THE PROFESSOR FROM PRINCETON

As Mr. Talt steps out of office with the good wishes of many, Mr. Wilso steps into the vacated place under the same [circumstances. Everyone hopes and expects that he will make a good nt. He leaves behind him a splendid record as governor of New there by administering an awful blow at the many trusts which bosst the

as the new president, he has found things arranged for him just so far as is possible to the outgoing adminishave been put in his way and he will take up the great task under conditions that show cordiality on the part of his or in spite of party differen-In fact, one and all hope and ex-that the "Professor" from Prince will make a first class president.

The specialization in the case of Man's creation is shown in his vast subscriptly over the lower animals. The first man, Adam, was an image of his Creator, the highest type of feesiby or animal being. Creator, the highest type of feesiby or animal being created, the highest type of feesiby or animal being created. The highest type of feesiby or animal being the common state of the creator of the late in meant by God's image, because we have no dark in meant by God's image, because we have no dark in small come short of the glory of God' in which Adam was created. (Praim 2:5.) There is none in God's image today. Sin and death have religned and the God-liteness has been lost. All need Restitution, restoring back to that which was lost. It was toward the control of the Sixth Day, or approximately forty-two decreases. (Praim 2:5.)
