Electrolysis Is The Answer

Anyone who is interested in good grooming and an attractive appearance is likely to read about electrolysis. It is the only method which will remove your unwanted hair permanently, and it is not a new technique. Successful results have been reported and discussed favorably in the medical journals since 1875, more than a century ago.

Nowadays thousands of women make appointments every week with their electrologists, but very few openly tell their friends or relatives about the positive results. Most people are too embarrassed to mention facial or body hairs, and so the facts about permanent removal must often be learned from responsible beauty editors or medical columnists.

Fortunately, there is a skilled electrologist at Clear Reflections in the Barrington Commons who can remove those telltale hairs quickly and conveniently in the privacy of a professional office.

Now past its 100th anniversary, electrolysis is a boon to mankind which goes on making converts every day. The reason is obvious—success and permanence make an unbeatable combination.

Take away those unwanted hairs and what you have left is confidence in your own charm and attractive appearance. Phone Clear Reflections at 381-9020 for your appointment.

Clear Reflections has provided 20 years of service at the same location.

Editor's Ink

March, 1996

Dear Reader,

Happy Spring! And you thought it would never get here.

Attending Worlds Seen and Imagined: Japanese Screens from The Idemitsu Museum of Arts would be a wonderful spring outing. Learn about the sublime art of Japanese screen painting. This collection, shown at the Chicago Art Institute, presents 57 of these rare objects from the museum in Tokyo. Because of the screens' size and fragility please note that the exhibition will be shown in two parts. See the news article in this issue of Lifestyles for details. The Japanese folding screen (byōbu) served as decorations, room dividers, space enclosures and performance settings. The Chinese prototypes date back to the Han dynasty (206 B.C.-220 A.D.)

With Lent upon us, we can easily reflect back to Mardi Gras... the Catholic Charities Mardi Gras, that is. The gala event netted over $74,000 to benefit the homeless in transition. Mr. Richard L. Duchossois, chairman of Arlington International Racecourse, served as honorary chairman, and Bishop Edwin M. Conway, D.D., Auxiliary Bishop of Chicago, Archdiocese of Chicago, was honored guest. The event was a fine example of people helping people with love and care.

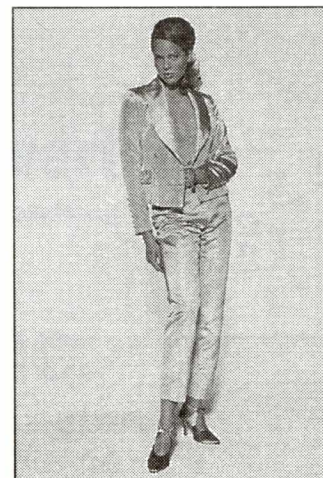

Until next time, may all your thoughts be sunny.

With warm regards,
Glenn McMonigal
Editor, Lifestyles Magazines

Tickets Available For "Starstruck," BJWC's Spring Fashion Show

Co-chairs of "Starstruck" Andrea Spett and Jan Sheppard review the Fashion Show program.

A celestial afternoon is on the horizon as the Barrington Junior Women's Club presents "Starstruck," its ninth annual Spring Fashion Show and silent auction scheduled for April 20th. Tickets at $35 are now on sale for this heavenly event, to be held at The Cotillion Banquets in Palatine. Silent auction and cash bar begin at 11 a.m., and lunch served at noon. With past year's shows early sellouts, cosmic forces encourage you to purchase seats now to be part of over 600 stylish stargazers on this popular day. Information and reservations for tables or individual seats can be made by calling the hotline at (847) 734-5296.

The sky's the limit on creativity and talent, with ZZAZZ productions orchestrating a highly polished, uniquely choreographed montage of spring styles. Energetic music, professional models, and fashions by trend setting area retail stores promise the best entertainment under the sun. Barrington's Peter Daniel and Jump Street Children's Clothing are just a few of the retailers.

Chairwomen Jan Sheppard of Barrington Hills and Andrea Splett of South Barrington are the enthusiastic chairpersons for this "sky high" fundraiser, with very down-to-earth goals. As Andrea puts it, "It's gratifying to know that one afternoon of entertainment can go so far to help so many different members of the community." According to Jan, last year's Fashion Show proceeds and other BJWC events provided two scholarships and substantial grants to over twenty five charitable nonprofit organizations. "It's a tribute to attendees and many businesses who provide donations."

The silent auction will leave any bargain hunter starry-eyed. Over 100 items are expected at "Starstruck," with an Emmy-winning script from the hit show "NYPD Blues," signed by the entire cast, one of the most unusual. Of course there will be collectibles, trips, dinners, and get-aways, including a Walter Payton signed football, and a weekend at Hotel Sofitel, a Galena Getaway and an American Airlines trip. M.J. Miller has donated an exquisite ring, and Walter E. Smithe—a custom chair. For the practical minded, Town and Country Painters has donated two full days of customer work, including paint. Nordstrom's has generously underwritten a portion of the custom runway.

With its celestial proportions, "Starstruck" is fortunate to have its own committee of stars including Margaret Aslakson, Cheryl Bean, Kelly Domiano, Julie Duval, Holly Free, Ellen Groh, Erin Kelly, Ann Miller-Lulik, Vickie Perile, Joann Robbins, Karen Roepken, Holly Russo, Cathy Schwartz, Pam Zwieg, and Barb Vollmers of Barrington, Angie Wallin and Nancy Burke of Barrington Hills, Candy Bryan of Lake Barrington, Angela Zokos of Inverness, Karen Hamilton of Fox River Grove, Lisa Kaiser of Hoffman Estates, and Marjorie Saffold of Niles.

The Infant Welfare Society Of Chicago To "Celebrate The Magic" At Formal Dinner Dance Fund-Raiser Saturday, March 9

The Infant Welfare Society of Chicago will mark its 85th anniversary of providing health care to the city's disadvantaged women and children with "Celebrate the Magic," a formal evening of dinner, dancing and entertainment Saturday, March 9, 1996, at the Hyatt Regency Chicago.

Lynne (Mrs. Paul) Harvey and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walgreen are the Honorary Chairs of the benefit. The distinguished members of the honorary committee include Mayor Richard Daley and his wife Maggie, Governor Jim Edgar and his wife Brenda, Congressman Luis Gutierrez and his wife Soriada, and Representative Edgar Lopez and his wife Lillibeth.

The evening will be truly magical with the mystifying illusions of Bob Higa and music provided by the Dick Judson Orchestra. Fred Winston, new morning deejay on 100.3 FM, will serve as emcee and Leslie

It's Original Artistry... It's Wearable... It's An Incredible BAAC Fashion Show Fund-Raiser

Just one example of the "wearable" fashion artistry that will be showcased at BAAC's April 17 "Arts in Motion" Luncheon and Fashion Show at the Barrington Hills Country Club. A quilted coat by artist, Jean Van Koughnett, is pictured.

When art and fashion meet on the catwalk, the very best, most creative and unusual forces join to tantalize our every fashion whim. These are the forces behind BAAC's April 17 "Arts in Motion" luncheon and Fashion Show. It's definitely not going to be "just another" Spring fashion show either, according to Mary Smithe, Co-chair for the fund-raising event. "This is going to be more than just fashion—we're going to showcase absolutely beautiful, unique pieces of "wearable art." The one-of-a-kind works of about 20 artists from all over the United States will be featured in the Show along with the original works of local artists and selected Barrington retailers.

"It's so exciting because so many examples of beautiful 'fiber art' clothing will be featured as will purses, jewelry, hats and other fashion accessories. And, many of the items will be available for sale at the Show, even though we're also going to have a Silent Auction," said Smithe. Generously donated prizes will include two round-trip United Airlines tickets for anywhere in the domestic United States, a $250 Gift Certificate from Barrington's Peter Daniel Apparel Shop, and a full "Spa Day" with lunch at Barrington's Ben E. Salon.

Sarah Bowers Ware, Executive Director of BAAC, sees a real benefit in "wearable art" for those of us who don't want to see ourselves "coming and going" fashion-wise this Spring. "But," she warns, "you need to get your reservation in early because seating will be limited... and we're expecting a big crowd!" Event tickets will cost $35 per person and will go on sale beginning March 1, 1996.

The April 17 event is scheduled to begin at 11:00 a.m. at the Barrington Hills Country Club, West County Line Rd., Barrington. Event and tickets can be obtained by visiting the BAAC Gallery/Office at 207 Park Avenue, Barrington. Personal checks, Visa and MasterCard will be accepted. Further information is also available by calling the BAAC Gallery/Office at (847) 382-5626.

Hindman will be the auctioneer for the live auction. There will also be a silent auction, and many surprises to make it a night to remember.

This biennial event is an important fundraiser for the Infant Welfare Society of Chicago which was founded in 1911 "to provide services for the healthy physical and mental development of disadvantaged children in order to give them a future productive and wholesome life." During the past 85 years Infant Welfare has developed a comprehensive program of medical, dental, social and health services for poor children and their mothers. Last year the clinic, located at 1931 N. Halsted Street, provided quality health care to more than 10,000 women and children.

Tickets for "Celebrate the Magic," are available for $200 per person.

AT&T is the major sponsor of "Celebrate the Magic" and American Airlines is the official air carrier of the Infant Welfare Society.

WC Of Inverness Celebrates 30 Years Of Membership

The December meeting of the Women's Club of Inverness provided a wonderful photo opportunity when eight past presidents of the club were in attendance. In 1995, the club celebrated thirty years of membership in the General Federation of Women's Clubs. The eight presidents represented a significant portion of the club's leadership. The focus of the club and those who have served as president has always been service to the community. This service is evidenced through reported volunteer hours of its members and donations and scholarships given to local groups through funds raised by Women's Club events. The past presidents shown in the photo are Ann Gross, Jane Johnson, current president Diane Steichen, Marge Myers, Jan Semerad, Kathy Roth, Betsy Passarelli, and Nancy Carr.

The March meeting will be held on the 14th at the Inverness Golf Club. Coffee will be served at 9:30 and the meeting follows at 10. A book review by Barbara Rinella will begin at 10:45. Information about the meeting and reservations for the luncheon which follows can be made through Denise at 382-5976.

Museum Shop To Feature Special Merchandise For Japanese Screen Exhibition

In conjunction with the exhibition Worlds Seen and Imagined: Japanese Screens from The Idemitsu Museum of Arts, all four locations of the Art Institute's Museum Shop are offering a wide selection of related products, including a fully illustrated exhibition catalogue.

The publication focuses on the Muromachi (1392-153), the Late Momoyama (1573-1615), and the early Edo (1615-1868) Periods, and describes the varying styles of screens created during each era. This informative catalogue clearly details the mixing of Japanese and Chinese styles, and provides a complete glossary of terms, as well as an index of artists and their works, and a bibliography. Available in both hardcover and softcover.

Among the items available are Japanese decorative arts such as Akari light sculpture by sculptor Isamu Noguchi.

Japanese-style houseware items include highly stylized, textured cast-iron teapots complemented by celadon teacups. Also, ceramic plates, bowls, cast-iron trivets and bronze and other metal vases.

Perfect for desktop are a variety of stone paperweights, iris bookends, a crane ink box, a pen tray and silver picture frames with distinctive floral patterns.

Among the jewelry are pendants, earrings, brooches, necklaces and bracelets. Jade beads with gold, dragon-shaped clasps are available, too.

Available in conjunction with the spring, 1996 exhibition entitled "Worlds Seen and Imagined: Japanese Screens from The Idemitsu Museum of Arts," this charming brooch was inspired by a detail from a woodblock print by Ando Hiroshige (Japanese, 1797-1858), "Cats As Acrobats," in the museum's collection. Antique gold finish over pewter, it sells for $20.00.

Japanese-inspired silk scarves in an assortment of styles and colors are sure to make wonderful gifts as well as enhance your own wardrobe.

Be Free Of Unwanted Hair Permanently

Absolutely! Electrolysis Salon provides safe, gentle, and effective permanent hair removal by a Registered Nurse. A nurse for the past 16 years, Debbie received specialized training in electrolysis and has taken the National Board Exam to become a Board-Certified Professional Electrologist (CPE). Advanced computerized equipment assures every client of a most comfortable treatment.

Electrolysis is the only safe, sensible, and permanent treatment for the removal of unwanted hair. It will free you from the limitations and frustrations of temporary remedies (tweezing, waxing, bleaching, or depilatories) which only result in the regrowth of coarser and more deeply rooted hair.

Electrolysis will lift your spirits and your self confidence as the look you desire is achieved and the troublesome hair is gone forever!

Electrolysis in this office provided by a Registered Nurse, assures the client of a safe and effective treatment. Strict sterilization standards are adhered to as the requirements for sanitation and aseptic technique are strictly followed. These standards include the use of sterile, disposable probes, sterilization of instruments, hand washing, and the use of a fresh pair of examination gloves for each treatment.

Absolutely! Electrolysis Salon is located at 759 W. Main St. in Lake Zurich (S.W. corner of Rts. 12 & 22 in the courtyard between Just Oak and Pasta Makers). Call Debbie Fritzshall R.N., C.P.E. at 847-550-0100 for further information.

The fabrics truly are the finest in the world. The colors come back from year to year, so a client can build on her wardrobe. A spring suit retails for approximately $600, a good value when compared to the cost of garments of the same quality and attention to design.

The excitement of the Carlisle product goes far beyond fashion. Leslie Roberts provides a warm, friendly, yet professional atmosphere that offers very individualized wardrobe planning for each customer. This in home service is of the highest caliber for those women who accept only the best.

It's "ICY HOT" At Tranquility

Short

Shorter

Shortest

For spring and summer, we've drawn energy and inspiration from fashions' opposing forces, enduring stars' legacies and Mod's re-appearance. We've taken the old and made it look young and new.

It's new, it's hot and clients think it's cool. What is it? It's "ICY HOT," the latest hair, makeup and nail trends for the Spring/Summer season. The trend includes three women's hair cuts and three men's hair cuts.

Remixed, Revisited and Recut are the key words for the women's hair cuts. The "Short" cut (see picture) is achieved by condensing and converging the hair, giving the outer perimeter a more solid feel, yet keeps the softness to the line. The difference in revisited styles is the cutting and the way we prepare them. It's up to our superbly trained hair designers to take the old and make it new for the 90's.

The "Shorter" cut (see picture) is the return of the classic bob, but activated and airy. Softened geometric outside design lines that flip up or down depending upon the finished look is the key to the cut. The bob will always be here, but once again the way it's styled makes it new.

The "Shortest" cut (see picture) features a clean, neo-geo hair perimeter. The strongest statement for this cut is made by a short, short hairline—cropped bang.

Color and texture are the strong statements of "ICY HOT." Our clients are ready to move from conservative, subtle hair coloring into stronger, richer formulations that glow. You'll notice them everywhere. The colors include strong reds, blue blacks, reds with black and golden blondes. For the 'smoldering eye,' a heavier application may be used for the dramatic look. The 'Mod smoldering eye' is retroactive of the 60's and early 70's and can be modified for a conservative look. A more romantic look may be created with the 'summer eye' where a more bold design can be applied for the 'smokin' hot eye.' Various cheek and lip colors complement each eye design.

The natural growth of nails, enhancement techniques for reinforcement are key for the nail trend. The range of shimmering colors, retro opalescence, gold and silver washes, apricots, peaches and corals, all reflect neutrals which are so popular in the spring and summer.

Fiddler On The Roof

The Barrington High School Fine Arts Department will present the musical Fiddler on the Roof in the B.H.S. Johnson Auditorium, March 6-9, 1996 at 7:30 PM.

Tickets are now on sale from 10 AM to 3 PM weekdays when school is in session. (The box office is located at the front of the building to the left of the Johnson Auditorium.) Adult tickets are $6, students (18 and under) are $5. Senior citizens will be admitted free—only to the March 6th and 7th evening performances, but they are invited to take advantage of a free 1:30 PM matinee performance on Friday, March 8th. The B.H.S. musical is traditionally a sell out, get your tickets early.

Fiddler on the Roof has been called one of the greatest musical comedies of our era. The stage play is based on a book by Joseph Stein, with wonderful music and lyrics by Jerry Bock and Sheldon Harnick, which include favorites such as "Sunrise, Sunset," "If I Were a Rich Man," and "Matchmaker" among others. It is the tale of a poor milkman and his wife, living in a small town in Czarist Russia, striving to raise five daughters while observing the old traditional ways handed down through the generations (no small task).

For more information call Nancy Vonau at 842-3440.

Chers Amis...

Couscous 1996, our 9th annual! Whether you claim to be a "gourmet" or a "gourmand" or simply a "joe" who loves good food, you owe it to your taste buds to be at D & J Bistro on Sunday, March 10, for our "All You Can Eat" couscous buffet... This very "health friendly" dish has been the culinary ambassador of most North African countries for many years, yet very few restaurants in our area ever venture into preparing this elaborate dish... 10 different vegetables; lamb, chicken, beef boulettes, merguez sausage, all cooked in the vegetable broth; couscous the cereal, chick peas, spicy Harissa sauce (optional). Even though this in itself is plenty, we serve everyone, as a starter, a Mediterranean style seafood salad, and as a dessert, each an assortment!

I would hate to come across as doing an

Masato, Dominique and Jacqueline

"overkill" on publicity, but I assure you that this culinary event is unique in the Chicago Area. It is very popular because it is extremely delicious, and our effort should be rewarded by your presence. Merci!

Please call now to reserve your table.

Getting Down To Basics

Patricia Franklyn would like to help you be an educated consumer. Hair conditioners operate with three basic principles; pH, quaternaries, and protein.

The pH of a product can cause the cuticle (outer covering) of the hair to open and close. A high pH above 7.0 is considered an alkaline solution and will cause the hair to swell and open the cuticle.

Chemical processes such as permanent waves and hair coloring are considered alkaline treatments. They, when properly applied, can make the hair feel thicker and have more body. However, they can leave some unpleasant side effects such as tangles, loss of shine and loss of protein. Sun and wind can have similar effects. These effects can be diminished greatly by conditioning.

Conditioning is defined as changing or altering something, usually in a positive way. We condition our hair when we wash it or even just wet it—as water is a softener of hair.

A product (shampoo, conditioner, moisturizer, finishing rinse) having a low pH (usually below 4.5 to 5.5—which is the normal and ideal pH for hair and scalp) will cause the cuticle to shrink, making the hair denser, stronger, and shinier. Also, pH prevents tangles, as the cuticle when raised tends to catch on other hair.

Quaternaries are softeners, much like fabric softeners. They are a rather new development in hair conditioners appearing only about 30 years ago. Softeners in your own hair can be a positive or negative effect, depending on your own hair texture and hair design. Various products can have more or less of this conditioning effect. Your stylist should be able to recommend a professional product best suited for your needs.

Protein has often been used as a selling point for many products. It, however, is probably the simplest part of the whole conditioning process.

Your hair shaft is made up of protein and due to the environment, chemical treatments and just simple age, the chains of protein (amino acids) can begin to break down. If the protein in your product is substantive—meaning like the protein in your hair as far as size and structure, it will cling to and fill in the areas where the protein has been lost.

If your hair is relatively healthy and not very long, applying protein to it will have very little or no effect. Again, only your stylist can judge, through his or her experience, what your hair needs to achieve the desired results.

In general, professional products are more concentrated and have higher quality ingredients than those on your drug store shelf, and when used properly can actually be more economical.

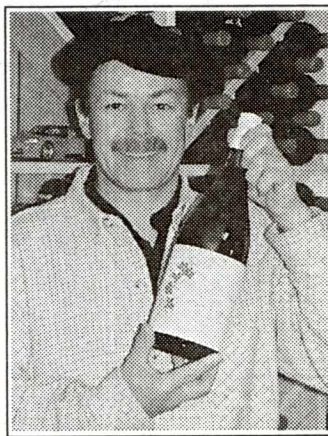

There is one other element which can affect the hair product you use and that is how you use it. Time, temperature, and technique all play a part in how much or how little the product you are using will affect your hair.

Time refers to the amount of time you leave a conditioning product on your hair. Most products termed instant conditioners should reach maximum absorption in 1 to 2 minutes. Deep conditioners (as some products are marked) stay on the hair 10 to 20 minutes but in fact the additional time brings very little, if any, added benefits to the hair. The hair can only absorb a very limited amount of the product applied. That is why we believe that hair conditioning should be a regular maintenance to prevent extensive damage rather than expecting any product to repair severely damaged hair. As a result, severely damaged hair can only be repaired by cutting. It is the responsibility of your stylist to see that you do not jeopardize the health of your hair by over perming or coloring.

Temperature refers to the temperature of the water you use to rinse the product from your hair. If you have very coarse hair and use a conditioner which has re-softening potentials (high quaternaries) you may want to rinse with cool water to maintain more of the softeners in your hair. On the other hand, if you have fine silky hair, you might use a low-softening product and rinse with very warm water to remove more of the unnecessary softeners. Your professional can best help you use a product appropriately for your particular situation.

Technique refers to how you apply the product. In some cases conditioner should be applied only to the ends or more mature hair which possibly have been exposed to overlapping perms and colors. This would

Associates To View Rare Japanese Screen Exhibit

Maize and Cockscomb (screen), 17th century.

A rare Japanese screen exhibit, coffee in the Woman's Board Room, and a lecture by Clare Kunny comprise a day at the Art Institute sponsored by the Barrington Community Associates of the Art Institute of Chicago on Thursday, March 21.

Following the coffee served by the Woman's Board, Clare Kunny will lecture on the 55 rare screen paintings that make up "Worlds Seen and Imagined: Japanese Screens from the Idemitsu Museum of Arts." Assembled at the Idemitsu Museum in Tokyo, one of the finest private museums in the world, the collection opened at the Asia Society Galleries in New York and travels to Chicago before returning to Japan.

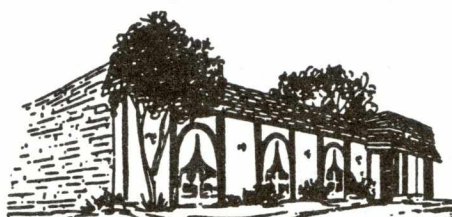

Participants will have ample time to view the exhibition following Kunny's slide lecture.

The exhibition explores the evolution and development of Japanese painting beginning with the fifteenth century, focusing on the use of space within the screen to create believable worlds. The images in the paintings are based either on actual locations or places imagined. Also represented are a variety of types and styles of Japanese paintings which are not found in American collections and are little known by Western scholars of this material. Featured are examples of all major types, ranging from monochrome ink paintings to richly colored scenes painted on gold leaf, depicting images of Japanese literature.

Busses leave Langendorf Park parking lot in Barrington at 9:15 a.m. Cost of the trip is $15 for members and $20 for non-members. Reservations are due March 13. Please call Susanne Wells at (847) 382-2613 for reservations or more information.

Traveling . . . with Carlson Wagonlit Travel

Should You Buy It Here or There?

Does it seem like there are no bargains left when you travel overseas, either in the airport duty-free or in other shops? That everything costs less here in North America than in Europe or Asia? It may seem that way at times, but in fact, bargains still exist here and there, according to a report in December's "Travel & Leisure" magazine. For example, Swiss watches are automatically discounted 15-25 percent in Bermuda; a bottle of expensive French perfume that would cost $368 in Boston, sells for just $290 in Paris (the difference is even greater when you add 5 percent sales tax to the Boston price and deduct the 20 percent value-added tax from the Paris price); a pocket-sized, shortwave Sony radio costs $410 in New York (about the same in Tokyo), but just $285 at London's Heathrow Airport. Belleek china is cheaper in Northern Ireland, English waxed cotton jackets cost less in London, and even a Volvo is less expensive if you buy it in Sweden, the article reports. So you can save money shopping abroad. The trick is to learn exactly what something costs here before shopping for it over there.

Earn Miles with Discount Broker

You can now earn frequent flyer miles by trading stocks with a discount broker called Bull & Bear Securities: 500 miles for each of your first five trades, then 100 miles for all subsequent trades. You can earn up to 35,000 miles in each 12-month period. Call 800-447-4566 to enroll.

Modeming from Abroad

Staying in touch while traveling is getting more complex, according to Mobile office magazine. According to the magazine, preparation is the best defense when traveling abroad. One, learn how to activate your modem's "ignore dial tone" command. That way if it hears a foreign dial tone, it won't matter. On some modems you can just check a box. On others you may have to type in a code. Do this before you go abroad. Two, find out what kind of modular plugs, if any, the hotel uses (there are 38 different types of telecommunication jacks in the world). And finally, know if there phone system is digital or analog. In the worst case scenario, the high currents typical of newer digital systems can destroy both your computer and modem if used improperly.

What's on in London

London continues to be a prime destination for U.S. travelers. A free brochure entitled "London Arts Season" details hundreds of cultural events including plays, concerts, ballet, and museum exhibits in March of 1996. Call 800-462-2748.

Amsterdam Deal

Easygoing Amsterdam is one of Europe's most fascinating cities, with world-class museums and day trips to other destinations in Holland. Northwest Airlines is offering all-inclusive Amsterdam super stay air/land packages this winter with prices starting at just $539 per person from Boston. Included: airfare, three nights in a deluxe hotel, and breakfast. Call Carlson for details about fare add-ons from Chicago.

The Art & Spirit Of Native America

Fast becoming Chicago's number one source for American Indian art, Tribal Expressions has announced the return visit of two world-class artists. Revered for their tradition of excellence, Kathy Whitman and Joe Ben Jr. team to present an incomparable show of sculpture and sand painting in March.

"Freedom" is the word Kathy Whitman uses to describe her self-taught style of sculpture. She knew that people back home on the Fort Berthold reservation in South Dakota used stones for healing. The power she feels from the stone combined with viewer response confirms her ability to expose the energy that lies within each rock.

Using sand with the eye of a painter, Joe Ben, Jr., has exceeded the traditional limits of texture and color normally found in Navajo ceremonial art. Joe Ben uses hand-ground, naturally-colored rocks to create legendary figures in ceremonial scenes. Using exotic materials such as gold, lapis, azurite and diamond dust, Joe achieves a brilliance and sparkle found in no other sand painting.

In addition to the artists reception and show at Tribal Expressions, a formal lecture about Navajo sand painting will be presented at the Arlington Heights Memorial Library, 500 North Dunton Avenue on Thursday March 21st at 7:30 p.m. Call (847) 392-0100 for information.

A Focus On Medicare And Medicaid

by Sharon L. Keller, J.D.

TAX REFORM! TAX REFORM! TAX REFORM! That's the campaign cry for the 1996 presidential election. Flat tax or tax reform, a change is needed. Anyone that has had the opportunity to read the tax code and related regulations knows the necessity for tax simplification. Another governmental program that is in the news is Medicare/Medicaid. This is an area of governmental regulation that is confusing and mysterious to many senior citizens. Medicaid is a program that was created to help those unable to pay for adequate medical care. With taxable estates under $600,000 freed from federal estate tax, minimizing the potential financial impact of long-term illness has replaced taxes as a primary concern for those below that level.

Although Medicare offers hospital and medical insurance for the aged and disabled, it provides very limited benefits for care in a nursing facility. Generally, coverage is limited to 100 days in each benefit period, during any spell of illness, Medicaid is a program funded jointly by the federal and state governments for individuals who are either categorically needy or medically needy, and may cover long-term nursing facility care. The medically needy covers various groups, including people who are age 65 or over, who exceed the maxi-

Decorating At Travel House

by Eleanor Nelson & Sally Hayward, Travel House

Looking around our office during the last few months, I began to notice that the decor was looking a little tacky and "slightly" run down. I began investigating the possibility of redecorating Travel House, and before I knew it we were involved in a full blown redecoration project (I guess I really asked too many questions).

Decorators, painters, plumbers, carpenters, wallpaper hangers, and carpet men were coming out of the proverbial woodwork and the cash register wouldn't stop ringing. Before I even knew what hit us, we were so deep into this project we couldn't stop it even if we wanted to.

Travel House was closed for President's Weekend and then again the following weekend while we had the office totally redone. We are now up and running and feeling quite proud of ourselves, and we're ready to conquer the travel market. Our brochures are neatly organized, our travel planners are new and updated, and we are all ready to concentrate again on business.

We at Travel House would like to invite you to stop by and have a cup of coffee with us while you visit our new offices at 133 Park Avenue. We apologize to all of our clients for any inconvenience caused by our redecorating, and hope you'll enjoy visiting our offices now that the chaos has subsided.

Looking forward to seeing you soon.

Exhibition Of Rare, Exquisite Japanese Screen Paintings At The Art Institute

"Beauties under the Cherry Blossoms." Edo period, mid-17th century.

The sublime art of Japanese screen painting is the focus of an exhibition at The Art Institute of Chicago running through April 30, 1996. Worlds Seen and Imagined: Japanese Screens from The Idemitsu Museum of Arts presents 57 of these rare objects borrowed from the magnificent collection of

The Idemitsu Museum of Arts in Tokyo, renowned for its holdings of Japanese paintings and Asian ceramics. Note that, because of the size and fragility of the screens, the exhibition will be shown in two parts: A) Now through March 25; and B) March 26-April 30.

The paintings date from the 15th through the early 19th centuries, spanning the "golden age" of Japanese painting—the Muromachi (1392-1573), Momoyama (1573-1615), and Edo (1615-1868) periods. Most are in pairs of six-panel screens, and range in type from exquisitely stark monochrome ink renderings to richly colored scenes painted on gold leaf. A wide range of subjects and themes is explored: idyllic Chinese-style landscapes and figures; sweeping vistas of famous historical sites and "pleasure quarters"; episodes from classical Chinese and Japanese literature (including the 11th-century classic novel the Tale of Genji); and intriguing studies of foreigners, Tartars and Europeans, for example.

Rare and of consistently high quality, The Idemitsu Museum's collection provides an unprecedented opportunity to study Japanese painting on a large scale. Several screens have only recently been discovered, representing types and styles absent from American collections. These have proven crucial to the current study of Japanese painting and have led to the reexamination of its development during the Muromachi and Momoyama periods.

The Japanese folding screen (byōbu) is a unique art form—nothing in traditional Western painting resembles it. Rather than being hung on a wall, screens sit directly on the floor in a zigzag fashion. Pairs of six-panel screens between 5 and 7 feet high are the most common format, and their lightweight wooden latticework frames are covered with layers of paper or silk and joined by hinges of paper or leather. Byōbu represent some of the world's largest paintings, but they are also the only known artworks on a monumental scale designed specifically for mobility and versatility. Throughout the centuries, they have been used for purposes as varied as decorations, gifts, room dividers and space enclosures, and performance settings.

The design of traditional Japanese buildings evolved around the ever-present danger of earthquakes, with flexible wooden frames and few interior load-bearing walls. Folding screens were therefore used not only to embellish the interiors of aristocratic residences but to enclose intimate spaces, augmenting the well-known sliding panel doors (fusuma). Outstanding folding screens would be used on special occasions, such as secret Buddhist rites and state ceremonies, or even as backdrops for other types of paintings.

Historical records indicate that the earliest examples of Japanese folding screens date to at least the 8th century, and Chinese prototypes are found as early as the Han dynasty (206 B.C.-220 A.D.). However, unlike the screens in this exhibition, which present continuous compositions, early examples generally consist of panels that each contain a separate scene. In addition, most of the earlier screens have cloth or leather hinges, while paper hinges were primarily used in screens made after the 14th century.

Among the highlights of Worlds Seen and Imagined are several colorful and striking 15th- and 16th-century screens only recently rediscovered in Japan: Flowers and Birds of the Four Seasons with the Sun and the Moon (16th century), attributed to the famous Sesshū Tōyō; Trees and Plants of the Four Seasons (c. 1500), artist unknown; and Pine Tree (early 16th century), artist unknown. All three provide new insights into the development of themes and techniques begun in the Late Heian period (1086-1185), an important era in the development of classical Japanese literature and painting.

Replacing Missing Teeth

by Dr. Raymond Kotz

There are several ways that a dentist can replace missing teeth.

A void where teeth have been lost may be filled with lifelike, custom made replacement teeth which are attached to crowns made for the teeth on each side of the space.

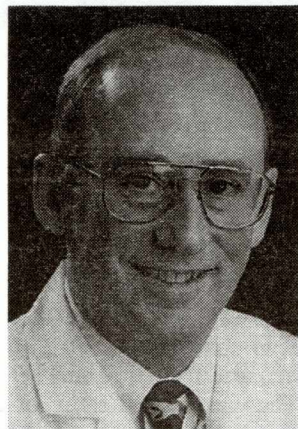

To make these crowns, the dentist first prepares the teeth by removing their enamel. Next, an impression of the prepared teeth is made and sent to a dental laboratory. The laboratory prepares custom crowns and replacement teeth, then returns the final product to the dentist to place in the patient's mouth. This prosthesis is called a fixed bridge because it may not be removed by the patient.

In many instances missing teeth may be replaced using dental implants. Implants are really artificial tooth roots to which the dentist fastens a custom made crown. This crown may replace a single missing tooth. However, more commonly, implants are used to support a fixed bridge when there are no natural teeth on each side of the space to be restored.

Another way teeth may be replaced is with a denture or a partial denture. These are removable by the patient and gain their support from a base which rests against the patient's gums and jawbone. There are many ways these appliances may be additionally stabilized by attaching them to teeth or implants.

For a thorough examination and evaluation of your oral health see Dr. Raymond P. Kotz, Barrington, Illinois, 847-381-4040.

A Call To Save Children: IAFC Seeks New Board Members

Illinois Action for Children (IAFC) is searching for people who want to save the lives of abused and neglected children. The organization is issuing a call for new members for its board of directors. Connie Ackert, executive director of IAFC, said, "In Cook County alone, 100 children are removed each month from parents or guardians who abuse and neglect them. We need board members that are devoted to stopping the atrocities being committed on children every day. This is a job for people willing to provide time, resources and leadership in the community."

IAFC board members should be:

- passionately committed to helping those that cannot help themselves;
- successful in their career path;
- able to commit personal resources to IAFC and/or its Court Appointed Special Advocates (CASA) program;
- eager to recruit other volunteers;
- resourceful;
- willing to be a spokesperson for IAFC and its advocacy programs.

For two decades this statewide, citizen-based child advocacy organization has been fighting for children. IAFC executes its mission through community education, legislative reform and public leadership. It provides child welfare decision makers with nuts and bolts training and information to make better decisions on issues such as safety, protection and permanency. It is the host organization and funding arm for CASA Cook County, a program that trains volunteers to advocate for one child at a time in the court system. IAFC is one of the preeminent child welfare authorities in Cook County and the State of Illinois. New for 1996 is its Diligent

Search Center, a program designed to conduct thorough searches for absent parents and prepare legal files to advance children's cases toward adoption, and a scholarship fund to promote excellence in child welfare.

Interested candidates may submit their credentials in confidence to Paul Smithson, board president, Illinois Action for Children, 175 W. Jackson, Suite A1713, Chicago, IL 60604, 312/986-9591.

Making The Most Of Your Parent/Teacher Conference

Parent/teacher conferences are a valuable opportunity for parents to get involved in their children's education. In addition to the grades on a child's report card, meeting with the child's teacher can give you a realistic measure of his or her performance in school.

According to Dr. Raymond Huntington, founder and president of Huntington Learning Centers, "Meeting with your child's teacher can give you objective insight to his or her academic, social and emotional development. You learn about a side of your child that you may not see at home every day."

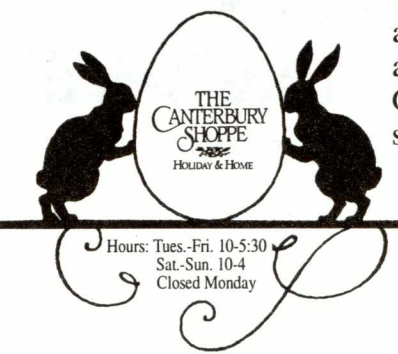

Dr. Huntington suggests the following questions as a guideline for parents to get the most out of their parent/teacher conference:

1. How is my child's classroom behavior? Listening and following directions, focusing attention on the task at hand, completing assignments on time, putting forth their best effort and working with others are important skills that children should be learning in the classroom each day. In addition, ask about how your child gets along with other children. Is your child easily distracted? Does he or she cooperate with others? Can he or she work well independently? By asking these questions, parents can learn more about their child's attitude toward school, as well as their academic skills.

2. As a parent, is there anything I can tell you about my child that may help you be more successful as a teacher? Nobody knows your child like you do. Wise teachers understand this and seek to tap your wealth of information. Family tension, financial concerns, health issues or marital problems directly impact a child's ability to concentrate in school. When parents share this information, teachers are often able to take measures that can reduce stress for the student. Creating a partnership between school and home is a responsibility that both teachers and parents share.

3. In what academic areas do you see my child progressing and are there areas where a lack of progress has you concerned? The key to this question, and to the value of the conference, is the word "progress." We know that every child develops at a different rate. Whether a child is "above grade level" or "below grade level," the amount of progress the child is making is the most important information parents need to have. The lack of progress is a red flag that cannot and should not be ignored. A child who is not progressing is a child who is falling behind. How does your child handle new material? Do they catch on easily or do they require more explanation and attention? A teacher who has taught your child a minimum of two months should be able to talk knowledgeably about student progress.

4. Do you have samples of work that reflects my child's progress? Many teachers are beginning to collect and use portfolios of student work to assist in the evaluation process. The portfolios can be particularly helpful to see where a child is struggling and to measure a child's progress during the course of the school year.

5. What specific recommendations do you have for me to help my child at home? With 25 other children in one classroom, even the best teacher is limited in their ability to provide individualized attention. Helping your child at home shows that you care enough to make their education a priority and are

Jim Lundmark Wins The Award Of Merit

Carol Beese, President of the Barrington Area Chamber of Commerce; Jim Lundmark, Stratford Company, Award of Merit Winner; Lt. Governor Robert Kustra, Guest Speaker, and Ken Skiba, 1996 Chairman of the Barrington Chamber with Smith Barney.

The Barrington Area Chamber of Commerce's highest award, The Award of Merit, was given to Jim Lundmark at the Chamber's Awards Night and Installation Dinner held last January 31.

The Award of Merit is given to an individual who has significantly added to the betterment of the Barrington Area Business Community. The recipient must reside or work within the boundaries of the area served by the Chamber. In the past 25 years the award has been given out 13 times.

Mr. Lundmark has served as Chairman of the Chamber's Board of Directors, as a Director of the organization, as a member of the Chamber's Ambassadors and as a leader of the Chamber's Economic Development Committee. He is currently representing the Chamber on the Village's Economic Development Committee. He is credited with being the catalyst which got the Jewel development project back on track for Barrington's business community and was involved in the successful redevelopment of South Cook Street.

Stock Prices Appear Poised To Advance Well Into 1996

The restructuring of American business and its positive results for corporate profitability have resulted in 1995 earnings that were far greater than we had anticipated, and this in turn has driven the markets higher than our original forecast. We are elated that the Dow Jones Industrial Average (DJIA) and the Standard & Poor's (S&P) 500 have achieved record highs ahead of our forecast. And, our fair value forecast for 5800 for the DJIA and 690 for the S&P 500 are still supported by expectations of lower interest rates, a stronger dollar, and higher earnings.

Further Upside Should Follow

Going into 1996, secular, or long term, factors are basically intact, and to us they appear capable of sustaining the Bull run that began a year ago:

- The economy continues to grow slowly with little or no appreciable inflation.
- A corporate efficiency obsession has boosted the productivity of American business and enhanced our global competitive position.
- Demographic shifts have spurred increased savings and investment in stocks and bonds.

While these forces support the financial markets longer term, other forces appear positive near term. Inflation, as well as earnings news, should remain constructive as 1996 gets under way, despite some further softening that may have occurred in the fourth quarter of 1995. In addition, the dollar should remain firm against virtually all currencies.

The Greatest Risks Are Domestic

A year ago, the greatest risk facing the financial markets was potential for a global financial crisis precipitated by a major foreign bank collapse in Europe or Japan. That risk still exists, although relatively diminished. Currently, we see a greater concern in U.S. fiscal and monetary policy. A reduction in short-term interest rates by the Federal Reserve and a credible balanced budget plan by the federal government are necessary to support earnings and the financial markets in 1996.

Three Sectors for Investment

Despite a shift during the summer of 1995 toward defensive market sectors—stocks whose earnings grow independent of the ups and downs of the economy, we continue to advise against them. Instead, we continue to recommend the technology, financial (specifically regional banks), and lagging engineering/construction stock sectors.

Asset Allocation

Regarding asset allocation, we continue to recommend that investors maintain an allocation of 60% stocks, 40% bonds, and zero cash in their portfolios. (Of course, depending on age, risk tolerance and other factors, individual asset allocation needs may vary from this recommendation.)

Bulbs Are Not Just For Spring

With the advent of spring, our winter weary eyes look forward to the sight of beds of tulips, daffodils, and hyacinths in local gardens. We are familiar with these spring flowering bulbs which we plant in the fall, but, there are other bulbs to plant in the spring which will beautify our gardens with color and variety all summer long and into the fall. We will learn about these bulbs when JoAnn Loebel, a landscape design critic and gardening consultant, addresses the next meeting of the Garden Club of Inverness on Thursday, March 21, 1996. She will give us an overview of fall bulbs which bloom in the spring, but will also discuss non-hardy bulbs such as begonias, cannas, dahlias, lilies, gladioli, and other bulbs to plant for summer glory. She will advise how and when to plant, and how and when to dig and store nonhardy bulbs. JoAnn Loebel is a free-lance writer and an award winning photographer. Come and welcome the arrival of spring with this timely program.

The Garden Club of Inverness is a member of The Chicago Horticultural Society, District IX of the Garden Clubs of Illinois, Inc., and the National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc. The club meets monthly on the third Thursday of the month at Holy Family Church, 2515 West Palatine Road, Inverness, at 9:30 a.m. After a short business meeting, refreshments are served, and the program follows. Membership is not necessary to attend and guests are always welcome. For more information, please contact Joan Stearns, Membership Chair, at 934-6522.

Kumon In The Heartland... Growing Children

Students in the Midwest as well as the rest of the country are not making the grade in Math. A recent study revealed that only 25% of the U.S. public school pupils are proficient in math at their grade level. However, for more than 75,000 students across the country—and growing rapidly in this area—help is at hand with a unique program called Kumon Math and Reading.

This self-paced supplemental education program is proving highly effective in helping students meet and exceed grade level, regardless of age or ability. Kumon Math was developed 40 years ago by Toru Kumon, a Japanese mathematics teacher. Today, over 2 million students around the globe are improving their math skills and study habits on a daily basis with the Kumon Method. For about 15-20 minutes each day they whiz through a few of the 4,000 worksheets designed to teach every step of math, from preschool drawing exercises to calculus, and there's not a single calculator in sight. Good Housekeeping magazine (January 1996) cited Kumon as one of the Big Three Learning Centers in the United States. There are 1,100 Kumon Centers throughout North America with over 200 Centers in the Midwest.

Due to the growing demands for a back-to-basics approach to learning, the Kumon Institute of Education in Japan has decided to expand its operations in the Midwest by opening a Regional Office in Chicago, IL. Mr. Peter Tu has been promoted to meet the aggressive demands of the Midwest. Initially, the Chicago Regional Office will be responsible for serving nine states, with plans to expand further into the Heartland by serving 12 states and to open branch and satellite offices in strategic markets to serve the burgeoning number of Kumon Centers in operation.

Mr. Tu received his MBA from Husson College in Maine and has been working with Kumon U.S.A. for five years. He has managed territories throughout New En-of the Kumon Educational Institute's gland, the East Coast, and Midwestern states. He was originally from Beijing, China, and received a B.S. in Economics and Geography and an M.S. in Coastal Geology in the United States. Mr. Tu's international experience will be an asset to the Midwest territory as the Kumon Method of instruction is crossing international and cultural barriers to benefit mainstream American students.

Another crucial element of the Kumon Method is the three way partnership that is forged between the parent, the child, and the Kumon Instructor. The parent is actively involved in the child's education, and the Kumon Instructor helps to guide the learning process and encourage optimum student performance. To celebrate the new Regional Office in the Heartland, Kumon is offering parents in the Midwest Free Registration through March 31, 1996. This is a $30 savings.

For more information about the Kumon Method or a Kumon franchise, parents can contact Ms. Jennifer Ols, Regional Manager, at 1-800-YES-MATH.

Spring Home Improvement

Bill Schafer—President

Joe Schafer—Vice President

Longer days and warmer temperatures mean it's time to take a good look at your home and make a list of all those repairs and improvements that you've put off from last year.

Maybe the exterior needs a little touch-up—worn weathered paint work, rotting wood frames or sills, a leaky spot in the roof; all these little jobs need taking care of before they become big and expensive jobs. Damage from winter weather can also take its toll on your home. For example, ice buildup can cause damage to gutters, decks and roofs.

If you decide that your house is in need of paint, a professional painter can power-wash, scrape and wire brush the affected areas. Spot priming on bare wood areas prevents premature paint failure in the future. Paint failure can also be caused by using the wrong primer.

If you have problems with your roof, you should have a contractor find the leaks and repair them. This would also be a good time to replace missing, loose, or damaged shingles, and clear off any debris.

At Schafer Builders, Inc., we can take care of all these problems and more. Besides taking care of your home repairs, we can also take care of your space problems. If your living conditions are cramped, how about an addition? Or maybe you just need your current space remodeled? Remodeling your home can be a traumatic experience, but, if done right, can increase your home's value more than the actual cost. For example, battered kitchen cabinets can be replaced with a newer style, older windows can be replaced with energy-saving models, and a new decorating scheme can brighten any room.

With all the work your home needs this spring, give Schafer Builders, Inc. a call. Or visit their award-winning office at 12 E. Crystal Lake Avenue in Crystal Lake and look at their library of before and after photos. You'll find plenty of inspiration for your own home!

"Kaleidoscope" Fund-Raiser

The Countryside Auxiliary of Children's Home & Aid Society of Illinois held their annual "Kaleidoscope" fund-raiser on Saturday, November 4, 1995, at the Chicago O'Hare Marriott Hotel. This event attracted approximately 300 people. All who attended enjoyed a lovely dinner, while listening and dancing to the music of Orchestra 33. Many people also participated in the "Kaleidoscope's" silent and live action.

Some of the lucky winners in this area at this event were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. James Yerbic of Kildeer won 7 nights at the Kahana Sunset Hotel in Maui, Hawaii. Also, Mr. Terry Blanchard of Inverness won the ladies 14kt. gold diamond bracelet and Mrs. Pat Stelzer of Inverness won the Chicago Bears 3-piece signed commemorative prints. There were many more winners of beautiful items, including a lovely floral by Michael Gerry, donated by Studio Publishing Inc., Studio of Long Grove.

The auxiliary is a small group of women but every year we seem to exceed our expectations, perhaps because we are dedicated to helping the children of the state who are not as fortunate as our own children.

With more and more children being neglected and abused everyday, it is imperative that we work hard all year to raise money for this cause, as well as our annual "Kaleidoscope" event. This last year, we presented the Society with a $50,000 check

Space—The Final Frontier

"Space"—the final frontier. That's how the popular T.V. program begins. Today "space" is being brought under control by Closet Masters. They have brought the concept of custom closets to the Northwest Suburbs. Locally owned and operated, Closet Masters will come to your home to help you identify your needs and give you a free estimate as to cost.

Have you ever heard this warm comment from your mate? "Don't you dare buy another thing until you get rid of something in this closet!"

"When people take control of their 'stuff' instead of their 'stuff' controlling them, it brings into their lives a whole new sense of comfort" says Jerry Klosinski, of Closet Masters.

"We have toured a number of new home developments. Finding that while the building industry has tried to keep up with the new ideas in closets, it is not profitable for them to customize each home. That's where we come in. We spend time measuring and talking with families to create a space especially for their use."

Moms especially like the adjustability for children's rooms. The closet rods can be changed as the child grows.

Men like the double hanging for their suits, shelves for shoes and the special belt and tie racks.

Kids love the many size baskets to store treasures, and shelves that are at their level.

Women find the new "Shoe Cubbies" for their shoes a way to keep 30 pairs of shoes in a 24 x 25 inch "space."

Drawers are available in different depths. Jewelry inserts are also available in lucite or felt.

Value—A Tradition At R. K. Tech

by Ed and Lisa McCauley

"It's unwise to pay too much, but it's worse to pay too little. When you pay too much, you lose a little money—that is all. When you pay too little, you sometimes lose everything, because the thing you bought was incapable of doing the thing it was bought to do. The common law of business parlance prohibits paying a little and getting a lot—it can't be done. If you deal with the lowest bidder, it is wise to add something for the risk you run, and if you do that you will have enough to pay for something better."

—John Ruskin

Nineteenth century English writer John Ruskin is known both as the father of the Gothic Revival movement in architecture and as the foremost expert on art of his time. As the quote above shows he also knew how to find value.

When one of our finish carpenters saw this quote from Ruskin last month, he suggested that we use it to let our readers know why we think that our products and services offer our customers such great value. We believe that you won't find better value than we offer at R. K. Tech. Here's why.

Design

Lot's of people make claims about "professional design," but our designers have credentials that make the word "professional" mean something. Lisa McCauley and Matt Foster, who together head up our design team, are both graduates of the architecture program at the Illinois Institute of Technology. That fact by itself puts their qualifications head and shoulders above most of the kitchen designers in this country.

Our qualifications are a big reason why so much of our design and cabinet business actually come from architects. Once an architect has done the overall shell of a new house or a substantial addition, he often ships the drawings over to us. At that point we either work up the interior plan for the kitchen space or engineer the cabinets on the basis of the architect's plan. Because Lisa and Matt have such strong credentials and so much experience with space planning and layout of kitchens, architects know that we are going to speak their language, protect their design concepts, and add plenty of value to the overall project.

We've just heard that Pat has been named the Territory Winner in this year's Sub Zero Kitchen Design Contest. Sub-Zero has so long been associated with high-end custom kitchens that their design contest has moved to the front as the most prestigious of its kind. As former territory winners ourselves, we encouraged Pat to enter; and we take pride in knowing that one of our projects will once again represent Illinois in the national finals.

As our reputation has grown nationally, we have fielded client inquiries literally from New York to Alaska. That only happens if you produce results—which is another reason why our design services are such a great value. Stop by our office in Woodbridge Square and look at some of our work.

Cabinets

If you've read our column before, you've seen this statement before; but we're going to say it again: We sell the best cabinets in the world. That's a heck of a claim to make. Here's how we back it up.

The cabinets we sell are made in America. Those who know cabinets know that the finest American cabinets are the best built in the world. Europe's furniture making traditions migrated to this country with our ancestors; and we have only improved upon our inheritance. Today America leads the world in computer-aided design and manufacture, which has produced better construction values and more opportunity for our cabinet makers to concentrate on hand finishing and assembly. In America we have access to the best hardwoods; and despite what our critics say, we still have a great work ethic. We're not fighting an adverse exchange rate or disappointing our customers with shipping times that begin at 12 weeks.

At R. K. Tech we have worked hard to find the finest of American cabinet makers. We have exclusive area access to Ruff Cabinetry, which Forbes Magazine has called America's foremost producer of high end custom kitchens. Our Grabill cabinets are built by a fifty-year old industry leader whose unique finish quality and service are not duplicated anywhere.

That's value; but even the best cabinets don't shine without a great design. Only by combining the quality of our cabinets with the unique qualification and experience of our designers can we lay claim to the best value in kitchen design and cabinetry.

Installation

"A beautiful experience."

Those words were spoken last month by a Flint Creek client who bought our entire package of services: design, cabinets and installation. We were especially gratified by that remark, because we spent a great deal of time last year finding our first finish carpenters to come on board as permanent members of our team. Our installers are more than skilled. They are mature people with families and roots in their communities. They are the kind of people you will enjoy having in your home.

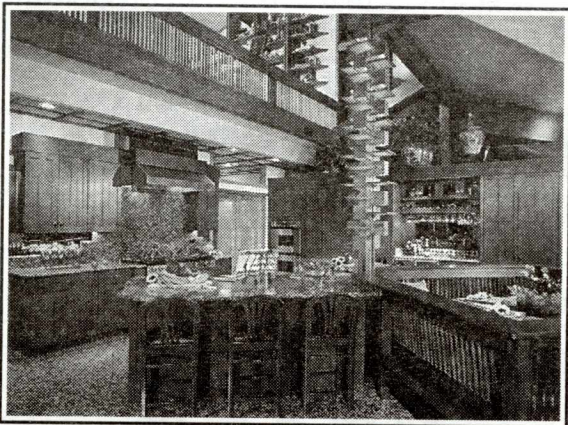

We've heard about and lived through so many horror stories caused by contractors that we finally decided the only way to give our customers great service was to bring people into our organization who can do the job themselves. Our finish carpenters are here not only to do installations but also to support the fine, handpicked independent construction contractors who still do many of our projects. And they work with us actively to develop ways of improving communication between designers and installers on all of our jobs.

Ask Our Designer—Neil McDuffie

Senior Designer at Barrington Kitchen and Bath Studio

4. We have heard a lot of conflicting information when it comes to cabinet lines. Could you explain the difference between stock and custom cabinets and what type of cabinets does your company feature? "Stock cabinets are only available in limited sizes, styles and colors. This means they are mass produced with low cost materials and finishing methods. I found myself in many low-end kitchens that after five or six years have to be remodeled again. Custom cabinets are available in almost any size and color and are made to order. They generally feature higher grade woods selections, stronger construction and, most importantly, a better finishing process. Any improperly finished cabinet can show wear almost immediately. A custom cabinet is truly custom, individually made to meet each customer's specifications.

We feature four different custom cabinet lines with four different price points. Our Lenkei cabinet line features all wood construction and has three cabinet series: Classic, Signature and Concept. The Classic and Signature series offers dovetailed drawers, hand rubbed finish, and comes in many choices of woods and design. The Concept series has the same quality finish but the interior design is made differently and it is approximately 20% less when it comes to the price. Our Jay Rambo cabinet line features all wood construction and has three cabinets series: Tradition, Eurostyle and Eurowood. The Tradition and Eurostyle series offers all the same choices in wood and construction but the doors and drawer fronts are featured differently and offer solid hardwood interiors. The Eurowood series offers the same elegant exteriors but the interior is made out of solid maple plywood. All series feature many doorstyles and woods. Our DuraSupreme line features three cabinet series: Designer, Crestwood and Alectra. The Designer series offers hardwood interiors and dovetailed drawers with a wide range of woods. The Crestwood and Alectra series offer a laminate interior. All series offers many woods and styles. The Lady Bea line features laminate and polyester finishes all with frameless construction.

The line offers many contemporary door styles and a great all white raised panel with more traditional styling.

What is the advantage of using your company when my project entails more of a remodeling project rather than just replacing cabinets? Our primary advantage is our design through installation service. Our sister company, award-winning Delta Renovations, Inc., will be handling the installation. Our job does not end when you order your materials. Your job will be overseen and expedited not only by your designer but also by a Delta job foreman and the owner of both companies, Mark Zurek. We feel constant communication is very important. The majority of the work will be done by our own experienced carpenter installers. You can be confident that our professionalism continues throughout the project. Referrals are one of our most important sources of new clients.

We invite you to meet senior staff designer, Neil McDuffie, at our showroom located at Route 12 and Lake Cook Road (next to Northshore Refrigeration) at 20066 N. Rand Road, Suite C, Palatine, Illinois. Showrooms hours are Monday through Friday 10:00 A.M. to 6:00 P.M. Saturday 10:00 A.M. to 4:00 P.M. Appointments are suggested for design and planning consultations.

Now that spring is almost here, thoughts of home improvements may be uppermost in your mind. You love living where you're at and don't want to leave your neighborhood. Your needs and wants in your home have changed through the years and remodeling is the best solution. Your home improvement goals may be focusing on an exterior facelift, room addition or a new kitchen. The next question you ask yourself is "Where do I start?"

The first thing you should do is write down what you like about your home and what you would like to change in it. Get the whole family involved. Ask each person what he or she likes and dislikes about it. Then sit down and decide just what you would like to do. Look around your neighborhood for ideas and take photos of the things you would like to see done to improve your home. Also, browse through magazines and cut out pictures of things you like. Then contact Delta Renovations, Inc. They can help you design your project and let you know if an architect is needed, depending on the size of your home improvement.

Delta Renovations, Inc.'s expertise in renovations and their quality workmanship help make your project, large or small, go as smoothly as possible. Stop by or call them to set up an appointment. They will be happy to talk to you about your proposed project.

The Charities Ball Raises Over $60,000

Episcopal Charities and Community Services held its 36th annual Ball December 8, 1995, in the Grand Ballroom of the Conrad Hilton and Towers Hotel, Chicago. The Charities Ball benefits eleven official agencies of the Episcopal Diocese of Chicago reaching out to the ex-offender, the homeless, youth at risk, the hungry and the hospitalized and infirm and the aged. This year's event honored Shelter Care Ministries, located in Rockford, an agency dedicated to providing temporary housing, counseling and advocacy for homeless persons in the Rockford metropolitan area. New outreach ministries are emergency housing for adult males with HIV/AIDS and a transitional housing program. The reception, silent auction and dinner were highlighted by the strings of Franz Benteler and his orchestra. This year's Ball successfully raised over $60,000.

"Preventative Maintenance"

Cedar shingle roofs can last 50 years and lend a natural, woodsy look to your home. But as with many things, their beauty and longevity require preventive maintenance.

According to Barbara Murry of ISK-Biotech, unless protected from the intense sun and moisture that foster mildew and other fungi, cedar roofs may last less than one-fourth their potential lifespan.

According to Better Homes and Gardens, cedar must be maintained to last. Sta-Brite R, a water-base preservative, seals cedar shingle wood fibers to repel moisture and prevent splitting and mold. The preservative also shields cedar roofs from the damaging ultraviolet rays of direct sunlight.

For more information about Sta-Brite R and what it can do for your roof, call RG's Cedar Roof Service, 708-658-5562.

USA Precision Figure Skaters Bring Home Silver And Bronze From International Competition

Starlets Precision Skating Team

Chicago skating team, the "Starlets," brought home a bronze medal after competing in the "Sweden Precision International 96," January 5-6, 1996 in Sweden. The Starlets are currently the number one Junior Division precision figure skating team in the US. They placed third in their division among thirteen teams competing from around the world in the event.

In the Senior Division, the "Haydenettes" skating team from Massachusetts placed second to earn a silver medal among 20 world teams competing. Also in the Senior Division, "Team E'lan" of Detroit placed 7th.

"The Starlets have only competed once before internationally. We're quite proud of the Bronze, the Silver and Team E'lan's placing," states Lanny Nelson, Co-chair of the US Postal Service 1996 US Precision Figure Skating Championships, a nonprofit organization.

"All three USA teams will have to requalify for the upcoming 1996 Nationals being held in Chicago March 27-30, 1996. They will compete in their respective Sectional competitions at the end of February to qualify. With the excellence these USA teams are demonstrating, we're looking forward to quite a bit of excitement at the National event," Ms. Nelson adds.

"Corporate and individual sponsorships continue to be sought for these teams and others wishing to participate in the Nationals. Sponsorship assistance greatly helps precision figure skating as a team sport to reach the national and international popularity it has gained over the last decade," Ms. Nelson says.

For free information on corporate and individual sponsorship opportunities, contact Ms. Suzanne Hyde, c/o Dayton Advertising Incorporated, 2300 N. Barrington Road, Hoffman Estates, IL 60195. 708/882-0333.

Where in the world are you headed when you are looking for a home?

Talking with several of my Realtors about our real estate market, I asked what were some problems they've encountered recently. Our March column will speak to a few of these issues.

One area talked about was the home buyer call-in where the only information wanted was "the price" and "location" so the caller could just ride by. In fact some people shopping for a home ride around until they see something they like and then call for "the price." These people believe they don't need help, whereas it's really the dreaded fear of being obligated to the Realtor. "The Realtor will be constantly calling. I'll just ride around."

Is this scenario valid? I believe it is. However, home buyers should find working with the professional Realtor makes a big difference in information. And information converts into saving the buyer's time and energy with much less frustration. An informed decision is generally a better decision.

Also, buyers need to know what they can afford and what location they should be looking at for homes fitting their lifestyle. It's not too likely that a buyer will match his $'s and lifestyle with a home by "just riding around." Buyers waste tanks of gas viewing the outside of houses in areas that don't match their needs and become tired and frustrated with the home-finding process. Then they call the Realtor.

Why not work smarter and call a Realtor at the start? Realtors provide service and information. Realtors are involved in the community and know what's happening.

Realtors are experienced and knowledgeable about the market. They inform the buyer about available properties in areas that match needs and lifestyles. Realtors provide the time needed for the home buying process. They commit to doing the work necessary for a successful conclusion.

Buyers Agency—the Buzzword of the '90s

Traditionally Realtors have represented the seller, however that's changing with the new agency laws. NOW the buyer can have a Realtor of his own representing his best interests. When a home buyer is represented by a Realtor, the fiduciary duties such as the duty of loyalty, accounting and disclosure are owed to the buyer and not the seller. The buyer has more freedom to discuss the value of properties, negotiating strategies and personal finances with the Realtor. The buyer can obtain the opinion and advice of his agent concerning the property, the effect of improvements, the seller's motivation for selling, and a variety of other information which a seller's Realtor cannot provide. These are just a few of the benefits of working with your agent... a buyer's agent.

Let's get acquainted. Head for The Prudential Preferred Properties Barrington office and talk with one of our professional agents and find out how much house you can really afford and which neighborhood is right for you. We may even have just the home you're looking for. However, armed with a map and lots of information-you can still ride around since now you'll know what you're looking at.

The Prudential Preferred Properties is your dream house headquarters.

Barrington Area United Way Raises $357,000

The Barrington Area United Way raised $357,000 in the 1995 fall campaign. This represents a record amount and surpasses 1994's total of $328,000.

Hugh Palmer, President of First Federal Savings of Barrington and Chairman of the 1995 campaign attributes the success to the campaign cabinet, volunteers and hundreds of contributors. "The individuals involved with United Way are committed to our community and worked hard to make a difference," said Palmer. "The results also show us we are living in a caring community and I thank everyone who helped make this a successful campaign."

Georgeanna Smalarz, Vice-President of First Federal Savings of Barrington, assisted with the campaign, while Charles Sweet, Vice President of A.T. Kearney Management Consultants, Inc., chaired the leadership giving division known as the Pillars Club, Harriett Fehns, owner of Frankly Feminine, chaired the small business division, Richard A. Hogan, D.D.S., chaired the professional division and Al Harris, former Chicago Bear and South Barrington resident, chaired the direct mail division.

All divisions reported increases over last year including small business which added 14 companies contributing for the first time. Employees working at Sears, Roebuck & Company and Motorola contributed more than $1 00, 000 through payroll deduction. While Barrington School District 220, First Federal Savings, Jewel/Osco Drug and Harris Bank held employee campaigns locally.

Sixteen individuals contributed $1,000 or more to become members of the Pillars Club, while the direct mail campaign raised $51,482, a 13% increase from last year. "We get a great response from our mail campaign. Residents look for our letter each fall and respond generously. Our base of support continues to grow each year," explained Palmer.

"United Way is helping the entire community come together to improve the quality of life in the Barrington Area. We are building our board with community leaders, continually adding to the number of volunteers and of course, increasing funding of agency programs benefiting Barrington Area residents. People are realizing that United Way makes a direct impact on their lives. One in four of our neighbors utilize United Way funded programs and services," stated Smalarz.

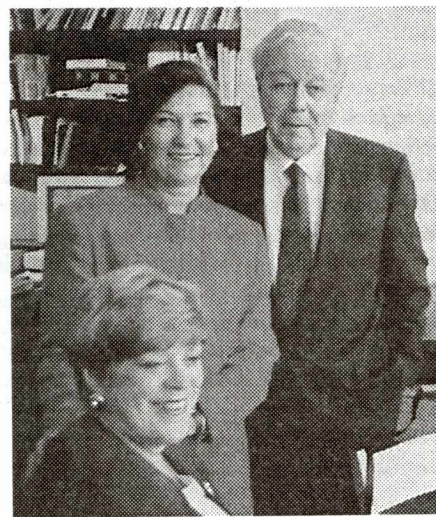

The Barrington Area United Way funded 31 health and human service agencies in 1995, agencies such as Barrington Youth Services, Hospice of Northeastern Illinois, Family Service of South Lake County, Barrington Area Council on Aging and Countryside Association for the Handicapped. Volunteers are now in the process of evaluating agencies and services to determine 1996 funding from last fall's record campaign.

Barrington Lyric Plans For Opera al Fresco

As the calendar heads us into springtime, the Barrington Chapter of Lyric Opera of Chicago has its sights on their upcoming benefit, Opera al Fresco, an Italian Renaissance Affair, to be held the evening of Saturday, June 15. The Cuneo Museum and Gardens in Vernon Hills is the chosen setting for Opera al Fresco, the theme for this wonderful evening of light opera and ballet followed by dinner catered by Calihan Catering in Chicago and dancing under a magnificent tent.

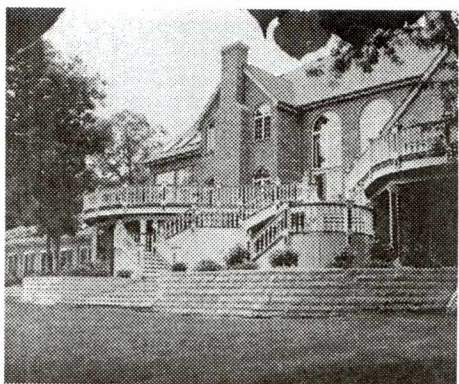

Norman Ross, an honorary Barrington Lyric chapter member and longtime member of the Board of Directors for Lyric Opera of Chicago, will serve as the honorary chairman. Pictured with Norman Ross are chairwoman Linda Ruder, Barrington Hills, center, and co-chairwoman Kaye Verner, Lake Barrington.

Now Is The Time To Plan For That Deck

"It's not just a deck," says Larry Kirchner, chief designer and president of Deck-A-Roo Decks. "A deck is a pleasant addition to any home and a necessity."

Decks are great investments. If properly built, a deck will give the owner years and years of wonderful use as well as add more to the value of the home than the initial cost. However, an improperly built deck will soon become an eyesore as well as a financial burden on the owner.

At Deck-A-Roo Decks every aspect of the deck design is considered: what style will best fit the house; what are the size and design needs of the client; what materials best suit the location and design of the deck; how the design affects price both now and over the lifetime of the deck; and how maintenance will be affected by the design.

In addition to a proper design, the actual construction of the deck and the follow through of the builder are very important. Questions you should ask: Who actually will perform the work? What quality of material will be used? What construction practices will be used? And, who will service the deck if needed? Larry's favorite phrase, "You get what you pay for, if you're lucky!"

Deck-A-Roo Decks is a full service builder, working with the home owner from the beginning of the design to the final completion of the deck. No subcontractors are used. All employees have been trained to a high level of quality and given the amount of time needed to complete the job properly. Only high quality materials are used by Deck-A-Roo as well as new environmentally friendly products. Every deck is serviced promptly as well as courteously.

A special note from Larry: "Now is the time to plan having your deck built. It's important to give yourself as much lead time as possible if you are planning a party or event that the deck will be used for. Spring is approaching and we have a tendency to fill our April and May schedules early. So please call now."

What Is A Certified Kitchen Designer?

While there are many designers who "do" kitchens, only a limited number hold credentials as Certified Kitchen Designers (CKD). Jim Walker, a partner at Barrington Homeworks Kitchen Center, and himself a Certified Kitchen Designer, says, "CKDs work very hard to help you determine what you really want. The plans they show you, the options they describe, the products they recommend, reflect your individual needs. They remember always—this is your kitchen."

From the beginning, the back-and-forth exchange of information with a CKD will reassure you. In your initial meetings, the CKD interviews you at great length to discover how you cook and live in a kitchen space. This is the time to share all your ideas—notes and pictures, too.

In a short time, you will review preliminary designs. Together, you and your CKD will perfect the plan and make product decisions.

The CKD will have final plans prepared for your review—including interpretive drawings so you will see what your new kitchen will look like.

Some CKDs offer a design service only. But Walker is affiliated with Barrington Homeworks Kitchen Center and can offer a complete showroom. Both types of specialists submit a clear and complete proposal encompassing all of the work planned. The specifications describe in detail all construction work, cabinetry, countertops, fixtures, wiring, plumbing, lighting. There should be no surprises when you work with a CKD.

CKDs make sure you understand all of your choices during the planning process. They keep up-to-date on new equipment and new construction materials, as well as building codes, safety rules and environmental regulations. They will make sure that your new kitchen meets all standards for safe use by you and your helpers.

CKDs understand budgets and can explain the pros and cons of products as they relate to the required investment. The CKD's sound advice will help you make the right decisions for your new kitchen.

It takes years of training and expertise to earn those coveted CKD initials. It requires the ability to write specifications and draw plans that plumbers, electricians and cabinet installers can interpret. Walker notes that before CKDs can sit for their final exam, they must file affidavits from fellow professionals, letters of reference from past clients, and submit samples of their design work for review by the Societies, the accreditation agency of the National Kitchen & Bath Association.

"The kitchen and bath industry is dynamic," said Walker, "with new products and new technologies constantly being introduced. Keeping up with all this is a responsibility CKDs take seriously."

A New Image For The Community Hospital—Providing Healthcare, Wellness Programs, Education and Entertainment

Imagine the community hospital as an entertainment center. According to one expert, hospitals of the future will be community resource centers for wellness, education and entertainment programs in addition to providing traditional healthcare.

"The community hospital needs to become a natural destination rather than a crisis center," states Ethel Nemetz, principal, EN Design Associates, Inc. of Chicago. "This will contribute greatly to changing the image of the hospital and its specific market mix." Nemetz' professional career spans over 15 years in the design and project management of hospitals and healthcare facilities throughout the country, including the National Rehabilitation Hospital in Washington, D.C. Her expertise is in analyzing strategic operational processes for institutions and corporations and translating these into functional facility designs.

Nemetz acknowledges that the move towards providing wellness and education programs is well underway—however, she believes hospitals could do a better job. "Most people attend educational programs sponsored by hospitals only if they are directly affected by a disease or health condition," says Nemetz. "Hospitals need to make these programs more attractive to the general public in entertaining and interactive ways. The result will be a greater commitment to the institution on the part of the consumer."

To be a destination resource as defined by Nemetz, hospitals need to establish images which will make them the healthcare provider of choice. "While many hospitals are becoming members of larger organizations by virtue of healthcare networks and mergers, these institutions will need to have a unique 'community' identity to keep consumers coming to them as a resource."

Northwest Community Healthcare in Arlington Heights, IL is working with Nemetz to develop its own unique identity to address the needs of this Northwest suburb of Chicago. Northwest Community is establishing a "Healing Environment," a philosophy which enhances the well-being of a patient's mind, body and spirit.

"Creating a healing environment goes beyond the color of the paint on the walls or the style of chairs in the waiting area. It is a philosophy which takes a holistic approach to maintaining wellness and considers equally the physical, emotional and operational aspects of healthcare," states Bruce K. Crowther, president and CEO, Northwest Community Healthcare.

"The Healing Environment is the next step beyond the quality and so-called re-engineering movements prevalent in the healthcare industry," states Nemetz. Northwest Community is reexamining its operations and carefully assessing and recommending new ways of simplifying its processes. The hospital must be patient/fam-

The Sauna—The Bath For Body And Soul

The sauna has been a way of life for many civilizations. The Russians, Japanese, and certainly the health-minded Scandinavians, have believed in this fantastic rejuvenating bath for over 2000 years.

The saunas soothing, dry heat relaxes tired muscles, cleanses the pores, and helps stimulate circulation. From athletes to corporate execs, everyone who wants to look and feel their best, swear by saunas.

So reward yourself with adding this daily luxury to your lifestyle. You work hard—you deserve it.

ily/community-friendly in all areas of service." During one survey it was discovered that patients often were asked the same registration questions at multiple stops during the admission process. Now this information is taken just once and transferred to the various settings a patient encounters to avoid redundancies.

Northwest Community's steering committee and task forces led by Nemetz, are working to develop recommendations to assure patient/family-friendly care. The hospital will be incorporating these recommendations during the process of building a new wellness center and expanding surgical and outpatient additions. These recommendations also include considerations of issues identified when establishing the community partnership programs.

"Healthy community initiatives, such as the ones spearheaded by Northwest Community, create a hospital without walls. It becomes more accessible by contributing to community education, and develops and enhances programs for family counseling services, violence prevention, drug education, illiteracy or public safety programs for youth, elderly and the medically underserved," adds Nemetz.

Consumers concerned about being forced to change to new physicians because of the managed care programs contracted by their company will include the hospital affiliation into the equation of choosing that physician. This will mean that the hospital's reputation and image will play a significant part in the new healthcare marketplace.

"The new healthcare provider will need to be seen by the community and consumer as a resource center offering quality care with an identifiable image as a healing environment," concludes Nemetz.

Classic Woodworks Offers Extraordinary Craftsmanship

A carefully thought-out design, the highest quality materials, and the knowledge and experience to know how to produce extraordinary craftsmanship are what Bill Suttie is all about. He enjoys finding ways of blending in things into a client's home or office so that it appears as though it had been part of the original design. He has been doing custom woodwork in both new and older homes for many years. He takes a great deal of pride in older period designs where it is quite often necessary to make mouldings to match what was there before, and selecting just the right woods and finishes are crucial to a high quality product. His most recent project was one that he built into his own home so that clients could come by and observe first hand some of the thoughtfulness in design and detail and the satin finish he does so well. He tells about how he and a friend cut down some black walnut trees in the mid 70's and has stored them and re-racked them twice a year since then waiting for the time and just the right place to put them to use. The end product is a 7 foot by 14 foot walnut bookcase of very unusual beauty, with lots of shelves for their favorite books, overhead concealed lighting with a three level dimmer for just the right accent. Below the hand-layed pegged walnut counter, behind beautiful raised panel doors are roll out shelves for

CD's, cassettes, videos, games and all those other things one may wish to have organized and out of sight. Each cabinet has its own hidden lighting unit that comes on as the doors are opened so that you may see clearly what is inside.

Bill will build to the design of others or will design what is needed himself to meet the needs of the client. He specializes in custom-designed computer centers, built-in home entertainment centers, a variety of furniture, cabinets, libraries, bookcases, and all-wood custom closets complete with cedar lined dove tail drawers, and all sorts of wonderful ideas that he has learned to design into his works

Catholic Charities' Mardi Gras Magic Nets Over $74,000 To Benefit Homeless In Transition

Honorary Chairman of the Hearts for the Homeless Richard L. Duchossois with Judi McKeage. All proceeds from this benefit will be used to support the Family Shelter program.

Enticing high bids is auctioneer Harlan Dam from Crystal Lake. Among the auction items was an Arlington International Racecourse Sky Suite package.

Two Mardi Gras celebrations have recently worked magic for Catholic Charities Northwest Suburban Services' seventh annual Hearts for the Homeless dinner auction to benefit the homeless in transition.

With Richard L. Duchossois, chairman of Arlington International Racecourse, serving as honorary chairman, Bishop Edwin M. Conway, D.D., Auxiliary Bishop of Chicago, Archdiocese of Chicago as honored guest, and Maury

Buford, member of the 1985 Super Bowl Champion Chicago Bears team as emcee, the benefit on February 11 at the Cotillion in Palatine was a marvelous party and an outstanding financial success. In contrast to the ancient Mardi Gras carnival tradition which can last from four to eight weeks, this Mardi Gras celebration lasted only four hours but raised an overwhelming amount of over $74,000 to benefit the homeless in transition.

Sharing in the spirit, the newly formed

Young Peoples' Mardi Gras celebration was held on February 9 at the American Legion hall in Arlington Heights. The festive night of frivolity, food, fun, and lively music raised $2500 which greatly helped to reach the outstanding final total.

All proceeds from this benefit will be used to support the Family Shelter program by placing homeless families with children in apartments to help stabilize their lives while they seek employment, education, and receive counseling. The Family Shelter is just one of fourteen Catholic Charities' programs in the northwest suburbs which helps with love and care for all people regardless of nationality or religious, racial and economic backgrounds. Ninety-nine cents of each dollar goes directly to helping the homeless in transition.

For information on Catholic Charities Northwest Suburban Services and how they may help you or someone who needs help, please phone Sr. Jenny 847-870-0560.

The Hospice Of Northeastern Illinois Thanks Contributors

Over 125,000 dollars have been raised by the Hospice Foundation of Northeastern Illinois' Annual Fundraising Drive—far surpassing the original goal of 75,000 dollars. The appeal, which began in November, has gathered contributions from over 500 donors.

"We have been overwhelmed by the response of the community to our appeal for funds," says Carole Blazek, Hospice of Northeastern Illinois Foundation Director. "These contributions will help to fund the surrogate caregiver program, cover expenses for non-reimbursable care, produce our educational newsletters, and fund bereavement programs," says Blazek. "We would like to thank everyone involved for contributing their resources to such a worthy cause."

The Hospice of Northeastern Illinois (HNI) is a not-for-profit, Medicare Certified program that was originally established in 1984. HNI served 988 patients and families in 1995, located in Boone, McHenry, Cook, Lake, DuPage and Kane counties.

"We care for all patients regardless of their ability to pay," says Virginia Vravick, Director of Development, at The Hospice of Northeastern Illinois. "In the past year the percentage of patients without reimbursement was 21%, which is one fifth of our census. Therefore, community support is vital to our continued mission," states Vravick.

The fund-raising campaign, chaired by Frederica Smith, Foundation Board President, and Sam Oliver, Hospice Board President, actually continues year round—so contributions are gratefully accepted at any time.

"World's Greatest" Squirrel Baffle For The Serious Bird Enthusiast!

squir:rel baf:fl (noun) 1: fits even the largest poles—up to 1½" in diameter 2: all welded steel construction that can't be chewed—pryed apart—and won't crack 3: high quality—baked enamel finish 4: resists the elements 5: very easy installation.

The "Squirrel Baffle" fits below the feeder. It prevents squirrels from climbing into the feeding station. Squirrels greedily monopolize feeding stations and drive away desirable song birds. The "Squirrel Baffle" is a proven solution to controlling the bushy-tailed rodent—according to Frank Wollney, local wild-bird-feeding enthusiast. Chanticleer Farms offers the "Squirrel Baffle" for $16.50 plus $3.50 shipping and handling from Chanticleer, 140 Hawthorne Road on Route 5, Barrington Hills, Illinois 60010.

Business of feeding wild birds became one of the nation's fastest growing industries sometime in the late 1980's—and is still exploding! A government survey in 1985 indicated 82.5 million Americans were bird-feeding enthusiasts. Bird feedings' principle appeal is that it is inexpensive and not a demanding hobby.

Americans spend several billion dollars each year to provide a complete feed/survival package for wild birds including woodpeckers, chickadees, finches, juncos and cardinals so that bird-feeding enthusiasts may enjoy the pleasure of feeding and the song of their feathered friends. Bird feeding, as a hobby, is greatest in the populous and suburbanized Midwest where there is an abundance of shrubs and trees to provide cover and protection to attract song-birds.

Fossler's puppet production "Opera in Focus" on Wednesday and Saturday at 1:30 and Saturday evenings at 8:00 P.M. ## Start Your Planning Now!

Now that the holidays are over, most people begin to "Think Spring." And if those thoughts are directed towards improving your home or even building a new one, then, these next few months are an ideal time to get started. Most people think that in March or April, they will call an architect to get some ideas on remodeling or building a new home. Unfortunately, most design firms, at this time, are deluged with these types of requests from homeowners and builders. By the time the plans are finalized, permits pulled and contractors scheduled, construction is pushed back to July.

We suggest that you schedule to talk with us about your plans as soon as possible. We would then be able to get your plans done, construction bids in and permits pulled by March or early April. You would then be able to enjoy your new space for the majority of this new year and not have your Summer "under construction."

Our firm is dedicated to the intricacies of residential architecture. We specialize in the designing of spaces that meet our client's desires as well as their budget. There is no obligation to have us meet with you to discuss your projects or to help you select your building lot. Please feel free to contact John C. Cazzetta at Kemper Cazzetta Architects, to arrange an appointment and to preview our extensive residential portfolio.

Quality Cabinetry And Solid Surface Countertop Specialists

Lamico Designers was born in the early 1970's with sights firmly set on the future and with a vision of supplying high quality cabinets at affordable prices. They have three modern showrooms which are located in Arlington Heights, Deerfield and now in Barrington.

Jim Kill, award winning designer, wanted to show what is available with regard to kitchen products and what can be done with these products. To do that, Jim formed a team consisting of the firm's designers and fabricators to help guide the overall space planning, product selection, accessorizing and color choices on the displays in Lamico's new Barrington location.

Nothing can date a kitchen like harvest gold formica, drab cabinets and dark, old linoleum floors. Now is the time to update your kitchen with new cabinets and countertops. Lamico, specialists in Corian, Fountainhead, Avonite and Surell countertops, has invested in special equipment to be able to custom build your solid surface countertops. Because Lamico builds their own countertops, they can offer them at very attractive prices. And they can give your kitchen that custom touch with switch and receptacle plates, cutting boards, knobs and door pulls, and soap trays made from matching Corian material. During January, receive a FREE Corian cutting board when you visit the showroom.

Lamico Designers uses specialized computer software so their customers can see exactly how their new dream kitchen will look before it is installed.

If you are considering a new kitchen purchase, please remember this: Over your lifetime you will spend almost twelve years in your kitchen—make the best of it.

Getting Down To Basics

minimize excessive softening on the new hair near the scalp. Conditioners can also help dry scalp which can occur during certain times of the year, such as, wintertime with the effects of heat or summertime due to over exposure to the sun and wind. To help resolve this problem you would massage the conditioning product into the scalp. Discussing your particular problem with your stylist should help achieve the desired results.

To summarize, understanding what conditioners can do for your hair and how varying the way you use them can achieve different results. Communicating your needs to your professional will help them to recommend not only the correct product but the appropriate time, temperature and technique for your particular situation.

We at Patricia Franklyn would be pleased to offer you a FREE hair evaluation and home hair-care interview. Stop in and join in our commitment to "the little things" this spring.

A Focus On Medicare And Medicaid

mum amounts of income or resources allowed welfare recipients but still fall below state limits. In recent years, nursing facility coverage has accounted for the majority of Medicaid spending for the elderly and one of the purposes of estate planning is to determine eligibility. In 1992, the costs for nursing home care in the United States was approximately $66 billion. An estimated 50 percent of that was paid for by Medicaid.

To qualify for Medicaid, nursing facility residents must prove that they need the service of the nursing facility. Application must be made to the Department of Public Aid. The applicant must supply information including documentation of bank records and accounts; documentation of real property holdings; life insurance policies; copies of social security checks and a copy of the applicant's Medicare card.

The spouse of the nursing facility resident is allowed to retain certain assets. In Illinois, the Community Spouse Resource Allowance is presently $78,820 and a monthly income of $1,870. Certain property is exempt under the regulations and not counted as part of the allowable assets. Exempt assets include: the home where the spouse lives, one car used by the spouse, any and all household property, personal possessions such as jewelry and clothing, and the prepayment of burial expenses.

This area of the law and governmental regulations will be a prominent part in the nation's future. By the year 2000 there will be over 35 million Americans over the age of 65. By the year 2030 that number could double to over 70 million seniors. This will continue to be an increasingly challenging and ever changing area for estate planning.

From A Woman's Point Of View

by Gail Wickstrom, Wickstrom Ford

Last week Tim asked me to listen to some tapes of the radio ad he's planning for next month. Some of them were in a new vein following some print ads we did earlier.

When I listened to them I thought they were a little mushy, but it's hard to convey a message like loyalty, honesty, and dependability without sounding that way.

As in all businesses we are here to make a profit or we wouldn't be here very long, but we also want to provide the absolute best sales and service experience possible.

Tim, Colin, Richard and I are thrilled and proud that we have received the Ford Motor Company Chairman's Award for the third year in a row. This is the highest award we can receive from Ford Motor Company, but the best part is that our customers are the judges.

We try to make sure every one of our customers sales or service experience is a perfect 10 and when we don't live up to that we want to know so next time it will be.

My friend Susi came in to tell me about her neighbor who did not feel we gave them a good sales experience and went elsewhere. In our business we don't usually get second chances, so we try very hard to get it right the first time. When a business involves a product and service there is always the possibility that either a person or a product will not perform up to the normal standards on any given day.

We wish to always be "THE BEST" and strive as hard as possible to fulfill those standards both for you, the customer, and our own personal standards.

Teens & Adults Invigorate Your Senses

The Dry & Oil Pastels classes will focus on still-life and landscape or portraits.

Scotty's—Groceries On Wheels

Just don't have time to get to the grocery store? Hate those long, frustrating lines? Difficult taking the kids? Scotty's Home Delivery can help. We have been in business for over four years now, servicing the grocery needs of people just like you. We service 45 north and northwest suburban communities, with a customer base nearing 2,000 clients. Best of all, you pay grocery store prices, with only a nominal delivery fee to have them brought to your front door! Our average delivery fee is only around $3.00!

All of our customers receive a price book with the nearly 5,000 items that we carry. It includes all of your favorite name brand suppliers, and an assortment of specialty items that you won't find at the grocery store, such as fresh butcher meat and seafood, whole grain breads from the Barnaby Smythe's Stone Ground Bread Company, fresh baked goods from a local bakery, and the finest of fresh produce we receive in daily.

Ordering is very simple. You can either call in or fax in your order, just indicating the item numbers you would like to have delivered. We will give you a total due for your delivery, and you can pay us by check or credit card. The great thing is that you don't even have to be home to accept delivery (around 50% of our customers are not). We can do this because we deliver all of our refrigerated and frozen items in Igloo coolers with ice packs, so even ice cream stays frozen while your groceries await you. The dry products are delivered in waterproof boxes with lids on them. We will work out a convenient place with you to leave your groceries if you are not going to be home, and they will be waiting there fresh when you arrive. If you are going to be home we will unload them on your counter for you. It's that simple!

This is not a club of any kind, we are simply a grocery store that only delivers.

Spring Planning With SanFilippo Landscape

"Every plant has fitness and must be placed in its proper surroundings so as to bring out its full beauty. Therein lies the Art of Landscaping."

—Jens Jensen, landscape architect

No matter what you do in life, planning is important. It gives you direction and helps you get where you want to go. Sometimes the planning can be done on your own, but more often than not a professional is needed.

At SanFilippo Landscape we practice the "Art of Landscape Planning." We create outdoor spaces and furnish them with plants, pavings and structures related to outdoor activities that complement your style of living. And everything must be considered! Do you enjoy entertaining, is gardening a hobby, been thinking about a pool, do you require a low maintenance yard? Remember, no one can give you what you want until they know what's important to you.

So, why should you consider SanFilippo Landscape? Finding a contractor isn't like buying an appliance where you get a model number, compare prices and find your best price. With landscaping there are a lot of elements to be considered starting with the design which incorporates the plant materials and hardscapes to be used.

The Plan

A good landscape plan is the basis for a quality job. Either an architect or designer can be used. An architect has completed 4-5 years of study involving horticulture, soil, surveying, site-plans and construction while a designer is not an accredited position. Once you've established your needs, a drawing will be rendered showing a "birds-eye-view" of your property. This drawing should indicate all existing structures, hardscapes and plant materials and is usually done in either an 1/8" or 1/4" scale. Plant materials are indicated with circles which, represents the tree or shrub's spread. Always keep in mind, "The right plant for the right location." A plant's mature size must always be considered, otherwise you may end up with too large or too small a plant for a given area.

Plant Materials

All plants are not created equal. We only buy from Northern Illinois/Wisconsin nurseries to ensure a plant that is adapted to our climate. Many lawn and garden centers sell bulk plant materials with undersized root systems to accommodate volume shipping. These same plants often come from the South, allowing them to be more prone to disease and unable to handle our winters. Another thing to consider is plant size. Professional nursery stock is larger and helps create a more pleasing look during the first season before the plants are established.

And no matter what your style or budget, pay attention to variety in the plant materials that the design calls for. There are so many wonderful plants that offer different textures and colors and sizes. A good mix of heights within a planting area can give the landscape dimension while large groupings of the same plant can help create variety in texture and color throughout the seasons.

Hardscapes

Another important part of the landscape plan will be the design and treatment of decks, terraces, walkways, gazebos, retaining walls, etc. As a full service company we feel that having us handle all exterior development results in a better quality job for three reasons: 1. The job is completed faster because we have better control over all elements, 2. The design is completed correctly without any shortcuts being taken and 3. We hire subcontractors more often and get both better service and prices.

So, no matter what your reason for calling a landscape contractor, start out with a plan. Everything doesn't have to be done in one season but if you know where you're headed, you're more likely to get there.

For more information, please call Michael SanFilippo at (847) 381-1611.

1996 Illinois Horse Fair Set For March 9-10, 1996

The 1996 Illinois Horse Fair is scheduled for March 9-10 at the Illinois State Fairgrounds in Springfield.

The eighth annual two-day equestrian festival features many equine breeds and more than 100 booths and vendors related to the horse industry. Breed and sport demonstrations, stallion parade, lectures, seminars, and shopping provide both exhibitors and spectators with a chance for fun and enrichment.

More than 20 breeds and sport clubs participated last year, from Arabians and Quarter Horses to Warmbloods and Standard-breds, including exotics such as Freisians and Norwegian Fjord ponies.

Horse Fair exhibitors showed their equine friends by carriage driving, reining, dressage and vaulting.

"But there are some we don't have," says Illinois Horse Fair manager Joy Meierhans, referring to the growing number of breeds exhibited at the event. "We don't yet have mules, and I think everyone would love to see mules at the Illinois Horse Fair," she added.

Bring your favorite equestrian activity or breed and be a part of Horse Fair '96!

Last year's fair had more exhibits than ever. The Livestock Center display space again sold out downstairs, so it expanded into a newly-completed heated building, which provided bulk space for truck and trailer dealers.

The number of stallions presented on Stallion Row and in the daily parade also increased last year as stallion managers found the Illinois Horse Fair to be an excellent promotional opportunity.

Participants in the "Horses for Sale" aisle benefited from excellent traffic, with the majority of horses finding new owners; one horse even sold twice!

The Illinois Horse Fair is presented by the Horsemen's Council of Illinois, an organization of horsemen and women dedicated to the concerns of horses and the horse industry within Illinois.

For information on booth space, demonstration packages, stallions and sale horses, contact Joy Meierhans, Horse Fair manager, at 43W734 Old Midlothian Turnpike, Elburn, IL 60119, or call 708/557-2575.

Leonard Nimoy narrates the film, featuring footage from NASA space shuttle missions, including repairs of the Hubble Telescope. Through July 4.

"Fantastic Machines" and "The Big Dig" offer new fun and facts at MSI. Recently opened, "Fantastic Machines" salutes creativity in inventing with several unique machines that were designed to generate a smile, but not a profit. Included are the "Emmett Vintage Car of the Future," the "Political Machine," and the "Phrenology Machine" designed to analyze a person's personality by scrutinizing the contour of the head. "The Big Dig" offers an inside view of the mechanical and engineering science behind the Museum's underground parking garage project. Visitors can explore the history of the Museum's landmark building and grounds as well as examine such construction techniques as "slurry" and soil drilling methods. Both "The Big Dig" and "Fantastic Machines" are scheduled through 1997.

Temporary "Curiosity Place" extends welcome to preschoolers. Newly reopened and scheduled through summer '96, a temporary "Curiosity Place" exhibit provides the Museum's youngest visitors a special place for fun and learning during the construction of the Museum's new "Imagination Station" children's exhibit area, scheduled to open next winter.
