Possibly Knew What He Meant.
In an address of welcome to a resident magistrate at Cape, Transkei, South Africa, the Kaffir spokesman, the other day thus expressed himself: "We cordially welcome your pluck and goodness in coming among such pusillanimous and unwholesomely ignorant people. We are overjoyed to get such a weak, non-excitable, superabundantly harmonious one as a magistrate."

Strong Land and Language.
"Wonderful soil here," said the traveler. "Yes," replied the farmer, "and we had to plant a dwarf variety to keep it down to this size."—St. Paul Dispatch.

In the International Family.
"You don't figure very strongly in diplomatic relations," said the great Nation. "No," replied the small, struggling government. "I'm one of the poor relations."—Washington Star.
