BARRINGTON, ILL., SATURDAY, MARCH 28, 1896.

$1.25 A YEAR.

BIG VOTES POLLED.

TOWN OF CUBA.

The people's caucus held in Lamey's building Saturday afternoon was a lively one. Candidates to fill the various offices for the Town of Cuba were to be placed in nomination, and at the hour of 2 o'clock, when the caucus was called to order, there were over 100 voters of the township present.

M. T. Lamey was chosen chairman and E. J. Heimerdinger clerk of the meeting. The following candidates were placed in nomination: For supervisor, M. T. Lamey, by acclamation; town clerk, James Kiltson, by acclamation; assessor, Fred Kirschner; collector, Robert Frick; highway commissioner, George J. Hager; constable to fill vacancy, John Brasel. A petition has since been filed placing in nomination, in opposition to the above ticket, George Kimberly for town clerk, Wm. Paddock for collector, and Henry Winkler for road commissioner. The prospects are good for a lively contest.

TOWN OF BARRINGTON.

The Republican caucus for the Town of Barrington was held Saturday afternoon in the village hall of Barrington, John C. Plagge being elected chairman and Leroy Powers clerk. Although the heaviest vote in years was polled, little interest was manifested in the various offices with the exception of the collectorship, over which quite a fight was made, August Rohlmeier securing the plum. The following votes were cast for the office of collector: August Rohlmeier, 88; H. F. Landwer, 23, and G. H. Landwer, 7. The old officers for the other offices were nominated by acclamation. The following is the ticket: For supervisor, John C. Plagge; town clerk, Leroy Powers; assessor, J. W. Kingsley; collector, August Rohlmeier; commissioner of highways, Fred Homuth; school trustee, W. N. Miller.

Burrage-Kimberly.

The Boston Post had the following to say of the wedding of Miss Marguerite, daughter of A. V. H. Kimberly, to Mr. Burrage, which was announced last week.

"A swell Lenten wedding in the select society set of West Newton took place last evening at the residence of Rear Admiral L. A. Kimberly, U. S. N., on Perkins street, West Newton, and the contracting parties were Miss Marguerite Kimberly, a niece of the admiral, and Mr. Harry Lange Burrage of West Newton, one of the prominent young men of the place and the cashier of the Third National Bank of Boston. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. C. Jaynes, the pastor of the First Unitarian church of West Newton, and it was a very pretty wedding. The parlor was brilliantly lighted and the decorations were beautiful. The best man was Mr. F. L. Pratt of West Newton, and the maid of honor Miss Margaret Nickerson of West Newton. She was gowned in white silk and muslin and carried a bunch of jacquemint roses. Miss Elsie S. Kimberly, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Eleanor Burrage, a sister of the groom, were flower girls, and the bridesmaids were Miss Eleanor Carter and Miss Maud Scudder and all were attired in white satin and lace. The music of the processional to the altar was from "Lohengrin" and was played by C. F. Johnson, while the wedding march was played by Mr. B. J. Lang of Boston, uncle of the groom, and was by Mendelssohn. The bride looked lovely, gowned in white satin and thread lace with orange blossoms and tulle veil. The ushers were Herbert L. Felton, Russel A. Ballou, Edward G. Blaisdell, William Bacon, John Burrage and Porter B. Chase. The reception, which followed the ceremony, was attended by the relatives, immediate friends and a few prominent people from Newton, Boston and Brookline."

Village Caucus.

A people's caucus will be held in the Village hall, Friday evening, April 3, 7:30 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the following offices in the Village of Barrington: President, 3 trustees and village clerk. All the voters of the village are requested to be present at this meeting.

ANNUAL TOWN MEETING AND ELECTION OF THE TOWN OF CUBA.

Notice is hereby given to the legal voters, residents of the Township of Cuba, County of Lake, State of Illinois, that the annual township meeting and election of officers of said township will take place Tuesday, the 7th day of April proximo, being the first Tuesday in said month.

The election will begin at the hour of 7 a. m. and close at 5 p. m., and will be held in Lamey's brick building. The officers to be elected are: One supervisor, one township clerk, one assessor, one collector, one commissioner of highways, one constable to fill vacancy.

The town meeting will open in Lamey's brick building at the hour of 2 p. m., and after choosing a moderator will proceed to hear and consider reports of officers, to appropriate money to defray the necessary expenses of the township, and to deliberate and decide on such measures as may, in pursuance of law, come before the meeting.

Given under my hand this 24th day of March A. D. 1896.

MILES T. LAMEY,
Township Clerk.

RAPIDLY GROWING.

The St. Paul's Jugend Verein held its regular meeting Sunday evening, a large attendance being present. An instructive and entertaining program was rendered. Thirteen applicants were admitted to membership. The names of the new members are: August Froelich, August Miller, Charles Gruber, Ed. Gruber, Willie Tunne, August Sandman, Tena Gruber, Louis Gottschalk, Anna Rohlmeier, Christian Rieke, Gussie Bluhm, Louis Gilly and Emma Westphal.

The growth of the Verein is something remarkable. That's right, boom'er along. The object is a laudable one, and merits support.

Now that by means of the latest development of the cathode ray all the internal organs of the body can be looked at, those young people of suicidal tendencies who imagine they have broken hearts will be able to see that the seat of trouble is the digestive organs.

The question of prison labor comes ever to the front. New York is now dealing with it. A commission was appointed to consider the questions involved, and will report a bill to the General Assembly. The bill will prohibit the farming out of convicts and will provide that their products be sold only to state institutions. Hours of hard labor in the prisons are limited to eight hours per day.

Evidence in relation to the Venezuelan boundary dispute is beginning to pour in upon the commission. The original documents, maps and records collected by the commission appointed by President Crespo are being forwarded to Washington; where they are expected to arrive in a week or so. The Venezuelan government has appointed as its counsel before the commission Mr. W. L. Scruggs, of Georgia, who was formerly United States minister to the South American republic.

The fur-seal bill reported by the ways and means committee was brought up for consideration in the house, when the report of the committee was presented by Chairman Dingley. In order to prevent the extermination of fur seals, which will soon take place unless prompt measures can be taken to prevent pelagic sealing, this bill authorizes the president to invite Great Britain, Russia and Japan, or any of them, to unite with the United States in the appointment of a joint commission to investigate the present condition and habits of the fur-seal, and report what further regulations, if any, are necessary for its preservation, with a view to their adoption and enforcement by the countries uniting in creating such commission. If, however, the president finds himself unable to secure the co-operation of Great Britain, especially, in securing the modus vivendi authorized by the bill, so as to protect and preserve the Alaskan seal herd for this year's sealing season, then the secretary of the treasury is authorized to take each and every fur seal on the Pribilof Islands and to sell the skins of said seals as he may elect, and to cover the proceeds into the treasury.

HISTORY OF A WEEK.

THE NEWS OF SEVEN DAYS UP TO DATE.

Political, Religious, Social and Criminal Doings of the Whole World Carefully Condensed for Our Readers—The Accident Record.

The Wilmington Methodist Episcopal conference rejected by a vote of 107 to 7 a proposition to restrict lay delegates to annual conferences to men only. The conference adopted by a vote of 109 to 17 propositions submitted by the Baltimore and Colorado conferences advocating changes in the rules allowing lay delegates to the annual conferences to be men or women.

Following a lecture given at the Christian church at Dunmore, Pa., by an alleged ex-priest named Ruthven, a fight broke out during which about 50 shots were fired, and resulted in four men being injured.

A crowd of men tried to rent the opera-house at Holland, Mich., Monday night for the purpose of holding an indignation meeting over the public horsewhipping last Saturday night of Frank Slooter, a youth who had been acting as correspondent for a sensational paper published in Grand Rapids. Being unable to get the opera house they held an open air meeting and a serious riot was the result. More trouble is expected.

The steamship Warrimoo arrived at Victoria, B. C., bringing news of the destruction of Suva, the capital of Fiji, by a hurricane March 6. It was the most tremendous storm ever known in the southern seas.

The westbound Oregon Short Line train was wrecked near Shoshone, Idaho, Monday, by a broken rail. Two sleepers and Superintendent Van Housen's private car left the track, the latter being smashed. Van Housen escaped with a number of bruises. A number of passengers were slightly injured.

John Ingelstrom, employed on a water works trench at Duluth, Minn., was killed by the accidental discharge of a dynamite cartridge.

FOREIGN.

Newspapers of Spain pretend to regard as unfounded the rumor that President Cleveland will appoint a Cuban commission.

The British barkentine Beeswing, from Portland, Oregon, to London, furnished food and water to the famished sailors of the Spanish barkentine Joven Beatrix, disabled off Flores Island, of the Azores.

The Canadian government has announced that it is the intention to ask the house not to remain in session after April 25. This is a triumph for the opposition, as up to the present the government supporters have contended that parliament would not adjourn until June 8.

Sir H. H. Kitchner, brigadier general in command of the Egyptian forces, and Slatin Pasha have started for the front to assume the direction of the Nile expedition.

A duel has taken place at Rome between General Mocanni, minister of war in the Crispi cabinet, and Signor Barzoldi, arising out of the sharp personal altercation regarding the recall of General Baratieri from Abyssinia. Signor Barzoldi was wounded in the left cheek as a result of the duel.

After a continuous session of thirty-nine hours the Canadian House of Commons passed the second reading of the Manitoba remedial bill by a majority of eighteen. The motion of Mr. Laurier that the second reading of the measure be adjourned six months, was defeated by a majority of twenty-four. The bill now goes into the committee stage. As the Parliament expires April 24 there is no chance of the bill becoming a law.

A dispatch to the London Globe from Cairo says that the khalifa has proclaimed Jehed (holy war) against Egypt and has called all the dervishes capable of bearing arms to enroll under his banners.

Trustworthy information has been received from Havana that the battle fought a few days ago in Pinar del Rio, which the dispatches sent out with the sanction of the press censor described as a Spanish victory, was in reality a lamentable defeat for the forces of General Weyler.

CRIME.

Elijah Rutter and John White, of Brice, Ohio, quarreled over the former's wife and both were fatally injured.

Fletcher Coal Grove, who last August murdered John Goeting and Joseph Herring at Welch, W. Va., has been captured at Vivian.

The family of Dr. Phillip Leibrock, of New Memphis, Ill., was drugged by burglars, who robbed the house of $125, a gold watch and other jewelry.

Bertha McConnell, aged 20, of Coatesville, Pa., shot Harry Thompson at a hotel in Lancaster. After the shooting she returned to her home and shot herself. The double crime is alleged to have been the result of Thompson having deceived her. Both Miss McConnell and her victim will probably die.

John Spradling, son of the proprietor of the American Hotel at Kokomo, Ind., was found dead at the house of Mrs. Frank Price, with a bullet in his heart. Mrs. Price says he tried to kill her, then shot himself. He was 24 years old, and leaves a wife and two children.

A mob took William Murphy from the jail at Huntsville, Tenn., and strung him to a tree Saturday night. Murphy was in jail awaiting trial for the murder of Bill Knowlin, a miner, three weeks ago at Pioneer in Campbell county.

Jack Hess, a burglar, who escaped from the jail at Janesville, Wis., eight years ago, and was recently retaken, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to one year.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Strong resolutions were adopted at a meeting of the people's party county committee at Milwaukee denouncing Senator Carter's bill providing for military drills in the public schools. Rhode Island republicans will select national delegates April 10 at Providence.

Clay county republicans, in convention at Vermillion, S. D., indorsed J. L. Jolley for governor.

Democrats of the Twentieth Illinois congressional district will hold their convention June 17 at Mount Vernon.

Democrats of Benton Harbor, Mich., nominated a full ticket to oppose those of the republicans and the silverites.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Two Philadelphia sailing vessels, the barks Havana and Robert S. Patterson, have been given up for lost, with their crews, numbering thirty persons. J. A. Robertson, of Monterey, has been granted a concession to build waterworks and sewers for the city. The contract involves an expenditure of $1,500,000. Chicago capitalists are interested.

Officers of the Cumberland County, Illinois, Veteran association, have decided to hold the seventh annual reunion at Greenup, July 2, 3 and 4. A number of regimental reunions will be held at the same time and place.

At the First Baptist Church at Terre Haute, Ind., Sunday night Eugene Debs spoke from the pulpit on what the church should do for the labor cause.

Bills are pending in both houses of congress authorizing the government to grant to Nebraska about 12,000,000 acres of land. Protests against the bill have been signed by land owners representing Hooker, McPherson, Grant, Thomas and a part of Cherry county, and these protests have been forwarded to Washington.

J. W. Lintz & Co., grocers of Canton, Ill., have been closed on judgment notes held by Peoria and Canton wholesalers.

Gen. Neal Dow celebrated the 92d anniversary of his birth at Portland, Me., Friday. There was no formal observance of the event. Congratulatory telegrams came from all parts of the country; also cablegrams from England. Gen. Dow still retains perfectly his wonderful vigor and is in complete possession of all his faculties.

A. K. Ward, the $300,000 swindler, who has been held in the Shelby county jail awaiting trial under sixty indictments, is at the point of death at Memphis, Tenn., and, on recommendation of physicians, he was removed to a hospital. He will be guarded night and day by deputy marshals.

The house of representatives, after three days of debate, adopted a resolution censuring Thomas F. Bayard, ex-secretary of state and now ambassador to the court of St. James, for utterances delivered in an address to the Boston (England) grammar school and in an address before the Edinburgh (Scotland) Philosophical institution last fall. The vote stood 180 to 71 in favor of the first resolution and 191 to 59 in favor of the second.

The government engineers in charge of the construction of the Hennepin canal announce that work will be suspended this spring owing to the fact that the appropriation has been nearly exhausted.

The Senate Committee on Territories has agreed to report favorably the bill for the admission of Arizona as a State of the Union.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s review of trade says: "A movement toward better things is still the exception. There is better business in shoes and small industries, and there has been a squeezing of short sellers in cotton, but the general tendency of industries and prices is not encouraging, and those who were most hopeful a month ago are still waiting, not so hopefully, for the expected recovery."

The Central Pennsylvania Methodist Episcopal conference voted to admit women as lay delegates to the general conference by 152 to 52. The proposition to reduce the representation to the general conference passed by a vote of 216 to 25.

HOW ARE YOUR FENCES?

A Very Important Question with Farmers and Others Just Now.

Probably there is nothing that interests the land owner more at this time of the year than fencing. They are desirous of securing the very best article they can for the purpose they desire to use it for and at the cheapest price going. While this is good business, price should not take the place of quality. In building a smooth wire fence you do not build it for temporary use but expect it to last you for years and to get this kind of an article it requires a certain amount of good material to make it.

The De Kalb Fence Co., of De Kalb, Ill., has the largest and most complete line of smooth wire fencing of any plant in the country. We desire particularly to call your attention to their goods and write them for a catalogue which they will mail you free.

No line of goods has grown so rapidly in demand or given such general satisfaction as the fencing manufactured by this company. Their steel web picket fence for lawn and yard purposes, their cabled field and hog fence for farm use, their cabled poultry, garden and rabbit fence for its use, are all they claim for them.

You will hardly do yourself justice if you do not thoroughly investigate their lines before placing your order.

A Sad Meeting.

Not long since the ex-Empress Eugenie visited a gallery of pictures at Monaco. The guide, an old soldier, wearing his decoration, was kindly addressed by her, and she inquired in what regiment he had served. "In the Imperial Guard," he replied, as he looked at the bent, white haired, widowed figure leaning on a stick, and the memory of the empress he had served in all the brilliancy of her beauty rose before his eyes. They gazed at each other silently for a moment and when the old man narrated the incident the tears rolled down his cheeks. "Ah, that was a bad day for France," he said. "They were kind to everybody, and helped the poor."

New Advertising Firm.

The well known firm of newspaper advertising agents, Alden & Faxon, Cincinnati, Ohio, has changed the style of the business firm, and will hereafter be known as the Frank H. Alden & Sons Company. Frank H. Alden admits his two sons, Frank Walker Alden and Clarence Hamilton Alden, to the firm.

Frank H. Alden, the president of the newly formed company, who has been widely known among the newspapers and advertisers for the last twenty-five years, comes of the good old John Alden, of Mayflower stock, his father being the eighth John in direct descent. He has in his possession numbers of curious relics that have been handed down through the family.

The old firm of Alden & Faxon has been well known to the newspaper fraternity for a number of years, and has earned a reputation for fair dealings with the newspapers and prompt and accurate service with the advertisers. Mr. Faxon has not been connected with it for eleven years. Mr. Alden's two sons were educated at Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio, and inherit the same push and energy that has characterized their father. With the new blood that enters the firm, added to the long business experience of the senior member, there is no doubt that this house will continue its prosperous career. This company has always enjoyed a wide reputation and counts among its customers some of the largest advertisers in the West and South.

Unitarianism the Oldest Religion.

The Unitarians cannot be antedated. There are churches who are always seeking a remote date in history for their origin. No religion except that of the Jews can antedate Unitarianism. It is older than the Christian religion, and was established even earlier than the Bible.

Home Seekers, Excursions.

In order to give every one an opportunity to see the Western Country and enable the home seekers to secure a home in time to commence work for the season of 1896, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway has arranged to run a series of four home seekers' excursions to various points in the West. North-West and South-West on the following dates: April 7 and 21 and May 5 at the low rate of two dollars more than one fare for the round trip. Tickets will be good for return on any Tuesday or Friday within twenty-one days from date of sale. For rates, time of trains and further details apply to any coupon ticket agent in the East or South, or address Geo. H. Heafford, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Chicago, Ill.

NEWS OF ILLINOIS.

A RECORD OF THE DOINGS OF SEVEN DAYS.

Some Social, Religious, Political, Obituary, Matrimonial, Criminal and Miscellaneous Happenings That Have Taken Place Since Our Last Issue.

Henry Block, dealer in boots and shoes at Cairo, made an assignment. Liabilities, $2,000.

Frank Cash, of Carpentersville, was killed by a Chicago & Northwestern train near West Chicago.

The trial of Daniel Corr of Waukegan, indicted for murder, was continued in the circuit court until November.

Mr. David Gidney has been appointed postmaster at Cisne, Wayne county, Illinois, to succeed Mr. S. M. Gibney, dead.

The collapse of the rear portion of a two-story frame factory building at Chicago resulted in seriously injuring five persons, and nearly 100 others had narrow escapes.

No trace has yet been found of Richard Stoltz, who disappeared from his home, No. 433 Twenty-sixth street, Chicago, the morning of March 10. It is thought he committed suicide.

During a fire in a six-story brick building at Chicago a serious panic among five hundred women employed there was narrowly averted. Lizzie Smith and Mary Marr fainted from fright. Maggie Burns fell down a flight of stairs, and two boys, John J. Heis and Bernard Rheinhardt, were nearly overcome with smoke. This was the injury suffered, but it was almost a miracle that many lives were not lost.

Nine years ago Theodore Deeben, a butcher residing in Breese, near Carlyle, lost sixteen hides valued at $65 by theft, the thief also taking a valuable horse, the property of another citizen. Recently Mr. Deeben, while buying cattle in the country north of Breese, learned that a quantity of hides were found under the floor of an old school house. He investigated and identified them as his property. Some of the hides were in a good state of preservation.

David Wright, a Scotchman, aged 68 years, died at his home in Benton, Sunday, of pneumonia, and his remains were brought to Carlinville for interment. He had for many years resided in and near that city and last week removed to Benton. He had quite an interesting history, having served in the English army for a number of years, and was a member of the Heavy Brigade that made the first charge at the battle of Balaklava, in the Crimean war, and was an eye-witness of the famous charge of the Light Brigade, under Lord Cardigan. He was not inclined to seek notoriety, but would relate his experiences in the Crimea and show his relics.

The discovery of a house full of stolen goods near Metamora and the escape of the thieves has created much excitement in that community. Three months ago three young men rented a small house one mile from Metamora. They gave side shows and bought some poultry. A farmer in Linn Township awoke one morning to find all his chickens stolen. Sleigh tracks in the yard furnished a clue, and he was led to the house occupied by these boys. He went to Metamora, secured a search warrant and returned with a posse. The boys, becoming alarmed, fled. Five hundred chickens were on the premises, and the house was filled with articles of every description, nearly all of which have been identified as stolen property. A silver communion set belonging to Eureka church was found.

Henry Otto, Fred Hesler, James Cox, Charles Clugston, James McCuslin and a young fellow named Woods, who left La Salle the other morning to explore the cave in Fisher's canon, two miles east of that place, have returned after a fruitless errand. It was believed that the young men would succeed in going deep into the underground chambers, but they made only the passage to the third room when the gas became stifling. The candles and lanterns were extinguished, and, being fearful of going farther, where pits were known to exist, they finally gave up their cherished idea of bringing to light the hidden mysteries of the cave and returned to the surface. After observing the first room, which they judged was about seven feet high and nine feet square, the little party got down on all fours and made their way through the narrow barrel-like hole leading into the second chamber. The entrance to the third chamber is not big enough to admit a large man, but Cox and Clugston crawled through the opening to the third room, which they say was about twenty feet deep and much larger than the second room. In this chamber they found a small quantity of water. Much interest has been revived in the matter by the attempt and the theories of many old residents are numerous. Some think there is another passage into the cave, and a party which is to go out in a few days will work along the cliffs and rocks of the canon to discover it if possible.

The case of Minnie Fisher, of Chicago, the alleged woman detective, charged by Mrs. Edith Bensinger with attempting to extort money from her, was finished last week in Justice Richardson's court. The defendant was held to the grand jury in bonds of $800.

Edward L. Kiser and Miss Jean Kiser, first cousins, who live at Poston, Ind., came to Paris the other day to get married, but the state law of Illinois being the same as Indiana they could not procure a licence. They telegraphed the county clerk of Racine, Wis., asking if they could get married there, and upon receiving an affirmative answer departed for that city. The prospective groom also admitted it was a runaway match, with a jealous lover in the case.

Old Fort Chartres, on the Illinois side of the Mississippi, nearly opposite Ste. Genevieve, Mo., is now practically a thing of the past. The old fort was the last of the chain of forts built by the French to withstand the advent of the English in early colonial days, and extending from Quebec to New Orleans. It has practically been annihilated by recent blastings made by workmen employed by the Federal Government to improve the navigation of the Mississippi River. For many years the fort was the seat of power and fashion in all the West, and was a notable rendezvous for all Western colonial military forces. The fort is now a mere sink hole, where once were massive stone walls. The recent blastings have not left enough of the stone work to indicate where the fort once stood. The river has long been encroaching upon the walls and has gradually undermined most of them, until the structure was practically dismantled before the Government workmen completed the work.

An interesting experiment performed in Aurora Friday would seem to confirm the latest theories in regard to the "X" ray of Prof. Roentgen. The experimenters were L. W. Clark, photographer; W. W. Wooley, optician, and Walter Rockwell, electrician. In the dark room at Clark's gallery a half dollar was fastened to a common 5 by 7 photographic plate. The plate and coin were then placed in a light-tight plate-holder and put in a wooden box. In addition to that they were cemented with putty, and around it all heavy paper was tied. The box and its contents were taken to the power house of the street railway. Here the box was placed on top of one of the dynamos in use there. It was allowed to remain there for two hours. The box was then taken back to the dark room, opened, and the plate developed. It was found to contain a most excellent picture of the coin. As no ray of any sort of light had touched the plate, it is apparent that the picture must simply be the result of the action of some sort of electrical force.

It must have been a very pleasant sight to prohibitionists to witness the deposit of seven hundred barrels of foaming beer into the Desplaines River. This is just what occurred at Wheeling, though it is said a large proportion of the male population stood on the banks smacking lips and looking with a "Linger Longer Lu" glance into the depths of the water. Several weeks ago the Wheeling brewery was abandoned by its promoters, a large stock of malt beverage remaining on hand. The barrels were stored in the warehouse, and as the final disposition of the property seemed uncertain, the village tipplers patiently bided their time until the concealed product should become treasure trove to all whom it might concern. To the horror of these individuals, unfeeling revenue officers appeared on the scene, and, rolling the barrels to the river's bank, drove in the bungs and let the amber fluid mingle with the murky waters of the stream. Some of the more alert of the townspeople, got out boats, and, rowing directly under the brewery platform, succeeded in securing a few tubful of the lager, but the officers discovered the stratagem and foiled all further efforts in that direction. —Peoria Journal.

Horace S. Clark, who has been an active candidate for the republican nomination for governor, issued the following card last week: "To the Republican Voters of Illinois—Gentlemen: The present political situation is such as to satisfy my judgment that a continuance of my candidacy for the nomination for governor would be injudicious, and that my withdrawal from the contest at this time would be conducive to party harmony. I have been in correspondence with active supporters in every county in the state, having personally visited sixty counties and many county conventions, and, without reviewing the situation or moralizing on the causes thereof, I feel that I am fully advised. I take pleasure in expressing my gratification at the uniform personal kindness on the part of my opponents, the public generally, and of the press of the state, without regard to political affiliation. To my supporters I return my sincere thanks for their earnest, honorable and loyal support. With assurances to all of my hearty and loyalty to republicanism and of my earnest support of the nominees of the convention."

MOB RUNS THE TOWN.

EXCITING TIME AT HOLLAND, MICH.

Town Marshal Threatened with Lynching Unless He Frees a Prisoner—Whipping of Frank Sooter the Cause of the Trouble.

The city of Holland, Mich., was in the hands of a mob Monday night which the officers of the law were powerless to manage or placate. Workingmen, who were incensed at the public horsewhipping of Frank Sooter for sending breezy stories to a Grand Rapids paper about prominent people here, were furious that he should be treated so viciously, and were determined to see that amends were made. They held an open air meeting to express their indignation.

As the meeting progressed the crowd became turbulent and the city marshal and two policemen tried to disperse the assemblage. But the men were on their mettle, and instead of going home turned in and assaulted the policemen. A brisk fight terminated in the arrest of one of the citizens, who was dragged off to jail. He was followed by a bellying mob.

RENEWS HIS CHARGES.

Senator Chandler Talks of Very Large Sums Raised for McKinley. The Washington Post prints a letter from Senator Chandler, in which he reiterates many of the charges he lately made against McKinley's managers. Mr. Chandler said in part:

"The interview with me on the 16th has led to much misrepresentation of its terms. I said nothing unkind of

FLAG ADOPTED FOR BALLINGTON BOOTH'S NEW ARMY.

The ground is white, emblematical of purity. A blue star in the center stands for Hope, while the white cross upon it signifies sacrifice for others. The white stars on a blue field in the upper corner represent the States of the Union. Each post of "God's American Volunteers," as the new organization is to be known, will have its number underneath the center star.

The men threatened all sorts of dire vengeance if their comrade were not released. They shouted to the marshal that they would burn the jail and lynch him if he held the prisoner another minute. The marshal, who was greatly frightened on hearing these threats, let the man go. The crowd did not quiet down until 11 o'clock, but the end is not yet.

The jail is a frail affair, intended chiefly for the detention of minor offenders. It is probable the matter will get into the courts. Sooter's father's friends came to his aid, backing was furnished, and five prominent business men, W. L. Billings, G. A. Kanfers, J. J. Hadden, S. Arleth and Steve Mohr, were arrested on the charge of assault and battery. Bail was furnished and trial appointed for next Saturday.

A DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

Over a Quarter of Million Dollars' Loss at Philadelphia.

Chestnut street, west of Fifteenth street, Philadelphia, Pa., was visited by a most destructive fire Monday night, which broke out about 5 o'clock in the six-story building of the Thackera Manufacturing company, manufacturers and dealers in fancy gas fixtures and candelabra, at 1524-26 Chestnut street. The firm employed about 200 hands, who were at work at the time.

Before the engines arrived the entire front part of the building was on fire. Meanwhile a majority of the workmen made their escape. A dozen or more, however, were hemmed in, and had to be taken from the windows by the firemen.

The Thackera building runs from Chestnut street to Sansom, a distance of 236 feet, and has a frontage of forty feet. It is owned by William Weightman and is valued at $300,000, fully covered by insurance. The rear part was but slightly damaged. The loss on the building will amount to about $150,000. The Thackera company's stock, machinery and patterns was valued at about $250,000. These are a total loss, but are protected by an insurance of about $150,000. Several smaller firms suffered losses.

Want Britain to Leave Egypt.

It is asserted at Paris, France, that other powers besides France and Russia will seize the occasion of the British-Egyptian expedition up the Nile to demand a guaranty for the evacuation of Egypt. The negotiations between France and Great Britain, however, promise to have a satisfactory settlement.

Says Harrison Is Not in the Field.

Mr. W. D. Owens of Indianapolis, secretary of the state of Indiana, is visiting in Battle Creek, Mich. In answer to the question as to what there was in the rumor that General Harrison would be a presidential candidate, he replied that it was all rumor, without any foundation in fact, as everyone in the state took Mr. Harrison at his word, and believed the letter he had written.

CHICAGO THEATERS.

AMUSEMENT ATTRACTIONS FOR COMING WEEK.

What the Managers of the Various City Play-Houses Offer Their Patrons—Drama, Vaudeville and Operatic Engagements.

M'VICKER'S THEATER.—The last two weeks are announced of James A. Herne in "Shore Acres," at McVicker's theater. The last performance of that beautiful play will be given on Saturday evening, March 28, when it will depart from Chicago not to be seen there again for over a year. Mr. Herne in his character of Uncle Nat is one of the most beautiful types of New Englanders that one could imagine. The one hundredth performance of the play will take place in Chicago on Monday evening, March 23, when handsome souvenirs will be given to all attending. Seats are now on sale for all the remaining performances.

Minnie Maddern Fiske will begin an engagement at McVicker's theater, following Herne, Monday evening, March 30. She will come direct from a two-weeks engagement at the Garden theater, New York, and the play that she will open her season here with will be the one that meets with the most success in that city.

CHICAGO OPERA HOUSE.—"The Foundling," Charles Frohman's recent New York success, with the original cast, will be seen at the Chicago Opera house commencing next Sunday evening, March 27. This attraction, it will be remembered, was seen at Hooley's last winter. Miss Cissy Fitzgerald, the Gaiety dancer, is to appear in new and inimitable dances. "The Man Upstairs," by Augustus Thomas, will be the curtain raiser.

SCHILLER THEATER.—At the Schiller theater on next Sunday evening Stuart Robson will give his first Chicago production of "Mrs. Ponderbury's Past," which was founded on "Mme. Mongodin," by Charles Bernard of the London Punch, that play being Blum and Toches' successful farce, which ran for three years in Paris. The version which Mr. Robson will use is now enjoying its third month at the Avenue theater, London.

A. E. Lancaster and Nathaniel Hartwig are the authors of "The Mystery of Agnes Page," Marie Wainwright's new play, which will be produced shortly at the Schiller. Mr. Hartwig has been Miss Wainwright's leading man for five years.

RINGLING'S CIRCUS.—When April comes Ringling's circus will usher in the summer season of amusements very enjoyably no doubt at Tattersall's on Sixteenth street. They have commenced work already for the opening and a big gang of carpenters are preparing the quarters, which will house the menagerie and the performing animals of all sorts.

The menagerie proper will be exhibited in the long corridors under the seats. This portion of the show will be made to resemble a circus tent illuminated by hundreds of incandescent lights, and when the many cages are arranged and the animals led in their places the effect will be very novel. Tattersall's will be brilliantly illuminated and the electric lighting, which has been arranged specially for this engagement, will not only make the four streets surrounding Tattersall's as bright as day, but will also extend a cordon of arc lights from Wabash avenue to Clark street. The show will open April 11 and close May 2.

Amusement Notes.

Col. Robert Ingersoll will deliver a lecture at McVicker's theater on Sunday evening, April 12. The subject of it will most likely be "Why I Am an Agnostic." Seats for this lecture can be ordered by addressing H. G. Sommers.

Mr. Richard Mansfield produced his "Parisian Romance" for the first time at a matinee at the Grand Opera house last Thursday.

Sir Henry Irving delivered his lecture, "The Character of Macbeth," before the students of the Chicago university last Tuesday afternoon.

Years ago Sadie Martinot used to act with Dion Boucicault in his plays. Now she is taking the same parts with his son, Aubrey Boucicault.

Eleonora Duse, the great Italian actress, will most likely play an engagement of five performances at McVicker's theater early in the spring. However, that will depend largely upon the interest manifested in her coming. A subscription sale will be started for the entire five performances, and if the showing is satisfactory contracts will be signed for her appearance.

THE USE OF COSMETICS.

Both the Greek and Roman ladies tried to improve their complexions. In Augustus' reign only women of high birth were permitted to use white lead. In the middle ages every woman printed and powdered. Even the nuns used a great deal of "make-up" and corpses were rouged to give them a life-like appearance.

The E. J. & E. Railroad Co. have been doing considerable business at this place in the freight line, still they might increase their business to a considerable extent if they would erect a suitable freight house at some convenient point on their line where it could be reached by wagon. The provisions they now have for handling local freight are very poor. The present freight house consists of a tower, filled with apparatus used for signaling and switching trains, this apparatus occupying nearly all the space. The nearest point to this tower to be reached by wagon is a quarter of a mile distant.

The third of a series of meetings of the Milk Shippers' Protective association convened at the town hall in Libertyville Wednesday of last week. The object of the association is not to antagonize good dealers, but to crowd out all irresponsible dealers who buy milk but never pay for it. If you have a good dealer who pays promptly and according to contract the association does not interfere, but if you have reasons to think that your dealer is not responsible the association will, on request, investigate his financial standing, and if found not responsible he will be required to furnish bond, and if he fails to furnish bond, his financial standing will be reported to all the members, so that they can be aware of him in the future. A number new members added their names to the association's roster. The officers propose to push the work of organizing on all the roads leading into Chicago as rapidly as possible, and hope to have the association in proper running shape by May 1st. The objects of the association ought to commend it to every milk shipper near Chicago.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

ALAMEDA, CAL., March 17, '96.

ED REVIEW: "We got back to our starting place tonight, and will now give you a little description of our trip.

We reached San Jose on February 5th, and made our headquarters at the home of Mr. B. Bute, a brother of the late Lewis Bute. Our host at one time lived in Barrington, but in 1852 started for California, and after traveling thirteen months and nine days he reached Santa Clara valley—walking most of the way. He is today one of the oldest pioneers of this section.

We stopped at San Jose three weeks, during which time I was on the road all the time. Mr. Bute owns four horses, and all we had to do was to hitch them up.

On February 7th I accompanied Mr. Bute to the ranch owned by himself and Mr. Bishop, situated on top of the foothills, a distance of twenty-five miles from San Jose. We had to climb uphill four miles of the distance, reaching the ranch at 7 o'clock in the evening. The ranch is a fine place and consists of 545 acres. We stayed in the little house over night, and cooked our own meals. The next day we inspected the ranch and the live stock, after which we began our homeward journey, enjoying an elegant drive.

On February 10th we were given a pleasant treat in the shape of a visit to the New Alameda Quicksilver mines, situated about twelve miles from San Jose. We went all through the smelting works, and saw how the ore is taken out of the rock. We did not go to the place where they were digging it out of the earth, as that point is situated about two miles up the mountain, making it a very dangerous drive. This is the largest quicksilver mine in the United States, and the second largest in the world. It has been worked for over fifty years. They claim it has been the best paying mine in the United States, not excepting any gold or silver mine, but they are not working it much now—only running three furnaces and operating between 300 and 400 men. At one time nine furnaces were running in full blast, while 1,500 men found employment. The miners live in a village on top of the mountain. After picking up a few pieces of ore we started back for home. It was a nice drive. All the roads in Santa Clara county are very smooth. Up to 1880 the mine had produced 55,000,000 pounds of quicksilver.

February 12th Mr. Bute and I drove for thirty miles in one orchard. Prune trees predominated, with a liberal sprinkling of peaches, apricots and grape vines. The almond trees were just beginning to bloom.

The next day we drove out to Alum Rocks, about eight miles from San Jose. In order to reach this magnificent spot, which serves also as a park for the inhabitants of San Jose, you drive through two miles of a deep canyon. Beautiful scenery greets your sight on every hand. If you do not care to drive out to this park you can ride out on the steam cars. Hot and cold springs, as well as soda and sulphur springs are to be found here, enabling you to take most any kind of a drink or bath.

February 14th we took a drive through Santa Clara and inspected the state asylum. The asylum has 920 inmates. From here we drove to the Lick paper mills. It was quite a treat to go through the mills, as none of us had ever seen paper made before. On the return trip home we visited Chinatown. The Chinamen were celebrating their New Year's day, and seemed to enjoy the occasion very much. They kept open house. Leaving our vehicle we went through a great many of their buildings, among which were stores, restaurants, markets, and their "Josh house" in which they conduct their religious meetings. As we were walking on the street one of the Chinamen noticed Leah, and going into the house he brought out the smallest Chinese baby I ever saw. After shaking hands the two babies bid each other goodbye and we returned home.

While out driving with Mr. Bute the next day I had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Page Hollister, a brother of L. Hollister, sr. In the afternoon we took a drive through the city.

Mr. Bute took me to Mountain Hill, about eighteen miles distant. On the way I got out and measured two sycamore trees (both on one stump), one measuring 18 and the other 14 feet in circumference. After driving a few miles further we came up to an oak tree which measured 24 feet 6 inches in circumference or a little over 8 feet in diameter, and which would cut about twenty cords of wood.

February 17th we took a drive to the homes of Miss Bowen and Mrs. Umberger, who formerly lived at Barrington. They have elegant homes and fine orchards.

On February 17th we visited Saratoga Springs, about twelve miles from San Jose. It is a splendid drive through fine orchards. After eating lunch we walked one mile up the canyon to Soda Springs, where we refreshed ourselves with a drink of natural soda water. After picking some flowers and ferns we returned home via Los Gatos, which is a beautiful village of 2,000 inhabitants, situated on the side of a mountain, four miles from the Springs. Los Gatos is a new town, and is surrounded by beautiful scenery. The day was beautiful, with the exception that it was very warm—82 in the shade.

In the afternoon of the next day we called on Mrs. Sinnott, a former Barrington resident. We were most delightfully entertained. The girls were all at home, and the family is enjoying excellent health. Mrs. Sinnott is homesick for Barrington.

CARBOLINEUM AVENARIUS—THE WORLD-FAMED WOOD-PRESERVING OIL STAIN AND PREVENTIVE OF DAMPNES IN WALLS.

It is a well known fact that all kinds of wood will rot sooner or later and it is evident, that great advantages must be derived from a process insuring durability in wood. Fifteen Years of careful experiments have fully demonstrated to the world that the patent oil compound, "Carbolineum Avenarius" meets all requirements so long sought for. It is acknowledged to surpass all preparations in efficiency, cheapness and simplicity of application. It is anti-septic oil for impregnating wood, and protects by its preserving and disinfecting properties, all kinds of wood from decay, fungus and rot for any length of time. It will never wear out nor wash off, and is neither inflammable nor poisonous. It imparts to woodwork a neat and lasting nut-brown color and its large covering capacity makes it the cheapest paint for all farm buildings, barns, graineries, silos, fence posts, wind-mill towers, etc. Sidewalks, floors, fence posts and vineyard posts will never rot nor break down; shingles will never shrink, curl or rot; shingle roofs will never leak, troughs, tanks, cisterns and cellars will always be clean and sweet where this paint is used. It will keep away flies, gnats, mice, rats, etc. In cases of diseases of cattle, horses, sheep and swine, it will prevent contagion. Chicken Coops will always be free from lice if painted with this preparation.

NOT TO BE TRIFLED WITH.

From Cincinnati Gazette: Will people never learn that a "cold" is an accident to be dreaded, and that when it occurs treatment should be promptly applied? There is no knowing where the trouble will end; and while complete recovery is the rule, the exceptions are terribly frequent, and thousands upon thousands of fatal illnesses occur every year ushered in by a little injudicious exposure and seemingly trifling symptoms. Beyond this, there are to-day countless invalids who can trace their complaints to "colds," which at the time of occurrence gave no concern, and was therefore neglected.—When troubled with a cold use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is prompt and effectual. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. L. Waller, Druggist.

The Fools.
Shh! Shh! Keep still!
Don't tell it Bill,
An' we'll have a pile of fun
Wid a dollar bill—
Dat's what we will,
It's just dead easy done!
We'll drop 'er down
In de road, near town,
Wid a string on, fine and strong;
An' behind de gate
We'll hide, an' wait
Fer de fools ter come along!

An' when—gee whiz!
Dey sees what 'tis,
Dey'll try ter swipe it cool.
An' den, by Jing,
We'll pull de string
An' holler April Fool!

But the fun was dry,
Not a soul came by
To reward their patient wait!

And the fools, they say,
Who were fooled that day
Were the fools behind the gate.

OATCAKE'S APRIL 1.

LOOK OUT FOR THE BEAR.

Of course Mr. Oatcake could not resist the temptation of taking a squint at bruin, so he ambled up to the box rather nervously and peeped through the bars that had been nailed across the top to keep Mr. Bear safe. Finding that the box was entirely empty Mr. Oatcake began to scratch his head. How had the bear got out? Then someone yelled April fool. Mr. Oatcake allowed that it was a good one.

Later in the day Mr. Oatcake took in the dime museum. He interviewed the fat girl, talked populism with the bearded lady, visited the chamber of horrors, and had enjoyed himself generally when he saw the following sign:

SEE THE GREAT RED BAT.

Draw Back the Curtain.

He drew back the curtain. Then he saw a big red brick and turned a double somersault in his haste to get away. He hadn't counted on being April-fooled twice in one day.

After leaving the museum Mr. Oatcake thought he would take a drink or two, and at once proceeded to a convenient liquor dispensary. "I'll take a beer," he said, putting a nickel on the bar; "been April-fooled twice and have concluded to drown my feelings." He was just the individual that the bartender with the decoy beer glass was looking for. It was produced in short order, and Mr. Oatcake showed himself to be rather an adept at the art of blowing off the foam. Then he expanded his capacious maw, preparatory to taking a gulp. But it wouldn't gulp worth a cent. It was only an artificially colored glass with real foam. Farmer Oatcake concluded that he had better hitch up and start home. Nearing a railway grade

TURNED A DOUBLE SOMERSET, crossing within the city limits he saw a man frantically waving a red flag and telling him to stop.
"No yer don't, yer gol darned flannel-mouthed son-of-a-gun; I've been fooled three times already," and he plied the whip with effect. In another instant Mr. Oatcake and his outfit were taking a ride on the cowcatcher of the engine. Fortunately he was not badly hurt, but the approach of April 1 always causes him to shudder.

THE THREE MISS BROWNS.

Their Wonderful Present and What Came of It.

Bang! bang! went the door bell. It rang fearfully.

"Betty," said the boarding-house mistress, "go out and see who that giant is that is trying to break the door bell."

The door bell jingled and rattled and rang! Betty tripped downstairs and opened the door.

A district messenger, three feet high, stood on the doorstep, smoking a powerful cigarette. Now and again a cloud of smoke hid him from view.

The small messenger held his cigarette lightly and gracefully in the air and said:

"Here's a box for Miss Brown. There is 25 cents due on it."

Betty paid the money and took the box.

Then he shot down the steps like a meteor and actually ran to a cigar store on the corner after another package of cigarettes.

"Miss Brown!" called Betty from the hallway, "here is a box for you!"

Three pretty young ladies answered the call, for it happened there were three Miss Browns in the boarding-house.

"Which Miss Brown?" asked each in chorus.

"There is no first name," said Betty; "only Miss Brown."

The three fair Miss Browns looked at the box in a brown study. It was certainly meant for a Miss Brown in their boarding-house, for the number had been written in large numbers on the box lid.

The Miss Browns agreed that they would open the box and if there was nothing in it to indicate which of them the box was intended for they would divide its contents.

The three Miss Browns opened the box with gleeful faces and great expectations.

There was nothing in it but a brick. The day was April 1.

SHE DID IT.

What He Was Sent For, Though Not What He Expected.

He was young and enthusiastic, and he loved her to distraction.

"If I could but serve you," he said to the object of his adoration, "I would indeed be the happiest of mortals. Command me."

And the damsel blushed and said she would.

"Stay here a moment and I will give you a note to take to a friend. You will bring back a package," and she smiled, oh! so sweetly, as she glided from the room.

She returned in a few moments and handed him the precious message. Away he flew. Distance was no object to him. He reached his destination. The letter was opened and returned with the remark that the package he was to fetch was at another remote part of the town.

He flew there, only to be referred to the sergeant of police, at the nearest station. The sergeant read the message and directed him to another official, who in his turn sent the young man four miles out of the city. But the elusive package was not to be found.

One sent him to Brooklyn, another to Jersey City, until at length, weary, footsore and unable to go further, he sank upon a doorstep and tearing open the missive read these words:

"Send the fool further."

A DREADFUL DAY.

The Quick-Tempered Father and His Darling Little Boy.

The father had been out late the night before, "working on the books at the office," you know, and when he sat down to breakfast with his wife and Willie, rosy-cheeked, mischievous, and lovable Willie, their only child, he was not in good humor.

He found fault because the coffee had cooled (while breakfast was waiting for him), he grumbled because his eggs were too hard boiled, and he made his wife and child as miserable as he himself was.

The climax of his ugliness was reached when for some fancied sin on Willie's part he rushed the boy into the parlor and gave him a sound thrashing.

When breakfast was resumed it was eaten in silence except for the child's half-choked sobs.

The father was sorry for what he had done. He had a nervous temperament. He did not stop to smoke his usual morning pipe, but hurried away. As he reached the door Willie came up to him with upturned face and said:

"Willie wants to kiss papa. Willie loves papa."

The father's heart was touched and he regretted his actions. Riding downtown in the train he read in his morning paper of the death of a little boy by being run over while at play by a passing truck. He imagined the scene, and it was impressed upon his mind. Then his mind ran on with strange imaginings. What if his boy should be killed. What if when he arrived home at night Willie should be dead—dead before he could tell his boy how much he loved him, and how sorry he was for his cruel conduct.

Of course there was not one chance in a million of his losing his child; but then! there was that one chance. The idea soon developed into a presentiment that haunted him all day. He performed his duties in a mechanical manner, while picturing a white casket, and a chubby little face cold in death. By night he had worked himself into a terrible mental condition. He left the "L" train and walked with nervous steps toward home.

Willie was not playing in front of the house as usual. The father missed the usual kiss and "Hello, papa! I'm glad you're come."

He ascended the steps. He saw white crape on the door bell. He reeled and gasped for breath, and saw nothing but mist. Then recovering himself, he opened the door, and with moist eyes entered the house.

What was it he saw? Was it Willie? Yes, it was his little son who merrily shouted:

"April Fool, papa; April Fool!" And papa didn't do a thing to Willie.—S. R. Egor in New York World.

A Good One on Mr. Blank.

The best April-fool joke of recent times was played on a Chicago commission merchant a few years ago. Chicago commission merchants are not always good natured and Mr. Blank was no exception to the rule. In fact, he was unusually gruff, and was never known to take a joke as such. That is probably the reason that he was a favorite mark for the practical joker. On March 31 one of his friends caused the following ad to appear in the columns of a Chicago paper the following morning:

Wanted—Fifty Maltese cats at once. Highest prices paid. Bring them along. Blank, Commission Merchant, —S. Water street.

When Mr. Blank arrived at his store he was surprised to see a line of boys in front of his store each with a cat under his arm. When he learned what it was all about he became a veritable madman. It was many weeks before he recovered his composure.

Folly am I;
This is my day.
The old, the young,
The grave, the gay,
Abide awhile with me to cheer
The world's dull, humdrum way.

The richest man,
The proudest girl;
The polished wit,
The heavy churl
Are caught off guard and jostled much
In folly's merry whirl.

No harm is meant;
All's but for fun;
And when the day
Its course has run,
Whoever's done the mischief gay
Have all themselves been "done."

South Africa's Gold Output.

The output of gold from the Rand district in South Africa has been declining for some months. The production in January was 148,178 ounces, as compared with 178,428 ounces in December, 195,218 ounces in November, and 203,578 ounces in August, when the production touched its highest point. And yet the reports from the district give no intimation that the mines are approaching exhaustion.

Still Giving Away Prizes.

The novel prize contests of the Omaha World-Herald still continue. The last one closed February first and the prizes have been awarded.

The new prize contest just announced in our advertising columns is to see who can construct the longest good sentence in English without using any letter more than three times. As usual the first prize is a $600.00 piano, this time a Kimball, and five or six hundred dollars in cash prizes follow.

Of course the object of the Weekly World-Herald is to secure new subscribers for their popular and newsy journal.

This is the third big contest of the kind which the World-Herald has had to boom circulation and Editor Bryan's paper, which champions the cause of free silver, must be spending a good deal of it in prizes.

Labor.

Wage workers can never be permitted in a republican government to become a class by themselves, and to array themselves against all other classes. The solidarity of labor is just as great a menace to the peace of the nation as would be the solidarity of capital. It is the solidarity of society which furnishes the true principles of all our conduct.—Rev. Washington Gladden.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. Sour

Stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour with severe pains across my shoulders, and great distress. I had violent nausea which would leave me very weak and faint, difficult to get my breath. These spells came oftener and more severe. I did not receive any lasting benefit from physicians, but found such happy effects from a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I took several bottles and mean to always keep it in the house. I am now able to do all my own work, which for six years I have been unable to do. My husband and son have also been greatly benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla—for pains in the back, and after the grip. I gladly recommend this grand blood medicine." FROM WASHINGTON.

THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE LIVTH CONGRESS.

A Brief Report of the Doings in Upper and Lower Houses of the National Legislature — The Work of a Week Condensed.

Seventy-seventh Session.

The house entered upon the consideration of the resolutions censuring Mr. Bayard for speeches delivered by him before the Grammar school at Boston, England, and before the Edinburgh (Scotland) Philosophical Institution last fall.

Mr. Hitt, chairman of the foreign affairs committee, and Mr. McCreary, who was chairman of the committee in the last congress, opened respectively for and against the resolutions. Mr. Draper (rep. Mass.) announced his inability to bring himself to vote for the resolutions on censure. If the utterances were inappropriate the punishment was too harsh. Mr. Cousins' speech in support of the resolutions was the feature of the proceedings. The debate will conclude today.

Mr. Hitt reviewed the speeches delivered by Mr. Bayard. The one at Edinburgh, delivered two days after the November election, he characterized as a "political diatribe." That speech called attention again to the speech previously delivered at Boston, describing the Americans as a "violent people." That, he said, was the case upon which the committee on foreign affairs reported these resolutions of censure.

Mr. Dismore (dem., Ark.), in closing, analyzed Mr. Bayard's utterances on the subject of protection and defended them. He quoted from Senator Chandler's interview about the "levies on protected industries" by the boomers of McKinley. This statement brought Mr. Grosvenor (rep., Ohio) to his feet, with an indignant denial of its truth.

During the consideration in the senate of a resolution to open the Uncompahgre reservation in Utah Secretary Hoke Smith was severely criticized by Senators Cannon (Utah), Wolcott (Col.) and Vest (Mo.), and the last named said there had been a time when a cabinet officer who deliberately disobeyed the law would be brought before the bar of the senate, but that it was now quite common for such officers to refuse to carry out the law.

Mr. Vest declared there was a disposition on the part of the administration not to treat the people of the west fairly, and as if they did not know what they wanted. He referred to the late address of the president to the Presbyterian mission board in New York, the president standing on the threshold of the rum holes and places of vice in New York and saying the people of the west needed missionary aid. Senator Vest said that if the president would hunt fewer ducks in North Carolina and silver democrats in Kentucky it would be better for the country.

Senator Vilas pleaded for time to consider the resolution. Its passage would be a reflection upon the secretary and even upon the president. The Uncompahgre reservation bill finally was laid aside after being made the unfinished business after the pending Arkansas claim bill was disposed of, and then Mr. Thurston took the floor on the Dupont case.

Seventy-Eighth Session.

Mr. Taft (O.), a member of the house committee on foreign affairs, urged the adoption of the vote of censure of Ambassador Bayard. Mr. Pearson (rep., N. C.) eulogized Mr. Bayard for his services to his country, but was in favor of the passage of the resolutions.

Mr. Tucker (dem., Va.), member of the foreign affairs committee, argued that the republicans were deluding themselves with the idea that Mr. Bayard's characterization of the American people was offensive. Personally, he was proud of the description of them as a "strong, self-confident and oftentimes violent people—men who seek to have their way"; that was a glorious description of the history of the Anglo-Saxons as a people.

After some brief remarks by Mr. McCall (rep., Mass.) in favor of the resolutions, Mr. Barrett (rep., Mass.), the author of the original resolutions of impeachment, took the floor.

After some further remarks by Mr. Cooper (dem., Fla.) against the resolutions and Mr. Watson (rep., O.) and Mr. Gibson (rep., Tenn.) in favor of them, Mr. Sulzer (dem., N. Y.) enlivened the proceedings with some personal remarks about the valor of republicans who assailed Thomas F. Bayard when he was not present to defend himself. He devoted most of his time to Mr. Gibson of Tennessee, displaying to the house a circular, which, he said, was sent out under Mr. Gibson's frank, describing his qualifications as a candidate and entitled: "Rally, boys, once again. Send Gibson back to congress and the country is saved." Mr. Gibson characterized Mr. Sulzer's statement as an infamous falsehood, and the house was treated to a lively personal controversy between the two gentlemen.

Cuba had the attention of senators Gray, Chilton and Caffery, the debates being enlivened by many spirited incidents. Mr. Gray's plea for Cuba brought on a running cross-fire of comment and inquiry from Mr. Hale. The Delaware senator caused much amusement by referring to Mr. Hale as "the senator from Spain." A fresh and vigorous contribution to the debate came from Mr. Chilton (Tex.), who has seldom addressed the senate. He urged that there was abundant work at home to occupy the attention of congress instead of enlisting in humanitarian crusades abroad with their possibilities of war. Mr. Caffery also opposed the Cuban resolutions. Senators Palmer, Mills, Platt and some others are yet to be heard on the resolutions and no time for a vote has been fixed.

Seventy-ninth Session.

Senator Morgan presented a new phase of the Cuban question to the senate shortly before adjournment by offering a resolution declaring that a state of war existed in Cuba and recognizing the insurgents as belligerents. The pending resolutions are concurrent, while these, being joint, would, if adopted, require the president's signature.

The Cuban resolutions before the senate received an unexpected reverse. Mr. Sherman sought to interrupt the usual course of adjourning over Saturday unless unanimous consent was given to take final vote on the Cuban question at a stated time next week. The unanimous consent was not given, however, and the senate voted—42 to 22—to adjourn over Saturday. The defeat was regarded as an evidence of growing opposition to the Cuban resolutions. Most of the day was given to the Cuban debate, speeches being made by Mr. Caffery of Louisiana in opposition and Mr. Call of Florida supporting the resolutions. The Dupont election contest came up long enough to allow Mr. Allen (pop.) opportunity to express his views against Mr. Dupont's claim.

Mr. Call said there was no excuse for hesitation or doubt in the course of the government as regards intervention in Cuba. Mr. Platt asked: "Suppose we suggest intervention and Spain does not accept it, then does the senator propose that we shall go to war?"

"First, let us make our declaration and see what effect that has," answered Mr. Call. "Next, let us repeal our neutrality laws, allow our brave boys and men, ready to risk their lives in the cause of freedom, an opportunity to do so. That will settle the question without a war and will settle it within ninety days." Mr. Palmer took the floor on the Cuban resolutions, but postponed his remarks until Monday.

A resolution offered by Mr. Chandler was adopted for an inquiry by the naval committee of the desirability of building one naval turret above another.

Eightieth Session.

On motion of Mr. Sherman, chairman of the committee on foreign relations, the Cuban resolutions were recommitted to the conference committee. The vote to recommit was unanimous and without the formality of a roll call—representing a general consensus of opinion that the committee should so change the resolutions as to overcome the opposition that has developed. Messrs. Sherman, Morgan and Lodge were appointed to represent the senate in a further conference.

Subsequently Mr. Platt offered another phase of the Cuban subject by presenting the following concurrent resolution, which was referred to the committee on foreign relations: "Resolved, That the senate, the house of representatives concurring, hereby express its earnest desire and hope that Cuba may soon become a free, independent and republican government and that the friendly offices of the United States should be offered by the president to the Spanish government to secure this result."

The house spent most of the day considering the Curtis bill to abolish the death penalty in all cases where it is prescribed in the federal statute (sixty in number), save in cases of murder and rape under sections 5339 and 5345 of the revised statutes, where, however, the jury might qualify the verdict, "Without capital punishment." The bill makes no changes in the penalties that can be inflicted by military and naval court-martial. Mr. Henderson (rep., Iowa), chairman of the judiciary committee, called up the bill.

Mr. Culberson (dem., Tex.) gave the bill his support. He said, with reference to the Indian territory cases, of which seventy-three were pending, that the district attorney believed convictions could be more easily secured if qualified verdicts were allowed, as few of the murders were deliberate, premeditated killings. He criticized the bill, however, because it made treason punishable only with life imprisonment. Although there were few cases of treason, that crime, in his opinion, should head the list.

Mr. Grosvenor (rep., O.) opposed the bill, not because it curtailed the death penalty, but because he did not believe that juries should fix penalties.

Mr. Gillett offered an amendment, which was agreed to, 68 to 17, making treason punishable by death.

When the bill was placed upon its passage Mr. Barrett made the point of no quorum. Speaker Reed was unable to count more than 128 members and at 5:05 the house adjourned.

The Consequences of Overwork and Exposure.

From the News, Wanatah, Ind.

At Wanatah, La Porte County, Indiana, lives Samuel Atwater, who for many years lived a life of such suffering as seemed well nigh impossible for man to bear.

To a reporter who called upon him Mr. Atwater willingly told the story of his deliverance, which is here given in his own language:

"For many years I have been a sufferer from the most excruciating pains in the back of my head and neck and also in the small of my back. These pains were caused by overwork and exposure, and were so intense at times as to be almost unbearable. I would toss upon my bed at night suffering untold agony. I tried every remedy which I or my friends thought would give even temporary relief, but all to no purpose. I was able to attend to my work at times but suffered greatly while doing so. Last spring I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and now after six months' trial can say that they have done more for me than all the medicine I have ever taken. The pain is all gone and I feel like a new man. I have worked at the hardest kind of farm work all summer and have gained in weight and feel better than I have before for many years."

"As a blood purifier and nerve builder they cannot be equalled. I feel it a duty to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to everyone suffering from any of the various forms of disease for which they are prepared, for they have certainly done wonders for me."

(Signed) Samuel Atwater.
Sworn and subscribed to before me this 30th day of September, 1895.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

4th PRIZE CONTEST.

1st Prize, Kimball Piano, "Style 3,"	$ 600 00
2d Prize, Bicycle, for man or woman	75 00
3d Prize, Cash	50 00
10 Cash Prizes, each $25	250 00
10 Cash Prizes, each $10	100 00
60 Cash Prizes, each $2	120 00
83 Prizes	$1,195 00

The first prize will be given to the person who constructs the longest sentence in good English containing no letter of the alphabet more than three times. It is not necessary to use every letter of the alphabet. The other prizes will go in regular order to those competitors whose sentences are next in length. Every competitor whose sentence reaches twenty-two letters will receive a paper covered volume containing twelve of Wilkie Collins' novels whether he wins a prize or not. This contest closes April 15, 1896. The prize winners will be announced one week later and the winning sentences published. In case two or more prize-winning sentences are of the same length preference will be given to the best one. Each competitor must construct his own sentence, and no person will be allowed to enter this contest more than once. Sentences cannot be corrected or substituted after they are received. Residents of Omaha are not permitted to compete, directly or indirectly.

RULES FOR THE SENTENCE—(No Others Furnished.) The length of a sentence is to be measured by the number of letters it contains, but no letter can be used or counted more than three times. No word except "a" or "I" can be used more than once. The sentence must consist of complete words. Signs, figures, abbreviations or contractions, etc., must not be used. The pronoun "I" and the article "a" will be accepted as complete words. Proper nouns cannot be used. Each contestant must indicate by figures at the end of his sentence how many letters it contains. This remarkably liberal offer is made by the WEEKLY WORLD-HERALD, of which the distinguished ex-congressman, and it is required that each competing sentence be enclosed with one dollar for a year's subscription. The WEEKLY WORLD-HERALD is issued in semi-weekly sections, and hence is nearly as good as a daily. It is the western champion of free silver coinage and the leading family newspaper of Nebraska.

A canvass among the druggists of this place reveals the fact Chamberlain's are the most popular proprietary medicines sold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, especially, is regarded as in the lead of all throat trouble remedies, and as such, is freely prescribed by physicians. As a croup medicine, it is unexcelled, and most families with young children keep a bottle always handy for instant use. The editor of the Graphic has repeatedly known Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to do the work after all other medicines had failed.—The Kimball, S. D., Graphic. MORTUARY RECORD.

Philip Franz Theodore Martens died Sunday morning at 8 o'clock at the home of his son-in-law, Fred Wagner, of lung troubles, at the age of 59 years 5 months and 26 days.

Mr. Martens was born in Maidrow, Germany, on September 24th, 1836, and emigrated to America in 1863. He lived at Crystal Lake for a year, after which he came to Barrington, where he has lived ever since. He was married thirty-three years ago to Miss Friedericka Rachow.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, Rev. E. Rahn officiating. Interment took place in Evergreen cemetery.

The deceased leaves a wife and four children—Mrs. Fred Wagner, Mrs. Wm. Elsner, Henry and Frank—to mourn his loss.

Lillian, the 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Melners, died Monday morning of bronchitis, and was buried Thursday afternoon, Rev. Sulr of the Salem church officiating. The services were beautiful. Sadie Blocks and Lydia Sadt were the flower girls, while Jennie Landwer, Louisa Rieke, Hulda Sulr and Edith Landwer acted as pallbearers.

Clara, the 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schwankopf at Palatine, died Friday, of lung fever, and was buried Monday afternoon, Rev. Sulr of the Salem church officiating. The Salem church choir rendered several appropriate songs.

Emma, the 4-year-old daughter of Joseph and Christina Schaening, died Wednesday, of diphtheritic croup. Interment in St. Paul's cemetery yesterday afternoon, Rev. E. Rahn officiating.

Rose Edna, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Joadwine, died at their residence at 611 Fulton street, Chicago, on Thursday evening. Interment will take place in Evergreen cemetery this morning.

Paris Exposition.

In the summer of 1900, the French nation will hold at Paris a great international exposition, which bids fair to rival, if not surpass, the late World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago.

Already people all over the civilized world are making preparations for visiting Paris—the city of boulevards and palaces—studying the people and their language, but it remained for Chicago enterprise to introduce the first plan whereby people of moderate means will be enabled to visit Paris and the exposition at a comparatively trifling cost.

On March 10, there was incorporated under the laws of the state of Illinois. The Paris Exposition Association of the Metropolitan Business College of Chicago, one of whose main objects will be to provide a fund of savings to enable its members and their friends to attend the so-called Paris Exposition in Paris, France, in 1900.

It is estimated that by combining means and forces, the members of the association will be enabled to visit the exposition at a cost of not more than $125 for each person, payable in equal monthly installments.

This amount is expected to take a member from Chicago to Paris and return, and to pay the member's hotel bill in Paris for thirty days.

In case of death or withdrawal of a member, money paid in on installments will be returned with savings bank interest added.

Special inducements offered persons joining the association before May 1.
