

Know-Nothing Party Was Result of Immigration

The Irish family unit the revolutionary movement in Europe in 1848 and 1849 were the causes of great migration to the United States. The Know-Nothing party, which arose shortly after, was in large part a reaction of protest against this increase in the foreign-born population.

Explorer Tells of Three Hours Spent in Volcano

To be lowered into the active crater of Stromboli, and in an asbestos suit and wearing a helmet strong enough to resist falling stones, with a breathing apparatus to save him from asphyxiation, was the exciting experience of an explorer.

Largest Man-Made Mound

A few miles outside of East St. Louis, Ill., what is called the largest man-made earth mound in the country is located in a public park. The mound is 1,000 feet long, 710 feet across and 98 feet high.

Metal Plating Secrets of Egypt Revealed

Some of the secrets of metal plating as practiced in Egypt more than 4,000 years ago have been revealed by study of a small copper kettle in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, says Popular Mechanics.

While cleaning the kettle, smooth patches like silver were found among rougher areas of a typical old copper color. Tests established that the base metal of both kettle and basin was copper and that the silvery plating was a thin coat of metallic antimony, with a small amount of iron as impurity.

The principle involved in application is actually electrolytic, but may be more accurately discovered when the kettle is subjected to cleaning bronzes after discoloration from heating, and the addition of antimony and copper with iron may have been accidental at first, but was repeated intentionally when the results were so excellent.

Mysteries of Human Ear Still Awaiting Solution

The mechanism of the human ear has been known through long ages, but the manner in which it conveys definite information to the brain is another matter. The world is still far from a final pronouncement, however learnedly one may speak.

Lead a Dog's Life

Led around by a leash, kept in a corral, and confined in city apartments, Russian wolf hounds do not lead enviable lives. These hounds, with their extremely long legs and their enormous ribcages, rely heavily on the stripes of Russia and on their owners. They should be kept moving about constantly, not cramped in close quarters.

Dog's Nervous System

The nervous system in dogs is highly developed, as most dog owners know; the brain is seldom in repose, for even when asleep twitching legs and suppressed snouts in form as it is dreaming.

Medicine From Antler Fur

The soft fur-covered antlers of reindeer have been used for centuries by Chinese and Tibetans for medicinal purposes. A Russian scientist states that there are medicinal properties in the antler fur.
