Many Attractions Coming to Catlow Screen Next Week

"Miss Somebody Else" to Be Presented by St. Anne's
Young People

The Saturday attraction at The Catlow theatre is without doubt one of the most unusual motion pictures ever shown in this city.

It is "East of Borneo," and for the making of the exterior scenes an expedition spent six months in the jungles of Sumatra and the Malay peninsula. The result of this trip brings to the screen a drama told in the world's most exotic setting, and the climax of the picture shows the most awe-inspiring volcanic eruption ever captured by the camera.

The cast of this great picture is headed by Rose Hobart and Charles Bickford, and also includes George Renavent, Lupita Tovar, Noble Johnson and hundreds of native Malays.

The United States Navy turned over the resources of its air station at Juchitun, N. J., for the making of "Dirigible," a spectacular production with Jack Holt and Ralph Graves co-starred and Fay Wray in the leading feminine role.

The picture, filled with thrilling air scenes enacted by the pick of the Navy's flying aces, and with striking maneuvers by the dirigible, Los Angeles, and her brood of blimps and balloons, details the drama which enters the lives of two Navy fliers portrayed by Holt and Graves. The two, fast friends, become bitter enemies, indirectly because both love the same woman—wife of the character played by Graves.

Bill Boyd, virile star of "The Big Gamble," is surrounded with the best cast of his screen career in this picture that will be the friends' Night offering at The Catlow theatre next week Tuesday.

The imposing array of supporting talent includes Dorothy Sebastian, Warner Oland, William Collier, Jr., ZaSu Pitts, James Gleason, June MacCloy, Ralph Ince and Geneva Mitchell.

Miss Sebastian, Boyd's bride of a few months, is her husband's leading woman. Oland, the crafty Oriental villain of the Fu Manchu series, demonstrates his ability at accidental wickedness in what is said to be a new type of sinister menace role. Collier, the "Kid" of "Cimarron," plays a younger brother part. Gleason and Miss Pitts again bring their inimitable talents to comedy roles, and Miss MacCloy plays a wise-cracking manicurist.

"The Big Gamble" is an adaptation of Octavus Roy Cohen's novel, "The Iron Chalice."

Wednesday night of next week, at scenes of "Dirigible," the air special which comes to The Catlow theatre Sunday and Monday nights, The Catlow theatre, the St. Anne's young people will present "Miss Somebody Else," a mystery play with comedy situations. The sixteen local young people that make up the cast have been under the able direction of Mrs. Partridge Carr for the past six weeks, and the presentation promises to rival any home talent show ever given in Barrington. The curtain will rise on this 4-act play at 8:15 p. m.

"The Sin of Madelon Claudet," which proved an outstanding loop success recently comes to The Catlow theatre Thursday and Friday nights of next week.

Helen Hayes, a name known favorably on Broadway, now becomes a name for every screen fan to sing enthusiastically about, for her work in this picture has made her a national star.

"The Sin of Madelon Claudet" is the sin a mother commits because of love for her son. Circumstances trapped her, convicted her and then forced her outside the pole of society. Her efforts to rear her son and at the same time spare him the shame of her life, is the theme of a story so human, so pitiful and touching that the drama of these two lives develop into powerful and all-absorbing interest as portrayed on the screen.

Lewis Stone and Neil Hamilton are costarred with Miss Hayes, while Cliff Edwards and Marie Prevost, as a newly married couple who are constantly at each other's throats, provide many of the laughs in the picture. The eventual reunion of mother and son provides an engrossing and stirring climax to the story.

3 STEPS TO FUEL SAVING

Saving coal and at the same time having a more comfortable home is easy if you follow these 3 simple steps:

1. Get the proper coal
2. Burn it to secure maximum heat
3. Retain the heat in the house

We'll be glad to call at your home to explain in detail and to show you how to get more heat from less fuel.

Wonderful, but isn't it expensive? Perhaps that is your first thought when we tell you that the Basmor gas fired automatic boiler supplies just the right degree of heat all winter long without tending, and is ashless, smokeless, dustless, odorless.

The fact is that, installed in your home, apartment house, or business building, it is very likely to save you money. The first cost is reasonable and the installation is simple. It uses only the fuel needed and wastes none. It does away with much cleaning of wallpaper, draperies, and decorations. It saves time. It adds property value by modernizing your house. And eliminating bins, tanks, ash cans, and shovels, it leaves the basement as trim and spotless as a Dutch housewife's kitchen. A splendid playroom for children or recreation of work room for husband.

Supplied by Crane Co., the Basmor gas fired Boiler is backed by a 74 year reputation. Let us tell you all about it.

GAS is CHEAPER

Heat with it THIS winter!

In most cases, your present furnace or boiler can be converted to gas simply by having a gas-burner installed in the firebox. This can be done in the middle of the heating season without serious inconvenience to you. And then an automatic temperature control will take complete charge of your heating system. You can enjoy a long (and well-earned) vacation from heating worries.

Pay for your fuel AFTER you use it.

BARRINGTON REVIEW

Gifts for the First Baby Born in December, 1931

The next four months are going to be lucky for new born babies in the Barrington district. Every business man whose name is listed in this page of advertisements is going to make a gift to the first boy or girl born in each of these months. Official records at the village clerk's office, where the birth should be reported and recorded, will decide the "lucky" baby. Any baby is eligible if the parents reside in Barrington, Lake Zurich, Fox River Grove or within Barrington and Cuba townships or within Elia township south and west of Gilmers, or within Palatine township west of the village of Palatine. All babies within the district can and should be registered with the Barrington village clerk to be eligible. Will it be a boy or a girl? That makes no difference. The new arrival will receive a substantial welcome in the form of the many gifts described on this page. A similar page of this kind will appear prior to each of the next four months.

Entertain Cast of "The Patsy"

Mr. and Mrs. Norman T. Maxon entertained the Juniors who participated in the class play, "The Patsy," at their home, 125 E. Hillside avenue immediately after their performance Friday evening as a form of appreciation for the wonderful way in which these young people unstinted and presented their parts throughout the entire performance. Great credit is due Miss Ethel Schwab for the tireless effort and the remarkable results she accomplished with this cast, every part of which was well studied, even to the fine points of stage make-up.

A good old fashioned log fire with music created an atmosphere and restful feeling that these young people responded to and not only are they good at acting, but under the spell, could sing just as well. A light luncheon was served on their departure.

Barrington Woman's Club

"Ellen Terry and Bernard Shaw—A Correspondence" was the book presented last Thursday at the November meeting of the study class of the Woman's club. The reviewer was Mrs. Gilbert Hardacre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Schwenn of 113 W. Main street, a young woman of ability and poise. Her handling of the book was delightfully straightforward and sincere as well as humorous, and was appreciatively received by the large group of women present.

Mrs. Hardacre said at the start that to discuss all of the various themes in the letters would be to discuss on the intimate details of the London stage of the day, the gossip and problems of the theatre, the characteristics of the actors and playwrights and directors, their petty quarrels and jealousies, and would take a great deal more time than one afternoon afforded. So she chose to read those letters or parts of letters which disclosed the characters and personalities of the two people writing them—the wit of Shaw; the charm of Ellen. Every listener came away with a better understanding of George Bernard Shaw's human qualities, an admiration for Miss Terry's sweet and generous spirit, and a keen desire to read all of this clever and unusual record of the love of these two.

Their correspondence—Shaw, a music critic and later a famous playwright and Ellen Terry, the greatest actress of her time—began as a business proposition. Miss Terry, always interested in rising young artists, had sent a letter to the editor of the World regarding a singer friend of hers. It was turned over to George Bernard Shaw who at the time was music critic for that paper for answering. His detailed analysis of the technique and person of the musician brought forth an appreciative note from the actress. And so was started a correspondence which, beginning in 1892, lasted for 30 years and which was carried on first as friend to friend and later as lover to lover for 5 years before either of the participants had seen the other and while they lived only 20 minutes from each other in London.

A quiet and pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Paul church when Miss Laura Mire became the bride of Raymond Towns. The bridal party left the church as Miss Martens played the Mendelssohn wedding march and went immediately to the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Thies, 219 S. Cook street where a wedding dinner awaited them.

The letters have been arranged by Christopher St. John, a young woman who is an intimate friend of Ellen Terry's daughter. Her remarks are sympathetic but unbiased. Bernard Shaw himself has written a 21 page preface to the book in which he tells of his strange and beautiful love for Miss Terry. He closes his preface with these words: "Let those who may complain that it is all on paper remember that on paper has humanity yet achieved glory, beauty, truth, knowledge, virtue and abiding love."

A very fine concert has been arranged by the finance committee of the club for the evening of Tuesday, December 8. It will take place in the high school auditorium and will be played by an orchestra of 85 pieces—the combined orchestras of Crystal Lake, Dundee and Barrington. Walter Sears will be the director. Proceeds of the concert will be turned over to the school welfare committee for use in establishing the girl scout troop.

Over 250 children of the public school visited the library during National Book Week.

Women of the club who have heard him say that he is a most engaging speaker, a man whose brilliant mind and keen sense of humor make him irresistible to his audience. This will be a meeting which you and any guests you may bring will thoroughly enjoy.

Positive Proof of FORD ECONOMY

City of Detroit purchases 137 new Ford cars. Hundreds now in use prove low cost of operation

THESE 137 new Ford cars represent one of the largest deliveries ever made to a municipality at one time.

21 radio-equipped Ford scout cars were traded in on this purchase. They had been operated day and night for two years in heavy traffic and all kinds of weather.

Their individual records ranged from 78,434 miles to 143,723 miles with a grand total of 2,283,097 miles. The operating cost of the 21 cars was 2.284 cents a mile—less than 2 1/3 cents. This cost included all fuel, oil, tires, repairs and every other item except depreciation and insurance.

Of 577 Ford cars in Detroit City service, the 300 in the Police Department traveled a total of 6,591,937 miles during the past fiscal year, at an average cost of 2.9 cents a mile.

Many claims have been made on operating costs, but here in the carefully kept motor car records of the City of Detroit is positive proof of Ford economy.

In the paragraphs above, it is seen that 21 Ford scout cars averaged less than 2 1/3 cents a mile and 300 Ford cars in all branches of Detroit police work averaged 2.9 cents a mile!

Day and night, twenty-four hours a day, these Ford cars are in operation. Few branches of transportation demand such grueling service. The records show that low fuel and oil consumption is but one of the Ford's many economic. Ford materials, simplicity of design and accuracy in manufacturing provide unusual strength, stamina and freedom from replacements and repairs.

The individual car buyer as well as the purchasing department of a city or a business cannot afford to ignore the proved economy of the Ford car.

school buildings in the rural and village system, are modern throughout, according to a report by W. C. Petty, county superintendent, on the results of a questionnaire he sent to directors
a few weeks ago. Seventy of the 82 schools reported having made some repairs and improvements during the past year.

The survey disclosed that nearly all buildings are modern throughout, with 47 having drinking fountains, all but two having oil burners, and 50 wired for electric current.

There are 88 buildings with basements, two of these being too small,
according to Petty, and one unin-fished.

Lake County Radio Station Ceases Operation

A Lake county radio station, Station
WCHI, located on Waukegan road, just south of the intersection of Half Day road, discontinued broadcasting Friday morning at 3 o'clock by order of the Federal Radio Commission.

Efforts to procure a stay of execution in federal court by Station WCHI proved futile. The station was licensed originally by William Hale Thompson and known until two years ago as Station WHT. Thompson disposed of his interest in the station
when the radio commission cut the power and showed the broadcasting band to a more crowded section.

The facilities of the station are allocated to station WCKY at Covington, Kentucky.

Thieves Net More Than $6,000 Loot in Two Jobs

Thieves netted burglars more than $6,000 loot, consisting of household goods, cigars, cigarettes, pipes
and other valuables at Waukegan and Liberty street Friday and Saturday.

The loot was gained entrance into the house at Waukegan, early Saturday morning by forcing a rear door. The door was opened by the burglars after they had bored a hole and removed the bars.

When Kevin arrived in the store
he found his counters and shelves cleared of cigars, cigarettes, pipes and other goods valued at $1,000.

Deputy Sheriff John Froelich, investigating, discovered some footprints and automobile tire marks near the rear door.

It is believed that at least two persons figured in the burglary and that they piled their loot in the automobile.

Three expensive rugs, a shotgun, linen and silverware worth more than $5,000 were stolen from the summer home of James E. Nielsen of River-Forest, at Buena Vista near Liberty-ville, Friday morning.

The prowlers had gained entrance
by breaking a glass window of a front door and then unlatching the door.

C. J. Peterson, caretaker of the home, and a watch dog were undermined when the burglary occurred.
The theft was discovered in the afternoon when Peterson was making the rounds.

Village Board Orders Health Inspector to Pass on Milk Plants

All dairies selling and delivering inspected by the village sanitation officer and operate under permit, the board of trustees decided at a semi-ing, following application of C. J.

Ruffing, owner of a small dairy to establish and conduct a route in the village. Mr. Ruffing stated that he probably will not have more than 30
quarts of milk daily for distribution.

The board ordered an inspection of the dairy prior to issuing a permit.
There are routes in Barrington con-

Pet Monkey With Fire Complex Starts Blazes

Having started one fire last week in his mistress' kitchen when he dropped blazing towels on the floor,
the pet monkey of Mrs. Celler, who lives near Libertyville, attempted to fire
the house, again Thursday, by dropping brands of fire on a pile of newspapers. The blaze was discovered by Mrs. Celler before any damage was incurred.

The monkey, one of a trio kept on the farm as a nucleus to a troop of simians, was chastized severely for his actions, and again put into his cage.
The animals are kept at the farm after importation from Germany, until they are sold to admirers. The monk-allowed the freedom of the premises at frequent intervals. This monkey immediately hies himself to the vicinity of the wood stove in the kitchen whenever he is released.

CLIMATE AND CLOVER

Thus far, throughout most of the United States, the advent of Winter has been so gradual that old folks are wondering if we are going to have a repetition of the warm winter of 1876-77, when people died of sunstroke in New England in January. If the winter does turn out to be a mild one, the 1933 crop of red clover will be a poor one.

That is one of the observations made by Charles Darwin, the founder of modern scientific research, nearly a hundred years ago. In a cold, snowy winter, he pointed out, the field mice starve and freeze to death by millions. The principal delicacy in the field mouse's diet is the honey in bumble-bee nests. After an open winter the field mice raid the bumble-bee's quarters and destroy the young bees as well as the honey. And that results in a poor crop of red clover the following year, because red clover is cross-fertilized only by the transmission of pollen from the male flower to the female by the bumble-bees. With few bumble-bees, only part of the clover is pollinated. The unpollinated clover fails to germinate, and the next year there is no red clover crop to speak of.

Farmers for centuries had known that poor red clover crops came in the year following an open winter, but didn't know why until Darwin explained it. Now they can protect themselves by sowing fresh clover seed in the year when the field mice are scarce. And the farmers who take the pains to learn that and other facts made available by scientific research are the ones who prosper, while those who are content to go along in the way their grandfathers went are the ones whose sons leave the farm for the city because "there isn't any chance to make a living by farming."

FINANCING THE AMERICAN HOME

The plan for the future financing of home and farm mortgages on a national scale, which has come out of the conferences called by the President, ought to give a great impetus to the building industry and provide employment for millions in the building trades. It has the merit of not displacing any of the existing agencies, such as banks, building associations and the like, which make it their business to provide mortgage funds, but of enabling those institutions, by rediscounting their mortgages, to make additional loans and so put more money into circulation.

There is no question about the need for more money for building purposes, in almost every part of the country. The natural growth of population and the destruction of buildings by fire, tornadoes and natural decay, makes it necessary to add about 2 1/2 per cent a year to the number of buildings for home and other purposes, if we are not to be overcrowded. For the past few years we have not been building anywhere near the right proportion of new structures, so that there is a large "backlog" to be taken up. And the only reason why the building program of the nation has been suspended is that the usual sources of building loans have been unable to supply more funds for building purposes.

Under the program just announced at Washington, there will be organized a series of mortgage banks, one in each Federal Reserve District, which will lend their funds to local mortgage institutions as fast as the demand for money for building purposes develops. It will take time, of course, to get these banks organized, but assurances are said to have been given that their capital will be quickly subscribed, and in the course of a few months we may see a real revival of building activity in progress all over the country. And that will go a long way toward bringing real prosperity back.

The Way of Life

By BRUCE HARTON

HE NEVER MADE MISTAKES

The head of a large Philadelphia company decided to open a New England branch. Looking through his organization, he selected a prudent, industrious young man. "I am thinking of appointing you our New England manager with headquarters in Boston," he said.

The young man received the news gravely. "I believe it will be a wise move, sir," he answered. "I never make mistakes."

"Never make mistakes?" the boss repeated incredulously. "My, my, then I couldn't think of appointing you. Just imagine how I should feel, having a man in Boston who never make mistakes, when I am down here in Philadelphia making them every day."

The young man was not sent to Boston. He lived out his business days in an obscure position, minus errors and minus hits.

One of the most interesting men of my acquaintance has been wrong about forty per cent of the time. I can look back over his career and point out a dozen different points where he took one stand and subsequently had to revise it.

Why then has he stayed on top? First, I think, because he is absolutely truthful. What he sometimes imagines to be the truth turns out later to be an error, but he never consciously hedges for anything or anybody.

Second, he is always trying. Roll him in the dust, and he is up in a minute and starting forward again. Lay something before him which you think is pretty good, and he instinctively reaches for a pencil and begins to try to improve it. Let him accomplish an objective, and immediately he has set his eyes on another point further ahead.

Finally, he never wastes any time in regretting the past. "Regret," said some one, "takes as much out of you as a prolonged drunk."

This man has been an encouragement to me. So have the words of Stevenson, who exclaimed, "God give us young men who have the courage to make fools of themselves."

I figure that I am entitled to one major mistake a week. This is my quota. As long as I keep within it I feel all right.

And frequently I run over.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

By National Editorial Association (Special to The Review)

SHADOWS OF PRESIDENTIAL

candidates dominate the organization

tactics of congress which convenes within a fortnight. The political managers are confusing even to the participants. Unless the cards are shuffled at the last minute the democrats will control the house of representatives. The question uppermost in the minds of trained observers is

"at what price?" Will the northern and western democrats leave their southern brethren in command of 31

important committees in exchange for their support for northern democratic presidential candidates in 1932? Obviously there are bigger and better

stakes in the political pot than come from the control of the house at the beginning of a presidential election

year.

NEITHER republican nor democratic faction leaders can agree on strategy. Some G. O. P. counsellors suggest that the house should go to the opposition without a struggle as to numerical strength. Those in the front rank for high honors are unwilling to forego their bid for passing fame. The same human factors—the call of ambition and opportunity—hamper the democrats. A group of democratic strategists argue that to take control of only one branch now

would be building on a sandy foundation. A heavy jolt or an unpopular party policy, it is claimed, would put the skids under their plans for political ascendancy and capture of the presidency next year. Practical minds cede the democratic policy of caution

is well-founded. Their reasoning is clear. As an actively aggressive minority the democrats would have a marked advantage at the next session. They could shoot with deadly effect at the vulnerable point of the party in power and capitalize on public sentiment now considered by neutrals as unfavorable to the republicans. A larger profit would come by waiting, but the democrats admit that they may have to adopt the child laid on the doorstep at recent congressional elections.

JOCKEYING FOR POSITION

requires patience and skill. If a deal can be made effective by giving northern democrats control of legislation the reward for the sacrifice may be bestowed at the presidential nominating convention in June. There is a strong trend toward abolition of the two-thirds rule which is required for a candidate to muster this vote to win the nomination. The long drawn battling of the 1924 gathering brought nothing but dissension and defeat. The advocates of revision of provisions feel that a change will promote harmony within the party ranks.

A majority plan would probably give northern democrats more voice in selecting candidates.

THE SLENDER THREAD

which will hold each party's control over legislation may make it difficult for the administration to suggest a tax revision program. The condition of the treasury shows an imperative need for more revenue. The problem lies in the method of assessments.

Tax increases in an election year are provocative of fear of political consequence. Tax receipts have decreased

40 per cent. Secretary of War Hurley

in an eulogistic speech recently commented that "nearly all of the deficit

was created by measures vetoed by the president and passed over his veto

by congress." The cabinet officer predicted more raids on the treasury and similar vetoes.

FLOCKS OF BILLS

dealing with

taxation will be dumped into the legislative hopper within a few days.

Whatever emerges from the committees will be a patch-work plan. Business groups fighting proposals of a sales tax have recommended that the temporary solution will be found in borrowing through bond issues. These short term treasury certificates of indebtedness would, it is asserted, make available money for immediate needs.

Those opposed to advancing tax rates

argue that tax boosts would be retroactive for the calendar year of 1931 which would complicate business matters and bring a small return because of the economic depression. According to advocates of government

borrowing instead of assessing the people, collections under a new tax law could not reach the treasury until March 1933. There are a few willing to accept a luxury tax as a last resort, but rebel at definitions as to which constitutes a "luxury." It all depends on "who is gored," and who pays the freight on government machinery.

"Some" Coins

Some people do not care to receive one of our rapidly vanishing

5 shilling pieces on the ground that they are far too heavy and cumbersome for modern purses or pockets. What would they think about the $4 "coin" issued by Frederick of Hesse-Cassel 200 years ago? This pleasant little survival

from 1731 was made of copper,

was worth about 12 shillings and weighed (and still weighs) six and a half English pounds.

That would have been the right

How to play Bridge AUCTION and CONTRACT

by Wynne Ferguson
Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

ARTICLE No. 4

AUCTION BIDDING:
His partner dealt and passed, second hand passed and he bid one spade. When his partner overbid with two clubs, he correctly bid two diamonds. His partner bid three clubs and he bid four diamonds. This bid is doubtful but, when his partner bid four clubs, he should certainly have passed. He never stopped to realize that such bidding by his partner indicated a most unusual hand, one of the freak type, and that his high cards in three suits would be of great help to his partner and that his partner's clubs would be of little value to him. If he should obtain the bid at diamonds or spades. In spite of all these cogent reasons, however, he bid four diamonds and all passed. His partner's hand was as follows:
Hearts—8
Clubs—A, Q, J, 10, 9, 7, 5, 4, 2
Diamonds—3
Spades—3
At clubs, they could have made five tricks, losing only one club and one diamond. If they had lost the club, they would have lost two tricks. It is a fine example of what not to do. Play for the game, first, last and all the time, whether the hand is played by yourself or your partner. Always be willing to concede the bid to your partner when the bidding indicates that he has a freak hand. In the hand just considered, the dealer could have saved a lot of trouble by making an original bid of five clubs. It is a perfect example of the pre-emptive or shut-out bid. If the bid fails, it will certainly save game, so that in either event it is a winner.

CONTRACT BIDDING:
Pass, pass, one spade, pass. Five clubs and all should pass. An original bid of five clubs with the above hand is bad because partner will complete the pass in the first instance, but then bid the full strength of your hand on the second round.
As a contrast to his bad bidding, the dealer whose bids have just been analyzed played the following hand very cleverly:
Hearts—K, Q, 7, 6
Clubs—A, 10, 4, 2
Diamonds—K, Q, 9, 3
Spades—A, 6, 4
Hearts—8, 2
Clubs—A, 10, 9, 7, 5, 4, 2
Diamonds—K, Q, J, 10, 7, 2
Spades—K, Q, 10
Hearts—A, J, 10, 9
Clubs—K, 9, 6
Diamonds—A, 8, 5
Spades—J, 9, 3
who thereupon led two more rounds of clubs. B was now forced to make another discard. He could have discarded either a spade or diamond. If he discarded a spade, he would discard the former. Z would discard a diamond and make three diamond tricks. If he discarded a diamond, he would discard the latter. Z would discard a spade and make three diamond tricks. It is a perfect example of the "squeeze" play. Study the play of this hand carefully, for it was cleverly thought out. It is very unusual to win a game by leading your opponent's suit.

Wood Carving
The Third International Exhibition of Wood Carving and Wood Engraving will be held at the Art Institute on the days of Dec. 3 and 4, and continue until Jan. 4, 1932. There will be three lectures given. The Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Logan prizes of $100 (with bronze medals $75 and $50); the Walter S. Brown prizes of $50 for the best wood carving and $50 for the best wood engraving will again be given.

Wants Wage Reserve
Senator Wagner of New York, said today in a radio address Nov. 20 that he will recommend in the next Congress a bill to provide for a nation-wide system of employment offices. He will recommend a measure to guarantee the wages of temporarily unemployed workers, he said.

Gulf Winds Cause Warmth
Continued warm weather over the eastern half of the country has set high temperature records so late in the season at many cities, temperatures ranging as much as 20 degrees above normal in some sections, according to information made available Nov. 20 at the Weather Bureau Department of Agriculture. Generally speaking, the record was set during the warm winds from the region of the Gulf of Mexico are responsible. It was stated orally at the Bureau. With the advent of colder weather in the middle West, however, it is not expected that the abnormal warmth will continue much longer in the East.

In a closed conference called by the Illinois Agricultural Association, approximately 300 County Farm Bureau leaders from more than 90 Illinois counties recently met in Springfield to consider revenue legislation which will probably come up when the legislature meets in special session, to discuss possibilities for more favorable conditions to relieve distressed farmers and to adopt plans for raising current price levels of farm commodities, particularly corn.

Tyrian Purple
Tyrian purple, which is really a deep crimson, was the most famous of all dyed colors known to ancients. According to a legend, this color was discovered near Tyre in Phoenicia when a man named Heracles saw his dog bite into a shellfish and stain his mouth. At any rate, the ancients ascribed the discovery of purple to the Phoenicians, and it was probably the first dyed color to be fixed on wool and linen.

Sophomores Win G. A. A. Volleyball Tournament
The final G. A. A. volleyball tournament was held last Tuesday at 3:30 in the E. H. S. gymnasium. The last game played for consolation between the Juniors and Seniors ended with a score of 27 to 19 in favor of the former. The Freshman-Sophomore game was hot to the finish with a score of 14 to 41 in favor of the Sophomores.

The girls' mothers were the special guests of the afternoon. After two very exciting games, refreshments were served.

Roll of Saints Keeping Watch Over "Poor Jack"

Saluting the quarterdeck, which consists of touching the cap as the officer or man steps on deck from the gangway or from below, is but a continuance of the act of homage of the medieval seaman to the Virgin and the saints. Their images were enshrined in the stern or poop, and toward them salutations were directed. To this day mariners trust to their aid in times of peril and to them make their vows and votive offerings. The Virgin is the patron of innumerable seaside shrines and temples, of which Notre Dame de la Garde at Marseilles and Notre Dame des Neiges at Le Havre come readily to mind. St. Anthony, who preached to fishes and who specially guarded sailors when ashore; St. Christopher, who once rowed in a boat with Christ; and St. Nicholas, whose favors and intercessions for seamen were as frequent and efficacious in the Aegean as in the Baltic, were pre-eminently the chief maritime saints, but St. Peter, St. Clement, St. James, St. Mark and many others, as having shown special favors at sea, are invoked by sailors when in stress and danger.

The Saints Calendar of the early navigators was a long one, replacing by easy transitions the pagan gods of antiquity—Neptune, Amphitrite, Venus, Astarte, Odin, Freya and many lesser tutelary and household deities—Philadelphia Ledger.

POISON in Your bowels!

Poisons absorbed into the system from souring waste in the bowels, cause that dull, headachy, sluggish, bilious condition; coat the tongue; foul the breath; sap energy, strength and nerve-force. A little of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will clear up trouble like that, gently, harmlessly, in a hurry. The difference it will make in your feelings over night will prove its merit to you.

Dr. Caldwell studied constipation for over forty-seven years. This long experience enabled him to make his prescription just what men, women, old people and children need to make their bowels help themselves. Its natural, mild, thorough action and its pleasant taste command it to everyone. That's why "Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin," as it is called, is the most popular laxative drugstore sell.

L. O. O. F. Honors Four Members of November Birth

Harry Askew, 79, Is Oldest Member of Local Lodge

The regular meeting of the L. O. O. F. Thursday night took the form of a joint birthday party for four of its members whose birthday anniversaries fell in November. The honored members were C. H. Miller, J. C. Cadwallader, E. W. Baade and Harry Askew.

Mr. Askew claims the record of being the oldest member of the Barrington lodge, his seventy-ninth birthday anniversary being November 27. Mr. Miller's birthday also falls on the same day. Mr. Cadwallader's birthday is November 25 and Mr. Baade's was November 8.

The evening was spent socially. The honored members responded to the occasion with appropriate talks.

War Vets at Hospitals Appreciate Auxiliary Visits, Members Told

Visits and cigarettes are the two things disabled and hospitalized war veterans appreciate most from Auxiliary women, Mrs. T. A. Rogers, past president of the Cook county council, told members of the organization at the Ninth district meeting held in Mount Prospect Thursday evening.

The organization has worked to relieve and cheer the men in hospitals almost since the time it was organized. Personal visits by the women are appreciated, Mrs. Rogers said.

Approximately 150 women were present at the meeting in Mount Prospect. The number in attendance is encouraged by the award each year of a $5 gold piece to the unit having the best attendance during the preceding year. The Edison Park unit of Chicago was awarded the donation at the meeting Thursday night.

The following members of the Barrington unit were present at the meeting: Mrs. George Whitcomb, Mrs. G. H. Kuhlman, Mrs. John Frey, Mrs. Sanford Riecke, and Miss Luella Haeger.

No Lions Club Play Is Planned for This Year

Barrington Lions club will not produce a play this year, as they have in past years, the members decided at the regular dinner Monday evening. Home talent plays are benefit performances given to raise money for some particular charity fund or for some specific aid. All Lions activities this year are taken care of, the club decided.

Mr. Gottlieb, of the Universal Producing Co., appeared before the club Monday night and outlined the plan on which the company will work this year. The Universal was the company which cooperated with the Lions club in its production, "The College Flapper," last spring.

The streets improvement committee of the Lions club, made a report through the chairman, Paul Pohlman, to the effect that work had been done to have the power line poles removed from the business streets. Several difficulties have been encountered which Mr. Pohlman believed can be ironed out.

Tee and Bee Closes; Tailor Shop to Open

Announcement of the retirement from business of Mrs. Louis Thacher, proprietor of the Tee and Bee Millinery store, and of the establishment of a tailoring shop in the building formerly occupied by the Tee and Bee Hat Shop has been made this week.

Mrs. Thacher has been in business in Barrington for several years, and has conducted a millinery store well known to women of the Barrington vicinity.

Frank Buchta, merchant tailor, will open a cleaning, pressing and tailoring shop next Monday. An announcement of this is published on page 2 of this issue of The Review.

Elephants Are Clannish

One of the remarkable features of life on the African veldt is the clannish family existence of elephants. The crush of a heavy rifle report of a hunter will cause a whole herd to flee, but if one is wounded and trumps justly, two or more from the herd will come to its assistance. If the wounded one is down the others will try to lift it with their tusks. If it has a broken shoulder which prevents walking, two of its companions will support it on one each side. If the hunter follows the first bullet with a second, killing one, the rest of the herd will instinctively run to cover.

Unfriendly Wish

The two young men were walking along the road when one of them stopped and clutched at his companion's arm.

"I say, George," he said, "I thought you were a friend of Hutton. He's just passed you by without saying a word."

"We're not friends any longer," George replied. "The last time he went abroad he sent me a postcard. On the back were the words 'Wish you were here.'"

"But I don't quite see—" interrupted his friend.

"No, well, it was a postcard of a foreign prison," London answered.

Predict Big Pow Poles Will Be Streets Jan. 1

Lions Club Committee R
Progress in Alley
nection Plans

All the old unsightly poles will be removed from the streets of Barrington by Jan. 1, 1932. P. H. Pohlman, chairman of the Lions Club pole committee, Wednesday afternoon, said that the work will be done one street at a time. The down town retaining system of power line poles removed after it will be removed from other parts of the town.

According to present plans poles to be removed will be along Main street from Hough street to Station street, and along Cook street from Main street to Station street. The improvements along Main street, Hough street, Franklin street, Cook street, and Station street northeast of the railroad will be taken care of later.

May Need Tunnel

One of the obstacles encountered in removing all service connections from the front of stores is in the northeast side of the street. The committee is investigating the feasibility of carrying the lines through a tunnel under the street.

Part of the expense in making changes will be taken care of by Public Service Co. and the power company owners. The latter for the change of service from the front of their buildings, while the service will remove the poles and lines where necessary, at the expense of the buildings.

The request is based on the fact that government records at Zurich and similar bodies of water.

The request is part of the suit brought by State and A. V. Smith to have the land public property. This is similar to that filed when asked for a permanent injunction to restrain those holding lake bed from interfering with the public.

Shop Early, Santa Claus

Santa Claus has agreed to visit Barrington for the next few weeks and he will depend entirely upon the cooperation of the people and post office to get him to this job done. The post office will in turn depend upon the cooperation of the people to get the job done promptly.

There is no set date for his visit, but he is fairly definite in his mind, and in order to get his gifts ready for the morning, he is asking that they be sent in as early as possible.

A mailing schedule is being prepared by the post office to insure delivery of Christmas cards before Dec. 25. A number of the dates for the latest ones on which they will be sent will be given to the recipients before Christmas. A mailing schedule will help relieve the holiday post office in the city.
