INFLATION CONTING
Inflation of the currency is surely coming.

The old guard of "sound currency" advocates has been steadily diminishing and major daily newspapers have one by one swung from the old idea of "don't tamper with the currency" to the new idea as expressed in the phrase "money is man made and not divine, and as such it must be regulated by men."

The strongest argument against inflation is the experience of several other countries and of our own country in the past. Germany of the post war years from 1919 to 1924 is the present big shining example of whom not to imitate. During the last few months of Germany's inflation period a bushel basket of paper marks would not purchase food for a family for one day.

However, this country is going to attempt inflation on a "controlled basis." The administration in Washington is in favor of it, congressional leaders are in favor of it, agricultural leaders are in favor of it, and in fact many of the financial leaders believe it will work. An idea of what is hoped for by inflation is given in the following excerpt of an article published in the Daily News of Tuesday:

"Should inflation take place the price of common stocks would rise, the price of commodities, including grains, would rise, the price of real estate would rise, the cost of living would rise.

"Against this, debts would be more certain to be repaid and bonds would come closer to par, but dollars obtained would not buy as much as before because of the higher prices.

"Ultimately, when the price situation had been corrected, it might be time enough to return to a gold redemption basis either on the old values, if people had been able to work out their debts in the meantime, or on the new valuation proposed by the 'committee of the nation' in case it seemed better to preserve the peace-time inflation which had been set up."

A BRIGHTER EASTER

Easter has a broader meaning than almost any other holiday. To the people over all Christian countries of the world, Easter connotes a day of happiness, a return of bright days following a period of dark. The time of year in the Northern hemisphere fits the meaning of the day perfectly. Easter falls on a day of spring, usually mid-spring, when people first become fully aware that days are brighter and warmer and winter is past.

This year Easter has a greater significance, a deeper meaning, than the day has had in many years. In addition to coming after the subdued Lenten period, in addition to marking the division between winter and summer, Easter this year will seem to many as the beginning of a new era, as the first holiday after the major part of the world has emerged from a four year financial depression.

Not many women will wear expensive bonnets, and not many men will blossom out in new suits and top coats, but a great many will have lighter hearts and wear gayer smiles than they have on any Easter day for several years.

WHAT DOES THE AVERAGE MAN READ?

What does the average man read?
Attempting to answer this question The American Newspaper Publishers' Association canvassed the reading habits of a representative group.

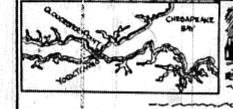

The results indicated that men average forty-five minutes a day reading newspapers, twenty-five minutes a day on magazines and one-half of the men average less than one book a month.

In other words men spend twice as much time on magazines as on books and five times as much on newspapers. This ought to be interesting to those who advertise.

From the standpoint of culture the radio may be deplored, but in the present day of better newspapers the columns contain what is neither trivial or ephemeral.

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S TRAVELS

COAT DE COUSSE

AFTER WASHINGTON HAD MADE PLANS FOR TRAPPING COLONIALS AT YORKTOWN, HIS EXECUTION WAS SWIFT. ONE PART OF THE BRITISH ARMY WAS KEPT IN NEW YORK WHILE THE OTHER WAS SULLIVAN LURED TO YORKTOWN. ONCE THERE THE BRITISH WERE SUSPECTED TO END THEIR BELIEVED SUPPLY AND THE FRENCH FLEET UNDER DEGRASSE ANCHORED IN THE BAY. SEVERAL YEARS PREVIOUSLY THE ENGLISH HAD WASHINGTON'S ARMY IN PRACTICALLY THE SAME TRAP ON LONG ISLAND, BUT THE REVOLUTIONARY LEADER ESCAPED FROM HIS PREJUDICED TRAP, FEARING PERHAPS ANGRY WITH THE BRITISH FOR NOT IMPROVING THEIR EARLY OPPORTUNITY, PROVIDED NO CHANGE FOR ESCAPE THIS TIME.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER
By National Editorial Association (Special to The Review)

CONGRESSIONAL LEADERS are hopeful that business will be cleared up to permit adjournment before Decoration day. A mild protest against the introduction of measures which could not properly be labeled "emergency" has been voiced at the capitol. The Black bill providing for a five day week of six hours each week passed through the senate as a relief measure for unemployment. The house leaders have attempted to put it aside until the administration's original program of reconstruction can be adopted. It is argued that the demand for a 30-hour week is sponsored by the American Federation of Labor and while its purpose is socially commendable the enactment at this time would disrupt industry and commerce. The claim that the bill would also immediately put six million back to work and restore purchasing power is questioned in legislative circles. Contentions have been advanced that federal control of wages and the regulation of labor would be met by an intensified "machine age" or mechanical substitutes for humans in industry.

DRAFTING of a bill to insure bank deposits indicates that action will be taken at this session. It was stated to sidetrack this scheme but the fact that Senator Carter Glass of Virginia is sponsoring the measure and has indicated it will be re-manufactured in the senate, at least. The bill will probably be debated for some time as the deep proposed are voluminous to bankers. The idea back of the plan is to induce public confidence in banks and prevent bank holidays. The main arguments against the plan is the 100 per cent guaranty deposits would promote unsound banking and lessen the credit standing of the government. "There is a wide difference between 'sure there is and 'insurance' of deposits. The guaranty could be made by the banks. The legislators may favor the proposal which does not involve a charge on the treasury. Insurance of funds is not new as eight states have tried it in various forms and usually failed. The courts are now asked so that congress may deliberate on the many phases without recourse for emergency action.

THE SUPREME COURT will probably review for the summer before just cases involving recent legislation can be brought up for review. The issue however, will be whether their laps as interested citizens press for an official ruling on the validity of congressional acts. The members of legislation are naturally interested in the prospect of one or two changes in the personnel of the high tribunal. The trend toward liberalism in court decisions has been noted in recent years. There have been many 5 to 4 decisions a division of opinion among the learned justices that precludes safe reliance on a lawyer's opinion. Therefore any vacancies which may occur from death or resignation will be the most important. Appointment to the supreme court is the greatest recognition that the president may bestow on a lawyer. The best bill is slated for an early test in state courts and will probably reach the federal tribunal at the fall term beginning in October.

NINE MEN wearing the flowing black robes of their high office will ultimately have the responsibility of determining whether congress has acted within its constitutional rights in dealing with urgent economic and social problems. It is generally acknowledged here that all major legislative acts will be submitted to the judicial scrutiny of the supreme court of the United States. The attitude of congress in disposing of numerous measures of far-reaching importance has been fully summarized by Senator Gore of Oklahoma as "the potent magic of a wish-bone." Shortcuts as to the outcome and periwink at the lash of the presidential whip, legislators in private talks admit they frequently vote in "the tongue in the cheek" manner.

THE ADMINISTRATION is giving attention to international politics and now that the domestic situation is less strained. The prime ministers of Great Britain, Italy and France are expected here shortly to attend conferences with President Roosevelt. The question of armaments will be prominently in the discussion. Mr. Roosevelt is holding a heavy naval construction program as a trump toward curtailment of military by the larger nations. There is the more reciprocal tariff treaties to stimulate world trade. The senate has given notice that World Court

"We Need Money"—Hornor

Attorney General Kernor has publicly announced that, since congress has ruled that $2 beer is non-essential, the state should not try to legislate it any more than it should the license sales, coffee or tea. But Gov. Hornor wants revenue, revenue, and more revenue. He also insists upon the political power that goes with state licenses.

"Considerable revenue will have to be raised to pay for the state 'smoozers' who are expected to take $100,000,000 to check up on the surety bond makers and sellers of home loans at a quarter a quart and the railroad and truck imports from other states.

"These 'smoozers' can be covered up for a time by having the legislature appropriate a lump sum to the Director of Finance to handle beer tax collections until July 1. After that they will have to appear in the regular budget.

NO GREAT CONCERN is shown in official circles that a thorough probe of the powerful house of Morgan and his banking house in relation to legislation dealing with the issuance of securities will exercise a harmful influence on business recovery. The repercussions which would usually follow such sensational action have been largely discounted by the banking circles. The public has accustomed itself to the fact of finance and industry. It seems certain that the Roosevelt program of controlling securities will be approved in a means of protecting the public will be the old "blue-sky" laws changed to meet new conditions.

CONGRESSIONAL authorization for emergency relief projects are given with such speed that it is physically impossible to set up the necessary machinery for the projects. So many units of the federal agencies are involved that inter-departmental conferences are baffled at the details. The labor conservation plan having its own machinery will require a blending of four departmental groups. It is said that a national commander will be appointed to head the new activity and the recruiting will probably be conducted by agencies to be formed in the various states.

Dark warnings of what the future may bring in the way of tuberculosis as a result of the depression have emanated from the Illinois health department. Be on guard against the disease that is spreading rapidly in living quarters and just about all times with all the difficulties which follow in the wake of unemployment and poverty are factors in the spread of tuberculosis.

There are two mighty important points bearing upon this situation. One is that short rations even to the point of starvation will not cause tuberculosis. Neither will over-eating. The other point is that tuberculosis cannot occur without the presence in the body of the tubercle bacillus—or the terms of tuberculosis. A person free from the tubercle bacillus might starve to death, either gradually or rapidly, but he would never have tuberculosis. A dozen people all of whom were free from the tubercle bacillus could sleep in the same room indefinitely and not one would get tuberculosis for that reason.

Both Bas Diamond Sport to Be Revived After Six Years' Lapse

Practice Field for Both Sport in North Park; Interest in Golf Show

(Basketball will be revived at Barrington high school this year after a long absence of seasons. Back in 1927 when most of the schools were turning to track, basketball was dropped as a school sport. Interest in it has been on the wane, however, and this year it was felt that the school was large enough to have both sports as a school sport. Basketball will be revived at the Barrington High School (Coach H. C. Anderson) will be in charge of the club while Coach Clark will handle the budding Natus and Pupils. Both a track and a diamond will be laid out in the North Park development.)

About forty-five boys came out for tryouts and about thirty girls reported for track practice. The development of both has been hampered by the weather but Coach Anderson thought some of the youngsters were interested in the sport and he has scheduled the first conference game is scheduled for the week after Easter and he has been unable to practice for some time. Coach Clark hopes to have the annual interclass meet about the same time but the weather may put it off for some time.

Eight boys also indicated their interest in the school club. They were in the "Qualifying rounds will be played at Hillcrest, Gold club early in the month. Owen Berger is rated as the best of the young guards but several more of them have a chance to qualify."

Jefferson Ice Co.
Cinches First in Barrington Loop

Schedule Ends This Week Standing Shows Teams Evenly Matched

Although top place in the Barrington Bowling League was cinched last week by the Jefferson Ice team, their rivals' nearest possibilities of overtaking them are in the later stages of the season. In many of the scheduled games are played Thursday night. The possibilities are evident when it is noted that, through last Thursday there was a difference of 300 pins between the first and last in the standings. In the Jefferson Ice team out of the race, the contest narrows down to the other seven teams with a large difference in games difference from second to high place.
