TROOP 10, SCOUT NEWS

Our troop has started the school year with some fine September meetings. Our scout committee took charge of the summer meetings and we wish to thank them for the interest they have shown in us. But with the return of those on vacation our attendance has increased.

The first meeting in September was held Thursday, Sept. 3, in the school gymnasium with 15 scouts present. An overnight hike to the forest preserve was planned for the following week and each scout was reminded that swimming opportunities would soon be over and advised to pass that test as soon as possible. A report was also made on summer camping. Camp Oh-da-ko-ta was unanimously voted a wonderful success.

The overnight hike was held Friday and Saturday, Sept. 11 and 12. About 20 scouts and Scoutmaster Watson enjoyed a splendid night in Deer Grove forest preserve, cooking meals over the open fire, aiding in a Siberian man-hunt and later taking turns walking guard while the rest slept. The meetings held Sept. 18 and 19 have been almost completely given over to study and tests for the next court of honor to be held October 9. Each scout hopes to advance one rank.

Rat Poison Reported Found by Analysis of Woman's Stomach

The death on Sept. 10 of Mrs. Ida Ernst was caused by commercial poison according to investigations made by Coroner Herman Bundeson of Cook county and Attorney A. V. Smith of Lake county.

A chemical analysis of the stomach was made under the direction of Coroner Bundeson. Poison of the variety used in commercial rat poison was reported to have been found. That Mrs. Ernst nuked rat poison in preparing a food dish, mistaking it for some wholesome ingredient, is the opinion of friends.

Mrs. Ernst was one of the most popular women of her community. The coroner's inquest will be concluded at the Danielson & Willmeling funeral home at 1:30 p. m. Friday.

Fire Department at Wauconda Buys $6500 Apparatus

New Truck Will Be Capable of Pumping 500 Gallons Per Minute

The Wauconda fire department placed an order for a $6,500 fire truck and equipment at a meeting at the village hall Thursday evening. The new equipment will be delivered within the coming month.

Funds to secure the engine were raised recently through a village drive sponsored largely by the Lions club. More than $4,000 has been added to the fund in the campaign this summer.

The new apparatus has been ordered from the Peter Pirsch company of Kenosha and will carry 2,000 feet of hose and will be capable of handling any fire emergency in the village. It also is planned to use the truck for protection to residents on fire lakes in the nearby territory, which have heretofore been protected by the McHenry fire department. The new truck will have a pumping capacity of 500 gallons per minute.

A volunteer fire fighting force has been drilled all summer under the direction of Chief Phillip Froelke, formerly connected with the Chicago fire department, and with the addition of new equipment Wauconda will have a modern unit on a par with those of other villages in this territory.

Loose Gravel Upsets Cars; Passenger's Leg Broken

Mike Gorra of Chicago sustained a broken leg and other injuries Tuesday noon when the car in which he was riding struck loose gravel and turned over.

The accident happened about two miles north of Barrington near the Hawk farm. The driver of the car, Charles Felco, also of Chicago, was not seriously injured. Mr. Gorra was brought to Dr. Graber's office where it was found that both bones above the ankle were broken. Dr. Graber set the bones and the injured man was taken back to his home in the afternoon.

Property Rights Case at Crystal Lake Develops Similar to Zurich Case

The rights and limitations of owners of property bordering lakes in Illinois probably will be settled this fall as the result of two decisions now pending in court, both based on the Lake Zurich case. Two situations in the Northwest village area will be affected, one is the Lake Zurich situation itself and the other is a somewhat similar one which has developed at Crystal Lake.

Berthold Bondy of Chicago, who has a summer home on the shore of Crystal Lake, has expressed his intentions of building a sea wall 100 feet from the shore line, filling in the intervening space and consequently enlarging his property that much. His plan is similar to the one employed by the city of Chicago in creating Grant Park, outer drives, etc.

Mr. Bondy's neighbor, Dr. M. W. Samuels, also of Chicago, objects to the plan, contending that the state has control of the lake.

Attorney General Carlstrom ruled against Dr. Samuels, stating that the lake belongs to the riparian owners of the property bordering on the lake. He added that before the state can restrict filling in the shore line, it must prove that the lake is navigable. This statement left the matter in the air. City Attorney L. D. Lowell of Crystal Lake, declared that the lake is navigable, according to official reords, hence belongs to the state despite Mr. Carlstrom's opinion. Benjamin H. Miller, supervisor of waterway construction, said he will refuse to issue a permit for the Bondy sea wall until the navigability of the lake is definitely established.

In the Lake Zurich case, pending for two years, August Froelich and Marguerite Pearce won a temporary decision when Judge Edward Shurtleff in circuit court at Waukegan dismissed the suit brought by landowners around the lake for want of equity. The plaintiffs appealed to the supreme court.

In his ruling Judge Shurtleff indicated that the property owners were not the ones who should have brought the action; that his question of whether Lake Zurich is a public or private body of water should be raised by the state. Subsequently State Attorney A. V. Smith of Lake county filed suit in the circuit court there, contesting the claims of Mrs. Pearce and Froelich. No decision has been handed down on this suit.

Home Near Cary Destroyed By Early Morning Blaze

Fire destroyed the Theodore Wory house, located two miles west of Cary, early Monday morning. The blaze was first discovered by Mr. Hinzle, a neighbor, who turned in a call to the Cary fire department.

The department responded quickly but the fire had gained such headway before its discovery that an attempt to save the building proved futile. The house had been vacated for some time, but the owner had returned to Chicago Sunday evening after having spent the day there.

PAY YOUR BILLS NOW

The most practical and simple means of starting money into circulation and so stimulating the return of prosperity was put forward the other day by Alvan Macaulay, president of the Packard Motor Car Company. Mr. Macaulay pointed out that if everybody who owes money would begin at once to pay his bills, to the extent of his ability to do so, the wheels of commerce would be instantly speeded up.

We believe that is true. We know many people, and we have heard of many more, who are not paying their bills because they are afraid to reduce their cash resources. Business men tell us that collections are slower than they have ever known them. Customers whose credit is perfectly good, and who have cash reserves in the savings banks and elsewhere, are holding off payment of accounts long past due, apparently for no other reason than timidity. It is easy in these days for a debtor to get a long extension of credit. Many who are not entitled to it are taking advantage of this situation to postpone payment of their just debts.

Nobody of course, has any statistics on the subject, but we think it is a fair guess that if, on a given day or during a given week, everybody in America who owes anybody else would pay all that he owes, or all that he is actually able to pay on account, money would begin circulating so fast that there would be an end almost immediately to all of the talking of depression. If the tailor, for example, who is not paying his bills because he hasn't got enough business in sight, would pay what he owes the butcher, and then the butcher would pay the grocer, the grocer would be able to order a new suit of clothes from the tailor, which he does not feel justified in doing now.

Money lying idle in the banks does nobody any good. It is only the revolving dollar that has any value. We would like to see everybody in this country make a start toward the application of Mr. Macaulay's sound advice.

WAR CLOUDS DISAPPEARING

It really looks as if the war cloud which has hung over the world ever since the Armistice were clearing away. For the first time since the early days of the last century, France and Germany are making friendly gestures toward each other. The French people are beginning to realize that the old days of imperial ambition are a thing of the past in Germany, that the German people actually do control their own government, for the first time in history, and that they are just as human and peace loving as the French themselves. And the Germans seem to be beginning to understand that France has been keeping up her big army, and building her line of frontier forts, because she has had solid grounds for fear of an invasion from beyond the Rhine at any moment. It has happened to her four times in a hundred years, and that's enough to make any nation nervous.

Whether anything will come of the latest proposal before the League of Nations, to put all the armaments and military and naval forces of all nations in the League under the control of the League itself, we are not sufficiently informed to guess. But on the face of it, it sounds as if even the serious entertainment of such a proposal is an indication that the war-like spirit no longer rules Europe and threatens the rest of the world.

The Way of Life

By BRUCE BARTON

WORDS

An officer of an insurance company invited me to the formal opening of some model tenements which the company has erected.

"Why should I come to see model tenements?" I asked.

For answer he pulled out of his pocket a crumpled sheet of paper, saying, "Here's an editorial that you wrote nearly fifteen years ago. You pointed out that the insurance companies collect millions of dollars in annual premiums from the poor. You asked why some of these millions should not be used in tearing down old tenements and erecting decent homes in their place."

"We read that editorial in our directors' meeting. It started the thinking which has resulted in these homes for folks of modest means."

Words are mysterious and awe-inspiring. We shoot them into the air, either by tongue or pen, and most of them perish. But now and then some stray sentence drops into a mind that remembers it, and is influenced by it for many years.

Many books, many sermons, many speeches have run in and out of my brain leaving little trace. Yet here are three quite casual remarks that I remember:

1. Said the late Talcott Williams, in a talk which I had with him immediately after my graduation from college:

"Never forget the old saying of the Jesuits. 'A great deal of good can be done in the world if one is not too careful who gets the credit.'"

2. Said a prominent business man when I was blue and discouraged because the first concern for which I worked had gone bust.

"You are very fortunate to have had a severe disappointment while you are still very young. The men to be pitied are those whose disappointments come in middle life, when it is too late for them to start over again. A disappointment in youth is merely part of the hardening process that is necessary to make you capable of carrying through."

3. Said my friend Robert Underhill:

"Never grumble about your problems. They are responsible for the greater part of your income."

Of the three bits of wisdom this last has done me the most good. Whenever I think I am having a tough time I remember that jobs with no worries carry small pay. It's because I have larger troubles that I draw a larger income.

None of these three friends probably gave his remark a second thought. But I have never forgotten them, and I now pass them on in this editorial. Ninety-nine out of every hundred readers will pay no attention. But some day, fifteen years from now, somebody may say: "I read something of yours a long time ago, and it gave me a fresh idea."

LARGEST LIVING THING

The largest living thing on earth, and probably the oldest, is the General Sherman tree in Sequoia National Park, California. By precise observations and calculations a committee of engineers determined that this tree was the biggest of the giant redwoods, while the General Grant tree is second in size.

The General Sherman tree has a volume of slightly more than 600,000 board feet of lumber; its height is 272 feet, and its circumference at the ground is 88 feet. It is estimated that these largest trees are 5,000 or more years old.

The Family Doctor

By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M. D.

GENUINE HEART DISEASE

If ever a fellow needs skilled medical advice, it is when the heart becomes really diseased. My object in this talk is to try to make the layman understand his heart better, so he may seek competent counsel at once, if he suspects trouble with this vital organ.

Remember, it is not the blood in the big cavities of the heart that sustains the heart-muscle itself. The heart-muscle has its separate arteries and veins, just the same as your leg has. The coronary arteries of the heart-muscle supply it with blood, and these are, probably, the most responsible vessels within the human being.

If a coronary artery becomes plugged up, the heart-wall beyond the obstruction begins to weaken, because it is deprived of food. It may be "plugged" by bacterial processes—the infected heart. This may occur in a rheumatic subject, or in cases of influenza, or a chronic infected throat—hence the rash to remove tonsils, teeth, etc.

Probably obstruction in the coronary arteries is next to valvular disease in frequency; but diseased valves make loud heart murmurs—easily diagnosed. I have had many patients who knew they had a "leaky heart." But there is not much, if any, noise about a plugged artery in the heart, and there is much more danger—much more.

The principal symptom, WEAKNESS AND SHORTNESS OF BREATH. One fails markedly in coronary disease, and it takes a physician to diagnose and treat.

Don't depend on home treatment until it becomes forever too late; and don't depend on physical exercises or manipulation treatments. I'm advising you right.

THIS WEEK IN Washington

Special Correspondent

ONE OF THE GREATEST tasks

confronting the selected group representing the government and industry in seeking readjustments is to sift a few serviceable ideas from the avalanche of panaceas that have flooded Washington recently. While politics is obviously interwoven in the patchwork relief it may be said with conviction that every effort is made to keep this bugaboo of non-partisan committees in the background. Many ideas are seemingly plausible until subjected to the closest scrutiny and eventually discarded. Official Washington is honestly endeavoring to work out plans which will permit state and municipal activities to take first place. The economic situation is such that only a foolhardy politician would openly attempt to make political capital from a work to alleviate suffering and want.

The menacing shadow of strikes and labor disturbances is detected in some quarters. The feeling exists that organized labor, especially among the railroad workers, will resist to the utmost proposals for wage cuts which are considered just around the corner. Anxiety is felt because a tie-up of the rail transportation systems would naturally affect the entire economic life of the nation. The widespread wage cuts in all industries would, it is said, have a tendency to eliminate sympathy which might be extended their unionized railroad brethren under changed conditions. There is a growing conviction that out of this welter of capital and labor a scheme will be evolved to permit labor to share more and more in profits.

LEADERS OF INDUSTRY and finance who ordinarily gather in the springtime have assembled here this week to consider problems affecting business. Not the least of the subjects on the table is that of an actual and prospective governmental deficit. The cards indicate a shortage of a billion at the end of the present fiscal year, June 30. Forced to cut their payrolls and discharge employees private business leaders are not disposed to stand silent while the government departments are free from similar economies. Hence, the hearings before Senate and House appropriations committees next month will find watchers from national trade groups ready to oppose raids on the treasury by Federal workers.

THE POLITICAL TIDES are constantly changing and measurements are difficult. The action of the American Legion in advocating changes in the prohibition law is regarded in some quarters as a fore-runner of a political change. No one expects modification to follow on the heels of the soldiers' policy announcement. Yet everywhere opinion is gaining ground that this organized minority will effectively change sentiment in congressional districts where no other influence could touch. The Legion had a falling Congress when it demanded bonus legislation in face of enormous federal deficits. Right or wrong on politics, recent legislative history shows that the American Legion is a factor to be reckoned in politics. As experienced legislators know a "re-sentiment vote" is an invaluable force and worthy of attention.

WITH A PRONOUNCED trend in industry to discharge women workers in favor of men during a depression the extent of women's invasion of commerce is interesting. The department of labor stated this week that 10,778,794 women were gainfully employed in 1930 which is a gain of 24 per cent in ten years. This change has come despite increased earnings power of males in the family. During this period men registered an only 15 per cent gain in employment. Time has proven that women are better fitted to certain industrial and business tasks than the opposite sex. There is a strong movement to bring about an equalization of wages which is a worthy objective.

WHAT'S NEW?

A ventilated creel in which fish can be kept fresh for more than 40 hours after they have been caught has been perfected by a Salt Lake City resident.

Covers made of a waterproof textile have been invented to be attached to the sides of automobile fenders to serve as mud guards.

A Swedish chemist has found that a leather suitable for banking gloves can be obtained from the intestinal membrane of whales.

A forest research institute of India has developed a method for treating native soft woods with preservatives so they can be used for railway ties.

Smoke screens have been used on some Alaskan airports to rid them of mosquitoes that sometimes swarm so thickly as to impair visibility.

A new attachment for automobile motors is said to prevent back-firing by retarding the spark until the starting equipment actually gets into action.

In Sweden, an inexpensive cash register has been developed that requires little space and enables each employee of a store to have his own register.

A chair for infants to be hung on the back of automobile seats, has been invented.

The "magic cure" clinic at Kewanee, whose operators are said to have muddled several thousands of dollars from patients, has been uncovered by J. E. Edwards, the department of registration and education. Three men, two of whom are physicians, have been arrested charged with operating a confidence game. The investigator claims "Elotossibus" was the magical and miraculous cure for all ills, and the price for curing "idiot" was $225 and infantile paralysis, $400.

Rambling with WITHERSPOON

Friends:

Our tour of central Europe is almost ended, and I believe with very happy results. A few more visits and a brief stay in Paris before sailing will complete this year's European tour.

The performances at Salzburg and Munich were interesting, if somewhat uneven from the American point of view. We heard some good voices and we heard others who were evidently engaged from a utilitarian viewpoint. I rather envy the managers here in one particular, that is that the public goes to opera performances more to hear the music than to listen to some great singer. However, there are two ways of looking at it and with our own insistence on great singing and fine artists, I believe we are doing much to maintain artistic standards, even though we have to pay for so doing.

The Bayreuth season has been very successful. Every seat was sold as far as I can hear for almost every performance and the same held good in Munich. One decided change was in the lack of foreign visitors. The hotels are not full and business is poor in all lines. The German government recently put into effect a restriction on Germans leaving their country for holidays with a charge of one hundred marks per frontier. This is preventing many Germans from going to other countries for their vacations but it has proved a double-edged sword in that the German railways have lost a great deal on their through travel. Restrictions on the amount of money that can be obtained from banks have prevented foreign visitors from spending in Germany.

In Salzburg I met Claire Dux (Mrs. Charles Swift) and we had a nice talk about operatic matters in general. She looks very well and will sing in Berlin in October.

I have also seen several of our artists, Rudolph Bockelmann, Hans Hermann Nissen, Lotte Lehmann, Rene Maison and Charles Hackett among them.

Part of my time in Europe has been taken up with world's fair musical affairs and I hope to have some definite outlines of the work shortly. Chicago should have a real festival of music during the fair and I believe it will be possible to do this in a very interesting way.

We are having an interesting visit in Berlin, which has developed enormously since my last visit here just before the war. The city, which now ranks as the third largest, gives an immediate impression of efficiency and fine management. It seems to me the cleanest city I have ever known.

Yesterday we heard twelve singers of note and several who are just beginning their careers. The American students here as well as in Italy are much discouraged and I think most of them will have to return to the States or go somewhere else as positions are few and naturally the native singers must come first.

I have engaged Jan Klepura, tenor, who brings to us a beautiful voice, very high and clear, and great dramatic talent. Other new artists will be announced in due time.

On my tour of central Europe, I have been accompanied by Weston Eggon Pollak, who has been of great assistance to me. His knowledge of local conditions and his standing in the world of music have made my days here much easier than they might have been.

I am looking forward to a brilliant season in Chicago. Novelties and revivals contemplated and new artists engaged will, I am sure, interest and intrigue the Chicago public.

Yours sincerely,
WITHERSPOON.

SIDELIGHTS

By MARCY B. DARNALL

Thackeray's line, "Nothing like blood, sir, in horses, daws and men," was refuted recently at the national eon trials in Kenton, O. A black and white animal, described as "just plain dog, unpedigreed and unheralded," was declared the roo hound champion of America over 100 entries, winning a $1,000 stake in addition to the title.

Some interesting intelligence tests of animals are reported in European scientific journals. Food was hung from the top of a chimpanzee's cage and several boxes were placed on the floor. After some meditation the chimpanzee pulled the boxes one on top of the other and then climbed up after the food. A monkey did the same stunt, but took a little more time to think it out.

Defenders of Lady Nicotine have a strong argument in the person of Mrs. Nancy Murchison, R. F. D. 1, Rockford, Ala., who at the age of 96 is described as being in perfect health, although she habitually smokes strong tobacco in a briar pipe. She is the mother of 150 children, has 64 grandchildren, 110 great-grandchildren and 6 great-great-grandchildren.

A business magazine tells of the enlightenment of a negro insurance agent, arrested for doing business without a license. The magistrate said, "Don't you know you can't sell life insurance without a license?" The darky replied, "Bess, you done said a mouthful; I knowed I couldn't sell it, but I didn't know why."

While aviators strive for greater heights, oil drillers seek ever greater depths. A well being drilled in Caddo county, Oklahoma, recently reached a depth of 9,714 feet and was still making progress into the bowels of the earth. A few years ago the idea of reaching such a depth would have been considered visionary.

One of the strangest animal freaks ever discovered is a two-headed turtle found in Florida and described by O. C. Van Hyning, curator of the Florida State Museum. The animal has two perfectly developed heads, which see, eat, drink, sleep and move independently. The animal is encased in a single shell, but has two sets of front feet, although possessing only two hind feet and one tail. One of the strangest characteristics of this turtle is that, although it has only one stomach, the two heads fight for the same morsel of food.

Air races and stunt flying are a distinct detriment to aviation, according to Jules Guilhotte in an address before an engineering society. The excessive number of fatal accidents which inevitably result from spectacular flying creates fear in the minds of the public and retards the acceptance of the airplane as a means of transportation. The fact is that among passengers in planes of regular air lines the risk is less than that of railroad travel a half century ago, when disastrous wrecks were of frequent occurrence.

Brings Third Defeat
to Local Nine

The Stanczak brothers handed the Bears their third defeat of the season Sunday by a score of 6 to 5 in ten innings in one of the most interesting games of the season. The visitors came from behind to score one run in the ninth inning to tie the score on a base on balls, an infield out, and a hit. In the tenth the brothers scored the winning run on a walk, a single, and a wild pitch while the Bears were retired in order in both innings.

Stanczak took the lead in the third inning by scoring one run and each team gained a trio of markers in the fourth inning. Barrington took the lead in the sixth and seventh innings only to be tied in the ninth and then beaten out.

McGowan was the star of the game collecting three hits, one of them a double, and fielding his position perfectly. Martin of the visitors, with a double and single, led his teammates in hitting besides making a long running catch of a fly ball hit by Garbis. The game ended the winning streak of C. Altenburg which had reached 15 games.

Poem Made Grand Pre
Grand Pre still is the name of a village in Nova Scotia on Minas Basin about 15 miles from Windsor says Pathfinder Magazine. It was a population of about 600 and is the same village made famous by Longfellow in "Evangeline."

"Grand pre" literally means great or large meadow and the village stands in the midst of a very fertile region. There is a French town named Grand Pre in the Ardennes. Sometimes the Nova Scotia Grand Pre is called Lower Horton by the English-speaking population.

in Class B

J. W. Watkins of Chicago in class A, J. M. Marsh of Chicago in class B, and Phil Walger of Park Ridge, in class C were the winners of trophies at the Hillcrest Golf club's first annual fall tournament held last Saturday.

Watkins won with handicap of 17 for a net of 70. W. Beahly also had net of 70 but with a handicap of 18, the preference going to the players with the lowest handicap. Frank Schroeder of Barrington was second low in class B and R. A. Riley was second in class C.

This was the first tournament held at Hillcrest under the auspices of A. J. Ewing. Several preliminaries to establish handicaps were held during the summer. The game was based on a minimum net of 70 with low handicap deciding ties.

There are twice as many widows as widowers, a life insurance company discovers. This doesn't mean that women live so much longer, but is accounted for by the fact that most men marry women younger than themselves. Old and middle-aged men, especially, have this peculiar habit—strange as it may seem.

The Lake Zurich Pirates closed their season's schedule Sunday with a 12 to 4 defeat at the hands of the Grayslake Merchants. The game was played at Ivanhoe with a large crowd present to see the final game.

Grayslake started a two run lead in the first stanza which the Pirates could not overtake. Grayslake brought in 10 more runs in a wild spurt in the third inning to complete their scoring.

Tonne and Lohman of the Pirates struck out seven and two, respectively, and Gerke of the Merchants struck out six.

3 RULES
big help to BOWELS

What a joy to have the bowels move like clockwork, every day! It's easy, if you mind these simple rules of a famous old doctor:

1. Drink a big tumblerful of water before breakfast, and several times a day.
2. Get plenty of outdoor exercise without unduly fatiguing yourself.
3. Try for a bowel movement at exactly the same hour every day. Everyone's bowels need help at times, but the thing to use is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You'll get a thorough cleaning out, and it won't leave your insides weak and watery. This family doctor's prescription is just fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin, and other helpful ingredients that couldn't hurt a child. But how it wakes up those lazy bowels! How good you feel with your system rid of all that poisonous waste matter.

RELIEF

From Headaches
Colds and Sore Throat
Neuritis, Neuralgia

Don't be a chronic sufferer from headaches, or any other pain. There's hardly an ache or pain Bayer Aspirin tablets can't relieve; they are a great comfort to women who suffer periodically. They are always to be relied on for breaking up colds.

It may be only a simple headache, or it may be neuralgia or neuritis, rheumatism. Bayer Aspirin is still the sensible thing to take. Just be certain it's Bayer you're taking; it does not hurt the heart. Get the genuine tablets, in this familiar package for the pocket.

Joan Crawford in 'This Modern Age' Coming to Catlow

"Chic" Sale Comedy Featured
With Sunday and Monday
Attraction

Remarkable camera work and an unusual story make "Transatlantic," the Saturday feature at the Catlow, a fascinating-mystery and adventure picture.

From the moment Monty Greer (Edmund Lowe) sneaks aboard the smart, luxurious transatlantic liner until the London bobby takes him in tow at the voyage's end, events happen with a fast, furious, glittering tempo against a background that will make most any one long to take a big boat trip to Europe.

Short subjects including a comedy and cartoon will be added to the Saturday program.

Joan Crawford will be seen at the Catlow theatre Sunday and Monday nights in her latest picture, "This Modern Age," adapted from the novel, "Girls Together." The distinguished actress, Pauline Frederick, who has not been seen on the screen in some time, together with Neil Hamilton, Maurice O'Leary, Iphigene Bosworth, Emma Dunn and Albert Conti, have important supporting roles in the production.

The comedy for the Sunday-Monday show is itself in the feature class. "Chic" Sale is the star in this comedy titled, "The County Seat," and it offers him the opportunity to put across his rube characterization. A silly symphony, news and sing complete the bill.

Barbara Stanwyck whose last picture, "Night Nurse" was such a success, will be presented as sign of "The Miracle Woman" at the Catlow Tuesday and Wednesday nights of next week. A romance with a startling climax describes "Quick Millions," which plays The Catlow theatre Thursday night of next week. Spencer Tracy and Margaretta Churchill are co-starring in the leading roles. Others prominent in the cast include Sally Eilers, Warner Richmond, and John Wray.

On Friday night, Oct. 2, the American Legion Auxiliary will present their annual home talent show on the Catlow stage. This year the production will be a musical comedy romance entitled "Rainbow of the Rio Grande."
