★ IT WORKS BOTH WAYS ★

Once in a while we hear someone say, "I get along without a telephone; I seldom need to make a call."

Such a view of the usefulness of the telephone fails to take into account the value of incoming calls.

Almost any telephone user can recall instances when a message received has been of the utmost importance—has meant as much as a dozen or a hundred outgoing calls.

The privilege of making calls is only half of your telephone service.

The other half is your accessibility to calls from anyone else, anywhere, any time. This feature alone has a value far greater than the moderate amount a telephone would cost you.

GOOD INSULATION IS VITAL FACTOR IN REFRIGERATION

To their own regret, too many owners of electric refrigerators fail to realize or take into consideration the vital part insulation plays in the operation of a modern refrigerator.

Arnold H. Suss, local representative of a modern refrigerator, says that the insulation is the key to the refrigerator, many people, however, do not even know it exists or that it is so important.

He points out that without it no refrigerator can function successfully. He says that the insulation is the key to the refrigerator, many people, however, do not even know it exists or that it is so important.

Group of Stars in "Lawyer's Secret" at Catlow Theatre

The latest Joan Crawford hit, "Laughing Sinners," plays The Catlow theatre Friday night of this week. It will be followed by "The Lawyer's Secret" Saturday night. In this production "Buddy" Rogers, the handsome, young star of light nomance, becomes Charles Rogers, the dramatic actor.

Now, instead of being the object of adulation of a cast of beautiful young girls, he is the object of a search by the police.

Rogers has no love affair in his play; no girl is interested in him romantically; he is interested in no feminine being. He plays an unsympathetic character in the picture, and is glad of it.

Clive Brook and Richard Arlen have the other leading male roles in "The Lawyer's Secret," and the female parts are played by Fay Wray and Jean Arthur.

Sunday and Monday nights will bring two features of interest to The Catlow theatre: Bobby Jones in "How I Play Golf" and Winnie Lightner in "Gold Dust Gertie."

"Gold Dust Gertie" is one of the most riotous of comedies, teeming as it does, the screen's outstanding comedienne and the most famous pair of stage clowns in America, Olsen and Johnson.

Lloyd Hamilton appears on the same bill in his comedy "No Privacy." News, act and singing are added items of interest for this program.

"The Maltese Falcon," listed as one of the six best pictures presented in first run houses during the month of June, will be offered by The Catlow theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday night, July 14 and 15.

San Francisco is the locale for the mystifying and thrilling sequences of "The Maltese Falcon," in which Bela Daniels plays the leading role.

The supporting cast includes Ricardo Cortez, Dudley Digges, Una Merkel, Thelma Todd, and J. Farrell MacDonald.

A "composite" of seven American cliques was used in the making of a background for "The Secret Six," the story of politics and the underworld coming to The Catlow theatre Thursday and Friday of next week with Wallace Berry, Lewis Stone, Marjorie Rambeau, Jean Harlow and a huge cast.

Adjustable Owl
An "adjustable" owl is on view at the zoo, London. It is known as a European Scops owl, and though insignificant in size, being normally less than six inches high, it is regarded as a great rarity. The color and markings of its plumage are like those of a tree trunk. When at rest the owl elongates its body and sits motionless in such a position that it resembles the stump of a branch. But a remarkable change comes over it when alarmed. It blows out its body, which visibly grows in size like a toy balloon being inflated. The bird is then almost globular in shape and quite unlike its elongated self.

Wall Street Term
The term "lame duck" originated in Wall Street and was applied to one who failed or was unable to fulfill his obligations. It became commonly used to describe a senator or representative who, having failed of re-election, was unable in the last session of congress to fulfill promises made to his constituents.

Reader Interest and Circulation

Classified and display advertisers, when buying space in a newspaper, pay for two things—reader interest and newspaper circulation. The white paper on which their advertising messages are printed and the composition of type to make their messages attractive are incidental to the two chief commodities which the advertisers pay for.

CIRCULATION is the number of newspapers distributed among prospective buyers of the products advertisers have to sell.

READER INTEREST is that element which makes people read a newspaper when they get it. Reader interest in a weekly newspaper is the combined results of continued good news service about the local community; good features; and loyalty to the home community (through the news and editorial columns).

Circulation without reader interest is of little or no value to the advertisers. Circulation can be built up in several ways, but only one kind of circulation is permanent or of value to the advertisers. That kind is BONAFIDE CIRCULATION. It is made up of subscribers who want the newspaper sufficiently to pay for it and to pay a fair price.

People who do not care sufficiently for a newspaper to pay for it are not sufficiently interested to read it. People who are high pressured into subscribing for a newspaper; who buy it for the sole purpose of getting a premium; or who accept it "on trial" and then continue to get it without paying for it, are not sufficiently interested in the newspaper to read it. They add nothing to the reader interest of the newspaper.

Advertisers know the Barrington Review circulation is bonafide. They know the Barrington Review goes into more than 90 per cent of the homes in Barrington and immediately adjoining communities. They know that subscribers want The Review sufficiently to pay a fair price for it. That is why they place their advertising in The Review.

THE WORLD AND US

It seems to us that a great deal of the talk about the danger of having any relations with Europe is political. It is intended to put the other fellow's party in a hole. There isn't any way that the United States can keep from having relations with Europe and all the rest of the world.

"No man liveth to himself alone" is as true between nations as it is between individuals. There was a time, when George Washington was alive, before steamships, telegraph, telephones and airplanes had been invented and when the United States was a weak, struggling little strip of settlements along the Atlantic Coast, when we had a right to be afraid of Europe. But it makes us mad to listen to some of the people today who profess to be afraid that if we, the richest and most powerful nation of the world, have any relations except those of trade with foreign countries, those countries will gobble us right up.

The surest way to keep out of a quarrel is to live on good terms with your neighbors. All the world is our neighbor today. When you have a good neighbor who is in temporary difficulties you try to help him—that is, if you yourself are a good neighbor. That is what the United States is proposing to do now in the case of our neighbors in Europe. We don't believe that that sort of thing constitutes the sort of "entanglement alliance" of which Washington warned us.

SPARE THE BIRDS

Although some varieties of birds are considered a great nuisance by farmers and others, it is doubtful that any of these feathered tribes are more destructive than useful.

Birds are the natural enemies of insects and insects are the greatest enemies of mankind. Scientists have declared that without continued research and the employment of improved means of combating insect pests they would overrun the world and destroy all other life, including man.

The rapidity with which certain insects multiply is beyond the imagination. For example, a pair of pupae, a species of flea, will in a year produce more than 441 quadrillion young. One small bird, such as a toad, will destroy about 1,500 of these in a day; a partridge will eat 30,000 white grubs in a year. Various birds have their favorite insects upon which they prey, but all eat practically any insect which crosses their path.

With this ever present menace of insects to combat, we can hardly have too many birds. Not only out of humane sentiment but as an actual protection to civilization, the birds should be spared.

A PREACHER'S FAREWELL

Probably it is an old story, but anyway it's full of logic. A preacher had been greatly discouraged and had sought a new field of labor. He happened to have a friend in the governor, to whom he appealed, and not in vain. He got a political job. In taking leave of his flock he said:

"Brothers and sisters, I must say good-bye. I don't think God loves you, because none of you ever did."

"I don't think you love each other, because none of you ever got married."

"I don't think you love me, because you have not paid my salary."

"Your donations are mostly fruit and wormy apples—and by their fruits ye shall know them."

"I am going to a better place. I am going to be a chaplain of the penitentiary."

"Where I go ye can not yet come, but I go to prepare a place for you, and may the good Lord have mercy upon you. Good-bye."

HOT DOG VS. COLLEGE

George J. Beck of Buffalo was poor but ambitious when at the age of 19 he determined to have a college education. But hot dogs blocked his way.

Casting about for some means of earning his way through college, Beck tried running a hot dog stand, and met success beyond his fondest expectations. Business was so good that he could not take time to go to school. Soon he opened additional stands, all of which prospered.

Recently he bought out six competitors and now has what virtually amounts to a "hot dog trust" in his home city, with a washhouse, a bakery, a butcher shop, a fleet of 12 trucks and 10 hot dog stands. His annual turnover is more than $500,000 and he draws from his business a salary equal to that of the President of the United States—$75,000 a year.

But it looks as if he will have to worry along without a college degree. Still he holds a very desirable, if not dignified, title. He is known as "the hot dog king."

A DAUGHTER'S TRAINING

Among the replies received in response to a request for a brief plan for training a daughter, a magazine received the following from a successful mother:

Teach your daughter to value a man, not by wealth, looks or family, but by his character and what he himself has done.

Discourage her in looking upon men as suitors until she is at least 20.

Give her an education and keep her employed part of the time during vacation.

Make her home pleasant, so that she will not be anxious to leave for an inferior one.

Encourage her to attend church, Sunday school, club meetings and other places where the right kind of people may be met, urging her to be particularly careful in choosing her girl associates.

These are all excellent suggestions, even though they do not always secure the desired results, and the mother who follows them will have done about all that it is possible to do for her daughter.

LIBRARY NEWS

Summer time is reading time. Make use of the library. It is your library. The library is there to suggest books that will prove worth-while as well as a diversion during the summer months.

The library will appreciate and welcome anyone bringing new patrons to the library. It is the aim of the Barrington library to have a steady gain in securing new patrons and a large circulation. This can be accomplished by each one making use of the library. New books are being added to the library. Come and read them.—VIOLET W. BURRIDGE, Librarian.

RADIO AND HEALTH

Radio, the crowning achievement of its time, and one of our greatest blessings, may be degraded to a mere matter of dollars and cents, when mankind descends wholly to that level. Did you ever think that your receiving set may lead you headlong into the open arms of the nostrum-vendor and quack, solely in the interest of his pocketbook? That you are made poorer and he richer by your own soft gullibility?

It gives me a first-rate case of nerves to hear the blatant yavv of some hired man for a quack concern, pleading with me and you to go to the drug stores, first thing in the morning, and BUY a bottle of germ-killer that knocks 'em in a specified number of seconds!

These fellows that never crossed the threshold of a pathological laboratory in their lives, presume to tell me about "bacterit." They infer off-hand that you and I have a mouthful, needful, stomachful of potent germs, deadly in character, if not killed off at once by the great bottled savior of mind and body; they juggle handily with laboratory terms, as though they had been raised on test tubes and rotifers and chemical reactions; all to get YOU and ME to BUY their gully wash and soak it into our systems.

And do we buy it? We certainly do; we buy stuff of which we know absolutely nothing, at the solicitation of an itinerant who is solely interested in the sum he can extract from your purse, and who knows and cares nothing about the stuff he is paid to peddle. He gets his pabulum into the family, into your children, into you and your wife, and if you all use it four or six times a day, all the better—for the nostrum-vendor. For, nine out of ten, you could use hot water and boracic acid with better results at one-twentieth the cost.

A good rule for the rural radio-fan is, to believe nothing he hears from a paid propagandist. He has an ax to grind, and you, dear reader, have been picked out to turn the grindstone. Summon your horse-sense that's my advice.

THIS WEEK IN Washington

Special Correspondent

THERE IS UNMISTAKABLE evidence that the debt holiday negotiations have relieved unemployment in at least one sector—the statisticians. The depression in stocks and business generally struck a cruel blow at their craft. The average business man lost faith in charts, graphs and other statistical presentations. Even the government figure-jugglers were in a rut until the moratorium proposition revived interest in speculation. In consequence the business men in official Washington are the experts who rightly resent the caustic comments of legislators and hard-boiled industrialists. "Give a statistician a set of figures and he will prove anything you want." Just now they are attempting to show how the debt settlement will bring hidden money into circulation, how world markets will take on a new lease of life and prosperity will return in a more modest surb.

BLUNDERS IN POLITICS are magnified in the limelight quicker than real achievements. The Old Guard in the Republican party are not, nor never have been, known as pro-Hoover. They are playing along somewhat reluctantly because it is to their advantage at this time. Hence, they chuckled long and loud when James West, director of publicity for the Republican National Committee, turned his back on the "gentlemen's agreement" or partisan truce dealing with the international debt affair to claim it as a Hoover triumph. It annoyed the Democrats who consented to support the plan of the President's request and brought a clash between the Old Guard and the newer pro-Hoover group in control of the national committee. Every effort is made to heal the breach and soft-pedal the hold claims of the Fessenden publicity man. Senator Fess is still in the saddle as chairman, but it is freely predicted that a few more months of excessive zeal may bring his scalp into the basket with those of his harassed predecessors.

THE FEDERAL FARM Board is standing pat against political pressure from high-powered legislators in the white-hot struggle and risking its future. The bumper wheat crop with world markets in a poor receptive mood will present new and pressing problems to this government agency. They have refused to allow the legislators to pledge them at a fixed price for selling the wheat under their control. The matter has important political features for the next Presidential campaign and is watched accordingly.

CONSIDERABLE AMUSEMENT is derived from the commentary now going the rounds in official and social Washington. It deals with the American Exhibit at Paris, of which C. Bascom Slemm is the director-general. It is reported that the exposition, which was designed to promote good will between France and the United States and to bring back memories of the French alliance with General Washington in Revolutionary days was not the success that was anticipated. According to the tea table discussions the flop was due to linguistic difficulties. The current conversations are to the effect that neither Mr. Slemm nor his hand-picked associates could speak French, a fact which militated against the development of better relations.

A SIDELIGHT on the financial difficulties of ocean-going steamship companies may be gleaned from the 11 months report of the Bureau of Immigration issued this week. The figures reveal a falling off in visitors to this country due in the majority of cases to the rigid restrictive laws which force a sorting of the human ingredients going into the "world's melting pot"—the American population. Europe furnished about 85 per cent of the aliens with the neighboring countries of Mexico and Canada ranking second. The total number of aliens admitted during the last 11 months amounted to 264,336, of which 125,570 did not come within the quota limitations. The majority of these newcomers were returning residents.

The bill providing for a license fee to be paid by owners of chain stores went through the house by a unanimous vote, 135-0. Representative Anthony Pinnazzi of Chicago, was the sponsor.

The governor's veto pen cut $100,000 from an appropriation measure passed for the "extraordinary repairs and permanent improvements for eight of the state armories." The reason he assigned: "In the interest of economy and reduction of state governmental expenditures there will be no appropriation for the construction of additional armories during the biennium." For the same reason, careful consideration has been given to the question of the necessity of each of the repair and improvement items provided in this bill. The governor's veto measure stated that the supervising architect determined which of the repair items were and which were not absolutely essential. The ones that were not seriously needed now were stricken from the appropriation, effecting a saving of $100,000.

An investigation started by the state department of public welfare into the financial condition of the patients in hospitals for the mentally afflicted is productive of results. Trust funds that total $50,339.87 have been unearthed. This amount has been held by guardians and conservators of 40 patients at the Dixon state hospital. There are 23 others at that institution who have been found to have relatives who will provide their clothing. This, as a start, will save the cost of clothing this group of patients. The investigation will continue. The law of Illinois is that the estates of relatives of the mentally deficient, insofar as conditions permit, shall defray the cost of their apparel. The state clothes patients known to be without funds, or who have no other source for this portion of their maintenance.

Incarnates of the Vandalian penal farm who were implicated in the riot and incendiary fire at that institution some weeks ago, are to face grand jury action July 16. A special venire is to be empaneled. Several have signed confessions and say they will plead guilty. Charges against them are for arson, escaping attempting to escape and rioting. State laws subject Vandalian farm prisoners to sentences in state prison if convicted of attempting, successfully or unsuccessfully, to escape. In the recent outbreak, four were captured by the guards after they had climbed the fence.

Expressing the hope that existing differences can be composed, and thus bring about a harmony legislative program, Governor Louis L. Emmerson, last week at Chicago, called into conference, a group of the state's leaders in governmental, agricultural, industrial, commercial and financial affairs.

From this assembly, a committee of eleven of the leading minds in Illinois was delegated to draft a plan for revenue legislation that will prove generally acceptable. The governor pledged a special session of the 57th general assembly if this movement develops a definite plan of action.

Twenty road construction contracts placed at the end of June by Director H. H. Cleveland of the department of public works and buildings, and Frank L. Sheets, chief highway engineer, call for an expenditure of $1,172,898.71. Considerable bridge building, some widening and 47.04 miles of paving, much of which is to close gaps left over and at bridge and grade separation approaches, were placed under contract. All sections of the state are represented in the month-end letting.

Lost 20 lbs. of Fat in Just 4 Weeks

Mrs. Mae West of St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I'm only 28 yrs. old and weighed 170 lbs. until taking one box of Velveeta Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and furthermore I've never had a hungry moment."

Fat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—an 85 cent bottle lasts 4 weeks—you can get Kruschen's at Fredlund Drug Co. or any drug store in America. It not only satisfies after the first bottle—money back.

Colds and Sore Throat
Neuritis, Neuralgia

Don't be a chronic sufferer from headaches, or any other pain. There is hardly an ache or pain Bayer Aspirin tablets can't relieve; they are a great comfort to women who suffer periodically. They are always to be relied on for breaking up colds.

It may be only a simple headache, or it may be neuralgia or neuritis or rheumatism. Bayer Aspirin is the sensible thing to take. Just be certain it's Bayer you're taking! It does not hurt the heart. Get the genuine tablets in this familiar package for the pocket.

3 RULES
big help to BOWELS

What a joy to have the bowels move like clockwork, every day! It's easy, if you mind these simple rules of a famous old doctor:

1. Drink a big tumblerful of water before breakfast, and several times a day.

2. Get plenty of outdoor exercise without unduly fatiguing yourself.

3. Try for a bowel movement at exactly the same hour every day.

Everyone's bowels need help at times, but the thing to use is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You'll get a thorough cleaning-out, and it won't leave your insides weak and watery. This family doctor's prescription is just fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin, and other helpful ingredients that couldn't hurt a child. But how it wakes up those lazy bowels! How good you feel with your system rid of all that poisonous waste matter.
