

Methodists To Dedicate New Addition

A service at Barrington Methodist church at 4 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 8, will mark the official opening and consecration of the remodeled sanctuary and the new youth addition.

Bishop Charles Wesley Bra-shares, resident bishop of the Chicago area of Methodist churches, will be present to deliver the consecration message.

Dr. Ray Bond, district superintendent, will preside at the ceremonies. Good wishes will be extended to the pastor, the Rev. Carl Mettling and the congregation on the successful completion of the $110,000 building project by three former pastors, the Rev. H. L. Eagle of Chicago, the Rev. C. J. Doenecke of Evanston and retired Dr. Bertram G. Swaney of Wheaton.

Greetings from the Barrington Ministerial Union will be brought by the Rev. Edwin L. Riske, pastor of St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed church.

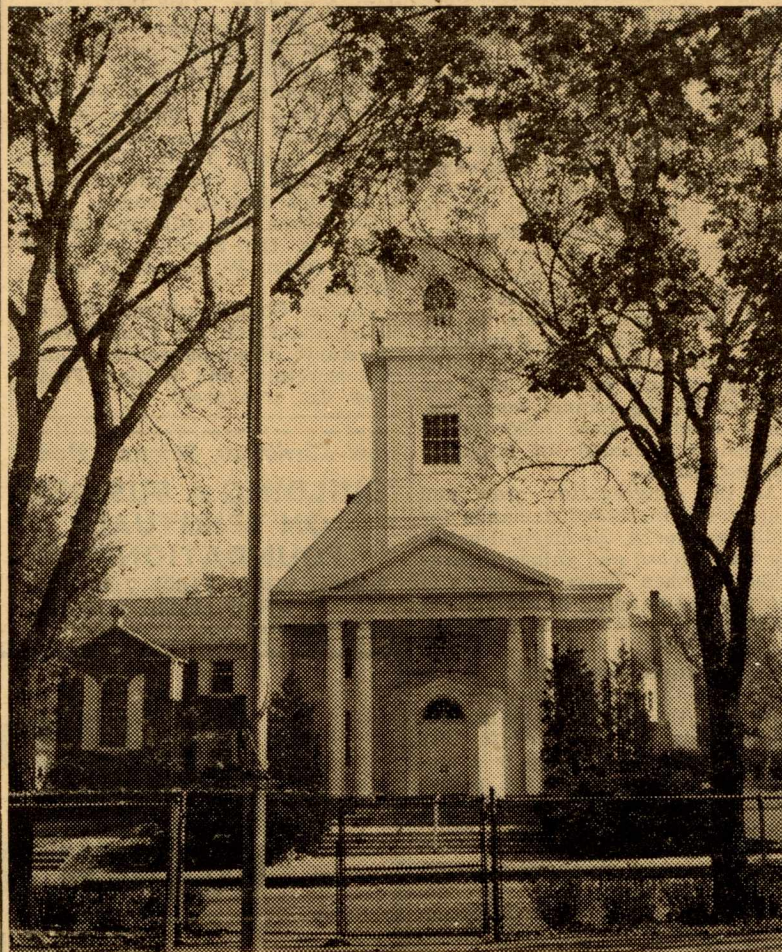

Official Greetings

Howard Brintlinger, president of the Barrington village board of trustees, will give official greetings on behalf of the community and John R. Van Sickle of Rockford will be the layman representative of the Rock River Conference.

The building committee report will be given by Earl M. Schwemm.

An important part of the consecration devotions will be the special music which will be supplied by the junior and senior choirs and soloist. The youth choir will sing under the direction of Mrs. Milton J. Hardacre Jr. and Mrs. W. Dotterer director of the youth choir. Rock River Conference

METHODIST CHURCH HAS NEW LOOK

Barrington tall-spired Methodist church has a new facade with the completion of the red brick youth addition on the north side of the building. The $110,000 building project, which includes a remodeled sanctuary and modernized kitchen, will be consecrated in a service at 4 p.m. Sunday followed by a tour of the reconstructed church building. The public is invited. (Photo by Grothman.)
