Electrolysis Is The Answer

Anyone who is interested in good grooming and an attractive appearance is likely to read about electrolysis. It is the only method which will remove your unwanted hair permanently, and it is not a new technique. Successful results have been reported and discussed favorably in the medical journals since 1875, more than a century ago.

Nowadays thousands of women make appointments every week with their electrologists, but very few openly tell their friends or relatives about the positive results. Most people are too embarrassed to mention facial or body hairs, and so the facts about permanent removal must often be learned from responsible beauty editors or medical columnists.

Fortunately, there is a skilled electrologist at Clear Reflections in the Barrington Commons who can remove those telltale hairs quickly and conveniently in the privacy of a professional office.

Now past its 100th anniversary, electrolysis is a boon to mankind which goes on making converts every day. The reason is obvious—success and permanence make an unbeatable combination.

Take away those unwanted hairs and what you have left is confidence in your own charm and attractive appearance. Phone Clear Reflections at 381-9020 for your appointment.

Clear Reflections has provided 19 years of service at the same location.

June, 1995

Dear Reader,

'Tis the season for worthy fundraisers, and what successes they were! Clearbrook's Seventh Annual Shining Star Ball really glittered. Neil Hartigan, former Attorney General of Illinois, and his wife Marge, co-chairmen of the event, warmly greeted everyone as the guests arrived. The elegant evening at the Ritz-Carlton, featured a gourmet dinner, outstanding prizes and dancing to the wonderful sounds of the Stu Hirsh Orchestra. The Shining Star Ball Committee raised $370,000 for Clearbrook Center's Clinic.

Hooray for Hollywood! was filled with glitz, fun and complete with impersonators W.C. Fields, Groucho Marks and Marilyn Monroe. This gala netted close to $75,000 for the Barrington Youth Services, a not-for-profit agency serving 7,500 children in the Barrington communities through counseling service and prevention programs.

The TNOS benefit, "An Evening at the Verdi's," was worth singing about, netting $12,000 to help support the ongoing expenses of the chorus.

Happy Father's Day, Dads! We hope June 18th is a very special day for you.

Until next time, may all your thoughts be sunny.

With warm regards,

Glenn M. McMonigal

Seventh Annual Shining Star Ball Benefits Clearbrook Center

Mayor Richard Daley and his wife Maggie enjoy Clearbrook's seventh annual Shining Star Ball with Marge and Neil Hartigan, Co-Chairmen of this year's gala.

Over 500 Chicagoans gathered together as Clearbrook Center presented its seventh annual Shining Star Ball at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel in Chicago. This elegant evening featured a gourmet dinner, outstanding prizes and dancing to the sounds of the Stu Hirsh Orchestra.

Neil Hartigan, former Attorney General of Illinois, and his wife Marge were the Co-Chairmen of the seventh annual Shining

Star Ball. "Clearbrook Center is an extraordinarily important program because of the dignity it brings to its very special children and adults and the model it provides for what the rest of the programs in Illinois can and should be," commented Neil and Marge Hartigan.

Prizes included an all expense paid trip to the 1996 Superbowl; trips around the world to exciting locations such as Madrid, London, Tokyo and Paris; shopping sprees; fine jewelry and much more. Some of the prize winners included William Daley of Chicago - London Package, Edward McCaskey of Des Plaines - Paris Package and Carl Norlander of St. Petersburg, Florida - Superbowl Package.

The Shining Star Ball Committee raised $370,000 for Clearbrook Center's Clinic. The Clinic is an innovative program which provides evaluation and therapy services, behavior intervention and psychological counselling to Clearbrook's clients. Through these therapies, Clearbrook provides more service to the developmentally challenged than many other organizations in the area.

Clearbrook Center is a private, not-for-profit agency serving over 650 children and adults with developmental challenges including mental retardation, autism, cerebral palsy, epilepsy and other neurological disorders. Clearbrook provides therapies, vocational training, residential services, children's services and operates 23 facilities throughout the northwest suburban area of Chicago.

Joy and Richard O'Connell of Crystal Lake take time out to pose for a photo at the seventh annual Shining Star Ball. Joy and 26 other committee members organize this spectacular affair each year on behalf of Clearbrook Center.

Hooray For Hollywood!

On Friday evening May 5th, Barrington Hills Country Club was the setting for the annual Barrington Youth Services fundraiser. The Barrington Youth Services Auxiliary selected a "Hooray for Hollywood" theme. A sell out crowd of 250 guests were greeted by a huge "Hollywood" sign (ala the H-o-l-l-y-w-o-o-d Hills sign in Hollywood) and a mob of "fans" (Barrington High School drama students) who descended on each car screaming for autographs, taking photos, and identifying the stars and starlets within. Sunglasses were passed out to each guest upon arrival. Many guests chose to wear them the entire evening!

Impersonators W.C. Fields, Groucho Marks and Marilyn Monroe were surprise guests at the cocktail party before dinner. During dinner guests had the opportunity to purchase chocolate Oscars in the category of their design to be presented anonymously during dinner by Marilyn Monroe. Auction Chairman Denise Vollman coordinated a very successful silent auction. With over 175 items, the auction tables had to be kept open until after 10:00 to accommodate the bidding frenzy. The band "Just Friends" played until after midnight and many happy guests didn't go home until close to 1:00 a.m. Although the final numbers are not in, the gala netted close to $75,000. During the welcoming toast by Kimberly Penning and Leigh Furda (event Co-chairmen) a special thanks was given to all the companies and individuals who underwrote the evening. Suburban Bank, Harris Bank, and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Pepper were recognized for their very generous donations.

Brian Piccolo Run And Fitness Walk Sunday, June 18

At 8:00 am, Sunday, June 18, 1995, The Chancellory (formerly Hamilton Lakes, Itasca) will be the sight of the Brian's Run VIII.

The Run and Fitness Walk begins and ends near the intersection of Park Boulevard and Pierce Road at The Chancellory. Parking is available at The Chancellory.

The distance is 5K (3.1 miles) and the course is flat, wide open and fast. For more information call The Chancellory at (708) 773-6800.

The Brian Piccolo Cancer Research Fund was established 25 years ago to remember the Chicago Bears running back and to raise money to help find a cure for the cancer that took his life. Brian, an All-American half-back from Wake Forest, died on June 16, 1970, from testicular cancer, which at that time had only a 5% cure rate. Today, due to a large extent to research at Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center in New York, supported by the Brian Piccolo Postdoctoral Fellowship, testicular cancer has a cure rate of over 90%.

In 1992, the Piccolo Committee decided to focus on breast cancer research. Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center in Chicago was chosen as the recipient of the Fund's annual proceeds. In 1994, the Brian Piccolo Endowed Chair for Cancer Research was established as a permanent endowment, and the Committee plans to increase it well into the future. Income from the endowment is directed to Dr. Kambiz Dowlat's breast cancer research program at Rush.

In 1995, in order to emphasize the Fund's commitment, the Committee requested that Sloan-Kettering redirect the income from the permanently endowed fellowship to breast cancer research. Dedication to breast cancer research is now Piccolo's primary focus at both institutions.

The Fund also supports two local facilities: Children's Memorial Hospital's Bone Marrow Transplant Unit and Clearbrook Center for the developmentally disabled in Rolling Meadows.

Please join with Brian's daughters and friends for Brian's Run VII on Sunday, June 18, 1995 at The Chancellory, Itasca, IL.

Order Deadline Nears For Robert Bateman's Mesmerizing Time-Limited Edition Print

The response to Robert Bateman's newest release has been unanimous: "This is something collectors have been waiting for!", "A beautiful piece!", "Very dramatic!", "Lots of mystery!". And it's no wonder. The subject is the wolf and the ancient timberland it inhabits. Careful study reveals the same image from Bateman's Midnight—Black Wolf, an earlier and extremely popular release, hidden in the deep forest of this time-limited edition print. Descending Shadows—Timber Wolves will be available next month but the deadline to order is June 29 at Woodland Art Gallery, where you'll find one of the largest selections in the country of Robert Bateman art.

Woodland Art Gallery also announced the availability of Don Hatfield's 1991 highly collectible release Poppy Meadow. Blooming in 110 colors, the original hand-pulled serigraph is a remarkable example of the artist's ability to softly blend the figures of realism in the vein of the romantic impressionism artists. This is a wonderful opportunity to add a work by the most innovative impressionist of our time to your collection.

Along with an extensive selection of works by both Bateman and Hatfield, Woodland Art Gallery and Frame Shoppe features the largest collection of limited edition prints from all of today's important artists including Carl Brenders,

"Poppy Meadow" by Don Hatfield

Dean Morrissey, Jim Daly, Terry Isaac, John Seerey-Lester, Michael Young, Bradley J. Parrish, Bev Doolittle, Arleta Pech, and Peter Ellenshaw. Gallery owner and master framer Scott Teasdale is also the areas most respected and knowledgeable source on the secondary market for locating sold-out works. And, of course, custom matting and framing by Woodland Art Gallery assures the integrity of your art for years to come.

Woodland Art Gallery is located at 71-B East Woodstock Street in downtown Crystal Lake. Open Monday-Friday, 9-5 and Saturday, 9-3. Phone 815-459-0460. VISA and MasterCard are accepted and shipping is available anywhere.

I hope to see you all soon. Our wonderful staff looks forward to making your shopping experience a pleasure.

Laser Resurfacing To Remove Wrinkles
Everyone knows that as we age we get more wrinkles. This starts in some people even in their late twenties. There are many remedies for this. Lotions, creams, and moisturizers have been used for years. More recently alpha-hydroxy acids have gained popularity. Yet the only permanent improvement that can be made in wrinkles requires some method to resurface the skin; to actually remove the outer layers of skin and allow a new and smoother skin surface to form in the healing process. Good results have been obtained in the past with both dermabrasion and chemical peeling. Now, an exciting new advance in laser technology makes it possible to safely and effectively resurface the skin using the laser.

What Type Of Laser Is Used And How Are The Treatments Done?

A carbon dioxide laser is used for skin resurfacing. When this type of laser is applied to the skin it barely penetrates and therefore vaporizes only a minute layer of the surface. The laser is passed over the skin a number of times to remove the amount of surface skin necessary to smooth the wrinkles. As this is done the laser seals any blood vessels so there is no bleeding. This makes the visualization superb allowing a very controlled depth of skin removal. The skin will look raw for approximately a week while the new skin resurfaces the area where the old skin was removed. After a week, the area is healed but will still be pink. This fades gradually as the skin forms new collagen and elastin fibers beneath the surface further tightening and smoothing the skin. Makeup can be worn over the area after one week to camouflage the pinkness.

What Type Of Anesthesia Is Used?

A local anesthetic is usually used for small areas but if the entire face is being resurfaced a twilight sleep is more comfortable for the patient.

Can This Be Used For Scars As Well As Wrinkles?

The smoothing of scars has traditionally been done with dermabrasion. Laser resurfacing is definitely another option to be used. The two procedures heal similarly and will get similar results. The advantage to using the laser, though, is that the procedure is bloodless and that makes it easier to see the depth to which the skin and scars are removed.

Where Can This Be Done?

We are now performing laser resurfacing in our accredited center in Barrington. This is an outpatient procedure so it requires no hospitalization. For more information call 708-304-1000.

Discover The Secrets And Surprises Of "Two More Indian Horses"

Marcene's Frame Shop is pleased to announce the upcoming July release of Two More Indian Horses by Bev Doolittle.

In 1994, Bev announced a creative hiatus, citing her desire to explore new artistic avenues. At that time, Bev promised for 1995, a final limited edition fine art print opportunity for her collectors. Two More Indian Horses is the fulfillment of her promise. The print offers a new perspective on the beloved Doolittle work Two Indian Horses, which was released in 1985 with great success.

An intriguing narrative told in three panels, using techniques of camouflage and wrap-around perspective, where every story has two sides. The viewer witnesses not only what is happening in front of them but also what is taking place behind them.

The storytelling device, which you see in the foreground, is a soldier's shaving mirror, hanging on a tree. In the first panel, the mirror reveals calm, tethered horses while in front, all seems motionless in the woods. As the story continues in the second panel, the viewer discovers behind in the mirror image part of what the woods had kept hidden; looking in front tells what other secrets the trees hide. Finally, we reach the end of the story in the third panel and the viewer discovers that now there are two more Indian horses.

"Two More Indian Horses" by Bev Doolittle

Edition size is limited to 48,000 worldwide.

Join Bev as she again breaks new artistic ground. Discover the secrets and surprises of Two More Indian Horses at Marcene's Frame Shop in Barrington and Lake Zurich. Place your order before June 30 at the prepublication price of $345.00.

More surprises are due from Bev Doolittle in the fall when her new book is released. New Magic, with text by Elise MacLay, will be offered in a Collector's Edition and a regular edition.

Other new books available this fall from Greenwich Workshop: Steve Lyman's Into the Wilderness, and Scott Gustafson's Animal Orchestra.

Kid Smart Vacations

While on vacation, do you want a little time away from your children, yet still include them on the trip? There are programs, like daycare, that offer the children some social interaction, fun activities, and even a fun educational experience. Many hotels and cruises are now offering these types of planned activities, but some are more formal than others. Call our family travel expert, Marianne, for special family-oriented tour packages and cruise vacations at 381-6400.

Stop Thief

Some hotels are sewing anti-theft strips on their towels in an effort to thwart light-fingered guests, according to a report in The Wall Street Journal. The strips are meant to trigger alarms, just as anti-shoplifting devices do in clothing stores. Petty theft of alarm clocks, artwork, robes, towels, and other items costs the U.S. hotel industry $100 million a year, the Journal says.

Emerald Isle Tours

British Airways, in cooperation with CIE Tours, is offering some innovative new Ireland vacation packages this summer. Highlights of Ireland luxury motorcoach tours includes eight nights at a hotel with full Irish breakfast daily, round-trip air between London and Dublin, four table d'hôte dinners, an additional dinner at Dublin's Abbey Tavern, tea and scones at an Irish farmhouse, sightseeing including Dublin Castle, Trinity College, and the Cliffs of Maher, and much more. The package costs as little as $1,136 per person. A five night/six day package begins at $820 per person. For those preferring to travel on their own, Ireland hotel specials offer exclusive rates of $69 to $91 per person double occupancy. Car rentals through British Airways Holidays begin at $35 a day. In addition, there are packages that include airfare from the U.S. beginning at $1,109 per person plus seven nights at a hotel, a rental car, and many other extras. Ask for a British Airways London Plus brochure describing these and other tours.

Putt Your Way to Free Flight

Delta Airlines will give you a free companion ticket when you buy a box of Maxfli golf balls and pay a $10 processing fee. Part of the fee goes to the PGA Foundation, so you'll be helping a good cause too.

Pearl Cruises Heads to Cuba

The travel industry's first year-round program of week-long cruises OT Cuba is being launched by Pearl Cruises' 480 passenger Pearl which is leaving the Far East in September. Pearl's parent, Costa Crociere, an Italian company, does not fall under the U.S. embargo of Cuba and will violate no U.S. laws in sailing to Cuba.

No Passport Required

Seven members of the European Union lifted passport requirements for travel across their borders, including France, Germany, the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg, Portugal and Spain. Travelers will be required to produce their passports only upon initial entry into one of the countries.

A Lovely Spring Party

Wonderful food and background music provided by Mary Sue Redmann, harpist, contributed to the convivial atmosphere of the evening. Highlight of the event was when Howard Witt, Chairman of Littelfuse Inc. generously presented a $1000.00 check to the cause of Home of the Sparrow.

In addition to the Ehlerts, appreciation for the evening is extended to Gold Standard Liquors of Highland Park, Pittas Greenhouse, and Phoenix Press of Barrington. A special thanks to Ian McDermott, photography student at Barrington High School who donated his services.

BAAC ART Fair—A Father's Day Treat

1994 Art Fair scene

This year celebrate Father's Day—June 18—by taking the whole family out to celebrate in the streets: Cook and Station streets, that is, in the Village of Barrington. From 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Barrington Area Arts Council (BAAC) will hold its annual juried Art Fair featuring the work of over 90 artists from Illinois, Wisconsin, Florida, Maryland, Iowa, Missouri, Michigan and Minnesota. They were selected by a panel of jurists from among 144 applicants to the fair, which is fast becoming one of Chicagoland's most attractive.

Booths lining the streets immediately adjacent to the BAAC Gallery will create a festive atmosphere for Dad's special day, all the while affording him the opportunity to choose an interesting gift for himself from among the art media represented in this ninth annual event: watercolor, oil, etching, acrylic, sculpture, ceramic, woodworking, photography, fiber, jewelry (yes, men wear it, too!) and glass.

While Dad peruses the artwork, children can participate in art activities coordinated by Kaleidoscope Gallery and School of Art. Or they can enjoy entertainment such as the organ grinder from Hoffman's Animal Kingdom (11:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.) and magician Jeff Fredrickson (10 a.m. to 1 p.m.). Chuck-a-roo the Clown will delight with balloon sculptures in the early afternoon. And word has it Benny the Bull is trying to arrange his schedule to join in for an hour or so as well.

With all there is to see and do, not to mention the friends one will meet for a chat in the street, time flies... and hunger sets in. Food vendors will lend their enticing aromas to the summer breezes, and almost any palate can be satisfied by their fare.

Gallery In The Library

The Barrington Area Arts Council (BAAC) and the Barrington Area Library invite the public to visit the BAAC's Gallery in the Library's current exhibit. The show features fine artists from Barrington and the surrounding area. Exhibiting artists are: Gerry Howard and Stephanie Nadolski, mixed media; Gail Collier and Joan Robertson, colored pencil; Susan Nimmer, watercolor; Peg Cullen, acrylic; Ann Neville, photography; Barbara Fuhr, sculpture; and P. J. Howard, pottery. Featuring a variety of artistic styles and mediums, the show is a visual and educational experience for all ages. The exhibit will be on view until June 30, 1995 during regular library hours.

An Update From Travel House

by Eleanor Nelson & Sally Hayward

Thought I would update you on what's been happening here at Travel House this year. This is the year of the "special birthdays". Our manager, Shyrl Gagnon just had her special birthday, (I won't tell you how many, let's just say it's a lot), and we gave her a surprise party which we think she really enjoyed.

Shyrl has been with Travel House for eight years, a small but valuable portion of the years she has been in the travel business. There is very little she does not know about travel whether it is putting together a very complex Asian or European itinerary, selling an African Safari, or fixing the computers, telephones, and all of our other equipment. She is well-traveled, well-read and very special to all of us at Travel House.

Lee Nissen and Karen Ter Maat are also celebrating that special birthday this year, (we are getting older, aren't we?). Lee and Karen both work in our leisure travel department and are experts at finding just the right vacation destination. They both work hard to make sure your vacation turns out just the way you'd like it to be. Lee spends her spare time flying around the world checking out that special small hotel you've always dreamed about, and Karen has been cruising and visiting the Caribbean Islands.

We have many other wonderful people here at Travel House, but I thought this month we should wish these three ladies a very special birthday. After all, how many times do we turn (?).

Now See Her This Way!

Memories Last Forever

What will you leave your children someday? Money? Property? Memories? The money and property will all too soon be consumed, but the memories will last forever, and the one single item that completely reinforces that memory is a portrait. Not just a snapshot at a birthday party or holiday, but a real professional portrait, one that has been designed to not only capture the image of the person but one that tells a story of who and what that person is.

Since 1975, Joe Rush, Master Photographer and Langdon's of Barrington has been doing just that, capturing not only the image but also the person behind it.

Because of Joe's extensive background in all styles of portraiture and mastery of photographic techniques, he will bring to you any style and background you wish. This will afford you, the portrait customers, a great deal of convenience while being able to receive the same quality and service as they have always expected from Langdon's of Barrington. All this, delivered in a new and unique style at a realistic price.

Some Common Dental Terms

by Dr. Raymond Kotz

Many of my patients seem confused by dental nomenclature. Since it's easier to communicate if we both know the same language, I will include a brief glossary for you and to help teach your children.

1. Carious Lesion—The damaged tooth structure created by the bacteria found in plaque (this is commonly referred to as a "cavity").

2. Dental Restoration—The product of proper use of a dental material to recreate tooth structure to its original or improved form, (patients usually call these "fillings"). Dentists may disparagingly refer to a poorly executed restoration as a "filling".

3. Crown—The natural portion of a tooth which is made of enamel and is visible in your mouth. Also, the product of replacement of the natural crown with various dental materials. These are sometimes called "caps".

4. Onlay—A restoration that covers the biting surface of a tooth but does not extend over the entire crown. Onlays offer strength without excessive loss of tooth structure.

5. Gingiva—The tissue which covers the bone adjacent to your teeth. It functions as a barrier to bacteria and protects the underlying bone while chewing. Commonly called "gums".

6. Mucosa—The tissue covering your lips, tongue, cheeks, and the areas of the mouth not covered by the gingiva.

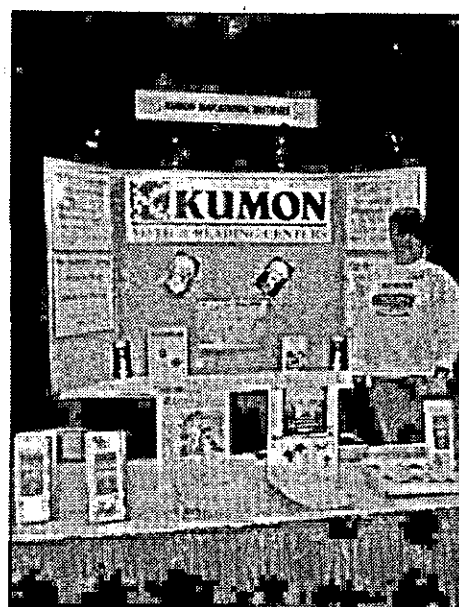

7. Periodontal Disease—Inflammation and destructive disease involving the gingiva and bony support of the teeth.

If you were unfamiliar with these terms, you might want to save this glossary for reference before your next trip to the dentist.

Kumon: Summer Exercise For The Brain

Summertime and Kumon—what a perfect pair! So says Patt Heise, director of the Kumon Math and Reading Center of Palatine. "Summertime is the time when we see the most dramatic advancement in our students' progress. They and their parents realize that a ten- or fifteen-minute commitment every day can mean improved grades in the fall when school starts again, and they know how important it is to not let your brain stagnate all summer. Many students even request extra work over the summer, especially those working below grade level; and it's not unusual to see a student advance two or more grade levels in just a few months. We think nothing of enrolling our children in park district programs such as baseball and tennis because we don't want them just sitting around all summer. Why not a program that will exercise their brain?"

Heise continues: "As any school teacher can tell you, when school begins in the fall, teachers have to spend weeks reviewing what students forgot over the summer. With Kumon, whether in the math program, reading program, or both, students not only do not forget what they previously learned; but also in some cases, they are doing work above grade level by the time school starts. Even more importantly, the math anxiety we see in many students disappears and confidence in math and all subjects improves. School teachers have reported dramatic improvements in attitude and self-esteem of Kumon students, often before they notice an improvement in math or reading skills.

Patt Heise, Kumon Director

Kumon Math, an export of Japan that stresses the "old fashioned" way of learning—practice makes perfect—has helped over ten million children in the past 40 years. There are more than 40 centers in the Chicagoland area, and many centers are now also offering Kumon Reading, a comprehensive program covering phonics, grammar, comprehension, and even problem solving. The Palatine Center has more than 80 students currently enrolled, and Heise has been the instructor for two-and-a-half years. For more information call 1-800-YES-MATH.

In an event that balanced fun and philanthropy, the Barrington Junior Women's Club set new records for fundraising and attendance during its annual Spring Fashion Show and Luncheon, Saturday, April 22, 1995.

The sold-out audience of 660 ladies applauded as colorful designer ensembles, furs and elegant evening wear were modeled. Even the Lion King and a troupe of junior models graced the runway that was generously underwritten by Nordstrom.

In addition to clothing from Woodfield and Barrington-area retailers, award-winning garments created by students of William Rainey Harper Junior College's fashion design program were featured in the show.

back in the word 'fund-raiser'" said fashion show co-chairwoman, Janet Sheppard, of Barrington Hills. "The setting was elegant, the show was exciting, the food superb. It's gratifying to have so much fun, and at the same time, raise funds that benefit the community." Co-chairwoman, Andrea Splett, North Barrington, concurred, saying "I love being involved with an organization that is serious about its commitment to community service, and also appreciates how to have a great time!"

According to co-chairwoman Sheppard, "This event surpassed our expectations on all levels, with net profits exceeding $20,000. It will be hard to top next year, but as soon as we catch our breath, we'll start planning a repeat performance!"

Both women applauded the efforts of their hard-working committee and thanked the Barrington-area retailers who participated in the fashion show. "When we asked for support, businesses of every type and size, throughout Barrington, were willing to lend a hand. We owe our success to their generosity and community spirit," Andrea Splett said.

All profits from the fashion show and silent auction will be channeled to charitable organizations, educational programs, and other not-for-profit groups that positively impact the lives of children, adults and senior citizens in the Barrington community.

Village Antique Tailgate Show

What is a "Tailgate Show?" According to Lynne Rushing, chairperson for the Barrington Historical Society's Second Annual Tailgate Show, it is an "old world" tradition of selling and purchasing quality antiques. In the 1700's Europeans didn't sell antiques in stores but took their best pieces to open air markets in villages and larger cities. Throughout the 18th and 19th centuries in Europe, serious collectors frequented the village markets for prize pieces.

So, in the European tradition, the Barrington Area Historical Society would like to invite the discriminating buyer, the history buff, and also the weekend browser to join them on Saturday, June 24th from 9:00 am until 5:00 pm for an "old world" quality antique tailgate show. The show will be held on the tree-lined grounds of the Pepper Construction Company just off Northwest Highway (Route 14) between Route 59 and Lake Cook Road. Admission is $4 for adults and children under 16 are free.

The selection committee, which consisted of Lynne Rushing, Ginny Ellefson and Pat Fein, has assembled over 30 licensed and professional dealers from across the country who will be exhibiting many special heirlooms at excellent values. Included in the wide variety of antiques for sale will be Flo Blue and other fine china, quality glassware and unique period art objects. Porcelain, silver and heirloom jewelry dealers will all be represented as well as sellers of clocks, furniture, books, linens, marble, rugs, architectural features and many more specialty items.

The professional staff from the famous Dunning Auction House of Chicago and Elgin will be on hand in the afternoon to give a verbal appraisal of personal items at a minimal charge of $5 per piece. Guests are encouraged to bring any family artifact with them for Dunning's to evaluate.

Refreshments will be sold throughout the day by the Texan Barbecue Restaurant of Algonquin.

All proceeds from the Village Antique Tailgate Show will go to support the Barrington Area Historical Society's mission to preserve historical documents, to exhibit the history of the area, and to provide education programs to the community.

Summertime Is The Perfect Time For Learning

How does planning a vacation or baking a cake with your child teach valuable skills necessary for proper learning? Working with your child, performing tasks and doing chores are great opportunities to teach the process of learning. With an objective to meet and a sense of responsibility, most children will find the challenge irresistible. "Parents should find jobs which are fun and encourage family togetherness," says Dr. Raymond J. Huntington, founder and president of The Huntington Learning Centers.

"Activities such as cooking, baking and setting the table require following step-by-step directions," explains Huntington. "When complex tasks can be broken down into simple steps, a child's self confidence is enhanced. Accomplishing something encourages a child to move on to the next challenge."

Summer vacation from school offers a unique opportunity for parents to keep their children learning while enjoying close family experiences. Huntington suggests including your child when planning outings and vacations. "Planning the route teaches geography. Figuring the number of miles and when to stop teaches a time/distance relationship," he says.

Huntington notes that holidays are more than just days off from school or work. "Holidays give us the time to do the things we enjoy. Parents can read stories with their children, ask questions and encourage them to think. Use these experiences to strengthen a child's attitude toward learning."

"Try to make reading a reward for the child," advises the noted education expert. "remember that magazines and newspapers—even the television schedule—are good reading practice tools. All these activities help your child to improve skills and increase learning potential."

Huntington cautions parents to remember that learning is progressive and that all children develop at different levels. "Climbing the ladder step-by-step is the best way to insure success," he says. Completing one thing at a time is crucial for children trying to reach their academic goals.

The Huntington Learning Center is a nationally recognized leader in the field of improving a child's basic study skills through remediation and enrichment programs. Students are given individual attention by certified teachers, using personalized programs tailored to improve skills in a child's trouble areas. Huntington offers individual testing and tutoring in reading, math, study skills, writing and SAT/ACT preparation to students of all ages.

For further information, or to discuss a specific problem, parents may contact The Huntington Learning Center in Barrington at 382-3655 or in Buffalo Grove at 459-5939.

Laughter Saves Children's Lives

Comedy, food and prizes. Sounds like a great way to spend a Sunday night. Doing so will help save abused, abandoned and tormented children from the people who hurt them: their own families. On June 25, 1995, Illinois Action For Children is hosting "A Night at The Second City." Proceeds benefit IAF's efforts, including the Court Appointed Special Advocate Program (CASA). Susan Devereux, benefit chair and IAF's board member, said, "I want everyone who reads this to know two things:

One, you'll have a great time at this event. Two, by attending you will actually be doing some good in the fight against child abuse."

Tickets to the benefit cost $30 ($10 value plus $20 donation). Price includes a night of comedy from The Second City's players as well as a buffet and silent auction.

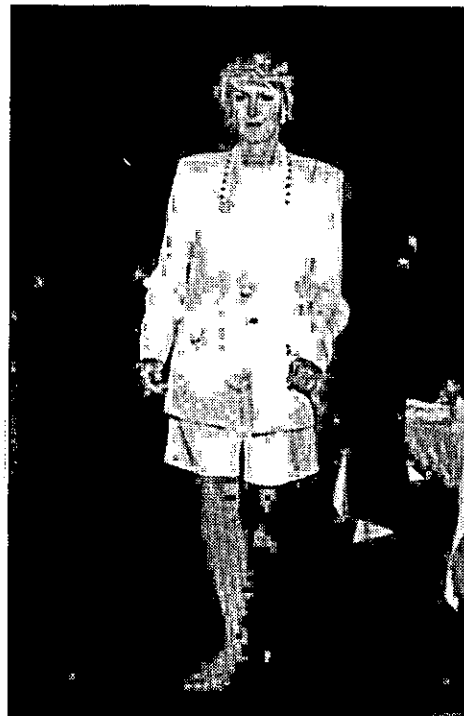

For tickets to "A Night at The Second City" or to become a CASA volunteer contact Illinois Action for Children, 175 W. Jackson, Chicago, IL 60604, 312/986-9591.

Don't Duck This Volunteer Opportunity!

The Hospice of Northeastern Illinois is looking for volunteers interested in lending a hand with the planning of the 2nd Annual Hospice Duck Race. Last year's race was a phenomenal success raising $40,000 to care for terminally ill patients in the community. "I can only attribute our success to the fact people saw the need and were willing to support the cause," said Carole Blazek, Foundation Director. The race is scheduled for September 9th at Langendorf Park in Barrington. There are many opportunities for volunteers... some only require a few hours work (such as distributing posters and flyers) other tasks require more of a time commitment (prize chairman, ticket sales, corporate donors, Fourth of July Parade chairman). Don't duck this worthwhile volunteer effort! Please call The Foundation office (381-5599) or Susan McLean, Duck Race Chairman, (516-0181) for a list of volunteer opportunities.

mulated over 32 years of service under Mr. Adams direction according to Ms. Kelly Mede, the school administrator.

Mr. Adams attributes the success of the travel school to the state of the art continuously revised curriculum which incorporates real world hands-on training. The course effectively combines the 80 hours of classroom theory instruction with the 56 hours of on-line Apollo Computer Reservation System training to get the students off to a head start on their travel career. That is the reason the school has maintained a greater than 90% graduate placement rate for 11 years. The travel industry is a leader

"There have always been opportunities for our graduates and helping our student take advantage of those employment opportunities has been one of my greatest personal accomplishments," said Mr. Adams. "I know Mike Hudson shares my views and will continue the successful program by which the school has been known."

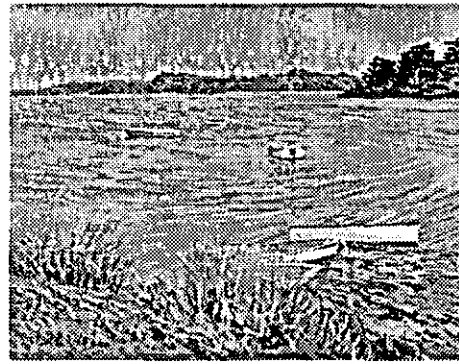

Mr. Adams will still remain involved in the travel industry as the owner of Adams Travel in Barrington.

Happenings In The Area

BAAC June Exhibit

The Barrington Area Arts Council (BAAC) announces the opening of its June exhibit "Expressions", featuring William Janosco, paintings; Robert Winslow, sculpture; and Bruce Wood, paintings. The exhibit is on view from June 1 to July 10, 1995. A reception for the artists will be held on Saturday, June 10, from 7-9 p.m. at the BAAC Gallery, 207 Park Avenue, Barrington. The public is invited to meet the artists and view their original works.

Michigan artists, Bruce Wood's landscapes are colorful and dramatic. Working in oil, his lush strokes are reminiscent of impressionist artists yet reflect his training in contemporary art at the Chicago Art Institute. The vibrant colors are not meant to blend which creates a painting that reveals not a view of a landscape but his feelings about a landscape.

Abstract Artists, William Janosco, also trained at the Chicago Art Institute. His large paintings are a blend of acrylic and collage balancing form, shape and color. Recent works include a recognizable image of plants and flowers subtly painted onto the canvas. The final picture is a harmonious joining of color and space.

Sculptor, Robert Winslow, is from Chicago and familiar to Barrington if not in person, through his art. His sculpture in front of the Barrington Village Hall has created more than its share of active discussion since its installation. The work he will be showing in the gallery takes a new direction with expressive sculpture formed from stone with glass shapes encompassing glass. The combination of cold stone and glass form a unique balance.

The exhibit is underwritten by Northern Trust Bank and a grant from the Illinois Arts Council, a state agency.

For more information, contact the BAAC Gallery, (708) 382-5626.

BAAC's 1995 Art Fair Commemorative Poster

Each of the last four years a commemorative poster has been offered for sale, featuring one of the Fair's exhibiting artists. This year's poster is by Barrington artist, Gail Collier, and features her colored pencil drawing entitled "Herb's Garden." The poster can be purchased at the Gallery, 207 Park Ave., Barrington, or at the Art Fair, for $10.75 unsigned or $16 signed by the artist.

The Art Fair, co-chaired by Carol McGregor and Annette Stormont, both of Barrington, is partially funded by Illinois Arts Council, a state agency, and partially underwritten by generous donations from Northern Trust Bank and the Barrington Courier-Review. Artists will be eligible to win "Best in Show," sponsored by Northern Trust, as well as Awards of Excellence and Purchase Awards funded by individual community members and area businesses.

Awards of Excellence are cash prizes awarded to an artist based on the decision of the Art Fair judge. Purchase Awards of $200 are donated in advance and applied toward the purchase of an art piece of one's choice, selected at the Fair.

For more information on the Fair or if interested in donating an award, please call Sarah Bowers Ware, BAAC Executive Director, (708) 382-5626.

Bonjour Mes Amis . . .

In case you read last month's editorial, you know D&J Bistro has hired a very qualified pastry chef and instantly our pastry and dessert offerings have improved. Joyce Erickson (pastry chef) has been rewarded by numerous comments about her desserts by the customers, and also by suggestions about making her cakes available retail...so we welcomed these suggestions and are presently working on a pamphlet that will list all the different desserts, hors d'oeuvres, and party trays available to our customers for your "in home" functions. Although the pamphlet will not be ready for another two or three months, we would be happy to provide you with some of our cakes or party trays now—just give us a call. You will not find comparable quality in the area (allow two days notice).

Also coming soon (mid to end of June) is our private function room, being built as you read this. A price sheet with all information is now available. Just call; we will be happy to fax or send one to you.

Please think of us for your private luncheon or dining function.

Merci for your support,
Dominique

Celebrate Life's Little Occasions (and big ones too)

There always seems to be a special occasion on the horizon. Maybe it's Father's Day, graduation, an anniversary, birthday or engagement. Or maybe one of life's little triumphs happened... a good report card, a Little League home run or returning from summer camp. Whatever the occasion, come and discover why every occasion at Chessie's is special.

You'll love the uniqueness of having a choice of atmosphere; the ambiance is perfect whether you are seated in the skylit atrium overlooking the village shops, the vintage railroad car or the old Barrington train station grill room.

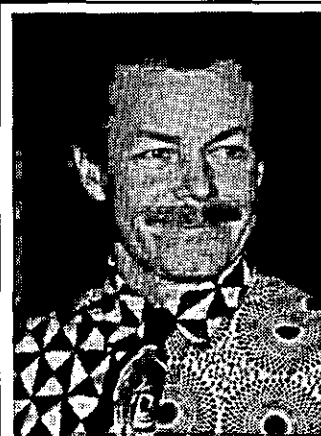

For bowling banquets, rehearsal dinners, or any party between 25 and 80 guests, Chessie's has a lovely private room downstairs. Be sure to inquire.

Once a 1915 train station, it now lives on as the dining room and bar of Chessie's Restaurant. Adjoining the old station is a 1927 vintage Illinois Central railroad car and a skylit atrium that overlooks the lovely shops of the Barrington Ice House.

And ladies, every Wednesday and Friday afternoons between noon and 1:30 p.m., fashion shows are held, showing the latest in trendy and chic styles from the fashion boutiques in the Barrington Ice House Mall.

Turn that special happening into wonderful memories... at Chessie's, located in the Barrington Ice House Mall.

Bereavement Reunion Draws Many To Hospice Brunch

On Sunday, April 23 over 70 people met in Barrington for a very special reason.

The Hospice of Northeastern Illinois (HNI) hosted its 2nd Annual Grief to Hope Reunion Brunch for all persons who had been a part of the Hospice Bereavement Support Groups since 1991.

"The brunch offered an opportunity for fellowship with those persons who had participated in the various groups, and an acknowledgment of the individuals' natural response to loss," said Glenna Waxler, Hospice Community Bereavement Coordinator.

Bereavement is the natural process of grieving the loss of a loved one. The program offered by Hospice includes: following families for a year after the death of the patient, with calls, letters, and visits. Participants are also welcomed to the 6-week support groups (Grief to Hope) held quarterly, and to the Memorial Service.

The Memorial Services are held quarterly for the bereaved families at local churches within our service area.

All of the bereavement services offered by Hospice are available to the public at no charge. For more information regarding Hospice and/or the bereavement program, call 708-381-5599.

Wedding Gowns From 'Grandma's Attic

A turn of the century wedding gown exhibition will continue through June 16th. The Barrington Historical Society and Comerica Bank have worked together to display some of the select pieces from the Society's archives. The display is at the Comerica Bank on the corner of Main Street and Cook Street in downtown Barrington.

This charming, nostalgic presentation highlights five beautiful wedding dresses of Victorian vintage. Shown is a lovely silk batiste (c. 1900) three piece wedding gown featuring crochet accents at the high neck, bustline, belt and hem. The bouffant sleeves set off the unusual covered cording which ties in the back for correct sizing. A short train completes this unique gown.

Most of the gowns are tucked taffeta with lace with hand crocheted needle and beadwork.

Contact the Society at 381-1730 for more information.

Black Sheep Gallery Announces The Release Of Two Limited Edition Golf Prints By Internationally Known Artist Jim Harrington

The Black Sheep Gallery, Ltd. announced the release of two golf lithographs—"Pebble Beach the 7th" and "Augusta the 12th"—by internationally known artist Jim Harrington.

"Both lithographs capture the beauty and excitement of each signature hole. For example, artist Jim Harrington's vision of "Augusta the 12th" provides a captivating view of the tranquillity and natural beauty of one of the most picturesque courses in the world," explained The Black Sheep Gallery's President Denise Erickson.

A very limited edition of 750 prints of each image are available. These hand signed, numbered lithographs are produced on archival quality acid-free paper. The final presentation includes double matting and a mahogany frame. The print retails for $695. The open end edition is framed, hand signed but unnumbered, and retails for $495.

Waukegan-based artist Jim Harrington has work in the permanent collections of: Hyatt Hotels, McDonald's Corporation, the Toronto Museum of Natural Art, the Taos Museum of Natural Art, the Virginia Museum of Fine Art and the private collection of President George Bush. Since 1985, Harrington has been actively involved with corporations like Re/Max of Northern Illinois, Norwest Mortgage Inc. and Ace Hardware Corporation initiating the sale of his prints to raise money for numerous charities.

The Black Sheep Gallery will also donate pieces to various charity events this summer to assist fundraising efforts. The Gallery will donate a newly released lithograph—the—"11th at Augusta" also by Harrington—to the HealthOne Foundation in Denver, CO, whose financial assistance supports medical emergency air lift efforts. The "11th at Augusta" will be autographed by Ben Crenshaw, current champion and two-time Masters winner, and then auctioned for the charity. The Gallery can assist charities in their fundraising endeavors. For example, The Gallery can coordinate commissioned paintings by various artists which are then sold as limited edition prints with part or all of the proceeds benefitting the charity.

The Black Sheep Gallery is not a traditional gallery with a retail space and pieces of art work displayed on the walls, but a mail order company specializing in limited and open end framed lithographs. For more information on The Black Sheep Gallery or to purchase a piece for your collection, call 708-382-1774.

Clearbrook's Early Intervention Program Celebrates Twenty Years Of Service

Clearbrook Center's Early Intervention program, known as the C.H.I.L.D. program (Clearbrook Helps Infants Learn and Develop), celebrated its twentieth anniversary with an Open House Saturday, April 29 at Clearbrook Center in Rolling Meadows. A special presentation, "Reflections of Early Intervention," was given by renowned psychologist, Dr. Ken Moses.

Over 400 people including families who are graduates of the program, parents and their children who are currently involved in the program and various experts in the field attended the Open House Celebration.

Clearbrook Center's C.H.I.L.D. program opened its doors to children with developmental delays and their families in October of 1974. As one of the first programs of its kind, C.H.I.L.D. offered early intervention to children from birth to three years old by providing therapies to promote each child's development as well as ongoing support to families.

Although C.H.I.L.D. has grown and changed over the past 20 years, the things that make it such an exceptional program have not changed. "The best components of the C.H.I.L.D. program are still evident and remain strong—things like the family being an important part of the team and the small group setting which facilitates social interaction and built-in support for families," said Nancy MacDonald, Clearbrook Center's C.H.I.L.D. Parent Liaison and one of the first parents involved in the program.

Today, Clearbrook's Children's Services helps approximately 175 children and their families through programs like C.H.I.L.D., Lekotek, Compuplay, Early Integration and Zane Herr and his family attended Clearbrook's C.H.I.L.D. (Clearbrook Helps Infant Learn and Develop) Twentieth Anniversary Celebration. Zane is 4 years old, now a graduate of the program, and attends preschool near his home. Other than school, he loves taking horse back riding lessons.

Clinical Services.

For An Attractive Collection Of Men's Jewelry—Visit I. K. Design

Father's Day may be the most difficult gift occasion. It seems that dads have been left out in the world of gift giving. I. K. of men's jewelry. From detailed "Mig fighters" for the ex-veteran pilot to corporate emblem tie tacks for the executive in your life, I. K. Design can make that special gift for that special Dad. Come in and choose from our wide selection of men's jewelry or have that special piece custom made for your Dad.

Barrington Area Arts Council (BAAC) will sponsor a Summer Theatre Workshop for children who have completed grades 2-8, featuring the nationally acclaimed theatre group, "Illustrated Theatre". Sherman Offers Delphi Card

Sherman Health Systems has obtained exclusive rights in the Fox Valley area to provide Delphi Card, a healthcare management service, to area employers.

The Delphi Card allows members to retain the right to make healthcare choices. The system is accessed through Delphi's registered nurses (RNs), who act as patient advocates, assisting members and/or their dependents in selecting both physicians and hospitals. The RN becomes familiar with not only a member's healthcare history, but lifestyle and healthcare preferences as well.

"Members not only can make responsible decisions regarding their health care, but can choose their own physicians and hospital as well," according to Brinsley Lewis, vice president of Planning and Marketing at Sherman Hospital. "By educating employees about their healthcare choices, they can make more appropriate and economical choices. This not only is more beneficial in the long run for employees, but for the employer as well, who will realize substantial savings in managing healthcare benefit costs. Employers achieve savings through streamlined case management and coalition purchasing of insurance."

For more information about Sherman Health Systems' Delphi Card contact Brinsley Lewis at 708-888-8702.

Recalling "The Streak"

Byron Nelson Recalls His 11 Straight Wins

Byron Nelson's streak was an astonishing feat of 11 victories in a row with a total of 18 victories for the season and a scoring average of 68.33. Those consecutive victories were won during WWII during the months of March through August of 1945. Byron said he rarely practiced before he played which is unheard of today. Byron used his winnings to purchase his 740-acre ranch in Roanoke, Texas, and at age 34 he retired. He resides there today with his wife, Peggy.

Historic Golf Classics of Palatine, Ill. is the licensee of Byron Nelson's official commemorative marking the 50th anniversary of the never-to-be-duplicated record of 11 straight victories on the PGA Tour. The commemorative features five uncirculated photo reproductions, a medallion of Nelson as he appears today, and his signed statement of authorization and authenticity. Collectors, dealers, golf professional retailers and others interested in owning the limited edition commemorative may contact Historic Golf Classics at 1/800 BYRON 45.

Historic Golf Classics offers a wide variety of golf prints and photographs, golf antiques and collectibles, and autographed memorabilia. Many of these items make very attractive gifts, prizes or awards and can be personalized through engravings, embossing or imprinting.

BEAUTIFUL HOMES & GARDENS Special Seasonal Section

"Preventative Maintenance"

Cedar shingle roofs can last 50 years and lend a natural, woodsy look to your home. But as with many things, their beauty and longevity require preventive maintenance.

According to Barbara Murry of ISK-Biotech, unless protected from the intense sun and moisture that foster mildew and other fungi, cedar roofs may last less than one-fourth their potential lifespan.

According to Better Homes and Gardens, cedar must be maintained to last. Sta-Brite R, a water-base preservative, seals cedar shingle wood fibers to repel moisture and prevent splitting and mold. The preservative also shields cedar roofs from the damaging ultraviolet rays of direct sunlight.

For more information about Sta-Brite R and what it can do for your roof, call RG's Cedar Roof Service, 708-658-5562.

Blue Grass Run Yields Fun and Funds For Infant Welfare Society

Infant Welfare Society supporters and racing fans alike were transported to Old Kentucky when the Society's Near North Auxiliary Chapter presented the 39th "Run for the Roses" benefit Saturday, May 6 at the Drake Hotel.

Mint juleps, millinery and merriment abounded at the afternoon fete, which featured dancing to the Stu Hirsh Orchestra, a sumptuous luncheon of filet mignon and asparagus, and of course, televised coverage of the action at Churchill Downs.

Under the direction of co-chairs Sylvia Kinney and Joan Conway, members of the Near North Auxiliary Chapter, the benefit resulted in a rosy donation for the Infant Welfare Society Clinic, 1931 N. Halsted. The clinic provides comprehensive medical, dental and social services to 13,000 disadvantaged children and their mothers.

New officers for the Near North Chapter were also introduced at the gala: President, Susan Mortenson; Vice President, Laura Moran; Secretary, Mary Jane Eisenhauer; and Treasurer, Debra O'Shea.

Rounding out the 1995 board of directors are Carol Seelig and Sherry Schmitter, co-chairs of the 30th anniversary "Dices & Pisces" benefit to be held Saturday, Oct. 21, at the Shedd Aquarium.

Stepping into Derby Day "winners circle" were JoEllen Bursinger Zacks, who won a week at a Florida condominium courtesy of Lee and Susan Mortenson, and winner Mary Ann Stitak, who will enjoy a deluxe weekend at the Drake Hotel and dinner at Trattoria Dinotto.

Derby Day partiers included: Kate Boege; Carol Burns; Pat and Lynn Cloud; Cookie Cohen; Jim and Joan Conway; Karen Fiorenza; Infant Welfare Executive Director Francis Ginther; Herb and Evie Gliederman; Janet Haysen; Dr. Mary Hayes; Diane Jacobson; Jerry and Antje Kalov; Sylvia Kinney; Sue and John Lopatka; Dino Lubbat; Laura Moran; Lee and Susan Mortenson; Jim and Maria Penland; Bjiff Rutenberg; Don and Minnie Sandstedt; Mary Jane Scheel; Sherry Schmitter and Tom Block; Carol Seelig; Bill and Jane Stewart; Andrew and Mary Ann Stitak; IWS Medical Director Dr. Carl and Margaret Toren; and Ben and JoEllen Zacks.

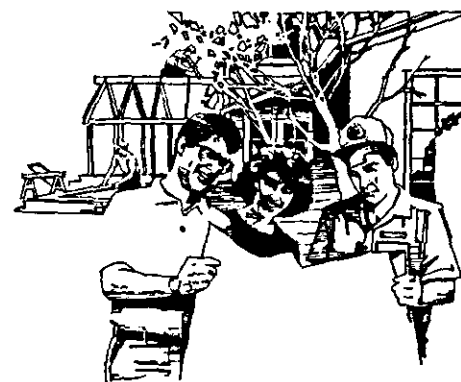

The Near North Chapter is already in the swim for its next bash, "Dices & Pisces," to be held Saturday, Oct. 21, at the John G. Shedd Aquarium. The black tie gala, featuring dancing, a seated dinner in the Shedd Galleries, and a dazzling silent auction, will celebrate the chapter's 30 years of service to the Infant Welfare Society. For ticket information, contact Maria Penland, 312/751-2800.

Should We Put On An Addition... Or Should We Move?

As our families grow and our needs change, we often find that we require more space in our home environment. With so many things to consider, it is difficult to decide whether we should add on to our existing home, or sell our house and purchase a new one. For many people, our home is the sanctuary away from the busy world around us. We have spent a lot of time and money in landscaping, decorating, and creating a comfortable environment in which to relax and raise our families. We have also established ourselves in our neighborhoods, schools, churches and community groups. In many cases, when we move, we are starting over. This in itself can produce a lot of stress on the family members.

Whether you need a larger kitchen, another bed room, a great room, or more garage space, if you consider the cost of sales commissions, mortgage fees, moving expenses, decorating, and landscaping the new house, many times the cost of an addition can be far less than the cost of moving. Larry Kirchner Sr., of Kirchner Builders, Inc. states, "Most room additions can be completed with a minimal amount of disruption to the family and home."

To insure that your room addition is completed with order, punctuality, and not a lot of broken promises, it is important that you find a contractor with the knowledge and ability to complete the job, as well as one you feel comfortable with and trust. Kirchner Builders prides itself on being such a company. From conception to completion, they will be there every step of the way.

Larry Kirchner Sr. is proud to be celebrating his 25th year in the construction business. With an eye for detail and experience in all aspects of construction, Kirchner Builders can provide you with a room addition that will meet your needs, and one you will be satisfied with for years to come. Capturing Elusive Leisure Time Give Your Project To R. K. Tech

Baseball. Boating. Concerts in the park. A trip with the family. Golf. A lounge chair by the ocean. Long lazy evenings.

Summer conjures up a host of pleasant images.

Remodeling your kitchen is not one of them.

"As much as some of our clients might like to take the lead on their home projects, they just don't have the time. They'd rather paint, read, travel, go to the theater or the opera," says Lisa McCauley, whose firm, R. K. Tech, bills itself as Barrington's Most Honored Kitchen Designers.

"Studies show that by the time a successful person gets through working, sleeping, and taking care of life's essentials, there may be 20 hours per week—or less—left over for leisure.

"When the weather is good, that little bit of leisure time becomes even more precious.

"That's where R. K. Tech comes in," Lisa says, "We set our clients free; and, at the same time, we make a few of their dreams come true."

Working Hard So Clients Can Relax

"We take the entire project from start to finish, providing professional design services, then selling some of the best American-made cabinets you can buy. We will do the construction, or work with your builder to create a beautiful and functional living space.

"At that point, you can start to enjoy your summer."

Design Leaders

Trained in architecture and design, Lisa is one of the most highly credentialed kitchen specialists in the country. Her work has appeared in national publications. She and her colleagues at R. K. Tech have won industry awards, including territory honors in the prestigious Sub-Zero Kitchen Design Contest.

That level of success comes only with lots of hard work and a constant quest to find the best in design and bring it back to Barrington.

"We were in New Orleans recently at the national convention of the National Kitchen and Bath Association; and I was impressed by how much of the industry is catching up with our design ideas. I don't think I saw one square foot of white laminate.

"There was a real blend of Mission and Shaker design concepts with novel painted finishes and mixed materials—all things that we've been pioneering for years.

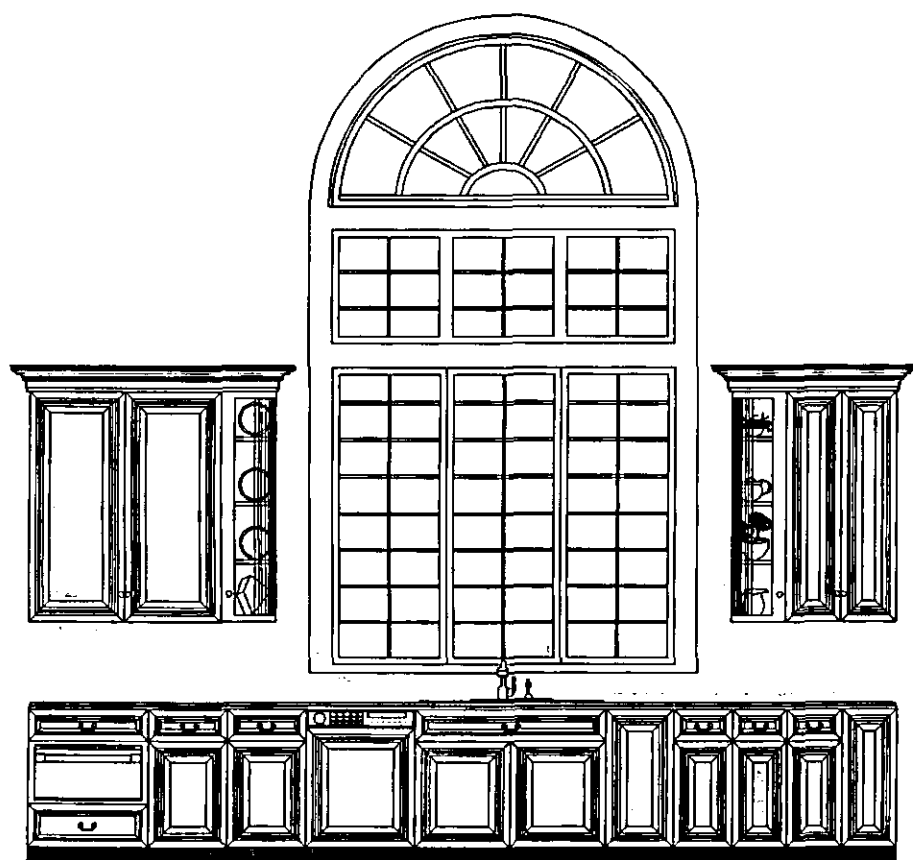

"And the industry is returning to classic motifs, but always with a modern twist in function and materials. Twenty years ago everyone was into standardization and mass production; but today's design and manufacturing advances are bringing the pendulum back the other way.

"Now it is possible to provide kitchens that are tailored to the unique needs of individual clients, and craftsmanship has returned in a big way. I even saw some wrought-iron hardware—not cast, I mean hand shaped.

"That's where the world is headed: fitting the design to the client, not trying to shoehorn the client into something machine-made."

R. K. Tech is located at 220 S. Cook Street, Suite 210, in Barrington, one block east of Hough Street (Route 59) and two blocks south of Main Street (Lake Cook Road). Call 381-2742.

"Our showroom is small," says Lisa; "but our results are big."

This kitchen design won territory honors for R. K. Tech in the prestigious Sub-Zero Kitchen Design Contest.

Ask Our Designer

Neil McDuffie, Senior Designer
at Barrington Kitchen and Bath Studio

1. We have a kitchen and bathroom we want to remodel; where do we start? "A trip to the showroom is a good start. It serves two purposes. First, it gives you the chance to see what is available. It may surprise you to find many new finishes and styles in cabinetry and countertops. Second, you can meet and talk to a "professional designer". It is very important that you find an experienced designer to work with. Remember, he or she will be helping you with a very important investment in your home that can bring a handsome return if it is designed and done properly."

2. What is one of the most important considerations when designing a kitchen? "There actually are many; it really depends on the individual or your family needs. Some of the most important considerations are: The size of the family. Are you working professionals or a large family? The amount of cooking you do and what type. Are you a gourmet cook, or is cooking just an essential part of every day life? The amount of entertaining you do? Would you like to entertain more and have a kitchen designed for that purpose? The present decor of your home. Do you want to change it with the remodeling project or add to your present decor? So many choices and only an experienced designer can help you with these choices."

3. What is the advantage of using your company when my project entails more of a remodeling project rather than just replacing cabinets? Our primary advantage is our design through installation service. Our sister company, Award winning Delta Renovations, Inc. will be handling the installation. Our job does not end when you order your materials. Your job will be overseen and expedited not only by your designer but also by a Delta job foreman and the owner of both companies, Mark Zurek. We feel constant communication is very important. The majority of the work will be done by our own experienced carpenter installers. You can be confident that our professionalism continues throughout the project. Referrals are one of our most important sources of new clients. See next month's issue for more "Ask our Designer", but feel free to call us with your own questions.

We invite you to meet senior staff designer, Neil McDuffie, at our showroom located at Route 12 and Lake Cook Road (next to Northshore Refrigeration) at 20066 N. Rand Rd., Suite C, Palatine, IL. Showroom hours are Monday through Friday 9:00 A.M. to 6:00 P.M., Saturday 9:00 A.M. to 3:00 P.M. Appointments are suggested for design and planning consultations.

Work With Experts When Planning A New Space For Your Home . . .

Why do so many homeowners find the process of remodeling or adding on to their homes so intimidating? "Too much information from conflicting sources," says Mark Zurek, president of Barrington's Delta's Renovations. "The whole process is by nature an emotional one because it involves entrusting others with not only money, but with the comfort and security of home and family."

Delta Renovations has built its business by analyzing the needs of its clients and finding the best way to meet those needs. Every project presents a unique situation and requires services tailored specifically to that situation.

For clients considering major renovations or an addition, they often recommend the "Design-Build" process. Projects of this type call for the involvement of an architect. This is not only because local building departments will require that submitted drawings include an architect's seal, but also because the architect has been trained to combine technology and aesthetics. We have all seen homes that have had their character totally destroyed by a less than sensitive addition. "A good architect is able to add the extra space so that the addition itself is undetectable, and the home is even more attractive," says Zurek. "The down side of using an architect in the remodeling process is usually budget." Many times, the homeowner will hire an architect and fall in love with his plan only to find the bids coming in astronomically higher than their target budget. Because the architect isn't intimately involved in the bidding process, he is often unable to accurately predict the cost of building what he has drawn. Delta Renovations has structured their design-build process to provide the client access to several fine local architects while using Delta's years of experience in actually bringing projects in on budget. "We have spent years developing our relationship with suppliers and sub-contractors who we know provide, at a fair price, the best products and the top-notch service I demand," continues Zurek.

If you would like to see how Delta's "Design-Build" process will fit into your plans, please call Mark Zurek at 776-0121. There is no obligation for a consultation.

Delta Renovations can also help homeowners with less extensive remodeling plans, like redoing existing kitchens and baths, using the in-staff designers with Delta's sister company, Barrington Kitchen and Bath Studio.

Some Ground Covers For Shady Locations

Have shady areas where grass does poorly, yet mulching a large area is undesirable? Then, consider growing a ground cover. There are many groundcovers; the following are some that tolerate shade. Most of these ground covers are prone to either root rots, stem cankers or leaf diseases when planted in poorly drained soils. Make sure there is good air circulation and good soil drainage.

Japanese Spurg (Pachysandra terminalis) may grow as tall as 12", however, there is a cultivar that is shorter. Once spurge is well established, it can be pinched to encourage branching. Pinch in early Spring to induce branching later in the Spring.

James E. Schuster, Extension Educator, Horticulture with the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service, also suggests trying Common Periwinkle (Vinca minor). It can be very attractive. It is low growing, about 6", mat forming and has a main flush of blue flowers in April. Sporadic flowering will occur through the summer. This plant should also be pinched or sheared to encourage branching and maintain vigor.

Another plant to consider is English Ivy (Hedra helix). Depending on cultivar, this plant may or may not be hardy. Two cultivars that are hardy are 'Bulgaria' and 'Hebron'. To keep this plant dense and vigorous, use hedge clippers every other spring to shear the ivy.

Bugleweed (Aguga reptans) is another possibility for shady areas. It produces blue to purple, white or red flowers on 3 to 6" spikes in spring. Flower color depends on the cultivar. All these plants are either evergreen or semi-evergreen. Therefore, winter survival is better when protected from winter sun and winds. Straw (weed free) and evergreen branches (from Christmas trees) can be used to cover these plants after the ground starts to freeze.

Can't Find The Room? Let Us Help!

"As architects, it's our job to solve your space problems," says John C. Cazzetta, President of Kemper Cazzetta, Architects in Barrington. "A large majority of our work is in remodeling, and because our clients need everything from small additions to complete estate makeovers, we tend to 'see it all.' Our philosophy is to listen to our clients, study their existing conditions, calculate their budget and endeavor to aesthetically solve their space needs."

Many homeowners struggle with the thought of "taking apart their house," especially while they still live there. "This dilemma is the biggest hurdle in some projects," adds Cazzetta. "The design solution has to take this issue into account or the project could be a disaster. We have actually designed some projects to allow the owner to move into the new addition, before we renovated the existing space. The quality of life during the process is as important as the design excellence realized upon its completion." The end result is always the same—the homeowner is amazed at how their 'old' home has come back to life," concludes Cazzetta.

If your home needs updating, additional space or reconfiguration, call John C. Cazzetta, at Kemper Cazzetta Architects, for a no-obligation consultation today. "We feel you will be pleasantly surprised at the potential of your existing home." Phone 382-8322 to schedule an appointment with Kemper Cazzetta, Architects.

Ruck/Pate Architecture Celebrates 20th Birthday

Steve Pate, Executive Vice President of Ruck/Pate Architecture of Barrington joined the firm in 1982.

Ruck/Pate Architecture of Barrington recently celebrated its 20th Birthday with a gala befitting the occasion. The firm was founded in 1975 by architect Gary Ruck. Starting as a sole practitioner, Mr. Ruck's first project was the Nathan Hale Middle School in Blue Island. He wanted to plan his firm carefully and so he was very selective in choosing his staff members, gradually adding them as his projects increased. In 1982, Architects Steve Pate and Kerry Leonard joined the firm. The building at 232 E. Main was no longer adequate to accommodate the staff. One day while Mr. Ruck was looking out his window, he discovered a solution—the vacant lot just across the street. He contacted the owner who was a local Barrington resident and made an offer. At first, Ruck/Pate Architecture had planned on designing a single-story building with itself being its sole occupant. But, when Mr. Ruck learned that Merrill Lynch was in the process of selecting a site for its Barrington office, Mr. Ruck called Merrill Lynch and discussed the possibility of their becoming a tenant in what was

Now Is The Time To Plan For That Deck

"It's not just a deck," says Larry Kirchner, chief designer and president of Deck-A-Roo Decks. "A deck is a pleasant addition to any home and a necessity."

Decks are great investments. If properly built, a deck will give the owner years and years of wonderful use as well as add more to the value of the home than the initial cost. However, an improperly built deck will soon become an eyesore as well as a financial burden on the owner.

At Deck-A-Roo Decks every aspect of the deck design is considered: what style will best fit the house; what are the size and design needs of the client; what materials best suit the location and design of the deck; how the design affects price both now and over the lifetime of the deck; and how maintenance will be affected by the design.

In addition to a proper design, the actual construction of the deck and the follow through of the builder are very important. Questions you should ask: Who actually will perform the work? What quality of material will be used? What construction practices will be used? And, who will service the deck if needed? Larry's favorite phrase, "You get what you pay for, if you're lucky!"

Deck-A-Roo Decks is a full service builder, working with the home owner from the beginning of the design to the final completion of the deck. No subcontractors are used. All employees have been trained to a high level of quality and given the amount of time needed to complete the job properly. Only high quality materials are used by Deck-A-Roo as well as new environmentally friendly products. Every deck is serviced promptly as well as courteously.

A special note from Larry: "Now is the time to plan having your deck built if you would like it for Summer. It's important to give yourself as much lead time as possible if you are planning a party or event that the deck will be used for."

For more information or an in-home consultation, please call us at (708) 381-3325. Thank you.

now seen as a three-story office building. Merrill Lynch agreed to move in with Ruck/Pate and construction on a twenty thousand square foot office building was begun at 257 E. Main Street.

Although Mr. Ruck had specialized in school buildings and residential construction, Mr. Pate and Mr. Leonard brought to the firm their experience in commercial buildings and so the expanse of the firm broadened. The corporation now engages in a wide range of projects from Cole Palmer Instrument Company in Vernon Hills and Boise Cascade Company in Itasca to school buildings all across the Chicagoland area. In honor of its latest school project, the Central Road Elementary School in Palatine, the 20th Anniversary Birthday Cake was specially constructed as a replica of the school.

Congratulatory faxes from area schools have been pouring in. The Birthday Celebration kicked off with a May 11th Birthday Party at the Ruck/Pate Architecture

Corporate Office, 257 E. Main Street, Barrington. George Lingel, Business Manager from Palatine School District 15, cut the cake. Superintendents and Business Managers from local school districts were also in attendance.

Bob Ottenad, President of Romarc, Charlene Ruck, Corporate Secretary of Ruck/Pate and Pat Ottenad joined in the 20th Birthday Celebration.

National Honor Choir Taps BCC Talent

Brahms' Ave Maria, Niska Banja, a Serbian Gypsy Dance, and Ain'-a That Good News!, an American folk song were part of the repertoire sung by the 1995 National Honor Boychoir at Constitution Hall, Washington, D.C. on Saturday, March 11, 1995 at the American Choral Directors Association Concert as part of their biennial convention.

Performing with this prestigious group were three Barrington youngsters, Tim Fuller, 13, Eric Wendler, 12, and Charles Duke, 11. All are members of the Barrington Children's Choir.

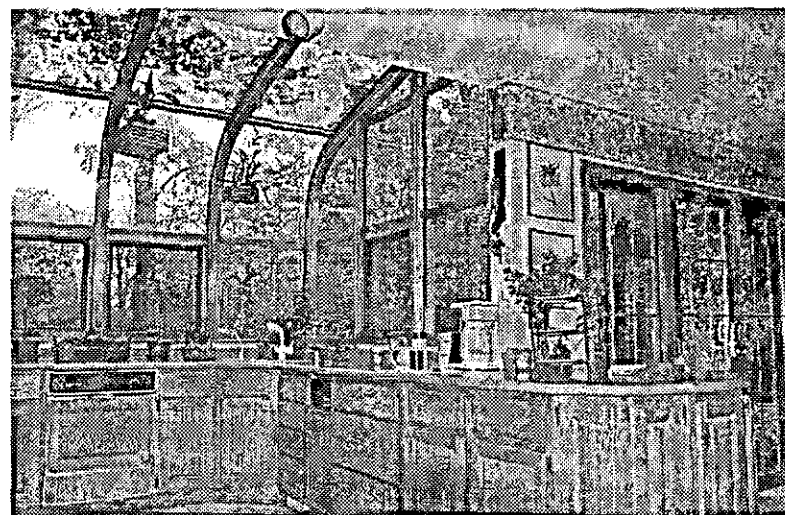

Selected by their choir director Peggy Crawford to audition for this first assemblage of some of the most talented, young male voices in North America, all three were accepted into the national group after submitting audition tapes. Each boy received music and rehearsal tapes and were expected to know their parts by the time they arrived in Washington.

The three boys, accompanied by family members, journeyed to the nation's capital last week to begin three days of rehearsals. Fuller has been a member of the Barrington Children's Choir for five years and Wendler for two years; Duke is new to the choir this year.

Asked what they liked best about their choral experience with a national reputa-

Eric Wendler, son of Anne and Bill Wendler, thought the music Trumpet Gloria, sung in Latin in four parts and accompanied by a twenty-six piece orchestra sounded the best of all the music, even though, in his mind, it was the most difficult to learn.

"The music and singing sounded really awesome," was Chuck Duke's appraisal of

Is Your Iron Turned Off?

Bill Schafer—President

Joe Schafer—Vice President

We all know that haunting feeling. You're out-and-about dealing with your daily schedule when suddenly you begin to question yourself, "Did I turn off the iron this morning?" You replay your morning ritual in your mind hoping to receive some confirmation from your brain that you did in fact turn off the iron. Instead, you only get signals of how hectic a morning it really was for you and your family. You begin to realize that you could have been too busy to turn off the iron and before you know it, you're in your car speeding back home envisioning the worst.

This little scenario is played out every day, and more times than not, with a happy ending...an iron which has been unplugged. And although this story may send shivers down your spine, it does call attention to how important your home is, for the safety and security of your family and for the wonderful memories and events it holds within its walls.

You can not put a price tag on these important elements of a home. You can however make sure the people who help maintain your property care about your home. People who will complete improvements that increase its resale value. People who are professionals in home improvements, people like Schafer Builders, Inc.

For years, Schafer Builders, Inc. have been remodeling and maintaining properties in your community. From painting a fresh new exterior on your home to building a beautiful new room addition, Schafer Builders, Inc. holds the honor of being one of the most reputable home improvement companies in the Northwest suburban area.

You are invited to stop by to see first hand, the quality craftsmanship of Schafer Builders, Inc. Their showcase office, located across from the park district office in Crystal Lake, is open six days a week. It includes a complete library of building, remodeling and restoration projects available for your review as well as a full time staff ready to work with you from design to build.

Call them today at 815-459-1333 for a new screen room, a fresh new coat of paint, or to have some of your home remodeling questions answered... at no charge. It's just one of the many "value added" services of Schafer Builders, Inc.

State Treasurer Solid Silver To Girl Scouts

Judy Baar Topinka, (R) the first woman to be elected State Treasurer of Illinois, will be honored Friday, June 9, 1995, by the largest council of Girl Scouts in the state, Illinois Crossroads Council. Topinka, herself a former Girl Scout, will receive the Silver Trefoil Award from the Girl Scout council that includes more than 60 communities in Northwest Cook County, Skokie Valley, the North Shore, and Northern Lake County. Covering a 437 square-mile area, the council serves 18,000 girls.

"I am truly pleased to be named the 1995 Silver Trefoil Award recipient," said Topinka. "The Girl Scouts continue to meet the needs of girls for role modeling, for trusted information about self development, health, safety, discrimination, career orientation and leadership behaviors."

"I got my start with the Girl Scouts, and the values reinforced there have served me well as a State Senator, as Chair of the Illinois Public Health and Welfare Committee and as a member of Illinois Senate committees including Financial Institutions, Appropriations, Transportation and Judiciary," said Topinka. "Apart from my family, which is and has always been close and supportive, the Girl Scouts represent one of the strongest influences in my life. I am thankful for their encouragement of the young women among us now. At a time when half of marriages dissolve and most parents are breadwinners, the Girl Scout organization provides a safe place for social interaction, character development and service ideals."

State Treasurer, Judy Baar Topinka, will be the recipient of the 1995 Silver Trefoil Award presented annually by the Girl Scout-Illinois Crossroads Council to women who distinguish themselves personally and professionally. The Crossroads Council, largest Girl Scout council in Illinois, will honor Topinka and other women of achievement at a breakfast, June 9, 1995 at the Arlington Park Hilton, Arlington Heights. Call (708) 486-0046 for tickets and more information.

Reta Wilcox, chief executive officer of Illinois Crossroads Council notes, "We present this honor, the Silver Trefoil Award, to women who distinguish themselves personally and professionally. Honorees live the principles of the Girl Scout Promise and Law, including the development of self potential and values, relating to others and contributing to society. This year, the Award Ceremony, to be held at the Arlington Park Hilton and Conference Center as a breakfast event, will raise funds for our 'Making Choices' program. This model program was developed in collaboration with the Waukegan Police, Community Services Department." "Designed for girls age 10 to 15, 'Making Choices' equips girls to deal positively with health and lifestyle choices, personal safety issues, sexual harassment, media messaging, stereotyping, nutrition, role models and career opportunities," said Wilcox.

For more than eight decades, the Girl Scout movement has met the needs of the times. Two world wars, the end of the Cold War, a deep Depression and periodic Recessions, and now the most startling technological revolution in history—continue to transform the status and role of women. On behalf of girls, the Girl Scout organization has been a catalyst for change and a source of support for 83 years. Today, violence and poverty touch children of both sexes throughout suburban areas, while all school systems strain to educate for the year 2000 and beyond. To realize the potential of future generations of American women requires encouragement from every quarter of the community: home, school, church—and the Girl Scouts," said Wilcox. And she added, "Dollars raised by the 1995 Silver Trefoil Breakfast go to the Girl Scouts-Illinois Crossroads Council, Making Choices program."

From A Woman's Point Of View

by Gail Wickstrom, Wickstrom Ford

One of the most important facets of our business is communication, as in most businesses. To help promote our communication skills, we have decided to install voice mail. We usually have to drag Tim kicking and screaming to anything that is automated. We had the last answering machine in the neighborhood, and Tim still never picks up messages. I still find it amazing that voice mail was Tim's idea. He says that he finally realized that if he wanted to talk to anyone in corporate America he had better learn how to use it, or spend his life playing phone tag.

Well, if it's true for us, I'm sure it's true for all of our customers. Now we didn't go as far as automated operators because Tim hates to have to push buttons before he can finally talk to a human being (this from the same person who won't use drive-in bank facilities with tubes because it might eat his deposit). Automated Attendant does come on after 10:30 at night so that our customers can leave messages for our service department.

Our operators are using it now to take messages because we often find that the translation varies once you try to write something down quickly. We are going to try to use it for updating the status of vehicles in for service, but we are just at the beginning stage and not quite sure how extensive our use of it will be at this stage in our service department.

Now most of our messages for the sales department and the rest of the dealership will be left on voice mail and we all really like that aspect of it. The biggest problem was that we put a whole new phone system in so that voice mail would be easier to use, but relearning a new phone system is tough as any of our customers who called on the first day will attest to. Poor Karen in our office is the early phone operator and she had the brunt of the learning experience. One of the first customers she tried to transfer to service she lost four times and by the fourth time he was not a happy camper, but we eventually got him to the proper phone.

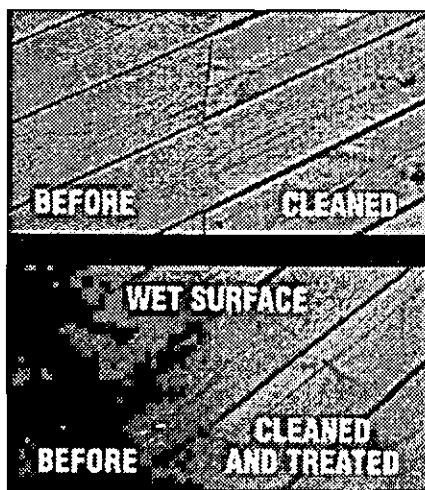

We feel that we are making great strides in this area but we do still goof up, so please bear with us as we try to join the era of automation.

Decks And Patios Cleaned And Sealed

As a well informed consumer, you have chosen paving stones for your patio or driveway because of their long lasting beauty. However, this high-quality material is not stainproof. Oil, rust, tar, paint and other products can penetrate it and become difficult to remove. Such stains deteriorate your pavement's appearance. It is therefore important to clean and protect it right from the start.

Advanced Cleaning and Sealing Technologies, using the Techni-Seal products and techniques, provides an effective and safe process for the cleaning and protection of your paving stones. The treatment removes stains, dissolves efflorescence, enhances the original color of the pavement and gives it a wet look. It facilitates maintenance by reducing oil and dirt penetration. It resists calcium and wears evenly. It won't peel or make the pavement slippery.

A similar Techni-Seal treatment can be used on decks to clean, preserve and enhance the beauty of the wood.

Brian and Susan Radke, owners of Advanced Cleaning and Sealing Technologies, have 10 years experience in this specialized area and guarantee prompt, professional and courteous service.

An Invitation

Today, because interest rates are down—the best in a year, our Real Estate market looks brighter and I'm asking you, the homeowner, to consider entering the marketplace again; this time as an "upgrader." An upgrader can be the potential buyer who currently owns a home and is thinking about a larger home due to an expanding family or a blended family. An upgrader can be the buyer who is considering a home in a more prestigious neighborhood or community, with better schools and more luxury items or special amenities. An upgrader uses the equity in his present home to buy another.

I'm not suggesting you spend, spend, spend. I'm suggesting you invest. When you "spend" money, you have no expectation of ever getting it back. When you "invest" money, not only do you expect to get back what you invested, you also expect to make a profit. With realistic prices, improved consumer confidence and favorable interest rates, now is the time to maximize your greatest asset—your home.

If you are in the category that would allow you to benefit from the move to another home, there are two major questions to be addressed:

Shall I sell my home before buying another? Or Shall I buy a home before selling my present one?

The process of selling the current home and buying the new one can parallel the story of the chicken and the egg. Which should you do first?

These two questions evoke fear... fear of the unknown. The fear of inadvertently owning two homes. The ideal would be to sell and buy and close both transactions the same day. However, most often such timing is not possible.

There are a variety of ways to finance an upgrade move and following are a few solutions to the "chicken-egg" dilemma.

If you buy first you could do a bridge loan. Contract sale with future seller. Or purchase with delayed closing.

If you sell first you can sell your current home on the condition that you purchase your move-up home within a specified period of time.

What's involved and how is it done? Each buyer needs to have a customized analysis of his buying and selling capabilities plus a knowledge of the costs involved in completing a double sale. He needs to know the saleability of his present home and the required procedures to qualify for his new home. The secret to success is to call a Realtor. A Realtor who is an upgrader consultant; one who can help you analyze your homebuying options—your housing needs as well as the bottom line—enabling you to better focus on your anticipated move. The upgrader consultant will develop a strategy to help position you to enter the market. The Realtor will guide and counsel the upgrader on all the steps involved, from considering the move through actually moving into the new home.

Once your decision is made, work with one Realtor, if possible. You will benefit by having the same Realtor represent you in both selling your house and buying your move-up home. In understanding all the facts, your Realtor can better negotiate your buy and sell. Realtors help families every day to make the right long-term decisions.

It's time to renew your interest in living life to the fullest. Why not start in the Real Estate market and call one of our top professional upgrader consultants today.

A luxury or larger home may be just around the corner.

Rev. Marshall Elected To BYS Board Membership

John Pender, President of the Board of Directors of Barrington Youth Services, announced that The Reverend Michael Marshall has been elected to its membership.

Mike Marshall grew up in Mount Morris, Illinois and received his B.A. degree in Christian Education from Centenary College, Shreveport, Louisiana. He later was graduated from Iliff School of Theology, a United Methodist seminary located outside of Denver. After serving congregations in Maple Park, Illinois and nearby Crystal Lake, he was reassigned in 1993 to the Barrington United Methodist Church where he serves as Associate Pastor.

In addition to his many pastoral duties, the Reverend Marshall's current interest revolves around his family—wife Sue, a teacher at Hillside School, and their two children, a girl 8 and a boy 2 years old.

A social service agency, Barrington Youth Services provides counseling and prevention programs to youth and their families who live in the Barrington communities. For several years, board development has been a major BYS goal to provide for the current and future needs of a growing community.

Of his new appointment, Mike Marshall says, "I am impressed with BYS and find it exciting to continue to learn about the scope of its services."

Nine-To-Five Dog

Dogs thrive on routine: walk, play, feed, train, owner leaves for work, hang around the house, owner arrives home, walk, play, feed, train, hang around with owner, walk sleep, etc. Once they know the routine, they expect it. Changes in routine means trouble. Anticipation can cause problems. Dogs who are normally well behaved can fall apart if you go out in the evening after being away all day.

If your dog is left alone all day on its own, without physical or mental stimulation, a dog can develop stereotypical routines. Just like a caged wolf in a zoo, it might pace relentlessly or it might run up and down the stairs, bark incessantly, or even urinate and defecate in the house. Separation anxiety and this kind of obsessive behavior occur most frequently in dogs rescued from animal shelters or animals with an inadequate exercise routine.

Most dogs get worked up at the sign of your departure or your arrival home. Canine extroverts behave in a relentlessly gregarious way, but so do highly strung or neurotic individuals. Prolong boredom can also induce over excitement. The tendency to be excitable is partly inherited and partly learned. Excitement is a gratifying feeling. It acts as its own reward, which is one of the reasons dogs behave this way.

Dogs do not like being alone. They are a sociable species, and it is unnatural for them not to have companionship or activity. A dog needs to be mentally active for about half of its time, and if it is not its brain actually shrinks in size. Most bored dogs just look glum and lie around, but many become destructive, overexcited, and do things that crave attention.

Dogs do not like being left alone for long periods of time, without physical or mental stimulation, a dog can become bored, frustrated, worry, show signs of separation anxiety or become destructive. Signs of your dog having these traits are chewing and tearing of things, and digging and soiling anywhere in the house. Further examples, your dog may exhibit any of the following: Picking up a towel or throw rug and shake it as if it is prey; howling, barking, especially continuous, rhythmic barking; chewing up the newspaper. These are signs of anxiety, frustration and boredom.

The Role of Exercise

Stress affects dogs just as it can people. Think how stressed you would be if your family came and went as they pleased, never telling you where they were going, when they would return or what they were up to. A dog, being naturally social, is particularly stressed by hours of isolation mandatory in today's world. Situations that create stress for you—a new job with different hours, a new child or problems in your relationship can all add up to increased stress for your dog.

Like humans, dogs need to release stress. Meditation and biofeedback are not possible, so exercise and play become the main avenues of release for your dog. The more stress he is under the more exercise he needs or more importantly, a consistent exercise routine. With problem dogs the importance of exercise and reassurance increases.

Besides all the previous reasons to exercise your dog, Vestee Jackson owner of Barrington Pet Sitters sites that regular exercise keeps your dog fit and healthy. "Dogs which don't have enough exercise become obese. All the grooming in the world will not make a dog beautiful if his diet or exercise are poor, and the latter is more apt to be deficient than the former these days. Most of us seem to think that if we throw the dog outdoors every once in a while he will get all the exercise he needs. This is not altogether true, and it is not even possible if you live in the city or suburbs where leash laws are strictly enforced."

According to Jackson, the dog who lives most of his life indoors presents the most difficult problem. "He may need to run, even like to run, but because he is confined, he cannot". As a result, his physique, coat and temperament all suffer.

A long walk is so beneficial for both you and your dog, and in many cases, especially among the giant breeds, a walk provides adequate exercise. Of course the walk must be more than just giving the dog the opportunity to relieve himself. You must be prepared to spend an absolute minimum of twenty minutes, but preferably a half an hour to forty-five minutes once or twice a day. Walking in combination with some indoor or outdoor play is even more invigorating, and you may continue the same games you instituted when the dog was a puppy-retrieving, and pulling rubber toys with his mouth.

The single factor that guarantees you a happier nine-to-five dog with fewer problems, is exercise. Both mental and physical exercise are important. Regardless of weather, your energy level, schedule or mood, your dog must be exercised in the morning or midday if you expect him to be well behaved during the long day alone.

Hiring a walker for the middle of the day is a kindness to your dog. Barrington Pet Sitters offers several exercise programs to fit the particular needs of both you and your dog. Our professional pet care staff is responsible and is aware of the adequate amounts of exercise each pet requires. But most importantly, you and your pet can expect a reliable individual to be there when promised. All dogs are leashed, and monitored for any signs of over exercise, fatigue or heat exhaustion. Safety is our primary concern in the care of your dog and home.

Barrington Pet Sitters is offering readers of this article an introductory special offer of one month of service, which includes; five visits per week, thirty minutes of exercise, fresh water, a treat, fifteen minutes of brushing your pet three times a week, and a monthly report card and monthly notes as to your pets progress and reactions. Pet Care In Your Home!

Just because you're leaving home, doesn't mean you're pet has to!

If you like most pet lovers, you hate leaving your pet in unfamiliar surroundings when you travel. Our services provide your dog, cat, and/or other pets the care they need while you're away - right in your own home. And while taking care of your pets, we are happy to water your plants and make your home look occupied by bringing in mail and newspapers and adjusting draperies and lights.

Even if you are not leaving home, there may be instances where we can be of service. Unusual working hours or lengthy illnesses may make it difficult to properly care for your pet. Please call to discuss how we may help.

Your Pet:

- Stays in a secure, familiar environment
- Follows their customary routine and diet
- Avoids exposure to illness from other animals
- Receives loving, individual attention
