Democrats Believe They Can Pass Sales Tax

Unhindered when the supreme court struck their rascals, three percent sales tax, the democratic machine is strong enough to jam a two percent sales tax bill through the legislature. Along with it will be a "workers' tax," something new in revenue collecting, which will be an additional burden on thousands of working men and women. The two taxes are expected to bring in from $100,000,000 to $100,000,000 a year.

Meanwhile the Chicago democrats are having a difficult time convincing their station over the decision of the United States supreme court. The lead now may be added to the democrats, taxpayers. The plan to have the sanitary district issue bonds. These will be unobtainable because the district has already defaulted on previous bond issues. It is hoped to get the state to guarantee the bonds and pledge them with the Illinois corporation. However, corporation bonds are not guaranteed by the state.

Too Many Constitutional Laws Passed by Legislature

When the mortgage moratorium bill was put through the house, Speaker Ross voted against it saying: "I have voted to pass four unconstitutional bills this session and I'll vote for this one." Every lawyer in this house knows this bill is unconstitutional. It is only a gesture.

Attendance at Olympic Games

The average attendance at the stadium games of the Olympic games in Los Angeles was 50,000 a day, but the record attendance was 70,000 present for the opening and closing ceremonies.

Easy to Distinguish

It is easy to distinguish the tracks of a dog from the tracks of a cat and foxes. The dog does not usually place its hind feet on the tracks of its forefeet, while the cats and foxes do.

Quebec Seigniors Were Canada's Landed Gentry

The seigniors of Quebec were the members of the landed gentry, especially those of Lower Canada. The system of land-holding in this French colony of New France was a survival of feudal days. No one was to hold the land except for their services to him, the only payment required being military service when called upon. These holdings were divided by the seigniors into smaller tracts, whose occupants were called censitaires or tenants. The seignior had much power over these, administering justice and fixing terms of work and pay for services of all kinds. The censitaires had to grind their grain at the seignior's mill and pay him one-fourteenth of the grain. The system made each seignior a sort of village, and as the St. Lawrence river was the only means of transportation, the seigniors lived on the river and as near each other as possible. The result was that the farms were very narrow, and these little ribbons of land extended through the province even today. The seigniorial tenure system was abolished in December, 1854.

Weight of Feathers and Iron

In a vacuum a pound of feathers will weigh exactly as much as a pound of iron if the same standards are used. There is an old saying that a pound of feathers is heavier than a pound of iron. This is in a sense true because of the buoyancy of the air. The following experiment pictures this fact: Construct in air a hollow sphere against a small solid sphere. Place the balance under the receiver of an air pump and exhaust the air. As soon as the air is removed the balance is no longer in equilibrium, the larger sphere then overbalancing a smaller one. Thus hollow which apparently have equal masses in air, are found to have different masses in a vacuum. The large hollow sphere corresponds to the pound of feathers; the small solid sphere to the pound of iron.

Insects Help the Surgeon

Doctors of the Amazon use ants to stitch wounds. The insect is made to bite the sides of the wounds in its powerful jaws, and bring them together. Then the body is broken off and the head remains as a suture.
