

Selects Committee to Help in Making New Parking Space

Village Trustees Will Help With Lot Near Catlow Theatre

Village Trustees John J. Carroll, John H. Blanke and Rudolph Berg were appointed by Village President Earl Hatje Monday night to act as a general committee in assisting W. R. Catlow, manager of the Catlow theatre, in creating parking space in the business district.

Mr. Catlow, it was stated, has property available adjoining the theatre on the west side that can be converted into a parking lot, to be used primarily for his patrons in the evening. The village committee will assist Mr. Catlow in the completing of details.

Village Trustee John Duescher presented to the board the license for the use of railroad property recently converted into parking space. This land lies west of the tracks and south of the tower at the passenger station. The area is 40 feet by 150 feet. The license was approved by the board and returned to the C. & N. W. railroad, owners of the property.

Cinder fill, donated by the railroad, was placed there by the village street department after the ground had been leveled off. Mr. Hatje pointed out that by the village creating more parking lots or assisting in making lots, definite improvement will be made in parking problems in the village. This will be true, he stated, for those persons who drive to the railroad station and commute daily. Since the two-hour parking ordinance went into effect, complaints have been received from motorists that it has not worked equally favorable, it was stated.

Robert Pohlman Has Arm Fractured When Auto Strikes Bicycle

Robert Pohlman, eight-year-old son of Mrs. Gladys Pohlman, 127 E. Main street, suffered a severely fractured left arm when the bicycle he was riding was struck by an automobile on Barrington road near the intersection of Dundee road Thursday afternoon. The driver of the car stopped and then returned to Barrington after the boy had been picked up. However his identity was not learned by Mrs. Pohlman, although it was reported he lives in this vicinity. The accident occurred while the youngster was returning home after a day spent at the E. Meier farm. His bicycle was struck in the rear and by the passing automobile and he was thrown to the pavement. Verne Puffpaff, who was driving by, picked up the boy and brought him to his mother's home in Barrington.

After receiving medical aid here, Robert was removed to the Sherman hospital in Elgin for X-ray and setting the splint. He returned home Monday.

Urge Steps to Force Cutting of Weeds

Hay fever sufferers came in for a bit of attention at the meeting of the village board Monday night when steps were discussed to enforce the cutting of rag weeds and other noxious weeds responsible for the affliction of a number of residents each year.

Uncontrolled growth of the weeds on vacant property was the object of considerable comment. A weed ordinance is now in effect and trustees demanded that some steps be taken. A new weed ordinance for use on the parkways around town has been purchased by the village, and members of the board felt strongly that property owners should cooperate to eradicate the weed nuisance.

Proposes Project of Dredging Creek and Tree Trimming

Trustee Berg Outlines Plan Monday; Committee Is Appointed

Village President Earl Hatje Monday night appointed Village Trustees Rudolph Berg, John J. Carroll and John H. Blanke to act as a committee to investigate the possibilities and formulate plans for a WPA project to dredge Flat creek from the Northside park lagoon to the village treatment plant.

Trustee Berg reported to the village board Monday evening that he and H. D. Kelsey, supervisor of the town of Cuba, had covered the area along the creek Sunday and he felt that considerable improvement could be made along the creek by dredging the bottom, setting the sides and clearing the banks.

In addition to the creek project, Mr. Berg stated a project could also be drafted for the trimming of trees in the village parkways. This should be done in the fall of the year he explained, after the trees have stopped their summer growth for approval.

Superintendent of Streets Paul Purcell was instructed to prepare a report on the trees in town requiring attention and to present the data to the committee appointed by Mr. Hatje. The information will then turn over the committee to the board to be placed in the form of an application. If the board acts favorably, and according to sentiment on the board meeting Monday night it will be approved, the application will be sent to the works progress administration for approval.

Mr. Hatje, in discussing the tree trimming project, suggested that a tree planting ordinance be drafted to regulate the kind of trees planted in parkways. A number of trees are decayed and need to be taken down, he stated, and some property owners have asked the village to do it.

The village president declared if any trees were removed, the village should be empowered to say what kind could be substituted, in this manner getting away from soft words.

Superior Kelley has 30 men on his relief rolls who could be used for the dredging and tree projects, Mr. Berg said.

Barrington Review Moving This Week to Permanent Home

Buys and Remodels Property at 126 West Main Street

The next issue of the Barrington Review will mark two milestones in the history and progress of the newspaper.

The Review will begin its fifth year of publication, having been founded August 3, 1889, and the next issue will be published in the new home at 126 West Main street purchased recently for The Review and Barrington Publishing company. The machinery and other equipment will be moved into the new site by Saturday evening, and the business office will be installed there before then.

Workers have been busy for several days finishing up the job of remodeling the building for a printing shop. The ground floor will house the composing room and the basement will take care of the press room. A business office is being fitted up where the porch formerly was located. A permanent office and modern storefront will be constructed in front of the present building at a later date.

The casting room and editorial office will be located on the second floor of the building. This will be the third and last move for the Barrington Publishing company. It was originally located in the Miller Lantry estate building now occupied by Green's Grill. It has been in the present location for four and one-half years. The new location, purchased by the present owner and an associate as a permanent home, will provide the office and plant, will provide favorable conditions for a shop with good light and air circulation and plenty of room for expansion.

The new home provides considerably more floor space than the present location which has become crowded while the publishing company has nearly doubled its business volume during the last five years.

The owner has stated in answer to numerous inquiries that no part of the property will be used as a residential apartment.

Rob Turfman of $560 in Cash at Lake Zurich Home

Wealthy Canadian, Wife and Son Tied Up By Two Bandits Monday

A search is being concentrated among racetrack followers at Arlington Park this week in an effort to locate two gunmen who tied up A. G. Tarn, 46, wealthy Canadian turfman, and his wife and son at their rented cottage near Lake Zurich and robbed them of $560 Monday night.

Tarn had returned to his home at Lake Zurich about 7:45 p. m. after a day at the race track when two men followed him into the place. Flourishing pistols, they ordered Tarn, his wife, Gladys, and son, Clifford, 19, into a bedroom and instructed them to get on the bed. While one remained on guard with an automatic pistol, the other tied the hands and feet of Tarn and his wife and son with neckties.

They demanded to be told where the money was and Tarn informed them all of it was in a pair of trousers in the other room. As the Tarn family lay on the beds, the robbers searched the house for taking four $100 bills, three $20 bills, four $10 bills and $60 in single and five dollar bills from their trouser pockets.

Before leaving Arlington Park Monday evening, Tarn had cashed a check for $500 for the purpose of paying his help at the jockey club stable. He placed the money in his trouser pockets along with $60.

Racetrack hangers-on are believed to have watched Tarn cash the check and to have followed him to Lake Zurich. After the holdup the robbers escaped on foot through shrubbery and then to a parked automobile.

Tarn managed to break loose and untied his wife and son. He called Marshal John Gehrke and deputy sheriffs started an investigation.

Hearing on School Budget This Evening

An estimated budget of $99,258.43 for school district No. 4 will be discussed at a public hearing held in the school building this evening, Thursday, in accordance with requirements of the Municipal Budget Act. Public hearings are now required for appropriation ordinances or tax levies to be passed by boards of education.

The estimated budget for district No. 4 is broken down into two groups of funds: educational and general. The figure given for the educational expenses is $38,357.80 and for the building it is $18,871.23.

Upon the basis of the appropriation and what has been collected from sources other than taxation in the past years, the amount of the tax levy will approximate $306.68. This may later be reduced an amount of $10,000 if it was last year.

Gets Start on Zoo, Collects Six Owls

Joseph Watkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Watkins, 311 E. Main street, is on a trip today to start a local zoo, or at least a collection of wild life. Last Friday while on a trip through the woods he came upon a pair of barn owls in an old water tower. In the nest were six young owls, at the stage where their wings were getting strong enough so they could fly short distances.

Young Joseph gathered the six young ones up and took them home. The problem of feeding them may prove to be a big order later on, but at present he is getting great enjoyment out of watching and caring for them.
