which w everal miles toward of pic-nic excursion, but now a storm was brewing that promised much trouble to the proud riders of McCook. For, just as we had settled down to our picket duty, we heard firing east of the station and on the road leading back to Fayetteville. In an incredible time, ap-parently the whole command second to be engaged, and we were ordered to the body in the grave, Gen. Hancock came riding up, and when he discovered join our regiment in line of battle on a road running parallel with the one upon which we had traveled to reach Lovejoy. In rejoining our regiment we passed Gen. McCook, who was not far from Col. Dorr, who had been wounded, and also met Col. John T. Croxton, our old colonel, and then com-mander of our brigade. He ordered us to charge the enemy on their flank, which we did handsomely, driving them back some distance, clearing the road for our retreat, and thus enabling Gen. McCook and staff to extr cate themselves from what appeared to me a dangerous situation for capture. Our retreat now began in earnest. First he was from, mounted his horse and one regiment and then another was left rode away from the solemn scene. This behind to check the enemy, until it he-came our turn. This was just after we of our brigade, as he was that same crossed the Flint river on the road leadng from Lovejoy to Newman. Capt. West with his company (C) was left be-hind to destroy the bridge, while the regiment moved forward and destroyed Booleburg, Parts mand had captured. Just before daylight on the morning of the 30th we formed in line in rear of Co. C, and awaited an attack from the enemy. As soon as daylight began the enemy moved on Co. with force and fury, driving it back from the bridge in some confusion to our line, which was advancing to its support. In less time than it takes to gaged. Col. R. M. Kelly, our regiment-al commander, was just getting in the right humor to give the Johnnies a sample of such fighting as they had not seen during their service, when to our surprise we were charged by a regiment or more on each flank, shooting, velling and crying "Halt! halt! you Yankee mmores commences energine and stance to the urch, situated near own turnpike. After we succeeded in repulsing their advance, and during a full in the infantry, roofs. firing, our Chaplain, Wm. H. Earnshaw, afterwards Chaplain U. S. Army, and at one time Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, discovered the dead body of Capt. James S. Col-well, of the 7th Pa. Beserves, who had been killed near where our regiment (49th Pa.) was engaged. Chaplain Earn-shaw being an old acquaintance of Capt. Colwell, got the pioneers of our regiment and had a grave dug near the root of a large oak tree. Just as prepwhat was being done, he dismounted and stood with head uncovered, while the brave Chaplain offered up a fervent prayer. All this took place while the shells from the enemy's guns went crashing through the treetops over our heads. This unique funeral, the account of which I believe has never found its way into print, may be of interest to the survivors of the old Hancock Brigade, and perhaps to the friends of the dead chaplain.

Gen. Hancock, after making inquiry as to who the dead man was and where afternoon promoted to the command of a division in the Second Corps, the com-mander of which was killed in this bat-

Getting Shot is Delightful.

The dread of being shot in battle is far greater before the action begins than afterward. This is the almost universal testimony of soldiers who have been in battle. There is another point in connection with this subject upon which it might be interesting to hear what old soldiers have to say, that is the sensation felt at the moment of being struck by a bullet. My experience, writes a correspondent of the Globe-Democrat, is that it is not at all painful. The pain and suffering come in full force after awhile, but at the time of actual contact the flesh and nerves must be so. dendened by the shock that there is no painful feeling. I was wounded severely at the battle of Lone Jack, and though I lay in a critical condition for many months, yet the sensation I felt at the moment of receiving the wound was anything but disagreeable. I was on horseback at the time, and all at once a most pleasant and soothing feeling pervaded my whole system. Then I became oblivious to what was actually taking place about me, and was immediately in an ideal world. The roar and excitement of the battle was no longer present, and I was floating in space, without effort and still without pain. Then I began sinking gradually through kaleidoscopic scenes and sweet strains of music—the surroundings and the sensation being heavenly. From this state of delicious existence I drifted into absolute nothingness-oblivion-to wake, I don't know how 'ong afterward, to the reality of doctors, nurses and days of agony. But the rebel bullet brought with it no immediate hint of its terrible message. The Philadelphia maiden is sui generis She is as unlike her New York sister a oners were corraled in the valley of a deep ravine to our rear. Here for sev-eral hours we were engaged in a most fearful and unequal contest; the rebels in her street costume particularly she receiving reinforcements all the time, while our ranks were being depleted by the effects of the battle. At last it be-a penchant for black at all times and in came evident that we could not hold all seasons, but this season the penchant out much longer. The pack-train was has developed into a positive craze. It either abandoned or destroyed, and those amounts to a livery or to the habit of n charge joined their companies. The an order covering the entire area of n charge joined their companies. The prisoners were brought forward and marched through our lines, and permit-ted to return to their moch-loved Con-federacy. While we had been between the lines Col. Croxton reformed our line on a hill some distance in rear of where we had tirst taken position. It was clear to everyone that it was only

A few stolen kisses, how-

> Their guardianship does not last long after a suitor declares himself. To get married is his object, and he easily persuades his betrothed to have the ceremed during the ext religious festival. When the wedding day at last arrives he gathers his friends in his own house at noon and spreads a marriage feast before them. His betrothed gathers her friends likewise and entertains them in her parents home. So in the two homes the day is spent in feasting and merrymaking. Friends flock from all directions, and those who enter the man's house say in greeting. "May good/luck like this soon befall all bachelors," while those who enter the girl's house say, "May happiness like this soon be the lot of all young maidens."

Not till midnight, however, does the ceremony itself begin. Then all the young man's friends light their torches and go with him to the house of his be-trothed. The maiden and her friends await them, and without delay all form long procession and march back to the voung man's house. Professional sing-ers lead the way, filling the air with music, and blazing, torches cast their ruddy light on the glad faces of the revelers and the beautiful faces and attire of the stately Greek maidens.

WHEN THEY REACH THE HOUSE they find a priest ready to perform the marriage ceremony. To the young peo-

Greek Church, and then, after placing his hands on their heads, first simply and afterward crosswise, he joins their hands and pronounces them man and wife.

The guests how offer congratulations and gifts, and the bridegroom in return offers them beakers of wine and other lavish hospitality. So during the night and long after dawn the feast is contin-ued, and not until the sun is high in the heaven has the bridegroom a chance to before they are mar- the davtime is not always under control. The sun may sometimes make ever, are all the luxuries they can how to obtain during this ante-nuptial period; for the girls are guarded most careful-ly, not because the parents distrust the would let the frost in and do more damsuitors, but because they consider it age than the heat. In such a case a their duty to protect their daughters' little too high temperature is the lesser honor as long as they are under their evil. A good place to grow violets or pan-sies may be constructed at the south side of a dwelling. Dig a pit two feet deep along the house. Into this put a stout frame to receive common hot-bed sash, the sash to lean against the build-ing. Tear down the wall that separates the frame from the cellar under the house, and put a row of windows in its place. The idea of this is that the natural heat in the cellar shall keep your frame at a steady temperature. At the same time you may work over your flowers, no matter what the outside weather may be, and when no air

Home of a Gypsy Prince.

A modest brick house standing a little way back from the street, in a suburb of the city of Dayton, O., is the prop-erty and part of the year the home of a gypsy of wide repute, the heir apparent to a throne in Little Egypt; and here, and hereabout, is the rendezvous of a numerous band or tribe. This settle-ment is widely known as the home of some of the richest and most influential families of gypsydom, among them the Stanleys, of whom the present head, Levi, is called the King. This Levy Stanley is a short, heavy-set man o something over seventy years. He is still strong and active, with a ruddy cheek and bright eye. Much of his time is passed with the travelling parties, while his oldest son, Levi, jr., a stal-wart, handsome man of fifty, assumes much of the active direction of affairs, looking after property and I using looking after property, etc. Lying scattered about to the north of Dayton are many fine farms owned by them. At present most of the farms are in the hands of tenants, for however near the

Des Plaines, 111.

--Call on---

NICHOLS & SON

FOR YOUR

GROCERIES

In attempting to reach our horses about two-thirds of our regiment was captured, including Col. Kelly and most of the line officers.

Some distance in the rear of where we had gone into action, perhaps a quarter of a nule, there was a deep ditch or ravine. Nevertheless, we rushed over it as though it was the smoothest bridge in existence. It was now noticeable that while the ditch had hindered us, it was also an obstacle to the rebel pursuit, as they, too, had to adopt our tactics to get over. Seeing that any attempt to overhaul us would prove futile, they gave up the pursuit.

Presently we found the 1st Tenn. Cav. in line, and we passed on and joined the column. As we debouched from our line of march to the west side of Newnan we encountered the enemy in force. The section of the 18th Ind. battery took a position on a hill near an old log house, with the 1st Tenn. on its left, the remnant of the 4th Ky, on the right, and the Sth lowa to the right of the 4th Ky. The pack-train and prisbe alone with his bride. By that time the last guest has departed and the only persons in the house are the married couple, the bride's mother, and the bridegroom's parents. The two mothers conduct the married couple to their apartment, close the door on them, return to an adjoining room, and lying on couches remain there until the bride and groom come out to break their feast. Then, if all is well, the old ladies retire to enjoy their well-earned sleep. If, however, there is any trouble, the bride's mother will question the groom closely, and chances are that she will take her daughter home and proceed to have her marriage annulled.

If she does not act the groom may renounce his wife and marry another woman. First, however, he must prove that his wife led an immoral life before her marriage. In Greece few newly married men have to perform this unpleasant duty. Greek maidens are very virtuous, and are so closely scrutinized by the suitors' relatives before marriage that it would be impossible for them to conceal any bodily defects. Moreover, a record of any bodily injuries which they may have sustained and which might afford a pretext to quest on their morality is entered in an official regis-ter, and no attempt is made to conceal them from suitors,

If they are satisfied that all is well THE PARENTS GO OFF TO SLEEP, and the bridegroom fills his pocket with cakes and sweetmeats and goes for a journ and pearl on dark mulacca cane. promenade. At every step he meets a A Summer petticoat, dedicated to friend, who congratulates him warmly Kate Field, has been introduced to early friend, who congratulates him warmly and gets in return a handful of sweetmeats.

A week later there is a regular "house-warming," to which all the friends of the bride and bridgroom are invited. This is succeeded by feasts and sources in the houses of the wedding guests. At these entertainments, which last for several days, the newly married couple are the principal attraction. Not until these enjoyable days are over is a Greek honeymoon considered at an end

Mrs. Gen. Grant. Mrs. Gen. Grant. but, withal, the waist is very short and Mrs. Gen. Grant is reported to be in the design close, smooth and compact.

gypsy may be to the primeval man he has not yet developed a strong liking for the labor of the primeval occupation.

Fashion Notes.

With leg-o'-mutton sleeves velvet points are fastened about the armhole. Jet as a trimming for costumes of wool, cloth and corduroy is in great favor with London dressmakers.

Tailor suits for the street, princess dresses for the house, and short mulls or demi-train brocade for ceremony comprise tha fashions of the season. For thin gauze, muslin and Summer silk, corsets are made with elastic net. and corded in lieu of bones. Flat silk strings are used for lacing.

The old style of cording the seams of woolen dresses has been revived, and a novel effect is secured by using a contrasting color for the cord

An Austrian coiffurer has been at work for months on a brace to hold up the short hair at the nape of a court lady's neck. The result is a hairpage made of shell to match the color of the hair, which, when applied, fits like the old-time headrests the photographers used.

As a rule umbrella covers are of plain black silk, but an innovation comes from gay Paris in the form of a natural wood stick with a carved ivory handle, and a cover of cucumber green, lilac, coffee green or mulberry red. Mono-grams and initials are also applied in buyers who are making up their Florida trousseaux. The stuff used is a light-weight silk in a variety of colors, made dresses aim at simplicity, neatness and beauty. A vest of silk may be set in a plaited front, the side gores and sleeve caps made of some low-toned brocade, Box 55, PACIFIC, cor. W. 40th st. and North av. and the collar and cuffs of dark velvet: Any Instruments Desired will be Furnished.

CUSHMAN & MEE,

DEALERS IN

Coal, Wood, Coke, Lime, Sand, Gravel, Hay & Feed.

LIVERY, EXPRESSING AND MOVING.

IRVING PARK.

Anyone wishing MUSIC for

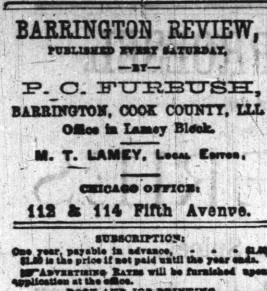

CLUB DANCES, ETC.

should call on or address

W. W. KENDALL.

CHICAGO. C. B. DUNNING

Has opened a Weddings, Balls, Parties, MEAT MARKET In the Stott Building and will always have on hand Fresh, Smoked and Salt MEATS. Poultry, Fish and Oysters in season. Barrington, III.

BOOK AND JOB PRINTING merry description, promptly executed in the Intered at Barrington Post Office for transmit

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1890.

THE NORTHWESTERN.

One of the most serious obstacles to a rapid settlement of this section of the city and Cook County is the Northwestern railroad. It has ap parently been the policy of this road to deter rather than encourage any movement whereby the people and property rights of this district would be bettered. For years the company have given us as few trains as possible, and only lately, when forced by the rapidly increasing population, has it made any improvements in this branch of its service. At present, al though far behind other divisions of the same road, our accommodations are so much superior to what for years we were accustomed to that the travelling public are inclined to be lenient over whatever shortcomings may from time to time arise. To show the general policy of this division, and the feeling which it arouses among its patrons, we publish the following communication:

To the Editor:

Many subscribers to your valuable paper living along the Wisconsin division of the C. & N. W. Ry. desire through your columns to ask the reason of the unjust discrimination against them, in favor of their other divisions. We should certainly be entitled to the same courtesy as is extended patrons of the other two divisions, but are denied them. Those patrons of the C. & N. W. Ry. attending the Burns celebration in the Anditorium, Friday night, living on the Galena and Milwaukee divis | February the 6th ions, were given the courtesy of having the last train held for them. The unfortunate but equally enthusiastic admiters of the world-famed genius of Robert Burns. living on the Wisconsin division, were forced to forego one-third of the pro artigme to catch the regular train, if they venue Salo rach their homes that evening. A the Wisconsin division have to pay for their inferior accommodations as much as the patrons of the more favored ones, but trust that through the publicity your valuable paper gives, that this unjust discrimination against us will be rectified. This is by no means the most serious objection to the Northwestern-in the interest of the C#, M. & St. P. Ry. following case it extends to all its divisions. We refer to the inadequate protection against loss of life at street crossings. The tragedy at Rose Hill have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Evans, has returned home. is a most powerful argument against the company's parsimonious policy, and should have such effect that in High Court meeting at LaSalle, III. years to come it could be cited as the one last straw which broke the people's patience and forbearance. Let list. the city council show its authority. It is high time they were doing so.

ALMIRA AND PACIFIC JUNCTION. All communications of local interest to this locality should be sent to EDWARD LANGSTON, Pacific Junction, Box 25. Mr. Langston is authorized to take subscriptions for THE SUBURBAN TIMES, No attention will be given to communications unless the full name of the writer accompanies the article, or subscriptions received unless no-companied by the price $1.30. erty. PACIFIC CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH-J. L. Richard son, Pastor, Sunday evening Services, at 7:30 j m. Sunday School, at 10:30 a. m. Young People Society of Christian kindeavor, Sunday evening a 6:30 p.m. Prayer Meeting, every Wedneedev at COURT BLACK FOREST, No. 142, I. O. F. - Meet second and fourth Fridays of the month in Colum bia Hall, Armitage avenue near Meeker stree F. W. Rogens, C. R. EDWARD LANGSTON, Rec. Sec.

Street cars?

Masquerades are all the go.

Coal dealers are in the soup. How is this for winter weather?

Valentine's Day will soon be here

Eugene Cook is down with the mumps. Mrs. Barnes of Ridgeway Avenue, is ill Read the article about the Evans-Gordon wedding.

Geo Visser is back at his old trade, that of a hatter.

School books, at Hirschmann's opposite Pacific school.

Miss Richards leaves for Baraboo, Wis. her home, next week.

Mr. aud Mrs. Faller, nee Crombie. are isiting their parents.

Henry C. Elkins has returned home from his trip to Rochester, Munn.

Miss Rowlett, of Galewood, is the gues of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Parker. Mrs. Hill, of Elgin, was the guest o

Mr. and Mrs. Bliss last week. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Anderson, mourns the loss of their youngest child

Valentines of all kinds cheap at Hirschnann's, opposite Pacific School

Mrs. Walesi of Elgin, is spending a few days with Mrs. and Mrs. Scobey.

Mrs. Waldron spent a few weeks with friends in the city, is back again. Miss Gettelson, a new teacher at the Pacific school, is doing good work.

The family of John Scobey have been very sick, and are now convalescing.

Mr. Gidley, of Toronto, Canada, was guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jago, last week. In the near future, the Turners' of Almira, will celebrate with a grand masquer-

A large number of new residences are going up around Mead and Waubansia Adelhida, one of the little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Jung, has be n laid up with the grippe.

Two new lamps have been placed in position at Pacific depot. Thanks C., M. & St P. Ry.

For the next thirty days you can buy masks cheap at Hirschmann's, Armitage, near Meeker.

The Pacific Alumni Association meets at the west side of Meeker street, between North avenue and the railroad tracks, and that they will at once improve the prop-

Fred W. Rogers, Chief Ranger, of Court Black Forest, No. 142, I. O. F., will be present and represent his court at the High Court convention in LaSalle, Ill., commencing Monday, Feb. 10th, and lasting four days.

Call on Henry Eldred & Co., Armitage and Ballou, for anything in the line of lumber, lath and shingles, cedar posts, sash, doors, blinds, mouldings and mill work. Goods guaranteed, and mill work unsurpasse 1.

It is a good sign to see the water pipes strung along North avenue, west of S mons, ready to be put in. Perhaps we will soon have them also on our side streets. Water and sewer is what we need badly, and our alderman should see to

The turning school in connection with Turner Hall is progressing very fast, and children will be taught under the able hand of Mr. Loewe, (who comes highly recommended). Pupils will be taken from the ages of seven to fourteen. Twenty-five cents is all the charge per month.

By a unanimous vote the members of the Pacific Congregational Church, at its third quarterly business meeting, held Wednes-day evening, decided to issue a call for J. L. Richardson, as pastor, for one year. commencing May 1st, 1890, to April 31st, 1891, at an increased salary.

The subject for the Y. P. S. C. E. next Sunday evening, "Not Living to Ourselves," to be found in 11 Cor., V: 11-21. The society will be conducted by Mr. J. H. Stube, increasing earnestness is being shown by the large number of young peo-ple present. Mr. P. V. Troup ably con-ducted last meeting,

A number of Almira and Pacific members, with their families, attended the grand celebration of the Royal Arcanum, at the Auditorium, Thursday evening. Messrs, Peck and Barnes have been so elated over the grand event, that they have started a list to organize a council. here. So far with success.

Juvenile receptions have been numerous of late. On Saturday evening Miss Carrie Trim entertained her Sunday school class of boys at her home on Kimbell avenue. On Monday evening Miss Mamie Scott entertained her class of little girls at her home at 22 Armitage court. Games and refreshments were the order of the evening. at both the receptions, as well as the grand reception Tuesday evening given the entire Senior department by their division Supt. J. H. Stube, at the residence of Mrs. Simons, Sr.

A basket-social will be given in Columbia Hall, Saturday, February 8th, at 8:39, by Court Black Forest. The admission fee will be ten cents to gentlemen and ladies with baskets filled with eatables will be admitted free. - Baskets will be auctioned off to the highest bidder, and the gentleman buying the basket will have to find the owner and invite her to share its contents. A good time is guaranteed, and it is hoped that a large number will be present. Casthe home of Miss Cora Crombie, Thursday, tello's orchestra will furnish delightful ant location Montrose has for those seeking a home. We have waited long for the improvement and have been fully repaid for waiting, and desire to express the thanks of a long suffering public to the officials of the railroad.

BRAZIE-CLARK WEDDING.

The beautiful residence of Mr. and Mrs. Francis R. Brazie was the scene of a bril

Central Railway. Rev. Arthur M. Thome officiated. The young couple were the re-cipients of many congratulations, and after which those present sat down to an elegant dinner prepared for the occasion by the parents of the bride. The bridal party left for Milwaukee at four o'clock on the Chicago & Northwestern Railway. Mr. and Mrs. Clark, upon their return home, will be at home to their friends at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Francis R. Brazie, and will remain until spring and then go to housekeeping.

then go to housekeeping. Miss Brazie was highly esteemed by her employers, Messrs. F. A. Kennedy Company, cracker manufacturers, where she has been for a long time as city cashier. Many handsome and useful presents were received. Only relations of the contracting parties were present.

A subject being agitated of late is the location of the Hercules Iron Works here, and it is something that ought to receive the endorsement of all citizens inreceive the endorsement of all citizens in-terested in the welfare of the town. About $10,000 is the amount needed to buy the land neccessary for its location, and it certainly seems that that amount ought to be raised for an enterprise thich will erect works costing in the neighbor of of $150,000 and employing from 400 ro $150,000 and employing from 400 ro $3150,000 and employing from 500 ro $3150,000 ro $3150,000 ro $3150,000 and employing from 500 ro $3150,000 r strong effort to secure it, consequently it will take the immediate and united action of Montrose if they wish to secure its lo-cation here. To bring 400 to 500 families here means a big increase in the value of real estate and the circulation of thousands of dollars here every month, which also means the starting of all classes of stores. This is something that should not be let slip by, for other localities are making better inducements for their locating at their respective points, butthe company is favorably impressed with the advantages of Montrose, and by subscribing enough to buy the ground for the works we can secure them. Every one having a dollar's worth of interest here should step forward and make some subscription, however small it may be. REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS. 27th Ward and adjoining. Meeker ave, 146 ft s of Armitage ave, e f, 26 ft to alley; Jan. 20. A. E. Green to L. Frank-Siddon's sub., it 1 and 8 of it 13, b 7, Stave & Klemm's n e ½ sec 25, 38, 14; Jan. 17. G. S. Siddons to E. Foulkes..... 1,600 iddons' sub., lt 3 and 4 of lt 9, b 7, Stave & Klemm's n e ¼, sec 25, 38, 14; Jan. 17. G.

Prompt Execution of Orders: Lowest Rates. Certified Copies of Original Ab-stracts to three-fourths of the land in Cook County Printed Abstracts a Specialty. Wm. Boldenwick. REAL ESTATE AND LOANS. INSURANCE. Room 727 Opera House Build'g (Clark and Washington Streets.)

CHICAGO-

W. H. ELDRED.

32 WELLS STREET.

Opposite N. W. Depot,

CHICAGO.

Key West and Imported Cigars, Etc.

Meat Market

No. 4 Wells St., Chicago,

Near Wells St. Bridge.

At the Lowest Market Prices.

FREE.

JOHN

LAMB.

Fred Oesterreich.

Architect and Builder

Wire Window and Door Screens,

STORM SASH AND RAIN WATER CISTERN.

Jefferson, Cook Co., Ill.

J. M. FLETCHER, a

The foregoing is the main, and we Church. might say only, obstacle in the way of a large and flourishing suburban population.

Now for a glance into the future. Already are surveys and other preliminary work being done through this Sunday evening. section for a new road, which will The aext regular meeting of the Circuit open to the public a vast territory of Progressive Euchre Club will be held at the fine residence property. On Milwau- nue, on Monday evening. kee avenue we can expect to see either an elevated or cable road, liberally patronized. Belmont avenue and Elston road will fall into line with all other thoroughfares, and boast rapid transit. Then, with transportation transit. facilities equal, and natural advan- rury. tages superior, to all other sections, the 27th Ward and Northwest Cook County will take its true position.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

Matters Relating to the 27th Ward. At the meeting Monday evening the following were offered by Alderman Fonda:

Grading and improving the following named streets with macadam, slag or crushed stone. viz.: Forest Glen avenue to connect with Peterson avenue; the unimproved portion looking after his welfare. thereof.

Lawrence avenue from Milwaukee avenue east to Jackson bridge; the unim proved portion thereof.

Jefferson avenue from town line of Niles to Armitage avenue. Ridgeland avenue from Graceland road to Armitage avenue. Austin avenue from Higgins road 0

Armitage avenue. Belmont avenue from Ridgeland aven se to Milwaukee avenue. Ward, only a few were present and it was decided to postpone it until next week at Schall's hall.

Mrs. Dick, from Teronto, is here attending to the wants of her son, Robert, who is not expected to live.

It is rumored that a few of our shining lights are laying their wires for the nomi nation of alderman.

Property owners along North avenue are receiving their assessment notices of water mains and sewerage.

Henry Booth who has been suffering with inflamatory rheumatism for six weeks is able to be out again.

The Pacific Alumni is actively engaged in rehearsing "The Schoolmarm," which will be given in the near future. Hynes, the well known coal man, made a flying trip to Milwaukee last week, in the

Now as the spring approaches call on Fross, for figures on painting, paper hang-ing, etc., Armi age west of Ballou.

Mead street has had its share of diphtheria. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Peterson's two children are reported on the sick

Mr. Hunt of the Chicago Theological Seminary, conducted the Wednesday even-ing service, at the Pacific Congregational

The next regular meeting of the Clio-sophic will be held at the residence of Mrs. Troup, Agmitage and Mead, Tuesday evening, Feb. 4th.

Pastor Richardson delivered an eloquent sermon on "looking forward" to one of the largest congregations for some time, last residence of Mrs. Castello, Springfield ave-

The "grip" is letting go rather slowly, but still there are not so many sick as there was if few weeks ago, and there's a hope of of our unwelcome visitor soon leaving.

Fank Sigwalt contemplates a business

Mirs. Castello was suddenly called to the city last Sunday, owing to the death of Mrs. Genung, (Bida Vickers), a dear friend of hers, and owner of considerable property in Pacific.

The newly elected officers of the Gospel emperance League were duly installed on hursday evening by the Grand Council of Chicago. The league is now ready for aggressive work.

Robert Emerson has been very low, and was not expected to live last Tuesday. Many kind friends and members of Foresters and the Mutual Aid have been Court Black Forest will give its annual reception and ball on Washington's birthday, Feb. 22nd. in Turner Hall. To all those who attend, they will be taken care of, and a good time is promised.

A meeting was called for Wednesday night of property owners to discuss the needed improvements of our end of the Boys and young men, you should stop getting on and off the trains while in motion. It is a dangerous practice and you are liable to get hurt sooner or later. If a person argues with one of these reckless people, they invariably plcad that—as they have jumped on and off the trains for a long time they cannot get hurt. If you will not think of yourselves, have a the tor your parents and relatives, and rement+ ber, that in case of accident, it would hurt them far more than yourself, for mental agony is much more unbearable than physical pain. Now take good advice and always wait for the trains to stop. If you do not stop / it, we will publish your name in this column.

MONTROSE AND MAYFAIR. Our genial station agent. Mr. Kilgallen, interests there. We are pained to learn that Mr. Hobert fined to the house.

The family of Mr. Rehwaldt have the sympathy of the people of Montrose in Park Ridge, all tt 1, Crittenden's add; Dec. 30., heir bereavement.

Mr. Lewis' house, north of the Montrose and Mayfan High School, is now about completed and will shortly be occupied by him.

Much sickness has been reported lately in our usually healthy town, but at last accounts all were on the improve, and we now know of no one in danger.

For rent-A pleasant cottage with brick basement within three blocks of depot. A stable, plenty of water, hard and soft, on premises. Terms reasonable to good ten-ant. Inquire of Chester Dickinson.

The class of 1890 at the High School are now making arrangements for the com-mencement exercises in June. This class will be the largest ever graduating from the school, being about twenty-five pupils: Mrs. Jones' condition is somewhat improved, though she will probably have to remain under treatment for some time. wing to the severe injuries she received from falling off one of Yerkes' cars through the negligence of the conductor.

Lazarus Silverman has commenced work again on his fish pond opposite his residence on Franklin street, which will certainly do much toward beautifying that part of the town, as Mr. Silverman contemplates laying out a park in connection with it.

Mr. Shulnoff will leave his position as operator at the depot next month to accept a similar pos tio 1 with the Chicago, Milwaykee & St. Paul, at St. Paul; better pay is the inducement for the change; the Chi-cago & Northwestern loses and the St. Paal gains an efficient and hard working servant thereby.

Work has been progressing rapidly on the interlocking switches at the crossing of the two roads, and within a few weeks the through trains will be running through our town without stopping, making a death-trap, for at the intersections of the railroads three streets cross the track several times at a point where trains are continually passing and where drivers of teams have always known the trains to stop, consequently giving them time to cross should a train be in sight.

The Chicago & Northwestern Railway depot, just completed, is certainly a great improvement over the old one and a credit TOILET ARTICLES, to the railroad. When we now have oc-casion to bring friends out here they will

S. Siddons to W. F. Pflueger ..... 1,750 Siddons' sub., it 2 and 5 of it 9, b 7, Stave & Klemm's n e 14, 25, 38, 14; Jan. 17. G. S. Siddons to W. J. Moorehead.

Vebster st., s e cor Northwestern R. R., w f. 150x163; Jan. 1. C. Ramstead to J. C. Clark 2,250 Webster st.; lot adj the above, 98x163; Jan. L.

Attrill's sub., it 9 and s ely 1/2 it 10, b 5, pt b 2, 3 1 0, sub 53 acres, n e 14, 36, 40, 13; Sep. 1.

P. Stevens to Den Forste Skandinaviske Congrekiske..... Clarkson's sub., lt 15, b 2, s w 34, 36, 40, 18; Jan. 15, G. F. Balley to C. G. Swansson......

Gross's n w add., lt 49 and 50, b 2: April 10, '88, W. H. Lee to F. B. Weissgerber, .....

Gross's n w acd., lt 47 and 48, b 7; June 11, '88. W. H. Lee to E. G. Murbach .....

Gross's n w add., it 8, b 4; June 14. M. H. Lee to M. Bowers. .....

is in Minnesota looking after his mining Irving Park, It 11, b 4, orig sub; Jan. 17, A. S. Wright to F. Geiss.....

Maine. does not improve in health and is still con- Township 41, n 5 acres of s w 14, n w 14, n w 14. s w 14, 26, 41, 12; Nov. 8. Est. C. Daniels to

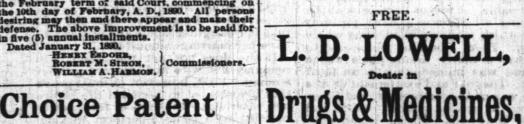

H. Eck...... E. P. King to G. Ayott ..... 2,800

Park Ridge, e 50 ft lt 9, Hodges' add.; Jan. 17. erry & M.'s sub., lt 1 and n 50 ft lt 2, b 3, s e 14, 26, 41, 12; Jan. 21 M. C. Bates to L. C.

Special Assessment Notice.

NORWOOD PARK.

(No. 6.) (No. 6.) Notice is hereby given to all persons interested that the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Norwood Park, having ordered the con-struction of a connected system of severs in Chica-go avenue, West Circle avenue, East Circle avenue, Central avenue, Mulberry 'avenue, Myrtle avenue, Vine street, East Vine street and Norwood court, with the necessary man-holes, junctions, catch-basins, house or drain slants, etc., in the said vil-lage of Norwood Park; have applied to the County Court of Cook Court for an assessment of the cost of seast improvement according to benefits, and an as-sessment thereof having been made and returned to said court, a final hearing thereon will be had at the February term of said Court, commencing on the 10th day of February, A. D., 1800. All persons desiring may then and there appears and make their defense. The above improvement is to be paid for in five (5) annual installments. Dated January SI, 1800. HENERT M. SIMON, WILLIAM A. HARMON, Best of Fresh & Salt Meats Suburban Trade Solicited, Give us a Call. Meats delivered to train.

Hour

PAINTS and OILS

All Farmers Work done on short notice Curtis & Meyer. DRUGGISS DES PLAINES, ILL.,

-DEALERS INand Apothecary. General Merchandise,

Prescriptions Accurately Prepaired a Dry Goods, Groceries. Boots and Shoes.

Save Money by purchasing the best Plano. Do not decide what make to get until you have investigated the claims that are made for the Estey Plano. The patent re-peating action used in these planos makes them superior to all others but, beside this there are many other improvements that are not found in other makes. The immense business now being done in these planos all over the world and the surprising increase in the demand for them proves that there is in their construction something that is worthy of investigation.

finvestigation. Write for Catalogue, and mention this paper. Cash or easy payments.

ESTEY & CAMP. 233 State, 49, 51 & 53 Jackson Sts., CHICAGO.

Se disguised that it can be taken, digested, and assimilated by the most sensitive stomach, when the plain (il can be telerated; and by the can-bination of the oil with the appophe-philes is much more effectious.

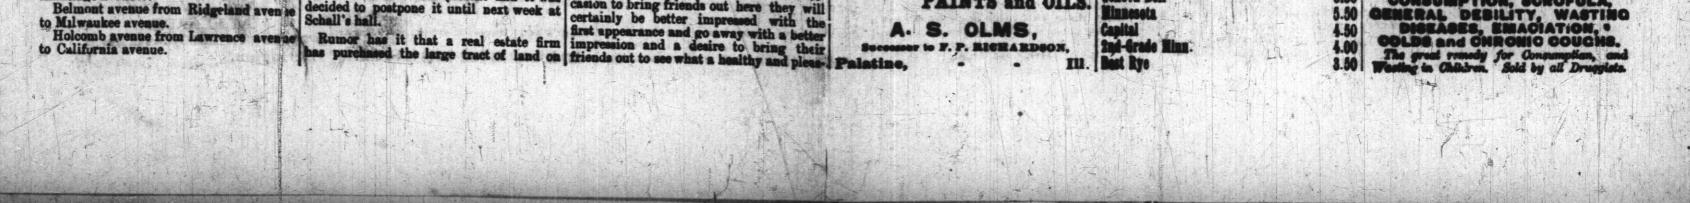

markable as a flesh producer. Persons gain rapidly while taking it.

1-1y

$5.50

5.50

SCOTT'S EMULSION is acknowledged 27 hysicians to be the Finest and Best prepa-tion in the world for the relief and cure of CONSUMPTION, SCROFULA,

A RAMBLE ABOUT TOWN.

Ye scribbler found himself one day this week walking up North May street from Indiana stre t across Obio. Erie and Huron streets up to Milwaukee avenue, and he was quite forcibly impressed with the change and favorable improvements of the last four years in every direction, as far as eyes reached. Where till a few years ago hardly apything but old wooden buildings, rickety and chanty-like at that, will now be seen almost entirely three and four story brick buildings, many of which pre-senting a pleasing as well as varied and artistic exterior. We were told the architects to the most of them were the enter-prising and accomplished Messrs. Lutken and Thislew on North May street near the corner of Chicago and Milwaukee avenues. Later we had the pleasure to chat with the latter gentleman and learned that besides a largely extending patronage in Chicago, they now also received orders from outside Chicago, two of which, a hotel and an opera house in Escanata, Northern Michigan. Both Thislow and Lutkin have studied in Norway and Germany as well as in this country.

Next door to the north west side postoffice on Milwaukee avenue near the corner of Chicago avenue is opened a new dry goods store this week. The proprietor of this establishment is Baltzar Haugen, a very popular young man and leader in several societies in this locality. Up to this month he has for many years been a partner in the firm of Asche & Haugen, but being very favorably impressed with the locality and business prospects around the corners of Milwaukee and Chicago avenues, he determined to sever his connection with the old firm, and probabilities are that he will not be disappointed. Two or three of Mr. Haugen's brothers are noticed among the clerks in the new store and will consequently not after this be found at the old firm where they for so many years have been employed. Besides all kinds of dry goods, the new firm of Baltzar Haugan & Co., will carry a large line of furnishing goods for ladies, gents and children.

At 213 Milwaukee avenue we found the largest stock of diamonds, solid jewelry, gold and silver watches on the northwest side. Gems of real artistic value can be found here, and their combined valuation can be no less than $25,000. The firm, Nordahl & Olson, was established here over twenty years ago and have merited and gained reputation and patronage that make them loth to move into more fashionable quarters, where their large stock would appear to far better advantage.

For city and suburban real estate call on E. Hagenson & Co., southwest corner Mrs. Stehman's on Eriday, Feb. 7, '90, Waseington and Fifth avenue. A full attendance is re-

A party of some fifty old settlers with their wives and children congregated at the Nora Lodge hall at eight o'clock last Sunday night. A delegation was selected to summon and command O. C. Land, an old and respected Milwaukee avenue jeweler, to appear before the mixed august and pranky body at the said hall, then and there to respond and show cause why he should not accept a handsome gold-headed cane and respond to congratulations on many years been established here, and is as well reputed a landlord as we have got in Chicago. His reles are strict--some may think even too str.ct-but the respectable public will stand by him every time. The fact that Hansen's business has been prosperous and his patronage increasing, while many others have had the reverse experience in this neighborhood, is ample proof of the soundness of these, our asser-

TO BE CONTINUED.]

tions.

AVONDALE.

AVONDALE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.-Rev. C. Virden, pastor. Services every Sabbath at 11:30 a. m., and 7:15 p. m., at No. 9 Byrne avenue, near Beimont. Sunday School at 10:30 a. m.

AVONDALE MEETING HOUSE-Sunday Services 10 a.m., 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. Wednesday Services, 7:35 p. m. Bible Reading, 7:35 p. m. Friday. Sun-day School at 3 p. m. ST. XIVIER CHURCH -- Father Thiel/ Pastor Sunday service at 9:30 A. M.

AVONDALE LITERARY SOCIETY .- Meets alternate

R. J. BICKERDIKE, Pres. FRED BALL, Sec'y.

AVONDALE HATL ASSOCIATION - Meeting of Board of Directors last Saturday in each month at resi-

J. J. LACEY, President. R. J. BICKERDIKE, Secretary. J. H. STEHMAN, Treasurer.

Martin We'r left for New York last

Mrs. Spence has been ill with la grippe, this week

Mrs. W. Blinkhorn is ill with the prevailing malady,

Mrs. Gorbult is spending a few days with Mrs. W. Blinkhorn.

W. C. Davis is slowly recovering from a severe attack of influenza.

Miss Jennie Tallman has been spending few days this week at Grand Crossing. A well attended masquerade ball was given at Kulintz' hall, list Saturday evening. E. H. Washburn's youngest child was very ill with in luenza the first of the week. but is improving.

are now improving.

Stock certificates will be issued to the stockholders, upon application to the treasurer at his home.

The will of the late Frederick Moeller was probated on Wednesday. He left an estate of $10,000 to his wife.

J. H. Stehman, superintendent of the M. E. Sunday school, was presented with a fine bible by the school on Sunday last.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet at quested.

Rev. Mr. Robinson acceptably filled the pulpit of the M. E. Church on Sunday. Rev. Mr. Virdin was detained at home by the sickness of his wife.

All stockholders of the Avondale Hall Association are notified that the third assessment of 50 cents per share was due and payable on Jan. 25th. Please pay up.

Washington, Chapter XXIII, O. E. S.,

Milwaukee avenue. Mr. Hanson has for Dr. A. W. Hagenbach, who has been practicing at Oakland, Cal., the past two years, started for his former home in Pennsylvania last week, and was taken ill on the train and died be ore reaching his destination.

Several suburbanites were "left" in town last Friday evening, owing to a mis-understanding as to the time the late train would leave, they having understood that the train would be twenty minutes late to accommodate those who attended the "Burns Memorial." As a result the "cabbies" were kept busy conveying the unfortunates to the hotels.

W. Dickinson and Miss Celia Heustis, at-tended the funeral of Mrs. D. W. Eldred in Chicago, Tuesday the 28th. Mrs. El-dred was stricken with apoplexy while purchasing some goods in a store near her residence, which were intended for use at a surprise party she was preparing for her son, Frank Eldred. Mr. Eldred was away from home at the time of her death on business in the West. The remains were interred at Rose Hill, Never speak unless you have something to say but always say something when you speak, and always stop when you have done. Say the New Home Sewing Machine is the best, and stop, for it cannot be proved otherwise.

NILES CENTRE. Wanted:-A correspondent from this

CHICAGO AMUSEMENTS.

H. R. Jacobs' Clark Street Theatre. For one week, commencing Monday evening, Feb. ard, with the matinees Thursday (Professional). Saturday and Sunday manager Jacobs will present Bartly Compbell's wonderous dramatic story of Russian life, called Siberia. This drama is the best known of all of Mr. Campbell's plays, and will have the benefit of a fine organization of talented players in the cast and a stage production in regards scenery and mechanical effects not often excelled. H. R. Smille's family has been visited The business at this handsome Theatre has been of the "grip" during the past week, but very large since the reduction of prices. The house run in a first-class manner, with nothing but recognized attractions on the stage. Edwin Arden in his, new play entitled "Barred Out" follows Siberia, The night prices at Jacobs' Clark St. Theatre have been reduced, and will be as follows: Gallery Admission......15 cents Seats can be secured at the box office six days in advance. Matinees, Thurs lay, Saturday and sun-

duy. Matinee prices: 15, 25 and 35 cents. Telephone number, 3362.

Chicago Opera House.

Monday, the 3d of February, the Chicago Opera House will produce "The Gondoliers," Gilbert and Sullivan's latest and greatest success, with a company organized by that theater. When we remember "The Arabian Nights," "The Crystal Slipper" and "Bluebeard' Jr.," it is fair to surmise that this, the first production by the management. of that theater of comic opera, will be upon a scale hitherto unknown in Chicago theatrical history. Gilbert & Sullivan's latest work has been secured by manager Henderson of that theater for all the territory srom Pittsburg to California. Nearly every The annual masquerade ball of Lady manager of any prominence in the country was after it, but the Chicago Opera House secured it. will be given on Tuesday evening, Feb. The opera is described as one of the cleverest is a satire it is done in such a skillful way as to be Huening Bros, are erecting a large two-story building on the rear of their lot, on cal phases. The costumes have been designed by Percy Anderson, of London, who has designed all the costames for Guilbert & Sullivan's operas, They are making preparations for the the costames for Guilbert & Sullivan's operas, spring trade, and intend to be in the field and also the costames for Henry Irving's productions. The cnorus will number over 60 people and there will be about 36 in the orchestra. All orders by mail and telegraph sent to the box office of the Chicago Opera House will be promptly attended to. There will be no increase in prices.

account of his fitieth anniversary, etc., parties in a glorious jollification until the early morning hours.

On the corner of Milwaukee avenue and Carpenter street the scribe's attention was attracted to the ouside view of the Milwau- with the earliest. attracted to the ouside view of the Milwau-kee Avenue Safe Deposit Company's vaults erected last year in connection with the Paul O. Steensland & Co's bank. This institution has conclusively proved to have supplied the public with a long-felt want as it is largely patronized. Mr. Paul O. Steensland, as the secretary, has also in this enterprise had the tact to connect with himself other substantial and well-known leading men as John R. Walsh, president leading men, as John R. Walsh. president for the Chicago National Bank; Edward G. Nihlein, manager of the Schlitz Brewing Company; S. D. Thorson, president of the Central Manufacturing Company, an extensive furniture factory: Chas. H. Wacker, of Wacker & Bick; Lawyer Donald L. Merrill, the once popular principal of the Anderson schools; Frank Upman and Frank A. Stauber, the Ex-Alderman and labor leader. These are the officers and board of directors, thus conclusively proven to be a strong moral guarantee of safes are a satisfactory guarantee phys-ically against burglars and fire fiend.

Mr. Steensland himself, is so well and favorably known to at least the majority of our readers that he hardly needs any introduction. He has until very lately been for several terms an active and influential member of the Chicago school board, and for some twenty years has been engaged in favorable business pursuits in this locality, most of the time in dry goods business, but for the last five years as real estate agent, banker and broker. He has also for years been the secretary of the Pros-perity Building and Loan Association, and secretary and treasurer of the Mount Olive Cemetery. Add to this his private banking business, real estate, insurance and house renting agency, and when re-membering that he is a thorough business man, every inch of him, the growth and magnitude of his varied and extensive enterprises. "Times hard," retorted Mr. Steensland, in answer to our casual remarks about certain parties complaining. "if there is anything like hard times we do not know of it, neither don't believe there is any particular cause to complain in general. Of course, somebody will complain; it has always been that way, and I will not deny that certain business men may justly complain for the simple reason that people are not so extravagant with their money as they used to be. Now they more wisely save their money in banks and building securities or invest in real estate. We have the best of opportu-nity to observe the growing inclination to economy and saving among the general public. Not one day passes but we are called upon to open accounts with new depositors. do not know of it, neither don't believe depositors. E. Hagenson & Co. are selling lots very readily in their addition to Lindon Park. This property is located on Chicago ave-nue six miles west from the Court House Chicago & Northwestern. In the two months these two hundred lots have been in the market about half are sold already, and in another two months' time there will hardly be any more in the months' terms the sector. will hardly be any more in the market at the present low prices. This firm have now elegant offices on the southwest corner of Washington and Fifth avenue.

In order to satisfy the "inner man" we to be a success, judging from the pains etc. Mr. Land was taken entirely with 4th, at Haymarket Hall, West Madison satires that Gilbert ever wrote. It is upon Monar-surprise, pleaded guilty and joined the street, near Halsted.

Belmont avenue, for a carpenter shop.

A preliminary meeting of prospective members of the A. O. U. W., at this place, will be held next Sunday afternoon, Feb. 2, at 2:30 o'clock, at Kunntz's Hall, corner Belmont and Wallace streets. All who wish to join this order should be present.

At the regular meeting of the Improvements rejorted the prospects favorable for speedy action on some of their requests, and were instructed on several details which had recently been brought up!

grades, and Miss Mary Stably has charge of the higher grades. Mr. Stehman now teaches the eighth grade and supervises safety just as well as the excellent Ha I the work in the other grades. Heretofore the principal's time was, all taken up in teaching.

> Avondale is quite a place for inventors, we have at least five residing in our midst, namely D. G. Butts, inventor of an electric burner for stoves; and J. G. A. Jacobs, an wednesday matinees. will invent a way to make one dollar purchase as much as three, ye editor will be happy.

The Board of Election Commissioners have changed the precinct boundaries in this ward. All of the 5th precinct west of Crawford avenue is annexed to the 4th precinct. All of the third east of Crawford and south of Warner avenues is annexed to the 3rd. All of the 2nd precinct south of Warner and west of Park (Under the Linden), is annexed to the 3rd precinct. This is a convenience that will be appre-ciated by our Under the Linden friends. Heretofore they have had to go to Bowmanville to vote.

JEFFERSON PARK.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH-Morning service, 10:20 a.m.; evening service, 7:30 p. m. Rev. Arthur M. Thome, Pastor.

LUTHERAN CHURCH-Service at 10 a. m. Rev. Pau Lucke, pastor.

Among the sick are A. S. Cameron, Mrs. D. S. Dunning and Mrs. F. W. Gray. Geo. Pfieger entertained a party of friends at his home one evening last week. Mr. and Mrs. Hunt have sold their residence to Mrs. Dauphet, and will reside in Norwood Park.

Visitors: Mrs. John Pettis of Barring-ton, and Mr. Wm. Pettis, of Sae City, 1a., at Mr. C. Dickinson's.

Mr. Ed Lawrence and the Misses Allie

Died: Elmer Witt, oldest son of Chas. Witt, of pneumonia, aged 20 years. Also the 3 year old son of Ernst Brushaler, of membraheous croup.

The Masonic Installation Ball to be given on the 6th of next month, promises Grand Opera House.

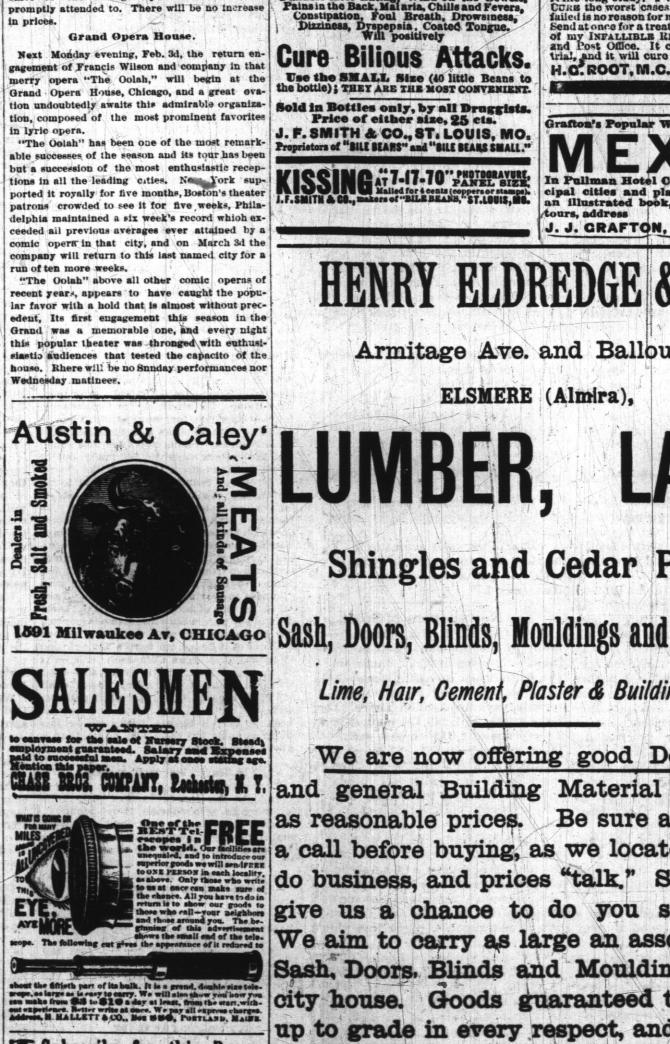

Next Monday evening, Feb. 3d, the return engagement of Francis Wilson and company in that ment Club last Saturday evening. F. West-berg was elected president for the ensuing six months. The committee on improve-tion undoubtedly awaits this admirable organization, composed of the most prominent favorites in lyric opera.

"The Oolah" has been one of the most remarkable successes of the season and its tour has been but a succession of the most enthusiastic recep-Some radical changes are being made in the Avondale school. Miss Jacnette Bris-bane now teaches the second and third delphia maintained a six week's record which exceeded ail previous averages ever attained by a comic opera in that city, and on March 3d the company will return to this last named city for a run of ten more weeks.

"The Oolah" above all other comic operas of recent years, appears to have caught the popular favor with a hold that is almost without precedent. Its first engagement this season in the Grand was a memorable one, and every night cigar lighter; R. L. Campbell has an ut- this popular theater was thronged with euthusitachment to shoe lasts; Otto Kullbom, an siastic audiences that tested the capacito of the improve | bellows; L. J. W. Birn, an oil house. Rhere will be no Sunday performances nor

Hanson, Hotel Dannevirke, 217 and 219 preparations for the event.

Subscribe for this Paper. unsurpassed for workmanship and material. E. O. GRAHAM, Nursery

Uncle Archie's Wife.

CHAPTER V.-(CONTINUED.)

However there was not much use wasting time in conjecture, but just then the dinner-bell rang, and uncle Archie came hurriedly in. He looked, I thought, rather relieved that we had not fallen out in deadly fashion during his brief absence. Poor uncle Archie, how plainly every nervous look and gesture betrayed his consciousness of the terrible error he had made!

The rest of the evening passed away in quiet uneventful fashion. Mother dozed as usual by the chimney-corner; Estelle Gerrard, with a calm indifference to all the duties of a hostess, took up a book and became apparently absorbed in its contents; uncle Archie, after one or two halfhearted attempts to make the conversation general, drew his chair up to mine and began to talk about my engagement and Dick.

"When is he coming to see me, Irene?" he asked, looking with the old kindly interest at the ring I was nervously turning round on my finger as I spoke. "Soot, I hope. I want to be better acquainted with the young fellow who has been lucky enough to win my little Irene's love.

"I am the lucky person, uncle Archie," I returned quickly. "You will soon see that when you know Dick; he is the cleverest, the kindest, the dearest-

"Of course, the Chevalier Bayard and Admiral Crichton in one-I will take all that on trust, Irene, and still say he is not too good for my little girl. Irene"-his voice dropped still lower, and there was a wistfulness in bis kind troubled eyes that made my heart ache--"I hope you will be as happy as you have tried to make others all your innocent young lifeas you have tried to make me tonight."

Indefinite as the words were, knew what he meant, and glanced hurridly at Estelle, who was only divided from us by the width of the long room; but she was still placidly reading, and apparently uninterested 'in" our conversation.

"Dear uncle Archie," I said, with a reassuring squeeze of his hand, "is it disrespectful to tell one's uncle he is tatking nonsense?, Because, if so, I must be disrespectful, I am afraid! If you and I do not understand one another by this time, we are never likely to do so; and Mrs. Gerrard and I will be sworn friends and allies soon." I spoke with a cherry confidence I did not quite feel; but he shook his head, his face clouding over with r very weary and hopeless look.

be, Irene. I know no effort on your nothing about it, and presently over the upper half of her face. She the tongue in every dialect. When the nart will be wanting . but".

a spurious sort of peace for him. Poor Archie"-mother's tone softened; and a troubled look replaced the unusual expression of anger in her eyes-" if he has been foolish, he bitterly repents his folly already! It does seem hard to have lived a solitary man all these years; and then to make such a mad marriage as that! But when an old man falls in love-"I think it was hardly that, mother," I interposed eagerly, for somehow the flippant phrase seemed an injustice to uncle Archie. "I should not sympathize with him as I do if I thought he had succumbed to the common-place fascination of a beautiful face, or fallen in love, as you say, at his years; but it was loyalty to the old love that spoiled his life, and no new fancy that led him astray. He married Estelle, not because she was a beautiful woman, but because she turned to him in her trouble and distress, and appealed to his chivalry in Violet Maxwell's name." I was quite excited by my own fancies and spoke in eager tones; but mother was cross and sleepy, and answered quite pevishly for her-

"Well, well-console youself if you can, my dear, and make the best of a matter that, at the very best, is very bad! Perhaps Dick Martineau may sympathize with your fantastic ideas; am too old for such flights of fancy, admit. I can only see in your uncle a foolish and unlucky old man, and in your new-made aunt a person with whom we shall find it impossible to live on friendly terms."

CHAPTER VI. "Well, Irene?"

"Well, Dick?" I echoed, laughing and blushing, as I looked into my lover's face, and felt that, let the changes around me be what they might, I was still the happiest girl in the whole world while I had Dick to turn to in all my troubles-while our love and trust in each other remained. as they were then, absolute and complete. "Let them send your portmanteau. I thought we could walk back, and then-

"And then you could explain the somewhat imperative summons that dragged me from my den," Dick chimed in, as he turned out of the quaint little vine-grown wayside-station into the shady lane. "You see how obedient I am, Mistress Irene!"

"Very obedient! But the summons was uncle Archie's-not mine; he particularly wishes to see you."

Dick nodded, but did not look at me; for which I was thankful, as my cheeks began to burn as that old suspicion of what uncle Archie might have to say crossed my mind; but, if "I am afraid that is not likely to my lover shared my fancy, he said all the usages of society-even to buy afternoon, with the man to whom I had given my whole heart beside me and the uncle 1 dearly loved, given back to us, as it were, if only for a little while. I did not talk much, it was joy enough to sit there and look at them-at mother, with her pretty serene face presiding contentedly over her silver tray, troubled for the moment by no deeper care than that each should have just the right amout of cream and sugar, just the cake or biscuit that each liked; at uncle Archie, from whose worn face the shadowy cloud seemed for the moment to have passed away; and, last, at Dick-my Dick, who was like a beam of glad sunshine in our midst. Suddenly, when my contentment was at its height, we heard the sound of carriage-wheels in the drive and a smart ring at the bell. My mother turned to me with a look of dismay. "Irene, it is that horrid Mrs. Knyvette, I know! How unlucky-or rather, how prying and impertinent of her to come now-for of course she only wants to see your uncle and Dick!" "I do not know how Mr. Gerrard feels: but, after that delicious tea. I do not in the least mind being exhibited; my nerves will stand any amount of wear and tear," Dick declared gaily; but I did not answer the smile with which he turned to me; for, peeping through the flower-screened window. I had seen the carriage standing at the door, and, for no particular reason, the sight filled me with dismay. "It is not Mrs. Knyvett!" I exclaimed, in a doleful tone that made mother stare, her first supposition being the most disconcerting that had yet occurred to her. "It is the Hall carriage, uncle Archie-it is Estelle!" Poor uncle Archie! If there was dismay in my face, there was absolute consternation in his. I saw Dick's eyebrows raised as he read the old man's glance, and I knew that he understood now, better than any words of mine could tell him, the nature of my poor uncle's mistake.

Naturally it was with marked curiosity that he waited for the coming of the visitor who had caused such a fluttering in our dove-cote, and when the tall, graceful woman walked easily in, saluting mother with a hand-shake and me with a kiss, there was an expression of amused disappointment in the glance he flashed across at me.

"Is this your Gorgon-this the girl you cannot possibly get on with?" he seemed to ask; and I am sure Estelle interpreted his look as I did; for her brilliant face lighted up, while a wellpleased smile parted her mobile lips. My uncle's wife looked more beautiful than ever, in a pretty dark-blue dress that set off the brilliant clearness of her skin, and her eyes shone through the gauzy veil she had drawn | nation! That word "Jesus" seems to fit sat talking easily and pleasantly to voice in old age gets feeble and tremulous Dick; and I soon found myself meanly wishing that she were less beautiful, or that he would not look at her with that expression of curious, almost troubled interest in his eyes.

THE BEST NAME. Manifold Beautiss of the Word Jesus

Pointed Out. Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage Preacher a Powerful Sermon on Board the Ocean Ship on Which He Takes Passage for Home.

As the steamer Eurania lay in the harbor at Queenstown last Sunday, Rev. Dr. Talmage, who was a passenger, on his homeward way, preached to his fellow voyagers. His subject was " what is in a Name!" and his text, Phillipians ii, 9: "A name which is above every name." The eminent preacher said:

On my way from the Holy Land, and while I wait for the steamer to resume her voyage to America, I preach to you from this text, which was one of Paul's rapturous and enthusiastic descriptions of the name of Jesus. By common proverb we have come to believe that there is nothing in a name, and so parents sometimes present their children for bentism regardless of the title eiven them, and not thinking that that paricular tatle will be either a hindrance or a help. Strange mistake. You have no right to give to your child a name that is acking either in euphony or in moral meaning. It is a sin for you to call your hild Jehoiakim or Tiglath-Pileser. Beause you yourself may have an exasperating name is no reason why you should give it to those who come after you. But how often we have seen some name, filled with jargon, rattling down from generation to generation, simply because some one a long while ago happened to be afflicted with it. Institutions and enterprises have sometimes without sufficient deliberation taken their nomenclature. Mighty destinies have been decided by the significance of a name. There are men who all their life long toil and tussle to get over the influence of some unfortunate name. While we may through right behavior and Christian de meanor, outlive the fact that we were baptized by the name of a despot, or an infidel, or a cheat, how much better it would have been if we could have started life without any such incumbrance. When I find the apostle, in my text and in other parts of his writing, breaking out in ascriptions of admiration in regard to the came of Jesus, I want to inquire what are some of the characteristics of that appellation? And O, that the Saviour Himselfs while I speak, might fill me with His own presence, for we never can tell to others that which we have not ourselves felt.

THE SAVIOUR'S BEST NAME. First, this name of Jesus is an easy name. Sometimes we are introduced to people whose name is so long and unpronounceable that we have sharply to listen and to hear the name given to us two or three times before we venture to speak it. But within the first two years the little child clasps its Lands and looks up and says "Jesus." Can it be, amid all the families represented here to-day there is one household where the little ones speak of "father," and "mother" and "brothe:," and "sister," and not of "the name which is above every name?" Sometimes we forget the titles of our very best friends, and we have to pause and think before we can recall the name. But can you imagine any freak of intellect in which you could forget the Saviour's desig-

Jesus." And the red cheek which you thought was the mark of the fever only turns out to be the curnat on bloom of heaven! O, yes; it is a sweet name spoken by the lips of childhool, spoken by the old man.

Still further, it is a mighty name. Roths child is a potent name in the commercia world, Cuvier in the scientific world, Irving a powerful name in the literary world, Washington an influential name in the political world, Wellington a mighty name in the military world; but tell me any name in all the earth so potent to awe, and lift, and thrill, and rouse, and agitate, and bless as this name of Jesus. That one word unhorsed Saul and flung Newton on his face on ship's deck, and to-day holds 400,000,00) of the race with omnipotent spell. That name in England to-day means more than Victoria; in Germany, means more than Emperor William; in France, means more than Carnot; in Italy, means more than Humbert of the present or Garibaldi of the past. I have seen a man bound hand and foot in sin, satan his hard task master, in a bondage from which no human power could deliver him, and yet at the pronunciation of that one word he dashed down his chains and marched out forever free. I have seen a man overwhelmel with disaster, the last hope fied, the last light gone out; that name pronounced in his hearing, the sea dropped, the clouds scattered and a sunburst of eternal gladness poured into his soul. I have seen a man hardened in infidelity, defiant of God, full of scoff and jeer, jocose of the judgment, reckless of an unending eternity, at the mere pronunciation of that name blanch, and cower, and quake, and pray, and sob, and groan, and believe, and rejoice. O, it is a mighty name! At its utterance the last wall of sin will fall, the last temple of superstition crumble, the last juggernaut of crueity crush to pieces.

ALL THE EARTH WILL OBEY. That name will first make all the earth tremble, and then it will make all the nations sing. It is to be the password at every gate of honor, the insignia on every flag, the battle shout in every conflict. All the millions of the earth are to know it. The red horse of carnage seen in apocalyptic vision and the black horse of death ara to fall back on their haunches, and the white horse of victory will go forth, mounted by Him who hath the moon under His feet, and the stars of heaven for his tiars. Other dominions seem to be giving out; this seems to be enlarging. , Spain has had to give up much of its dominion. Austria has been wonderfully depleted in power. France had to surrender some of her favorite provinces. Most of the thrones of the world are being lowered, and most of the scepters of the world are being shortened; but every Bible printed, every tract distributed, every Sunday school class taught, every school founded, every church established, is extending the power of Christ's name. That name has already been spoken under the Chinese wall, and in Siberian snow castle. in Brazilian grove, and in eastern pagoda. That name is to swallow up all other names. That crown is to cover up all other crowns. That empire is to absorb all other dominations. All crimes shall cease, and ancient frauds shall fail, Returning justice lift aloft her scale; Peace o'er the world her olive wand extend, And white robed innocence from heaven descend.

Still further it is an enduring name. You clamber over the fence of the graveyard and pull aside the weeds, and you see the faded inscriptions on the tombstone. That was the name of a man who once rule that town. The mightiest names of the world have either perished or are perishing. Gregory VI, Sancho of Spain, Conrad I of Germany, Richard I of England, Louis XVI of France, Catharine of Russia -mighty names once, that made the world tremble: but row, none so poor as to do them reverence, and to the great mass of the people they mean absolutely nothing; they never heard of them. But the name of Christ is to endure forever. It will be perpetuated in art, for there will be other Bellinis to depict the Madonna; there will be other Ghirlandjos to represent Christ's baptism; there will be other Bronzinos to show us Christ visiting the spirits in prison; other Giottos to appall our sight with the crucifixtion. ENDURING BEYOND ALL OTHERS. The name will be preserved in song, for there will be other Alexander Popus' to write the "Messiah," other Dr. Youngs to portray His triumph, other Cowpers to sing His love. It will be preserved in costly and magnificent architecture, for Protestanism as well as Catholicism is yet to have its St. Marks and its St. Peters. That name will be preserved in the literature of the world. for already it is embalmed in the best books and there will be other Dr. Paleys to write the "Evidences of Christianity" and other Richard Baxters to decide the Savior's coming to judgment. But above all, and more than all, that name will be embalmed in the memory of all the good of earth and all the great ones of heaven. Will the delivered bondman of earth ever forget who freed him? Will the blind man on earth forget who gave him sight! Will the outcast of earth forget who brought him home? No! No! To destroy the memory of that name of Christ, you would have to burn up all the Bibles and all the churches on earth, and then in a spirit of universal arson go through the gate of heaven and put a torch to the temples and the towers and the palaces and after all that city was wrapped in awful conflagration and the citizens came out and gazed on the ruin-even then they would hear that name in the thunder of falling tower and the crash of crumbling wall, and see it inwrought in thi flying banners of flame, and the redeemed of the Lord on high would be happy yet and cry out: "Let the palaces and the temples burn, we have Jesus left!" "Blessed be His glorious name forever and ever. The name that is above every name."

ness to the sheepfold above, you may look up to His loving and w. tchful eye and say: "My Lord, Theu art the shepherd of the everlasting bills,"

But there is another name you may elect. I will imagine that heaven is done. Every throne has its king. Every harp has its harper. Heaven has gathered up everything that is worth having. The treasures of the whole universe have poured into it. The song full. The ranks full. The mansions full. Heaven full. The sun shall set afire with splendor the donies of the temples, and burnish the golden streets into a blaze and be reflected back by the solid pearl of the twelve gates, and it shall be noon in heaven, noon on the river, noon on the hills, noon in all the valleys-high noon. Then the soul may look up; gradually accustoming itself to the vision, shading the eyes as from the almost insufferable splendor of the noonday light, until the vision can endure it, then erving out: "Thou art the sun that never sets !"

At this point 1 am staggered with the thought that notwithstanding ail the charm in the name of Jesus, and the fact that it is so easy a name, and so beautiful a name, and so potent a name, and so enduring a name, there are people who find no charm in those two syllables. O come this day and see whether there is anything in Jesus. I challenge those of you who are farther from God to come at the close of this service and test with me whether God is good, and Christ is gracious, and the Holy Spirit is omnipotent. I challenge you to come and kneel down with me at the altar of mercy. 1 will kneel on one side of the altar and you kneel on the other side of it, and neither of us will rise up until our sins are forgiven, and we ascribe, in the words of the text, all honor to the name of Jesus-you pronouncing it, I pronouncing it-the name that is above every name.

His worth if all the nations knew, Sure the whole earth would love Him too.

CONQUERED BY THE SAVIOUR. O, that God to-day, by the power of His holy spirit, would roll over you a vision of that blessed Christ, and you would begin to weep and pray and believe and rejoice. You have heard of the warrior who went out to fight against Christ. He knew he was in the wrong, and waile waging the war against the kingdom of Christ an arrow struck him and he fell. It pierced him to the heart, and lying there, his face to the sun, his life blood running away, he caught a handful of the blood that was rushing out in his right hand, and held it up before the sun and cried out: "O, Jesus, Thou hast conquered !" and if to-day the arrow of God's spirit piercing your soul, you felt the truth of what I have been trying to proclaim, you would surrender now and forever to the Lord who bought you. Glorious name! I know not whether you will accept it or not; but I will tell you one thing here and now, in the presence of angels and men, I take Him to be my Lord, my God, my parden, my peace, my life, my joy, my salvation, my heaven! "Blessed be His glorious name forever, the name that is above everything." "Hal, lelujah! unto Him that sitteth upon the throne and unto the Lamb forever and ever. Amen and amen and amen.

A Pretty Foot.

A woman's foot should be in length little less than one-seventh of her hight; it should be arched on the top so that the line is that of one-half of Cupid's bow, and underneath so that if it is wet and set on the floor it will leave in the middle only a sleader water-mark, broadest across the ball; the rosy toes, of which the second should be the longest. should spread flat upon the ground at every step. The heel should be rosy, and descend almost in a straight line from behind; the ankle delicately rounded. The soft and cushion-like instep should be marked by faint blue veins.

glanced across at the beautiful indolent figure in the lounging-chair-"it you do not know Estelle."

"Better than you think," I persisted valiantly. "Why, uncle Archie, you do not know how quickly we women can make friends when we choose to do elle bas jold me her whole

He shuddered, twisted his moustache with nervously-shaking fingers, and then suddenly and inconsequently reverted to the subject of Dick.

When do you say young Martineau will be at Ludleigh again, Irene? Not for a week? Oh, that is too long to wait! Tell him to come down at once-to-morrow, if possible. I want to talk business with him---to talk to him about you.'

"But there is plenty of time for that," I replied protestingly, wondering whether, as he had thought a week's wooing sufficient in his own case, he wished to place the same limit on ours. "Dick is working very hard, uncle Archie; he says he shall allow himself only two or three days' holiday in the year now."

"Then he had better take the holiday at once, Tell him so, my dear; say that I particularly wish to see him_there are business-matters to be arranged between us. Ask him to come at once, and give us at least a week."

I could only nod assent and wonder what he meant; for just then Estelle threw down her book, and glanced at the clerk with a significant yawn.

"You are not staying here then?" she said, when mother answered that hint by murmuring something about ordering the carriage for ten o'clock. "Oh, in that case I will not go to bed just yet, though I really am tired to death!"

Poor mother made a polite protest which Mrs. Gerrard answered with another yawn and a careless assurance that, after all, another quarter of an hour did not make much differenceit would soon be over.

The seconds that made up that time of waiting crept by slowly but ten struck at last, and with stroke came the servant to the tell us that, the carriage was at the door.

..Well"-mother's pent-up indignation found vent at last when we were safely alone, rolling smoothly and swiftly along in the calm summer night-"what do you think of your uncle's choice now, Irene?"

"She is very beautiful and a little puzzling," I answered. rather at a loss for a word.

"Puzzling!" mother echoed, with a contemptuous laugh. "I should call her something more than that--something stronger and more condemnatory! But, after all, it is condemnation when you, the universal apologist, can find no other word to use in her defense."

.I want to like her if I can, mother."

"Well, what about the bride? As she has been here a couple of days. takes two to make a friendship-and you have completely summed her up of course."

Dick was joking, I knew; but I thought he could hardly have made a worse shot than that. "Indeed-no!" I said, shaking my head dolefully. "Mrs. Gerrard is a beautiful enigma. I want to like her-I try to like her; but somehow I cannot, Dick."

"'If at first you don't succeed.

Try, try, try again! 'Tis a lesson you should heed-

Try, try, try again !'" Dick hummed, his eyes shining mirthfully. "Take the lessons of your nursery-days to heart, Irene darling, and do not let a first failure discourage you! It would never do for you and Mrs. Gerrard to be less than friends."

Lightly as he spoke, I knew there was sound sense in his words, and meekly promised that no effort should be wanting on my part to bring of them stuck to his old habits; the about the desired friendship.

"But," I said, "when you see Mrs. Gerrard, you will better understand what up-hill work it is. She is so queer-so fitful in her manner; I think I should have more hope of making progress if she were consistently disagreeable; but she is not-she grows quite friendly at times. For instance on the first night they came home she told me-unasked-the whole story of her life. You would have taken that as a proof of friendly feeling, would you not?"

"Well, it looks rather like it, my dear! You could not call her stiff or stand-offish, at any rate."

"And yet, after that, she all but turned us out of the house."

"Perhaps she thinks friendship and ceremony ought not to go together," suggested Dick drily. "At any rate, you and I will not be easily discouraged, dear. I mean to find Mrs. Gerrard charming if I can."

We reached the house as he uttered the last words with a light laugh. As I listened to him I felt a strange foreboding of evil stealing over me which I could not in any way account for.

We found mother in the drawingroom, ready to welcome the traveler with her kindest smi'e and that cup of afternoon tea which she firmly believed in as the best of all restoratives, if issue a total of 1.249,131 copies, being not as an absolute panacea for all an average of 1,075 copies each. Of earthly ills. "Most welcome, Dick!" she cried. rising from her chair, and nearly overturning her cherished egg-shell china in her friendly haste. "You know Mr. Gerrard, do you not?"

noticed in the darkened room behind my care-worn face The two men shook hands with heartiness that did me good to see, 883 copies, support republican views. and "took" to each other unmistaka- But a more detailed classification bly. They had met before, but not would be all but impossible, so numeroften, and there had been no common interest to draw them together, but in Spain. Madrid publishes 327 of now each studied the other keenly, the whole; Barcelona has 117, Seville other." "Of course you do, for your uncle's and each approved of what that study 38, Cadiz and Valencia each 32, Ali-

The next moment I was blushing at my own meanness, rating myself without mercy for what I felt to be and contemptible jealousy; but let me say or do what I would, the sharp sting was there.

"Of course he is interested in her. for uncle Archie's sake and mine. Did he not tell me he would do his best to find her 'charming,' and is he not keeping his word?" I protested to myself; and then I glanced again at them, and wished that face had allotted him a more difficult task.

TO BE CONTINUED.

He Was Getting Shaky.

There were two Hebrews who went into partnership in the hand-me-down business, and they made money. One other began to put on style, spend money and go out, with the boys. He got so much in the habit of going out with the boys that in the morning he had a "big head," and he began to show signs of nervous affection. He came to business in a "rocky" condition. At last the quiet partner came to him and said:

"Lookee-here, Jake, this partnership's got to dissolve."

"Vat's the matter?"

"Vell, you don't tend to bizness no more. You've took to drinkin' and you can't tend to bizness."

"Vat? Don't I sell, them goods all right?"

"Selling goods is one thing and tendin' to bizness is another."

"Vell, sometimes I come around I ain't quite steady; my hand trembles a little, but-"

"That's just vat the matter is. Your hand shakes so much ven you shows a pair of pants to a customer the buttons fall off."

The Newspapers of Spain.

A statistical memorandum issued lately by the Spanish ministry of the interior informs us that there are 1,-161 periodicals, including newspapers, in Spain, appearing at all sorts of intervals, says the London Times. They them 496 are political, 237 scientific or technical and 113 religious. The remaining 315 deal with all kinds of subjects-literary, theatrical, humorous, musical, bull fights, etc. The 496 political papers and magazines And then I saw what I had not issue 783,652 copies, which would give one to every 23 persons of the whole Archie's gray head and population of Spain. Of these political periodicals 370, with an issue of 513,760 copies, represent monarchical opinions; 104, with an issue of 269,ous and minute are the party divisions and indistinct, still the regal word has potent utterance. Jesus, I love Thy charming name,

'Tis music to my ear; Fain would I sound it so loud That heaven and earth might hear.

Still further, I remark it is a beautiful name. You have noticed that it is impossible to dissociate a name from the person who has the name. So there are names that are to me repulsive-I do not want to hear them at all-while those very names are attractive to you. Why the difference!. It is because I happen to know persons by those names who are cross, and sour, and snappish, and queer, while the persons you used to know by those names were pleasant and attractive. As we cannot dissociate a name from the person who holds the name, that consideration makes Christ's name so unspeakably beautiful. No sooner is it pronounced in your presence than you think of Bethlehem and Gethsemane, and Golgotha, and you see the loving face, and hear the tender voice, and feel the gentle touch. You see Jesus, the one who, though banqueting with heavenly nierarchs, came down to preakfast on the fish that rough men had just hauled out of Genessaret: Jesus, the one who, though the clouds are the dust of His feet, walked footsore on the road to Emmaus. POWER OF THE WORD JESUS.

Just as soon as that name is pronounced in your presence you think of how the shining one gave back the centurion's daughter, and how He helped the blind man to the sunlight, and how He made the cripple's crutches useless, and how He looked down into the babe's laughing eyes and, as the little one struggled to go to Him, flung out H s arms around it and impressed a loving kiss on its brow, and said: "Of such is the kingdom of heaven." Beautiful name Jesus! It stands for love, for patience, for kindness, for forbearance, for self-sucrifice, for magnanimity. It is aromatic with all odors and accordant with all harmonies. Sometimes 1 see that name. and the letters seem to be made out of tears, and then again they look like gleaming crowns. Sometimes they seem to me as though twisted out of the straw on which he lay, and then as though built out of the thrones on which his people shall reign. Sometimes I sound that word "Jesus." and I hear com-ing through the two sylables the sigh of Gethsemane and the groan of Calvary; and again I sound it and it is all a-ripple with gladness and a-ringing with hosanna. Take all the glories of book bindery and put them around the page where that name is printed. On Christmas morning wreath it on the wall. Let it drip from harp's strings and thunder out in organ's diapason. Sound it often, sound it well, until every star shall seem to shine it, and every flower shall seem to breath it, and mountain and sea, and day and night, and earth and heaven acclaim in full chant: "Blessed be His glorious name forever. The name that is above every name.

Jesus the name high over all. In heaven and earth and sky.

To the repenting soul, to the exhausted invalid, to the Sunday school girl, to the snow white octogenarian, it is beautiful. The old man comes in from a long walk and tremblingly opens the doors, and bangs his bat on the old nail, and sets his cane in the usual corner, and lies down on a couch and says to his children and grandchildren : "My dears, I am going to leave you." And they say: "Why, where are you going, grandfather?" 'I am going to Jesus." And so the old man faints away into heaven.

THE MIGHTIEST TO BLESS. The little child comes in from play and throws herself on your lup and says: "Mamma, I am so sick, I am so sick." And you put her to bed and the fever is worse until in some midnight she looks up inte of living water." your face and says: "Mamma, kiss me Some day, wandering amid the lambs and

Have you ever made up your mind by what name you will call Christ when you meet Him in heaven? You know He has many names. Will you call Him Jesus, or the Anointed One, or the Messiah, or will you take some of the symbolic names which on earth you learned from your Hible!

Wandering some day in the garden of God on high, the place abloom with eternal springtide, infinite luxuriance of rose and lily and amaranth, you may look up into His face and say: "My Lord, Thou art the rese of Sharon and the lily of the valley."

Some day, as a soul comes up from earth to take its place in the firmament, and shine as a star for ever and ever, and the luster of a useful life shall beam forth tremulous and beautiful, you may look up into the face of Christ and say: "My Lord, Thou ar: a brighter star-a morning star-a star forever."

TRIBUTES TO THE LORD JESUS. Wandering some day amid the fountains of life that toss in the sunlight and fall in crash of pearl and amethyst in golden and crystaline urn, and you wander up to the round banked river to where it first tingles its silver on the rock, and out of the chalices of love you drink to honor and everlasting joy, you may look up into the face of Christ and say: "My Lord, Thou art the fountain

The foot denotes character, as well as the face.

Ladies of Spanish descent have the smallest feet. For a long time Spanish etiquette forbade a woman's foot to be seen. Hence the old adage that "to know the length of a woman's foot was to enjoy a great degree of favor.'

Woman should walk from the hip. the waist being still, except from that gentle, willowy, swaying motion which accompanies the most graceful figures.

One of the best modes of attaining this walk from the hip is to practice walking with something poised on the head. The graceful Hindoo girl can carry a pitcher on her head unsupported by her hand, because she moves from the hip, not from the waist or shoulder.

Most American women walk badly. A peculiar fact about many New York women with very small feet is that they walk with a heavy, thumping step, as if they were club-footed. This may be due to the fact of tight shoes, for it is almost an invariable weakness of ladies with naturally small feet to pinch those members unmercifully.

Cloth Made of Glass.

A new and interesting invention has recently been given a practical test, namely-a machine for making cloth from waste glass. Besides utilizing hundreds of tons of a broken and useless substance, the textile produced will have many advantages over all other fabrics; it is incombustible, can be manufactured in all colors and of any desired strength or thickness. The one property of incombustibility will. render it invaluable to those working near or with fire. It is also used for ladies' dresses, and for other purposes, in place of silk, and it is said to be more glossy and lustrous and is more easily washed. It is stated to have all the appearances characterizing silk, being so soft and even more elastic. Its usefulness will, of course, depend much on its durability.

Romance Versus Reality.

"George." she whispered softly. 'mark yonder breadth of cloud, stretching to the utmost part of the heavens. a boundless, infinite sea of nothingness.

"Nothingness!" he echoed. "Why, great Scott, Maria, there's a quart of rain in every square foot of that there cloud."-Time.

A Soft Sasp.

There is a "prophet" on the Island of Java who has been paid $400 a year for the last thirteen years, "for not predicting a tidal wave which will sweep clear over the island." The natives believe that he has only to predict to set a wave in motion. If #### good bye, I am going away from you." And you say: "My dear, where are you going to?" And she says: "I am going to who brought you out of the wolfish wildow sake; but we cannot put up with abso-lute rudeness—with insolent disre-gard not only for her feelings, but of often been happier than I was that conte 30, Tarragona and Murcia each Balcarie Islands. the rock, rejoicing in the presence of Him to | who brought you out of the wolfish wilder. | heard from.

Farl Wheeter's Good Luck. Ticket No. 98,455 drew the capital prize of $600,000 in the December drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery. One-fortieth of this ticket was held by Earl Wheeler, who lives at No. 69 Grove street in this city. Mr. Wheeler therefore was entitled to receive $15,000. A Democrat reporter today called at the home of the fortunate man. At first he refused to say anything about the matter. By the use of a little strategy, however, the reporter succeeded in getting from him an admission of the facts, as follows:

"Yes, I held one-fortieth of the winning ticket, and was entitled to $15,000. I was first made aware of it on the receipt of the official not be of the winners sent out by the company. I have had altogether five tickets in the lottery, raving out $5 all told. I will not say anything more on the matter, other than that I held the ticket absolutely the prize, as has been reported."

Upon further inquiry the reporter learned that Mr. Wheeler placed the ticket in the hands of Banker J. Vedder Morris for collection, and Agent B. F. Oliver of the American Express Company paid Mr. Morris the amount less $101.55, express charges on the 10th inst. Mr. Morris deposited the amount in the Farmer's National Bank in his own name at the request of Mr. Wheeler. The latter dislikes notoriety, hence this roundabout proceeding. That the amount has been received and that the Louisiana State Lottery company fullfilled its obligations Mr. Morris verifies, and his word cannot be questioned.

Mr. Wheeler is 23 years of age and lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerus Wheeler. He is employed in Inman's box shop, but has not been working of late, the shop having shut down. He is a young man of exemplary habits and of a naturally retiring disposi-tion.-Amsterdam (N. Y.) Democrat, January 17.

A Very Valuable Dog.

A gentleman with a dog entered a restaurant and asked for a bill of fare. The waiter replied:

"What shall I get you sir?" "I will take a couple of poached eggs to start with." "And so will I," said the dog, who had perched himself on a chair by the side of his master. The waiter looked scared. A few momants later the guest called out: "Waiter, please bring me some roast beef and potatoes."

"And me too," added the dog. Intense stupefaction on the part of the waiter. At the next table sat an Englishman, who now looked up and said: "You must have taken immense trouble to teach that dog to talk." "Yes," replied the gentleman.

"You would not like to part with it ?"

"Not for money."

HUNTING GORILLAS.

An Exciting Hunting Adventure with Natives in Central Africa.

A Day's Sport in the Jungle-The Mammoth Monkey Fought Until the Top of Its Head Was Blown Off-Killed in the Nick of Time

In my trading expeditions into Central Africa I had at different times many native servants, and through them I had opportunities to see the natives hunt according to the time honored methods of the tribes.

One of my men was named Oshupu. He was a Fan, a fine specimen of humanity, and, like most of his race. remarkably intelligent. In fact, he was a cannibal gentleman ; that is to say, although he, like the rest of his tribe, and no one was entitled to a division of | had a liking for human flesh, he never intruded that horrible craving upon my notice by word or deed, and from his appearance and actions 1 should never have imagined that it existed.

He was forever wishing that we had reached his country, and he would talk to me by the hour of elephant and gorilla hunts, until I longed to get away with him to join a hunting party of his people. Accordingly when we neared the Gaboon River, it did not need much persuasion to induce me to outspan the team for two weeks, and go with Oshupu to his village.

We entered the village from the side, and were in the street before our coming was perceived. As if pulled by a single string, every native arose, and, quietly forming a ring round me, the population gravely inspected me. When it was known that I had come to hunt the gorilla, their joy was unbounded, for, strange as it may seem, these warlike people, like those of many other tribes, are much afraid of this animal.

ing party was formed, and we journeved a long day's march to the home of the gorilla. What a journey it was, and how vividly I remember it! There were about thirty of us, the natives all armed with spears about seven feet in length, terminating in an iron head. with large barbs at either side.

I am an old stalker, yet my skill was sorely tried in that labyrinth, in which dead branches lay thickly about under foot. After a time the undergrowth became less dense, and Oshupu whispered to me that this circumstance indicated the presence of water, and that the animals coming in all directions kept the undergrowth more or less trodden down.

Suddenly my guide stopped short, and holding up his finger, crooked it over his head, pointing to the left. I turned my head in the direction indicated, and at a distance of about three hundred feet away saw an immense his shot gun blazing away at the mockape slowly moving through the trees ing bird (he can't st

The face was hideous ; the breadth of chest was grand, the arms and hands were massive; but the huge trunk dwindled into a pair of legs, thin, bent and decrepit as those of an old woman. I wished to preserve the skin, but before I could prevent their action, the natives had thronged around the body, making a perfect seive of it with spear thrusts. The head was destroyed. so I simply took measurements of the beast, he was five feet four inches in height, and cut off the hands and feet for trophies. We buried the young chief, after carrying him back to the village, but no funeral rites were observed as he had been killed by a gorrilla, and so he was believed to be bewitched.

When I left the village, I brought away some fine specimens of native work. One of these specimens, an ax blade, was covered with the most delicate tracery work, although the tools used in construction were of the rudest possible pattern. To work out the figure on this ax occupied four months. It has been a constant matter of regret to me that I have never been able to return to the country of the Fans and spend a longer time with them.-Wilf. P. Pond in Youth's Companion.

Reed Bird and Mocking Bird.

The reed bird of the Deleware and the rivers and regions south of that stream is the rollicking bobolink of our New England fields. Here is his true home, even if his residence in it is not so long as it is in the south. Here he is adorned with a gray piebalb coat, instead of the somber suit of black in which he appears when in more southern latitudes, and here he nests and sings and rears his brood. Here in the sunny green fields of New England, through all the charming May and for some way into June, he pours out the most peculiar, the most over buboling, frolicsome, swaggering rollicking and tipsy of all bird music. He is not so abundant here as he was After resting for two days, our hunt- in the days before he was shot by the thousand by sportsmen as the reed bird of the lower Susquehanna and the lower Delaware, and before a set of worthless men and boys here in southern New England acquired, through somebody's ingenuity, a trap which catches him. He was here in rather greater force last May than usual of late years, the tendency being not to increase, but to diminish. Connecticut fields are not so filled as they were fifty years ago with his swaggering and most peculiar tinkling song. It may be said of him and the mocking bird that if both or either had been known to Europe for. the last two thousand years, and particularly to Italy, Greece and England, there would have been a greater fame for either than the nightingale now has. But the pothunters for the Philadelphia, Baltimore and New York markets are destroying the bobolink as the reed bird, and the negro with when the bird is at rest) is fast completing what the nest robbing young negroes who supply northern buyer had long ago begun-the destruction of the superb mocking bird, the finest songster as well as the most spirited and intelligent of our American birds. -Hartford Times.

They are Acrid, but They are Healthy, "What are these:" inquired a customer picking up a curious looking, hard-shell fruit at the front window of a down-town restaurant. "Pomegranates," was the answer. It smacked of the Orient, and the customer became further interested. "What are they good for?" "To eat. You cut 'em across and eat the seeds and the juice." The curious party invested five cents in a single specimen of the fruit, and cut adventurously through its bone husk into a substance that resembled flesh and blood, tasting it with a wry face. "it's all seeds and juice. Can't say I like the scriptural fruit. Where does it grow and who eats it in Chicago?" "The Italians are very fond of it, said the fruit dealer. "We get the fruit from Italy, but there are orchards of pomegranates now in the south. Our best people are being educated up to them.

"Can't say I like my primary lesson, remarked the customer, whose face was still puckered from a first experience with pomegranates.

A good many people publicly thank the Lord for their prosperity who would be mad if somebody should suggest that they were not mainly responsible for it themselves.

"Did you go to the seance last night?" "Yes," "Did the spirits materialize?" "Did the spirits materialize?" "No; but the medium told some." Told some what?" "Material lies."

Ethel: "George, mother was looking when you kissed me last night." George: "How did she take it" "Well, she said she felt satisfied now that you mean busi-

Avoid the doctor's bill before it is too late. by keeping convenient salvation Oil, which is the greatest pain destroyer extant. Price 25 cents.

When a choir singer's salary is graised it helps him to lift up his voice.

Reveries of Bachelors used to contain an alloy of painful anticipation, on account of sleepless mights with the prospective baby, but Dr. Bull's Gough Syrup has made all that part a joy forever.

When a keen ear meets a cutting remark it is natural that a sharp encounter should ensue.

PROGRESS

It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known.

In this age of sharp rivalry the man who permits his wits to go wool gathering is very liable to get worsted.

How to Buy Buggles.

The correct way to buy goods of any kind, is from the manufacturer when possible. For sixteen years the Elkhart Carriage and Harness Manufacturing Company of Elkhart, Ind., have sold direct to the consumer at wholesale prices, giving their customers the middleman's profit. As they ship any-where with privilege of examination with-out paying, and pay all charges if not satis-factory, the buyer runs no risk. See their

THE HEAVY END OF A MATCH.

"Mary," said Farmer Flint, at the breakfast-table, as he asked for a second cup of coffee, "I've made a discovery." "Well, Cyrus, you're about the last one I'd suspect of such a thing; but what is it?

"I've found that the heavy end of a match is its light end," responded Cyrus, with a grin that would have adorned a skull.

Mary looked disgusted, but with an air of triumph quickly retorted, "I've got a discovery, too, Cyrus. It was made by Dr. R. V. Pierce, and is called Golden Medical Discovery.' It drives away blotches and pimples, purifies the blood, tones up the system, and makes one feel brand-new. Why, it cured Cousin Ben, who had consumption, and was almost reduced to a skeleton. Before his wife began to use it, she was a pale, sickly thing, but look at her : she's rosy-cheeked and healthy, and weighs one hundred and sixty-five pounds. That, Cyrus, is a discovery that's worth mentioning."

The farmer's wife was right, for the "Golden Medical Discovery" is in fact the only medicine for purifying the blood and curing all manner of pimples, blotches, eruptions, and other Skin and Scalp diseases, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, and kindred ailments, possessed of such positive curative properties as to warrant its manufacturers in selling it, as they are doing, through druggists, under a positive guarantee that it will either benefit or cure in every case, or money paid for it will be refunded. It also cures Bronchial, Throat and Lung diseases. Even Consumption (which is Lung-scrofula) yields to its marvelous curative properties, if taken in time and given a fair trial. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Asthma, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections, it is an efficient remedy.

Don't be fooled into taking something else, said to be "just as good." that the lealer may make a larger profit. There's nothing at all like the "Discovery. It contains no alcohol to inebriate : no syrup or sugar to derange diges-tion ; as peculiar in its curative effects as in its composition. It's a concentrated vegetable extract. Dose small and pleasant to the taste. Equally good for adults or children. WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

PISO'S CURE FOR

Best Cough Medicine. Recommended by Physicians. Cures where all else fails. Pleasant and agreeable to the taste. Children take it without objection. By druggists.

"Pray don't sell me," exclaimed the dog in suppliant tones.

"Would you take a thousand pounds for him?' said the Englishman, eagerly. "A thousand pounds is quite a large sum," was the reply. At length the bargain was struck. The Englishman wrote out a check for £1,000 and took up the dog.

"As you have sold me," said the dog. turning round and looking at his old master, "I'll have my revenge and won't speak any more.'

Neither did he. -Of course it was ventriloquism.

Dont's FOR WOMEN.

Don't carry a pocket-book in your hand.

Don't carry a pocket-book in a very loose pocket which hangs away from the person.

Don't lay your hand-bag containing your pocket-book on the counter of a store while you walk across the room to examine goods.

Don't wear a watch in a pocket on outside of dress.

Lon't wear chatelaine watches.

I on't judge strangers by their dress Don't stand long in the same spot in a crowd.

FOR MEN.

Don't go into a crowd with your outer coat unbuttoned. Don't carry valuables in your outer coat.

Lon't make too great a display of your jewelry.

Don't carry money in the pocket on the right-hand side of your trousers; pickpockets expects to find money there. Don't forget that you are just as likely as anybody else to be a victim of pickpockets.

pains and aches. St. Jacobs Oil cures promptly and permanently this enemy which is: RHEUMATISM.

Sandyville, Ohio, June 18, 1888. Was taken with rheumatism in 1861; suf-fered at times ever since and used crutches. St. Jacobs Oil relieved me about two years ago. GEO. L. NIXON.

what work you wish fo do with a well mathine. TUBULAR WELL AND PROSPECTING MACHINE ALL CRDERS FILLED PROMPTLY. SELF CLEANING. 21 on all fours, swinging to and fro in a manner not unlike the plantigrade movement of a grizzly. Oshupu reached his hand behind as a signal for me to move up to him, and when I had done so, he said, "The gorilla has fed, and is lazy. If he sees us, he will run, and we shall never catch up with him in this tangle. We must rest here, and he will drum for his mate and sleep. Then we shall eatch him."

After a time, at a given signal, the natives spread themselves out, and making a long detour, surrounded the spot where it was believed the gorilla had stopped to rest. They were not mistaken, for on the edge of a small glade the big brute sat fast asleep, with his back against a tree.

It was deputed to a young chief to open the encounter, and after a pause he emerged from cover as near as he could get to the gorilla. He poised his spear in his hand in readiness to throw it, and, step by step, approached until he was within thirty feet of the gorilla, when suddenly the animal rolled his head from one side to the other.

The ape was thoroughly aroused, and leaning forward raised itself into an awkward, partly erect atitude. If the young chief had lain still, all would have been well; but he was desirous of showing off before me, and accordingly rose to his feet, dashed his spear at the brute and made for the cover of the thicket. The spear went through the arm of the gorilla, which instantly tore the weapon out bodily, savagely bit the wound, and dashed on all fours after his assailant, with a terrible scream of rage.

All the Fans on the opposite of the clearing now boldly dashed in, throwing their spears, or, as they got close enough to him, thrusting them into the brute's body. Wounds inflicted with such weapons could not prove immedi-ately fatal, and could only kill the creature by causing loss of blood, as the vital power of the gorilla is so great that even a rifle ball seldom ar- Mississippi. In a short time the man rests at once his headlong course.

If it had not been for the danger. this spectacle of the contest between the Fans and the ape would have been amusing, as the men threw spears. and crouched or dodged, and the ape backed slowly away from them, ' making horrible grimances and gradually working himself up into a blind fury. This state of affairs did not last more than a minute, and then the spe was at the edge of the clearing, about for-ty feet from where I stood. Here another volley of spears met him, and after standing amazed for a second, he rushed headlong at the first assailant. seized him by the leg, and before a hand could be raised, he swung him around his head, bringing the poor fellow's skull in contact with a tree trunk and cracked it like a nut.

It was a terrible sight, but it was done before I had the power to prevent it. I raised my rifle, and quick as thought sent two bullets ploughing through the ape's head, tearing the top of the skull clean off. He reeled and fell, rose again, clenched at the mass of vines, and rolled over. still convulsively twitching and tearing at the undergrowth, while Oshupu got his foot clear, and coming to me plachis life henceforth belonged to me.

Looking Backward.

Those simple rhymes of other days We never shall forget. Each line of, those old childish lays Is fresh in memory yet. They linger in the halls of thought

Like melodies in tune. "Hey, diddle, diddle! The cat and the fiddle,

The cow jumped over the moon."

The better rhymes and newer songs

We've heard in later years, Have from the heart forever gone; Still memory adheres To those old words whose import strong

Into our lives has grown. 'Old Mother Hubbard, she went to her cupboard

To get her poor dog a bone."

Why does the heart so fondly cling To youthful thoughts and themes? Up from the tender vales of spring Come all our later dreams. We still recall the youthful times And for their pleasures sigh: "Little Jack Horner sat in a corner, Eating a Christmas pie."

The Dog Had to Climb.

We were comfortably seated around the hearth at Porter Lake, in Pike county, Pa., and the spirit of story telling was strong upon us, because the fishing had been unusually good and the supper bounteous. The flash and sparkie of wit filled the upper air of the room as with a fine aurora, and a halo of calm bliss encircled the brow of each entranced listener. But first the drug and then the antidote. The benevolent colonel drew us down gently from the giddy hights with a story of a coarse plebeian, locally known as a catfish. Thus ran his tale: "A man and his dog went fishing in the felt a mighty pull on the line, and he knew that a catfish had taken hold. The giant came along peacefully enough until he happened to change his mind, and then he decided to double on his course and take the man along. The faithful dog, seeing his master's danger, rushed to the rescue bravely enough. The wily catfish, when he found the dog pursuing, turned upon him and terrified the dog, who incontinently turned tail and swam vigorously toward the dry land, the catfish hotly following. Presently the dog gained the land and ran hastily, the catfish surging after him. The dog.

sorely pressed and fearing a painful death, in his extremity climbed a tree, the catfish still pursuing." | "Hold on! hold on!" we cried in chorus; "dogs cannot climb trees." "Can't climb a tree?" responded the colonel. "But the catfish was close upon him, and this dog had to climb." -Forest and Stream.

Progressive and Profitable.

Publisher's agent (on his semi-annual hunt after plunder): "Can't I get your order for some of the new geographies we are getting out, squire?" School ed my hand on his head in token that trustee: "Wa-al, I dunno; we haven't been usin' those last ones but a few advertisement, and send for catalogue.

Jones (who is an admirer of Booth and Barrett)-What classic plays do you like best, Smith?

CTS

WORK SHOPS

Of Wood and Metal Workers without Steam Power, Equipped with Outfits of

CHILD BIRTH EASY

BOOK "MOTHERS" MOTHER

BILE BEANS

BARNES' PATENT

allow lower bids on jobe, and greater profits than by any other means for do-ing work. Soid subject to train your shop. bend t r Proce-List Catalogue. W. F. & JNO. BARNES CO., Address 641 Kuby St., ROCKFORD, ILL.

Smith-Poker and seven up.

James Hogg will contribute to HARPER'S MACKETY for February his personal rem-iniscences of De Quincey. For many years, especially during the period when De Quin-cey was occupied with the collection and re-vision of his works, no one except his own daughters saw so much of him as Mr. Hogg. One of these important reminiscences re-lates to Hawthorne's visit to De Quincey; others recall the Carlyles. Thackery, Dickothers recall the Carlyles. Thackery, Dickens and Christopher North.

Quevedo-Curt, were you ever in love? Curtis-No, but I've made an ass of myself in other ways.

For Coughs and Throat Disorders use BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES .-"Have never changed my mind respecting them, except I think better of that which I began thinking well of."-Rev. Henry Ward Beecher. Sold only in boxes.

Since Bedloe's Island has been decided to be the property of New Jersey, will the function of the great bronze statue be de-scribed as a case of "Jersey Lightening the World?"

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

We sometimes hear of the spirit of hope, but hope is no spirit; it's only an exspecter.

Oregon, the Paradise of Farmers. Mild, equable climate, certain and abundant crops. Best fruit, grain, grass and stock country in the world. Full information free Address The Oregon limit gra-tion Board, Portland, Oregon.

One swallow doesn't make a spring-but too many swallows may bring about a fail.

If you wish to do the casiest and quickest week's washing you ever did, try Dobbin's Electric Soap next wash day. Follow the directions. Ask your grocer for it. Been on the market 24 years. Take no other.

"Eggs are higher this week," as the hen remarked when she went away up on top of the haymow and stole a nest in the darkest corner.

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, actis g directly upon the blood and mucous sur-fa es of the system. Price, 75c. per bottle. Sc d by all Druggists, d: "Does old Soak drink as much as ev r?" Al: "Yes, indeed; why, whenever he bisses his wife she has to chew a clove."

Firs.-All Fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's Great Ner e Restorer. No Fits after first day's use. Mar-velous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 021 Arch St., Phila, Pa Perfection is made up of trifles, but it is ao triffing matter to attain perfection.

Scott's Emulsion is not a secret remedy. Containing the stimulating Hypophos-phites and Pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil,

COLDS

CURES

PENSION JOHN W. MOBRIS, Successfully Prosecutes Claims, D.C. Late Principal Examiner U.S. Pension Bureau 3 yrs in last war, 15 adjudicating claims, atty since

FARMERS' BUTS. bu a Dat. Experience hot necessary. Whates guaranteed nor winter months. No canvassing. simply show book and take orders. Stanley in the Wilds of Africa. OUTFIT Send 20 cents for postage and packing, HUSSMANN PUBLISHING CO, 806 to $12 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo. FREE.

LESSENS PAIN DIMINISHES DANGER TO LIFE OF LANDS. WESTERN FARMS, RANCHES and unlimproved Lands for sale oper cent. interest. If you wish to buy, sell or ex-change real estate write me. 6. II. High, 164 Randolph st., Chicago, III. BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO. ATLANTA GA CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH

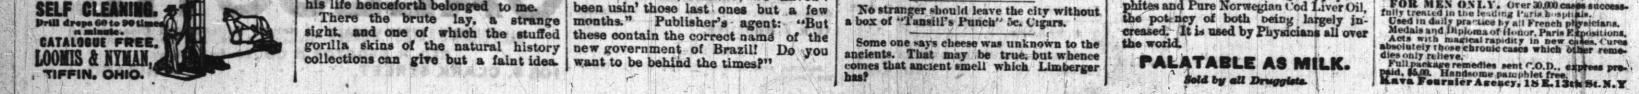

inition before buying. SINTA Liddress F. B. PRATT, Merty

KAVA FOURNIER. FOR MEN ONLY. Over 30,000 cases success

IRVING PARK.

MYRTLE LODGE, U. D., A. F. & A. M.-Meets first and third Saturday of each month, at 7:30 p. M., Masonio Hall, Irving Park. Begular communication Saturday, Feb. 1st, 1890, Work. Visitors always we IRVING C. KING. W. M. A. G. GOODRIDGE, Sec'y

I. O. O. F.-Invine PARE Longz, No. 190, I. O. O. F. meets every 'Tuesday evening, in Masonic Hall, Irving Park, at 8 o'clock. All brothers are cordi-ally invited to visit us.

J.T. O'HARA N.G GEO. L. WRIGHT, Sect 1

BOOTS AND SHOES, Made and Re-paired. Irving Park Laundry, only first class work; goods collected and delivered. Irving Park News Stand, daily, weekly and monthly papers, at BUSSEY'S.

M. E. CHURCH.-SUNDAY SERVICES: Sun-lay School, 9:30 s. m.; Morning Service, 10:45; Class Meeting, 12:30 m.; Young People's Meeting, 7:30 p. n.; and Evening Service, 7:30. WEDNESDAY; Trayer Meeting, 8:30 p. m.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH-Sunday services, 10:30 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. No sermon at evensons. All seats are free and strangers are cordially invited to at-tend. It would also give us great pleasure to become personally sequainted with all who attend St. John's Episcopal Church. Rev. Wm. Richmond, Priest-in-charge, residence corner of Everett street and Selwyn avenue.

BAPTIST CHUECH-Worships in Masonic Hall, Rev. Joseph Rowley, Pastor; E. W. Moyle, Supt. S. S. Preaching 10:30 a. M., 7-30 P. M. Sun-day school, 9:30 a. M. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening, 8 P. M. All are welcome.

NOTES FROM VARIOUS SOURCES.

Call for 1890 Seed Catalogue at Vaug han's Seed Store, 88 State street.

R. R. Mates fell from Col. Adam's building Saturday, and sprained his ankle.

Mr. Alphonso Lloyd found Irving Park a very pleasant suburb to spend last Sunday.

A large line of fresh-lettuce, radishes and other early vegetables at Nichols & of their happiness among us. Son to-day (Saturday).

Mrs. P. W. Coyle, while attending the reception to the minister, was taken suddenly ill and had to leave before the ceremonies were over.

Mrs. Geo. W. Mormon died Sunday evening after nine days' illness with influenza. The remains were taken to Waukeegan for interment.

One more imposition by the North Western Company. They have made a dump-ing ground for manure at the railroad crossing and St. Charles avenue.

Married :-- Cora May Wilcox, sister of Dr. W. L. Wilcox to Eugene Smith, of Irving. Park, at the home of her brother at Stanton, Mich., January 6, 1890.

D. G. Snyder, Greenwood avenue, of the firm of Miller. Webber & Snyder, 36, 38 and 40 West Huron street, is rapidly recovering from an attack of the grip.

If the young lady who left a silk um-brella on the 5:30 train last Saturday evening will call or leave her address at the residence of C. E. Bennett. Des Plaines, the property will be returned to the owner.

The Town Collector will be at MacBurney's office on the following Wednesdays: February 5, 16 and 26, from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m., at which time you will have a pulpit of the Reformed Episcopal Church chance to pay your personal and real taxes. of Maplewood.

nue, or Irving Park. 28-tf and to the entire satisfaction of Mr. Richmond and family. Mr. Richmond may well say that in the selection of the Spring-field F. & M. Insurance Company, the old and reliable, and Mr. Irving C. King, agent, that he has chosen well, as the prompt action taken by both the company and its agent have proven.

To the Editor.

One of the most enjoyable as also select events of the most enjoyable as also select events of the season was the reception tendered their pastor, the Rev. Mr. Wil-liamson and wife, by the ladies of the Re-formed Church, on Tuesday evening last, January 28th, at the residence of Mr. J. R.

Madison. Mrs. Williamson looked most beautiful in costume of black lace, relieved about the waist by bands of cardinal velvet, and by tume, who by the way assisted by Mrs. Fowles, presided at the table, where delicate refreshments was served during the entire evening, were quite a pleasing addition to the occasion.

Among others present were noticed Mrs Palmer, always, facinating and beautiful; Mrs. Prescott, Mr. and Mrs. Chapin Day, Mr. and Mrs. Hacker, and a score of others too numerous to mention.

The host and hostess vied with each other to make the occasion a memorable one, and all who have had the privilege of enjoying the hospitality of their home at ments next Thursday evening, Feb. 6th, any time know full well their powers to at the Bethany Presbyterian Church, Hum-With many wishes for the success and This announcement is sufficient to those please in this respect. prosperity of the Rev. gentleman and wife, who attended the last entertainment given entertainment of last evening a forerunner AN OLD SUBSCRIBER.

All communications of local interest should sent to J. W. BUCKLEY, Maplewood. Mr. Buckley is authorized to take subscription advertising in this locality for this paper.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH - Rev. Mr. Shelley, Pastor Morning Services, 10 a. M.; Sunday School 2 P. M. Evening Service, 7:30 P. M.

ST. SYLVESTER'S CHURCH.-Father Agnew, pas-ter; Father Hynes, assistant: Sunday services, 6:00, 8:00, 10:30 A. M; Sunday School, 2:00 P. M; Ves-per, 3:00 P. M; Baptism, 4:00 P. M.

ST. XAVIER CHURCH - Father Thiele, Pastor. Sunday service at 9:30 A. M.

ENTERPRISE COUNCIL, No. 50, ROTAL LEAGUE-Meets 2nd and 4th Tuesday, 1739 Milwaukee avenue. W. W. DeVel Archon; Nils Sandberg, Scribe; Maplewood, Il

COURT MAPLEWOOD, NO 71, I. O. F.-Meets 1st and 3rd Mondays, Merrick's Hall, 1739 Milwaukee ave-nue. James Russell, Chief Ranger; H. G. Smith, Secretary, 1175 North Western avenue.

MAPLEWOOD COUNCIL, No. 1024, ROYAL ABCANUM -- Meets 1st and 3rd Thursday evenings, in Merrick's Hall, No. 1739 Milwaukee avenue, corner Hoffman avenue, H. J. Worth, Regent; W. W. DeVol, Secre-

We understand that Mr. Sam Olin, son of our ex-Trustee S. O. Olin, now fills the

Mrs. Glines and her daughters enter-tained the Y. P. T. S. at their home, Friday evening, Jan. 24th. A program ne day evening, Jan. 24th. A programme was prepaired consisting of music and readings and a discussion on the World's Fair Bill, Miss Prances Robinson repre-senting Chicago, and F. O. Gear spread himself on New York. Refreshments were served at 10 o'clock; the company broke up at a late hour. We would suggest that in future the young men would see that the young ladies do not want to go home unprotected.

HUMBOLDT PARK.

Families desiring choice groceries at reasonable prices will do well to call at Klevrod & Peterson's, 867 W. North ave-

Hard Times Party, under the auspices of the Humboldt Park Pleasure Club, at the waist by bands of cardinal verver, and of her grace of manner and charming conver-sational powers, did much toward endear-ing herself to all present. Mrs. Cyrus Smith, in black satin, re-lieved by white lace, as also her daughter Mrs. Pitcher, in lavender walking cos-ing herself to all present. Feb., 8th. Tickets 26 cents, two for 49½ Cents. Grand entree at 9 o'clock. Fifth season, first complimentary enter-

Fifth season, first complimentary enter-tainment given by St. Sylvester's Court. No. 23, I. O. F., at Brewster Hall. 787 W. North avenue, St. Valentine's night, Feb. 14th. Grand Entree at 9 o'clock. Music by Prof. Walsh. Committee of ar-rangements are: Ed. Ashenden, Thos. J. Clifford, Jas. Murphy. Jos. Walsh. T. F. McCarthy, Matthew Cummings, John. J. Armstrong.

The Ladies of the Humboldt Park Woman's Christian Temperance Union, will give another of their choice entertainboldt boulevard, near Courtland street. we can but consider the genial and bright by these ladies, but to those who were not present, we will say a treat is in store for them, as a fine musical and literary programme has been prepared. Admission. adults 25 cepts, children under 12 years, 15 cents. Tickets may be obtained from members of the Union. The proceeds will be principally devoted to charitable work in Humbolat Park, and we trust our readers in that district will encourage the ladies in their good work, by turning out in large numbers.

Ma. George Gray has presented to St. hn's society a $65 New Home sewing Eachine, to be disposed of for the benefit of the clergyman's salary. The ladies of St. John's Guild will sell the same by auc-St. John's Guild will sell the same by auc-by automatic sell the same by auc-wood avenue. Thursday, Jan. 23rd, a girl. Mother and daughter are doing nicely, and Del. says what will you take boys. tion at an oyster supper in Grayland Hall, on Tuesday evening, Feb. 4th:

To the members of Irving Park Lodge, No. 190, I. O. O. F: You are requested to be present at our next regular meeting Tuesday evening, February 4. Work in the Initiatory Degree and a visitation from Phenix Lodge of Arlington Heights. Geo. L. Wright, Sec.

Henry Reholdt, an architect, living on the corner of Washington and Willis streets, shot himself in the head Tuesday night. He had been ill-for a long time, and several surgical operations had been performed upon him. He left a letter showing he had contemplated suicide for some time.

St. Katherine's Guild, of Irving Park, will give a Valentine Social, at Gray's Hall, on the eve of St. Valentines day, Feb. 13th. Grand march at 8 o'clock. Invited guests will appear in fancy cos-tume and mask and furnish an entertainment of a novel order, after which everyone present will participate in the festivities. Tickets 25 cents.

ties. Tickets 25 cents. At a regular convocation of Irving Park Chapter, No. 195, R. A. M. the following officers were duly installed into their res-pective stations: J. T. Heywood, M. E. H. P.; A. G. Goodridge, Jr., E. K.; W. C. Jordon, E. S.; J. E. Winn, C. of H.; P. C. King, P. S.; P. W. Coyl, R. A. C.; C. A. Cook, G. M. of 3rd Vail; G. L. Voorhees, G. M. of 2d Vail; W. N. Ju-lien, G. M. of 1st Vail; W. H. Gray, Treas.; John Hilands, Sec.; John Prim-rose. Tyler. The regular convocations of rose, Tyler. The regular convocations of Irving Park Cnapter, No. 195, R. A. M. is held at Masonic Hall. Irving Park, on the second and fourth Saturdays of each month, at 7:30 o'clock p. m. John Hilands, Sec.

that time:

Essay, "George III"...... Mrs. Hill "Robert Clive"..... Miss Hotchkiss "Warren Hastings".....Mrs. King Selection ..... Mrs. Crego

The next meeting will be held Feb. 10th, with Mrs. King. The literary programme to be presented is as follows.

Music	Mrs. Kin
Essay, "George IV"	. Miss Madiso
"Sir Walter Scott".	Mrs. Millar
"Lord Byron"	Mrs. Oswal
Selection	Mrs. Coy
Reading from White
Cross Library	Mrs. Tol
Sunday evening the Re

mond escaped from what might have proved a serious as well as a costly accident. A lamp hanging in the back par-lor in some unaccountable way caught fire kin. and a stream of the burning oil from the lamp to the floor resulted, and had it not been for the presence of mind of Miss Richmond who took the lamp in her hands Richmond who took the lamp in her names and threw it out doors the house and contents would undoubtedly have been totally destroyed, and the Springfield F & M. Insurance Company, Irving C. King-agent, would have been called upon to pay the full amount of its policy of insurance instead of paying for the small amount of instead of paying for the small amount of wood avenue, near Diversey street, and will in the future join hands with us in the interest of Maplewood.

Born.-To Mrs. Del. Ellison, of Maple-wood svenue. Thursday, Jan. 23rd, a girl.

We are much pleased to see our old friend, D. B. Thurber, once more at his post in the depot and post office. M. T. has had a very long and serious illness, and his many friends congratulate him on his ecovery.

Last Saturday night a top buggy and about 25 live chickens disappeared from the vicinity of Elston and Hoffman avenues. Tthese thieves are all together to numerous of late; it is time something was being done to put a stop to them.

We are pleased to note the laying of a new street crossing corner Forest and Diversey avenues. That is right, let this good work go on, we are in need of many of them. The crossing at the depot, on Maplewood avenue, is still in a horrible condition, and it seems as if someone will have to meet with an accident there before it will be attended to. This is what might be termed an outrage on a tax-paying cemetery.

It is reported we are to have a fire company stationed in Maplewood in the near future, and it is most welcome news to the people of this community who have been living in fear of fire for a long time. Although a fire company is not an absolute preventitive it is a very convenient body to have at hand in time of need, and the sooner the city authorities locate one here the better pleased the people will be. Now we have in our midst one or two young men who were once members of our old Volunteer department, which through lack of experience and apparatus to work with was not all that a fire company should be, still they did in one or two instances do very good and effective work, and to them HISTORICAL READING CLASS. The historical reading class met last Monday with Mrs. A. H. Hill. The fol-lowing is the literary programme given at that time: past, to give at least two of them an oportunity to show their ability as salaried fire-men, and give them a position in this company. Our influental citizens should exert themselves in their behalf, and by so doing show their appreciation of the boys who volunteered in there humble way to protect their property in the past.

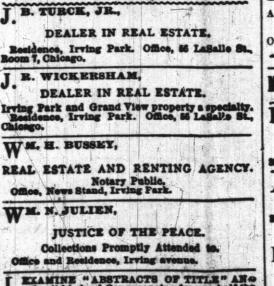

BOWMANVILLE.

Mr. Glines is the latest victim of "la grippe.'

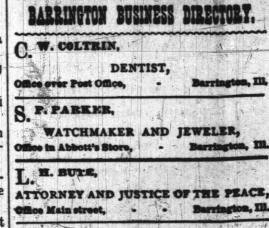

Wanted .- A few more loafers to stand on the post office steps.

Mr. Alex Ringler has returned, and will continue to do business at the old stand. Annie Triechler accidently got a bean in her ear, which was extracted by Dr. Hodge-Address items for publication, Corresondent. Bowmanville, and drop in the Post office.

I EXAMINE "ABSTRACTS OF TITLE" ANd do all kinds of Conveyancing for one-half the usual price, either at my house in living Park, or of Dearborn street, A. J. NOWLEN." Attorney and Notary ney and Notes

MRS. FISCHER, MILLINER AND DRESSMAKER, Main street, . . . Barrington, I

CALIFORNIA'S LATEST WONDER. A Natural Polisher and Cleanser for C. PLAGE, instead of paving for the small amount of damage done, which was paid to Mr. Rich-mond within twenty-four hours from the time he notified the agent of the comp.my, fou fear of a cold wave coming home. BARBER. GEO. H. PROCTOR & CO. DEALER IN GENERAL MERCHANDISE, CHICAGO, ILL. • 106 S. CLARK STREET, 4

WM. SCHROEDER,