, after which the others took cover.

The Sixth Nation

The Five Nations of Iroquois Indians occupied the best lands of New York state, and many are still found there. In 1712 another tribe moved up from North Carolina, asked to join the Iroquois, and were given land along the Chenango river. They were named Tuscaroras, meaning "shirt-wearers," and became one of the Iroquois Six Nations. The original Iroquois were the Mohawks, the Oneidas, the Onondagas, the Cayugas, and the Senecas.

Wandering
From This to That

Whole Halibut Rare Here

Whoever reads this probably has eaten halibut dozens of times, but chances are at least 100 to one that he has never seen a whole halibut fish either alive or dead, according to zoologists of Field Museum of Natural History. Halibut, one of the most highly eaten of dinner table fish, remains nevertheless one of the fish about which the average layman knows least. For this reason there has been placed on exhibition in Albert W. Harris Hall of the museum a mounted specimen of halibut.

Sold chiefly in "steaks," few inland people have even seen a whole halibut, especially since shipments are always made with the head cut off, a condition so unique in former days that it must have created much comment. Some market men, annoyed at the ceaseless questioning on this point, seems to have made up a story to satisfy his customers, that "the head of this big fish is so horrible in appearance that the government will not permit it to be brought to any place where sensitive persons may see it."

The heads are not shipped to market simply because dealers do not care to pay express charges on many pounds of fish which cannot be sold, and because in many places the fishermen have the right to keep the heads for their own use, getting a large amount of good but unsaleable meat from them.

Illegal Arrests of Motorists

Many motorists throughout Illinois are being illegally arrested and convicted of reckless driving under the terms of section 41b of the Illinois motor vehicle act, according to Joseph B. Braun, general counsel for the Chicago Motor club.

"Section 41b, recently adopted, provides in substance that anyone driving a car in reckless manner and causing personal injury not resulting in death is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction may be fined up to $1,000 or imprisoned in the county jail for not more than a year or may be fined and imprisoned," declared Mr. Braun.

"It will be noted that the section cannot be invoked unless a personal injury not resulting in death is involved," Mr. Braun continued. "In spite of the seemingly plain wording of this section, many police officers are arresting motorists on a charge of reckless driving and many judges are finding defendants guilty of the same charge in cases wherein no personal injury occurred. Furthermore, this section cannot be invoked when property damage is involved."

Fighting Corn Bore

For the protection of the farming industry of Illinois, particularly the sweetcorn and truck garden belt from Chicago southward along the Indiana line, Governor Louis L. Emmerson has issued a proclamation that restricts the importation of all commodities that might transport the European cornborer from infested territory into the state. This was made necessary, plant pest control officials stated, by the withdrawal of the protection that the federal government had provided until congress, in its recent session, failed to provide the funds required to carry on this work.

Officials of nine states, in a meeting called because of this retrenchment in governmental operations, agreed upon the necessity of this action. The state and Cook county associations of truck gardeners have pledged their aid to the efforts of the state and local officials to bring about obedience to the embargo order to keep the insect that has caused serious losses in the East from entering Illinois.

Rich Soil Due to Glaciation

The famous black soil of large parts of Illinois is one of the indirect results of the glaciation of this region in Pleistocene time. Western and southern Illinois was once a very smooth plain, formed by a great sheet of ice that invaded the region from the northeast, bringing with it much earthy material. When the ice melted, its burden of drift was dropped as a fairly even sheet over the entire region, forming what is known as a "till plain." On this plain the drainage was at first poor, and swampy conditions prevailed. Later, however, erosion by numerous streams gave somewhat better drainage except on the untrenched interspersed areas. After this dissection a relatively thin loamy deposit was formed, composed largely of dust blown up from glacial silt on the river flats.

"The corn in most sections this year is so high that it effectively blocks the view at cross roads," the warning stated. Hair Cutting No Light Matter Among Indians

A haircut for a member of the Pima tribe of the Yuma reservation, Arizona, is no light matter. It involves not only a laborious job, but it involves the careful gathering and burial of all the clippings.

Three men work on one patron, who sits on a log. Two of the barbers in turn hold their long knives under locks of hair. The third man strikes a sharp blow with a piece of wood, cutting off the hair that rests on the keen edges. The process goes on until it is possible to see the customer's scalp behind the wall.

Then comes the work of cleaning up. Every single hair is picked up from the ground, which has been swept clean in preparation for the operation. The clippings are buried in a hole a foot deep, and the ground is packed down tightly.

The Indians believe that if an enemy would find one of the hairs and give it a sharp pull, it would have the effect of pulling the brain of the former owner against his skull and thus killing him. It is believed also that if anyone steps on a hair lying on the ground, it will give the former owner a headache.

Mrs. McCracken Wins Barrington Hills Tournament

Mrs. W. McCracken of the Barrington Hills Country club won the better half trophy Tuesday morning by defeating Mrs. R. W. Buckley two up in the final round of the tournament. The entire match was closely contested and was even at the sixteenth hole when Mrs. Buckley drove into the rough and failed to recover. Ball sweepstakes at Barrington Hills were won on Saturday by J. G. Searle, 79-72. The second best score for the day was made by C. J. Whipple, 84-11-73. G. G. Botts and S. P. Bopert tied for third place with respective scores of 80-11-75 and 90-15-75. Sweepstakes on Sunday were won by G. G. Botts, 84-11-73; F. T. Mitchell, 83-18-75; and S. A. Goodman, 84-7-77.

The junior club championship tournament has reached the finals with Dave Klingenberg and Bob Griffin in the lead. Last week Dave defeated Bill Webbe 3-1, and Bob won from Sanford White by default.

Salem Team Drubs Methodists 5-4 in Softball League

Baptists Win First Game by Crushing St. Paul 9 to 7

In what proved to be one of the best and hardest played games of the Barrington Softball league's season the Salem team defeated the Methodist team by a score of 5 to 4 at the Russell street park diamonds Friday night. The winning team demonstrated supreme ability and strengthened its hold on the top of the longest standing. Both teams played fine ball, but the Salem boys hunched three hits in the sixth, while the Methodist team contributed two errors for two runs. Beuscher started at bat with a double and a home run for the victors.

The surprise of the evening came when Baptist upset St. Paul 9 to 7. The St. Paul boys made five runs in the last inning but failed to overpower their opponents. Fielding was ragged at intervals, and many hits went for extra bases.

Dispute Arises
The St. Anne's and Jewel game was called when a stormy argument arose concerning the size of the ball that is being used. At a later meeting of the tournament officials the dispute was ironed out and the league will continue with the original six teams participating.

The present standing in the Softball league is as follows:

	Won	Lost	Pct
Salem	8	1	.889
St. Anne's	5	3	.625
Jewel	4	4	.500
St. Paul	3	5	.444
Methodist	3	5	.375
Baptist	1	7	.125

The next scheduled games for Friday night will be: Salem with St. Paul, Methodist with Jewel, and St. Anne's with Baptist.

One Man Street Cars on Some Chicago Lines

Operation of one man street cars on certain lines in Chicago by the Chicago Surface Line has been authorized by the Illinois Commerce Commission, which denied the company a blanket order for one man car operation and ordered into effect a new safety rule. By this rule no operator of a one man car is to collect fares or make change while the car is in motion. Installation of this service on some 15 lines will aid the company to regain losses due to decreased patronage, the commission believes.

Plans Are Approved for Restoring Old Salem

Governor Louis L. Emmerson has approved plans for the restoration of Old Salem to the appearance it presented when Abraham Lincoln lived there, between 1831 and 1837. An appropriation of $50,000, provided by the legislature, will be utilized for the proportion of this work that can be undertaken within the year, according to the division of state parks and memorials.

The original Onstott cooper shop, in which Lincoln studied by the light of an open fire of cooper shavings, is to be protected with a permanent, fireproof structure that will house it.

A formidable list of buildings that were standing in Lincoln's time are to be reproduced, in accordance with the types of architecture then in vogue. Many of these cabins, shops and stores, will be re-erected on the remains of their original foundations.

Big Double Circus Has Vast Program

Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Presents More New Features Than Ever

The colossal of all amusements, Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey circus is definitely scheduled to exhibit in Chicago at Grant park, nine days, beginning Saturday afternoon, Aug. 6.

The No. 1 advertising car, the first of three in advance of The Greatest Show on Earth, has been in this vicinity recently. Billposters, banners, men, lithographers, radio men and press agents are heralding the great event, and soon everyone will be planning for a gala visit to the world's largest "big top," the center of the biggest canvas city ever assembled to thrill, entertain and amuse a great and discriminating populace.

Traveling on four trains of double-length train, the circus, the giant of super-circuses will bring 1,000 people, 1,000 menagerie animals, 50 elephants and a herd of the largest and tallest giraffes ever exhibited. Pre-eminent features are many. A tribe of monster-mouthed Ubangi savages from the jungles of equatorial Africa are presented this season by popular demand.

The Flying Codonas, featuring Al-Tredo, the world's only triple mid-air somersault in a hand-to-hand catch; the Concellis and Haroldis, sensational acrobats; Miss Tamara, Europe's greatest circus star; Lulu, the supreme aerial gymnast; the Williams, defying death in astounding feats on a steel wire in the peak of the big top; Al Powell, flying aerial contortionist; The Rubis, Sisters, Yacopis, Danvills and Hugonis, amazing acrobats; The Rief, French Troupe, heading the new five-continent group of bare-back stars; Maximo, beloved comedian of the black wire—these are but a few of the stellar attractions.

There are 800 performers and 100 internationally celebrated and beloved clowns. The Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey horse fair has become a feature amazing in its appeal throughout the North American continent.

Everybody wishes to see the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey circus this year, and it is a foregone conclusion that the world's largest tent, seating 16,000 persons, will be filled to the last chair afternoon and night. Seven rings and stages and the hipodrome track, to say nothing of the vast maze of aerial and wire display rigging, will be in use. Countless new foreign features and innovations new to America are introduced on the gigantic program of the Greatest Show on Earth this year.

Throughout circus day the three gigantic tented stables of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey organization will be open to the public free of charge. Here lovers of fine horses may view at random hundreds of the world's most beautiful thoroughbreds. Perfect specimens of almost every known strain will be found in the big show's great free horse fair which also includes a congress of tiny Shetland ponies to delight the little folks.

agricultural production in this county than in any other county in the state," he asserted. "We all know that agriculture is depressed, the farmers' produce is not selling at prices anywhere near what we would like to see and that much of it is not finding a market at any price. It is the utilizing of this produce which may be turned to a good cause that we are thinking about, and we feel sure that our farmers will go to bat on this proposition as effectively and with as unified efforts as they already have proven themselves capable of in tackling other problems."

Associated with Barrett on the farm bureau committee are Frank Dickman, Dalton; Ezra McCaughy, Palos Park; and Harry Schillf, Northfield. By personal solicitation and radio appeals, this committee will attempt to gather tons of farm produce throughout Cook county and deliver it to Paul Rader's pantry, where a staff of volunteer workers is on hand to clean, cook, and can the vegetables for distribution this winter.

In addition to the Cook county activities, Dr. Rader is organizing "canning camps" at other points throughout the middle west and expects to prepare at least 6,000,000 cans of produce for Chicago's needy.

Marries Delinquent, May Lose Electric Service

Kerosene lamps or darkness may be the fate of Mrs. West-Moose unless she divorces her husband.

Mrs. West-Moose has become the owner, through the death of her first husband, of a house in which she desires electric service. Having wedded a second husband, one John Moose, who as a partner in the defunct Red Ball Cafe of East St. Louis, owes the East St. Louis Light & Power Company for service, Mrs. West-Moose has been told by the company that to obtain service in her home she must divorce Moose. The commission is investigating the case.

Tuberculosis is on a rapid retreat in Illinois this year, in spite of economic conditions, according to the state department of public health. Provisional statistics show a 12 per cent reduction in mortality from this disease during the first five months of 1932 compared to the corresponding period of last year.

Roadside Grave Mystery Is Again in the Limelight

The famous roadside grave mystery has been opened again. Sheriff Lester Edinger of McHenry county is now in touch with DuPage county officials who are anxious to review clothing and whatever remains of the body of the woman found in a lonely grave along a country road west of Crystal Lake on Nov. 11 of last year. "The following story appearing in the Aurora Beacon-News discloses the latest news of the mystery:

The search for the wife of Charles E. Rogers, now serving time in the Wisconsin state prison for the shooting of a nurse, Mrs. Laura Talley, former Aurora woman, turned today to McHenry county. Mrs. Rogers has been missing for months and her brother, Leslie Long, told DuPage county authorities a month ago he believed she had been slain by her husband and her body buried.

Found in Bushes
A thorough search of the Bloomingdale farm where the couple lived a year ago revealed no trace but Sheriff Edinger, reading of the case, recalled the finding of a woman's body last November 11 buried in bushes along the lonely road near Crystal Lake.

The Woodstock sheriff notified Special Investigator Alan Myers of State's Attorney Chauncey W. Reed's office that remnants of clothing the woman wore and a portion in which the body of the woman was wrapped might be identified by Mrs. Rogers' brother and friends. The finding of the woman's body, the sheriff said, is still an unsolved mystery in McHenry county, although criminologists from the Chicago police department and the Northwestern university crime detection laboratory worked on the case for weeks.

Investigator Myers said he would take Long and friends of Mrs. Rogers, who knew her at Bloomingdale to Woodstock in an attempt to identify the clothing and might ask that the body be exhumed for an examination.

Births Out Number Deaths by Only Small Margin

The vital statistics for the state of Illinois for the first five months of 1932, show that births and deaths have been nearly equal, according to the state department of public health. During that period, there were only 5,637 more births than deaths in Illinois. The births in 1932 up to the end of May figures 12.9 for each 1,000 population, and there were 11.2 deaths for each 1,000 population. For the first half of 1931, the proportions were 14.6 births and 11.0 deaths per 1,000 population.

Assessment for Tax Levy Forced Down to $31

Trustees Faced With Problem of Raising Revenue Meet Expenses

The smallest village tax assessed within recent years by a village board of trustees received unanimous approval of six members of the board in regular meeting last night.

The assessment allowed for 1932-33, to cover the operating expenses of the village during the fiscal year 1932-33, is only 60 per cent of the total amount of the appropriation and is less than 60 per cent of the actual expenditures of the fiscal year, 1931-32. For comparison the last fiscal year an appropriation and levy for the fiscal year are given:

1931-32	1932-33
Appropriation	$30
Expenditures	$30
Appropriation	$30
Levy	$31

Although this drastic reduction contemplated expenditures is in with the economy ideas of members of the board, it is also far in excess of the earlier plans of the trustees, something which taxpayers are welcome but it may be the forerunner of a severe problem for the administrative officers of the village by the end of the fiscal year when tax bills will have been deep and unpaid bills pour into the village's office.

Two of the most eager members of the trustees had hoped the assessment for the levy, or 15 per cent less than the appropriation, which would have the foundation for a definite reduction in 1932-33 expenditures to those of 1931-32. Village Attorney D. B. Maloney declared that $31 is the maximum that the board ask for and expect to receive if the trustees of Cook and 11 counties without including an interest on bonded indebtedness as former Barrington village board have done. Barrington has no bonded indebtedness, so the trustees and voters decided that the practice including an assessment for interest on ghost indebtedness should be stopped.

Just because the levy has been to a previous size is no reason expenditures will be curtailed much. Many expenditures will go just the same, with the result either a big deficit will pile up or board will be forced to find some additional method of raising revenue.
