MONEY WELL SPENT

HAVE TARIFF BENEFITS BEEN BOUGHT AND PAID FOR?

Estimated by the Tangible Value of Those Benefits the Workingmen, the Farmers and the Manufacturers Should Have Pald Congress Countless Billions of Dollars.

For a newspaper which is believed to have knowledge of concrete benefits to have knowledge of concrete benefits and the second of the left-over fund of the Cobden club it is quite natural to infer as a malter of course that the concrete benefits of protection in the United States have been bought and paid for, Argument by enalogy leads the New York Evening Post to this conclusion. The sum remaining in the treasury when the Cobden club went out of business some years ago—money contributed by British manufacturers and shipowers to aid in extending the free trade propagands throughout the world—is said to have been $180,000. Much of this money is believed to have found its way to the bank accounts of various and sundry Aricca, and the second in the second counts of various and sundry Aricca, and the second country of the second when foreign interests were conserved, at the expense of American interests, foreign money was on tap to pay for labor performed and benefits received. So ft is altogether natural for the Ereening Post to infer, along with Miss Tarbell and other superior thinkers, that when congress has adopted tariff schedules designed to insure benefits to American producing interests, those interests have paid money to congress for doing fit.

mercers nave paid money to congress or doing it. Here, again, precise facts and dealis seem to be lacking; but if the lobden fund contributors could afford o apend $800,000 to amash protection at the United States, certainly our wan producing interests could afford o spend many times $800,000 to keep rotection. Estimated according to he ratho of benefits they could afford o pay congress $4,500,000.00. Grover leveland's election in 1892 cost the ountry more than double $4,000,000. On, and the election of William Medialey in 1896 has been worth to lake ountry much more than $4,000,000.

Kinley in 1896 has been worth to the country much more that $1,000,000, 1000. The sum which American producing interests, emulating the example of the Cobden club, might have paid out in purchasing protective tariff legislation from congress, stagers the imagination. Then there remains to be considered the enormous addition to the corruption fund of protection immediate the contraction of the country. They, too, have been the beneficiaries of tariff legislation to the extent of several billions of dollars in the past ten years. Have they, too, 'Culipped mich and the series of the country. "Another revulsion in business must occur before it will be popular to talk about reduction of the tariff, althought the advantages to be gained by such a reduction are seen plainly enough by all the thoughtful men. An Awkward Situation.

Germany is chiefly desirous of selling to us her sugar, her chemicals and a long list of manufactured articles. She takes from us a large amount of raw cotton and considerable pig tron, which she does not tax. But the application of her maximum tariff would put stiff duties on many of our food stuffs, and that is where the shee would pinch on this side of the water, and it would also hurt Germany by raising the price of food.—Buffalo Courier.

And we shall continue to bold our own so long as we clim to the policy that has given us all the real prospection of the policy that has given us all the real prospective with the cardinal principle which will continue to develop our resources and so far as noticeable monopolise the home market first and then seek a foreign market for our surplus. The fact is that our exports of manufactures last year amounted to $700,000,000 in value, having more than doubled in the last few years.—Bay City Tribune.

HER NEW BONNET.

Where the Danger Lies.
From political tariff tinkers within the party is the most danger to be feared. Whenever one of this class of ambitious political sahemers makes a speech favoring tariff revision, the united Democratic press, which is hoping and praying for Republican blumders, halls him as as; ally by clapping and howling with delight. — Alma (Colo.)
