Col. A. V. Smith to Enter State in Lake Rights Case

The people of the state of Illinois, through State's Attorney A. V. Smith, on Tuesday filed an intervening petition in the Circuit court of McHenry county asking that the state be allowed to become an objector in the lake rights case.

This action took place after Judge Shurtleff had declined, last Friday, to grant the case, and had indicated that he would dismiss the suit of petitioners unless the state joined in the suit as a protector of "public rights."

The suit, brought more than a year ago by cottage owners, asks that Mayor August Froehlich and Mrs. Margaret Pearce of Lake Zurich, who are among the largest holders of lake bottom lands, be enjoined from barring the public from the lake.

A master-in-chancery held that the lake belonged to Froehlich et al., because it was not a navigable body of water, and that streams that were not navigable could be held in fee simple the same as land. The status of the lake as to navigability was fixed by the master through a United States government survey that is close to 80 years old.

Case Up Friday

State's Attorney Smith will appear in Judge Shurtleff's court tomorrow to argue for entrance of the state into the case, and will be opposed by attorneys for the defendants, who will maintain that if the state becomes a party to the suit it must be represented by Attorney General Carlson and not by State's Attorney Smith.

Col. Smith said yesterday that he will hold that government deeds, now in the possession of Mayor Froehlich and Mrs. Pearce, are void because they were issued after the admission of Illinois as a state. He added:

"Any patents which may have been granted would have been in violation of the enabling act of 1818 and of the ordinance of 1787, which guarantee the title to the bed of fresh water navigable lakes to be vested in the state of Illinois for use of all people."

Since 1870, according to Col. Smith, owners of land adjoining the lake and of the lake bed have thrown it open to the use of the public and have operated resorts patronized by all.

The state will also introduce evidence to show that in 1840 a chart

Perfect Plans to Celebrate Scouts' 21st Birthday

According to a bulletin issued from the Northwest Suburban Council Boy Scout headquarters, plans for the local Scouts and troops to participate in the national observance of the twenty-first anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America are now complete.

The celebration will start Sunday, Feb. 8th, and continue through the week until Saturday, Feb. 14. A great variety of activities will mark the observance of this anniversary for each group in planning its own program along the lines that will be most beneficial to its particular community.

Will Attend Church Services

The opening day of the week, Sunday, Feb. 8, has been set aside as Scout Sunday and many of the churches are arranging special services for that day in recognition of the boy and his religious convictions.

Many of the troops will attend services in a body in Scout uniform and participate actively in the service as well as listen to a sermon that is fitting to the occasion. As far as possible the Scouts will attend churches of their particular faith.

To Reaffirm Pledge

At 8 o'clock Sunday evening, every Boy Scout in the United States will recommit himself to the ideals of Scouting by repeating the Scout pledge or oath. This will be accomplished where possible by having Scouts come together in small groups and join in the recommitment ceremony that will be conducted by one of the great networks of radio.

In other instances the Scouts will solemnly perform this ceremony in their own homes. The significance of Scouting will be apparent as 850,000 men and boys simultaneously pledge themselves "to do their duty to God and their Country, to obey the Scout Law, to help other people at all times and to keep themselves physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight."

To List Former Scouts

Another feature of the Anniversary Week observance will be an attempt to list every man or boy that is now or has been a Scout or Scouter during the twenty-one years of Scouting. Blanks will be provided by the local headquarters and these men and boys will be asked to note the time they were in Scouting, their present location.

ELA HIGH SCHOOL

Boys Win in State Contest

The daily judging team from Elar township high school came through with flying colors at the Illinois state boys' judging contest January 20 at St. Charles. This contest was held at the Elgin high school in the state which offer vocational agriculture and the teams competing were from all corners of the state.

Elar did exceptionally well, especially since all the boys who entered the contest were freshmen. The team, composed of Harold Beckman, Merrill Hapke and Harry Lohman, won eighth place in the state and a banner which was presented to them. The boys were all proud. The banner was large in their agriculture classroom. Harry Lohman also won first place in the state for the judging of Guernsey dairy cattle for individual honors. Harry tied for first place and unfortunately he guessed the wrong number to obtain the blue ribbon.

So far this year these boys studying agriculture have been doing real well in their contests with other schools. They have won three beautiful silver loving cups, one large banner and five ribbons. These trophies are on display in the agriculture room. Come in and ask to see them. The boys will gladly show them to you.

The home economics classes are deriving a great deal of benefit and pleasure from attending the cookery and home management lessons being presented by the Public Service Company under the auspices of the Lake Zurich Community Women's Club. The third and fourth lessons were given last Friday. The morning lesson was given over to a study of protein and protein cookery. At the afternoon session minerals, vitamins, and water were discussed.

The lessons are illustrated by the preparation of the foods discussed, by the correct method. New and different ways of preparing foods, especially those of major importance in the diet are given. An interesting example of this was a spinach leaf. Illustrating a different and attractive way of incorporating spinach into the diet.

We are finding the lessons very much worthwhile and we wish to thank the woman's club for availing us of the opportunity to attend.

Freshman Class

We are very sorry to lose Della Hapke as a member of our class. Della is leaving this week. She will enter the Crystal Lake high school the second semester. Della has been president of the class and a very loyal supporter and we regret very much that it has been made necessary for her to leave our school due to the fact that her parents are moving near Crystal Lake.

At the meeting of the class Wednesday, Pauline Fisher, chairman of the flower committee, presented the following selection of flowers: Pink carnation, pink lot roses, crabapple blossom, sweet pea and pansy. The sweet pea was chosen with the almost unanimous vote. It is quite appropriate to blend with the class colors—pink and blue.

An Old Fashioned Sleigh Ride. Hey! Hey! Hi! The student body and faculty of Elar were off for a good time even though it was a real cold night, the temperature standing near zero. Little did they care for this and they gladly slipped out of their dignified state and became care-free and happy. The good spirit was deeply rooted in the hearts of everyone, last Wednesday evening, Jan. 22, as the sleighs, filled with about forty-five pupils and the entire faculty, slowly moved away from Lake Zurich, leading in the direction of the old Barrington trail. It was an ideal night. Not far out of town the fun began. In keeping with the spirit of the occasion songs were sung and yells given. Everyone was given the opportunity to have a "dunk n'ut" good time. But wait! Returning to Elar high school after the cold ride and having worked up a good appetite, hot waffles, pickles, and hot chocolate were served. Eat! Well, everyone was knew how. The good part about it was that there was plenty of seats.

We gladly welcomed the invitation of Leroy Landwehr and Lester Kingsley for the sleigh ride and good time. All of the pupils and faculty of Elar certainly enjoyed it and we wish to express our sincere appreciation to both Mr. Landwehr and Mr. Kingsley for the opportunity of such a rare treat.

ELA "E" Club to Organize

The boys and girls who have received letters in high school during the last two years are planning to organize an "E" Club in the near future. The purpose of this club will be to sponsor athletics and other school activities and to support school functions in every way possible. The members of this club will be given a special reserved section at all basketball games on the home floor. They will host the teams and connect up the school and the community in an effort to foster clean sports.

High School Defeated

In a practice game last Monday evening the high school team got "hot" and was defeated by the church group by a very narrow margin. Fine spirit and sportsmanship prevailed throughout the game. We thank the boys for coming over and giving the high school some real competition. An alumni and high school game will be played at the close of the season. Alumni girls also are planning for a game with the high school girls. Particulars will be given later.

Semester Examination

The first semester of the 1930-31 school year will close January 30. Semester examinations will be held on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. The lateness of closing of the first semester is due to the time made up because of the time lost when school was closed because of illness in the community.

SMOOTHNESS

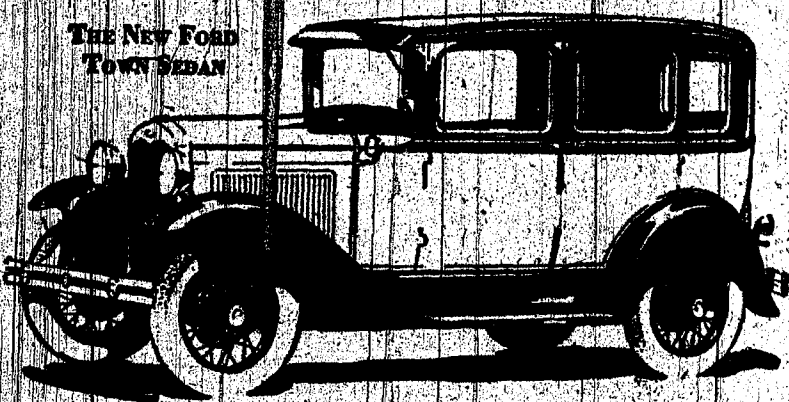

The new Ford has more than twenty ball and roller bearings.

EVIDENCE of the high quality built into the new Ford is the extensive use of ball and roller bearings. There are more than twenty in all—an unusually large number. Each bearing is adequate in size and carefully selected for the work it has to do.

At some points in the Ford chassis you will find ball bearings. At others, roller bearings are used regardless of their higher cost. The deciding factor is the performance of the car.

The extensive use of ball and roller bearings in the new Ford insures smoother operation, saves gasoline, increases speed and power, gives quicker pick-up, decreases noise, and gives greater reliability and longer life to vital moving parts.

Other outstanding features that make the new Ford a value far above the price are the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, silent, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, three-quarter floating rear axle, Rustless Steel, the extensive use of fine steel forgings, and unusual accuracy in manufacturing.

The values, upon which taxes are assessed, were placed on the various steam roads as follows: Chicago & North Western, $2,748,184; Chicago & North Western, $2,390,543; Wisconsin Central (So. Line), $1,081,245; or a total for steam lines of $8,670,633.

GET FUNDS TO PAY FOR T. B. CATTLE

Springfield.—An additional allotment of $100,000 has been granted Illinois by the Federal bureau of animal industry to indemnify the owners of cattle condemned as tubercular, the state department of agriculture Tuesday announced.

This brings the state's quota of federal funds for this project for the fiscal year ending June 30 to $500,000.

D. W. Robinson superintendent of animal industry, through which the state conducts its tuberculosis eradication program, stated that this money would enable the testing program to be continued without interruption until the end of the biennium, with assistance that claims can be paid promptly, half by the state and half by the nation.

Springfield, Jan. 29. Reports of bovine tests performed in 1930, compiled by D. W. The total tests administered, 1,268,470, surpassed the record of any preceding year.

The reduction in disease revealed by the proportion of reactors was pronounced as very satisfactory by the director. The tests performed per man per month, 1,076, is also an improvement over past performances. This Director Pierson attributed to the revision of the bovine tuberculosis eradication act in 1929.

RELIEF AND POLITICS

Every right thinking person has profound sympathy for all who through no fault of their own find themselves unable to obtain the necessities of life. Measures for relief in such cases have a strong appeal, and it is to the credit of human nature that this is so.But, unfortunately, certain politicians are apt to play upon the generous impulses of the public by seeking approval of ill-advised and unwise schemes which are advanced in the hope of making political capital for their promoters. It is perfectly easy for a Senator or other legislator to gain a certain amount of publicity and applause through introducing a bill for raising the treasury under the guise of affording relief for the destitute.To carry out their plans, they would not hesitate to hamper the recovery of business and industry by imposing oppressive public burdens which would counteract the constructive efforts now being made to put more men on the payrolls. And right now bigger payrolls would afford the most effective and permanent means of relief.These same politicians have not hesitated to reflect upon the Red Cross Society, the most capable and effective agency in the world in matters of personal relief.
Red Cross officials declare that their efforts have been hindered by these attacks of politicians who have credit for themselves, which they seek to obtain by proposing vast government appropriations to be expended under the direction of other politically-minded agencies.President Hoover very aptly characterized such tactics as "playing politics at the expense of human misery."

GROUNDHOG DAY

Of all weather superstitions, perhaps none has been more widely spread than that associated with Groundhog Day, February 2. According to a belief held by many, the groundhog emerges from his winter hibernation on that day, and if he sees his shadow he goes back into his hole for another six weeks, during which a continuance of winter weather may be expected.If, on the other hand, February 2 is cloudy, the animal will remain outside, which is a sign of an early spring.Just how the groundhog keeps track of the date, including the extra day in leap years, is not explained, but many actually believe he does it.Other animals than the groundhog are supposed to behave similarly. In Germany it is the badger in England, the hedgehog; in France the marmot, and among the Scandinavians the bear.February 2 is also known as Candlemas Day in the church calendar, commemorating the presentation of Christ in the temple and among its observances is the burning of candles for sacred use. It is also associated with weather signs identical with those attributed to the ground hog. There are several old rhymes similar to this:
"If Candlemas be bright and clear We'll have two winters in the year."

OUR FIRST LIBRARY

Benjamin Franklin established the first circulating library in America. Not many people who recently celebrated the 225th birthday anniversary of the Quaker state-philosopher-statesman, remembered this fact. Yet, if Franklin had not exercised such foresight, who knows whether we in America should now be enjoying the benefits of our 5,000 libraries with a total annual circulation of 114,000,000?The Philadelphia's idea, according to his autobiography, was inspired by the lack of good books shops outside of Boston. Book lovers were forced to send to England for their volumes. So fifty men, at Franklin's suggestion, pooled their collection of imported books, each man paying an initial sum and annual dues for the privilege of reading all the books. Outsiders were permitted to sit in the library room and read, though they could not take books out. Franklin, for a time was librarian.Other towns and provinces became interested in the new institution, and circulating libraries soon grew up in many parts of America. It is a far cry, that small reading room in Jones' Alley, Philadelphia, to our immense stone buildings that harbor thousands of books, properly classified and indexed. We can only quote one of Franklin's own aphorisms: "Great cities from little acorns grow."

CAUGHT SHORT!

Old Man Ray failed to deliver 500,000,000 tons of his usual supply east of the Rocky Mountains during 1930, according to the federal weather bureau. Normally, six trillion, five hundred billion tons constitutes the approximate annual rainfall for the continental United States.If we had tried to make up the deficiency by irrigating the land with an old-fashioned well pump, we should have had to provide about seven and one-half gallons a minute throughout the summer season for each person in the United States. Every man would have been forced to import 22 helpers from abroad to work the pump handles in eight-hour shifts, each pumping a gallon a minute. Or to make it specific to one region: in the Ohio Valley this summer there was a water shortage of more than 50,000 tons for each 100-acre farm, or about 800 tons a day for the whole season.Man did not try to circumvent nature by use of the hand pump, but the artificial devices by which he did attempt to produce rain were even less practical states Dr. O. F. Marvin, chief of the Bureau.Reductions in rates for electric, gas heat and telephone services, made in the last two years, saved the people of Illinois $1,750,000 per year, according to the Illinois Commerce Commission.Known as the greatest apple growing county in the Middle West, Calhoun county, Illinois, marketed 638-200 barrels of apples in 1930, setting a new high record.

Mrs. Greens" will be interested in this new book of Lorna Rea's.Rachel Moon lived in ecstasy. Sitting on a mountain side by the Lake of Geneva her soul expanded in exaltation. Returning to her home she fell into an ecstasy of grief upon learning of her mother's illness and hurried home to England, prepared to devote the rest of her days to the care of the beloved patient.But then she fell in love. Completely and delightfully she fell in love with Clive and the complications beset her path. Was she to go the way of love, or was she to be chained to the bed of an invalid?The story of her answer to these questions is one shot through with pity, overflowing with tenderness toward youth and the problems which trouble youthful hearts. Here is a delicate portrait of just such a girl as every one of us has known, who believed in Duty and Honor and Truth and followed them with a burning zeal.FROM THE GROUND UP. Imagine learning how to take aerial pictures, how to read the weather for flying conditions; how to handle the air mail; how to navigate a plane in the fog; how to manipulate a glider; how to build airplanes—and even to run an airport—all by actual experience!This is what Pat Callahan does in this unusual book about flying. Pat Callahan is a real boy who wants to fly—and this story tells how he begins at the bottom and works his way up until he has learned all about aviation and its many developments from actual experience.Pat goes on his first flight with W. B. Mayo, aviation chief of the Ford airplane division. Capt. Frank Hawks, speed king of the sky, teaches him to use the contols. He meets many noted figures in aviation and has a number of thrilling experiences.Iris Marshfield interests along with other clients when his father died. "I'll stay on a few days, but never have played around in winter—ours is a busy office."In the distance appeared a rosy cloud that was moving rapidly toward them—it thinned out as it nearer, appearing long and straggling."It is beautiful," commented John. "What is it—birds?""Flamingoes," They reached for field glasses but the flock had retired to the south and was settling down a compact pink mass, behind the tall trees."What is that?" John asked sharply. "A flamingo? The thing is trying to get through the fence —all it's taken. I'm going down to have a look at it, sir. Can I lend you an arm?""I have my crutch," snapped Marshfield, and John slowed his own pace to that of the lame man.

They came to the fence separating Marshfield's garden from the encroaching jungle. "What is that —a young doctor?" he asked."I snapped at the 'flamingo,'" which was revealed to be a young girl, wearing a tattered frock of rosy cotton."I hate to come—it makes me ill to trespass on property that should have been my father's inheritance, when he is dying," she choked inarticulately and compressed her lips."Dying?" whispered Marshfield fearfully. "Henry dying?"John Lawrence saw the tragedy in the young eyes as she turned slowly and crept back through the fence. Then she turned, the lovely face scornful. "What a poor messenger-sold old man you are, Grampus! Not even a blessing for your dying son!" She fled through the wooded path, a brilliant rosy thing, with a breaking heart, and after her sped young John Lawrence, fleet of foot, a famous winner. He caught up with her in the deepest woods where she had sunk down on the doorstep of a small tumble-down cottage."Miss—er—Flamingo?" gasped John. "What can I do for your father—quick, tell me!""Doctor—medicine—food," she murmured, and looked after him as he followed her directions toward a flat-bottomed boat on the small stream."He was with Grampus—I must go to and tell Daddy that Grampus is too ill to come." Thoughtfully, almost fearfully, she went into the back room where a man's thin form stirred on a narrow camp bed."Grandfather could not come, Daddy darling, but he has sent a young man to do the errands—the doctor will be here almost at once—you are better!" His voice was weak. "Ever gone," he gasped."Was father kind to you, love?"
"He was, darling," she lied. "I don't think he likes my calling him Grampus though.""You mustn't—it is disrespectful.
He is a good man, but disappointed because I married your mother.
If she had lived—" He closed his eyes.Presently John Lawrence came, with doctor, medicines, and a load of provisions.There was a sound of rustling leaves outside, and the clump-clump of crutches on the veranda.
"Grampus" cried Iris, and ran to bring him inside.John Lawrence went back through the wooded path. Now reconciled with his son and lovely Christmas, and he's given them all away to his friends. He hasn't smoked a single one himself."granddaughter, they would bring young Henry back to the handsome home. He was glad of all that—Marshfield should have an heir, and Henry, though temporarily out of luck, would succeed.

He wondered if he would ever see Iris again before she became wonderfully married into the state in society to which she belonged. At the smoke fence he paused and gazed of her soft loveliness. A sudden rush of air and she blew past, and perched on the top rail of the fence."Please let me thank you!" she said."Never! You will be coming to New York soon?""In a few weeks—I will find you somehow," she said, and fled into the thicket.It was February when the office boy brought in a white card on which was scribbled "Miss Flamingo," but John did not get his reward until two years later when they were married in St. Thomas with much fuss and feathers."Why not?" laughed Iris. "Am I not a flamingo?"

WHAT'S NEW?

A telephone that not only records a caller's communication, but also tells of the owner's absence and can be used as a radio receiver, is the invention of a Swedish engineer.An apparatus has been invented by which photographs of heart beats and other body sounds can be seen in the form of oscillating waves in a mirror.For recording the number of persons in a theatre a machine has been invented into which a patron inserts a metal disk, purchased instead of a ticket.A shock-registering device has been invented to register the strains on landing gear and other parts of an airplane in taking off or landing.A simple apparatus has been invented which enables physicians to diagnose cases of lockjaw or gangrene within a few minutes instead of several hours required by the old laboratory method.Concrete building blocks coated with a weather-proof surface have been invented in Germany.A new automobile pedal turns the gas on or off as it is moved to the right or left and applies the brake when depressed.

TIT FOR TAT

Ho: "Now that we are married, perhaps I might venture to point out a few of your little defects."

She: "Don't bother, dear; I am quite aware of them. It was those little defects that prevented me from getting a much better man than you are."

AGED
A Scotchman telephoned the doctor in a great state of agitation. "Come at once," he said, "my wife has swallowed a sixpence."

NEW TRAFFIC SIGNAL
"Didn't you see me stick out my hand?" snapped the woman to the man who had just bumped into her new car.

George held her hand and she held him. And then they hugged and went to kiss. "You didn't know her hand was in my pocket, did you?" (My dear than hops and similes.)

Barrington Splits Two Cage Tilts With Leyden H.S.

The Barrington Branches had another fifty-fifty evening last Friday when they split a double header with the teams from Leyden. The Leyden Heavies won 27 to 18 but the Ponies from Barrington came out on top in their tussle, 17 to 12.

The regulars were scraping all through the game but they couldn't make their work count with points. Wayne Grabenkort was shifted to the center position and Orr Williams to guard for this game and although the captain got four baskets for himself there were only three more tallied from the field, one each by Bennett, Thorpe and Grabenkort. When over Barrington would start what looked like a rally it seemed that Leyden would come right back with a few counters themselves. Wolkewitz of the visitors had to be content with one basket but both Curada and Atherton got four apiece.

The young Branches got away to a low start and at half time they were trailing 9 to 5. In the second chapter however they put on enough of a rally to halt the game away and bring their percentage up over five hundred again.

Tournament This Week

The annual northwest conference tournament takes place in the spacious Libertyville gym Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of this week. Barrington meets Arlington Heights on Thursday night at 9 o'clock. According to their previous performances this should prove to be an easy victory for the Cardinal performers from Heights. Basketball, especially in high schools, is an uncertain game though and it is just that chance for an upset which will take many Barrington fans to the contest. Antich has won all the previous Northwest tournaments but if they win this year it will be a miracle. Waukegan, Elgin, Heights and Libertyville, up to now, have been the top notchers although Warren is given an outside chance. Personally this writer would pick the Libertyville Wildcats as the coming champion. We will know by Saturday night.

CUBA WOMEN ATTEND HOME BUREAU MEET

Mrs. Stella Strobach, Mrs. James McGraw, and Miss Ruth McGraw of Cuba township attended a meeting at Shadydale Tuesday afternoon, called for the purpose of instruction of township and school district workers of the Lake County Home Bureau, under the direction of Miss Lulu Black, temporary home advisor. A check-up for workers is planned on February 13, at which time the home bureau hopes to have 400 pledged.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Thursday Jan. 22, the Barrington Boy Scouts held their weekly meeting in the school gymnasium. Four new Scouts were informally assigned as fire patrol. Several boys made some fine buildings and tried them out. After pulling the wood for a while several sparks were obtained. However after much blowing the tinder would not start. Tests were pushed upstairs and the troop was dismissed.

Thursday, Jan. 27, the Scouts held their meeting at the bird sanctuary around a campfire. Meat and vegetables were brought and cooked for supper on the out-doors fire. A delicious muligan stew resulted. The menu was stew, crackers and marshmallows. Needless to say our appetites were three times as big as usual, though very one and plenty to eat. Lively conversations were had around the campfire with Robert Ulbrich as acting senior patrol leader. This made a very impressive ceremony which the boys will never forget. The fire was completely extinguished and the boys went home with happy hearts and contented stomachs. Scout Serlie, Herman Kocig.

WILLIE DREYER IN TRAINING FOR 2-MILE INDOOR STEEPCHASE

W. Dreyer, E. A. C. runner, began training last week for the C. A. A. 2-mile indoor steepchase. This will be a championship event and will draw the best runners in this part of the country. Because of an injured foot Bill has been unable to do any running since last September and for that reason will need a great deal of training to get back in shape.

During 1930 Willie placed in every long distance race but one—that being the C. A. A. 5-mile championship race at Soldier Field, Chicago, in which the first four finishers were eligible for the national championship meet at Pittsburgh. Willie placed fifth in this race in a field of seven runners.

made by the United States Department of the Interior showed a body of water which mapmakers and geographers identify as Lake Zurich and that this body of water was classed as navigable and impassable.

Boats for pleasure excursions have navigated the lake for more than fifty years, the state's attorney contends, and he alleges that the lakes in this county should not be closed to the public. Most of the lakes have been used by the public without challenge for many years and it is only recently that an attempt has been made to close them.

FIRST ROAD LETTING BY STATE FEB. 4TH

The first 1931 road construction letting by the state, to embrace 110 miles of paving, 24 miles of grading and 15 bridges and grade separations is set for February 4.

In that all road funds available or assured at the year-end had been expended in previous negotiations. This entire section of the 1931 building schedule is to be financed from the state's allotment of federal funds. Frank T. Skeels, chief highway engineer explained in announcing the letting.

The contracts to be awarded on the basis of bids that will be opened February 4 are expected to approximate $5,000,000. The state's share of the emergency road fund, from the United States treasury, $3,400,000, will be applied to this, the first of a series of lettings scheduled for the year.

Until 1931, contingent upon the continuation of the present income and distribution of road funds, the highway division plans to pay out for road construction this year, approximately $47,000,000 and to distribute $2,000,000 more to counties, providing the state Supreme court rules against the latest attack upon the gas tax.

Ela High School Drops Two Games to Warren Five

A bus filled with the two teams of Ela township high school basketball players and loyal supporters went to Warren high school Friday night to play routine games. Ela was defeated in both games.

Warren lightweight took the basketball without any contest. Ela lightweight played much better basketball than they had previously played. MAY PLANT WALNUT TREES AT SMALL COST Springfield, Jan. 29.—Black walnut trees this year hence, may have great value, can be started this year at a cost of $2.75 per tree from 1000 to 1500. Plans for this reforestation measure have been worked out by Lewis B. Springer, superintendent of forestry in the state department of conservation. The nuts, to be ready for distribution at cost—$2.75 per bushel—after March 1, will be ready to be planted by boy scout organizations, civic clubs, sportsmen and others interested. They have been selected on the basis of their fertility and have been stratified in moist sand. A goodly portion may be expected to grow satisfactorily, the forestry officials state.

STRATTON LAYS OFF THIRTY EMPLOYEES

Springfield, Jan. 28.—Approximately thirty employees in the office of Secretary of State W. L. Stratton have been served with notices that their services will terminate next Saturday, it was learned today. Stratton was said at his office, is out of the city and will not return for several days and attaches refused to discuss the reasons for the change.

In political circles, however, it was contended that Stratton who has retained practically all employees who served under Gov. Emmerson when he was secretary of state is now making an effort to take care of his supporters. The corporation and automobile departments are said to be the hardest hit in the dismissal order.

Fewer Students Flunked in B.H.S. Semester Exams

Introduction of a system of supervised study at the Barrington high school this year has resulted in better average grades, examinations following the completion of the first semester's work last week have disclosed. The percentage of individual failures in the semester exams was the first half of the school year 1930-31 were approximately 18 per cent greater than for the semester just ended. Superintendent (Ernest) Smith said yesterday. The school failures for the first semester a year ago were about 43 per cent greater than for the 1930-31 half year, he stated.

Thirty-nine pupils failed in a total of 66 subjects in the first semester of 1930-31, a subject failure percentage of approximately seven per cent, as compared with a subject failure of approximately five per cent this year when 33 pupils failed in a total of 33 subjects.

A Good Record

"This is a gratifying decrease," Mr. Smith remarked, "and together with the school's high standing in a recent nation-wide every-pupil scholarship test gives the school reason to be proud of its first semester's record."

"Modern schools are getting away from the idea that the great majority of pupils who are flunked by the higher school standards," he continued. "Some years ago schools were often rated on the basis of the number of pupils they failed. Educators have been the waste this attitude has been to students, to parents, and to taxpayers and now every effort is made to keep the percentage of failures as low as possible, and still observe necessary standards of scholarship."

"With the plan of supervised study introduced this year, each student has an opportunity to get his standing

Catlow Presents "Mim and Bill" for Local Legion

Marie Dressler and Wallace Beery, as a character team, provide the central figures for the "Mim and Bill," a story drama of the waterfront, which will be shown at The Catlow theatre last night and Friday night at a benefit show for the local American Legion.

New Stars Appear

The story depicts the struggle between a foster mother and a natural mother for the happiness of a girl, and the tremendous denouement that solves the problem is a decidedly new note in the drama of the screen. There is not a let-up in the thrilling interest in this astounding story, and despite its poignant drama, there are many comedy moments as well as a charming love romance, to lighten its more somber moments.

Patrons of The Catlow theatre this Saturday night will get their first glimpses of three new talking picture stars, Spencer Tracy, Claire Luce and Joel (Cedric) Lander, who are portrayed featured characters in the high provoking romance "Up to the River."

A new idea in talking pictures will be offered to local movie fans next Sunday and Monday nights when "East of Eden" will be screened at The Catlow theatre.

It is told in a 1930 setting, when the world has changed materially in almost every element except romance. The change is the love of the "Ludicrous of 1930" in the person of John Garrick for Maureen O'Sullivan is beset with the traditional difficulties of romance of all time, but, of course, this being a musical comedy, true love conquers in the end.

Ed Brainerd, the hilariously funny Swedish comedian, has the principal role and moves in and out of the story at frequent intervals, providing a generous portion of comedy. He is ably

Bandits Get $2,000 at Bensenville Bank

Two youthful bandits held up the First State Bank of Bensenville, southeast of Arlington Heights, last Saturday morning and escaped with $2,000.

Dashing into the bank with drawn revolvers, the two hold-up men forced the cashier to open the door to his cage, and the money out of a cash drawer, jumped into a small auto, mobile parked at the curb, and fled towards Chicago.

Four employees were in the bank. One of them ran out the rear door and telephoned for help, but the bandits worked so fast that they were out of town before help arrived. The hurry they left several thousand dollars in the vault.
