OUR WASHINGTON LETTER
By National Editorial Association (Special to the Review)
THE QUESTION of distribution must be worked out by the state authorities within the best few days. Sentiment is apparently against the return of the saloon as an outlet for beer. There will be authorized dispensaries. If the saloons return they will be in relatively few localities. The price question is naturally uppermost in the minds of consumers. It is estimated that 120,000 persons of various classes will range from 224 to 714, depending on the number of one-ounce to the barrel, and at five cents a glass. A gross revenue to the dispenser would be $22.25 per barrel. The American Federation of Labor believes that 1,200,000 persons will be put back to work within a short time, and the grain prices and the prices of other products will be correspondingly increased.

Wandering From This to That
Hersey Urges Cooperation
Within a few days the sales tax enacted by the general assembly will become a reality. "The patriotic and a devoted spirit which has made it possible for the people of the United States to meet and deal with such crises that has arisen in their history is still alive and dominant," Governor Hersey has urged. "They have shown their willingness to do all in their power to insure the success of the measure which has been proposed by this state and nation to remedy the conditions from which they have suffered. As a result of this patriotic unanimity better things are already in sight for all of us throughout the nation."

AGAINST WAR
Eight thousand World war veterans of all nations except Germany and America, who engaged in the war met in an anti-war demonstration at Geneva Sunday. These veterans, blind, crippled or otherwise partially or wholly disabled represent the true feeling against international conflict which is held by the vast majority of middle class people throughout the world.
These veterans can do more to prevent future wars than five times their number of persons who have not had direct experience in war. We believe that peace will eventually triumph. "As long as there are peoples, nations, and human emotions there will be wars" is not part of our own belief. The history of civilization dating back 6000 years in a large degree a record of military triumphs. However, civilization is progressing. The next 6000 years and even the next 100 years need not be patterned after the last six thousand. Following is a report published by the New York Times and Chicago Tribune of the veterans' demonstration at Geneva:

Geneva, March 19.—Eight thousand veterans of all battle fields of Europe, many blind, crippled or gassed, met here today in an anti-war demonstration that moved spectators to tears. Representing 8,000,000 men who were trying to kill each other fifteen years ago, and speaking for 8,500,000 comrades who had killed each other, they came "to save our children and civilization" from the danger of "the return to barbarism" they saw looming.

The enforced absence of the German delegates emphasized that danger. It was the first time the two greatest international veterans' organizations had held a joint meeting. They are known by their initials as Cimac and Fidac and represent every major national veterans' association in the world.
The veterans in resolutions demanded real disarmament, an abolition of private profit in munitions making, and an end in glorification of war and "poisoning" of the minds of children.

The American Legion did not participate in today's manifestation. It was authoritative, but privately explained that the American Legion refused to accept the majority resolution only because of the cause demanding the suppression of private profit in the arms business.

A CHALLENGE

Present unrest and disturbed conditions have brought us face to face with the problems of our own progress. We have advanced far in science and invention, most of all in the manufacture of machines. We find that we have advanced beyond the mentality and ability of the average person to properly use to best advantage that which we have made.

We are met by a challenge. We are going to be controlled and dominated by the inventions of genius and swept off our balance by material advancement, or are we going to use these things for the betterment of man's condition?

I have no doubt of our ability to control our inventions and harness our material advancement to the best advantage—but we must go back to the foundation of successful living so that our social life may develop along with our scientific advancement.

We must cease to some extent, the worship of the god of pleasure, and curb our money-mad dispositions. Love must rule in the home for that fundamental institution to maintain its proper position. Honest dealings between all peoples must be the basis of trade and fellowship in commerce. All the virtues of clean living must be honored to prevent degeneration.

We are learning anew these things, I believe, but we have lapsed in our regard for them because of too much material prosperity. Our inventions and scientific progress for a time almost overwhelmed us, but with the exercise of common sense we can keep in balance our social, spiritual and economic factors.—Reville, Port Gibson, Miss.

THE STRONG ANTIWOMEN utilized by President Roosevelt have effected the passage of the tax and unemployment public reports harmonize to the extent of the tax, and with authority to prescribe rules and regulations governing the operation of this measure. The machinery for the operation of this state and nation to remedy the conditions from which they have suffered. As a result of this patriotic unanimity better things are already in sight for all of us throughout the nation.

Stretching the Life Span
The capacity of a human being for long life has increased very little if at all since the beginning of recorded time. As far back as authentic records go men have lived well into the thirties and forties.
On the other hand, there has been a tremendous increase in the number of people who reach the fifties. More people survive to experience the upper age years than at any previous time in the average length of human life has increased markedly during recent decades.

REVIEWPOINTS
The editor of the Review has authorized me to make a correction on an article in last week's issue of his paper. In the issue he said that the anti-union speaker denied my report. I would like to know if the speaker himself made that denial or if someone else said it. I replied, "I don't know you print your paper that way?"

THE POLITICAL aspects of the beer question having been temporarily laid aside with the enactment of the revenue measure the economic phases now become an abiding interest in the volume of consumption because of the revenue returns. The bill provides a federal tax of 45 per barrel, which is expected to yield a national revenue of about $150,000,000. The state and municipal governments, likewise, have the same feature at heart as special license fees for distribution and sales are expected to bring enormous revenues to their treasuries. It is reported that 26 states will be ready from a legal standpoint to sell beer, and these states represent a majority of the population.

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S TRAVELS 52 By James W. Brooks
Illustrated by John Andrie
ONE OF THE MOST UNFORTUNATE INCIDENTS OF THE REVOLUTION WAS THAT OF BENEDICT ARNOLD, HEAD OF SARATOGA AND QUEBEC. AFTER BEING WOUNDED AT SARATOGA, HE WAS GIVEN THE COMMAND AT PHILADELPHIA, WHERE HE MADE THE ACQUAINTANCE OF PEOPLE HOSTILE TO THE AMERICAN CAUSE. WASHINGTON LATER OBLIGED ARNOLD IN COMMAND AT WEST POINT ON THE HUDSON, AND THERE, IN AN EARLY HOUR, ARNOLD MANAGED TO TURN THIS IMPORTANT STRONGHOLD OVER TO THE BRITISH.
