AUTOS BREAK RECORDS

Apperson Makes Best Time.

Wild Car Wrecks Tent.

All speed records of the Perry hill were broken last Friday in the third annual hill climb of the Chicago Motor club. The first speedsters went to the Apperson Jack Rabbit, the Knox, the Stinson, Thomas-Detroit and Thomas Flier. The Apperson and the Knox each went up the quarter mile 8 per cent grade in 14.5 seconds, while the Stinson and Thomas Flier did it in 14.5 seconds and the Thomas-Detroit in 14.4. The best previous record was made in May by G. F. Scholberg in his Stinson. A section of the hill was narrowly averted when a Jackson car, got away from its driver, at the turn on the brow of the steep hill. It was thrown over its side and was swung into the air, clinging to its wheels. With the driver in this position, at a speed of seventy miles an hour, the machine plunged into the official tent at the top, carrying away the tenting apparatus and leaving the officials, the wild auto being into a ditch, but the driver got back on the road again and stopped a quarter of a mile away.

A crowd of nearly 5,000, made up of automobile enthusiasts from all over the city, gathered on the hill, and other big clubs and farmers and their families, gathered to watch the sport. Scores of automobiles, bicycles and special teams from surrounding towns brought the crowd, which had patience with the tenting, and the car was in the ditch. The car was in the ditch, but the driver got back on the road again and stopped a quarter of a mile away.

A Federal Visit. Tuesday night, twenty members of Barrington lodge No. 1, O. O. F., went to Elgin where they were entertained as guests of Elgin lodge 47. The trip was made in a motor car, the driver being a member of the Elgin lodge. The trip was made in a motor car, the driver being a member of the Elgin lodge.

The characters are all true to the picture as painted in the scriptures; the costumes of the days when Saul reigned and David was the Philistine. The Elgin lodge staff greeted the beautiful work to a large assembly who are bound by the golden links of Friendship, Love and Truth, and at the close gave out the generous hospitality and good cheer which is a cardinal principle of the great fraternity.

It is this fraternal gathering as this that create a deeper regard for humanity, brings out a brotherly spirit, destroys selfishness and unites all for the betterment of the human race. Elgin lodge is composed of the royal people of Elgin's population and its members are more esteemed, more highly honored, than the former townsmen, William B. Stiles, who was up here, and has a warm place in the heart of every Barringtonian.

Love's J. Piercen Nominations. Louis J. Piercen, republican, is nominated for the lower house from the 2nd senatorial district, defeating Frederick B. Ryan. The official canvass showed a vote of over 300 votes. Piercen has a plurality of 145. This is considered a victory for the better element in politics, as every effort known to the political game was put forth to defeat Piercen, who according to the police returns, was routed by Ryan.

Piercen has been mentioned as a possible candidate for speaker. He was known during the last two sessions and in anti-Dewey circles, his apparent defeat was announced in connection with his possible candidacy for speaker.

Toll Traffic Increases. It is a notable fact that the telephone toll business increases during hard times. This demonstrates the value of the toll service in saving money as well as time in making a trip to Chicago. Chicago—Telephone Company.

BIG BOOST FOR GOOD ROADS

Plan to Hold a Monster Meeting in St. Paul in December.

Unless something definite occurs St. Paul will probably entertain some time next December the biggest good roads meeting ever held in Minnesota or the surrounding states. George W. Cooley, state highway engineer, is planning on such a meeting, and if the necessary arrangements can be made, as now seems probable, it will be held.

The idea of holding a monster good roads meeting was conceived by Mr. Cooley after the meeting recently held in St. Paul, to which the county commissioners as well as others interested in good roads were invited. This meeting showed the widespread interest taken in the matter throughout the state. He expected between 100 and 200 to attend, but the attendance grew to about 500, says the St. Paul Pioneer Press.

The same feeling has been shown in the meetings which he has addressed in other states, having taken in to attend the meetings in large numbers and showing an active interest in the good road problem. "If the meeting is held it will cover the field thoroughly," said Mr. Cooley. "It will be an exposition of road-making machinery and, in addition, practical talks by men of wide experience in the various details of the work. In a large meeting of this kind much better results can be realized than by the smaller local meetings because in such a meeting we expect to hold the manufacturers of the machinery used in road-making, and we can have speakers of wide experience at such a meeting which is impossible for all of the smaller meetings. A question here would be a feature, and through this means any controversy by special problems in road-making would be able to get the advice of the men qualified to give it.

"I have not yet decided definitely on the subject, but there is a general demand for such a meeting, and if it can possibly be done the plans will be carried out. Mr. Cooley's plan is to eliminate the 'best air' talks about good roads generally and to make it an instructive meeting by having men get into the work and show the practical details of road-making. Those who will go will do so for the purpose of learning from the men who are doing the work, and it is the intention to meet this expectation fully. The meeting will probably last one week. The speaker will be the state engineer, road rollers, and all sorts of machinery and material used in road building.

IMPORT OF GOOD ROADS. Points in Legitimate Support of Building and Maintaining Them. Good roads are a benefit to the farmer because they render transportation of farm products easier; they facilitate travel and shorten the time to and from towns or city markets; they are a source of revenue to the state for the use of the highway department; they are a source of revenue to the state for the use of the highway department; they are a source of revenue to the state for the use of the highway department.

The fifty-third annual campmeeting of the Evangelical church commenced today, August 21st, at the Barrington park camp grounds and continues to and including Monday, August 31st. For the first time the meeting will not be held under a canvas. A splendid new tabernacle has been erected and will be ready for the initial service at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

Rev. C. F. Frey will preach the opening sermon and Rev. F. Davis will preach to-morrow forenoon. Tomorrow afternoon and evening will be given to E. L. C. E. rallies. On Sunday morning the usual celebration of holy communion will be observed. Evangelical Waterfall will preach Sunday afternoon, August 23 and evening after the next.

The Ship That Stayed in the Air

Coast Zeppelin's spectacular trip along the Rhine valley in his great dirigible airship, which was for two days and nights stayed in the air and then landed in the Rhine valley, and it yielded to the will of the navigator as a ship should. And the voyage was really a practice scout of facilities for military use, although that this was intended has been denied. It was reported that the dirigible's course as originally laid out was from a point on the boundary between Germany and Switzerland to Stuttgart, a place in Germany of an strategic importance; thence to Metz, on the new frontier, where a great battle was fought between the French and Germany in 1870, and then along the Rhine, a region of the Rhine favorable to the crossing of troops. Instead of following this course the airship hovered over the valley of the Rhine where it separates Switzerland from Germany and then traveled almost due north, as the Rhine runs, following it so closely as to pass directly over the towns and cities on its banks. In time of war this would be the service Germany would want as a steady scout to permit in case whether the French might be crossing that barrier. The fact that the whole of the valley available for crossing troops was overlooked between 7 a. m. and 3 p. m. is important on the military side.

ALL LIKED HECTOR

Chautauqua Closed Sunday.

Arrangements for Next Year.

The Lincoln Temperance Chautauqua closed Sunday night after a two series of lectures and entertainments. Friday Mrs. Richards gave a good talk on "The Young Man, His Friend and Fox." Saturday, John H. Brown gave the story of his life, explaining the Underground Railroad of slavery days, relating many thrilling incidents during the escape of his family from the south to Canada.

The many hours of applause and ardent interest in his lecture, the force of his quiet logic and the truth of his statements. It is the intention of the managers of the Lincoln Chautauqua to make the series better known from year to year as the seasons will permit. The results were such here that we are warranted in securing another Chautauqua assembly at Barrington in 1909.

At the Majestic Theatre. The Majestic Theatre, Chicago, will have a great vaudeville bill to offer for the week of August 21st, commencing with the performance of all the high school riders. Another pleasing act will be presented by Edwin Reynolds and Nellie Denegre. who have grand Anna Holga's "Parlor Model" comedy for the last two seasons.

The principal comedy element of the bill will be contributed by Edwin Holt and company in a one act farce by George Ade, entitled "The Maid and the Marquis." Howard Lincoln, assisted by pretty Edna Lawrence will be seen in a smart affair of stage life called "A Dress Rehearsal." and Carroll and Baker, two Hebrew character comedians will not doubt hand out a bundle of good stories and anecdotes that will keep their audiences in a state of good humor. Senator, a violinist who was considerable fame with the "Right Vassar Girls" is now a single entertainer and his contribution to the bill will be sure to be one of the enjoyable features. Rogers and Coley, two singing comedians who have been associated with musical comedy productions, will have a smart number, and the Three Vassar Italian comedians, who perform acrobatic and acrobatic stunts. There are half a dozen other skilled specialty acts, as well as the kinesthetic displaying motion pictures of the latest subjects.

An Explanation. A great many people seem to be in doubt as to our attitude regarding "church advertising." We insert notices of religious meetings, Sunday services, Sunday schools, and so forth, without charge, because such notices are regarded as news. Advertising entertainments, socials, banquets, suppers, and the like, is charged for. If we attend a church function we are expected to pay for what we get, and why should we not receive pay for our advertising? Every little notice costs us money and if we did not receive pay for such notices we would not long do business. We are always glad to receive press notices, and expect them although they are not taken in payment, for advertising, but are regarded as a favor on your part, and one which we always return.

Every newspaper in the country takes this view of the matter. It would be impossible for them to do otherwise. We are always desirous of receiving both news items and advertising. The one we will gladly publish free of charge, but the other must be paid for. We will take news or advertising over the phone, (our number is 603) but prefer that you write same and mail to us or drop in person, which is located on Cook street near Taylor's street. Send in what you may have of either.

WAUCONDA.

Dance to-night at the Oakland.

Winfield Schenck is running a loudness and is doing as well as could be expected.

Charles Davis and family of Ashton, Iowa, are visiting relatives and friends in Wauconda and vicinity at present.

Saturday evening marked the thirty-third anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred North, and a party of friends gave them a genuine surprise party.

The notable at the M. E. church under the management of the layette seven was a success socially and financially more than one hundred dollars being added to the fund for painting the church.

The fifth annual here given by the ladies of the catholic church which had been advertised for Saturday evening, because of the rain of the end of the week, was necessarily held on Sunday evening as had provided for, the supper could not be held till later, but notwithstanding the change which could not be given much advertising, at least, the event was a very fair success, more than three hundred dollars being realized in cash proceeds.

death of Henry Wilton, it must be the evidence that I should wrest from him and his tools. I had just secured the key that would fit the first door. I had taken the impression of the lock and it made without difficulty, purpose, but now I was ready to act.

With a sinking heart but a clear head I put the key cautiously to the lock. It fitted the keyhole. The door fitted perfectly, and the bolt flew back as it made the circle. I opened the door into the middle room. The same lock and it made without difficulty. Would the same key fit the second door, or must I wait to have another made? I advanced to the second door. The key fitted. The door opened. A sound from behind it turned my mind to water.

Beyond that door, from the room I had supposed to be empty, I heard voices.

I stood as if petrified, and in a wood of light that streamed in at the open door, I saw a man and a woman. Clay state ringing in my ears, I saw my hair rise as though I had come on a ghost. I listened a minute or two, and then I spoke.

"Nonsense!" I thought to myself; I raised my hand to the forehead to knock away the vision. I broke again louder, unmistakable. It was the voice of one in distress of body or mind.

I listened with all my ears. The voice came through the door in the stern tones of a man's voice. The man earnestly, pleadingly, threatened, but in a suppressed monotone. It was followed by a woman's voice, and it was followed by a man's choked sounds, as of one who protested, yet, strangely, the voice was the same. The man's voice was the same. It was self-conscious, self-excuse, and self-seemed to come in answer to self-reproaches.

The man's voice was sound as of a man praying, and the prayer was brought by a sob, and again I thought the

SPRINGFIELD'S FIERCE RIOT RESULTS IN SIX DEATHS

Terrible Race War Makes Necessary Calling Out of Nearly All of Illinois National Guard and the Troops Repress All Further Outbreaks.

Springfield.—Only two regiments of state troops were left in Springfield Thursday night. At a conference in the governor's office Wednesday night it was decided to release the Second Infantry from riot duty Thursday, in addition to the Third and Fifth regiments whose departure had been scheduled to follow the release of the First and Fourth regiments Wednesday.

The troops which remain on guard here are the Seventh Infantry and eight troops of the First cavalry. The conference was between Gen. E. C. Young and Gov. Deneen. The former pointed out that with conditions in their present satisfactory state the expense of keeping the large body of troops here is useless and asserted that one regiment of infantry and one of cavalry can take care of any riotous demonstrations which may arise. Plans were also completed for the delivery to the civil authorities of Joseph B. Klein, the Chicago private of Company A, First Infantry, who snatched Earl Nelson with a bayonet at Kankakee while the regiment was en route to Springfield. The surrender of Klein will be made according to military regulations in three instances. Company L of the Third Infantry being detailed as an escort for the prisoner.

Six on Death Roll.
Springfield, Ill.—Two more deaths on Sunday and one Monday from injuries received in the riot. In the riot created to a list of fatalities resulting from the terrible rioting and race war that raged in Springfield Friday night and Saturday.

William Donigan, the aged colored man whose throat was cut Saturday night, expired at 11 a. m. Frank Delmore, who was shot through the lungs on Friday night, passed away an hour later.

Monday night J. W. Scott succumbed to a gunshot wound in the lungs received Friday night.

More Trouble if Bowe Dies.
Another death is expected momentarily. W. H. Bowe, chief clerk in the county treasurer's office and one of the most popular citizens of Springfield, is slowly sinking from the effects of the bullet wounds and the beating which he received from a crowd of negroes Friday night. Bowe's friends have warned the authorities that "Bully" will be avenged and the event of his death will cause a redoubling of vigilance by the troops' commanders.

Evidence is being lacking that many citizens who were known to have important testimony regarding the riot and its leaders have been deterred from offering this to the state's attorney because of threats of violence made against them last week.

Loot from Stores Recovered.

The gathering of evidence began in earnest Monday. Policemen in plain clothes were sent to search the houses of prisoners and suspects, and as a result the police station looked like a general store. Groceries, hardware, clothing, dry goods and shoes were recovered in great quantities, most of them bearing the price tags of the looted business houses. Naturally many arrests followed. Eighty prisoners were crowded into the small cell room at the police station.

Troops There Number 4200.

With the arrival here Sunday of the Second and Seventh Infantry regiments, I. N. G. and two squadrons of the First cavalry, all from Chicago, the entire National Guard of Illinois, with the exception of the Sixth Infantry and the Eighth Infantry (colored) was on duty in the riot-ridden districts Sunday night. In all, 4,200 guardsmen are in the city.

Private J. B. Klein, Company A, First Infantry, killed a young man named Earl Nelson at Kankakee, and his case was considered Sunday by a regimental court of inquiry, which was held at the residence of Rev. G. M. McDaniel, 1144 North Seventh street, a colored preacher, was torn down by a mob.

The rioters were not in the house at the time of the attack. In the afternoon they had been served with a notice to clear the city at once.

Wounded Kept in Hiding.
The amount of fighting there was Friday night and early Saturday morning and the exact number of wounded may never be known. The ambulances and liveries were busy all night carrying wounded men to St. John's hospital or their homes.

The tenor of the mob was terrific and the storm they started unquenchable. The fire department was not allowed to make runs to burning homes of negroes. Men ran into the street and grabbed horses' bits. Others cut the hose. The department had to content itself with holding lines from spreading to houses of white men.

Illinois Central trains were not allowed to run through the city. The officials were afraid the rioters would break into the cars and kill the colored porters.

Guns were taken away from the members of the Springfield company of militia as they marched down the street.

Desultory fighting was going on in several parts of the city when the main crowd, 10,000 strong, was tearing up the negro quarter.

Prominent Man Beaten by Negroes.
A sign of the feelings with which the blacks regarded all whites was given when William H. Bowe, chief clerk in the county treasurer's office, narrowly escaped being lynched by a band of negroes while on the way to his home early Saturday morning.

With two companions he had gone to the district known as the "bad lands" to see the devastation wrought by the riot. As they were leaving a dozen negroes confronted Bowe and his friends and ordered them to halt.

He alone obeyed the order, the others running away. After probably fatally shooting Bowe his assailants robbed him of jewelry, tearing a diamond ring from his finger.

Joe Farmer, one of the gang, recognized Bowe and pleaded with the others not to lynch him. Only he probably would have been killed.

Mayor Issues Proclamation.
In an effort to reduce the crowds on the street to a minimum, Mayor Reece on Saturday issued a proclamation requesting all good citizens to remain at their homes and not to congregate on the streets, and thereby tend to strengthen the turbulent element.

Mayor Reece also requested all business houses and stores, with the exception of restaurants and drug stores, to close their doors at six o'clock. The merchants promptly complied with the mayor's request.

But while this plan for keeping people off the streets was aided by the storekeepers, the citizens generally did not pay much heed to the executive's proclamation. Thousands of people not only from Springfield, but from surrounding cities, thronged the streets, and the spectacle of the soldiers and police to disperse were disregarded by them.

The Old-Time Gospel.

Admiral Lord Charles Beresford said in parliament on several occasions. At York, one evening, after having addressed a political gathering, a famous politician who had hovered round on the home rule question approached him and said: "Admirable speech, Beresford; very good, indeed. I didn't think you could do it. You don't look like a statesman." "Perhaps not," was the bluff sailor's retort. "No more do you look like a weathercock."—Bellman.

Laws That Hurt Holland.
Holland is not a poor country; it is a matter of fact it is the third richest, proportionately, of all Europe. Its wealth is forcibly spread over its tiny surface, for lawmaking has prevented undue accumulation and squashed the small capitalist. When the father and mother dies, the farm, business, whatever the little property may happen to be is at once cut up, smashed to pieces, flung on the market at any price; the proceeds are compulsorily divided among the children.

Abraham Lincoln, and for more than 50 years a citizen of Springfield, was the latest victim of the racial warfare resulting from the assault upon Mrs. Earl Hallam, a young white woman, by a negro Thursday night.

Donigan was brutally beaten by the mob, hanged to a tree, and otherwise mistreated.

Later Saturday night the residence of Rev. G. M. McDaniel, 1144 North Seventh street, a colored preacher, was torn down by a mob.

The rioters were not in the house at the time of the attack. In the afternoon they had been served with a notice to clear the city at once.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. F. Gerald Blatter, of Buffalo, N. Y., says: "Your Castoria is good for children and I frequently prescribe it, always obtaining the desired results."

Dr. Gustave A. Elengraber, of St. Paul, Minn., says: "I have used your Castoria repeatedly in my practice with good results, and can recommend it as an excellent, mild and harmless remedy for children."

Dr. E. J. Deming, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "I have used and prescribed your Castoria in my sanitarium and outside practice for a number of years and find it to be an excellent remedy for children."

Dr. J. A. Buchanan, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have used your Castoria in the case of my own baby and find it pleasant to take, and have obtained excellent results from its use."

Dr. J. B. Simpson, of Chicago, Ill., says: "I have used your Castoria in cases of colic in children and have found it the best medicine of its kind on the market."

Dr. R. E. Edmonds, of Omaha, Neb., says: "I find your Castoria to be a standard family remedy. It is the best thing for infants and children I have ever known, and I recommend it."

Dr. J. R. Robinson, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Your Castoria certainly has merit. Is not its age, its continued use by mothers through all these years, and the many attempts to imitate it, sufficient recommendation? What can a physician add? Leave it to the mothers."

Dr. Edwin P. Pardon, of New York City, says: "For several years I have recommended your Castoria and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results."

Dr. M. B. Stier, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I object to what are called patent medicines, where maker alone knows what ingredients are put in, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use."

OF COURSE HE WOULDN'T.

"You certainly wouldn't marry a girl for her money, would you, Tom?"

"Of course not; neither would I have the heart to let her become an old maid because she happened to be well off."

BABY CRIED AND SCRATCHED

All the Time—Covered with Torture Itches—Doctor Said: Sores Would Last for Years—Painful Cure by Cuticura.

"My baby since was suffering from that terrible torture, eczema. It was all over her body but the worst was on her face and hands. She cried and scratched all the time and could not sleep night or day from the scratching. I had her under the doctor's care for a year and a half and he seemed to do her no good. I took her to the best doctor in the city and he said that she would have the sores until she was six years old. But I felt that I would try Cuticura. I had depended on the doctor my baby would have lost her mind and died from the want of aid. But I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment and she was cured in three months. Alice L. Dowell, 4769 Easton Ave., St. Louis, Mo., May 2 and 20, 1907."

Venezuela's Side.
It is generally taken for granted in this country that our government must be right in the dispute with Venezuela, therefore Castro's government is in the wrong. Both cannot be right or there would be no dispute. Venezuela claims that her attitude is right and legal, and it is conceded by those who are familiar with Castro's argument that there is room for honorable difference of opinion at least. For instance, in the case of the B. under Asphalt company, which has been heavily fined by the Venezuelan courts and its concession by the government canceled, it is Castro's contention that the company originally agreed to abide by the decision of his courts in all disputes with the government arising under the contract and, furthermore, that the company supplied money to finance a revolution against the established government of Venezuela.

If Venezuela's claim is supported on every point by evidence as strong as that presented showing complicity with conspiracy, it is not strange that Castro's government, betrayed even upon repeated efforts to reopen cases that have been passed upon by the courts and by arbitration boards. The revolution in question began in January, 1902. In November, 1901, the B. under Asphalt company, which is known as the asphalt trust, paid the leader of the uprising, General Matos, $100,000. In July, 1901, four months before the money was paid, Matos visited the offices of the trust in New York. The deal of the trust with Matos was described by the president of the company, General F. W. Greene, in testimony given before a special commission three years ago. Said General Greene: "When I returned from Europe in October, 1901, I was surprised to learn from my absence they had decided to support Matos in his contest with Castro, and that I thought they had made a great mistake, because what they had done was not such a good faith with the state department at Washington, which up to that time and largely on representations made by me to Secretary Hay had supported the B. under Asphalt company to such an extent as to enable it to continue in possession of its property. I told them that my judgment was that the proper policy for the company to pursue was to rely upon the support of the state department at Washington. This, however, they said was impossible for they had already made arrangements to support Matos, and it would be agreed, as they thought he would, the company would then be able to protect its interests in Venezuela."

The money was paid over to Matos in spite of the warning, and Matos failed in his attempt to overthrow the government, as General Greene predicted.

Some of the claims which the United States has recently asked to have submitted to arbitration have already been arbitrated adversely to the claimant, and others, Venezuela declares, are not proper for reference to an arbitration tribunal. One of the last is a claim of the same nature as one already arbitrated adversely to the claimant, and it is preferred by the company which made the previous claim. Castro cites as a precedent for his refusal to arbitrate the policy of this government when requested to reopen a case that had been decided by arbitration. To appease the warring Secretary Hay replied as follows:

A failure to comply with the award would involve a grave discourtesy to the eminent arbitrators who sat in the case and a serious injury to the cause of arbitration.

Venezuela applied the above words of Secretary Hay to the reopening of the cases already decided by the arbitration commission of 1903. This arbitration tribunal passed upon fifty-five American claims against the Venezuelan government for damages aggregating over $16,000,000, of which $480,450, or less than 3 per cent of the sum claimed, was awarded to the American claimants.

A newly invented device for preventing head and rear-end collisions is to be tested by the Interstate Commerce Commission, and it will do what is claimed for it the railroad will be ordered to install it. Hereafter the road will be required to be the better pay damages now and then to install new equipment to meet all emergencies—in other words, better to curb abuses than to prevent them.

The man "astro" is not only a menace to the peace of the world, but makes stability and progress impossible in Venezuela. Unless the fates soon mix him in the powers should line up against him as they did against Napoleon in 1814 and compel his abdication.

"A man with $200,000 wants to go into active business," says an advertisement. Perhaps the man is an advertisement and thinks he can add to the circulation quicker in active business than by giving money away.

Besides, after the tigers and lions are all dead the ex-president can go for the north pole and wind up that whole affair mystery for good and all.

Four terrible years should now elapse before anybody is again called upon to face the ordeal of being named as the tail of "the ticket that's sure to win."

The trouble in Persia is persistent enough to suggest that some selfish power of first magnitude is doing a little long distance agitator.

Now perhaps we shall find out whether a man who took San Juan hill can be eclipsed by one who controls his own spirit.

The war department wants $100,000 for airplane experiments. It ought to occur to somebody that it would be cheaper to let the other fellow worry the cost of experiments and then buy his finished machine.

The Canadian Tercentenary.

The tercentenary of the settlement of Quebec bids fair to be a memorable event in American development. The British colonies have been brought closer by the celebration and the recognition by the mother land of the wealth and importance of Canada, with her three centuries of history, her prosperous people and her substantial foundation as a nation. On the soil of Canada France and England once struggled for the mastery. Now a fused French and English population meet as Canadians, saying that in the exploration, settlement and final development of the Dominion there is glory enough for all.

France and England have recently become cordial friends and political allies. Ancient feuds have been buried in the old world, and they will have no place in the hearts of French Canadians and British Canadians, whom fate have brought under one flag in the western world. The unity of sentiment between the inhabitants of Canada and the joy of both blood strains toward the parent country have been emphasized in this midsummer celebration at Quebec. Neither the political independence of the Dominion or her association with the United States is overshadowed by the present ambitions and ideals of our northern neighbors as disclosed by Canadian people and officials before the visiting people and officials at Quebec.

The wisdom of British rule over a foreign people has been demonstrated in Canada and is in some degree doubtless responsible for the cordial acceptance by France of the invitation to assist in the Quebec celebration. In the main the French colonists were treated with justice and a rare liberality. The French language, customs and sentiment flourish today throughout the province of Quebec, yet the French Canadian apparently have no desire to return to French rule and if permitted the choice would probably elect to retain their present government, under which they have enjoyed so wide a measure of liberty and prosperity.

Our Sailors Stand by the Service. Admirals Evans' remark that the strength of our navy must be found in its men and not in its armor was evidently not the wall of a pessimist who feared that the service was going to the dogs. It was predicted about the time that the first sailed from the Atlantic that numerous desertions would result from the long voyage, for the service was becoming unpopular and that many men enlisted on the eve of the cruise simply to get the money and keep until they reached new fields of adventure. Since the first left Hampton Roads last December the desertions have been only 603, or about 7 per cent. After a long cruise in the harbor of San Francisco the desertions reported when the ship sailed away were only 425 out of a roster of nearly 12,000. It is believed that not more than a fourth of these absentees were idle deserters. The majority of the young men who enlisted for the cruise probably sized up the advantages of the trip around the world before they took the leap. It is a good schooling for men in any walk of life. Incidentally, the experience is one of discipline from which no real man shrinks. When the native thin skin of the recruit is a bit toughened, bowing to the iron hand of military discipline is but a small price to pay for the chance to make a world voyage and see strange lands and strange people. When these thousands of sailors drop back into civil life they will not only be the better citizens for their experience, but more successful as individuals. Their wanderlust or travel fever will have run its course, and as fast as they buckle down to home work or other pursuits of the same class and rugged fiber will replace them at the guns.

don't hate to go to the country for farm board, for they get that right at home. One month's supply of butter for consumption in New York city is over 240,000 lbs. During the same time approximately 620,000 barrels of potatoes and 10,000,000 dozen eggs are shipped in there for local consumption. New York contains about 4,000,000 inhabitants, and the monthly ration of butter seems to be about five pounds for every man, woman and child, or three ounces each day. The egg supply would give two each day for all hands, and the potatoes would go around if everybody grabbed a pound a day.

Now, the above are all farm products, some of which are grown within a few hours by rail of the markets where they are doled out to the hungry. They come in by every boat and train and can be had fresh if consumers take the trouble to demand quality as well as quantity. They mean that country board minus country air is the city's reliance. The far away city for a customer, but the city needs the farm to keep it from starving.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Moorhouse of Ord, Nebraska, are visiting at the residence of A. L. Robertson. Mr. Moorhouse was a resident of this village twenty-six years ago. He is station agent for the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railway at Ord, Nebraska.

Harry Jencks, son of John Jenck of Elgin, who met with an accident while in swimming August 9th, died last Sunday. The funeral was held Tuesday. Among those attending from here were: George A. Jencks and family, C. P. Hawley, Mrs. L. A. Powers, Mesdames Hannah Powers, Addie Lines and A. D. Church.

The first of this month the heirs of L. H. Bute sold to Dr. Richardson $200 in addition to $925 which he had already received from Ray Cannon as rent on the Emma C. Bute property. In return Dr. Richardson, who held a trust deed on the property as security for a loan, gave release deeds so that the home of the late Mrs. Bute now belongs to Mrs. A. F. Parker, Ellen M. Bishop and Mary E. Derby who purchased the interests of Mrs. Bute's heirs.

She Likes Good Things. Mrs. Chas. E. Smith, of West Frank-lin, Maine, says: "I like" good things and have adopted Dr. King's New Life Pills as our family laxative medicine, because they are good and do their work without making a fuss about it." ## J. S. SHERMAN IS NOTIFIED

TAPTS RUNNING MATE TOLD OF HIS NOMINATION.

Big Celebration in Utica—Parade Precedes Ceremony and Sports and Concert Follow.

Utica, N. Y.—Representative James S. Sherman at noon Tuesday was formally notified of his nomination for the vice-presidency at the Chicago convention last June, and the final ceremonies of officially placing the Republican national ticket before the people was completed.

The notification was made the occasion of a general holiday and the residents of the city, irrespective of party, took part in the tribute to a fellow townsman. The city, especially on Genesee street from the downtown section to the Sherman residence, was handsomely decorated.

The day began with a vice-presidential salute of 19 guns, fired at seven o'clock.

"FIGHTING BOB" RETIRED

REAR ADMIRAL EVANS QUILTS ACTIVE SERVICE.

Famous Naval Commander Swung with Messages and Calls of Congratulation.

Lake Mohonk, N. Y.—Far from grim warships and the sea, where he spent nearly half a century in the service of his country, Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans of the United States navy, who is at this quiet mountain hotel, reached the age limit of 62 years Tuesday and passed from the ranks of the country's active sea fighters.

All through the day the hotel was thronged with admirers of "Fighting Bob" as his hosts of friends delight to call him, eager to congratulate him on the sixty-second birthday and to wish him many more happy and useful years. Telegrams by the score reached him from all parts of the country, all expressing felicitations and affection for the man who has done so much to build up the American navy. Many of the messages brought delighted smiles to the admiral's face, while others brought him a suspicion of moisture to his eyes.

The formal celebration in honor of the admiral took place in the evening in the large parlor of the Mountain hotel. The room was gaily decorated with American flags, but the feature which attracted the attention of everybody was a battle-secured flag which the admiral carried on the Iowa during the battle with the Spanish fleet at Santiago. Albert K. Smiley introduced as presiding officer of the ceremony J. Edward Simmons of New York. When Admiral Evans was introduced to the room in a wheel chair, the audience applauded him vociferously. Mr. Simmons then delivered an eulogy of the admiral.

A large number of letters from men distinguished in public and private life were then read by Mr. Simmons. Among them was one from President Roosevelt.

After a number of impromptu addresses Dr. Andrew S. Draper of New York presented to Admiral Evans a beautiful loving cup, the gift of guests of the hotel. He made a brief speech of acceptance, and then a huge birthday cake, covered with 62 lighted candles was brought into the room.

OKLAHOMA EDITOR ARRESTED.

O. K. Benedict Accused of Criminal Libel by Gov. Haskell.

Guthrie, Okla.—Arrested in Oklahoma City on a charge of criminal libel, preferred by Gov. Charles N. Haskell, Omer K. Benedict, editor of the Times, arrived here Monday night in the custody of Sheriff Mahoney of Logan county. He was admitted to bond in $500 and returned to Oklahoma City immediately. He declined to say anything whatever in the matter.

Gov. Haskell issued a statement entering a general denial of the charges of conspiracy with the Standard Oil company alleged to have been contained in an editorial in the Times of Friday, August 14.

Famous Evangelist Dead.

New York—Mrs. D. Sankey, known as an evangelist, the highest of the Christian world, died Thursday night at his home in Brooklyn, but the news of his passing did not become generally known until Friday. Mr. Sankey was 58 years old.

For the last five years he had been blind and had suffered from a complication of diseases brought on by overwork. But almost to the very last he worked at hymn writing. His torso throughout this country and Europe with Dwight L. Moody, the evangelist, brought him into wide prominence.

Remarkable Rifle Shooting.

Camp Perry, O.—What is said to have been the most extraordinary long range rifle shooting ever seen in America was accomplished Tuesday by Capt. K. V. Casey of the First Delaware in the Leech and Wimbeldon cup matches, both of which he won by record-breaking scores.

In the Leech match he scored 800, 900 and 1,000. Casey scored 784 out of a possible 1,050. In the Wimbeldon 900-yard match he scored 97, beating the match record of 91 made by Capt. Richard of Ohio in 1903.

CUSTOMS SCANDAL

TWO SOCIETY WOMEN CAUGHT BY TREASURY OFFICIALS.

FINE PAID; GOODS SEIZED

Mrs. Jack Gardner of Boston and Mrs. Emily Crane, Chadbourne of Chicago Involved in Startling Attempt to Evade Duties.

Chicago.—The United States authorities in Chicago, Boston and Washington for the last eight weeks have been investigating the most remarkable attempt to "beat" the customs laws ever brought to their attention. The audacity of the scheme and the standing of the participants break all records.

Mrs. Emily Rockwell Crane Chadbourne, who is now living on the north shore, daughter of Richard T. Crane, president of the Crane Manufacturing company, and Mrs. "Jack" Gardner of Boston are the unlucky persons involved. Mrs. Chadbourne brought into this country as her household goods, under a false declaration, nearly $100,000 worth of articles of vertu belonging to Mrs. Gardner, on which she placed a valuation of $5,000.

Results Up to Date.

First—The goods have been seized by United States Collector Ames and are now confiscated by the government.

Second—An agent acting for Mrs. Chadbourne or Mrs. Gardner paid the government $75,000 in fines and penalties, and Mrs. Gardner will have to pay $50,000 additional if she wishes to secure possession of the property.

Third—The case is in all probability will be placed in the hands of the prosecuting authorities, and it is not unlikely that both women will have to face indictments at the hands of the next federal grand jury that meets in Chicago.

Goods Seized in Paris.

Some time ago the government learned that Mrs. Gardner had stored in Paris nearly a quarter of a million dollars' worth of tapestries, marbles, oil paintings, armor and other gems from various European collections. The tapestries were registered and well known among art collectors.

About two months ago one of the treasury secret agents in Paris learned of a large shipment of Mrs. Gardner's goods had been made from Paris to London. In the English capital the secret service agent lost track of the goods.

Mrs. Chadbourne involved.

Last month Mrs. Chadbourne came back to America. When she landed in New York she had several large cases which were labeled "Household Goods," and which were shipped in bond to Chicago. She swore they were household goods and her personal property.

Before Mrs. Chadbourne's declaration was made, she had been told from abroad that it might be well to keep a close lookout for Mrs. Jack Gardner's stuff. Whether this was a tip that started the customs officials in action or not is not known, but when the packing cases were opened, instead of $5,000 worth of pots and pans, bedsteads, chairs and other things, $50,000 worth of tapestries, marbles, oil paintings, armor, porcelain and other things of like ilk were exposed to view. Then the penalty was imposed and paid and the property seized.

FEUD ENDS IN TRAGEDY.

Italian Kills Enemy, Wounds Letter's Father and Commits Suicide.

West Chester, Pa.—Benjamin De Felice, of Cincinnati, shot and killed Benjamin de Felix and fatally wounded Pasquale de Felix, father of the murdered man, here Sunday, and then, to escape capture at the hands of an infuriated mob, committed suicide by shooting himself.

The sensational shooting is said to be the outgrowth of a feud that had existed between the Italians for a long time. The bad feeling was recently increased by the arrest of de Felix, the murdered man, on a charge of keeping a speakeasy and being identified with a counterfeiting plot.

Big Fish Causes Drowning.

Tugger Lake, N. Y.—Dr. Joseph Eichberg, of Cincinnati, was drowned Tuesday in Big Tugger lake. A party including Dr. Eichberg, his brother-in-law, Mr. Kuhn, and John Champney, a guide, was fishing in trying to land a large pike when the boat was capsized. Dr. Eichberg could not swim and sank immediately.

Three Canadian Firemen Killed.

London, Ont.—Three firemen were killed and a fourth was dangerously hurt Tuesday night when the floor of a burning building fell upon them. The dead are: Fire Chief Lawrence Clark, Fireman McQuinn and Fireman Cockburn.

Dr. Hopkins Dead.

Williamstown, Mass.—Dr. Henry Hopkins, former president of Williams college, died of pneumonia at Rotterdam, Holland, Tuesday, according to a cablegram received by his brother, Col. A. L. Hopkins, of this town.

Russian Empress Grows Worse.

That is What Proves True Merit.

Doan's Kidney Pills bring the quickest relief from backache and kidney troubles. It is that relief. Let Mrs. James M. Long of 112 N. Augusta St., Staunton, Va., tell you. On January 31st, 1903, Mrs. Long wrote: "Doan's Kidney Pills have cured me (of pain in the back, urinary trouble, bearing down sensations, etc.). On June 20th, 1904, four years later, she said: 'I haven't had kidney trouble since. I repeat my testimony.' Sold by all dealers, 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y."

Mrs. Cunningham—Every woman should work hard for a husband.

Mrs. Marryat—That's what I say, but my wife's so lazy.

Mrs. Cunningham—You misunderstand me. I mean she should work hard to get a husband, but after she gets him she shouldn't work at all.

Maude E. Fergie, of Leesburg, Va., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I want other suffering women to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. For months I suffered from female troubles so that I thought I could not live. I wrote you, and after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and using the treatment you prescribed I felt like a new woman. I am now strong, and well as ever, and thank you for the good you have done me."

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ailments and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Spank 'Em

It Is Good for the Unruly Boy

By JUDGE OLMSTED,
Seattle Children's Court, New York City.

BELIEVE every child at heart is good. He means well, and when through the exuberance of his feelings he commits some act against the good of the community it is but a simple mistake that can be corrected in simple ways. Spanking is good for many boys, especially if the spanking is administered by some one in parental authority. I have frequently sentenced a boy to a sound spanking by his father or mother right here in court, because I believe it will do him good. Its effect on him is far more salutary than if he were administered in his own home.

I got but one spanking in all my life, but I will never forget the impression it made on me. I debated most seriously for hours whether to run away from such cruel parents or not, and of course I finally decided not to. Why? Because the punishment was of such a nature that it appealed to me and I finally came to the conclusion that perhaps I had deserved what I got.

The remembrance of that spanking came back to me when I took charge of the children's court. If it had so good an effect on me, I argued, why wouldn't it be a good thing to try on others? So I got to ordering spankings right here in court, and I think they are doing good.

We do not have any too much time here in the children's court to question the youngsters. We have to get their viewpoint quickly and read their little minds instantly. It is not mere punishment we seek to give out. We prefer far more to teach them what is right and what is wrong.

Why Hindus Seek America

By T. M. ROSE.

Signs of progress are evident now in India. Since October, 1905, when the late viceroy of India divided the province of Bengal against the unanimous wishes of the people, a national movement began in India under the name of Swadhehi movement. This movement, originally a protest against the autocratic disregard of the people's wishes, by inaugurating a general boycott of British goods in India, intends to elevate the various conditions in India by infusing a national spirit among the masses.

In addition to the cultivation of home industries the Swadhehi movement aims to improve upon the number of unwholesome social customs. Formerly it was considered sacrilegious to go to foreign countries. Now it is sanctioned by the Brahmins. Widow remarriages are now being performed by Hindu society. The various castes and creeds also are eating together, something unheard of a number of years ago. A national system of education has been inaugurated.

To cope with all these progressive changes young men from India, representing all the various castes and creeds, are coming from the different parts of the globe with the purpose of securing information and instruction on various useful points in different directions which will enable them to ameliorate the unhappy condition of their millions of countrymen in India.

The majority of these students go to Japan, since a study of the phenomenal development of that country is considered essential to an understanding of the conditions needed for helping India. Most of those that go to Japan, however, together with many others, come on to the United States, and for the reason that this is the only western country where educational facilities are great and at the same time the chances for self-support while the studies are being carried on may be expected. Not only that, the remarkable growth of this country in the various directions, industrial, economic, agricultural, mechanical, scientific, and so on, is regarded by the Hindus as a reason for making it the most suitable place to get right ideas that will aid in furthering the progress of their own nation. Just as America is considered to have been the great cause for the unique development of Japan, it would add to her greater glory were she to aid these young men to become an important factor in the making of the new India.

Individuality in All Natures

By JOHN REATTE CROZIER.

The world is not lumped together as a whole, but it is distributed into individual natures—animals, plants, human beings of every race, species, and variety, in the same way that the hand, to be more serviceable, is divided into individual fingers. And whatever be the ultimate goal to which it is tending, it is plain that that goal can be arrived at only by the agency of these individual natures—animals, plants, and man. Such being the evident ground plan of the world, one sees at a glance that it is a necessity inherent in the original design that there should be some special provision for maintaining this individuality and preventing things from being absorbed by one another. And so, indeed, there is. We find in animals horns, hoofs, fangs, organs of offense and defense of every variety, all serving as mere instruments or means by which this ground scheme of individualism is maintained.

Besides his coarse physical defenses against enemies man has the finer weapons of envy, pride, jealousy, revenge, and the like, which are merely these instruments of individuation and self-preservation carried up into the mind and transmitted there into more subtle and flexible refuges of attack or defense. Lesser men defend themselves from absorption by greater by means of envy, or hold their own against pride by contradiction, combativeness, or pride. Vanity stimulates men to make the most of themselves and helps them to keep up their individuality. Jealousy helps them to hold their own against rivals; revenge to make good again on an enemy the injury he has done them. They are stimulated to perpetuate their individuality by means of offspring having the like individuality, and so prevent things from sinking back into that undiversified uniformity out of which they had originally to struggle.

Happenings of Illinois

News Notes of Interest Gathered in Cities, Towns and Villages of the State.

IS HELD AS FORGER.

Ex-Treasurer of Calhoun County Accused of Falsifying Bank Notes.

Hardin.—Unable to give bond, M. C. Johnston, former treasurer of Calhoun county, who is widely known throughout the state, is held in the county jail at Hardin, awaiting grand jury action on a charge of forgery of 14 or more notes. It is charged by those who say they have been defrauded that Johnston obtained $2,000 by forged notes.

Upon retirement from the office of county treasurer two years ago Johnston made a settlement in full with the county. He is believed his accounts there are in proper shape. There is talk of having his books examined by an expert accountant. Johnston was arrested on complaint of John Eagan, who said his name had been forged by Johnston as surety on a $2,000 bond. According to Eagan the note was given to Charles Keener and bore the names of Eagan and Jesse Ford as sureties.

CIGARETTE WAR NOW ON.

Harrisburg City Council Passes Draconic Measure to "Coffin" Mails.

Harrisburg.—A crusade against cigarette mail is being started by the city council at Harrisburg.

An ordinance has been passed making it a felony offense for merchants to ship tobacco products in boxes that contain any substance other than tobacco. In addition to a fine of $100 for each offense, a license of $50 per year has been fixed for all merchants who sell any brand of cigarette tobacco. Any person under 18 years found shipping cigarette mail will be placed in the city jail and fined in addition.

The action of the city council is the most drastic of any in the state, and is being met with a strong opposition. Testing against the enforcement of the law. Already a number of the leading brands of cigarette tobacco have been shipped to Harrisburg, and the merchants are refusing to sell any kind of the stuff.

Galva's Efficient Fire Chief.

Galva.—Fire Chief Joseph Pemberton Gibbs of this city, at the age of 76 is the oldest member of the National Firemen's association, and went to Chicago to attend the eleventh annual convention of the association. "Dad" as he is familiarly known to firemen throughout the United States, has given the Little City of Galva, with a population of 3,500, a fire department which ranks the equal to the departments in much larger towns and has a membership of 100. He was a member of the first Illinois cavalry in the civil war.

Kills Child and Himself.

Olney.—Louis A. Ryan shot his child, Duke, and then killed himself in a fit of jealousy at a hotel in Noble, near here. Both are from Delphos, O. Ryan induced Metta Decker to run away with him four weeks ago to this county, where they were married. Ryan was 26 and his wife 18. Ryan left a note saying he and his wife had agreed to commit suicide but his wife denied this.

Had Many Causes of Death.

Hellville.—Fred Deutchmann, 34, a horse dealer, died of complications of diseases, including tetanus, pneumonia, poisoning, constant bleacings for five days, and paralysis. The attending physician says the case is unprecedented. He thinks the tetanus germ entered Deutchmann's system in latent form, which he contracted while in the military service during the civil war.

Saves Husband in Club Fire.

Jerseyville.—While the other guests, men and women, fled in terror, Mrs. Edward B. Griggs dragged her husband from the blazing Otter Creek clubhouse, on the Illinois river, near Hardin, and with her bare hands beat out the flames leaping from his oil-saturated clothes. Griggs was burned from head to foot and his injuries are believed to be fatal.

San Jose Scale Found.

Barry.—D. B. Howard, who is making a study of the scale on trees between Decatur and Hannibal, Mo., for the state of Illinois, has found a district several miles square near Hannibal in which the orchards are infested by the San Jose scale. Later men will be assigned to this locality and will aid the fruit men in stamping out the pest.

ASK $534,000 FOR HOME.

Trustees of Soldiers' and Sailors' Institution Make Estimate.

Quincy.—At a meeting of the trustees of the Illinois Soldiers' Home, Superintendent Somerville presented a report showing the ordinary expenses of the home for the last two years to have amounted to $209,249.94, and setting out the needs of the institution for the years 1909 and 1910, to cover which an appropriation of $534,000 would be required from the next legislature.

The budget of appropriations recommended by the superintendent and agreed on by the trustees provides $114,300 for improvements and repairs and $420,000 for ordinary expenses.

The home will shortly be thrown open to the wives of inmates, for whose accommodation large buildings have been just completed.

USE TRUCK AS HEARSE.

Friends Pull Philip Mason's Corpses to Cemetery.

Phil.—The huge casket containing the remains of 400-pound L. C. Porter, who died of heart disease, was hauled to the church on a baggage truck borrowed from the railroad company and as the door was too small to admit the coffin the funeral service was held on the church steps.

Meant to Wreck Train.

Mason City.—Trainmaster E. P. Beam and Superintendent E. Sweeney of the Chicago & Alton, making an inspection trip of the road about a small motor car, discovered a plot to wreck the Bloomington-Rockhouse north-bound passenger train near Mason City just a few minutes before the train was due. Three rails on a sharp curve had been loosened, the spikes having been pulled and the flagstones thrown aside.

Dragged to Death by Team.

Alhambra.—Henry Dauderman, 42 years old, a farmer living near Alhambra, was killed in a runaway. Dauderman was mowing a threshing machine and one of the wheels sank into a rut, the jar throwing him from the seat. In falling the refuse became entangled about Dauderman's neck and the team ran away, dragging him half a mile. Dauderman was dead when picked up.

Operation Causes Two Riots.

Streator.—About 50 Italians, who could not understand the necessity for an operation about to be performed on one of their countrymen, assembled in the grounds of St. Mary's hospital and made a hostile demonstration. Next morning the Italian died. There was another demonstration which the police quelled.

Y. M. C. A. Head Is Arrested.

Woodstock.—Albert Sloan, secretary of the local Young Men's Christian association, who was arrested charged with malicious mischief and carrying records, was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $500, going to jail. A week ago the Y. M. C. A. rooms were ransacked and Sloan's arrest followed.

Pictures Peril: Dead.

Alton.—George Greer, a painter, was instantly killed by falling from the roof of a residence. A few minutes before he had spoken with James Goudie, the occupant of the house, about the dangerous nature of his work on the roof, and had remarked: "I may meet my finish some time that way."

Burglar Shoots Woman.

Peoria.—While Dr. J. M. Dorman was grappling with a burglar whom he found in his room, the robber fired a revolver, the bullet striking Mrs. Dorman, who was lying on the bed. The woman will recover. The robber escaped, but three men are held at the city jail as suspects.

Drowning Suicide or Accident.

Peoria.—Elmer Mason, married, aged 35, was drowned at Kingston while moving a large quantity of furniture in the Illinois river to Duck Island. Whether it was accidental or suicidal cannot be ascertained.

LOOKED FOR OTHER TWO.

Little One Had But One Idea of Term "Fore-Handed."

Little Catherine has been boarding on a farm this summer, and many of the rural expressions are wholly unfamiliar to her. One day she chanced to hear her country hostess praising the good qualities of a certain thrifty neighbor.

"He really ain't got much, compared to some folks," said the farmer's wife, "but he makes out wondrous well; he's so fore-handed."

That evening the man thus lauded happened to drop in, and Catherine immediately sidled up to him, with curious eyes. Slowly she revolved about the chair in which he sat, and so persistently did she gaze at him that the farmer's wife finally noticed it.

"Well, Catherine," she said, "you seem to find a good deal to look at in Mr. B.—don't you?"

"Why?" replied the child, her little forehead wrinkled in perplexity. "I did want to see his two over hands, but I can't. He is sittin' on 'em!"

TRIPP COUNTY, S. D.

Government Land Opening.

The government opening of a million acres of fine agricultural and grazing lands was probably the most important event of the week here. The Chicago & North Western Ry. is the only railway reaching these lands, and Daniel S. W. Ry. Chicago, Ill.

THE "LEBB" AGE.

Cholly—It's wonderful, how Jovel riding without harness, telegraphing without wires and the like things. Maude—Yes and thinking without brains.

One by the Colonel.

Someone had been telling the colonel about weather so warm that eggs could be fried on the sidewalk. "Call that hot weather!" scoffed the colonel. "Why, that's nothing, sah."

"No, sah, colonel!"

"No, sah. Why, Ah have seen it so hot down south, sah, that the popcorn popped right on the stalk."

"When?"

"And that's not all, sah. The juice in the case in the next field turned to molasses, ran through the fence, mixed up with the popcorn and formed the finest combination of popcorn and molasses that ever crossed your lips, sah. Talk about hot weather? Huh!"

Absorbing.

Silas—Hail! Ma! Reuben got drunk last night.

Cyrus—Do tell! What is this time?

Silas—Why, Reuben saw an ad that stated that for one dollar they would send him some of the most absorbing literature he ever read.

Cyrus—And what did they send him?

Silas—Why, they sent him a pamphlet entitled "How Blotters Are Made" and I took it to see what difference it would make on my head.

SELF DELUSION

Many People Deceived by Coffee.

We like to defend our indulgence in habits even though we may be convinced of their actual harmfulness.

A man can convince himself that whisky is good for him on a cold morning, or beer on a hot summer day—when he wants the whisky or beer. It's the same with coffee. Thousands of people suffer headaches and nervousness year after year but try to persuade themselves the cause is not coffee—because they like coffee.

"While yet a child I commenced using coffee and continued it," writes a Wis. man, "until I was a regular coffee fiend. I drank it in every morning and in consequence had a blinding headache nearly every afternoon."

"My folks thought it was coffee that ailed me, but I know it is in fact health."

"Foods look good, smells good, tastes good, is good, and does good to the whole body."

Object of Survey.

The object of the Geological Survey is to make complete studies of the geology and mineral resources of the state with a view to the efficient and economical development. In 1906 the total value of the mineral output of this state was $121,000,000. In 1907 preliminary figures indicate that the total was approximately $143,000,000. This rapid expansion warrants the expenditure of a reasonable sum to secure efficiency and derive means for preventing waste. One of the means adopted by the Geological Survey is the making of accurate topographic maps, which are at the same time available for a wide range of engineering purposes. These maps are being made on a part of the federal government paying half the cost. Twelve such maps have been completed and issued and eight more are practically complete. Seven bulletins have so far been issued by the Survey. They deal with the coal, clay, cement materials and other resources of the state, and five more of these bulletins are ready for printing.

Survey of the Bottom Lands.

A survey is being made in connection with the Internal Improvement commission and the national government, of the various rivers and the lands subject to overflow, with a view to stream improvement, for power, navigation and land reclamation purposes. It is estimated that in the bottom lands of the state to be reclaimed and protected from overflow there will be added to the taxable values of the state more than $100,000,000 above the cost of doing the work, besides resulting benefits from health improvement throughout the river valleys.

The Value of the Work done by the Geological Survey has been conspicuous, and in Governor Denson's biennial message he recommended an increased appropriation for the continuance of its labors. The Forty-fifth General Assembly considered his appropriations and added $15,000 for a special survey of the streams.

Womanlike.

Outend. The paper says the women's club went out on a fishing party with fifty members—all told. "What does 'all told' mean, pop?"

Pa—Oh, I guess it means they all told everything they knew about the members that did not go.

from Greenville to its mouth. The party now in the field, consisting of Messrs. E. W. McVary, S. K. Atkinson, L. J. Johnson and J. H. Johnson, expect to complete the mapping of the main stream from Covington to its mouth this season. This party will live in camp and travel by boat. The Kansas has been so neglected and is so filled up with sand bars and logs that it was necessary to build a special shallow-water boat to transport the party. The boat, which draws only ten inches of water when loaded, and which is driven by a small gasoline engine, was built at Carlyle and is now in service.

Map the Big Muddy.
On the Big Muddy, Messrs. Morrison, Duck and Hughes have been busy at such times as weather permitted through the winter, with the result that much of the river from its mouth above Cardonville is mapped. Owing to the high water it has been impossible so far to do any work on the Little Muddy. Last season the United States Department made a drainage map of the bottom from Campt to Clay City and this season the work is to be extended.

Regular topographical surveys have been taken up for this season by a party working under W. J. Figg and making headquarters at Duquoin. It is planned to complete the work from Riverton to Murphysboro. Later in the season surveys in the vicinity of St. Louis, St. Charles and Bridgeport will be taken up. This work is being done in cooperation with the United States Geological Survey.

Examine Mineral Resources.

Not only are the river and topographic surveys being pushed, but this will be a busy season in the investigation of the mineral resources of the state. Messrs. P. W. DeWolf, John Udden, G. E. Gedy and T. T. Savage devote their special attention to the coal fields. Frank Layman is busy collecting samples of clay supposed to be suitable for mixing with the limestone and making Portland cement. These samples are being tested at the university by Professor Behminger. E. P. Liles will work on the fire clay of the western part of the state, tracing their outcrop, and testing their suitability. J. A. Udden, of Augustana college, will study the asbestos wells of the state, and Raymond Hatcher, with the assistance of Director Bates, will make special studies of the oil fields. Stuart Vetter will continue his studies of the limestone, and J. C. Jones will study the distribution of gravel and the depth of the surface wash in the southern coal fields. Altogether it bids fair to be a pretty busy season for the Geological Survey.

It is interesting to note that in value of its mineral output Illinois now is surpassed by Pennsylvania and Ohio. The oil output, amounting now to over 100,000 barrels per day, is more than that of any other state except Oklahoma, and possibly California. It exceeds all of the Appalachian states together. It is worth approximately as much as the gold output of California, while the coal output more than equals the gold from Colorado and Alaska, the two largest producers. The clay pits yield more than the silver mines of any state in the Union, and if to these items be added the cement, limestone, sand, fluorspar, pyrites, lead and zinc ores, and other materials mined, abundant field for the activity of the Survey corps will be apparent.

Snakes and Their Pray.

A rabbit will sit up and drum with its forelegs on a cobra or python; a goat or kid takes no more notice of a huge snake approaching it than of an other goat or of a man; a rat will sit up on a snake and wash its face or will nibble at the snake; a pigeon struts about and greets itself with the utmost nonchalance. The nonpoisonous snakes, such as pythons and anacondas, strangle their prey before swallowing it. I have never imagined to see a case where a nonpoisonous snake did not kill its victim as painlessly as you have been done by human agency."—Dr. Clarence Mitchell, Secretary of the Zoological Society, in London Magazine.

All For Show.
It is a poor town which cannot boast of something to the stranger within its gates. The man in the anecdote related by a writer in the Youkers Statesman was loaned out to it, but he succeeded in upholding the dignity of his native hearth.

"This is one of our greatest show places," said the resident who was taking a friend about his town. "Why, it is only a vacant lot!" replied the visitor. "Certainly, but it's where the circus always performs when it comes to town," responded the proud citizen.
