BARRINGTON, ILL., SATURDAY, APRIL 20, 1895.

$1.00 A YEAR IN ADVANCE.

BARRINGTON.

CHURCH NOTICES.

ST. ANN'S CATHOLIC-Rev. J. F. Cancy, Pastor. Services every alternate Sunday at 8

GERMAN EVANGELICAL ST. PAUL'S-Rev. I Rahn, pastor. Services every Sunday at 10:30 a. m. Sabbath school at 9:30 a. m. BAPTIST-Rev. Robert Bailey, pastor. Services every Sunday at 10:30 s. m. and 7, p. m. Sabbath school at 12.

GERMAN EVANGELICAL-Rev. J. B. Elfrink, pastor. Services every Sunday at 10:3) a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sabbath school at 9 a m. The EvangeLical Salem-Rev. T Suhr. pustor. Services every sunday at 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p. m. Sapbath school at 9:15

METHODIST EPISCOPAL Rev. T. E. Ream. pastor. Services every Sunday at 10:31 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sabbath school at 12 m. Children's services at 3 p m. Bible study Friday at 7:30 p. m. Prayer meeting Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

SOCIETY NOTICES.

LOUNSBURY LODGE No 751, A. F. and A. M .-Meets at their hall the second and fourth Saturdays of each month. L. A. Powers, W. M.; C. H. Kendall, S. W.; A. L. Robertson, J. W.; A. T. Uhtsch, Sec.; C. B. Otis, Treas; J. M. Tarasher, S. D.; J. P. Brown, J. D.; A. Gleason Tyler: J. W. Dacy, S. S.: Wm Young, J. S.: Robert Bailey, Chaplain; E. W. shipmin, Marshal.

BARRING FON CAMP No. 8.9. Modern Woodme of America, meets at their hall the first and third Tuesday evenings of each month. F. E. Smith, V. C.: J. M. Thr sher, E. B. John Robertson, B.: M. T. Lamey, Clerk: E. H. Soit, Escort: Wm. Antholtz, Watchman; H P. Ask w Sentry: L. A. Pow rs. John Hatje and Fred Beighoff, Managers: C. H. Kertill, Physician.

BARRINGTON TENT, No. 74 K. O. T. M .-Meets in their half the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. T. H. Creet. P. C. E. H. Solt, C.: Silas Robertson, L Ca F. E. Smith, S.; J. M. Thrasber, R. K.; Rev. Robert Bulley, Ch. p.; C. P. Hawley, F. K.; Arthur Javne M. A.; M. A. Bennett, 1st M. G.; Fred Seelling, 21 M. G.; H. Roloff, S.; John Sprocchi, P.

BARRINGTON POST NO. 275, G. A. R. Depurtment of III - Meets every second Friday of the month at the half Canles Sonn Com: C. W. ohas ., S. V. C.: Win Humphrey, J. V. C. A. Greason, Q. M.; C. Bogart, Cha dain: A. S. Henderson, O. D.:

L. Krahm O. G .: H. Renter, Sergt. W. R. C. No. 85. Meets at G. A. R. Hall the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month. Mrs. Emily Hawley. Pres.: Mrs. Lucy Townsend, 2d V. P.: Mrs Arietta Sizer, J. V.C.: Miss Rob e Brockway, Treas.: Mrs. Kate Runyan, Charlain Mrs Emma Wool, Conductor: Mrs. Julia Robertson, VILLAGE OFFICERS.

SCHOOL DIRECTORS.

P. E. Hawley ... Presides

THE BARRINGTON BANK OF SANDMAN & 60. Illinois. Barrington, .

A general banking business transacted Interest allowed in time deposits. First-class commerc al paper for sale.

JOHN ROBERTSON, Prest,

A L. ROBERTSON, Cashier.

JOHN C. PLAGGE, V.ce-Prest,

L. C. P. SANDMAN.

MILES T. LAMEY,

Notary Public and Fire Insurance Agent.

Collections Given Prompt Attention.

BARRINGTON. ILL. M. C. McINTOSH,

Estate and Commercial Lawyer Residence, BARRINGTON, ILL.

OFFICE. Room 32 - CHICAGO.

HENRY BUTZOW,

BAKERY

CON-ECTIONERY. Fraits, Gigars, Tobacco, Etc

Los Cream and Oyster Parlors in Connection.

H. BUTZOW,

Barrington, Ill.

THEODOR H. SCHUTT. Manufacturer and Dealer to BOOTS AND SHOES.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE.

I also carry a large stock of Rubbers, Felt and Rubber Bouts.

see my stock and get prices before buying elsewhere.

THEODOR H. SCHUTT, Barringtone #1.

AT CASH BOUGHT PRICES AT THE DUNDEE CASH STORE OF C. F. HALL CO.

CASH BARGAINS

The Best Inducements Ever Offered to Cash Bayers and Stock Largest and Most Complete.

For weeks we have been almost constantly in the market, looking for bargains for an appreciative and cash buying public. That we have been successful the following price list will give you ample proof. During the winter months we have made many important changes in the store, in the cloak department, millinery, clothing and small wares. We will try briefly to enumerate the various advantages connected with buying from us, and take them by departments.

OUR MILLINERY DEPARTMENT. Our millinery department, in charge of Miss Macomber, who has so successfully conducted it for seven seasons, offers a much larger and more attractive display than ever before. We exhibit only recent styles in all popular shapes at popular prices. We will make prices lower than in the past, but adhere strictly to first-class work. Please note that we offer 500 pieces, silk, satin and gros-grain ribbon in number 9, 12, 16 and 22 at 8 cents per yard. An elegant line of fine French flowers, which are arranged on our center tables, at 5, 8, 15, 19 and 25 cents-less than half value.

You should see our line. DRESS GOODS. The recent decline in general merchandise has been very great and we have been prompt to meet it. Tariff changes have made henriettas, all wood, heretofore 50 cents, now 39 cents: those heretofore 75 cents now 59 cents; these heretefore (1, now 75 cents. We carry a complete line of these goods. Please note excellent values in dress goods at 9, 12, 15, 19 and 25 cents, which we guarantee fully one-third less than credit rates. Special purchases in broadcloths at 59, 69 and 79 cents; standard glaghams 4 and 5 cents a yard; sheetings full weight, 4 cents; sheetings, extra fine, 5 cents. There will be an early advance in all this line of merchandise, and we recommend liberal purchases. We desire to call special attention to our stock of table linens, nels, of which our stock is most com-PRICES ON STAPLE NOTIONS AND cents: Windsor ties, all silk, 3 cents: lead pencils, 4 cents a dozen; Windsor tiles 5 cents: most complete line of gents' ties in any section at 19 and 25 cents-half value; elastic web 4 cents yard; fancy hair pins 1 cent each; shelf paper, 3 cents; fancy toilet soap cent cake. Children's heavy ribbed hose, seamless, fast black, 10 cents; boys' double heels, double toes, double knees, best made, 25 cents a pair. Complete line, big bargains. ADIES AND GENTS HANDKER-CHIEFS.

Special offerings this week in ladieshandkerchiefs, imported stock, at 1, 2, 3, 5, 8, 10, and 13 cents; elegant embroidered silk hankerchiefs at 10 cents

LADIES' CAPES AND JACKETS.

To this department of our business we have given additional space with stationary racks, and offer unquescionable values which cannot be obtained elsewhere. We have ladies', children's and misses' garments in all the leading and popular styles. Please note the prices and remember that we have the merchandise in quantities at the price named. Ladies' jackets and capes at 69, 79, 89, 98 cents, $1.29, $1.48, $1.69, $1.98 and up to $7.98; children's jackets at 49, 69, 89, 98 cents, $1.48, $1.69, $1.98 and $2.29. A large proportion of the garments showed could not be produced at double the cost, and a fortunate chance only enables us to make these exceedingly low prices. We recommend every purchase.

BOYS' KNEE PANTS. We purchased on Monday last the entire stock of odds and ends of a leading house who manufacture this line of goods. We offer 1,000 pairs of cost of material, viz: 25, 33, 39 and 49 cents. The cloth alone worth more than te rices named. MEN'S AND BOYS' CLOTHING. Knee pants suits at 98 cents, $1.29, 1,69 and $1.98. Special offerings in confirmation suits at $5,000, $6,000, $7.25 and $8.25-worth fully one-third more. Our spring stock of men's suits is complete and prices as heretofore lower than the lowest. MEN'S PANTS AND BOYS LONG PANTS.

We have just purchased of a western manufacturer their entire line of fine and medium weight grade pants, and are enabled to offer more goods and better values than heretofore. The goods are of the best and should be seen to be appreciated. Please note the prices: Men's working pants at 50, 59, 75 and 98 cents, worth fully one-third to one-half more. Fine dress pants at $1.48, $1.69, $1.98, $2.48, and $3.79, worth $2, $4 and $6 a pair. You know the name of the manufacturer, but he won't let us call his name, but he will take Hall's cash and Hall's offers.

SHOES. For weeks, and in fact, for months, our aim has been to secure bargains in shoes for all ages. The upper ten-dency in leather, strikes among the shoemakers, all seem to indicate what has been realized, viz.: An advance of 20 per cent in boots and shoes. We know we are better equipped than we have ever been in the past and will guarantee to sell you shoes one-third cheaper than the average dealer buys them. We sell only absolutely solid goods and our reputation has gone abroad in the land for the best values in shoes.

fants' shoes, 16, 19, 25, 33, 39 and 49 cents; children's shoes, 5 to 8, absolutely solid, 59 cents; children's shoes, foxed, 8½ to 11½, tipped, 69 cents; misses' shoes, 12 to 2, as fine as you could desire, 87 cents; ladies' shoes, kid-tipped, foxed in various kinds, 98 cents; men's fine shoes, $1.29, $1.48 and $1.98; ladies' Oxford ties at 29, 39, 50, 69, 79, and 98 cents; men's calf boots, sizes 6 and 7 only, at 98 cents a pair. The largest stock of shoes in a pair. The largest stock of shoes in Northern Illinois, outside the great GROCERIES. We are as usual well supplied with a complete stock of groceries and offer best flour 90 cents, candy 6 cents a pound; choice tea at 15, 19 and 25 cents a pound; coffee 15 cents a pound and values in everything. TO CUSTOMERS FROM ABROAD. We extend to our customers from abroad all the attentions and courtesies of the past, and will make a visit to us not only pleasant but profitable. Merchandise in large variety, prices lower than the lowest, practically everything under one roof, railroad fares paid, teams cared for; if you can suggest any greater inducements to get you to us we would esteem it a favor. We have yet to know of any one coming and going away dissatisfied. Our store is 60x150 feet and will hold you all.

Come and see us. Yours truly, C. F. HALL CO.

BASEBALL SEASON OPENS.

First Game of the Season Played Yesterday-The Results. The National league baseball season of 1895 opened yesterday. The winning teams were the Chicagos over the St. Louis Browns, the Philadelphias over the champion Baltimores, the Brooklyns over the New York Giants, the Cincinnatis over the Clevelands, and the tail-end Louisvilles over the Pittsburgs. The Bostons and Washingtons did not play. Their initial game will be at Boston to-day. The attendance at all the games was unusually large. In several cities the mayors made speeches. Following are the scores of the games played:

At St. Louis-St. Louis....0 0 1 1 0 0 3 0 2 7 Chicago1 0 2 0 4 0 0 0 3-10 At Louisville-Louisville ...1 0 0 0 2 6 2 0 0-11 Pittsburg ...0 1 0 0 0 1 0 0 0-- 2

At Baltimore-Baltimore0 0 1 5 0 0 0 0 0 6 1 At Cincinnati-Cincinnati ...1 0 1 3 0 1 4 0 *-10 Cleveland ...1 0 0 0 0 3 1 3 1-9

At New York-Brooklyn2 0 1 0 0 0 3 1-7 organized in 1893, but the losses in Two games are scheduled by National league clubs to-day, as follows: Washington at Boston, Pittshuse

NOT TO ARBITRATE.

Great Britain Rejects Nicaragua's Counter Proposition.

Britain's ultimatum:

London, April 19.-The following reply was sent yesterday by the British government to Nicaragua's answer to London, April 19.-To the foreign minister of Nicaragua at Managua: I have had the honor to receive your excellency's telegram of the 11th inst. My note was delivered to Senor Barrios on the 26th of February with the request that a copy be forewarded to your excellency by the mail of March 22. Her majesty's government cannot be responsible for the delay in your receiv-

Your counter proposal has been considered and I regret it cannot be accepted. Her majesty's government cannot admit there is any doubt as to teh rights of the British subjects and must adhere to the demand in my pre-KIMBERLY. vious note.

BIG FIRE IN PHILADELPHIA.

Many Dwelling-Houses Destroyed and Flames Hard to Control.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 19.-The building No. 210 North Front street was discovered to be on fire at 1:20 o'clock this morning and the flames spread to seven dwelling houses in the rear, all of which were destroyed. The fire then extended to No. 218, occupied by William J. Dreydople, soap manufacturer, and another at No. 204, occupied by M.

R. Roche, tea merchant. The rear portion of Dreydople's soap factory was completely burned. Here boys knee pants at much less than the the firemen succeeded in confining the flames. At 2:45 o'clock the fire was practically under control. Three firemen were buried under falling walls, but they were quickly dug out and hurried to the hospital, where it was found they were badly hurt.

Conservative estimates place the loss at $500,000. The amount of insurance could not be learned.

Kills Detroit Street Railway Bill.

Lansing, Mich., April 19.-The house devoted yesterday to arguments on the bill granting the new Detroit Street railway the right to use the Citizens' company's tracks with the half-mile limit. The bill failed by a vote of 51 to 40, and by a tie vote a motion to reconsider was lost, thus in the opinion of a majority, burying it beyond resurrection. The liquor traffic committee has endeavored to secure relief for the retail dealers by favorably reporting bill passed by the house. The report leaves the tax at $500, but makes it optional with the councils of cities and villages to say whether saloons shall be opened or closed New Year's, Washington's birthday, Fourth of July, and Labor Day. The substitute also makes the year begin July 1.

Peace Union Celebrates.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 19.-The Universal Peace union celebrated "Peace day in America" yesterday. Resolutions were adopted that the 18th day of April be regarded as an annual Peace day for America and that greetings be

VELVE MILLS FAIL.

NNESOTA AND NORTH DA-KOTA MILLS GO UNDER

with $700,000 Assets and $400,-Liabilities-Other Business Instions Forced to the Wall.

and Forks, N. D., April 19.-The th Dakota Milling association of city, owning and operating twelve ring mills in North Dakota and thern Minnesota, made an assignit yesterday afternoon to William Honey of Park River, N. D., as asnee for North Dakota, and A. D. phens of Crookston, Minn., as asiee for Minnesota. The officers of association are: President, Hugh npson, Crookston, Minn.; vice-presat, John M. Turner, Grand Forks; etary and treasurer, George F. ley, Grand Forks. It is said the mment was caused by an attacht levied upon the association for ,000 by the Mandan Roller Mill comy, to secure the payment of a note en for that sum by the association, ough General Manager Turner. debts amounting to $26,000 are sing, of which $20,000 is open acints and $6,000 due the First National k of Mandan. Approximately the ets are $700,000; liabilities, $400,000. is association is organized under the s of New Jersey. It owns and opers mills at Mandan, Blsmarck, Cason, Mayville, Park River, Northod, Minto, Milton and Grand Forks, D., and at Moorehead, Crookston d Fisher, Minn. The attachment filed sterday and mismanagement are ses of the assignment. The assignce Il continue the general offices in this y until the affairs of the association closed up.

INSURANCE COMPANY ASSIGNS.

ets Are Small-Risks Outstanding Amount to About $200,000. enver, Col., April 19.—The American utual Fire association of Denver de an assignment yesterday naming secretary, S. S. Griswold, as assige, No statement was filed. The sec-tary estimates the assets at $1,000, on nich he does not expect to realize $1,000. Risks outstanding are thought to be about $200,000. The company was 34, amounting to $5,000, crippled the sances and when the commissioner sed to issue a certificate there was sh made to secure the return of they could do nothing further.

Economy Woolen Mills Go Under. Philadelphia, Pa., April 19 .- Sevill, Schofield & Co., proprietors of the Economy woolen mills at Manayunk, made an asisgnment yesterday and gave a judgment, $437,188, to James Dobson, as trustee. The failure is for about $350,000. This is the second time within three years that the firm has been in difficulty. About 1,200 persons are thrown out of employment by the failure.

Supposedly Rich Man Fails. Canal Fulton, O., April 19.-C. W. Robinson, a supposedly very rich man, assigned yesterday. Assets, $60,000; liabilities, $120,000.

Small Assignment at Elnora, Ind. Elnora, Ind., April 19 .- J. H. Crim, proprietor of the New York store, assigned yesterday to M. N. Moore. Assets, $30,000; liabilities, $25,000.

sauge Declares the Trial Off.

Lancaster, Pa., April 19,-The trial of E. K. Smith, the 80-year- old banker of Columbia, on the charge of embezzling $32,500 was postponed yesterday. One of his attorneys moved that the panel of jurors be quashed on the ground that i t had been illegally drawn. On a showing Judge Brubaker regarded the point well taken and declared the trial

Wiscorsin Historical Society.

Madison, Wis., April 19 .- The Wisconsin assembly concurred in the bill to appropriate $180,000 to erect a building on the university grounds for the State Historical society. The educational qualification resolution was postponed until April 24. Both houses will go to Springfield next Wednesday to visit the Illinois legislature.

It is a fact that carpets were never sold before at the present low prices Call and see our new spring patterns and get prices. A. W. MEY-R & Co.

A Noted Doctor

Once said "most women lose their freshness and good looks much earlier in life than necessary because of inattention to nature's requirements. Because of their peculiar habits all should make a practice of using some simple

There is no laxative so simple, so pleasant to take and yet so potent as Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Get a 10 cent bottle (10 doses 10 cents) of A. L. Wal-ler. 46 3w

Those who never read the advertisements in their newspapers miss more than they presume. Jonathan Keni-

Most remedies trespass upon your time and pocket book. After using a dozen bottles with little or no relief you are discouraged. If you want sure relief from constipation, indigestion and biliousness try Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. A 10-cent bottle (10 doses 10 cents) will indicate what it is able of doing for you. For sale by A. L. Wal-

A.W. MEYER & CO., 郑州是是于尼州尼国

E open the spring trade by purchasing the largest and most complete stock of Wall Paper ever brought in town, including the latest patterns, the newest styles and the latest novelties in the Wall Paper line, The immense quantity of Wall Paper we purchased this spring enabled us to buy at greatly reduced prices, and we have marked our prices so low on the same that we defy competition.

We are selling Wall Paper for kitchens and bedrooms at 4, 5, 6, 6½, 7 and 7½ Cents Per Roll.

Pretty dining-room papers at 71/2, 8, 9, 10 and 121/2 Cents Per Roll.

Handsome patterns for parlors at 121-2, 15, 171-2 20, 22 I-2 and 25 cents a Roll.

It will be to your advantage to make your selections

CARPETS AND RUGE

We are selling Carpets and Rugs cheaper than ever—even lower than the wholesale price paid by us last year. Extra Suher we are now selling at 28, 30, 35 and 40 cents a yard.

Ingrain Wood Filling at 40, 43, 45, 47, and 48 cents a yard.

Ingrain All Wool, 45, 48, 50, 53, 55 and 58 cents a yard.

LACE CURTAINS-

We have a nice assortment of special patterns in lace curtains at 90 centsa pair, upwards.

WINDOW SHADES

We make to order and furnish shades any size desired in width and length, and in almost any color. We sell only a superior quality of goods in every department.

V. MEYER & CO.. BARRINGTON.

Place your insurance in one of the following Companies represented by MILES T. LAMEY at Barrington, Ill.:

> London and Lancashire of England. Fire Association of Philadelphia. Norwich Union of England. Phoenix of Hartford. German American of New York.

All losses promptly and satisfactorily adusted. Insurance placed on dwellings, f arm property, commercial buildings, household furniture and stocks at reasonable

> MILES T. LAMEY, Resident Agent, BARRINGTON, ILL.

CHOICE + MEATS THE NEW MEAT MARKET

BURTON

IS GHE PLACE FOR THE BEST

Fresh and Salt Meats,

VEGEGABLES,

OYSTERS.

Armour's Celebrated Hams, Sausages, Etc.

A TRIAL WILL CONVINCE YOU . Open Sundays Until 9 a. T

R. BURTON, Barrington, III.

WOMEN OF ATLANTA.

LADIES WHO WILL SHINE AT THE EXPOSITION.

The Board of Lady Managers Bids Fair to Rival the Famous Body of the World's Columbian Exposition-Some

(Atlanta Correspondence.)

HILE the enterprise and energy of the men of Atlanta has been accorded that large measure of praise which they justly merited in inaugurating the great Cotton States and International Exposition, the progressive and patriotic work of the women of Atlanta can never be spoken of in terms higher than their labor and success deserve. At the first conception of the big project they came forward and asked of the exposition directors that un appropriation be made for the woman's department, and the answer was that if they would raise $5,000 themselves the company would give them an appro-priation of $10,000 to supplement their efforts in getting up a creditable display in their department. They went to work after the manner of women, heart and soul, and by dint of untiring diligence and various money-making schemes they have raised the snug sum of $13,-000. The directors promptly came forward with their $10,000, which gives the women $23,000 in cash to begin with. When the directors appointed five ladies to act as chairmen of committees, Mrs. Joseph Thompson was unanimously selected as president, which responsible position she has filled most admirably,

MRS. DR. WM. FELTON. discharging all her duties to the satisfaction and gratification of all concerned. It was decided that the building could be erected at a cost of $15,000, but such has been the demand for space that the management has been forced to increase the size, which will necessitate the expenditure of at least $30,-000, and then an annex will be required to accommodate the exhibitors and their interesting exhibits. One of the most serious mistakes, however, that | iand, chairman, and Mrs. Potter Palmhas been made was in the decision of the board of lady managers to withdraw their offers of cash prizes and to substitute medal awards instead, which has already brought forth numerous expressions of dissatisfaction on the part of proposed exhibitors who do not feel justified in going to the trouble and expense of getting up fine exhibits of their handiwork with only the hope of winning a medal as compensation for time and trouble. The offering of cash prizes would bring out some of the most unique exhibits ever displayed at any exposition in the line of products of the skill and ingenuity, not only of cultured women, but of those industrious housewives from the "cracker" element so famous in Georgia tradition. There are a thousand and one things of that sort that seem small in themselves, but of surpassing interest to visitors from other sections who have been made familiar in song and story with the wonders of crackerdom and the native ingenuity of the women who fed and clothed the armies of the confederacy for four years while environed by hostile fleets and armies and shut out from all intercommunion with the rest of the

It is intended to construct the women's building on an absolutely fireproof plan, so as to protect the invaluable laces, jewels, paintings and costly fabrics that will enter into that wonderfully interesting exhibit of woman's handiwork. It is fortunate that these enterprising lady managers have not sufficient means at present to carry out the original design of offering adequate and attractive prizes such as to excite more competition among the women of the state and bring out a full display of the many things that would add so largely to the attractiveness of the great display, which will

MRS. DR. HUGH HAGAN. pe one of the most interesting features of the entire exposition. Mrs. Joseph Thompson is naturally the most conspicuous woman in the state just now. She has long been recognized as a noted belle and beauty. and a woman of sparkling wit and great tact. She is in person tall, supple, with scintillating brown eyes and golden own hair. Besides possessing many husband, who is one of the foremost | paid - Philadelphia Record.

business men in the with Brookwood CAMP FIRE STORIES. is a flower farm, and an enchanting romantic place on the seachtree street road, where fine wock is bred. During the Kimball houst, where she has a beautiful suite of rooms. Her husba'ld is also a large stockholder in the Kimball. In no wise has the president of the woman's board disarpcinted anyone, for, although very young, she is an unusually good business manager, and knows exactly how to adjust conditions for the good of her work. Next in order is Mrs. Hugh Hagan, wife of a very prominent physician of this city. She is chairman of the ways and means committee, and has done some remarkably energetic work already in the interest of the board. She is a handsome woman, and belongs to one of Georgia's most illustrious families, being a niece of the late General Thomas R. R. Cobb, and a first cousin of Mrs. Hoke Smith.

Mrs. William H. Felton is a woman known all over the United States for her brains and accomplishments. She is chairman of the executive committee. It remains with her to say that no oth er woman in the south was ever invited to a seat in the state senate with the president of the senate. She has for years been foremost as a politician and the fields through which we marched.

writer of ability. press committee. Her work will be to it. I saw the column advancing. Braver make pleasant headquarters for all men never faced death. First, a single visiting newspaper women who visit rifle shot was heard; another, and yet the exposition, and to keep in couch another. The whole forest, into which with the writers on the great dailies. the troops had entered, was on fire. As "Maud Andrews" Mrs. Ohl has been The cannon thundered forth its voice. identified with the Atlanta Constitu- Men were falling by the score. One tion or five or six years, and has done figure I distinctly saw in advance. He some excellent newspaper work. Per- rode a chestnut colored horse. The sonally she is attractive and interest- horse was a warrior as well as the rider.

Mrs. Loulie Gordon is representative- He was my friend. I had never before at-large, and is on many of the coin- seen him in battle. The leaves of the mittees. She is as well known at the trees rolled down over his shoulders as north as in the south, and is popular though touched by a heavy frost. Ten with the entire press and all of society. thousand bullets cut the branches and Mrs. William Hemphill is the wife leaves from the trees about his head. ex-Mayor Hemphill. She is at the The rider was calm, and quietly led on head of the professional woman's de- his troops. Many fell to rise no more partment, and will introduce to At- till God's trumpet calls them forth. But lanta and her visitors all the brains still the rider held his place. He seemed women of the United States, who will to be clad in invisible armor. Last year assemble here in congress.

Mrs. A. B. Steel is secretary of the met together. What strange questions woman's board. She is the wife of a were asked. I asked him how it came prominent financier, and was a noted that he escaped death in the place he belle as Miss Kitty Wadley. She in- was, and he replied: "A soldier is fuses much energy and inspiration in never so safe as when he is at the front, fuses much energy and inspiration in hever so sale as when he is the her unselfish work and is one of the in the line of duty!" Another asked: "Oh, Gen. Keifer, what became of the

Mrs. W. C. Lanier, the first vice-president, is the wife of one of the wealthiest and most influential bankers of West Point, Ga. She is a stirring, able the United Presbyterian. woman and has already contributed much energy of thought and time to the great enterprise. The grounds for the exposition are situated in a most charming locality command a picturesque site and will loans. The women of New York are doing some splendid work and will send more exhibits of interest and beauty than any other state. The visitknown women as Mrs. Grover Cleveer, vice-chairman; Mrs. H. N. Higin-

MRS. LOUIE GORDON. Stevenson, Mrs. Roger A. Pryor, Miss

Frances Willard and Mrs. Fitzhugh F. Crisp and Mrs. H. W. Grady.

were invited by the chairman of the lar night. congress to read patriotic papers on the 18th and 19th of October. Mrs. Foster, the president-general and board of officers are to elect the speakers. Mrs. Jennie June Croly of New York

s chairman to co-operate with the chairman of congresses to elect readers from the state of New York during the monument was intended to comthe exposition.

Notable women from the council of women will be invited. Lady Somerset, stated in the act of the legislature mak-Lady Aberdeen, Miss Willard and others are to read papers on philanthropy, industry, education and temperance. had progressed for a year or two, some Many celebrated and clever women, thoroughly in sympathy with any work helpful and interesting to women will in a few features of the Mexican war. be invited to read papers.

The Newsboy Declined to Sell. A newsboy thought he was being tried as to his honesty the other day. V. hile standing at his usual place, says the New York Tribunc, a gentleman stepped up to him, and, buying newspapers for cents, offered a $5 bill in payment. The chap took the bill and began dinate and minor part in that drama. to scrutinize his customer-or, as the little fellows put it, "size him up"from top to bottom. After a long look the name of Lane, both of whom afterhe returned the money, and, taking ward became distinguished in civil life. back his papers, the youngster severely criticised the man for offering him so much money for something which costs only a few cents. The man went away grumbling. The boy afterward gave his opinion of the man in these few words: "That's one of dose ducks that wants to see if yez is honest. I can tell them fellows the moment I see 'em. I never seil papers to such blokes."

Bringing a Debtor to Time. To extract a debt of $13 which was still owed on a safe by a Shenandoah state in a civil capacity, but to connect the winter Mrs. Thorason resides at GOOD SHORT SKETCHES FOR OLD WARRIORS,

> The Brave Often Escape in the Hour of Danger-Horrible Fire Episode-Lincoln aud Hamlin-First Skirmish of the Thirty-ninth Ohio.

T has often happened that the bravest men escape in the hour of peril. I shall never forget bright morning in June, 1863. We were in the valley of Virginia. The sun had sunk the night before, looking down with his last glance on a scene of strife. He rose again in beauty. The Eastern sky was glowing with his presence. The slumbering world awoke. The leaves were drlpping wet with pearly dew. The clover blossomed in The scene was one of peace on earth. Mrs. J. K. Ohl is chairman of the But the demon of strife came down on I admired the rider in time of peace. some of us who had been in that battle sorrel horse?" The general answered him minutely, telling of the horse's life. I liked that soldier. He cared for beasts as well as men.-W. T. Meloy, D. D., in

Our First Skirmish.

When the three-months' boys were and are reached by a pleasant crive called, the Thirty-ninth Ohio was in through the most fashionable streets of the field, and like all fresh soldiers, were the city. The woman's building will eager for a fight. We were encamped in Virginia. Our pickets had been postbe easy of access from the main entrances to the grounds. Mrs. Duncar Joy of St. Louis has been selected subchairman of the fine arts, sculpture and appearance at any time, which we were in hopes would be the case, so we could show them what was in us, and send them away with something to think ing board is made up of such well about. After we had been in camp sevwere dreaming of our happy homes and how the old folks would open their arms when we returned home covered with glory. Our dreams were abruptly broken by a signal to be up and in arms. Every man jumped as though shot from a cannon, and in less time than I can tell it we had formed a line and were ready for any command. Silently and cautiously we moved out, ready to fire if any of the Johnnies showed, themselves. After moving several paces in the direction pointed out by the sentinel, we saw a Johnnie loom up in the darkness quite distinctly, and before the command could be given a dozen guns sent their contents into the peaceful figure dressed in a "boiled shirt" leaning against a tree. We could see him tremble, sway back and forth, but he held his ground, and did not even change his position. Another volley was sent with no better effect. So eager were we that a long, lank fellow stubbed his toe and fell headlong toward the supposed enemy, and in another moment was in the rear. Discouraged, we determined to wait till morning, and just as the sun was peeping over the Virginia hills, an investigation was made. and to our horror we found that we had shot the poor man out of his shirt, for there hung a reliable old shirt that one of the boys had hung up after the Lee, Mrs. Hoke Smith, Mrs. Rufus Bul- evening's wash. This was my first enlock, Mrs. E. P Howell, Mrs. Charles gagement. I served the three months and the following three years, but I The Daughters of the Revolution never felt braver than on that particu-

Indiana's Monument.

Indiana is building a "soldiers' monument." It has been at the work for a number of years. The movement was originally started by the G. A. R., and memorate the work of Indiana during the war of the rebellion. It was so ing an appropriation to the object. By some means, after the work of erection one connected with its management concluded to extend its scope, and work It was decided that somebody's statue should be added to the group of figures. to especially represent the state in the war on our southern neighbor, and now the legislature is wrangling over whose statue it shall be. Some want Governor Whitcombe and some the late General Manson. Whitcombe was governor at the time, and Manson played a subor-Indiana furnished two brigadier generals during the Mexican war, both by One was a senator from Oregon, and the other from Kansas. Henry S. Lane, who afterwards became governor of Indiana and represented the state in the United States senate, was also a conspicuous officer in the Mexican war. General Manson served creditably in the late war, and might well be taken as a fitting representative of Indiana's soldiery in that struggle, but to set up claims for him for services in the earlier war is by many characterized as a little ludicrous. Whitcombe is worthy of honor for his eminent services to the

Dark Deurs of 1864

In the memory of men who lved 2

Washington during the month, of July and August, 1864, those days will appear to be the darkest of the many dark days through which passed the friends and lovers of the federal union. The earlier years of the war, it is true, had been full of grief, despondency and even agony; but the darkness that settled upon us in the summer of 1864 was the more difficult to be endured because of its unexpectedness. The hopes so buoyantly entertained by our people when Grant opened his campaign in Virginia had been dashed. No joyful tidings came from the army now; a deadly calm prevailed where so lately resounded the shouts of victory. In every department of the government there was a manifest feeling of discouragement. In the field of national politics confusion reigned.

When congress adjourned on July 4, with the Wade-Davis construction bill still unsigned, the turmoil inside of the union republican party was something terrific, and when, a month later, the consternation of the republican leaders was very great. Early's invasion of Maryland and dash upon Washington, which caused a good deal panic in the country generally, occurred about the middle of July. Right on the heels of this event came the president's call for five hundred thousand men, which was issued July 18, and the placing of a new two million loan, which dropped upon the people about the same time. Nor was the military situation any more cheerful. The awful fighting in the Wilderness and at Cold Harbor had fairly startled the country by the enormous loss of life sustained by the army of the Potomac, apparently without any corresponding gain of position. The failure of the Petersburg mine July 30 was another addition to the burden carried in the hearts of patriotic Americans. Chase's resignation of the secretaryship of the treasury and the muddle which Horace Greeley had succeeded in creating by his futile mission to the rebel emissaries at Niagara Falls, had so worried the people that nobody appeared to know what was in the air -a compremise in the interest of peace or a more vigorous prosecution of the

Lincoln and Hamlin. I had hoped to see Mr. Hamlin renominated, and had anxiously given Mr. Lincoln many opportunities to say whether he preferred the renomination of the Vice-President; but he was craftily and rigidly non-committal, knowing, as he did, what was in my mind concerning Mr. Hamlin, He would refer to the matter only in the vaguest phrase, as "Mr. Hamlin is a very good man," or "You, being a New Englander, would naturally like to see Mr. Hamlin renominated; and you are quite right," and so on. By this time Lincoln's renomination was an absolute certainty, and he cheerfully conceded that point without any false modesty. But he could not be induced to express any opinion on the subject of the selection of a candidate for Vice-President. He did go so far as to say that he hoped that the convention tional amendment abolishing slavery as one of the articles of the party faith. But beyond that, nothing. I may say here that when I returned from the convention I made a verbal report to the President, and entertained him with an account of some of its doings of which he had not previously heard; and he was then willing to admit that he would have been gratified if Mr. Hamlin had been renominated. But he said; "Some of our folks (referring, as I believed, to Republican leaders) had expressed the opinion that it would be wise to take a War Democrat as candidate for Vice-President, and that, if possible, a border-state man should be the nominee." Mr. Lincoln appeared to be satisfied with the result, saying, "Andy Johnson, I think, is a good man." Nevertheless, I have always been confident that Lincoln, left to himself, would have chosen that the old ticket of 1860-Lincoln and Hamlin-should be placed in the field. It is reasonable to suppose that he had resolved to leave the convention entirely free in its choice of a candidate for the second place on the ticket.-From "Two War-Time Conventions," by Noah Brooks, in the Century.

Horrible Fire Episode.

Among the saddest memories of the fight at Chancelorsville is the Chancelorsville House. It was a large, two-story house, with a double veranda extending along the entire front. A good share of it had been converted into a temporary hospital for the reception of wounded soldiers. I had taken the names of those brought here. Some had intrusted me with messages to their relatives and friends. I remember giving some paper covered novels I had been reading to a wounded captain of the regular army, the lower part of whose right leg had been shattered by a piece of shell. "It will kill me, I know," he said, with a wan smile; for his leg had just been amputated, "to hear the groans of my wounded and dying comrades: but a good book will fill up the interval very nicely." It was not very long afterward that the flery fusillade from the enemy's guns set fire to the building. The belief at the time was that the enemy knew that it had been extemporized into a hospital. Be that as it mas, many of our brave and helpless wounded soldiers met there a horrible and excruciating death.-New York Herald.

He Wanted a Drink. Men have been known to steal in order to get a drink of whisky, but when a man will jump overboard from a boat and swim 200 yards in water as cold as that of Puget sound in order to get a drink he must indeed have a taste for liquor. Such a case happened at Seattle a few days ago. A man had just been signed as a sailor by the captain of the bark Arkwright for Australia, and he wanted to go ashore to get a drink. The captain refused, and the man deliberately leaped over the side of the boat into the bay and swam ashore, a distance of about 200 yards. The captain gave up all hope of ever seeing the man again, but he showed up in about an hour, none the worse for his plunge. He got not one drink, but several.

Now Buckles Have Lost Favor. After having been told that buckles for neck wear were necessities, buckles are rapidly vanishing, and the latest LIZARDS IN SINGAPORE.

The Cold, Clammy Creatures Get Into the

There are lizards in Singapore; large, scampering, suddenly-dropping things, of all sorts of colors. You see them on the walls of your hotel, in the sunshine, and admire them. At evening, sitting with a fan and 'ced drinks, one suddenly falls on you, and it is colder than your toddy. How can any organism, bred in this seething spot be so cold? You go to bed, you and your wife. Each has a canopied couch, rods remote from the other, for sleeping apartments are ample. You stretch out on a light mattress, over which is one sheet. For upper covering pull up the darkness and draw up the mosquito nets. There is no need of a sheet over you any more than there is for a warming pan.

The night orchestra, strange sounds of tropic insects and trees and airs outside, finally lulls you asleep. Presently-plunk! and then a scampering of some nimble-clawed thing on the floor near your bed. My lady, over at the other side of the vast waste of chamber, squeals: "A mouse!"

"Mouse be -!" The dash remains unspoken, but you assure her that it couldn't be mice. "Mice don't fail from the ceiling like a lump of mud. It's only the lizards!"

This cheerful information elicits no squeal. With mice out of the question, what woman would not be brave? There is a hush in the distant couch a silence too still for sleep. You know your partner lies over yonder listening hard for more lizards. Presently there are more little dull thuds. The lizards seem to be falling in several places. They seem to be chasing each other or some venomous prey, or possibly making away with your shoes. When one is fagged out with sight-seeing. to like awake in inky darkness, in the midst of a lizard carnival, is a little hard on the nerves. Ah, something is pulling at the canopy of your bed, as it a young kitten were trying to climb

There comes a very subdued voice from the distant corner: This is awful. Won't you get up and strike a light?"

"Ana step on the bloomin' cold beasts with my bare feet! You try it you're nearer the matches than I?" "But we we can't lie here like this.

Call somebody?" And one of the omnipresent "boys, who seems to have been on guard at the threshold, comes softly in. . The lizards will not hurt you, lady. They catch the mosquitoes and spiders. Sometimes they get under the nets on the bed; but don't you mind." Reassuring. very; but madame was ready for one tropic dawn hours before it came.

THE FISHING ROD.

There Is Nothing Like the Old Stick We Used to Use.

A rod to the angler is what the gun is to the huntsman or the at to the woodsman. The angler can fish with a 'pole' cut from the alders fringing the stream; the huntsman can shoot with the bow and flint-headel arrow used by the American aborigines, and the woodsman can cut with the ax of the 'stone age," but the success of the user of these primitive implements and the pleasure experienced in the use thereof will be in a degree as far from periection as the rude tools employed.

Who invented or first used the fishing rod is a problem not yet solved, states the American Angler. If the inventor's name had been handed down to posterity he would have been sainted centuries ago by the unanimous vote of an eminently respectable and cultivated minority of men who have treasured and wielded this pleasure-giving scepter.

While fishing and fishers are often mentioned in both sacred and profane history of ancient days, there is little, if anything, to be found relating to rods. Even Izaak Walton writes but little concerning them. In his fifth day discourse with Venator he gives instructions for painting the rods.

Which must be in oil; you must first make a size with a glue and water boiled together until the glue be dissolved and the size of a lye color; then strike your size upon the wood with a bristle, or a brush, or pencil. while it is hot. That being quite dry, take white lead, and a little red lead, and a little coal black, so much as altogether will make an ash color; grind these togethe. with linseed oil; let it be thick, and lay it thin upon the roa with brush or pencil; this will do for any color to be upon the

In the fourth day talk, in which he treats of fly-fishing, he says:

·First let your rod be light and very gentle; I take the best to be in two pieces."

While I am unable to give an authority for it. I have no doubt Walton meant by the words "very gentle." pliant or limber. The first master of the art thus, in one line, gives us the three most important qualities of a

The Same Old Game. .What are you busy with now.

Greathed?" 'I've organized a society for the reformation of society.' The reformation of society? That's rather a stupendous undertaking. isn't

.We hope to be able to do some-

·But it will take money." "Yes, but we expect to raise at east $10,000 a year from philanthropic people."

.Ten thousand dollars won't go far in such an undertaking."

'Is will be enough. There are only three of us in it. That gives a salary of $5,000 a year apiece and leaves a thousand for office excenses and reformation."-N. Y. Fress.

JAPANESE SOLDIERS' BIBLES.

When it became evident that the con-

How They Were Introduced and What the Officers Think of Them.

between Japan and China result in the defeat of the latter strong hopes were expressed that the subjugation of the Chinese and the overthrow of their empire would open the gates to the introduction of civilization, and with it Christianity, into that heretofore practically impenetrable country. It does not seem now that this will be the case. as the prospect is that the Chinese empire will remain intact, and its people will be allowed to maintain their old exclusiveness; but in Japan, on the other hand, the war seems to be having a most unexpected effect in advancing the spread of Christianity among the mikado's subjects. It was noted in the news dispatches some time ago that several native Christian ministers had been commissioned as chaplains in the army, and recent letters from missionaries in Japan tell of a remarkable distribution of Bibles among the soldiers. It began in a very informal way. Rev. Mr. Loomis, visiting the rendezvous at Hiroshima, thought he saw an opportunity to do some work among the soldiers, and accordingly, one Sunday, filled a basket with copies of one of the gospels and rode about the city in his finricksha, offering one to every soldier he met. Most of them were accepted, not only with the habitual Japanese politeness but with evident pleasure, for the Japanese soldier, like all of his countrymen, is fond of reading, and anything that would beguile the tedium of barrack life was welcome. More than 1,000 books were thus distributed in the course of an hour and a half, and in three days more than 4,000 portions of the Bible had been placed in the hands of the troops. Not only this, but with the assistance of one of the assistant secretaries to the cabinet, who is a christian, 2,000 volumes were sent to the fleet, where they were distributed by a Christian officer.

LUCKY TO BE AN AMERICAN.

William Giles Kitchen Claims an Estate Under the Statutes.

William Giles Kitchen has reason to congratulate himself on the fact that he is an American citizen. He filed a bill for partition in the superior court of Chicago the other day in which he sets up the claim that on account of his citizenship he is the only heir at law of Mrs. Sarah Smith, his aunt, who died on the 18th of March, leaving an estate of between $20,000 and $30,000. The deceased was the widow of Thomas M. Smith, who died about a year ago, leaving a will in which he gave all his estate to his wife during her lifetime and at her death the property, which consists of Chicago real estate, was to be sold and the proceeds divided among various relatives, most of them in England, John Rosthorn of Manchester, England, and Samuel Rosthorn of Crewe, were to receive $3,000 each, and Joseph, Charles, Jane and Eleanor Nickal of Lancashire, England, were to have $1,-000 each. Shortly after the death of her husband Mrs. Smith filed in the probate court a renunciation of her claims to a life estate under the will and elected to take, under the laws of this state, half of the estate after the payment of all claims against it. The balance was to go to the heirs at law. Before this arrangement had been carried out Mrs. Smith died without leaving a will, and the complainant now claims all the estate for the reason that he is the only one of the heirs who is a citizen of this country and capable of inheriting real estate under the laws of Illinois. The estate is held in trust by the Northern Trust company, which owns a half interest in the property, and Kitchen asks that it be sold by order of court and the proceeds divided. Under the will of Smith, Kitchen was a beneficiary to the extent of $1,000 only.

Grip in Paris.

A French newspaper, in an article on the grip, says there is hardly a family in Paris which has not suffered.

Pneumatic Boots.

The pneumatic principle has been applied to boots. The air tubes lie between the upper and lower soles, and give a springy movement to the foot calculated to reduce friction with the ground and to alleviate fatigue.

Champagne and Gout.

One of the latest medical theories is that champagne is responsible for much of the prevailing rheumatism and gout.

Powers Automatic Temperature Regulator.

Automatically Controls Any Heating Appa ratus. Main'ains a Uniform Temperature Without Any Attention to the Dampers

SAVES COAL. IS EASILY PLACED. SAVES DOCTOR BILLS.

PROMOTES HOME COMFORT. More than one thousand have been placed in the best homes in Chicago during the

Send for catalogue or call upon The Pewers Regulator Co., 26 Dearborn St.,

CHICAGO.

CURRENT SKETCHES FOR OUR JUNIOR READERS.

A Lullaby for a Contrary Baby-Where Boys and Girls Cannot Stay Out at Night - Bad Handwrit-

O TO SLEEP, GO little lamb hugs his mother sheep. The little waves nestle on the deep,

The little winds to their flowerbeds creep. Go to sleep, my baby dear. But don't go to sleep till morning

Rock-a-bye, rock-a-bye, The baby stars shine in the sky,

Each baby bird has shut his eye, Each baby bat is on the fly. Rock-a-bye, my baby, dear, But don't go to sleep till merning!

The Young Queen of Holland.

Her Serene Majesty Wilhelmina Helene Pauline Marie, queen of the Netherlands, is now a charming young girl of 14, where life so far has been as unclouded and happy as though no cares of state were hanging over her head for the future. She has no public duties to fulfil, and she will have none until she comes of age and is crowned. She lives very much as do other young girls of her age, except that much more is expected of her, and she is brought up with a constant preoccupation of her future destinies. Her life is very simple. She rises at 7, goes the first thing to say good morning to her mother, and then at 8 has her break-62.t, after which for three hours she in busy with her lessons and masters. Her first governess until she was 4 years old was a French woman, Mademoiselle Liotard, who was then replaced by the queen's English governess, Miss Winter, who has been with her ever since. Queen Wilhelmina is very bright and clever, and studies hard, so as to learn everything that the ruler of a kingdom should know. She has a great deal of spirit, and a quickness of comprehension that will stand her in good stead some day, as you can see by this little story. She was the idol of her old father during his lifetime, and one day, going into his private room, she found the king walking the floor with his hands clasped behind his back, in a thoroughly bad humor. He paid no attention to her as she entered. "Are you angry, papa?" she asked, going up to him. Her father either did not hear, or pretended not to do so. The princess stood for a second, and then crossing her own little hands resolutely up and down by the side of proceeded to fill his pockets from the her father, without saying a word, pockets of his victim. The king made two or three turns more, and then looking down at his small companion, he suddenly burst out laughing, and caught her up in his arms, with every trace of his ill-nature gone. This shows the woman of resource who understands managing men.-Harper's Young People.

On Bad Handwriting.

One of the most important things for boys or girls to learn to do is to write plainly, so that those who have to read what they write are left in no doubt as to their meaning. Several amusing stories of the embarrassment which has followed not learning to write legibly are told. One of these is of a Massachusetts clergyman who nearly got himself into a peck of trouble because of the bad quality of his handwriting. It was more than a century ago that this clergyman had occasion to address a letter to the general court of Massachusetts upon some subject of great interest at that time. When the letter was received the court ordered the clerk to read it, and was filled with wrath at what appeared to be these words in opening:

"I address you not as magistrates, but as Indian devils." 'What!" they cried. "Read that over again. How does he address us? "Not as magistrates, but as Indian devils," repeated the clerk. "That's what he says."

The letter was passed around, and the judges were by no means pleased to see that the clerk had apparently made no mistake. Very angry at what they believed to be an insult, the judges passed a vote of censure upon the clergyman, and wrote to him demanding an apology. He came before them in person, when it turned out that where the judges had read Indian devils he had written individuals-which, of course, nade an apology unnecessary; but the reverend gentleman was admonished to improve his handwriting if he wished to keep out of trouble.

A Housewifely Esquimo Girl.

Here is a little Esquimo girl who lives at Point Barrows, Alaska, one of the northmost towns in the world. Besides being taught how to read and write, mathematics, geography, singing, etc., the children of Point Barrows are instructed in the art of cooking. There is little cooking done in Alaska, where fuel for fire is scarce, and where the atmosphere is so clear, crisp and pure, that meats and fish are preserved and prepared for food. The missionaries are teaching the children of frigid Alaska the art of cooking and housekeeping. and are providing them with better homes and more comforts than they have hitherto known. Alaska, as all our children know, was purchased by the United States from Russia shortly after the civil war. It is an immense country separated from Siberia, the land into which the great white czar sends prisoners who plot against his life or the government, by Behring strait. Alaska is almost a barren country, the cold preventing vegetation in any profusion. The people are abjectly poor, but they have few wants, and the struggle for money has not yet found place among the natives. Uncle Sam, in order to improve the condition of his Esquimo wards, is stocking the the labor problem. One of the horny bears it was noted that almost all precious stones can be etched by the same means. The diamond alone, of all stones tried, resists the action, but worked with his head.

The Congregationalists have employed a general missionary in Cincinnati to staken back to their homes.

The Congregationalists have employed a general missionary in Cincinnati to study the field, and provide for churches in neglected spots.

The labor problem. One of the horny the ambulance car to their very doors.

The labor problem. One of the horny the ambulance car to their very doors.

The labor problem. One of the horny the ambulance car to their very doors.

The labor problem. One of the horny the ambulance car to their very doors.

The following and is a very amusing conversational to sit. If a conversational the most all precious stones can be etched by the same means. The diamond alone, of all stones tried, resists the action of all stones and the same means. The diamond alone, of all stones tried, resists the action of all the ambulance car to their very doors.

The following the ambulance car to their very doors.

The congregationalist, words in the English language at the most all precious stones can be etched by the same means. The diamond alone, of all stones tried, resists the action of all the ambulance car to their very doors.

The congregational the most all precious stones can be etched by the same means. The diamond alone, of all stones tried, resists the action of all the most all precious stones can be etched by the same means. The diamond alone, of all stones tried, resists the action alone, of all stones tried, resists the action. It is suggested that with alone of the incomprehensibility, anthropout the present writing: Subconstitutionalist, and the same means and the resist in most all precious stones can be etched by the same means. The diamond alone, of all stones tried, resists the action. It is suggested that in the land of the diamond alone, of all stones tried, resists the ac

Boyish Insanity.

Interference with the course of true love, it appears from a New York case. is nothing less than insanity. George Vezelman annoyed his two pretty alsters, and consequently George is said to be insane. When a "likely young man," as the saying is, called upon either sister, George would persist in remaining in the parlor. When two "likely young men" called on both sisters George would work overtime to make it disagreeable for both, says the Chicago Post. He would make remarks that tended to discourage the young men, and apparently was not susceptible to bribes of any kind. His father argued with him to no avail; his sisters pleaded with no better success. He enjoyed the sport too much to stop in his mad ca-With some boys it might have been explained on the ground that he was devoted to his sisters and feared that he might lose them, but no such idea occurred to any member of the Vezelman family. It was insanity, they all said, and finally they called in a policeman and had him locked up on that charge. It was well to have the matter settled definitely, but in view of the explanation what girl will dare attempt to estimate the number of cases of insanity among younger brothers? The thought alone must be appalling to any one of a statistical turn of mind.

A Dude Dog. Jacques, a snuff colored terrier, was reared by Major Hillard's family at Nut Hollow, N. J. His friends pampered him so that he became a regular dude dog and developed traits of cowardice that finally disgusted Major Hillard. In fact, the latter grew so sick of the beast that, it is believed, he hired his son to take him away and lose him. Once forced to shift for himself Jacques became a terrible bully-he came of fighting stock-and soon he was the terror of the neighborhood which he had entered. He returned to Major Hillard's recently on a visit, but was promptly ejected after he had tried to kill the cat. Then he went over to Joseph Wipert's and gave the latter's dog a thrashing. From Wipert's he passed on and laid out a pet belonging to Joseph Dilly, and then went across the border line upon Farmer Van Nester's land. Dilly saw him and shot him, and now is sued by his neighbor for malicious mischief and trespass. Dilly contends that Van Nester cannot recover as he never owned the dog, and threatens to bring a cross suit for damages on account of his injured bull terrier. Wipert, whose pet was so badly infured that it died, is waiting to bring suit for damages as soon as 'Squire Sarge determines who owned the dog in the days of its depravity.

On the Road.

The highwayman had called the good gentleman from his steed and at the point of his arquebus was compelling him to render unto seizer the things that were not seizer's. The good gentleman protested, for he was rich in plunder, and was loth to give up to the robber But the robber was greatly behind her back, she began to walk pleased with the situation and calmly

"My friend," pleaded the good gentleman, it is not meet that you should thus take my money, my watch and my jew-

"I should say it wasn't," replied the robber, his eye sparkling with greed and glee. "I should say it wasn't meet;

Having secured all the good gentleman possessed, he added his richly caparisoned steed to his other accumulations and rode away laughing merrily.

Cannot Stay Out Late. The famous Mosier ordinance, providing that all children under 16 years of age shall leave the streets at 9 o'clock, when curfew rings, has gone into effect and is rigidly enforced at Stillwater, Minn. Any child found on the street after 9 o'clock is compelled if not the child is either home or to the city jail, and parents notified that they must aid in enforcing the ordinance thereafter. Some boys are so venturesome that they remain out after the bell has tolled just for the purpose of tantalizing the officers, but several of them have come to grief and to the lock-up. The ordinance has operated in all close questions. Mr. Cox was a very satisfactorily thus far, and that other cities throughout the state can see the good results of the movement is demonstrated by the number of applications received from everywhere for copies of the ordinance and for short sketches of how it operates.

German Clock School.

The clock school at Furawangen, in the Black Forest, Germany, established by the duke of Baden in 1877, furnishes three years' instruction in preparatory clock making and supplementary courses It comprises theory and practice, the higher mechanics and electricity. The means of instruction include a large collection of all kinds of tools, instruments, drawings, models, etc., and carefully constructed and equipped school premises. Factories, electric plants, etc., are often visited under the direction of the teachers or of the mechanics employed in the places visited. The library contains books relating to clock and watch making and electricity. Reading rooms, drawing rooms, laboratories, etc., are open to the pupils daily.

Hypnotized a Boy. Joseph Orr, a 12-year-old boy of Brooklyn, who was discovered wandering in the streets after being away from three days, has been almost constantly delirous since he was found. The doctor who is attending him says that there is evidence that the boy was hypnotized. The lad was delirous when found, and became unconscious soon after being taken home. He said: "I met a man who put a red handkerchief over my face, and then I didn't know anything more until I woke up in Greenwood cemetery. It was awfully cold there, and I got up and walked a long, long way." The boy, in his delirium, gives utterances and expressions of fear and pleading.

Bad on the Lawyer.

A few days since, at Buena Vista, the boys 'round the grocery store tackled the labor problem. One of the horny

POLITICS HIS FIELD.

A YOUTHFUL POLITICIAN OF NEW YORK.

Theodore Cox, President of the National College League, Has Just Become of Age, but Is Skilled in the Art of Politics.

HEORODE COX has just passed his 21st birthday and will cast his first presidential vote in 1896, yet he has been active in New York and league politics for three years. His first recognized work was during the last presidential campaign in 1892, when his various articles on campaign topics and questions of the day were published in the American Journal of Politics, the Social Economist, the Yonker's Statesman and other political organs, and excited much favorable comment among the thinking politi-

Mrs Cox was born in Port Richmond, Staten island, January 1, 1874, and is the only surviving child of Allyn Cox, the present treasurer of the New York, Chicago & St. Louis (Nickel-Plate) railroad, whose home has been for some years in Yonkers-on-the-Hudson. He is a nephew of ex-Gov. J. D. Cox of Ohio, and also of Chas. F. Cox, vicepresident of the Canada Southern railroad. His education has been chiefly under private tutors at home, although he spent two years at the Dwight school in New York, the principal having been a former tutor. He is not a college graduate, but in the fall of 1893 he passed the preliminary examination and entered the law school of the University of the City of New York, whose quarters were then in the old buildings on Washington square. Mr. Cox was immediately elected president of his class, after a close contest, and despite the fact that he was one of the youngest members of a class of over one hundred students. In April, 1894, the third annual convention of the American Political College league, representing one hundred colleges of the United States, was held at Syracuse, and Mr. Cox determined to enter the presidential contest. His opponent was Mr. Shirley E. Johnson of Harvard, one of the founders and a high official of the league. Since his election, Mr. Cox has spared no pains to make his term of office a successful one and to advance the interests of the league in all possible directions. He has put the organization on a self-supporting basis Leinster, the premier duke, marquis through a small annual tax, has formed department leagues all over the counvention at Denver, last July. Each club in the league was allowed one vote in the national league, and as there were at that time ninety-one clubs in the college league, this rule made the college league of equal standing with the state leagus and gave them great power warm partisan of President Tracy's, and threw the influence of the college league in his support. Attempts were convention. These motions were overpresident.

THEODORE COX.

Mr. Cox is now serving his second term as president of the Young Men's Political club of Yonkers, a thriving organization, whose members include all the politicians and office-holders of the city under 40 years of age.

A Street Car Ambulance.

The establishment of an "ambulance" street car" service in St. Louis is the putting into effect of an idea long contended for by the health commissioner of that city, Dr. George Homan. Efforts to secure legislation having failed, Dr. Homan succeeded in interesting the officials of a street car company, who have built an ambulance car after a plan made by the doctor. This vehicle in itself is only a modified street car, especially constructed for easy and relatively noiseless running along trolley lines, and fitted up with such apparatus as might be needed by invalids who temporarily occupy it while en route to a hospital. But the plan on which the to be altogether unique. It will pass over regular routes, presumably, all trolley lines of the city, for the exclusive purpose of conveying sick or injured persons to and from hospitals. as it runs according to schedule, patients may be ready at any given locality at the time when the car is due here. It is expected that hospitals not on a trolley line will build terminals connecting them with the nearest railway, that patients may be brought by the ambulance car to their very doors.

in neglected spots.

A MOTED BEAUTY.

Was the Enches of Leinster Who Died the Other Day.

The Dyohess of Leinster died at Menone recently. Aside from the queen, the ess of Wales, and Lady Randolph rchill there was probably no woman of high social standing in England whose features are more familiar to American newspaper readers than the beautiful Duchess of Leinster. For years her portrait has been published in the newspapers as one of the most perfect types of feminine loveliness known in modern times, and her photographs, both alone and with her almost equally lovely sisters, the Ladies Helen, Mabel, and Ulrica Duncombe, or with her children, have been sold by thousands in the United States. The Duchess of Leinster was, before her marriage in 1884, known as Lady Hermoine Duncombe, her full name being Hermoine Wilhelmina, and she was the third child and eldest daughter of William Ernest Duncombe, first Earl of Feversham, Viscount Helmsley and Baron Feversham, of Duncombe Park, in the county of Yorkshire, his titles of earl and viscount having been created in 1868 and the barony in 1826. Lady Hermoine was born in 1864 and grew up to be one of the most beautiful women in English history, her presentation at court being signalized by a veritable sensation in fashionable circles. She was naturally the belle of the season, and being a young woman of exceeding charm of manner, as well as of exceptional beauty, her heart and hand were sought by many of the unmarried young noblemen and the prize carried off by General Fitzgerald, fifth duke of and earl of Ireland, who led her to the altar in January, 1894, when she was 20 and he 33 years of age. The duke died after a long attack of typhoid fever on Dec. 1, 1893, since which time his widow has not been seen in society, and she went to the south of France early shattered health, which had never recovered from the strain of nursing her husband. Of the importance of the Fitz-Geralds-that being the Duke of Leinster's family name—some idea may be had by those who are initiated in such matters when it is stated that "Burke's Peerage" devotes almost four pages to the history of the dukedom. The beginning of the record shows that the family dates in the history of England from the year 1057, when one Dominus Otho came from Normandy and became a great favorite of Edward the Confessor, through whose acts of kindness his possessions became enormous. The Irish creations of the family titles are: Baron of Offaly, by tenure; Earl, 1316; Marquis, 1761; Duke, 1766. English honors: Viscount, 1747. Honors of the United Kingdom: Baron, 1870. From this it will be seen what a tremendous swell from an English point of view is the little 8-year-old boy Maurice Fitz-Gerald, who now bears the title of the sixth Duke of Leinster.

THE DUCHESS OF LEINSTER.

HE IS AFTER DANA.

Frank B. Noyes Alleges Libel on Part of the New York "Sun." Frank B. Noyes, treasurer of the Washington Evening Star, and one of the board of directors, and of the executive committee of the Associated made to remove all privileges from the Press, is making a big fight for vincollège league and restrict their vote dication against the imputations pubto the actual delegates present at the lished in the New York Sun, reflecting upon his character as a journalist. ruled and a violent controversy took | Charles A. Dana and William M. Lufplace, in which the college league came fan, editor and publisher of the Sun, out triumphant. Their rank is now that have been indicted for libel. After he of a state league, on a par with the state | was elected to the directorate the Sun, league of Ohio. The college league is notwithstanding the injunction, "If you fully recognized as an important factor, | see, it in the San it's so," took occasion and has men on all national league com- to say that he is notoriously dishonest, mittees and a national league vice- A wag has come to the front now and

FRANK B. NOYES. ambulance car is to operate is believed says, "If you see it to the Sun its

> An Interesting Process of Etching. Examinations have been made in drawing designs on glass with aluminium pencils. After this the glass is coated by an acid which dissolves the aluminium and etches the design in extremely delicate and perfect lines on the glass surface. This proves that a true chemical union occurs between the glass and the aluminium. In the course of experiments it was noted that alness of the diamond.

CORNER OF ODDITIES.

SHORT SKETCHES OF RARE HAPPENINGS.

A Feathered Spy-An Island Floating on the Ocean-Dr. White's Queer Accident-Halos Seen in the Heavens by a Party of Iowans.

With its headpiece ward gold. fashioned pillows Trimmed with ruffles, white and thin, And the cover soft and downy When my mother tucked me in.

Yes, there may be bods far better, As to make and ornament, Angels made of shining brass, Leaning o'er you, heavenward bent; Give me back that "old four-poster," With its ruffles white and thin, And the angel face that leaned there When my mother tucked me in.

Oh, the gentle, gentle breathing To her dear heart's softer beat, And the quiet, quiet moving Of her soft-shod little feet; And Time, one boon I ask thee, Whatso'er may be my sin, When indying, let me see her, As she used to tuck me in. -Bettie Garland.

Block Island on the Move.

Watch Hill., R. I., Special: Avery Monroe Gray has returned from a winter spent on Block Island. He reports that there has not been a severer winter there since 1843-44; that the force of wind was never greater, and that the curios fact that the island is slowly but surely moving toward Connecticut and Rhode Island was never more noticeable than during the blizzard weather early in February. The great vehemence of the gales, which are always heavy there, sixty-five miles an hour being common, startled even the during the gales cut out great masses of clay from the cliffs at the southeastern corner of the island, digging far into the cliffs and grinding out huge aspect of the bluffs materially changed. As in former winters, the earth thus claimed to be a lawyer. After a nectaken by the waves was swept from essarily short courtship en route she the stately cliffs around to the north-she started for Carlinville to tell Buel western part of the island, to Sandy Point. This is a long sandy spit that bought her a ticket. While crossing is ever growing and extending out to the bridge she discovered that $500 in the northward and westward. The spi was lengthened five or six rods by the expressed for years that Rock Island will slowly move from before such storms as it has just passed through until it reaches Rhode Island and Connecticut in the form of a long sand bar. Judging from this winter, the travelings of the island will be completed in a few thousand years, says Mr. Gray.

His Feathered Spy.

"Few persons in this country have ever heard of the rhinoceros bird," says as it may seem, it has indirectly caused and proprietor in general of the rhiis about the size of a cat-bird. Fortunately for African hunters, the ugly brute's eyes are weak and so situated that its range of vision is extremely limited, it being able to discern only objects directly in front of it. As a cosequence it would be an easy matter for a hunter to approach near enough to the rhinoceros to get an effective shot, but for the vigilance of the rhinoceros bird. This feathered sentinel perches on the back of the rhinoceros, and when It sees or hears an animal approaching, at once sets up a great fluttering and screaming, and flies at the intruder. The rhinocerus always heeds the warning and follows fast in the wake of his tiny guardian, ready to do battle and deal death to any living creature except the bird. As compensation for the bird's services, the rhinoceros per- spots. mits it to perch upon his back and dig into its tough hide and feast upon the worms it finds there.

Not Sufficiently Soaked.

A certain society young man was placed in a most embarrasing position the other day. It happened in this way. A house in which is located a pawnbroker's office is owned by a prominent friend to the young man. On the day in question both chanced to meet in the pawnshop. They were there in the interest of their property, the one real and the other personal. The young man had raised the required amount to take his watch out of soak, and when he first entered failed to recognize the lady. The pawnbroker, however, knew both, and before the man could speak, called aloud, "Mr. ---, your watch is not done yet." Then came the recognition blushing and tipping his hat till it fairly rattled on his head. Then, for she had neglected to bring an important a bluff, he began looking at some umbrellas, which heightened the absurdity the hotel, two blocks away. She there of his position. When he left he was met some dear friends from London who as red as a beet. Now the society buds are softly whispering the story to each the Moor and the kodak. After dinner,

Active at 107 Years.

Burryport, Llanelly, Eng., who last year received a check of 55 fs. from the Princess of Wales, or a shilling for each natal anniversary, celebrated recently her one hundred and seventh birthday.

The following are the nine learnest. She is in possession of all her faculties,

The Dog DM 200 Run Away Hazelton, Pa., Special: John Garing, her and Peter Harkins, two young men of Silverbrook, through an oversight to day, almost lost their lives, besides throwing the entire community into a state of excitement. A dog owned by Henry Yansis was the first to excite the town, and it was pronounced mad. Gallagher and Harkins went to the rescue of the villagers and succeeded in corralling the canine in an old stable at the outskirts of the village, when they proceeded to dispatch the dog with a gun, but, being poor marksmen, failed in their purpose. It was then decided stood there, to make short work of the dog with dynamite. Accordingly a stick of the back- explosive with a cap fuse was tied to rolled, the animal's body and the fuse ignited. And its broad and The boys then ran to a place of safety. heavy tester In their haste they had forgotten to Lined with plait- secure their dog, and, to their horror, ings, blue and found him chasing after them. The dynamite was liable to be exploded any the great old- moment, and to save themselves they climbed a tree. They were ten feet from the ground when the dynamite exploded. The dog was blown to atoms and the earth dug away from the bottom of the tree so that it toppled over. Both boys were struck by the flying debris, but escaped dangerous injuries. The terrific shock alarmed the entire neighborhood.

Dr. White's Queer Accident.

Dr. Homer H. White of Earlville, N. Y., had a very peculiar accident recently. Accompanied by his wife he was making his professional calls. As he drove upon the iron bridge north of our village over Chenango river there was a few rods of bare ground. The cutter drew so hard that the horse choked down just as the cutter struck the planking. The horse reeled and plunged over the side of the bridge into the river. The doctor, clinging to the lines, was thrown over the horse into the river. His head lacked only a few inches of hitting on the ice. Los ded down with bearskin coat and winter clothes, he had hard work to get himself out, but finally did so without serious injury to himself. Mrs. White landed on the bridge with 'a slight bruise on her head. As the horse went over the bridge his rear feet were tangled in the cords and other framework of the bridge, and he hung there by the rear legs with his head just under water and drowned. The cutter was smashed.

Fell in Love With a Stranger,

A well-dressed young woman, who said she was Mrs. Emma Dwyer, of oldest settlers. The overwhelming seas Chattanooga, Tenn., left a Chicago and Alton train at the relay depot in St. Louis the other day and reported that she left Chattanooga for Carlinsville, Ill., where she was to meet and marry Roland Buel, also of Chattanooga. On cores of earth mixed with stones. Many the train she met a stranger, who came of the old footpaths on this corner of aboard at Evansville, Ind. She became the island have been cut away and the infatuated with the stranger, who said he was John Lynch, of St. Louis, and about her change of mind, and Lynch her reticule, which Lynch had carried output from the southeastern clay cliffs for her. Lynch was arrested and additing the winter. The opinion has been story, except the theft of the $500. This he strenuously denied.

Mr. Thornburg's Knife Found.

Richmond, Ind., Special: James Laman lives near Dalton, this county, and while sawing down the brisket of a beef the saw came in contact with something which had a metallic ring, and stopped it. On investigation it was found to be a pocket knife, with the little blade wide open. It had become incased in a sort of pocket or gristle in the lower part of the stomach, but A. L. Jenkins of Cape Town, Africa. the brass lining and wooden handle "Small as this bird is, and inoffensive were as perfect as when swallowed. The cow was in splendid condition, and the death of many a hunter. The rhi- on inquiry it was found that while the noceros bird is the volunteer vedette property of William R. Thornburg he had used a knife to cut a rope while noceros. It is a variety of thrush, and breaking her to milk, and laid it down, but could never find it.

Series of Halos in the Heavens.

A phenomenon in the heavens was witnessed the other day by nearly every inhabitant of Ottumwa, Ia. It lasted for thirty minutes, disappearing as it came. It was a series of halos. The sun was encircled by a broad ring of prismatic colors, about 40 degrees in diameter. Inside was the arc of a second ring of similar nature. A third ring of bright white light, 60 degrees in width, to the west of the halo, the sun occupying a point exactly in its circumference. A still larger arc like a huge rainbow, totally apart from the others hung gracefully in the east. Old citizens say that nothing has ever been seen like it since 1855, when a similar phenomenon was observed, with an extra ring and more pronounced sun

Actor Haworth Shows His Grit. Boston, Mass., special: Actor Joseph

Haworth met with quite a serious accident at the Castle Square theater. During the fencing scene in the third act of "Richard IH." Howard Gould, who appeared as the Earl of Richmond. made a false thrust. Mr. Haworth failed to catch the thrust and point of Gould's rapier pierced the glove of Mr. Haworth's right hand, society woman who is an intimate nearly cutting off the thumb. Mr. Haworth managed to finish the scene. but when the curtain fell he fainted and had to be carried to his dressing room. A doctor found that the nail of the thumb had been torn off and the flesh from the tip of the first joint taken off down to the bone.

A Model of Patience.

Recently an English lady who desired to take the portrait of a ragged, but "picturesque" Moor, whom she met on from the lady. The man bowed low, the street in Algiers got him in position, but found upon examination that part of her kodak. So she ran back to had just arrived; so she forgot all about 8 o'clock, she remembered; so, with an escort, she hurried to the spot. There the old Moor sat, just as she had left him, facing the instrument. "Long Mrs. Sarah Thomas, centenarian, of time take picture," he said. He had been

The following are the nine longest

ESTABLISHED IN 1885. Published Every Saturday at BENDINGTON, - - - ILLINOIS. -BY-

* T. LAMEY, Editor and Publisher.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE: $1.00

Entered at the postoffice at Barrington.

per Year in Advance.

RAILROADS.

E. J. & E. RY. TIME TABLE.

SOING NORTH. STATIONS. GOING SOUTH
4:30 pm ar Waukegan dep. 7:00 ar
4:00 pm Rondout 6:30 ar
2:55 pm Leithton 8:50 ar
2:45 pm Diamond Lake 8:57 ar
2:35 pm Gilmer, 9:12 ar
2:20 pmLake Zurich10:05 ar
1:40 pm Barrington 10:36 av
1:10 pm Clarks 10:55 ar
12:45 pm Spaulding 12:15 pr
1:10 pmClarks10:55 ar 12:45 pmSpaulding12:15 pr 11:27 amWayne12:35 pr
11:15 am Ingalton 12:45 pr
11:00 am 1:25 pm
10:00 am Warrenhurst 2:00 pm
9:15 am Frontenac 2:20 pm
8:50 am Mormantown 2:45 pm
8:15 am Walker 3:10 nn
7:50 am Plainfield 3:35 pm
7:28 am Covnes
7:00 am Bridge Junction 4:05 pm
5:50 am dep East Joliet ar. 4:15 pm
0 0 11 111

C. & N. W. R. R. TIME TABLE.

GOING SOUTH. 8:10 a. m., except Sunday. 6:45 a. m., except Sunday. 6:55 a. m., Sunday only. 7:00 a. m., except Sunday. 7:56 a. m., daily. 9:00 a. m., except Sunday. 10:03 a. m., except Sunday. 12:25 p. m., daily. 3:08 p. m., except Sunday. 4:25 p. m., Sunday only. n. m., daily. 8:44 p. m., Sunday only. 8:50 r. m., Sunday only.

8:20 a. m., except Sunday. 9:13 a. m., except Sunday. 10:30 a. m., daily. 12:10 p. m., except Sunday.*
3:00 p. m., Saturday and Sunday only.*

GOING NORTH.

5:02 p. m., except Sunday. 6:09 p. m., except Sunday. 6:12 p. m., Sunday only. 7:25 p. m., except Sunday. 7:55 p. m., daily.* 8:00 p. m., except Saturday. 12:50 a. m , daily.* *To Barrington only.

"Don't Tobacco Spit or Smoke Your Life Away.

The truthful, startling title of a book about No-to-bac, the only harmless, guaranteed to-bacco-habit cure. If you want to quit and can't, use "No-to-bad." Braces up nicotinized nerves, eliminates nicotine poisons, makes weak men gain strength, weight and vigor. Positive cure or money refunded.

Book at druggists, or mailed free. Address The Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago, 45 Randolph street; New York, 10 Spruce street.

Iains, next Sunday evening.

For ladies' stylish snoes that will fit your feet and are easy to wear, the place to find them is at A. W. Meyer & Co.'s.

An entertainment and temperance lecture will be given at the Baptist church, Barrington, Ill., Thursday evening.

Send your address to H. E. Bucklen box of Dr. King's New Life Pills. A trial will convince you of their merits. These pills are easy in action and are particularly effective in the cure of Malaria and Liver troubles they have been proved invaluable. They are guaranteed to be perfectly free from every deleterious substance and to be purely vegetable. They do not in Chicago.

weaken by their action, but by giving tone to stomach and bowels greatly invigorate the system. Regular size 25 cents per box. Sold by A. L. Waller. Druggist. Do You Want to Rent?

It May Do as Much for You. Mr. Fred Miller of Irving, III., the board and Miles T. Lamey clerk.
writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so called kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began use of Electric Bitters and kidney and liver troubles and often day. gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price only 50 cents for large bottle. At A. L. Waller's drug store.

than half the homes in Leeds.-Sims ker made a bright presentation speech. In the opposite direction; from this it Bros., Leeds, Iowa. This shows the esteem in which that remedy is held given at the entertainment next Thurs- has a hole in the bottom, and, as this where it has been sold for years and is day evening hole in well known. Mothers have learned that there is nothing so good for colds. croup and whooping cough, that it Leader was in town Wednesday. cures these ailments quickly and permanently, and that it is pleasant and morning at the Cook county hospital to whirl around until the surface is safe for children to take. 25 and 50 from the effects of an accident which covered with the larger particles of imcent bottles for sale by A. L. Waller, occurred just one week before. Mr. purity, which collect near the middle, son of Bolan, Worth county, Iowa, who and was respected by all. He will be whirling serving to separate the purer had been troubled with rheumatism in missed. his back, arms and shoulders read an item in his paper about how a prominent German citizen of Fort Madison. had been cured. He procured the same medicine, and to use his own words: ing. "It cured me right up." He also says: "A neighbor and his wife were both sick in bed with rheumatism. Their boy was over to my house and said they were so bad he had to do the cooking. I told him of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and how it had cured me.

It will be an aggreable surprise to one can use it. many increases the attack may be prevented by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms of the disease appear. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. L. Walier, druggist.

Big drop in prices of men's and boy's hats at A. W. Meyer & Co.'s.

Easter Sunday was celebrated in a from iron thus purified are said to be extremely sound and solid.

NO MEDICAL EXAMINATION REQUIRED.

OPPOSITE THE DIPOT. A. L. Walier, druggist.

next Thursday evening at the Baptist feast. The following is the menu: church. A rare treat is in store for those again listening to the gifted orator and coffee, milk. advocate of temperance. Mrs. Lake was one of the prominent speakers of the will sing. There will also be music and to over one million people? recitations by the best local talent. Lovers of high class entertainment, and annot afford to miss this event.

lay at Avondale.

his mother. Mrs. A. T. Ulitsch spent Sunday with lows: er parents at Palatine.

Mrs. Clute, who has been quite sick s improving

The W. R. C. meet Wednesday evenas. April 24. 'Important business will Chorus-"Lead Kindly Light"..... be transheted. Mrs. Hicks of Boston visited with her sod, Mr. C. A. Wheeler Sunday. Clarence Sizer has secured a position If you want the latest improved sew-

Standard, sold by A. W. Meyer & Co.

Hight new members were received in the M. E. church Easter Sunday, and it is impossible to give it complete for were five baptisms. Mrs. M. C. McIntosh was received by to $23.52, At the M. E. charch and Bap- The One He Told Before the Curtain to letter, Mrs. Meier, Misses Alice Meier tist church there was interesting serand Gertrude Meyer were received in full membership. Mr. Heise, Wilbur Harnden, Mrs. Smith, Misses Sally Baker, and Laura Wilmer were baptized. Miss Rule Nimsgearn of Fairfield visited Barrington friends last week.

home. You can buy the best schuttle sewing machine made for $25 cash at A. W. Meyer & Co.'s.

Miss Anna Krahn spent Easter at

Saturday evening, April 20, there will be a school election at the school house for the purpose of electing a president, and six members of the school board. This is an election that should be of charged Aug. 15, 1865. He was a charter interest to every voter in Union District member of Barrington Post No. 275, G. No. 10. Don't forget to vote.

Rev. T E. Ream returned home Saturday after a visit with relatives in Louse Thursday afternoon, Rev. Robert the vicinity of Elgin.

Men's plow shoes at $1, $1.15 and $1.25 a pair at A. W. Meyer & Co.'s.

We are in receipt of a magazine entitled "Art in Dress," which is presented with compliments by Messrs. Thorne & Mead, the leading clothiers of gives many illustrations of the correct things in men's wear.

Rev. T. E. Ream will preach from the topic: "God's Veto in Human Affairs," next Sunday evening.

ing. April 25. The people of Barrington of hearing Mrs. L. M. Lake of St. Louis. who is an eloquent speaker and a well-& Co., Chicago, and get a free sample known advocate of temperance. The feature of the entertainment will be the singing of Miss Edna M. Crawford, the charming soprano of the Chicago Musi- next Sunday evening, April 21. Mr. cal college, assisted by the best local Jones will sing some ancient drudical Constipation and Sick Headache. For talent. Tickets are now on sale. An songs in the Welsh language. All are admission of 25 cents will be charged.

Mrs. Pacholy of Chicago is visiting her daughter, Mrs. John Meier.

Mrs. James Kitson is visiting relatives Mr. John Doffner of Chicago spent Sunday in Barrington.

Parties from Elgin were here this week trying to buy Mr. John C. Dobler's saloon stock.

If you want to save money buy your spring capes and jackets at A. W. We have the renting of dwellings in Meyer & Co.'s, $2 up.

different localities of Barrington, If The village election Tuesday passed you wish to rent call at the REVIEW off very quietly. Much interest was office and see what we have for you. shown in the election, however, 201 bal-4t lots being cast, which is the largest vote ever cast in the history of the village. The only opposition on the ticket was For Rent. -A flat consisting of five for village trustee. The vote for trustees ing with Mr. George Stiefenhoefer rerooms over A W. Meyer & Co.'s store, stood as follows: Wm. Peters received turned to her home in Logansport, Ind., For particulars call on A. W. Meyer. 184 votes, John Robertson 183, F. O. Willmarth, 116, H. C. P. Sandman 82. F. H. Hawley was elected president of

Mr. and Mrs. George Johns of Chiago spent a few days last week with Riet, as described in La Revue Indusais father, Mr. G. W. Johnson Mrs. Thos. Dolan, Miss Margaret La- Impurities time to separate from the found relief at once. Electric Bitters mey and others attended the funeral of melted from before it runs into the

the M. E. church Saturday after-of Mrs. John Robertson last week. Fitz Simmons with a handsome brass Now, the iron is poured from the ladle Our better halves say they could not and onyx table as an Easter gift, in into the larger hollow, where it whirls house without Chamberlain's appreciation of musical instruction re- around for a time and then escapes Remedy. It is used in more ceived during the past year. Karl Vol- into the second basin, where it revolves

Jackson was well known in this vicinity the centrifugal force developed by the

Do not fail to hear Miss Crawford, the charming concert singer, at the Baplist church next Thursday even- churn. By the tangential channel the

It only requires a trial to convince you ion, where the same process is rethat A. W. Meyer & Co.'s Fancy Patent | peated, the scoriae, which are now in Flour is the best and cheapest to buy. Fred Bennett of Woodstock was here on business Saturday.

bject to attacks of billious Mesdames C. B. Otis, Flora Lines, arn that prompt relief may Luella Austin and Miss Maude Otis attaking Chamberlain's Colic, tended services at one of the Catholic inverted cone, the base of which ocand Diaarhoea Remedy. In churches in Chicago Easter Sunday.

Knights Templar of Woodstock. Very LOCAL AND PERSONAL Knights Templar of Woodstock. Very beautiful and impressive ceremonies were given at the opera house, after which 125 in uniform, with ladies, re-The event of the season will be the paired to the dining halls of the Hotel entertainment and temperance lecture Woodstock, where was served a rayal

Roast chicken, sliced ham, cold lamb, who have not heard the eloquent Mrs. sliced tongue. Oysters stewed and raw. L. M. Lake, and anyone who has had Salads, assorted cakes, assorted fruit. the pleasure of hearing her will gladly pickles, eggs, ice cream, lemon sherbert, avail themselves of the opportunity of green radishes, apple jelly, rolls, tea,

It seems hardly possible, but nevertemperance congress at the World's theless it is true, that on an average Fair. The musical part of the program every fifty-fifth person you meet wears Fair. The musical part of the program every into the post of the will be an attraction in itself. Miss W. L. Douglas shoes. Did you ever real-Edna M. Crawford, the charming so- ize what an immense undertaking it is prano of the Chicago Musical college, to supply one article of wearing apparel

Aaster Sunday was observed at the all interested in the temperance cause several different churches in our city in an appropriate manner. The church-Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brasel spent Sun- es were beautifully decorated with flowers and presented an inviting appeal-Mr. Wm. Doran spent Sunday with ance. The program of singing at St. Anne's Catholic church was as fol-

> Gloria from twelfth mass Mozart Organ.

> Soprano Solo-"Today He's Risen" Solo...... Master Willie Kirby Soprano Solo-"Ave Maria"-Gunod

Those who witnessed the service at the Salem Evangelical church speak of ing machine that is up to date, buy the it as being very interesting. The parts were well carried out forehoon and evening. As the program was very long want of space. The collection amounted) vices which were largely attended.

FREDERICK HAGER DEAD.

Frederick Hager, an old and respected itizen died at the home of his son, Wm. Hager, Tuesday, April 16, after a long iliness, aged 65 years. Mr. Hager was 29, 1827. He came to America in the spring of 1852, and was married to Miss the service of the U.S. A. Oct. 5, 1864, in Co. C., Second Regiment, Illinois Light Artillery and was honorably dis-A. R., which was organized June 16. 1883. The funeral took place at the Bailey officiating. His remains were interred in Evergreen cemetery.

Rev. Suhr has been reappointed pastor of the Salem Evangelical church for another year.

J. D. Lamey & Co. have sold more than 50 gallons of floor paint within thirty days. It is the best made and for this reason everyone wants it.

Tuesday evening Miss Lydia Robertson and Mr. John Collen gave a party to the members of their Sunday school your feet and are easy to wear, the class, at the home of Mrs. Collen. Re- was reasonable to expect a modicum of freshments were served and a very en- recognition, but he did not, considering joyable time was had by the young folks.

The Easter exercises at the Baptist church were appreciated by a large audience. Great credit should be given and vicinity will have the opportunity those who took part in the program. especially the little folks.

Dr. Filkins is making preparations to move to Woodstock.

Rev. R. Bailey will speak on "Druidism," or the religion of the early Britons cordially invited to attend.

Miss Emma Rohlmeier and Mr. John Westphal were married Thursday. The Review extends its best wishes to the newly married couple.

We are always pleased to receive items for the Review. Please send them in before 9 o'clock Thursday morning, or drop them in the Review box. Cossie Zimmerman was a visitor here

Sunday Several members of the Masonic jorder from Palatine attended lodge here

Saturday evening. Mr. Dennis Maloney spent Wednesday at the home of Mr. Wm. Doneca. He will make his home at South Chi-

Mrs. D. Koeppe, who has been visit-

TREATING IRON.

The quarterly conference will be held An Improved Method in the Process of Casting the Metal.

An improved method of treating iron in the process of casting by M. Von trielle, consists primarily in giving the is especially adapted to cure of all Mrs. Crowley at Woodstock Wednes- mould, the plan being to set on top of the flask a sort of little bath tub, lined The Thursday club met at the home with some refractory substance, and presenting three cylindrical hollows of The children's singing class of the different sizes, communicating with Catholic church presented Mrs. Thos. each other by tangential channels. There will be a humorous recitation reaches the third compartment, which hole is set over the pouring hole in A. L. Mullen, editor of the Wauconda the flask the iron then runs out into the mould. When the metal is poured John Jackson (colored) died Saturday into the large end of the tub it is seen and more liquid iron from the light and spongy scoriae, very much as cream is separated from milk by a centrifugal purer iron passes into the second divisfine particles, collecting in the middle, while the liquid metal keeps to the outside; third canal, also tangential, leads Alabastine in five-pound packages is this twice purified iron to the third He got a bottle and it cured them up in a week. 50-cent bottles for sale by A. Correct thing to use to kalsomine your the mould. On cooling, the first divisually, druggist.

Sold at J. D. Lamey & Co.'s. It is the compartment, from which it runs into the mould. On cooling, the first division of the bath tub is found to contain the large lumps of cinder, while the second compartment has a spongy mass of impurity, in the shape of an cupies the whole area of the compart- accidental injuries.

NEW STYLE 1895 GASOLINE STOVE.

COMBINATION OF

Generator

This stove has a removable tank and is the most economical stove on the market. Call and see them....

No Trouble to Show Our Stock.

BARRINGTON.

FRANCIS WILSON'S STORY.

a Chicago Audience.

In the face of the strongest opposition imaginable Francis Wilson and his company of merry comic opera comedians began an engagement at the Chicago opera house recently. He made two speeches, after the first and after the final acts, in each of which he exborn at Lanze, Prussia, Germany, April pressed his gratitude for the flattering reception. At first,, he said he regarded it as a dangerous thing for an actor to Victoria Kaiser in 1855. He entered in make speeches (laughter, and advised his auditors to wait and see if the opera, the company and he deserved the compliment. That they thought it was deserved was evident from the loud demands for another "try" after the performance had ended. Then Mr. Wilson told a funny story about a darkey who drove a traveling man from a country railway station to the hotel in the town. The two got to talking. "What is your name?" asked the "Gawge Wash'ton, sah." "H'm! It seems to me I've heard that.

name before." "'Deed, man, I specs yo' has. Why, ah's bin a drivin' in dis yere town foli de las twenty years." Mr. Wilson compared himself with "Gawge Wash'n'ton." He had been coming here for many seasons and it treats was to have been enjoyed elsewhere, look for so superb a reception. "I should be ungrateful if I did not express my warmest thanks," he concluded, "and I do most sincerely thank you."

NEW WOMAN FOR SURE.

Insulting Chappie She Struck Thought She Was Very New Indeed.

Pedestrians who happened to be in the neighborhood of Hotel Stanton the other evening at about theater time were treated to an interesting sight. A well-dressed man about 30 years old with a boutonniere and walkingsticka veritable chappy-stood near the entrance, idly puffing a cigarette. Two well-dressed women approached. The cigarette was cast aside, a cravat was straightened, gloves were smoothed out, a hat was properly adjusted, and chappy started after the two ladies. In a moment he was at their side with his silk hat in his hand and with a low bow, evidently trying to induce the ladies to accept his escort. Not a word could be heard, but suddenly a dainty hand and arm shot out at the silk hat, and away it flew toward the middle of Broad street. Upon that the ladies hurriedly proceeded and chappy recovered his demolished hat amid the jeers of those who witnessed the occurrence. The man did not evidently relish this display of the new woman spirit, and hastily walked away in the opposite direction.-Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Dead Sea Drying Up.

The Dead sea of today is a little body of sluggish, dark, greasy, water, gathered at the bottom of the deepest depression of the earth's surface--a hollow 1,300 feet below the level of the Mediterranean. A recent scientific expedition has proven, however, that at one time its surface was on a level with that of the Mediterranean, and its area more than twenty times what it in at present. In what the geologists call the "glacial period" the Jordan was an arm of the Dea Sea and was more than 1,000 feet

GEORGE A. LYTLE, Veterinary Surgeon

Graduate of Chicago Veterinary College.

Night and day office with J. M. Thrasher, one door south of H. T. Abbott's drug store.

BARRINGTON, : : : ILLINOIS.

Write to T. S. QUINCEY,

Drawer 156, Chicago, Secretary of the Star Accident Company, for information regarding Accident Insurance. Mention this paper. By so doing you can save membership fee. Has paid over $600,000.00 for

F. L. WATERMAN, Dealer in Groceries.

Fruits. Vegetables and Ba ery Goods, Tobacco, Cigars, Nuts and Confectionery.

ICE GREAM AND DYSTERS IN SEASON.

Ill

Barrington.

WOOD & DILL.

Under Bank Building. First-Class Work Guaranteed

A nice line of CIGARS and TOBACCOS always on hand. Agency for

Give us a call.

WOOD & DILL BARRINGTON, 1LL. BARRINGTON,

H. BRINKER. -- DEALER IN-

PURE MILK

MILK! DELIVERED MORNING AND EVENING.

Fresh Milk can be had at my residence in the Village at any time of the day. ALL UNDERS PROMPTLY FILLED.

H. BRINKER. - BARRINGTON.

HERMAN NEWHAUS, (With the American Art

In all kinds of Art Work to the best of satisfaction.

FRAMES AT FACTORY PRICES.

Office in LAMEY BLDG.

Office hours 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

ILL.

Men's Tans, Patent Leather, Kangaroo or Calf, Plain or Tip, Square or Pointed Toe. Jip Toe. Heel, Plain or Blacks, Heel or Spring To susT s'nothild bus 'sessiM

Come in and see our stock. We have the largest and best assortment of Shoes at Lowest Prices. Yours truly,

B. H. SODT & SON.

OUR LARCE STOCK OF SPRING AND SUMMER

Ready Made Clothing

CAN NOT BE SURPASSED in Price or Quality. We are selling MEN'S READY MADE SUITS at $6.50 and upwards. Suits made to order in the latest styles. A new line Sprin and Summer Samples to select from.

Cleaning, Dyeing and Repairing

Given prompt attention. Give us a call and we will save you

H. WALTER, the Tailor,

BARRINGTON, ILL.

APPEARANCE OF SOME OF THE HAWKS AND OWLS.

Misconceptions of the Farmer as to the Great Horned Owl and His Home-Chicken Hawk.

The rapacious birds have ever aroused unusual interest in the minds of those who admire courage, daring and freedom. The Raptores are well known to the farmer, who usually regards them as the enemies of the poultry yard, and seeks to destroy the birds of this order whenever he meets them. Recent investigations concerning the food of the birds of this group, however, reveal the fact very conclusively that they are active friends of the farmer, says the St. Louis Globe Democrat, being of immense utility in destroying small destructive rodents and other vermin, and the wise agriculturist should submit to the occasional loss of a chicken to retain the services of an ally which destroys a class of foes which can be reached by no other agency. The larger hawks, or true buzzards, which sail over the barn yard and create a panic among the fowls, and are consequently persecuted by the well-meaning, but misled, farmer, seldom capture a chicken, because their approach is always heralded by the commotion among the brood and the fowls have time to run to cover. The smaller hawks, or falcons, which are the real enemies and successful raiders of the poultry yard, dashing swiftly into the flock before their approach is noticed and catching up the most promising of the chicks, escape in safety, and are rarely detected, much less caught, while the lazy red tailed hawk, which comes sailing along at that juncture, receives the maledictions of the farmer and his wife. The larger so-called "chicken hawks" are not the real depredators of the poultry yards, being classed either in the beneficial or else in the neutral groups by the thorough and systematic researches of the department of agriculture. The guilty parties are the little "chicken hawks," described as Cooper's hawk, the sharp shinned hawk, and other less common species. The owls have also heretofore been placed in the category of enemies of agriculture, and have shared the persecution falling to the lot of the Raptores, but the examination previously cited showed that only the larger owls have a taste for poultry, and that the little screech ow!, the long eared owl and the short eared owl, are valuable assistants of the farmer in the demin. The great horned owl is easily identified by his size and the prominent "ear tufts" or plumicorns projecting vertically from the sides of his head, marks which give the face of been ranked with the class of rapacious birds whose evil deeds are balanced or atoned for by their goodly deeds.

In our excursion through the denser woods we are pretty certain to meet the common barred owl. It can easily be distinguished from the previous species by its lack of the ear tufts so prominent in the features of the horned owl, and also by its gray plumage barred with the darker. Its eyes are surrounded by large disks of radiating feathers, and for this reason it is known among rural people as the "big eyed owl." Like the horned owl, this species sees well in the day time, and both, doubtless, take their prey frequently when they are popularly thought to be sleeping in their retreats, but the barred owl goes abroad voluntarily by day less than does the former. The resident hawks are prominent features of the landscape on the opening days of spring, when the first genial days of March tempt the lover of nature to stroll out along the roadside. Over in an adjoining field a farmer is hauling away the shocks of corn which have been allowed to stand during the winter. In the field is a large cottonwood tree, and perched on one of the lower branches we discern the familiar form of the "chicken hawk," a species which few would recognize under its book name of red shouldered buzzard. As we stop to observe its actions, it flies from its place with low flight, and hovers for a moment over the spot where the shock had lately stood, and then, regardless of the farmer's proximity, it Crops to the ground, imediately rising with a small object in its claws which we identify as a field mouse, a pest of the farm. In pursuit of their prey the hawks forget much of their wariness, and frequently enter the charmed circle of danger, though the farmer is unarmed and sees that the bird is rendering him important

Soon another form glides into the range of our observation and alights on a lower limb of the tree not far away, a form whose movements and trimness suggest the name of hawk, and immediately we recognize the arrival as, a Cooper's hawk. He had just been on a foraging expedition, and unwittingly stopped with his quarry within the range of the light gun we brought with us. As he drops at the report, we notice that his victim is grasped in his sharp claws, and on picking him up we see that he has killed a robin for his breakfast. The head of the robin has been pulled from the body, and the back of the victim presents a scratched appearance, otherwise the robin is not disfigured. We admire the bluish cast. of the plumage of the upper parts, from which feature of its description this species is often called the "little blue hawk," and also the "blue chicken hawk." The latter title is well deserved by this agile and dexterous representative of his species, for it is very successful in its raids on the chicken yards, besides destroying pigeons, quails, and other game birds, though it deserves some credit for the vermin it likewise destroys. This is the most injurious of the hawks, and it should at which time it follows the migrating hordes and feasts royally at the expense of the song birds of the gardens and roadsides.

SLOW TO WARM UP.

Depredators of the Poultry Yard-The English Hospitality Genial When the

Stranger Is Accepted. English hospitality is proverbial, but it is a hospitality peculiar to itself, whose ways are past finding out: it is a hospitality which the stranger must get used to as best he can before feeling quite at his ease, says a writer in Harper's Bazar. Most countries have a manner of their own, which is apt to be chilling only because it is strange, but England feels especially chilly at the first encounter. There are innumerable little things which act like a could douche, but are not meant to be so at all, and are not particularly noticed after the first two or three experiences. An American is genial and toen-cent vials and is, of course, put communicative from the very start; is at ease himself and puts his guest at couple of dozens of these vials and beease; an Irishman's open-hearted cordiality, which puts his whole house and all his possessions at his guest's disposal, is like a summer sun; but it takes an Englishman an appreciable time to warm up, and during that time a sensitive visitor suffers the tortures of the arctic regions. I have met with little but the most cordial hospitality since I have been in London, a hospitality which I shall remember all my life with a feeling of hearty affection for moved their heads. They and no con-England; but I have never yet been able to enter a thoroughly English household without an introductory mauvais quart d'heure of lively discomfort. I have called on Americans and Irish people who have made England their home, but never with that first cold chill which strikes one on meeting ened up again they said the one experithe thorough-going Briton on his native heath and hearth. The English have no idea of how to make a stranger feel less a stranger; you are dimly conscious all the time that you are a stranger vainly trying to get into harmony with your surroundings; you never forget it, and nothing is clearer to your mind than the fact that they grateful emotions, and as much to a never forget it either, they don't mean anything by it, but they simply have not that rare and happy faculty of making you feel "at home" which Americans pessess in such perfection. You are strongly conscious of being thoroughly "sized up" and measured by the yardsticks of the British Isles; struction of noxious insects and ver- if your dimensions are not a perfect fit, A Trio of Beautiful Women Delight the so much the worse for you. But the ice once broken, few are so charming and delightful in their homes as the English. Once inside the outer husk these owls a feline appearance and of coldness, and all is warm and genial which render the name "cat owl" quite as the first spring sunshine; you have appropriate. None of the Raptores is passed your examination and been acmore powerful and fiercer than this cepted. It is as if they kept up their those hats would locate themselves, species, and the housewife is often defenses and remained "on guard" in and as the ladies slowly moved to the open poultry roost in the morning and a friend-or-enemy sort of way until front the feelings of the audience witnesses the scene of destruction fol- they find you are quite harmless; then verged upon the stormy and tumulowing the raid of this strongly armed they raise their portcullis-a very forest baron. In its destruction of small spiky one it is, too-and let you innoxious rodents, however, it allies it- that is, if you belong to nice people. self on the side of the farmer, and has If you are not one of the elect according to the English elective system, you however, nimble fingers were at work, fail of free grace and are a lost soul for ever more. A great deal of what seems coldness on their part is in reality the very general lack of enthusiasm or heartiness in their voices. There is very little of our so-glad-to-see-you,

> THE GRAVE OF FRITZ EMMET. ItLies Unmarked in the Cometery Near Where He Lived.

his visit has been welcome, and has given enough pleasure to make a renewal of it desired.

It is but a short distance from the quaint, odd structure Fritz Emmet reared upon one of Albany's many hills, and which is now the home of Senator Hill, to the rural cemetery where Fritz. lies in an unmarked grave. It is more than three years since Fritz died, and when on earth people actually threw money at him, so eager were they to testify their delight for his mimicry and his madcap jollity on the stage, says the New York World. His grave is in an unfrequented portion of the It May Be Where the Divine Sarah Is cemetery, away out in the new ground. back of where lies the late Thurlow Weed. His is the one grave in that life. "You'd surely be surprised," said are expected. John McKinney, assistant to the cemetery keeper, Andrew McFarland, "were you to watch the antics and goings on on the matter, or at least demonstrate of all the people that ask to have the that there are kisses and kisses on the grave of Emmet pointed out to them, stage as well as off. This emotional Some of 'em make me feel a bit queer: actress was recently performing in a and one young lady went on so the new play, and at the close of the last other day that I had all I could do to act she had to rush upon the stage, keep from weeping. Her melancholy kneel down by the side of her dead lovand her anguish were so real that there er, who had been shot by the villain, was no getting away without tears, and passionately kiss his forehead. It More people ask to be shown the grave is said that French noblemen, poets; of Emmet than that of any other in authors and artists wrote to her, offerthe cemetery, and there are some dis- ing to serve as the corpse, and she, not tinguished personages interred here. President Arthur, for instance, and the person every night. The news of the murderer, Carlyle Harris."

Gen. Booth Says We're Good. Gen. Booth finds "there is not the upon this and other little reservations.

The Usual Hall Closet. structivecareer. It is most commonly self, and yet should be close at hand wanted it to fry his locusts on!"

WORSE THAN A DEBAUCH ON RED WHISKY.

Throws Men Into a Condition Bordering on Madness-No Control Over the Mind or Voice Once Under the In-

"Did you ever see a man on a cinnamon drunk?" said L. J. Cartwright, Tennessee lumberman, to a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. "If you should witness a case you would never want to see another. A few months ago I had three young men getting out pipe staves down in the Tennessee mountains and they concluded to have a little toot on pay day. They went to a nearby town, but failed to get the needed article. In fact they could get nothing whatever of a stimulating nature but essence of cinnamon. This essence comes in little fif- by. up for flavoring. The boys bought a gan drinking the essence straight. When they got back to camp they were in a very bad fix. They were noisy and violent and reeled and staggered about helplessly. One of the boys, a quiet, modest fellow, who was never known to make any sort of a demonstration, nced and sang like a wild man. They all yelled like demons and acted like so many lunatics on a tear. It was a shocking sight. They were pale as death, and their eyes were set like a cat's eyes. To move their sight they trol over their minds of were deathly sick, but their stomachs could not throw off the horrible dose they had taken, and thus for three hours the young men raved and danced and suffered. How they suffered no words can tell. It took them three days to get over it. When they got straightment was enough-no more cinnamon drunks for them. I think they meant it. My experience is, and I have been investigating the subject a good many years, that the best and safest indulgence, if a man feels like stirring up his latent powers a little, is good straight whisky. There is no substitute for it that can create as many fellow's feelings of importance, with time, when I take anything."

THE THREE GRACES.

as little discomfort in after effects. I have tried every indulgence known to caterers the world over, and I take good Tennessee mountain dew every Holders of Back Seats. Three ladies walked down the center aisle of the National theater Monday night, says a Washington paper. They wore hats-hats of a florid style of architecture and covered with luxuriant vegetation. Strong men shuddered and luous. At last they were seated well down toward the orchestra, and at least one hundred persons, those directly in the line of sight, turned wan and ghastly with despair. In a moment, and before the watchers could gulp down their first wild anguish the bats disappeared and three sleek, shapely and inoffensive heads appeared in front of them. So the fashion has reached Washington. We have among us, then, the pioneers of the propaganda of or do-come-again-as-often-as-you-can mercy, consideration and gentleness. manner, which makes a caller feel that A new standard of morality has been erected. Women are showing their thoughtless sisters how to be kind as well as beautiful, gentle as well as fair, how to bless as well as adorn the world. Here is a fashion which recognizes humanity, a manifestation of female loveliness that makes allowance for the comfort of others. It is a new philosophy, a gospel of swectness and light cannot the superior set make common canot the superior set make common cause in this? Why, if they must have their hats whereby to paralyze the restibule and fill the aisles with pageautry as they come and go-why cannot they at least follow the divine example they take their seats?

IS STAGE KISS GENUINE?

One Party to It.

Vienna and Berlin are in a small ferment over the stage kissing developed portion of the cemetery, and the sur- by the jealous husband of an actress roundings are bleak and bare compared who made his wife give up her role bewith the willows, the trees and the cause it required too much kissing of flowers of other parts of the grounds, the handsome hero. The profession in But the ground around the grave is both cities has been glaborately interstrewn with decayed posies, hastily viewed on the subject, the papers resnatched by fair hands from corsages porting their opinions pro and con. and tossed upon the grave where lies The agitation has spread to England, the man who was inimitable in his and authentic pronunciamentos from characterizations of humble German Miss Terry, Mrs. Campbell and the rest

> Meanwhile a little anecdote about Sarah Bernhardt may throw some light wishing to offend anyone, had a fresh tage of the box office.

John the Baptist and His Griddle, Kate and Reed are two little New Ormembers of churches." It is true that chapter of Matthew, while Reed, with the has not had time to go below the his knees drawn up, his chin resting Westminster Gazette, need not be laid head, listened intently: "And the John same had his raiment of camel's hair and aleathern griddle around his loins, Every entrance hall should be pro- honey," spelled Kate, slowly and with vided with a closet of considerable difficulty. "Kate," said Reed, sud-

SHE WAS STILL NAN SMITH.

Ten Years Had Changed the Town, But His Love was Waiting.

He had been away from his home town for years and years. Which means, in this instance, ten years, and he had gone away because pretty Nannie Smith hadn't asked him to stay. Men do that sometimes.

Now he had come again, says the Detroit Free Press, and as he wandered about the old place there was almost pain in his heart to note the changes time had wrought. Everything was new, and it made him homesick to wander about seeking the things of his childhood and boyhood days and finding them not. But he found Nannie Smith and went to her as a tired child goes to its mother. She was kinder than of yore and she was really glad to see him. And he? Well, she was ten years older, but she was still as if it had been but yesterday since he had told her good-

"I fancy," she said to him as they sat on the broad piazza of her home that evening and looked over toward the hills beyond the town, "that you feel quite a stranger within our gates?"

'Yes," he said sadly "I could scarcehad not exly have believed it perienced it. Ten s not eternity, cither.'

"No, but times change more than eternity." "It surely does in this instance.

Everything is changed." "Not everything, almost everythign," she corrected him.

"Not everything, almost everything," sisted, quite hopelessly.

"There's one thing that hasn't changed, John," she said, in such a tone and he looked up at her curiously. "Tell me what it is," he asked eager-"I want to see it."

"You can't see it very well, John," she smiled, "because it is my name." Ten years had been a long time for Joh nto wait, but she made him wait a month longer, and when he came back to his native town again Nannie Smith's name underwent a change also, but it didn't seem to sadden John as the other changes had done.

THE PRICKLY YUCCA.

An Interesting Tree Which Grows the Mojave Desert.

The grotesque trees which thickly dot

exclamations of wonder and curiosity from the travelers who view them for the first time, says the Overland Monthly. They seem like strange freaks of nature, instead of distinct species of plants. The trunks of the old trees will be found woody, but porous and light who should be in power fourteen years in texture and weight, to all outward from that time, briefly asking that his appearances they are as dead as the proverbial door nail, but at the extremity of each branch will be seen a tuft of rigid green leaves, drawing sustenance from the apparently decaying parent stalk. In the springtime a short stem is projected from the center of of, with some remark by Sherman, in each tuft, bearing lateral branches, his good natured way, that the writer from which delicate, whitish-green, cupshaped flowers are pendant: they fuse an odor that is not altogether pleasant, and as spring wanes these blossoms merge into a wrinkled, elongated fruit, green in color, that is not palatable, for it becomes dry and spongy as it matures. When ripe it falls to the ground, and the thin, flat seeds are borne hither and thither. Sometimes a gale overturns one of these giants, and the ubiquitous tramp, his conscience smiting him for the railroad ties he has consumed, endeavors to broil he shall be admitted." The colonel said his chicken and make his coffee over a fire made from the rough gray wood. His efforts fail, for nature did not design this tree for firewood. This grotesque tree is the Tucca brevitolia, and though it is found only in southern California and Arizona, there are several | read by the President who will be electvarieties of tree yucca which resemble ed in 1896. It was with some reluctance it in structural formation.

CALIFORNIA'S CLIMATE.

One of Its Peculiarities Is that Natural Ice Is Practically Unknown.

The New York Times calls attention to the fact that, while Florida lies between the parallels of 25 and 31 degrees north latitude, every part of California is in a higher latitude, the southern boundary being the thirty-second paralwe have chronicled and uncover when lel and the state extending as far north as the forty-second degre, and yet all along the coast the weather this winter has been milder than in Florida, which lies nearer the equator than the most southerly portion of southern California. It must be that the great Pacific ocean, with the temperature of its waters modified by the great Kuro Sirro, or Japanese gulf stream, is responsible for the mildness of the climate of the coast. In the interior, particularly in the mountain regions of the state, there is a great deal of snow and cold weather, but not along the coast, and it is remarkable to see how far the mild coast climate extends eastward and inward, says the San Francisco Examiner. Not until the warm wave from the ocean is met and counteracted by the chill of the snow-clad Sierra is there a degree of cold experienced which is in any respect worth

WAS BLINDNESS A BLIND?

A Blind Boy Who Saw in the Dark How to Steal.

Animals of the cat tribe are supposed to be able to see as well in the dark as in daylight. There are a few human beings who have their eyesight so peculiarly affected or diseased that, while they can see perfectly well in the dark. they cannot distinguish anything either scheme got abroad, to the vast advan- in day or artificial light. I was made aware of this extraordinary disease, as the doctors call it, by a series of petty thefts in the boarding-house in which I same vulgarity in the United States as leans folks who are just big enough ry, or anything else that happened to in Europe," that "the people are better to begin to study the Sunday school be left loose for a few minutes after educated," that "they are a nation lesson by themselves. One morning nightfall could never be found. Finally of professors of religion, a nation of Kate was struggling through the third a little blind boy, who was the general pet of the house, was caught rifling a boarder's pockets in the dark. The gensurface," but too much stress, says the on them and his hat on the back of his tleman had returned home from a long trip and after undressing had put on a bath robe and gone out of his room to bathe. When he returned it was quite and his meat was locusts and wild dark, and as he lit the gas he was surprised to see the blind boy picking his pockets. The boy became helpless imdepth and width. This is available to denly, "what did he want with that mediately in the light and confissed the hold the multifarious wraps, overshoes griddle?" "Don't know," said Kate. theft, with much simulated contrition. and umbrellas which are required in a After thinking like a steam engine for No one suspected that the helpless littl receive small mercy from any who have family, but which are not particularly a minute Reed's face brightened all man, who could hardly get across the it in their power to arrest it in its designtly if left in evidence in the hall it-over, and he burst out: "I know; he room in the taylight, could see perfectly in the dark.

CORNER. VETERANS

SOME SKETCHES FOR CRAMD ARMY CAMPFIRES.

Bring On the Flag-U. S. Grant II for West Point-Soldiers and Paupers-One of History's Ifs-An Ignorant

Will find a foe in the Grand Army.

CHORUS.

Hurrah! hurrah! Let us shout with Hurrah! hurrah! Let our motto ever be, To keep well guarded on our line, from mountain to the sea, Our Flag, our Rights, and Peace of Country.

It's true, my boys, our locks have changed, since sixty-one and five, But he who now insults our flag, will find us still alive.

No blatant howling anarchist by threats will ever drive

The boys in blue, the Grand Army.

CHORUS-Hurrah! etc., etc.

U. S. Grant II for West Point

Toward the latter part of April, 1885, Gen. Grant, while sick and weak at his home, No. 3 East Sixty-sixth street, lay watching the portrait of a baby face. The face was that of U. S. Grant II. The little fellow, although then less than 3 years old, was a great pet of the ex-President, who was particularly pleased at his reflective habit even at that tender age. He had previously urged his son to have the boy trained for military life, and have him graduate from West Point as they both had done. Col. Grant said he would do all he could to have that wish carried into effect, but as the boy would not be 17, the age for enterthe Mojave desert never fail to elicit ing West Point, until 1899 he begged the grandson, U. S. Grant, be appointed to a cadetship in the Military Academy.

Shortly afterward Gen. Tecumseh Sherman called to see him, and he got Sherman to indorse the application. Then

It was handed to Col. Grant to take care and indorser might together have incadetship. Col. Fred Grant said to a

New York Commercial Advertiser re-within the next five years and I further hope it will have the effect of securing the appointment, for the lad is full of military ardor, and, although he does not say much, being something like his grandfather in that respect, he is earnestly looking forward to the time when the letter was short and formal. There was nothing in it except the request as stated. He has it carefully put away with other papers left by the general, and, of course, does not wish to publish the exact phraseology until it has been that Mrs. Col. Grant parted even temporarily with the 1895 photograph from which the Commercial Advertiser's picture is made. While feeling proud of her boy, she did not care to extol him, preferring to leave that to others. U. S.

Grant II was born in Chicago July 4.

1882. As a baby he had a great fondness for toy soldiers, and this fact did not escape the notice of the old general. He now has an army of 2,000 tin warriors with which he occasionally amuses himself. He went to school in Vienna while he colonel was minister to Austria from 1889 to 1893. There he acquired not only a knowledge of high and low German.

but also became conversant with the numerous dialects, and can talk to a German in his patois, no matter from what part of the fatherland he may

Soldiers and Paupers.

train for Albany. His face was bronzed.

clothes were shabby, worn, and threadbare; but they were of the United States blue. A little conversation with him revealed the fact that for several years he had been a private in the regular army, and had passed most of that time upon the plains, among the mountains, and against the Indians of the west; had tried to do his duty as well as the limitations of human nature would permit; had finally been discharged for inability; was now unable to work; and living as best he could.

"Have you any relatives?"

"Do you get a pension from the gov-

"Yes; I have $4 a month; but it

"Only a sister and brother-in-law

They're out o' work now, and can't do

"Did you ever try to get into a 'Sol-

"Yes; but all the Soldiers' Homes in

New York state are full, and there's no room for me till some of the other fel-

Newark, to see if I couldn't get into the 'Home' there; but they tell me I must

So here was one of the defenders of our lives and homes, too old and feeble to camp or fight any more-on his way back to Albany, to tell his destitute

sister that the government had no shelter for him, and he must continue to jog along on his $4 a month-jog

first live in New Jersey three years."

lows die, they say. I've just been to

A few days ago, an old man sat in the come.

ernment?"

much for me."

diers' Home?'

doesn't go very far."

With a manner of importance the congeneral not to worry about the matter ductor stepped forward to collect the any more at that time. general's fare. Mr. Harrison handed "Bring me writing materials," said forth a nickel and the conductor rethe sick man. Then with much care and turned to the platform with it in his. evident difficulty he addressed a letter hand. to the President of the United States

"I'll give you a quarter for that nickel," said a stranger on the platform. "It's yours," replied the conductor, ou age. Can a republic afford to be thus ungrateful? Whoever sees a stitch of army blue in the alms house the rains of the sweet heavens can not wash out. Whoever sees a retired soldier suffering and does nothing to relieve him is no true citizen, and does not deserve the protection of citizen-

An Ignorant Enemy.

Down in Tennessee, in 1862, the Indiana field artillery lay encamped, and lack of action made affairs monotonous.

One day relief came in the shape of a backwoods confederate with an old wagon loaded with watermelons. The driver pulled up at our camp and wanted to sell his melons to us; but we had no money. Instead, we had what we told him were sutler's checks. We had just drawn new clothes the day before, and the tags from them were all the checks we had. With these we bought the entire load of melons. As soon as the marketer had sold out he started for town, rejoicing over the big haul he had made from the Yanks. But he did not go very far until someone told him that the checks were bogus. Soon we saw him coming back driving at a furious pace, his face darker than a thundercloud. He took in the camp with one sweep of his eye, sprang from the wagon and started for us on the double-quick. He raved and cursed as only a full-fledged southerner could, and went to the captain, to be informed that the Yanks sometimes used ropes to settle accounts. Just then a man came out of a tent with a rope with a noose already made, and the man made a dash for his wagon, with one hundred yelling soldiers in pursuit. He passed the picket line plying his whip right and left, and Paid a Quarter for Harrison's Nickel.

Gen. Harrison was a passenger on a crowded North Pennsylvania street car

a few days since. The day was a disagreeable one, or Mr. Harrison would have been walking. As the general entered the car a man rose and politely offered his seat to the distinguished passenger. Mr. Harrison looked at the man, and no doubt his observing eye noticed that the man vas tired and that he carried a lunch basker, indicating that he was on his way from a day's

"Keep your seat sir," said Mr. Harrison, bowing politely. The man took his seat, and Mr. Harrison took hold of a never visited our camp again.

ship.-Everywhere.

sees a blot on the American flag that and then he continued: "Mr. Harrison is just a citizen, like the rest of us." "Yes," replied the stranger, as he pocketed the nickel and gave the conductor a quarter, "but he has done a little bit more in the vorld than the rest of us." And the conductor answered "That's right."-Indianapolis Journal.

First Tuste of War.

porter: "I hope to have the pleasure of Of Gen. Carr. who has just died in presenting that letter in the white house New York state, they used to tell an amusing story about Troy, his old home. Carr left Troy to go to the war in command of the Second regiment. The story is that the first engagement the young colonel figured in was at Big Bethel. His regiment had halted for rest and refreshment in a pleasant dale. They had not then tasted war. It happened that the rebels were in ambush in the immediate neighborhood of the resting place of the brave Trojans, and from a safe hiding place opened fire upon them. Carr instantly put spurs to his horse and rode up to a group of officers. Excitement and bewilderment were apparent upon his handsome face as he approached the party. "They are firing upon my regiment!" he shouted. "My God! now, what is to be done?"

Widows of Revolutionary War.

On June 30, 1894, the date of the last report of the commissioner of pensions, there were still nine living widows of soldiers of the American Revolution on the rolls. The names of these relicts of the soldiers of the great war of independence, together with their ages and postoffice addresses, are as follows: Mary Brown, 80, Knoxville, Tenn.; Nancy Cloud, 81, Chum, Va.; Esther Damon, 80, Plymouth, Vt.; Nancy Jones, 80, Jonesboro, Tenn.; Rebecca Mayo, 81, Newbern, Va.; Patty Richardson, 93, East Bethel, Vt.; Sena Turner, 85, Manchester, N. Y.; Mary Snead, 78, Picksley, Va.; Nancy Weatherman, 84, Lindback, Tenn.

Czar and Colonel.

Jersey City station of the Pennsylvania Upon his accession to the throne the railroad, waiting to take a West Shore emperor of Russia was appointed colcareworn- and sad. His movements onel-in-chief of the Royal Scots Greys. While dressing for dinner an enthusiaswere slow and rheumatic. The thumb tic subaltern communicated the inforof the right hand had deserted and left mation to his soldier servant. its place conspicuously destitute. His

"Donald," he said, "have you heard that the new emperor of Russia has been appointed colonel of the regi-

"Indeed, sir!" replied Donald. "It is a vera prood thing." Then after a pause he inquired: "Beg pardon, sir, but will he be able to keep both places?"-Tit-Bits.

A Great Victory.

In the battle of Marengo 58,000 men participated, and of that number 13,001 were killed or wounded, about 22 per cent. Napoleon thought Marengo hit greatest victory. He always kept throughout life the uniform he wore on that day.

Provinces of China.

The Chinese empire is divided into eighteen grand provinces, representing an average area each of 243,000 square miles. The German empire contains 211,000 square miles, the Franch republis, 240,000 and the British isles

Gray Horses the Best.

The Russian war 'ffice has decided to use henceforth "xclusively gray horses for military purposes, the reason given for the innovation being that animals of this color have been found by experience to be stronger and more enduring than the brown ones now used.

along into the poor house, if the benev-The Fourth Congregational church. elent grave does not receive him first. and this is the way that the rich, Hartford, Conn., has decided to build a proud, powerful United States of Amer- | new edifice on the 'nstitutional church ica takes care of her soldiers, in their lidea.

An old fellow of Quincy, Ill., E. K. Sweet, who went to Chicago the other day to hear Mme. Nordica, thus spoke of her after the performance: "We never thought she was any great shakes when she was a kid. She was plain Lil Norton then, and her father's place adjoined our'n down at Farmington, Me. I was something of a warbler myself, and the Nortons and our folks used to get around our old melodeon on Sunday afternoon and make her sizz. Lillie was quite a little girl then, and we didn't think she could twitter as well as the rest of us, but she got the big head when she was 16 or 17 and went away to New York or Paris-I fergit which." The old man paused thoughtfully and then added: "But, gee whiz, she's got on, ain't she? When we heard of her she was away up in G, and the mocking birds and nightingales wasn't in it with her. And to think that once on a time she was nothing but plain Lil Norton!"

Indestructible Paper.

Paper indestructible by fire has been invented by M. Meyer of Paris. A specimen of it, which was subjected to a severe test-one hundred and fortyeight hours in a potter's furnace-came out with its glaze almost perfect.

Fond of Moving.

Amos Markham, of Memphis, Tenn., tond of moving. Since his marriage In 1860 he has moved fifteen times. His twelve children were born in twelve different states.

SAN DIEGO COUNTY

Offers Greater Inducements to Settiers, on Account of Climate. Soil and Prices. Than Any Other Portion of Southern California-The Climate is Unsurpassed.

The shores of the Mediterranean Sea are bet in summer, and damp in winter. Florida has a few months of genial winter weather, but liable to extreme changes-even snow and ire; and in summer it is unendurable; has here the weather for the whole year is The June-pleasant, sunshiny days and osed nights, with just enough rain in winter

The soil varies to such an extent that almost every known crop can be raised.

Franks of all zones: vegetables of every expiety, and grain of all kinds. Stock can pastured the year round, unprotected. A farmer can do more here on 40 acres than with 160 in the eastern states.

At this time prices are very low, but if the present large immigration continues, they

The fine harbor at San Diego affords unexcelled water transportation to all parts as the gisbe, and upon the completion of the Rivaraguan canal—the bill for which has passed the U. S. Senate, and a poll of the bouse shows a majority of the members in aver of it—San Diego will become the greatest scaport on the Pacific coast. The Southern California Railway (Santa Fe agestem) affords facilities for trans-contimental shipments, and the completion of ther railroads to the east, among others, marind men of the United States are building, will give increased facilities, and ines radiate throughout the county, afhading easy access and transportation

At the present prices for wheat and other through a long, hard winter, with the absumment through a long, hard winter, with the absumment ranging from zero to 30 below. and struggle through a hot, dry summer, go unrewarded; whilst the agriwill wal ist in this genial clime plows in the winter, with the thermometer about 60 despring, sammer and fall, with the thermomer ranging little above this figure. The mean temperature, as reported by the U.S. weather bureau for the past 20 reass was: January 57 deg., Feb. 55 deg., Mayzh 57 deg., April 57 deg., May 62 deg., Lane 65 deg., July 68 deg., Aug. 70 deg., Bayl 58 deg., Oct. 65 deg., Nov. 57 deg., Bayl 58 deg.

Below are quotations from some of the asgest and most reliable land owners in San Diego County, any of whom will send pemphlet just issued by the San Diego Chamber of Commerce, on the resources of San Diego County, and any other inform-REX.

The Shoicest Lemon and Orange Land In the world, within 6 miles of the business center of the city of San Diego, in the frost ess belt, half mile from rails and station. Will for a short time sell TENthe means and station. Will fer a short time sell TEN-CENT ESSATS AT $150 PER ACRE, with water rights. Bratter to choicest Orange or Lemon trees. Water good agricultural land hear the city at $10 and $20 per acre. For particulars and all information about this section address J. A. ALLISON, Brewster Hotel Block, San Diego, Cal. Reservers: Chamber of Commerce and every bank in

ONLY $35 PER ACRE and as good as any in the state. If you are not interested in land, don't carl this. If you are interested and want land upon which you can make a living without waiting five years for fruit to grow, write maind you can learn something very nuch

SAN MARCUS LAND CO. 1336 D Street, San Diego, Cal.

The Escondido Land and Town Co. had and at $35 to $65 per acre with water.

LEMON AND ORANGE LAND Be and I mad and destroying winds. Land is in cultivation. So expense for cleaning or leveling. Beautiful place, fine stores, churches, schools and hotels, All fines es well. Grain, hay and alfaifa a success. Beautiful and alfaifa a success. Beautiful and alfaifa success. Beautiful and alfaifa success. Beautiful and alfaifa success.

Soth Abbott's Monthly

Land Settlers' EXCURSIONS TO SAN DIEGO

From Ray 753 November. For full particulars call or mand for pampulets at $39 Fourth Street, San Diego. J. W. BURNS, Continental Hotel, Chicago, and United States Hotel, Boston, Mass.

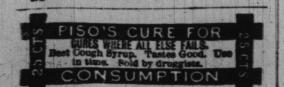

30,000 Acres

Lemen and Orange Lands. Water for irrigation. Price $10 per jacre and upward, on easy terms. Printed matter on application.

Far Birgo Land & Town Co. National City, Cal.

EDWARD T. SUMWALT. SAL FORNIA INVESTMENTS. Lemon and Farming Lands a Specialty. werce Building. Los Angeles, Cal.

Some Great Barrains in San Diego County Lands Alew good properties for exchange marker east rn. Cut this out for future reference.

IS A GOLDEN QUEEN.

MRS. THEODORE HAVILMEYER AND HER HOMES.

She Spends Almost One Million Dollars a Year for Household Expenses-Her Charitable Work - The Youngest Daughter.

(New York Correspondence.)

MMENSE GLASS doors set in frames of bronze and curtained with heavy dull green velvet, open, and you stand in a marble corridor, a garden of golden genesta

and palms. A long flight of marble

steps, soft . with crimson lead to Mrs. Theodore A. Havemeyer's drawing-room, seen through a wall of glass. She stands at its entrance, a tall, woman, commanding of figure, with a round, full face, rather pretty, and full of strength and character. Her glossy black hair is parted in the middle, and falls in soft, rippling waves to the loosely coiled knot at the back of her neck. Her full, white throat is seen between frills of black lace. When she smiles her black eyes look straight at you. She bids you a pleasant welcome. Perhaps gives you a gentle hand press, and you pass in to the glittering gor-Bepusness of Louis Quatorze and take your place beside those invited to one of her evenings with music. There is gold everywhere-gilt and the traces of gold. The glass walls are framed in golden bronze. The tall, high-backed chairs, with their rococo frames of gilded carving, are covered with crimson and gold brocade. The gold Sedan chairs. shelved with glass, contain art treas-gling genius. She does not parade her good works, and although in the list of those donating money to hospitals and other institutions. Mrs. Havemeyer's name is generally on the same line with hundreds and sometimes thousands of dollars, these only represent a small amount of the real good she does, Many artists and musicians have attained reputation through her generosity, and her private charities, of which even her family know nothing, are large beyond belief. Returning to her entertaining. while the role of hostess fits Mrs. Havemeyer perfectly, it is not one that she plays frequently. She is essentially a domestic woman, one whose horizon is bounded by her home, or rather her four homes, as she has that number of establishments-her elegant residence at 244 Madison avenue, a country seat near Hempstead, Long island, a farm at Mah Wah, N. J., and a summer villa at Newport. Her town house is a large red brick one, dignified by a small strip of lawn, always planted with pansies and hydrangeas in the spring, and a circular driveway to a porte-cochere.

CORNER IN CHINESE ROOM. which, like the high fence walling the whole off from the street, is of wrought iron. The house has square windows all over it at regular intervals, all curtained alike with looped-back white lace. The plainness of its exterior is atoned for by the richness of its furnishing. The antique room is especially ures and dainty bibelots, worth their beautiful and contains a rare collec-

20000000

MRA HAVEMEYER.

where. There is a glistening look to the assemblage, in broadcloth and satin, suggestive of gold. Even the music is burdened with this, or, at least as you listen to the strains of the Boston Symphony orchestra and the vocal numbers of a well-known opera star, you realize the amount of gold the affair has cost, you hear gold, see gold and feel the power of gold. And you understand how it is that Mrs. Havemeyer helps her husband spend $800,000 a year. The music is over. The chatter begins. The ruests stroll among golden acacia blooms to the banquet hall, a splendid room in early English style, done in old black carved oak. The sideboard glistens with gold. Pearls are not dissolved to furnish costly cheer; golden champagne in gold-rimmed crystal answers, and choicest delicacies are served on gold. Vases of gold hold cloth-of-gold

GENEVIEVE HAVEMEYER.

roses at this koluen least of Gotnam's gilded gods. Mrs. Havemeyer talks. Every word worth listening to, every word is golden. Her conversation sparkles like burnished gold. Not at the expense, however, of that of her guests. This does not pale beside hers, like tinsel in the daylight; on the contrary, she has the happy faculty of drawing people out, of finding out their particular pet pieces of knowledge, and letting them display choicest samples of it in a way which puts them in the best focus for their admiring neighbors, and on splendid terms with themselves. All this naturally constitutes Mrs. Havemeyer a rare hostess and a woman of delicate tact. And still it does not show her as she really is—a woman who, Eotwithstanding a somewhat cold exterior, withstanding a somewhat cold exterior, first-class lawyer would charge." The weight in gold, are scattered every- | tion of antiquities. Then there is a Chinese-room, rich with wonderful carvings and exquisite porcelains from the Flowery kingdom. The picture gallery contains some of the most notable works of art in this country, painting and statuary, and unlike most rooms of its kind, is comfortably furnished with all the luxuries needed for the perfect enjoyment of the treasures. Mrs. Havemeyer has nine children, and to them and her husband she is absolutely devoted. Two sons are still in college; the other two, Theodore, A. Havemeyer, Jr., and Charles F. Havemeyer, are married. The former married Miss Katherine A. Sands, the latter Miss Camilla Morse. Charles Havemeyer, or "Carly," as he is familiarly called, is a thorough business man and of great assistance to his father in his vast sugar refinery business. Five daughters; four are happily married; one has not yet appeared in society. In dress Mrs. Havemeyer is exceedingly quiet. Her tastes are refined and artistic and never obtrusive.

Genevieve Havemeyer, the unmarried daughter is a lithsome, dark-eyed, wavyhaired beauty of 17. She is at present in Europe, the inmate of a French convent, the same one from which Anna Gould emerged to become the Countess de Castellane. But it is not likely that Miss Havemeyer will follow in the footsteps of Miss Gould. When in America last year she took occasion to say to some friends that she abnorred anything European, especially the silly sprigs of decaying nobility. From this it was inferred that she already had received an offer of marriage from that source and that she discouraged it in no uncertain manner. She is worth $5,000,000 in her own right now, and by the never failing laws of interest this amount will be vastly increased by the time she attains a legal age.

Lincoln's Exorbitant Bill.

One of the most interesting "remains" at the recent sale of Lincoln relics, in Philadelphia, was the autograph copy of Lincoln's bill for legal services for the Illinois Central Railroad Company. The bill was for $5,000, and six members of the Illinois bar certified that the amount was not unreasonable. Another relic was a check for $250, given to Lincoln at another time by the same company as a retainer. If successful, he would receive a thousand dollar fee. Mr. Lincoln won the suit in the supreme court, and presented his bill for the balance. The president of the company was absent when Lincoln called, so the latter was referred to the superhas a heart of purest gold. It is a very superintendent was General George B. accessible heart to charity and strug-McClellan.

OUR WIT AND HUMOR.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM CATH-ERED IN.

The Up to Date Society Girl-A Note from Blacktown-A Terrible Arraignment - The Secret of Longevity -Funny Selections.

HE boasts a crest and coat-ofarms: Hergrandsire fought at Bunker Hill; By virtus of her wealth and charms She rules her gilded world at will: Her life is one of fine display, Indulgence and extravagance; She only lives from day to day To dress, and drive, and dine, and

And while she shines at play or ball, Or at her own exclusive teas. Or chats throughout a morning call Of courts, chiffons and coquetries, Her husband, as he goes and comes, Sends now and then his best regards, And finds diversion in his chums. His clubs, his cognac, and his cards.

So, like the lilies of the field. They toil not, neither do they spin; "A bore!" they say, and yawn, and yield To each "smart" folly, fad and sin. And what has life for such as these? Not I have envy or regret; I have my pipe, my ale and cheese,

My brush, my garret, and Favette! -Arthur Grissom in Truth.

Poor Lo Coming On. First Clubman (looking up from the paper)-Just as I always said. It's easy enough to civilize the Indians, if you only treat them right.

Second Clubman-What have you struck? First Clubman-Here's a town in the Indian territory which thinks of appointing some sort of a Lexow committee to investigate its boodlers.

Needed a Rest. Collector-This is the twentieth time

I've called with this bill. Gilded Youth-Yes, and there are forty more, just like you, coming in day after day, to worry me about their miserable little bills. No wonder I'm all fagged out. Guess I'll take a run over to Europe to recuperate.

A Iteliable Guest.

Proprietor-Seems to me you were rather careless to give the best room in the house to an utter stranger without baggage.

Hotel Clerk-Oh, he's all right. He's worth a million at least. He's here as defendant in a suit for breach of promise-damages to the plaintiff's injured heart, $200,000.

What They Object To.

New Woman-Is there any good reason why there should not be female lawyers, female congressmen, or female senators? Meek Man-None whatever. What people object to is female gentlemen.

Miss Newage-What was done at the New Woman International Progressive club to-day? Bachelor Girl-Nothing. You see, Mrs. Sweetie happened to come in with her baby, and before we all got through kissing the little cherub, it was time o adjourn.

His Motto.

Jinks-There's a man whose motto is Pay as you go." Winks-An excellent motto. Who Jinks-He's a railroad president, and never gives passes.

An Artist's Blunder. Friend-Say, Dauber, all New York is laughing at you picture "View on the Artist-Eh? What's the matter with Friend-You forgot to put in a steam tug with forty 'leven canal boats after

Mr. Newcoon-What's de meanin' ob not transferable," on dis ticket? Mr. Oldcoon-Ign'unt niggah! Dat means no gennerman am admitted 'less de done come his hissef .- Truth.

Didn't Get Left.

Spacer-I guess the office boy had quite a good time on his vacation. Liner-What makes you think so? Spacer-Since his return all his letters come addressed as "editor."

No Voice In It. Mrs. Meanitall-Then you look upon marriage merely as a business partner-Mr. Meanitall-I do, indeed. And the husband should be the silent partner. Better Than "Nothing."

Uncle Mose-Dat dorg is ma best friend, an' I wouldn't sell 'um fo' noth-Van Pelt-I'll give you 50 cents for Uncle Mose-He's 70' dorg.

A Pleasant Smoke. Von Blumer-These are the cigars your wife bought you, aren't they? Plankington-How did you know? Von Blumer (complacently)-She is a certain indication of impure and impov- | Discharging a watery fluid, and the burnerished blood. If your blood could always be rich and pure, full of the red corpuscles upon which the vitality depends, you would never be weak, or

That Tired Feeling

Nervous! Boils, pimples, scrofula, salt rheum, would never trouble you. But our mode of living, shut in all winter in poorly ventilated homes and shops, depletes the blood and there is loss of appetite, and weakness. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the standard remedy for this condition. It purifies, vitalizes and enriches the blood, overcomes that tired feeling, builds up the nerves and gives perfect health. Read this:

Our daughter, Blanche, when four years of age, had a humor break out on her hands and face, which our physician pronounced eczema. If the cold air reached her face or hands they would swell up, look almost purple, and headed blisters would form and break, ing and itching would drive her nearly wild. Unless we encased her little hands she would tear patches of skin from her face and hands. We tried many doctors and many remedies and at last gave the case up as hopeless. But our daughter Cora tried Hood's Sarsaparilla, to cure a scrofulous lump near the left breast which caused her much pain and after taking 4 bottles it disappeared. Blanche, who is now eleven. had spent seven years of suffering, so I concluded to give her Hood's Sarsaparilla. She took 5 bottles and her face is smooth and soft as a baby's, the color of a rose petal. Her hands are soft and white, where four months ago they were blue and red and calloused nearly like leather. I cannot express my gratitude by pen or mouth. It seems a miracle and our friends are surprised." Mrs. Anna L. Clark, 401 E. 4th St., Duluth, Minn. Get only Hood's, because

Hood's Sarsaparilla Is the Only True Blood Purifier WORD BUILDING CONTEST.

5 PRIZES.

GRAND PRIZE--FINEST CHICKERING PIANO....$750.00 2d Prize-Sidebar buggy 150.00 3d Prize-Pneumatic Tire Bicycle. 85.00 4th Prize-A Diamond Ring..... 75.00

5th Prize-A Moline Farm Wagon.... 60.00

The above prizes are offered to those who construct or form the largest number of words out of the letters found in the prize word contestant and sent in before May 20, when the contest closes.

R-E-P-U-T-A-T-I-O-N

Third—Words used must be English and must be found in the dictionary. If two words are spelled alike only one can be used. Abbreviations, obsolete words and names of persons or places are barred. Lists purposely stuffed not considered.

Fourth—The same letter must not be used twice in one word, except the letter T, which may be used twice in any word, as it appears twice in the prize word.

First—The first prize will be won by the largest list, the second prize by the next largest list and so on to the fifth.

Second—The list of words must be written in ink plainly, must be alphabetically arranged, numbered, signed by the second—The list of words.

Sixth—Every contestant whose list con-

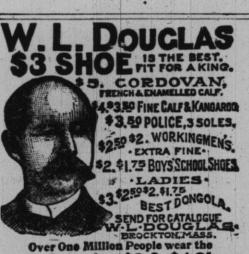

Sixth—Every contestant whose list contains as many as thirty words, whether he wins a prize or not, will receive a portfolio containing handsome photo engraved copies of sixteen famous painting—size of each picture 10x12 inches, with history of the painting.

Seventh—In case two or more prize winning lists contain the same number of words the one that is first received will be given preference.

Eighth—Prizes will be awarded and shipped to winners within ten days after the contest closes.

The Omaha Weekly World-Herald is the great free silver coinage family paper of the northwest. Its editor is Hon. W. J. Bryan-the champion of silver, who has just retired from congress. It is published in two parts, one of eight pages on Tuesday, and the other of four pages on Friday of each week, hence it is almost as good as a daily for news. Its agricultural page, edited by G W. Hervey, its literary department, its household articles and its short stories make it a welcome visitor in any household. Subscription price $1.00 per year. Address-

> WORLD-HERALD, Omaha, Neb.

W. L. Douglas $3 & $4 Shoes All our shoes are equally satisfactory
They give the best value for the money.
They equal custom shoes in style and fit.
Their wearing qualities are unsurpassed.
The prices are uniform,—stamped on sole.
Prom $1 to $3 saved over other makes.
If your dealer cannot supply you we can.

VASELINE PREPARATIONS.

fn order to familiarize the public, all over the United States with the principal ones of the very many useful and elegant articles made by this Company, we make the following offer:

FOR ONE DOLLAR sent us by mall, we will deliver, free of all charges, to any person in the United States, either by mail or express, the following 12 articles, carefully packed in a neat box:

Two Cakes Vaseline Pamily Soap,
One cunce Tube Capsicum Vaseline,
One ounce Tube Capsicum Vaseline,
One ounce Tube Camphorated Vaseline,
One ounce Tube White Vaseline,
Two ounce Tube White Vaseline,
One Jar Vaseline Cold Cream.

ALL THESE GOODS ARE of the RECULAR MARKET SIZES and STYLES SOLD by US.
These articles are the best of their kind in the World, and the buyer will find every one of them exceedingly useful and worth very much more than the price named.

EEESENOOGH MFG. CO.. 25 STATE ST.. NEW YORL CITT. VASELINE PREPARATIONS.

BESEBBOUGH MFG. CO., 25 STATE ST., NEW YORK CITY.

ly, practical, and with special features of interest. Prints Sunday sermons of Myron W Haynes, D. D. One do topies 5 cents. Try it.

Address, THE PLOWSHARE 644 Sixty-third Street, Chicago!

PURE, HIGH GRADE COCOAS AND CHOCOLATES On this Continent, have received HIGHEST AWARDS Industrial and Food EXPOSITIONS In Europe and America Unlike the Dutch Process, no Alka lies or other Chemicals or Dyes are used in any of their preparations. Their delicious BREAKFAST COCOA is absolutely pure and soluble, and costs less than one cent a cup.

SOLD BY GROCERS EVERYWHERE.

WALTER BAKER & CO. DORCHESTER, MASS

For Our Standard Maps, Atlases, Encyclopedias, Books, Art Productions, Etc., 25c. to $150.00.

SEND FOR LIST.

On receipt of 75 cents we will mail sample of our 1895 Wall Map of U. S. and World, 6 feet long.

Sells at Sight.

A Golden Opportunity for Energetic RAND, MCNALLY & CO.,

160-174 ADAMS ST., Chicago, Ill. EWIS' 98 % LYE POWDERED AND PERFUNED (PATENTED)

PENNA. SALT M'F'G CO.

Write us for estimate.

Columbian Exposition Salvage Company, Exclusive Purchasers World's Fair Buildings, Office, Service Bidg., Jackson Park, Chicago.

A WAR ECHO.

EVERY HONORABLE VETERAN DESERVES HIS PENSION.

And the Lone Limb Is Not the Only Reason for a Government Reward Either.

(From the Journal, Lewiston, Me.)
Samuel R. Jordan has just given the Journal an account of his life, which in view of his extremely hard lot for the past few years is of great interest. "I am 48 years old and have always lived in New Portland. I enlisted in the army in 1862 as a private in Company A, Twenty-eighty Maine Volunteers. My army experience injured my health to some extent, although I-worked at blacksmithing some part of the time, when suddenly, several years ago, I was prostrated with what able physicians pronounced Locomotor Ataxia. At first I could get around somewhat, yet the disease progressed quite rapidly until I had hardly any feeling in my legs and feet, they felt like sticks of wood, and I grew so much worse that I could not move for three years without help, as my neighbors and friends could testify. I employed several physicians in my vicinity, and elsewhere, and they all told me that medicines would not help me, that they could do nothing to effect a cure and that in time I should become en-I was a great care to my wife and friends. Shortly after I met an old army comrade, Mr. All. Parlin, a resident of Madison, Me., and he incidently mentioned how he had tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for a severe case of rheumatism and a spinal and malarial trouble, that he had suffered with consequent of his army life, and had been greatly benefited by their use. By his earnest recommendation I was induced to try the pills. After taking them for a time I began to feel prickly sensations in my legs and a return of strength so I could move them a little. After a few weeks I began to feel a marked improvement in my conditon. I soon was enabled to walk around a little with the help of crutches. After taking for some time I can now walk without crutches, my general health is much improved and I have regained my oldtime vigor. I can walk about and enjoy once more, for which I feel very thankful, and this happy result is due to the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People were first compounded as prescription and used as such in general practice by an eminent physician. So great was their effi-cacy that it was deemed wise to place them within the reach of all. They are now manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine company, Schenectady, N. Y., and are sold in boxes (never in loose form by the dozen or hundred, and the public are cautioned against numerous imitations sold in this shape) at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Med. Co.

Fortunes on Their Heads.

In many instances Dutch women carry their entire fortunes on their heads. Females in very humble circumstances frequently wear headgears worth $250 and more. They are most costly heirlooms, many of which were made in the seventeenth century, and under no circumstances can their owners be induced to part with them.

The Smallest Watch.

The smallest watch in the world has just been completed by some Bombay jewelers. It is not larger than a twoanna bit, and has the most perfect jewelled lever movement, and a fullycompensated chronometer balance.

Canoes made in Canada are now shipped direct to England, where much clumsier craft called canoes are now in general use .- Ex.

FOR CONDITIONS DIGESTIVE ORGANS Dyspeptic, Delicate, Infirm and

AGED PERSONS THE SAFEST FOOD IN THE SICK ROOM FOR NVALIDS

AND CONVALESCENTS . PURE DELICIOUS, NOURISHING

«NURSING MOTHERS, INFANTS»

CHILDREN MPERIAL GRANUM IS SOLD BY DRUGGISTS.

JOHN CARLE & SONS, NEW YORK. DENSION JOHN W. MORRS. Successfully Prosecutes Claims.
Late Principal Examiner U. 8 Pension Bure
2 yrs in last war 15 adjudicating claims atty sin

ALWAYS THE BEST Superior KILN DRIED Selected IOWA WHITE OATS SOLD ONLY in 2 lb. pkgs. 6969696969696

WITH A COMMENDABLE AIM.

A New Society in the Interest of Morality and Refinement.

Baltimore women have organized for the purpose of discountenancing plays of an immoral tendency. The society as a whole will not boycott any particular play which may be considered improper," said one of its organizers to an Evening Sun writer; "the members simply promise to weigh carefully in their own minds whether they honestly ought to attend the performance of any play which is generally considered immoral, or whether they ought to encourage bad conduct among people on the stage by going to see stars whose general reputation is that of being immoral persons. Any other course, any vote against a particular play by the society would, if made public, very likely have a result directly opposite to the purpose of the society by sending hundreds of people to see the play. The elevation of the morality of the stage will also be aimed at more directly by a series for fortnightly meetings in the height of the theatrical season. At these gatherings papers on the drama-critical, historical and otherwise-will be read and discussed, and listinguished actors and acresses, whose moral characters is not questioned, will be invited to meet the members of the society and to present their views on the drama and stage. The morality of current plays can also be talked over at such meetings. Whether the society will be restricted to ladies or whether it will also include men, is one of the questions not yet decided. It would be a rather loose organization of large membership, because its objects will be better accomplished with large numbers." The idea of such an organization started with Mrs. Christine Ladd Franklin, the wife of Prof. Fabian Franklin of the Johns Hopkins univercity, and a member of the Woman's Literary club and the Arundell club. It first occurred to her during a discuscion of "Trilby" at an afternoon tea. From the morality of Du Maurier's novel, the discussion drifted to the morality of Ibsen and current dramatists, and it was then that Mrs. Frank-

ONE LETTER LEFT OUT.

Un proposed the new society.

"Bowl" Complaint an Excuse for an Actor's Inability to Appear.

In the early "stock" days of Washington, before the starring system was in vogue, it often happened that some bibulous member of the company sought surcease of sorrow in a flowing bowl, says the Washington Post. Salaries had not reached that fabulous outline which now prevails, and the ghost did not always talk, and therefore there was always more or less sorrow to be appeased in the popular taprooms about town where the "profession" congregated. It happened on one occasion that a too liberal indulgence had rendered hors de combat one of the leading members of the company, who is still a prominent and popular actor to-day. It was not the first time that condition just as the curtain was about to go up, but he was cast for a leading part on this particular night and there was great excitement on the stage. It was decided to substitue another bill, and the question now turned on the nature of the explanation to 'le made to the waiting audience.

"Announce that Mr. Brown has had a sudden attack of cholera morbus or bowel complaint," said the distressed manager of the theater to the stage

This worthy was a heavy-voiced individual, with a strong Dublin accent. and a Celta temperament which indined to the humorous. He made his way before the curtain, bowed, and in his deep, relling voice addressed the audience as follows:

"Ladies and Gentlemen: I regret to announce that the management is obliged to change the bill to-night, owing to Mr. Brown, who has had a severe attack of bowl complaint."

The autlience caught the spirit of the foke and, amid general laughter, settled down to the enjoyment of the per-

The Stranger.

Miss May Irwin despises with as much intensity as a person of her good-natured disposition is capable. For obvious reasons the object of her aversion shall be called Jones. Ada Lewis, the tough girl, who well knows the condition of affairs, in a spirit of fun said an's Bible and its inception. 'Where did one day: "Ch, I saw your friend Jones the idea originate?" Years ago in my in Broadway this afternoon." "You must have microscopic eyes," answered Miss Irwin, "He is always with a tall I never see one without the other. I wonder who the stranger is?" "Ba- the Bible, which took away the selflaam, perhaps," laconically observed respect of woman and made her a slave Miss Irwin .- Argonaut.

Enjoying Her Cry.

I have at a moving play sat next to a young lady whose pocket handerchief half an act. At the dropping of the curtain she would scarcely smile for a minute or two. But when speech returned to her, what do you think her tender-hearted, sympathetic girl, who would have fainted with horror in the presence of a newly stuck pig.-All the Year Round.

The music made by a Salvation Army band in a London street was not appreciated by a gentleman who lived to a house near by. He sent a request for the band to st op. It was unbeeded and the gentleman cut his throat.

Bookkeeping in Yale.

The faculty have decided to establish a course of bookkeeping in the Yale law school, and have engaged an expert ac- find out what proportion of it woman countant as instructor. This is an entirely new feature in law school instruction.

Jug and Jag.

A Wichita preacher said that there is girl in that town who refused to go down street with a jug in the morning and in the evening she went down street with a jag.

Preparing for War.

Since 1890 Turkey has bought 700,000 improved rifies and 200,000,000 cartifies made of smokeless powder are stored in different parts of the country.

In the Pentateuch and commenced troon it. To carry out the plan of revision a committee of English and American women was then formed. American through its town council $1,000,000 for a technical school.

BIBLE. WOMAN'S

MAN IS NOT THE MASTER THEY SAY.

A Committee of Notable Women Now at Work Endeavoring to Prove the Equality of the Sexes by an Interpretation of the Holy Book.

WOMAN'S BIBLE, translated by a distinguished American and English foint committee of women, is the most serious labor yet undertaken by the women's rights leaders. The first five books of the Old Testament - Genesis, Exodus, Leviti-

tus, Numbers, Deuteronomy-have already been carefully studied, and the position of woman in the Bible has been fixed with precision. Six years ago this work began. It has for some time past been suspected that a revision of certain portions of the scriptures would show that woman had not been fairly dealt with by Biblical students. The main question to be determined was whether there was any real basis in the Bible for the assertion that man was the master. The work of the new committee of women has, they claim, already progressed far enough to show that the scriptures do not proclaim the superiority of man. The members of the Revision committee find on every hand abundant evidence of the absolute equality of the sexes. The venerable leader of this committee is Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton of New York, who is now 80 years of age. With Mrs. Stan-were many famous names-Mrs. Mary Livermore, the Rev. Olympia Brown, the Rev. Phoebe Hanaford, and Sarah A. Underwood, who was editor of the Open Court, and with her husband, editor of the Index. John Bright's sister, who has since died, was another famous woman who was to have assisted, Frances Ellen Burr, now of the Hartford Times, and Helen Gardner, were others. Mrs. Lord and I went through the Pentateuch, and next year while in London, assisted by my daughe ter, Mrs. Blatch, I continued with the same five books, in which are many of the most important mistranslated passages most frequently quoted to establish the inferiority of women. The other members of the committee, it must be confessed, did not carry on the work with much zest. There was some feeling that women were not ready then to bear the responsibility of the movement. I was president of the National Suffrage organization, and many women dreaded the effect of my leading such a work. Others urged that it was necessary to gain the support of religious denominations for the general emancipation of women, while any serious attacks based on the revision of the Bible would interfere with many avenues then opening to her where she might earn her living. During the fifty years since I went before the legislature of New York to urge the rights of women I have seen that the greatest trouble was that women believed themselves cursed of God, that they are the origin of sin, and that maternity is a condition of slavery. If they could only be brought to see that instead of that they were represented in the godhead at the creation, that woman was created in the image of the motherhood, then they might regain their selfrespect. This, it seemed to me, could only be accomplished by a revision of the Bible. And while the work proceeded only slowly the ultimate neces-

ELIZABETH CADY STANTON.

ton have been associated Miss Frances sity of it never left me. When I read Willard and Lady Henry Somerset, of the feroclous attack of the Baptist Mrs. Mary Livermore, the Rev. Olympia Hanaford, Sarah A. Underwood, Frances Ellen Burr, Helen Gardner, and

There is a pompus little actor whom Miss Frances Lord of London. Perhaps the clearest narrative of the work and aims of the revisionists is best told in the words of Mrs. Elizabeth assumption of a revision committee Cady Stanton. She said recently: "Yes, I'will cheerfully tell you whatever I can as to the method of work on the Womown head. I have always been a careful student of the Bible since I went into woman's work and found that the worst foe we had was the mistranslation of to man. As the years went by I saw clearly that this must be combated. Women are politic by nature. They prefer to temporize, and so that course was followed. Men have never touched questions concerning women. With all was at work vigorously throughout the learned professors and scholastics who have been engaged in revising the Bible none has touched women. They have argued over man and the inanimate, but they have left woman just first words were? Simply these: "I am where she was in the beginning of the so enjoying it all." And yet she was a translations. There were hopes that in the last revision of the New Testament justice might at last be done woman and her equality with man clearly brought out, but they did nothing and still kept woman in a position that has taken away from her her self-respect. If man will not correct errors in translation which reflect on woman then women must do it. Six years ago I saw plainly that it must be the final blow to be struck before woman could stand on the plane of equality with man. At that time Miss Frances Lord came from England and remained two months with me at my country home in Tenafly, N. J. In those two months we went through the entire Bible to constituted. We found we appeared in the King James version in only oneeleventh part. This proportion was somewhat of a surprise to me. I had always hesitated because it seemed such a herculean task to attempt to revise the entire Bible. But when we found women filled but such a small part of the Bible, I decided that the work could be done. I did not intend to attack any doctrines, creeds, or belief, simply the false position women in the Bible had been left through man's neglect. Miss Lord and I then took up clergymen on woman during the convention in Atlanta it seemed to me the time had come. Yes, I know well that men will say 'And it has come to this at last! Not even the Bible is to be left free from woman's influence!' The alone is enough to be called presumption on our part. Yet at the time six years ago that we formed the original committee many newspapers treated the subject with respect and liberality, and some even stated that they could not see any reason why women should be debarred from revising the Bible any more than men. I have never yet been able to see why. I may look much further ahead than other women do, but I believe firmly that before women can acquire equality with men, which is to be the next relative position of the sexes, the false translations of the Bible concerning women must be corrected. After the attack of the Baptist clergymen in Atlanta in January I decided it was time to move. If others cannot stand the possible controversy and stigma that may be the result of the woman's Bible I can. I am now 80 years old. My people live to the age of 85 or longer. I figure that in the natural course of events, I may expect to live to the same age. I am out of all official connection with women's organizations. I want nothing. I have no sails to trim to catch the favor of men or women. I have no offices to aspire to. I am beyond all that now, and regard it as the culminating work of my life. I am not going to say things to shock people. I am only going to bring out what is on the surface.

Mrs. Stanton expects that at the briefest it will require two years for the completion and publication of the Woman's Bible. Although this appears a very short time, in comparison with the New Testament, it is easily explained by comparison of the amount of work to be done. There is no intention of tampering with anything which does not concern woman directly. It is not the women of the Bible but woman in the Bible. And in some cases men who married them have been brought in.

The modern 10 and 15 cent monthlies are said to be creating their own fields and not to be interfering as yet, in spite of their enormous sales, with the pros perity of the older and more costly

Highest of all in leavening strength

Latest U. S. Government Food Report.

The Grand Ziaticuticus.

Secretary Morton, in speaking as to he proposed annexation of Cuba, recalls that thirty or forty years ago when popular movement for attaching Cuba to the United States was instituted in this country a secret organization known as the Sons of Malta sprang into existence for the purpose of inculcating the annexation idea. The organization was more of a joke than anything else, with its "Grand Ziaticuticus" and other officers with picturesque titles. Secretary Morton was one of the hundreds of thousands who joined this society, being tossed in a blanket and subjected to other extraordinary ceremonies of initiation. Notwithstanding the frivolous purpose and methods of the Knights of Malta, they multiplied at an amazing rate and raised several hundred thousand dollars for charitable purposes.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars reward or any case of Catarrh that can not be sured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
We, the undersigned, have known F. J.
Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business cransactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by their firm. WEST & TRUAX, Wholesale Druggists, To-west & TRUAX, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent tree. Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Druggists.

Hall's Family Pills, 25c.

Chauncey Depew has the length, range, agility and depth of the graceful greyhound; to let loose on him the savage dogs of war is no better than cruelty to animals.—Ex.

The Evolution

Of medicinal agents is gradually relegating the old-time herbs, pills, draughts and vegetable extracts to the rear and bringing into general use the pleasant and effective liquid laxative, Syrup of Figs. To get the true remedy see that it is manufactured by the Call-fornia Fig Syrup Co., only. For sale by all leading druggists.

It will be droll to find great private corporations running schools for money getting solemnly up and professing to be eleemosynary institutions.-Chicago Tribune.

$40 buys a good Top Buggy, with Leather Quarter Top. The Chicago Scale Co. are the only ones who can sell at this price, they furnish their customers a thousand articles at less than the usual prices paid by dealers. It will pay to secure their catalogue which they send free on application. This com-pany is perfectly reliable and they make a specialty of supplying the wants of farmers.

Phoebe Couzins says that James G. Fair expressed a longing for her and a thousand kisses. Couldn't she have compromised on nine hundred and fifty?—New York World.

A Chicago woman has become insate from novel-reading. This habit is really serious.—Ex.

Is the oldest and best. It will break up a Cold than anything else. It is always reliable. Try is.

Rents are said to be somewhat lower now, but it isn't every tramp who cam afford to own a pair of suspenders.—

"Hanson's Magic Corn Salve." Warranted to cure or money refunded. Ask your druggist for it. Price 15 cents.

Queenie Foote of Fort Wayne has joined the Order of Maccabees. She is 16 years old and only thirty-seven inches high.-Ex.

If the Baby is Cutting Teeth. Be sure and use that old and well-tried remedy, Man WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP for Children Teething-

An Osage Indian who tried his firm feather bed at Stillwater, the other day, cut a hole in the ticking and crawled in among the feathers.-Ex.

I can recommend Piso's Cure for Consumption to sufferers from Asthma. E. B. Townsend, Ft. Howard, Wis., May 6, 36.

The Kendals are going back to Ele-rope with another large and satisfac-tory invoice of American dollars.— Kansas City Journal.

The Door of Lite. The fear of pain of parturition all and the dan many a woman's be fraught with danger and distress. It is a natural function, and should be performed in a natural way without usdue suffering. Nature never intended that women should be tortured in this

Taken during gestation Dr. Pierce's its dangers to both mother, and child, by preparing the system for delivery, then shortening labor, lessening pain and breviating the period of confinement.

The Great KIDNEY, LIYER & BLADDER CURE

Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. W. N. U. CHICAGO. VOL. X. NO. 16

When Answering Advertisements, Kindly Mention this Paper-

For twenty years folks all over the world have cured rheumatism, neuralgia, and all other pains and aches by using St. Jacobs Oil. There must be something in it, for you couldn't fool all the people for so many years.

$2,000 SAVED.

Mrs. Robt. Sampson is a most highly respected lady of Rogers Park, Ill. She had Neuralgia and Rheumatism for 20 years.

Schrage's $1,000,000 Rheumatic Cure made a new woman of her and Mrs Della Benner also of Rogers Park. They say it saved them over $2.00 in doctors' bills. Guaranteed absolutely the best remedy in the world for Gout. Rheumatism and Neuralgia. PURE. SURE. Never fails. $1.50 a bottle. Once used, never without it. 14 hospitals use it now. Write to-day. Most druggists or grocers. Swanson R. C. Co., 167 Dearborn street, Chicago.

Ely's Cream Balm has completely cured me of catarrh when everything else failed. Many acquaintances have used it with excellent results.

— Alfred W. Stevens, Caldwell, Ohio.

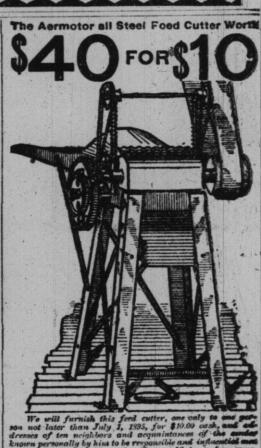

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agree-ble. Price 50 cents at Druggists or by mail. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St., New York.

Iron Roofing CHICAGO HOUSE WRECKING CO.

2005 S. HALSTED ST. (Six blocks north Union Stock Tards). The SCALPER 24-pages, 2c. All about making money in Orain and Stocks by "scalping the market" on margins, of $20 M $1,000. Per method yet. All scalpers make money. LANSING & CO., 112 Quincy St., Chicago

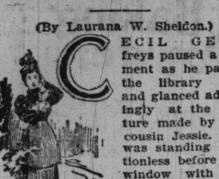

The "LINENE" are the Best and Most Eccal Collars and Cuffs worn; they are made cloth, both sides finished alike, and, being

A Sample Collar and Pair of Cuffs by mail for Six Cents. Name style and size. Address IREVERSIBLE COLLAR COMPANY.

77 Franklin- st., New York; 27 Ki by st., Bo ton. NERVE FOOD Send for a package of the Pamous and Free-ciona Remedy Free Dr. J. A McGall, 3 and 3 Hubbard court, Chicago

A FATAL ACT.

(By Laurana W. Sheldon.) ECIL GEOFfreys paused a moment as he passed the library door and glanced admiringly at the picture made by his cousin Jessie. She was standing tionless before the her

but with her head turned a little, so that the clear, dark profile stood out boldly against the light, while her beautiful eyes were fixed in a dreamy reverie upon a vine that clambered above the sash.

She wore a riding habit that made the proud, voluptuous figure even more majestic and commanding. In one gloved hand she held her riding whip, and in the other there was a square of white, so like one of his own monohimself wondering vaguely about it Could it be true that Cecil did not love gramed envelopes that Cecil found long after the picture had vanished from his vision. For Mabel was awaiting him at the edge of the drive, and quite naturally he could not tarry long to admire his cousin's loveliness.

Five minutes after the two equestrians passed outside the library window, Mabel, her fair hair floating in the wind, and Cecil, with his proud eyes fixed upon her face, but neither of them thought to even glance at the dark-eyed girl who watched them jealously from the window.

"That is always the way," Jessie Geoffreys whispered bitterly to herself after they had passed. "He has neither ears nor eyes for me when Mabel Denison is with him."

She bit her lips angrily, but the effort was too late to stop her tears. Laying her proud head down upon the table she cried for a moment as if her heart would break. Then, as if made desperate by a sudden thought, she sat erect, and laying the envelope that she held upon the table, began, by much laborous effort, to write a name upon

To have seen her one would have thought her an indifferent scribe, but when she finished she scrutinized it carefully, and the smile that lighted her eager face betokened a genuine satisfaction.

Ten minutes later she was speeding down the drive, spurring her favorite "Black Tom" with unusual vigor, and causing that spirited brute to toss his head in a series of resentful gestures.

Just at a turn in the drive she passed the lovers. They were riding side by side. Cecil half leaning from his saddle as he bent to whisper in Mabel's ear, but with an extra cut of the whip upon "Black Tom's" side Jessie passed them like an arrow, while she turned with a strangely joyous laugh and shouted out a word of greeting.

But this last sharp cut had been too much for the spirited brute that she was now riding. With a bound he sprung from his rider's hand and fied like mad along the road.

"Quick, Cecil, catch him or she will be killed!" Mabel cried frantically, as together they started in a mad pursuit of the flying horse.

On they raced, Cecil gradually gaining on the maddened brute, while Mabel, fearless, but more poorly mounted, urged her own horse to its utmost

Cecil had reached "Black Tom" by half a length and was just shouting to Jessie to hold on a moment longer, when, as if the very sound of his voice had added to her terror, the poor girl suddenly let go her hold and was thrown headfirst to the beaten ground. "Black Tom" rushed on like the very spirit of vengeance, but Cecil, springing from his steed, bent horror stricken above the fallen girl.

"She is dead, I fear," he said solemnly, as Mabel's bay, reeking with sweat, came swiftly to his side. "I will carry

"MABEL, DARLING," HE CRIED. her into this good man's house and see what can be done," he said gratefully. as an honest farmer who had seen her fall came with rapid strides across the

Together they carried her into the house, while Mabel dismounted from her horse to mount Cecil's better one. preparatory to hastening for a physician. As she led the animal to a convenient stone her eye was attracted to a letter lying close beside the road.

Whether Cecil or Jessie had dropped it she did not know, but the men were disappearing with their burden inside the farmer's door, and she must hurry away to the village if she meant to save the young girl's life. She picked up the envelope and thrust it in her pocket. Whose ever it was it was of no consequence now, and a moment more she was flying like the wind on her errand of love and pity. For Mabel had often longed for Jessie's love. She was attracted to the stately girl as the weak are always attracted toward the strong. They were equally beautiful in face and form, yet of such distinctly opposite types that in Mabel's gentle mind, at least, all thought of jealousy was impossible. More than that, Jessie was Cecil's cousin, and what less could a fiancee desire than the friendship and affection of her lover's family. But Jessie had always refused her advances. Not by any angry words, but by a quiet, frigid manner that quite ture. She could never exactly understand it, for she did not know of Jesste's love of Cecil. She had never even suspected it, and as for eCcil, if he ever dreamed of such a thing, his own de- an oily nut.

votion to another had made him half indifferent to his cousin.

It was only after a physician had been sent to the injured girl and Mabel had turned her horse's head toward Jessie's home to apprise them of what had hap-pened that she thought again of the unmailed letter. She was passing the postoffice at the time, and checking he horse, she drew it from her pocket.

"Why, it's for me, and in Cecil's handwriting," she exclaimed in surprise as she glanced at the inscription. "How strange that he did not give it to me himself instead of carrying it all the morning in his pocket." back to the door,

Then she blushed happily as she thought what the letter would probably tell, and for a moment even Jessie's awful fate seemed to fade before her pleasure. She whipped up her horse and started on. "No need to mail a letingly, as she unhesitatingly broke the

The message was short, so short that the fair girl almost reeled in her saddle as she glanced it over and fully realized lits awful purport.

ing so rather than a more manly method of communication?

Yes, the words were plain and unmistakable, and he had furthermore added insult to injury by saying "it was consideration for her love of him that had made him neglect this painful duty."

Like one suddenly turned to stone she rode silently on her errand. Jessie's fate was enviable to her now in the misery of the present moment. She cruel words seemed burned into her brain, and the sweet and sad experi- neighbor. ences of the hour melted into one horrile nightmare that was fast driving her to a state of frenzy.

She reached the house, and saw Jessie's parents standing happily on the porch, but her heart was too full of its through his spectacles. own bitterness to feel more than an apathetic sympathy for their coming

Almost mechanically she told them about her and started alone in bitter that he heard every word: agony for a quiet hour in the neighboring woods. On and on she walked, while her brain was busy with its sudden revelation Oh, how she had loved and trusted Ceeil, and now to find that he had only been making a farce of what to her was life's sacred drama.

To think of him was agony itself. and so, with an almost passive effort.

she tried to think again of Jessie. Was she dead and free from all this life of pain? If so, she envied her now with all her heart, for life, that an hour ago was bright and beautiful, seemed hardly worth the living.

She was nearing the border of a tiny pond, and the water, lying so cool and motionless, seemed to thrill her brain with a sudden purpose. She tossed her cap upon the bank, and bending, bathed her head in the placid water.

But a fever such as hers could not be Larry.

Larry.

Larry.

"You are exceedingly impertment," silenced by mere touch of water. that was scorching her brain and throbbing madly in her pulses. To be pitled by him-to be scorned by him, and worst of all, to live without him! The thought was more than she could bear in the first hour of her bitter sor-

In an instant she had formed her plan and yielded to the water's invita-

Hastily scribbling a few words on her card, she tucked it into her riding cap and laid it, with her whip and purse, in a conspicuous place upon the bank; then, without glancing either to right or left, she sprang fearlessly into the quiet water.

At that very instant the sound of Cecil's roice came suddenly to her

"Mabel! Mabel darling," he cried as he dashed madly along the narrow path, and without a moment's thought, crude, and the brown eyes and changesprang boldly to her rescue.

Don't try to explain, dearest," he said tenderly, as he laid her, a moment and was as bright and bewitching as later, all dripping wet upon the bank. the heart of man could desire, much to "I know exactly what you have suf- the surprise of some and the annoyance fered, but, oh, Mabel, your suffering, of others of her family. fearful as it was, could not in any way ger had failed to lift or alter. He bent week." suddenly and kissed the trembling lips. before she died she insisted upon telling terfere." how she had loved me all these many years, and how bitterly she had felt has my sympathy." toward you since learning how I loved your life and restore the sunshine to our future?

But Mabel's tears burst out afresh. "Mine was the greater sin," she said penitently. "Poor Jessie only wronged herself, while I wronged both myself and you by yielding to a moment's

SHE IS A DISTINCT TYPE.

How the Baltimore Girl Differs Favorably from Those of Others

The Baltimore girl is a type of herself. She doesn't read the newspapers, is not much at joining societies, has no mission to reconstruct the universe, is a delightful conversationalist, has great equanimity and amiability of disposition, has no fads, and is not bothering her pretty head about Emerson, Howells. Ibsen, or any of the Boston idols, but when it comes to shedding the radiance of beauty, kindly ways, and winsome fascinations on everything and power and influence with the men, she is equal to a dynamo, from an electrical pected. point of view. She is not after any rights." because she has the privileges of a princess. The men all adore her, and while the Boston girl is construing Browning the Baltimore girl is peeling peaches or arranging strawberries and going." cream for her test young man, who is coming to tea, or perhaps she is down in the kitchen with her pretty sleeves rolled up, giving the finishing touches to the preparation of terrapin, or the roasting of a canvasback duck.

India ink is made in Japan from the soot obtained by burning the shells.of

HER OLD FOSSIL

HERE WAS SO much talk about Prof. Chesney be-fore he arrived that Larry declared her-self sick of the sub-

Larry was the only one of the family who had not met him and with her usual perversity made up her mind not to like him. He was learned in mathematics, which only scored against him in her eyes.

"The calculating power alone should seem to be the least of human qualities," she quoted, her small nose in the ter to myself," she whispered laugh- air. "There is something wrong about a man whom everybody likes. My prophetic soul tells me I shall not take to him, at least." The Wednesday the professor was expected Larry went for a long walk. She met Ned Erskine and Harry Winthrop, two young artists with whom she was good friends, and enjoyed herself very much, getting in barely in time to dress

They were assembled round the table when she slipped into her place and there was a reproof in her moth voice as she said, "My third daughter, Larinda, Professor Chesney."

If there was anything that her third daughter hated, it was being addressed by her baptismal name. With a pout of her red under lip she bowed hastily and read the note again and again, until the it was not until she had disposed of her soup that she looked at her opposite

A tall, thin man with brown hair and a short brown beard and moustache, thickly streaked with grey, a large, dome like forehead and near sighted gray eyes that looked kindly at her

He was a little surprised at the hostile expression in the brilliant brown eyes which surprise deepened into astonishment when, in answer to a low of the young girl's fall, and then leav- voiced remark, the young lady replied ing the horse she gathered her skirts also in a low tone, but so distinctly

"I think he is an old fossil."
Notwithstanding this, several times during the meal his eyes strayed to the white robed figure, the bent, shining brown head, and once, in the midst of a remark from Augusta, he turned quickly to listen to a peal of merry laughter from Larry.

Several of her friends came in during the evening and she devoted herself to their entertainment, completely ignaring the professor. When she kept up this behavior for nearly a week it attracted the attention of her family as well as that of the visitor and when gentle hints were scorned Larry was severely reprimanded.

"You are positively unladylike," said Mrs. Austin, "and I insist upon at least civility. He must think you are an illmannered child."

"I dare say I do seem a child to his very angry. "I insist upon your being polite to Prof. Chesney and doing your share toward entertaining him or I shall certainly complain of you to your father. Leave the room, miss.'

A little ashamed and wholly angry, Larry whisked out of the room almost into the professor's arms, with such force as to rather stagger him.

With a hasty "Excuse me!" she sped along the corridor and up the stairs, while the "estimable gentleman" stood and looked after her.

"An old fossil!" he murmured, with a slight smile, stroking his beard. Shortly after this, to the surprise of all, Larry suddenly changed her tactics and at dinner one day addressed the professor. He answered courteously and very readily joined in the argument between herself and Jim. Her remarks were bright and amusing, if somewhat ful face were very attractive. In the evening she played and sang for him

"She means mischief," thought Jim compare with the misery of my dying uneasily. "Are you beginning to suc-There was a solemn shadow cumb to the professor's charm?" he in his face, that even his darling's dan- whispered. "You know, I gave you a

"I am thinking of getting up a col-Then, catching the look of pity in the lection of fossils," she answered, with tearful eyes, he added, sadly: "Yes, a mocking laugh, "and this is too fine Jessie is dead, the poor, dear girl, but a specimen to lose. Don't you dare in-

"Poor wretch," rejoined Jim. "He Unable to account for the change in you. We begged her not to talk, but Larry's manner, the professor nevertheshe pleaded over and over again that I less found her very agreeable and would try to find a letter she had though never neglecting any one else dropped before you could by any means it soon became evident that she was the obtain it. It seems," he added, with a attraction. The other two reluctantly heavy sign, I was too late to save you gave way to her and it was she who pain, but, oh, Mabel, should we not re- went with him to picture galleries and joice that I was not too late to save lectures and concerts, who was the life of the theater and opera parties-saucy, wilful, charming.

With all his gravity and erudition, it was plain that he admired this ill-regulated young woman. He had never before been thrown closely into companlonship with such a creature. He admired her beauty, her dainty costumes, even her girlish extravagance of speech and her saucy disregard of his opinion pleased him better than Augusta's unvarying politeness or Gertrude's cleverness. His eyes followed her every movement, a wistful light in them some times that touched Jim.

Larry was curled up in a deep window sill, overlooking the park, basking in sun, for she was a veritable Persian in her love of sunlight, when Prof. Chesney came into the room. He leaned against the side of the window, looking at the picture she made in her quaint puffed and furbelowed gown, the sun light falling on her brown head.

Larry looked up, nodded with a smile that showed her small white teeth and everybody about her, she is equal to an settled back in her original position, aurora borealis. When it comes to waiting for him to speak. And so he did after a while, but not as she ex-

"I am going away to-morrow, Miss Larry," he said. "My pleasant visit has come to an end, all too soon.' To-morrow!" echoed the girl, sitting up straight. "I am very sorry you are

And much to her own surprise she realized that this remark was perfectly say something that is in my heart."

words that stirred Larry strangely. There was a queer expression on her pale face as she stood before him.

"Prof. Chesney," she said with quivering lips, "I am not worth the love you have offered me. You'll realize that when I tell you that I have only been pleasant and civil to you all these weeks, not for any liking for you, but to-to plague the others."

Thoroughly ashamed, she bent her head, unable to meet his eyes.

"You mean that you have deliberately played a part all these weeks? You whom I thought so frank and true? How could you do it? Then you have not the slightest love for me in your heart-that, I suppose, is out of the question?"

There was a hurt, shocked tone in his voice that touched Larry keenly. "I don't love you," she answered, "but shall be very grateful if, after what I have told you, you will let me be your friend." She put out her hands and moved a step nearer to him, but to her mortification her extended hands remained un-

"I did not ask for your friendship," he said, unsteadily, "and just at present I want only what I ask for. By and by I may be able to appreciate your offer. I shal try, but you've taught me a hard lesson, Larry; one I'm not likely to forget. Perhaps I ought to have known better, but"-with a break in his voice-"I'm not used to women. I'm only an old fossil after all."

And without another word he left her. Up in her room Larry was still more surprised to find a bit of crying necessary. She could not account for the unhappy feeling that took possession of her as she reviewed the past weeks and realized that the kindly, pleasant companionship she had accepted so heedlessly was at an end.

"I suppose he'll hate me now forever," she thought between her sobs, "but how could I say I love him when I didn't?" Then she sobbed all the harder. The professor left the next afternoon while Larry was out. A box of white roses lay on the table addressed to her, a card attached, on which was written, "From your friend, Roger Chesney." That was all but she guessed dimly what an effort it cost him to write it. With trembling fingers she made three parts of the flowers and gave them to her mother and sisters.

"I don't want them," she said proudly, in answer to her mother's remonstrance. "I was only civil to him to please you all."

Jim noticed that the brilliant eyes were full of tears, and that she took the card away with her. "It must be a relief to you to have him gone,' he said as they stood for a moment in the hall. "Association with such a serious man must have been a trial to you." He was unprepared for the way she

"Such a trial as makes me more willing to accept the statement that man is made after God's own image and possesses some God-like attributes. Now flamed out at him.

And he did, a lurking smile under his mustache and a most emphatic "By Jove!" upon his lips.

One bright morning early in June Jim opened the door of Mrs. Austin's siting room. Larry was there alone. She had an industrious fit on her and with the sleeves of her blue morning dress, turned back, displaying two prettily rounded arms, feather duster in hand, she was whisking the dust off some rare pieces of old china. "Larry, here is an old friend of yours," Jim announced. "Treat him well, for he sails for Egypt to-morrow, never to return. I'll be back in a minute.'

He vanished, and there inside the closed door stood Prof. Chesney, Chinner, grayer, but with the old kindly smile on his lips that she remembered so well. Startled out of her self-possession, Larry stood with her duster suspended over gran'ma's 100-year-old tea

"I sail for Egypt to-morrow," said the professor, taking a few steps into the room, "and I may never return. Won't you wish me godspeed, Larry?"

Crash went gran'ma's priceless tea pot in a dozen pieces on the polished floor and the next thing Larry knew she was crying. The professor approached her.

"Are you crying because I am wing away or because you have broken the tea pot?" asked the visitor. "Both!" cried Larry with a convulsive sob, which was smothered in the

"THERE STOOD PROF. CHESNEY." folds of the professor's coat as the arms of that "estimable gentleman" closed around her.

"How about your prophetic soul?"

Jim asked later on. "I thought you called him a fossil."

"So I did," answered the young lady quite unabashed, "but I also said I was getting up a collection of fossils and recognized the fact that he was too fine a specimen to lose. Don't you remember?"

More Bacen.
A remarkable literary find is reported from Dublin. In the library of Trinity college was recently discovered a manuscript volume of 500 folio pages, writ-ten in the seventeenth century, containing unpublished poetry by Bacon. Massinger and many minor authors. The poem by Bacon, written after his "I am glad to hear you say that," said fall, is entitled "Farewell to Fortune." the professor, trying to keep his voice An event like this will serve to remind steady. 'It makes it a little easier to the world that something new about Shakespeare's works and personal his-Then he told his story in warm, eager | tory is by no means outside the range of words, very unlike his usual calm ones probability.

YEARS OF INTENSE PAIN.

Dr. J. H. Watts, druggist and physician, Humboldt, Neb., who suffered with heart disease for four years, trying every remedy and all treatments known to himself and fellow-practitioners; believes that heart disease is curable. He writes:

"I wish to tell what your valuable medi-cine has done for me. For four years I had heart disease of the very worst kind. Several physicians I consulted, said it was Rheumatism of the Heart.

It was almost unendurable; with shortness of breath, palpitations, severe pains, unable to sleep, especially on the left side. No pen can describe my sufferings, particularly during the last onths of those four weary years.

DR. J. H. WATTS, I finally tried Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and was surprised at the result. It put new life into and made a new man of me. I have not had a symptom of trouble since and I am satisfied your medicine has cured me for I have now enjoyed, since taking it

Three Years of Splendid Health. I might add that I am a druggist and have sold and recommended your Heart Cure, for I know what it has done for me and only wish I could state more clearly my suffering then and the good health I now enjoy. Your Nervine and other remedies also give excellent satisfaction." J. H. WATTS.

Humboldt, Neb., May 9, '94. Dr. Miles Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1.6 bottles for $5, or it will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Restores Health

VITALITY Made a Well Man

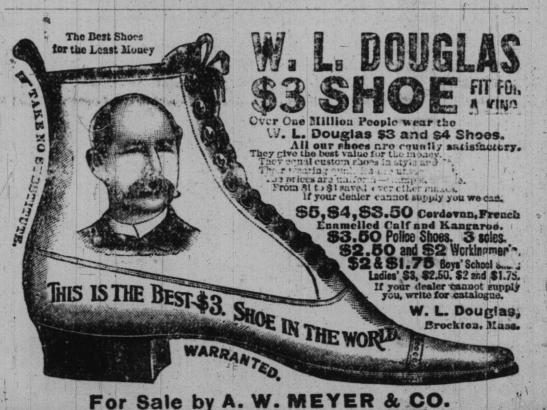

THE GREAT 30th Day FRENCH REMEDY.

Produces the above results in 30 DAYS. It acts powerfully and quickly. Cures when all others fail. Young men and old men will recover their youthful vigor by using REVIVO. It quickly and surely restores from effects of self-abuse or excess and indiscretions Lost Manhood, Lost Vitality, Impotency, Nightly Emissions, Lost Power of either sex, Failing Memory, Wasting Diseases, Insomnia, Nervousness, which unfits one for study, business or marriage. It not only cures by starting at the seat of disease, but is a Great Nerve Tonic and Blood-Builder and restores both vitality and strength to the muscular and nervous system, bringing back the plak glow to pale cheeks and restoring the fire of youth. It wards off Insenity and Consumption. Accept no substitute. Insist on having REVIVO, no other. It can be carried in vest pocket. By mail, $1.00 per package, in plain wrapper, or six for $5.00, with a positive written guarantee to cure or refund the money in every package. For free circular address

ROYAL MEDICINE CO., CHICAGO, ILL. For sale by A. L. Waller, Barring-

Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin Is a boom to those suffering from constipation, indigestion and sick headache. Try a 10-cent bottle (10 doses 10 cents) and be convinced. Large sizes, 50 cents and $1. For sale by A. L. Waller. 46 3w.

D. LAMEY & GC.,

Manufacturers' Agents and Dealers in...

Foreign & Domestic Cements Dundee and Chicago Brick Pressed Brick Fire Brick and Clay Plastering Hair Marble Dust, Stucco

Joliet Stone, Drain Tile, Salt, Etc. AMERICAN AND FRENCH WINDOW GLASS.

y Ky Ky Ky Ky Ky Ky Floor Paints House Paints Buggy Paints Barn and Roof Paints

y a y ky ky ky a y ky

We are headquarters for Masons', Painters' and Build ers' Supplies, which we have in stock in large quantities for prompt shipment and delivery. Our facilities for shipping car load lots are unsurpassed, having direct track connection with C. & N. W. and E. J. & E. railways, and as we make shipments of car load lots a feature of our business, we are prepared to name prices to any point and would be pleased to figure on any material in our line. All orders given prompt attention.

D. LAMEY & CO.,

BARRINGTON, ILL.

PROBLEM TRANSPORTER TOTAL SEE SEE