The Y. P. S. C. E. held a sociable at the residence of Captain Hazelton last week.

We understand that the Baptists have been offered six lots by different parties to construct a church on.

The masquerade that is to be given to-morrow night, Saturday, by the Fifteen Funny Fellows is expected to be the event of the season. Invitations are requested at the door.

We are not in it.

Henry Cooper has forsown politics and retired to private life.

It was a very cold night for Jefferson political aspirants last Saturday night at the Republican convention.

The Baptists are now arranging for an ice cream sociable in the near future.

People taking the 7:28 train to the city on cold mornings often find the rear coach a little colder than one of Chicago's famous street car refrigerators.

AVONDALE.

The Home Mission of the Chicago Presbytery has reported favorably on the petition to organize a church at Avondale. About twenty-five have signed the petition for organizing and more will be added right along. The Presbyterian Sunday school and service are held at 206 West Belmont avenue at present as follows: Sunday school 3 to 4 p. m., preaching from 4 to 5 p. m. All are welcome.

Mr. Peter Pfisterer is building a house on Hammond avenue, near Roscoe street, and almost directly across from Contractor Chute's fine two-story house, which is nearly completed.

The two new stores on Hammond avenue, as also the two on Belmont avenue, are about ready to be occupied.

A Chicago party has recently bought the northeast corner of Elston and Melrose avenues for $3,000 cash, on which site a new grocery store will soon be built.

The surprise party on Miss Emma Birn Friday evening was a very enjoyable affair. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather about twenty young people were present.

The German Congregational church was organized Saturday, 29th ult., with nearly thirty members. It is the intention of this enterprising society to commence building a church about April 1, to be located between Elston and Belmont avenues and Wallace street. The pastor, the Rev. Boetker, is a sincere and untiring worker and certainly deserves all the support the people can give him.

In spite of the mud and slush that take the place of what should be streets and sidewalks, Avondale is enjoying a big building boom in some parts, especially along Elston avenue. The streets are lighted by private contracts made with the owners of subdivisions. Elston avenue will be paved to Belmont avenue or Roscoe street and Belmont avenue from Western avenue to Milwaukee avenue next summer.

An electric road on Elston avenue is an assured thing in a short time.

MAPLEWOOD.

WADSWORTH-WOLFF.

A very large number of friends and relations assembled together at Linden avenue on Thursday, the 10th of this month, to witness one of the prettiest weddings that has taken place for some time. The contracting parties were Mr. Walker E. Wadsworth and Miss Amanda E. Wolff.

The bride entered the room leaning on the arm of her future husband and was a source of universal admiration. The service of the Episcopal church was then read by the rector of St. Mark's, the Rev. Charles John Miller. Mr. Gustav Wolff acted the part of best man, and pretty little Lizzie Wolff, looking charming in a cream-colored Henrietta dress, with exquisite shoe-fawn lace trimming, acted as bridesmaid.

After the ceremony was over the whole party sat down to a substantial supper.

Amongst the guests we noticed Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Frinke, Mrs. Weir and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Helmes, Mr. and Mrs. Shaeffer, Mrs. Coam and daughters, Miss Ida Booth, Miss Martha Gross and Miss Lillie Baragwanath.

The presents were both numerous and costly, including amongst many others: Pair of lace curtains, the present of Lizzie Wolff; dinner set, Victor Wolff; picture, Eddie Wolff; large marble clock and magnificent piano lamp, employees of Norton Bros.; pickle dish, Harry Porter; card dish, Martha Grosse.

The custom of having a court poet—one whose duty it is to write to order, as it were—is at present confined to Britain, among civilized nations. In ancient times the custom was well-nigh universal. Every court had its poet and painter, as well as its dwarf and buffoon.

DIED—In Chicago, Catherine, beloved wife of George Bassett, aged 75 years. Deceased was closely related to Mr. Hiram Bassett, of Park Ridge, and came to Chicago a bride in 1840, her husband coming in 1835. The funeral occurred from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. W. R. Germain, 919 Walnut street, Friday, March 11. Burial at Graceland.

DIED—In Belleville, Kan., James C. Keene, brother of H. E. and J. Keene, of Park Ridge. The burial took place March 3. Mr. H. E. Keene, who left for Belleville immediately upon hearing of his brother's death, arrived one day too late to attend the funeral services.

According to the Chicago Daily News Willie Tascot has been located again.

Mr. Ossian Guthrie, of Chicago, together with many other scientists, declares that no more striking proofs of the glacial epoch exist in this country than are seen in the Desplaines Valley between Chicago and Joliet. Mr. Guthrie advocates the making of an exhibit demonstrating this fact at the world's fair with maps, surveys and collections of geological specimens, which are abundant, so arranged as to show the lines of glacial progress. The cost is estimated at $10,000.

Choice dairy butter at Hendrickson & Co., Dakin block.

There is no question but "the office should seek the man," but it's pretty good policy for the man to be on hand when the office is looking for him.

BORN—To the wife of W. H. Bosch, March 7, 1892, a daughter, weight 11 1/2 pounds. The foregoing item was handed us too late for last week's issue, but we publish it this week because otherwise the editor might lose his customary cigar, and that wouldn't do. Billy, accept our congratulations.

Try our new World's Fair Baked Beans. Hendrickson & Co., Dakin Block.

Dr. Annette Bennett, homeopathic physician, office and residence Park Ridge, opposite school house. Office hours until 9 a. m. and from 2 to 4 p. m. Calls will be answered promptly in city and country night and day.

H. A. Deering's auction sale will take place on Monday the 21st, and he will move to Park Ridge in the new house purchased by him last year, continuing in the milk business.

The county appears to have a great liking for Park Ridge jurors. Another large contingent was summoned on Monday last.

Jensen Paulsen, the carpenter, who has been employed in the city for the past five months, has returned to Park Ridge and will probably remain for the summer working at his trade. Mr. Paulsen is a first-class mechanic.

Workmen have been busy the past week rebuilding about 75 feet of the foot brick sewer on Desplaines street, between First and Second streets, which caved in some time ago. Mr. Roberts, the present engineer, is looking after the work closely. He says the break was probably caused by the frost at the time of building.

Extensive repairs are already under way upon the hotel. The building will be thoroughly renovated inside and out. Possibly a new story may be added, also additional space for two stores facing Prospect avenue. This, however, has not been definitely decided upon.

The Young People's Christian Endeavor Society held a very pleasant sociable at the Congregational church on Thursday evening.

Mrs. Garlinker, Mrs. Alting, Miss Minna Jacobs and Mr. Albert Marquart of Jefferson Park have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Jacobs.

BORN—To the wife of Mr. Larson Monday, March 7, 1892, a daughter.

Any of our people wanting the service of an undertaker will do well to see J. M. Stott of Desplaines. They will always find him sober, obliging, and cheaper than the cheapest.

Miss Nettie Robins of Chicago has been visiting Miss Stella Cummings.

Don't Want This State of Affairs.

We trust that the Park Ridge high school enthusiasts, also those persons who are supposed to look into the merits of our proposed electric railroad, will not let any grass grow under their feet. Both projects, if possible, will undoubtedly add to the prestige of our beautiful village, and our people are watching anxiously every move in the right direction. We don't want this matter to drop out of sight. And in this connection perhaps we all remember the man who, referring to a dejected individual remarked, "That he looked shockingly ill." He was told by a bystander that the man had been dead for two months, but too lazy to close his eyes.

Since writing the above we have made some inquiries about high school affairs and find that the requisite number of signatures in this district have been obtained to call an election and the petition sent to the Township School Board. We have also reason to believe that the electric railroad franchise will be granted, provided everything is square and above board. We have every confidence in the special committee, Col. Stuart and C. M. Davis, who were appointed to sift the matter.

Obituary.

Died at Park Ridge, Ill., March 5, 1892, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Eastwood, the beloved wife of Reuben Eastwood, Esq., of this place.

Mrs. Eastwood was born near Utica, N. Y., June 25, 1837. At an early age her parents removed to Walworth county, Wis., where she lived until her marriage July 3, 1861, when she took up her residence at Sharon in that State. In December, 1885, Mr. Eastwood and family moved to this village. Of a kind and cheerful disposition Mrs. Eastwood endeavored herself to be as a friend and neighbor. Her heart was open and her hand was ready to the relief of any in distress, and in her home the law of kindness ever prevailed. Amid many trials her "patient continuance in well-doing" manifested the constancy of a true Christian hope. The church, the family, the community all lament her loss. Suddenly she was taken, but as we trust safely some away to Him who says, "Behold I come quickly—even in such an hour as ye think not." Our hopes are in the future, and when our allotted days are complete may it be the crown of glory to welcome us from earth. "No wanderer lost; a family heaven."

Will Hear Investigation.

A Flank Movement on Capt. Holbrook.
On Monday evening the "Park Ridge Zouaves" turned out in full force and gave a very pleasant reception to the flower committee of the Congregational church at the residence of their commander, Capt. S. H. Holbrook, on South Prospect avenue. Mrs. F. A. Hancock of Milwaukee, gave two very entertaining recitations, refreshments were served, the Zouaves executed their new "Leap Frog" drill, and no member was relegated to the guard house.

Special Board Meeting.

A special board meeting was held in the hotel parlors, Thursday evening of last week, for the purpose of considering the proposed new electric railroad system. Action was deferred and the matter left with a committee of two, to report at the next regular meeting. Trustee Davis presented an ordinance for a new cement walk in Depot park which was laid over for further consideration.

Married.

CHITTENDEN-MINERS.—In Highland Park, on Tuesday, March 1, 1892, Mr. George Chittenden of Park Ridge and Miss Clara Miners of Highland Park. Mr. and Mrs. Chittenden will reside in Chicago.

A Card of Thanks.

We desire, through the medium of your paper, to thank the many friends who were so kind to us in our recent affliction.

R. EASTWOOD AND FAMILY.

SHERMERVILLE.

If there are those who have entertained the idea that I have had any thing to do with the items in the Shermerville paper, regarding beer and malt, they have been laboring under a mistake. I am, however, strongly opposed to the use of all intoxicating drinks, as a beverage, and though not an orator, I would be glad to meet in public debate any one who favors it.

The people of Irving Park wish to return a vote of thanks to our depot agent, for never before in the affairs of the Park and in the memory of our forefathers has the depot presented such a neat appearance. We don't remember whether the former agents were married or not.

Miss Edna Race is visiting friends in the Park.

Last Friday about 7 p. m., Mrs. Walker reported at the depot that she had been robbed of jewelry which she valued at $200 and about $50 in money. She had left a boy whom she had befriended the day before in care of the house while she went to the city. On her return, not finding the boy, she instigated a search, which revealed the fact that her valuables were missing. She immediately reported the matter to the police, but as yet no clue has been found to the thief.

We are glad to see the residence on the corner of Irving Park and Selyan avenues, which was burned last winter, being rebuilt.

NEGROES TO LEAVE MEMPHIS.

Apprehension of the Whites Over the Affray There is Subsiding.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 15.—The men who robbed the county jail Wednesday morning are still unknown. The apprehension of the whites, which was largely stirred up by the lynching, is subsiding, and the sympathy of a large majority of the citizens is with the negroes. The finding of incendiary letters and documents by the police in Mr. McDowell's trunk is a fake, perpetrated solely to make a good showing for the officers. All the letters he had were family letters and letters from his sweetheart warning him to be careful and not get into a fuss with Barrett, nor to have any trouble with him.

Mme. Clemenceau Secures a Divorce.

PARIS, March 14.—In the lobbies of the Chambers to-day the rumor ran that M. Clemenceau, the radical deputy so often spoken of for the ministry, and who in the recent ministerial crisis was mentioned for a portfolio, had been divorced. It seems that Mme. Clemenceau has obtained the decree against her husband. For a long time M. Clemenceau has been considered to be rather "gay." Mme. Clemenceau leaves for America to-day.

She was before her marriage Miss Mary E. Plummer of Greenwich Village, Conn., and the marriage was thought to be a love match. Much surprise is manifested in New York at her action.

18,500 Bushels of Wheat Missing.

ADRIAN, Ill., March 14.—Considerable excitement prevails here over the disappearance of 18,500 bushels of wheat from the Iris Bailey grain elevator at this place. Bailey has been acting as warehouseman for farmers in this vicinity. Receipts are out for 20,000 bushels but only 1,500 is to be found in the building. Whether the wheat has been stolen or misappropriated is not known, but legal proceedings will soon determine that point.

The Iowa Legislature.

DES MOINES, Iowa, March 15.—In the Senate this morning petitions were presented against the repeal of the prohibition law, and for the passage of bills prohibiting the sale of tobacco to minors and to prevent the seine fishing in streams and lakes. Bills were introduced by Gatch to appropriate $5,000 annually for the State library and $20,000 to finish the Capitol building. A bill was passed authorizing the location of a highway across State lands at Independence, to make a shorter road to town. The House is not in session.

Peculiar "Business."

NEW YORK, March 15.—C. J. Hall is suing to have 23,730 shares of the capital stock of Brooklyn Elevated Railroad company, controlled by Anthony Barrett, canceled, on the ground that the stock was never paid for. The action is based on the idea that the franchise of the road was procured by political influence, paid for by stock in the company amounting at par value to over $2,000,000. According to Mr. Hall, Mr. Barrett holds this stock as trustee for unknown persons, whose names he has refused to disclose.

YOUNG GIRL HANGED.

BRUTAL WORK OF LYNCHERS IN LOUISIANA.

For Revenge on a Former Lover She Poisons a Whole Family—Taken from Her Guards on the Way to Jail—Hanged—Her Victims Will Recover.

RAYVILLE, La., March 14.—The sight of a dead body dangling from a huge cottonwood tree by the roadside met the eyes of the Richland parish farmers driving in to church yesterday morning. The body was that of a 15-year-old colored girl, a house servant at the Grenwell place, and she had been hanged the night before by a mob of lynchers.

The young girl had been employed as a waitress and kitchen girl by W. R. Helmer, who owns the Grenwell plantation, twenty miles from the county seat. A short time ago all the members of the family, nine in number, became violently ill shortly after breakfast, and showed unmistakable signs of poisoning. Suspicion fell on the girl Ella, who had often displayed a bad and reckless temper, and being taxed with the crime she confessed it.

It seems that a colored man who was employed around the stables of the plantation had in some manner offended the kitchen girl and she determined upon revenge. Poison was the final suggestion which came to her mind, and she at once set about carrying her plan into execution. All the coffee which was served in the house was made in one large pot and drawn from it for the meals served alike to the family and the servants. Into this common pot on Friday morning the revengeful girl poured the contents of a package of rat poison, which she had found in the pantry, and all the inmates of the house, members of the family and servants, except herself, drank of the poisoned fluid. The result was that every body who drank coffee that morning was taken seriously ill, and the only person who escaped was the colored girl Ella, who had not partaken.

In confessing her guilt the girl showed the greatest indifference to the probable results of her horrible crime. "I wanted to kill that man," she said, indicating her hostler who had incensed her wrath, "and if I poisoned the rest I didn't care. I was bound to get him."

While she was being conveyed to the county jail the party was met by a band of masked men, who demanded that the girl be given up to them. Her guards made no opposition, neither did the girl herself offer any defense or remonstrance. Without saying a word the men led the pony to the side of the road where a huge cottonwood tree stretched out a stout branch. One of the mob threw a rope over the limb and fastened the end to a fence rail, while another put the noose which had been made in the other end around the girl's neck.

Then a sounding blow was given the pony upon which she sat. The frightened animal sprang forward, and the body of the would-be prisoner was left dangling in the air. With her hands, which were not bound, she attempted to grasp the rope, but was unable. For a moment or so her legs were stretched in and out convulsively, as if attempting to find a supporting place. But it was all useless, and in a few minutes she was dead.

Then the mob of masked men rode away in one direction, her former guards in the other, and the body was left dangling to be viewed by the planters on their way to church or town this morning. The people whom the dead girl poisoned will recover.

PASSENGER TRAIN WRECKED.

Fish Plates and Bars Beside the Track—Three Men Injured.

JACKSON, Miss., March 14.—A successful attempt at train wrecking was made three miles below here last night. The Illinois Central passenger train due at 2 a. m. passed down at 4 thirty-five miles an hour. On a twenty foot embankment the engine and five cars jumped the track and landed in the ditch. No passengers were hurt. The injured are: HARRIS, J. J., postal clerk, Jackson, Tenn., seriously cut on face and hands; NELSON, JOHN, engineer, McComb, both legs broken and scalded; SUTHERLAND, J. J., baggage master, New Orleans, face and head crushed.

The spikes and fish bars had been drawn and laid to one side—conclusive evidence of malice. Officials of the road are investigating the matter. Such accidents are getting so frequent on the Illinois Central that the State railroad commission is making an investigation.

Fly Wheel Bursts in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, March 15.—Shortly before 1 o'clock this morning, the gigantic fly-wheel at the Cincinnati Electric Light works, at Hunt and Broadway, burst with destructive effect. It was twenty-four feet high, weighed twenty-four tons and was making seventy-three revolutions per minute. It smashed a $10,000 steam engine, destroyed the office, crushed several dynamos, and knocked out one side of the building. The direct loss may foot up nearly $20,000. There were narrow escapes, but no one was hurt. The wheel was made at Milwaukee.

Washington.

The Senate.

Canvasses of the Senate are again being made to determine the fate of a free-coinage bill when it reaches that body. The chances are now, as they have been all along, that the measure will pass by a majority of between 8 and 12. This is the opinion of Senators Aldrich, Allison and other opponents of free-coinage. Yet there are some contrary signs, and the Republican leaders will make a tremendous effort to keep the bill from passing by persuading the Western Senators who are not too strongly committed to free coinage to adopt a middle course. There is no longer any question that the free coinage bill will pass the House. The only point at issue with respect to it is to what the majority will be in that body.

Bering Sea matters are unchanged. The arbitration treaty will hardly be taken up in the Senate, again until the foreign relations committee reports, and that committee is awaiting Salisbury's answer to the declaration of March 8 that this country would insist on a renewal of the modus vivendi. The news received from London is that the Premier was only bluffing, but that he wants to give the poachers more time to get into the sealing grounds before the bluffing is stopped. English sentiment one way or another will not affect the attitude of the administration. It will enforce the protection of the seal with or without Great Britain's cooperation.

The House.

Among the public building bills favorably reported to-day were the following: Wilkesbarre, Pa., $100,000; Helena, Mont., $150,000; Hastings, Neb., $60,000; Fond du Lac, Wis., $10,000. The bill for repairing the Marine hospital at Chicago was favorably reported, with the amount reduced from $75,000 to $30,000. The bill for the sale of the old custom house site at Louisville, Ky., was also favorably reported.

In the Senate, on March 11, the pure food bill passed without a division and an executive session was immediately called on the Bering Sea question.

The tariff discussion was resumed in the House Wednesday, but there was a striking contrast between the pacific incidents of to-day and the scenes which characterized the debates on the McKinley bill two years ago.

Immediately after the House resolved itself into a committee of the whole on the free-wool bill Mr. Dingley of Maine resumed his argument against the measure. In opening he denied the statement made by the gentleman from Tennessee (Mr. McMillin) that the last Congress had appropriated $1,900,000,000. During the past two fiscal years appropriated for by that Congress the expenditures of the government were but $700,000,000.

Mr. Turner of Georgia, member of the Ways and Means committee, the next speaker, said that he would have been glad to have had pending a bill which would sweep the whole horizon and give to every citizen that compensation which a fair and just reform of the tariff would give to every consumer in the country. He criticized the course of Ex-Speaker Reed in his rulings, and the House was treated to a somewhat lively passage of arms between that gentleman and Mr. Turner.

Mr. Patterson of Tennessee made an argument in support of the bill and inveighed against the protection policy of the Republican party, which he claimed was detrimental to the interests of the negro laborers of the South. He denounced the force bill as the most infamous of all infamous measures. The farmers of the South and West were dissatisfied with the present condition of affairs and were clamoring for a reduction of taxation.

At the conclusion of Mr. Patterson's speech the committee rose and the House adjourned.

When the House met Friday Mr. Coombs of New York, moved to correct the journal, which stated that he had been arrested by the sergeant-at-arms last night and brought before the bar of the House. He held that the arrest was technical. He was notified by a page, who told him there was a call of the House. Although ill, he came, not at the expense of the House, but at his own expense, and had endeavored to obey the rules. After a vote of 71 to 51 against the motion to expunge the arrest of Mr. Coombs from the record and the point of no quorum was made Mr. Coombs withdrew his motion and the matter was dropped.

Single-Tax Theory Advocated.

Representative Tom Johnson, the single tax, free-trade, free silver member from Cleveland, Ohio, made an argument before the district commissioners in favor of the Henry George principle of taxing land only. Representative John DeWitt Warner also spoke in favor of the bill, as did representatives of several labor associations.

Senator Morrill Ill.

The venerable Senator Morrill of Vermont is critically ill of pneumonia and the gravest fears are entertained. Senator Morrill is 82 years old and has recently been in feeble health. He has been in the upper house since 1886, and is recognized as the father of the Senate.

Work Laid Out for Congressmen.

At least one branch of Congress is now fairly embarked on the discussion of revenue measures, and the reflex movement is felt in the Senate, where it may be expected, in view of the proceedings of the last few days, that speeches on the same subject will from time to time be injected into the routine. In the House the discussion of the tariff question will be temporarily interrupted and the committee on the District of Columbia given an opportunity to pass some measure of local interest.

Three Men Killed.

Two Others Dangerously Wounded in St. Louis.

An Elevator Falls, Crushing the Three Men Out of All Semblance to Humanity—The Apparatus Had Just Been Inspected.

ST. LOUIS, March 15.—A frightful accident by which three men were instantly killed and two others fatally injured, occurred at the boiler factory of Rohan Brothers shortly after 7 o'clock this morning. Frank Conn and Hugh Duffy were receiving instructions from Foreman Henry Kaiser. The three men stood directly beneath the immense elevator for hoisting heavy machinery. The elevator was at the second story of the building, and Thomas Flaherty and Michael Sweeney were engaged in loading it with sheet-iron plates. The men sounded the warning bell as a signal that the elevator was about to descend. They then started the huge machine, and it had scarcely moved when the rope broke and it fell with a crash on the men standing beneath it, crushing them into a shapeless mass of flesh and bones. The other employees of the factory rushed to their rescue, but were compelled to use heavy iron bars and levers to lift the immense weight of broken timbers and iron in order to remove the dead and injured men. Following is a list of the killed: HENRY KAISER, foreman, 1428 North Ninth street; FRANK CONN, boilermaker, Twelfth street and Greysen avenue; HUGH DUFFY, tackle rigger, 1413 North Twelfth street.

Injured:

THOMAS FLAHERTY, Seventh and Biddle streets, deep cuts on head and shoulders.

MICHAEL SWEENEY, Ewing and Clark avenues, injured internally.

Several other workmen were slightly hurt by flying timbers. The bodies of the three dead men were removed to the morgue and the injured men to the city hospital, where their injuries were pronounced serious and perhaps fatal. The elevators had been recently repaired and the rope was apparently new. The apparatus was inspected a few weeks ago and pronounced in good condition.

THE DEAL IS COMPLETE.

Even Ex-Senator Platt Admits That Another Monopoly Has Been Formed.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The great deal of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company was accomplished to-day. The deal consolidates the Tennessee company and the De Barleban Coal and Iron company. It intended to absorb the Sloss Iron and Steel company, but satisfactory terms could not be made. The consolidated companies represent five-sixths of the entire industry in that section of the country, while the Sloss company represents but one-sixth.

Canada Wants to Get Even.

OTTAWA, Ontario, March 15.—It is learned that in Sir Charles Tupper's recent speech in London, Eng., when he said that, on account of the McKinley bill, Canada would soon strike a vital blow at the United States in return, he referred to a movement on foot to levy preferential duties on British imports coming into Canada. The remarks of Sir Charles, however, are not endorsed by executive circles here, who decline to be held responsible for his utterances.

Killed His Brother in Self-Defense.

WARRENSBURG, Mo., March 15.—Charles B. Emory and Joseph Emory, brothers, living on a farm near here, have been on bad terms for some time. Yesterday they quarreled, and Joseph made for his brother with a heavy stick of wood. Charles ran to the smoke-house, where he procured a shotgun, and as his brother was about to attack him fired, killing his assailant. The slayer came to this place last night and gave himself up to the authorities.

Mr. Moore's Parsee Letters.

NEW YORK, March 14.—Although nothing has been said by the family on the subject, it is expected that the famous letters written by the late Joseph Solomon Moore will be given to the public. Whether the donation will be published in book form is still uncertain. At the expiration of ten days Mr. Moore's will be read. It is thought he made no disposition of the literary remains in his possession.

Webster C. Hill Held for Trial.

NEW YORK, March 14.—Webster C. Hill, the boy charged with stealing $150 worth of jewelry from Miss Alice McKelvine of Princeton, N. J., was arraigned this morning in Brooklyn. He pleaded not guilty and was held for trial, an application for bail being refused. The case will probably be compromised, as Hill's mother is wealthy and she will make good all the property taken.

Train Captured by Drunken Miners.

PHOENIA, Ill., March 15.—A crowd of drunken miners took possession of a Chicago, Burlington & Quincy freight train at Edwards station, about eighteen miles west of here, to-day and beat Conductor Salisbury. They ended by throwing him off the cars. The train was divided at Pottstown, the first station west of here, and several policemen were sent there.

MURDER AND LYNCHING.

A Missouri Mob Kills a Deputy Sheriff and Hangs a Wife Murderer.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., March 15.—News has just reached this city from Forsyth of the lynching of John Wesley Bright, who was charged with murdering his wife. Bright was being examined when the mob demanded his surrender. Deputy Sheriff Williams refused to give him up and was shot dead. The mob hanged Bright and escaped. Forsyth is twenty-five miles from a railroad and few particulars can be obtained.

A HUMAN soul without education is like marble in the quarry, which shows none of its inherent beauties till the skill of the polisher fetches out the colors, makes the surface shine, and discovers every ornamental cloud, spot and vein that runs through the body of it.

EXERCISE, to be beneficial in the highest sense, should be for itself alone; it must not be work in any sense; it should pursue its own objects, and no other; it should be made a pleasure, and not a labor; it should be utterly divorced from ulterior notions of economizing expended powers; and this should never more firmly be insisted on than in the case of those abnormal creatures who say they take no pleasure, except in useful work.

THE United States has escaped Militarism, but military sentiment is vastly stronger in the community than it was thirty years ago as the result of the war. In 1860 the man who had seen service was a notability in his community. To-day the veteran is encountered in every walk of life. Our little regular army is twice as strong as it was before the war and enjoys twenty times as much consideration as was accorded it in 1860.

ONE school of educationists maintain that the only thing to be aimed at is to enable the student to earn his living; another pleads for the culture and training of every faculty, physical, mental and spiritual. Every country where a system of public education prevails has had to settle in some way the question of secular as against religious education. Opinions of the results of educational advantages and the method by which these results are to be obtained are as various as are the conditions of the people interested.

In England it has been the custom for generations for farmers to employ women and children in the fields at a few cents a day, for all work except that which it was impossible for them to perform. So few men are employed in the winter that in many districts it is the custom for a large number of families to go to the workhouse during that season. The degrading and evil results of such a system are apparent and far-reaching as is any system which makes women and children the support of the family to the exclusion of the men.

It is quite possible to construct an argument to prove that education is actually the cause of crime. If a man could not write he could not forge, nor would a boy read pernicious literature if he could read none. The trouble with this argument is that it carries us too far. A blind man is removed from many temptations to wrong-doing and a bed-ridden invalid is not likely to commit crimes of violence. Nobody, therefore, argues that blindness or infirmity is a desirable condition. There is no blessing which malevolent ingenuity is not capable of turning into a curse. There are, nevertheless, some useful lessons to be learned from the figures which show that the spread of education has not prevented the increase of crime.

Is there any handsome people on the face of the globe? Now we may set aside the black and yellow and polychrome races in general, many of whom are well shaped, and like bronze statues to look upon, but who do not come up to the Aryan standard in features and color. Leaving these children of nature out of the question, it may be confessed that there is no race among whom beauty is common. If the ancient Greeks were like their statues, then there was once a beautiful race, but it is not certain that they did not idealize themselves a good deal. There is the more reason to guess this, as, when they have to represent a barbarian, say a Gaul or a German, or a professional prize-fighter, they make these people as handsome as themselves, though in a rougher way. There is a famous bronze statue of a boxer, who might be taken for an orator or a poet were it not for his heavy metal-studded gloves. Thus it may be deemed that there is a great proportion of the ideal in these statues, vases, coins and figurines, where everyone is so graceful and goodly. Every nation has a high opinion of its own charms.

Hansen For Alderman

Johnson for Assessor, Goodjohn for Collector, Youngquist for Supervisor, and Calhoun for Town Clerk.

Irving Park, Alameda, Montrose and Bowmanville All Represented—Harmony Should Now Prevail.

The Aldermanic and Town conventions were both held last Saturday evening in Sedwick's hall, Alameda, and were quite largely attended, considerable interest being manifested by people of all classes, many of whom never before bothered themselves about politics or ward officers.

The Aldermanic convention was called first, Mr. Alfred A. Ellsworth of Pennock in the chair, and Mr. I. C. King of Irving Park, and J. S. Stubs of Avondale, secretaries.

For Alderman, three candidates were nominated, Messrs. Henry Esdohr of Jefferson Park, C. N. Loucks of Irving Park, and Fred Hansen of Avondale.

On the first formal ballot cast the vote stood as follows:

Esdohr	30
Loucks	30
Hansen	8

There being 68 delegates to the convention, 35 votes were necessary for a nomination, and consequently the ballot was proceeded with.

Twenty ballots were taken without any one receiving the requisite number, and as there appeared to be no prospect of a termination, Mr. Esdohr, in the interest of harmony, withdrew at the beginning of the 21st ballot in favor of Mr. Hansen.

The 21st ballot resulted as follows:

Hansen	35
Loucks	33

The Town Ticket.

After the close of the Aldermanic contest the Town convention was called to order by Mr. Fred Wheaton, and the same chairman and secretaries who officiated at the previous convention were re-elected.

The Town ticket nominated was as follows:

Assessor—William Johnson of Montrose.

Collector—William Goodjohn of Alameda.

Supervisor—P. J. Youngquist of Bowmanville.

Clerk—Daniel Calhoun of Irving Park.

Mr. Theodore Schultz of Jefferson Park was elected Town Committee-man.

A sketch of the lives of the several candidates will appear in next week's issue of the TIMES.

The Democratic Ticket.

At last the twelve remaining Democrats of the Twenty-seventh ward have gained sufficient courage to gather together in a down-town saloon and stimulate themselves into nominating what they are pleased to style an Aldermanic and Town ticket.

For alderman they have named Mr. Leonidas Thomas of Irving Park, who, it will be remembered, sat cheek-by-jowl with Bill McGraw in the village Board of Trustees, and is principally known for his opposition to annexation, owing no doubt to having some iron in the line or some favorite ordinance to pass. It may also be well to remember that he was instrumental in foisting upon an unfortunate public an utterly worthless engineer in the person of one Elder.

For Supervisor Bobby Alting, the "Democratic Boss," has been trotted out and to his tender mercies will be confided the widows and orphans, and no doubt, he will do his utmost to console them. Dan Booth, Jr., of course, like Jack-in-the-box, bobs up serenely as Collector, an office for which he for years had a chronic itching. Of the others, Sigwalt for Assessor, and Bauer for Town Clerk, little is known and consequently little can be said.

DES PLAINES.

There was a good attendance at the meeting of the Citizens' association last Monday evening. President Hills occupied the chair. E. C. Schaefer, Sol. Garland, Jr., G. Pfughaupt and Frank Garland were admitted to membership by ballot. There was a discussion in regard to a township high school, in which it was stated that there had been two petitions presented, one of them asking that the establishment of a township high school be submitted to the voters at the next town meeting. The other petition asks that Park Ridge may unite with Norwood in locating a high school. On motion the committee on railroad grounds was instructed to request the railroad company to remove all unnecessary obstructions along their track from Graceland street to Des Plaines avenue. There was a ballot taken for candidates for village officers, and the following named persons received the endorsement of the association for the offices herein named: President of the Board, Thomas Keates; Trustees, William Hall, H. W. Eckert, and M. H. Brown; Clerk, E. C. Schaefer; Police Magistrate, H. C. Serme. A committee from the Citizens' association at Park Ridge was present for the purpose of uniting with this association in nominating a ticket for town officers. A committee was appointed to confer with the Park Ridge committee and they reported that an agreement had been made whereby the second precinct was to have the offices of Collector and School Trustee, and the other candidates to be selected by the Citizens' association at Des Plaines. The following persons were nominated: Supervisor, Lewis Poyer; Town Clerk, C. E. Bennett; Assessor, Michael Hoffman; Collector, John Morey; Commissioner of Highways, Henry Wille; Township Trustee of Schools, Cord Hulsman.

A caucus for the nomination of township officers was held at Scharinghausen's hall on Tuesday last at 2 p. m. Only one of the candidates agreed upon by the Citizens' association was nominated at this meeting. The following is the ticket: Supervisor, A. H. Jones; Town Clerk, Thomas Keates; Assessor, William Hammerl; Collector, M. H. Brown; Commissioner of Highways, Henry Wille; Township Trustee of Schools, C. Hulsman. The second precinct will, in all probability, put another ticket in the field.

Mrs. R. L. Gibbs of Palatine called on friends in Des Plaines last Tuesday. A birthday party was given by Miss M. Elizabeth Scott, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Scott, at the family residence, on Tuesday evening, March 15. It was a merry gathering and the time passed pleasantly away in social intercourse, games, etc., and after refreshments the spacious dining room was cleared and the young people danced to the enchanting music of the violin and organ, played by members of the party. Among the presents were a beautiful bonbon silver spoon with gold bowl, a valuable hanging lamp and a gold ring of rare design and workmanship. It was a sort of family gathering of cousins, but each cousin had the privilege of inviting a friend of his or her own choosing, which invitations were all joyfully accepted. The cousins present were the Misses Hattie and Jessie Curtis, Barbara and Genevieve Webster; Messrs. D. F. George and Arthur Webster, Benjamin and Robert Burke, Robbie Curtis and Elwin Jones. The others invited were: Misses Ella Thomas, Elda Whitecomb, Hettie and Alice Bennett, Carrie and Virgie Jefferson and Olive Murdoch; Messrs. H. T. Bennett, G. M. Whitecomb, James G. Winchell and Price Allison.

Miss Stella Campbell, a former teacher of the public school, spent Saturday and Sunday with friends in Des Plaines.

The leap year party given by the young ladies of Des Plaines last Friday evening, was well attended, and all who were present were unanimous in the conclusion that it was one of the pleasantest parties of the season. There were twenty-seven couples participating, the neighboring village of Park Ridge being well represented. Two young ladies from Palatine were present, one from Irving Park, one from Riverside and one gentleman from Blue Island. Refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served by the young ladies during intermission.

An ordinance has been passed by the Village Board granting permission to the Chicago and Edison Park Electric Railway company the right to lay a track along Des Plaines avenue from the south line of the village limits north to the intersection of the tracks of C. & N. W. railway company with said Des Plaines avenue or River road. The railroad is to be equipped and ready for business within thirty-six months from the passage of this ordinance. Passenger cars are to be run on this track from here to the city and are to make not less than six trips each way daily. Fare not to exceed ten cents for the entire length. These are some of the provisions of the ordinance. How many of them will be carried out is a matter to be ascertained by future developments. There have been so many projects of similar character that have existed only on paper that the majority of citizens lack faith in promises of this kind. The entire ordinance is published in another column.

The presiding elder, Dr. Curtis, will preach and administer the sacrament at the Methodist church next Sunday evening.

Leap year gives to the fair sex additional privileges and as a consequence extra duties are imposed on the male portion of the genus homo. A project of getting up an oyster supper with the usual extras for the benefit of the Methodist church is on foot, in which the whole management in all its details is carried out by that portion of humanity wearing bifurcated apparel. The ladies will not be in it except to gather around the festive board and feast on the good things before them. At a preliminary meeting held last Saturday evening J. H. Curtis was elected chief of the cuisine department with a dozen or more able-bodied assistants. Among the older ones on the list, who have been recommended by their friends and admirers, especially by their wives, are the names of Dr. Stone, Alonzo Wheeler, Thomas Keates, and Robert E. Hills. The last named gentleman is a bachelor and that fact is stated here to save the necessity of a foot-note. A motion made that the chief and his cohorts wear their hair banged and attire themselves in Mother Hubbard gowns while on duty, was promptly voted down. The festival will be given on the evening of March 24.

The Park Ridge ghost scare has broken out in our midst. It is stated that one evening a young man was calling on his best girl and along in the bewitching hour of night, when the hour and minute hands are on the "point of twelve," and fairies and spirits are supposed to be out in full force, a ghost was seen to make an appearance in the room adjoining and parade in "grand march" around the stove. The young man suddenly reached for his hat, murmuring as he made his hasty exit, "Call 'nsee you 'smuther time."

Mrs. K. Alexander, Mrs. Beach and daughter, Minnie, Mrs. A. Wheeler, Mrs. Collins, Miss Nellie Allen, Misses Tillie and Sarah Longley, Olive Murdoch, Messrs. J. A. Bailey, Bert Allen and J. H. Allison, attended the Epworth League convention at Evanston, on Thursday evening of last week.

ANNUAL TOWN MEETING.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, TO THE legal voters and electors of the Town of Maine, in the County of Cook, and State of Illinois, that the annual Town meeting for said Town will be held at Scharinghausen hall in said Town on Tuesday, the 5th day of April next, being the first Tuesday in said month, for the purposes following, viz:

First.—To choose a Moderator to preside at said meeting.

Second.—To elect one Supervisor, one Town Clerk, one Assessor, one Collector, one Commissioner of Highways, and as many Pound Masters as the electors may determine, and one Township Trustee of Schools. Voters of the second precinct will vote at their usual polling place in Park Ridge.

And to act upon any additional subjects which may, in pursuance of law, come before said meeting when convened.

Which meeting will be called to order at the hour of seven o'clock in the forenoon, and kept open until five o'clock in the afternoon.

Given under my hand, at Des Plaines, this 16th day of March, A. D., 1892.

THOMAS KEATES, Town Clerk.

ASKED FOR AID.

A Partridge That Appealed to a Man for Protection.

As a Pennsylvania farmer was passing through a patch of wood last summer a hen partridge fluttered up and ran between his feet. It was such a strange thing for so wild a bird to do that the farmer thought the partridge was blind. So he stooped over to pick her up, and then he found she wasn't blind at all, for just as he was about to grasp her she darted toward the brush heap from which he had seen her emerge, stopped at the edge of it and looked back.

Presently she ran at the man again, with her wings down, clucking constantly and appearing to be in great distress about something. The farmer walked to the edge of the copse, and the partridge flew ahead and alighted on the ground two or three rods beyond, winging her way back when she saw he was not moving. She repeated these maneuvers until she led him to a hemlock tree, and there, in a little curve made by the roots, he saw a nest full of eggs. At the same time he saw a blacksnake in the act of swallowing one of the eggs and understood the reason for the partridge's actions.

He hunted up a club and killed the snake, relates Golden Days. As soon as the partridge saw that the snake was motionless she ceased her noise and hid in the bushes. The man went away, and in a half an hour crept near enough to the nest to see the partridge sitting on the nest as though nothing had happened.

Works Both Ways.

To honor one's ancestors is an excellent and praiseworthy thing; but pride of ancestry is a very poor basis upon which to build one's whole life. A man who had never done anything for himself was boasting, one day, in the presence of a self-made man, of the distinction of his ancestors.

"There is nothing," he said, "like having respect for one's ancestors to keep one out of degenerate ways."

"It is a very good motive," said the self-made man, "and you do well to be proud of your ancestors; but I think that my respect for my descendants is about as good a motive."

"Respect for your descendants? What do you mean?"

"Why, you see, I want them to be proud of their ancestor!"

Tales in Oriental Rugs.

To the initiated some of the efforts to produce Oriental designs in rugs and other fabrics in this country are very amusing. As long as a rug has a mass of yellow, blue, and red in it, and is made up of a mosaic of nondescript little details, the manufacturer seems to feel that he has produced an Oriental design. The truth is, however, that an Oriental rug, to the native, tells a story as clearly and expressively as a book. The details of the design are not meaningless marks or figures; they are symbols, and suggest historical events, reminiscence, and romance. Every portion of the rug has its peculiar meaning.

An inexplicable habit in a church at Valsbol has at last been explained. When the men went to the altar to receive the sacrament and then returned to the body of the church each made a genuflection in the direction of the women, always on the same spot. No one for a long while had known why this was done. Late one of the walls was being cleaned, and a picture of the Virgin was discovered which had been covered up for 400 years by the whitewash. The genuflections originally made to this picture had been continued by the force of habit for centuries after it had disappeared.

GLOVED HAND OF STEEL.

A FREE AND AIRY CALIFORNIAN FELT ITS GRIP.

He Was Very Generous, But Needed Taming—Though Seldom Seen the Hand Is Always on a Trans-Atlantic Steamer.

The ocean steamship of modern times is literally a floating palace. The passenger who travels by one of the luxurious ships of any of the great lines will experience only the velvet side of life—if he behaves himself. Everything will be made as pleasant for him as possible. Civil and attentive servants wait in readiness to execute any of his commands night and day. The saloon, the smoking room, the library, the ladies' parlor, the stateroom are each wonderful examples of modern comfort. But under all the velvet, the plush, the silk hangings, the paintings, the carvings and the rest is the steel frame of the great ship.

So it is with the discipline on board. The passenger meets nothing but the utmost civility and politeness, but behind this there is power, supreme and arbitrary. The passenger may cross and re-cross many times without ever suspecting that he is living and enjoying himself under a despotism as rigid as that of Russia. Under the velvet hand is the glove of steel.

For the first two or three days out it certainly seemed as if Mr. Joseph Bounce was going to be the most popular man on board ship that voyage. He was a big, generous, whole-souled man from California, according to the Detroit Free Press, who was said to be immensely wealthy, as is a habit of Californians.

As the voyage progressed, however, it soon became evident that Bounce had laid himself out to make the trip one continual booze as far as he was concerned. He was drunk night and day, and by and by the passengers who had been friendly with him at first began to drop away from him, with the exception of the few who were as fond of liquor as himself and to whom a free fuddle had attractions. Then Joseph got into the habit of forgetting himself and took to insulting those who refused to drink with him. He became exceedingly obnoxious to the whole smoking room and doubtless complaint was made to the officer, although nobody knew who made it.

One evening Bounce came in to the smoking room and sat down at his usual card table. He ordered champagne and talked loudly about the objectionable passenger list the steamer had this particular trip. This sort of thing went on for some time, when the smoking room steward came in and said very mildly:

"Mr. Bounce, the purser would like to see you in his room for a few minutes."

This was so quietly spoken that no one would have noticed it if Bounce himself would have kept quiet. He glared at the inoffensive steward for a moment and then shouted as he brought his big fist down upon the table:

"You tell the purser that if he wants to see me worse than I want to see him he can come in here and see me."

This remark was garnished by a choice assortment of particularly lurid wild western oaths.

"Very good, sir," answered the steward politely, as he withdrew.

After a pause the games and conversation went on as usual, but an old veteran who had crossed a number of times and who knew what was what on board ship, said in a whisper:

"If I'm not very much mistaken you will hear something drop in a moment."

"Will the purser come in?" was asked.

"Not a bit of it, but I think he will send for Bounce."

"He has sent for him, but it doesn't seem to have done much good."

"You wait!" said the veteran.

At that moment the door opened again and the steward came in as deferential as before, but behind him, keeping step together, strode six stalwart sailors, any two of whom could have taken Bounce and done what they pleased with him, big as he was. The sailors, with imperturbable faces, ranged themselves behind the chair of the man from California.

The steward, in exactly the same tone of voice as he had addressed Joseph Bounce before, said:

"The purser would like to see you, sir, for a few moments."

There was dead silence in the smoking room and the bravest held his breath for a time. Bounce looked over his shoulder for a moment at the motionless men and then at the steward. His face was flushed with liquor, but he was not so drunk that he did not realize the situation. There was a short pause, then Bounce said in a more sober voice: "All right; I'll go with you."

He went, with the six men marching quietly behind him. What transpired at the interview no one knew, but it soon became known that Bounce's supply of liquor had been cut off and that he was practically under arrest during the rest of the voyage.

Mr. Joseph Bounce had felt the touch of the hand of steel.

Always Near Starvation.

The entire capital in the richest nation or state, consisting of railways, mills, factories, workshops and dwellings, together with all the goods and wares of every kind—comprising all that has been saved in a useful form, the clearing of the land and bringing it into productive condition—will not exceed three or possibly four years' production; in most states it is less. If all could be reconverted into food, fuel and clothing and the world should rest wholly from work, all would be consumed in two or three years. In respect to food, the world is always within a year of starvation, yet there is always enough somewhere.—Popular Science Monthly.

"BETTER."

The Story of a Great Singer and a Poor Boy Who Lay Dying.

The great singer stepped from her carriage into the swirling snow and hurried up the steps of the poor little house. A woman, dim-eyed from tears, admitting her, stooped and kissed passionately her fur-gloved hands.

"The good God bless you, madame!" she cried. "In here—he is in here!" She pushed open the door of a small bare room, wherein, propped on high pillows, lay a young face, framed in waves of black hair, lit by eyes of blue flame, a spot of scarlet on each sunken cheek.

A swift smile flashed over this face as the singer, throwing off her heavy furs, came to the bedside.

"At last!" gasped the boy. "Now I shall get better, mother—better!" The beautiful stranger smiled sadly, moved back a few steps and looked into the adoring eyes.

Then she sang.

Low, slow, the round, pure notes fell from her lips, each perfect as a flawless pearl. They came lighter, gayer, sweeter, till one might fancy them lustrous with color like ruby or sapphire, mounting higher, pulsing quicker, to spend themselves at last in one joyous burst—a rainbow shower of brilliant notes.

The singer ceased a moment, smiled into the blue eyes—dilated, imploring—and began again.

She sang a prayer—a simple, sad little melody of her far-away native land. On its last minor notes her full voice trembled, and tears of longing hung on her shadowy lashes.

The blue eyes, too, swam and glittered, but they were imperious in their beseeching, and she sang again.

This time it was a love song—a rushing cry of primal passion that swept the soul up on mighty waves of melody and left it poised breathless and quivering on the last high, fierce note.

She ceased abruptly.

The face on the pillow kept the mould of the song. The blue eyes were fixed, the lips parted in ecstasy; but color had left the cheeks, and a light film glazed the wide eyes.

The mother rushed forward with a cry.

But the singer smiled as she pressed down the white lids and kissed the paling lips.

"Better!" she murmured. —Kate Field's Washington.

TRAINED TO MISFORTUNE.

Harden in an Unfailing School and Could Not Be Crushed.

It was a terrible accident. Sixteen cars were piled upon each other, and above the roar of the escaping steam and the crackling flames that added to the terror of the scene could be heard the heartrending shrieks of the dying and wounded. It was a spectacle that would strike horror to every heart and soul.

Brave and willing hands rushed to the rescue of the victims of the wreck, and, hurrying the timbers aside, dragged mangled bodies out from under the debris. Like heroes they toiled, until they thought every one was taken out.

Suddenly there was a cry: "Good heavens! There is a man under the locomotive! And he lives!"

It was a hard battle to take the tons of steel and iron from off the crushed form that could be seen underneath, but, spurred by the dictates of humanity, they worked, and at last it was laid bare. Strong men turned away as it moved, for they expected to see a bleeding parcel of flesh, maimed beyond semblance to a man.

But it lived; it breathed, and it spoke.

They bent lower to catch its words.

"Down! Down I said! Can't you hear a fellow and get off him?"

"What does he mean?" they cried.

Then he rose to his feet and looked around, dazed. He brushed his clothes, and as he noted the astounded look on every one's face at his miraculous escape, he said, laughingly:

"Well, if that wasn't a joke on me! I thought I was playing football and that the whole Yale eleven was on me. Ha-ha! Good eh?"

AN ORDINANCE.

CHICAGO AND EDISON PARK ELECTRIC STREET RAILWAY COMPANY.

VILLAGE OF DESPLAINES.

An Ordinance Granting Certain Rights and Privileges to the Chicago and Edison Park Electric Street Railway Company.

Be it ordained by the Board of Trustees of the Village of Des Plaines, in the Town of Maine, County of Cook and State of Illinois:

Sec. 1. That in consideration of the acceptance hereof, and the undertaking by the Chicago and Edison Park Electric Light Company to comply with the provisions of this ordinance, authority and consent are hereby granted unto said company, its successors and assigns, to construct, lay down, operate and maintain a single track street railway with all convenient and necessary side tracks, turn outs and switches, for the term of twenty (20) years from the passage hereof, upon and along the street herein after mentioned. Commencing on Des Plaines avenue or the River road at the south line of the Village of Des Plaines; thence northwesterly along said Des Plaines avenue or River road to the intersection of the tracks of Chicago and Northwestern Railway Company with said Des Plaines avenue or River road.

Sec. 2. Said track shall be laid on said Des Plaines avenue or River road, following the whole length of the line called for in this ordinance, within thirty-six (36) months from the time of the acceptance of this ordinance.

Sec. 3. Immediately upon the laying of the tracks as provided in Section two (2), passenger cars shall be run upon said street for the accommodation of the public and shall make the minimum of six (6) trips the entire length of the line each way daily unless prevented by strikes, riots or the action of the elements.

Sec. 4. The track or tracks of said railway shall not at any time be elevated above the level of the street, the top of the rails not to be above the grade of the street as it is or may be established and shall be laid with modern improved rails, and so laid that carriages and other vehicles can easily and freely cross said track or tracks at any and all points without obstruction; said railway tracks to occupy the eight feet commencing two feet from the center line of said street, and on the east side of said street.

Sec. 5. Said Railway company, when laying its tracks, shall grade and macadamize the eight (8) feet of said street and shall hereafter keep the same in such manner as may be ordered by said Board of Trustees. Provided, that if the said Board of Trustees shall order the foregoing street improved by paving before said company shall have laid its tracks, it shall proceed immediately to lay its tracks on such portion so to be improved and shall pay the cost of the (8) feet commencing two feet from the center line, thereof to conform to the paving so by the Board of Trustees ordered.

Sec. 6. Such railway may be operated by horse power, or electric or chemical motors, by compressed air, or by cables moved by stationary engine, or engine not located upon the streets or public places of the village, or by any other approved motive power for street railways.

Sec. 7. The rate of fare for each passenger shall not exceed the sum of Ten (10) cents for any continuous travel of one trip, provided that children under five (5) years of age, accompanied by an adult person, shall ride free of charge.

Sec. 8. The said Chicago & Edison Park Electric Railway company shall pay all damages to the owners of the property abutting on said part or parts of street upon or over which its road may be constructed, which said owners may sustain by reason of the construction or the location of said road and shall hold and save harmless the said village from any and all costs, charges, expenses, and damages resulting from its negligence or the negligence of its servants in exercising or causing to be exercised any rights under this ordinance given, and from all damages that shall arise to owners of property by reason of the passage of this ordinance, holding and keeping the said village as good financially as if this ordinance had never been passed.

Sec. 9. The said company shall, whenever ordered by the said Board of Trustees, build at its own expense under its tracks such culverts as the board may order, provided this section shall not be held to obligate said company to build any sewer or sewers under or along side its tracks.

Sec. 10. The said Chicago and Edison Park Electric Street Railway company shall do the work of laying its tracks, grading, macadamizing or paving the part of said street herein before provided and building any required culverts under the direction of and in the manner approved by the said Board of Trustees.

Sec. 11. The said railway company shall, before commencing any work upon the streets under this ordinance, file with the Village Clerk its bond in the penal sum of Twenty Thousand ($20,000) Dollars with sureties approved by the board, conditioned that it will hold the said Village harmless on account of any injury or injuries occurring to any one during the construction of said tracks or culverts or on account of the acts or negligence of the said company under this ordinance.

Sec. 12. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage. Provided, that if the said Chicago and Edison Park Electric Street Railway company shall not file with the Village Clerk of said village within thirty (30) days from the passage of this ordinance, its written acceptance thereof, together with its bond in the penal sum of Twenty Thousand ($20,000) Dollars with two or more sureties to be approved by the said Board of Trustees, conditioned that the said company shall hold the said village harmless on account of any claims for damages arising from the passage of this ordinance as well as from the construction, maintaining and operating of its said road, then this ordinance shall be void and of no effect.

Passed this 9th day of March, 1892. Approved this 9th day of March, 1892. Published this 19th day of March, 1892.

AUGUST MOLDENHAUER, President of Board of Trustees of the Village of Des Plaines.

Attest: THOMAS KEATES, Village Clerk.

A Great Failure.

The London Fine Tailor-made Clothing Parlor of New York City, who have for many years been famous for handling the finest line of Tailor-made garments of any house in the East (their stock comprising exclusively the production of the most artistic merchant tailors), were closed by the sheriff and their entire stock was sold at auction to satisfy the claims of the creditors. Among the greatest purchasers at this sale was a representative of the firm of J. S. Mossler & Bro., proprietors of the Misfit Clothing Parlor, 121 Monroe street. They have these goods now on the counters of their parlors and present the grandest fine-made clothing that Chicago has ever witnessed, and are sold by them at one-third of what they were originally made for.

Chinchilla Overcoats and Ulsters, originally made for $30 and $35, shall be sold from $10 to $15. English Corduroy, Melton and Kersey Overcoats, in light, medium and heavy weights, with silk and Italian cloth linings, made originally for $40 and $45, will be sold for $15.00. Also a few extra fine Overcoats, made for $50 to $55, we will sell for $20. Tailor-made Suits of the best imported and domestic fabrics, comprising Clay and Martin Diagonals and Silk Finished Cassimeres, and made in the latest styles of Sacks, Cutaways and Prince Alberts made to order originally for $30, $35, $40 and upwards, as high as $65, will be sacrificed during this sale for $10, $12, $15 and upwards to $22. Pantaloon in exquisite styles and patterns from $3 to $5, made to order for $7 to $15. Don't miss this sale, as you will never again get a similar opportunity. Go early and get first choice at the Mossler's Misfit Clothing Parlor, 121 Monroe. Established ten years.

The Sick Irishman.
An Irishman was painting a house green when the paint-pot fell to the sidewalk.
A woman chanced by. "Mercy! what's the matter?" she exclaimed.
And the small boy standing near shouted, "That Irishman up there has just had a hemorrhage."
Last year nearly a thousand people killed themselves in Paris. The favorite mode of suicide was by drowning, by which 231 unfortunate put an end to their existence.

Scrofula in the Neck

BY HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

All parents whose children suffer from Scrofula, Salt Rheum, or other diseases caused by impure blood, should read the following from Mrs. J. W. Tillbrook, wife of the Mayor of McKeesport, Penn.:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.
"My little boy Willie, now six years old, two years ago had a

Bunch Under One Ear

which the doctor said was Scrofula. As it continued to grow he finally lanced it and it discharged for some time. We then began giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla. He improved very rapidly until it healed up. Last winter it broke out again and was followed by

Erysipelas

We again gave him Hood's Sarsaparilla with most excellent results and he has had no further trouble. His cure is due to the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla. He has never been so robust, but now seems healthy and daily growing stronger. The doctor seemed quite pleased at his appearance and said he feared at one time that we should lose him. I have also taken myself and am satisfied that I have been helped by it. Mrs. J. W. TILLBROOK, 5th Avenue, McKeesport, Pa.

CONSUMPTION

A GIRAFFE DUEL.

A BATTLE OF BEASTS IN SOUTH AFRICA.

Terrible Encounter Between Giraffes—Strength and Pluck Shown by the Animals—Thrilling Description of a Rare Occurrence in the African Wilds.

at the time I witnessed the scene I will endeavor to describe was latitude 21 degrees south, longitude 32 east.

The country surrounding me was marvellously attractive, although only sand very sparsely covered with bush, therefore totally useless for agricultural or pastoral purposes, but through the flat veldt's surface, at irregular intervals, rose copes—immense blocks of stone, piled one upon the other, that resembled the debris that might have been left after Titans had built a gigantic city or mammoth fortification. These eruptions from beneath the earth's surface were covered with parasitic plants, decorated with most attractive fruit or gorgeous blossoms. A species of aloe, too, was numerous, the upright stem which bears its feecy flower having a very striking resemblance to civilization's unsightly telegraph poles.

This country is not destitute of waters as is attested by the numbers of baboons, monkeys and leopards which frequent the copes, and the antelopes, zebras and guinea-fowl which wander over the flats. Possibly the indigenous bushmen know where to find this necessity of life, but these astute savages carefully concealed their secrets from me and my people. I was riding slowly along admiring the beautiful colors of this distant landscape. In close attendance was my Massara guide. My reverie was broken by an unknown sound, which echoed and re-echoed from the surrounding crags. It was not the honest bark of the baboon or the reverberating voice of the lion or the hyena's discordant laugh, but a combination of all of them uttered in quick successive gasps. On inquiry from my follower he informed me that kameels (giraffes) were the originators of the unknown sound. The Massara begged me to follow him. This I did, and so became witness of one of the most extraordinary sights in wild life that I had ever seen. Those who have dwelt in the distant East have doubtless seen male camels fight, and noted with what obstinacy, power, and viciousness they try to maim or disable one another; how they shriek with rage over each advantage that they obtain, and yell with pain when they are severely hurt. A giraffe duel much resembled a camel's, as will be seen from what I proceed to state.

The rivals were not well matched—the taller was out of condition, and very old; the other was in splendid form, and in the prime of life. I concluded that a fight was imminent, and had no difficulty in deciding which would be the victor. They roared in unison, as if each were trying to drown the other's voice; sometimes this would cease for a few moments and then begin again with renewed strength.

Presently the belligerents came within a few yards of each other. Then commenced a scene that baffles all description. Some people call it ludicrous; it was far more; it was side-splitting, and, but for a desire to see the end, I must have given way to convulsions of laughter. Although the giraffe possesses a certain beauty when at rest, it loses its grace when in motion, and the greater its speed the more ungainly does it appear. But when two mature bulls begin to waltz and dance violently around each other, each endeavoring to outdo the other in agility, at the same time muzzling their jaws and emitting fearfully discordant roars, it is certainly one of the most absurd sights human eye ever looked upon.

I have often seen a crane dance—a function common enough north of the Vaal river. It is more than funny—it is ridiculous, but can not for an instant be compared to the antics of these two mammoth brutes. Their great height added to the grotesqueness of their behavior, but even if the beasts had been no bigger than goats or sheep the absurd manner in which they swung about their feet, contorted their bodies and swayed their heads must have moved the most phlegmatic.

We lay hidden and quiet while the rivals were getting closer and closer to each other; at length, when they were nearly within striking distance, simultaneously each dropped upon his knees and commenced to twist and twine his long neck about that of the other, with the evident purpose of seizing his adversary's throat. This lasted several minutes, but both were "skilled of fence," and ultimately relinquished this style of fighting and adopted other tactics. They began rearing as if to bear the other down, their mouths all the time open to grip if opportunity occurred.

At length the violent exercise began to tell upon the elder beast. He made some mistake in a parry, and the younger seized with his teeth the foot of the veteran, who in turn laid hold of his opponent's ear. For some moments there was a pause. It was very brief, and then the struggle was renewed. With a gigantic effort the younger giraffe threw the old hero upon his haunches. He looked very much as if he had played his last card, but there was pluck in his aged heart yet, though the battle was not for him. Years told against him, and victory lay for the youngster, who celebrated it by trying to drag the vanquished after him. This operation must have been painful, for the shrieks of the defeated warrior uttered were heartrending.

After a final worry, the hero of the hour walked off, mobbed the two harem of ladies together, and, willingly followed by all, took the lead. Not one of the zennas of the fallen chief turned a head for an instant to see what had become of him. I fear it is much the same among our own race as it is among the inferior animals.

The veteran finally tried to pull himself together, but he was dreadfully knocked about, as well as very lame. With anxious eyes he gazed in the direction the herd had taken, possibly wishing to follow, or with a hope that one of his wives at least would return to him. Not so; the poor old fellow was doomed to disappointment, and appeared to realize that he was deserted. The life before him I knew would be one of misery; therefore what better could I do but raise my rifle, glance along my sight and send a bullet through his heart? It was a sad alternative, but, after all, I think it was humane.

THE AVALANCHE.

A Hairbreadth Escape in the Montana Mountains.

It was a February day, with a warm sun and a Chinook wind from the Pacific Ocean melting the snow. All along the trail, as we wound up the mountain side, great masses of snow seemed to overhang us, and more than once I noticed how anxious the grizzly-haired old guide seemed to be. Only a narrow path had been cleared through the snow, and the twenty mules followed each other in single file. Half way up we came to four cabins occupied by miners. Three brawny men in red shirts stood at the door of one of the cabins as we filed past. Salutes were exchanged, but we had no occasion to halt.

We had gone about 300 feet, and were about to make a turn in the trail when I halted to look back. The guide was ahead—I came second. The line of mules was strung out for a quarter of a mile, and on foot among them were five packers, all half breeds. I heard no signal of danger—no cry of alarm. With the swiftness of thought the snow 500 feet up the mountain began to move. The width of the avalanche was about half a mile, and it moved like a flash. I was looking full at it, but its speed confused the eye. There were thousands of tons of snow, hundreds of trees, hundreds of great boulders. There was no rumbling, no crashing.

The rush was almost noiseless—simply a sound like a gentle wind blowing among the pines. In fifteen seconds it was all over, and a cloud of what seemed smoke hung over the spot. It drove off down the mountain after two or three minutes, and I looked for our pack train. Not a man nor a mule had escaped. I looked for the cabins. They had disappeared. Aye! the very trail had been swept down into the valley a mile below and almost across it. For a space half a mile wide there was neither tree nor shrub nor a yard of earth. The avalanche had ground its way down to the rocks heaved up in the convulsion of 10,000 years ago. I turned and looked at the guide, wondering if it was all a dream. "Purty clus call that!" he whispered as he pointed to the well-defined edge of the avalanche, not a yard from my horse's heels. "Come on. All the men in Montana could not dig them out."

Romantic Marriage.

A very romantic marriage has taken place in Montgomery county, North Carolina. A young man obtained the license, secured the preacher, and took him immediately to the presence of his intended. He found her in the kitchen making up dough. The young fellow didn't give her time to clean her hands and arms, but had the preacher tie the knot at once. The preacher made quick work of it and sent them on their way rejoicing.

Lady—So you have no objection to children here?

Janitor (city flat)—No, mum.

"What do you charge for this flat?"

"How many kids have ye?"

"I have three children."

"Sixty dollars a month."

"That's rather high."

"Our regular terms, mum. Twenty dollars a kid."

Will It Pay to Spray?
Will it pay? is naturally the first question that presents itself for answer in any consideration of spraying. This question is the universal touchstone nowadays. If it pays to spray, we want to know it, that we may adopt this method of fighting insects and fungi and get our share of the financial reward. If it does not pay to spray, we want to know it, that we may not be led into an unprofitable undertaking. We may be in the business of fruit-growing for our health, but we are also in it for the profit that may be made. Note what E. Clark, Osage City, Kan., says: "I sprayed my orchard, and my apples are clean and sweet. Had the finest crop of apples that I ever had. I had to prop the trees, but still the limbs broke on lots of them. My crop still makes me 80 per cent of fine apples, clean of worms. I compared my Ben Davis apples with my neighbor's, mine being a little above 80 per cent clean, while his was 90 per cent wormy. I had one plum tree, Lombard, around which I had built a scaffold to hold up the fruit. It had at least five bushels of fine plums on it, while my neighbor's plums all rotted and fell. I would not take $100 for my sprayer and do without it, for I have gained 75 per cent over last year."

And writes Mr. John F. Williams, of Lawrence, Douglas county, Kan.: "I sprayed all my apple trees—about 300. They are eight years old. Last year and the year before they bore, but not so heavily. The fruit was mostly large and smooth, but nearly every apple had a worm in it. This year the trees are very full, the apples are large, smooth and nicely colored, and I think not more than one in twenty-five has a worm in it. I noticed one tree of Jonathan's (I have about thirty of them) which stood near the fence so that I could spray but one side of it, the apples on the side I did not spray were nearly all wormy. Those I could reach were all right. I sprayed but once, just as the bloom was falling. I also sprayed my plum trees, about fifty Wild Goose and Minor. They have borne a very large crop of plums, the nicest in our market, and none wormy. I am so well pleased with my experience spraying that I am glad to have an opportunity of telling it. It pays." The above parties both use the Excelsior Spraying Outfit, manufactured by WILLIAM BRANT, Quincy, Ill., who will mail, free, upon application, his book entitled "Spraying Fruits"—How, When, Where and Why to Do It. This book contains much valuable information on the subject, and every fruit-grower should have one.

CHICAGO AMUSEMENTS

A List of Chicago's Most Popular Theaters.

CHICAGO OPERA-HOUSE.

"Sinbad" is still crowding the Chicago opera-house at every performance, despite the fact that it is now in its twenty-second and last week. Beginning Monday evening, March 20, comes the famous Aronson (omic) Opera company from the Casino, New York. This is not the road company which was seen here in "Uncle Celestin" some months ago, but the big home company, headed by the ever favorite and brilliant prima donna Marie Tempest, and containing all the principal artists who have so long been favorites at the Casino. The first opera to be presented will be the "Tyrolean," which ran for over one hundred nights in New York to crowded houses, and could have continued indefinitely such was the success of the piece and of Miss Tempest in the leading role. The "Tyrolean" is a bright and tuneful comic opera in two acts, and is possessed of the charming little plot in its story of the separation and reconciliation of two lovers. Adam, a bird seller of Tyrol, loves Christol, bird-mistress of his native village. Christol is desirous of meeting the prince and presenting a petition for royal favor on behalf of her lover. She is introduced to a courtier who impersonates his master, and entices Christol into a pavilion near at hand under pretense of listening to her story. While they are within the pavilion, the courtier appears upon the scene, and Adam learning of the discovery of his sweetheart and the courtier becomes enraged and denounces Christol as faithless. The princess in disguise is of the party, however, and she unravels the complications and reconciles Adam and Christol. The score of the opera is said to be very bright and contains the famous Nightingale song, which as sung by Miss Tempest created a veritable furor in New York. The number has been purloined and interpolated into a number of other productions, but no person else sings it with the same effect as Miss Tempest. Elaborate preparations are being made at the Chicago opera-house for the production of the "Tyrolean" and the piece will be given a splendid stage setting and sumptuous appointments. Mr. Aronson's company this year contains many well-known artists, among them Edwin Stevens, Fred Colmons, Ferdinand Schütz, Max Fisman, Louise Heaudet, Eva Davenport, Madge Yorke, Drew Donaldson, and Sylvia Thorn. The chorus numbers sixty people, and there will be a special augmented orchestra. Matinees will be given on Saturday only.

AUDITORIUM.

Public interest is focused in the concerts of the United States Marine band, to be given at the Auditorium next Monday and Tuesday evenings and Wednesday matinee and evening. The band is said to have grown greatly in efficiency since last year's great tour. Director Sousa has kept it in continual practice and added many new and striking pieces to its extensive repertory. Popular music of the choicest kind will constitute the greater part of the program. It is in the interpretation of this that the band is unexcelled, though compositions of a classic nature are performed in a masterly manner. It is promised that next week's concert will surpass those of last season in every respect. Mr. Sousa's selections are admirable in character and variety, and his reserves for the inevitable encores are the best of the category and tuneful tidbits which the public vividly remember. Miss Marie Decca, who firmly established a reputation last year as a soprano of remarkable gifts, will appear with the band in the vocal solos. The program for the first concert will be as follows: 1. Overture, "Raymond," Thomas; 2. Ballet music, "Rosa-munde," Schubert; 3. Pantomime, "The Romance of a Harlequin," Massenet; 4. Encores of Harlequin, reverie of Columbine, serenade of Harlequin to Columbine, the pas de deux; 5. Encores from "The Walkure," Wagner; 6. Aria, La Sonnambula, Bellini; Andante, Come per me sereno, Allegro, Sovra il sen, Mlle. Marie Decca; 7. Idylle, "Gypsy Life," a. "Morning," b. "In the Woods," c. "The Holero," d. "The Serenade," e. "The Tarentella," f. "Dance of the Wooden Shoes," g. There; 7. a. Intermezzo Sinfonico, "Cavalleria Rusticana," Mascagni; b. Valse Caprice, "Flirtation," Steck; 8. Scenes historical, "Sheridan's Ride," Sousa; 9. Humoresque, "Good-bye," Sousa; 10. Cavatina, (Linda di Chamounix) O luce di quest'anima, Mlle. Marie Decca; 11. Patriotic song, "The Star Spangled Banner," Arnold.

CASINO.

"Nothing succeeds like success," and Col. J. H. Haverly has been successful beyond the expectation of the most sanguine in the establishing of his Mastodon Minstrels at the Casino-Eden Musee. The house before Col. Haverly's assumption and control of affairs enjoyed a good reputation, but the infusion of new blood, new efforts and entertainments appealing to all classes of amusement seekers, has brought it to the highest standard, and it now ranks amongst the chief places of resort in Chicago. The Musee department is made more and more attractive each week, while the minstrel performances are particularly attractive. Crowded houses were the rule last week. For the coming week many pleasing things are offered. A new first part of songs, glees and quartettes will be presented. Billy Rice, everybody's favorite, has one of his old time end songs, "Oh my love's gone." Banks Winter, the famous tenor, will sing one of his own compositions, "Sweet Nellie Brown." Arthur Yule sings "The song that reached my heart," and E. M. Hall has a very taking song called "We we." "Maggie Murphy's Reception" is a very amusing sketch, in which Billy Rice and E. M. Hall do a very amusing military drill and Constantine the dancer par excellence, does a very clever dance. Ellwood, the wonderful male soprano, continues to delight by his beautiful singing. Bogert and O'Brien will be seen for the last time this season in their great musical sketch, "Swor and King, refined song and dance artists, introducing new figures in their "Buck" and "Wing" specialties; and an entirely new afterpiece, the work of Harry Budworth, called "Tiddle Winks" concludes the program, unexcelled in the annals of minstrelsy. The 20th performance of the Mastodon

Minstrels in this, their permanent home, was celebrated on the 16th inst., and preparations are being already made for the celebration of their 250th performance. Visitors to Chicago should not fail to see this truly great organization.

HAYLIN'S.

It affords Mr. Haylin considerable pleasure to announce the production of that very attractive play, "The Fire Patrol," at his theater—the Home theater of the South Side—during the week of March 20, beginning with the matinee on Sunday. Of the many recent plays having for their plot a story touching on the fire or police department of large cities, "The Fire Patrol" is the latest, and in many respects the best of them all. The story is one of thrilling interest, and is told in a connected, natural and graceful manner. There is a happy blending of pathos and comedy of the better sort, the situations are stirring, and the climaxes which are worked up to in a pleasing way, are strong and effective. There are many scenes of great realism, the most important of which is the appearance of a real fire patrol wagon, with a full corps of the brave defenders of our homes and families. This surpasses in realism anything of the kind ever placed upon the stage. The company engaged in the presentation is one of exceptional merit—every member being particularly adapted to his or her part. The scenery is new and picturesque.

Manager Haylin is greatly pleased to herald the coming to his cozy play house for the week of March 27, of Bobby Gaylor, in his latest success, "Sport McAllister." Mr. Gaylor, who is recognized as one of the best exponents of Irish character on the stage, appeared at Haylin's last season in "An Irish Arab," and created a decidedly favorable impression, and his return to that house, and in a new play, will be heartily welcomed. "Sport McAllister" is a far better play than "An Irish Arab," and gives Mr. Gaylor greater scope for the display of his original and unique Irish comedy.

CLARK STREET THEATER.

Beginning with the matinee next Sunday March 20, the patrons of this beautiful and popular theater will be entertained during the week by one of the most realistic dramas of the day, entitled "A Midnight Alarm." Aside from its meritorious production it will be the first appearance of this great play on the North Side. Tickets are now on sale for the engagement and can be secured in advance without extra charge. An exchange says: "The Midnight Alarm" opened last night at the National theater to a crowded house, and was excellently received. "The Midnight Alarm" is called a "realistic drama." There has been no misnomer, it is one of the most truly real plays that has been placed upon the stage for some time. But realism pleases the masses. It excites their love of dramatic suspense, kindles more interest, and besides, it shows them how great is the stage machinist's invention. "The Midnight Alarm" is one of the good ones. The plot, the central story, has not been allowed to suffer for the sake of introducing the realism, or vice versa. Right here a word is in order concerning the setting of the two fire scenes. The attempt to wreck the express train by the villain has been most graphically pictured.

MADISON STREET OPERA-HOUSE.

The Adah Richmond Folly company in the Forty Thieves gave a pleasant performance last week to the biggest audiences that ever assembled at that popular house. They will continue over this week and give an entirely new show, introducing some people for the first time on Manager Jack's stage. Next week, commencing Sunday, March 20, Sam T. Jack's Creole Burlesque company, consisting of fifty beautiful olive-skinned song birds from the bayons and savannas of the South and the classic isles of Greece and fair old Egypt. The Creole company is the only one of its kind on earth, and is a vision of delight from start to finish, as well as a plethora of fun and jollity. Fair faces and lovely forms are numerous and captivating, sweet songs, graceful dances and the most lively burlesque make up the bill. The Creole show, in a word, is right in the swim.

WINDSOR.

Week commencing Sunday matinee March 20, the patrons of the Windsor theater will have the pleasure of seeing the world's champion, John L. Sullivan, who together with Duncan B. Harrison and a strong dramatic company will present Sunday matinee and night, also Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights and Wednesday matinee, Duncan B. Harrison's successful comedy drama, "Honest Hearts and Willing Hands." Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday matinee, the romantic Irish comedy, "Roderick Agra," by Duncan B. Harrison. Sunday matinee, March 27, the sensational melo-drama, "Kidnapped."

PEOPLES THEATER.

Beginning Sunday matinee, March 20, Miss Kate Purcell in her new and thrilling border drama "Queen of the Plains," will be seen at the Peoples for the week.

Miss Purcell has made an enviable reputation as the delineator of wild western heroine characters. She will be supported by a capable company of players and her two superbly trained horses "Hero" and "Fire Fly."

MCVICKER'S.

Every night except Sunday. Matinee Saturday Denman Thompson as Joshua Whitecomb and the entire original company in "The Old Homestead." Seats on sale two weeks in advance.

HOOLEY'S THEATER.

Joseph Murphy and company in the "Kerry Gow." Only engagement this season. Holiday matinee St. Patrick's day at 2:30. Next Sunday Mr. Murphy in "Shaun Rhea."

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.

Fourth week, and next Monday evening, March 21, last of the famous Meining Dramatic company. Magnificent production, with all the original effects of Schiller's great drama, "Marie Stuart." "Florida tourists are now leaving in large numbers. The number of ad applications being played in the Evansville Route's vestibule sleepers in the Chicago and Nashville limited is unprecedented. Ticket office, 201 Clark street.

LIBBY PRISON.

Don't fail to visit Libby Prison, Wabash avenue, between Fourteenth and Sixteenth streets. A wonderful exhibition of historic relics. Open from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m., Sunday included.

LYCEUM THEATER.

The French Folly company. The companion show to the Night Owls. Matinees Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday.

"The Chicago and Nashville Limited is a favorite train for Florida tourists. The vestibule sleepers are an attractive feature, and are being rapidly filled in advance of departure." Ticket office, 201 Clark street.

"Winter travel to Florida is now at its height. All available sleeping car space in the Chicago and Nashville Limited is taken daily. Ticket office, 201 Clark street."

The Maple Leaf Route.

One of the most successful new lines in the West has been the Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas City Railway, popularly known to the traveling public as the Maple Leaf, this emblem having been selected by the management of the company as its trademark. It is a road constructed on the principle of having only main lines operated, which extend between Chicago and St. Paul and Minneapolis, Chicago and Kansas City, and Kansas City and St. Paul and Minneapolis, giving it three direct main lines of travel. Its lines extend through the most prosperous and productive portions of the great States of Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri and Kansas, which territory is justly claimed to be the garden spot of the world. One of the most pleasant features to travelers possessed by this line—and it is the only line in the West offering such accommodations—is the compartment feature of its sleeping cars, in which the price of the exclusive use of a drawing room is no more than the cost of a section in the ordinary Pullman car. Passengers, besides having these accommodations offered them, are also given the option of the standard styles of Pullman cars. Its trains from Chicago arrive at and depart from the new Grand Central Passenger Station, which is acknowledged to be the handsomest of its kind in the world. The progressive and advanced methods of railroad management inaugurated by this company have made it deservedly popular with the ticket agents throughout the country.—The Station Agent, Feb. 1892

Judge Wheeler of the United States circuit court in New York, having been called upon for a decision as to whether corsets are to be scheduled as clothing or mechanical contrivances, wrote an opinion, in which, with becoming modesty, he says: "I think they are clothing. I am not, however, very confident about it."

In Long Island sound, not far from the north shore of the island, is clearly defined the channel of an ancient river. As shown by the United States survey it is a gorge, having a depth of about sixty feet below the general floor of the sound on either side of it. The gorge or channel was cut into the bedrock of gneiss, the erosion of which is exceedingly slow.
