BOY BURNED ALIVE.

Little Albert Krueger Meets With a Horrible Accident Sunday.

Saturday afternoon, between 4 and 5 o'clock, little 4-year-old Albert Krueger was so badly burned that he died early Monday morning.

It appears that the family was away, leaving Albert and his little 10-year-old sister at home alone. The boy, while playing with the fire, got his clothes ignited. Screaming he ran out into the yard, where his cries and the smoke from the fire attracted the attention of Mrs. August Landwer, who quickly ran to the rescue. When Mrs. Landwer saw the little boy he was enveloped in flames, which rose for over a foot above the unfortunate little one's head. Mrs. Landwer extinguished the flames with her hands and aprons, and it is a wonder she did not share the same fate. As it was she escaped with severely burned hands.

Assistance and medical aid was at once sent for, but little Albert was beyond medical skill.

The funeral was held Wednesday at 1 o'clock, Rev. E. Rahn officiating.

HONEY LAKE SCHOOL GOES VISITING.

On Friday afternoon, March 27th, the Honey Lake school turned out in force to pay a visit to the Bennett school. Having secured the necessary teams and conveyances there was room for all; and a jolly crowd it was. The ride from one school to the other was very much enjoyed by all the little ones.

They reached the Bennet school in due time, where they were welcomed by the teacher, Mr. Smith, and his pupils.

The most interesting features of the afternoon were cipher and spelling matches, in which both schools took part. The cipher match was won by Alma Rieke of the Honey Lake school.

Robert Bennett then won in a match against Emma Beelar and Myrtle Burtis. This was followed by a spelling match with Emma Miller and Mary Goodluck as leaders. This match was won by Dottie Sinnett of the Honey Lake school.

After this came songs by the two schools, after which all departed, feeling that they had spent a very interesting and pleasant afternoon.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

All Sunday school workers are invited to attend the annual convention of the Barrington Township Sunday School association at the M. E. church to-day and at the Zion's Evangelical church tomorrow. W. C. Pearce, field worker of Illinois S. S. association, will be present both days.

THIS AFTERNOON, 3:00 o'clock—Prayer service; teachers' experience meeting; "How I Prepare to Teach the Lesson;" Normal lesson, "The Life of Christ," by W. C. Pearce; reports of president and secretary; appointment of nominating committee.

THIS EVENING, 7:30 o'clock—Devotional song service; election of officers; reports from schools (limited to three minutes each); address, "Our Work," by W. B. Pearce.

TOMORROW AFTERNOON, 3:00 o'clock—prayer service; conference of pastors and Sunday school workers, led by W. C. Pearce; Normal bible drill, "The Gospel of Luke," by W. C. Pearce.

TOMORROW EVENING, 7:30 o'clock—Devotional song service; singing; "The Successful Teacher," Rev. F. W. Kinzley; singing; address, "Spiritual Power in Sunday School Work," Rev. T. E. Rahn; singing; "Our Text Book," W. C. Pearce.

H. A. Harnden is president and Miss Mary Frye is secretary of this association.

SPENT A PLEASANT TIME.

The regular monthly meeting of the Young People's Missionary society occurred Tuesday evening in the parlors of the Salem Evangelical church.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Miss Mary Frye, and the following program was rendered in an especially pleasing manner:

Song by the Society.
Scripture reading and prayer by the president.
Solo—Esther Kampert.
Reading—Luella Meiners.
Instrumental Music—Luella Plagge.
Solo—Rosa Kampert.
Selection by double quartette.
Song by the Society.

Everyone present enjoyed the meeting very much.

Fourth Grade—Dottie Sinnett, 96.
Third Grade—Clara Niemeier, 93.
First Grade—Raymond Rieke, 94.

The names of the pupils who have not been absent during the month are as follows:

Clarence Neumann, Charley Wienecke, Louis Wienecke, Clara Niemeier, Emile Wienecke.
ESTELLA M. GRACE, Teacher.

"MY SON."

Long before 7:30 o'clock Monday evening a stream of gayly dressed people with smiling faces tripped up the stairs of Stott's hall. The event was an entertainment given by the Jugendverein of the St. Paul's church.

At 8 o'clock the spacious hall was filled to its utmost capacity, and the entertainment was opened with a piano duet, "Our Boys," by J. C. and E. Rahn. The gentlemen are musicians of rare ability, and received an ovation at the conclusion of the selection.

The next numbers were a couple of songs by the Jugendverein, after which Rev. E. Rahn, in a few appropriate sentences welcomed the audience and introduced Past. R. A. John of Chicago.

Past. John is a smooth and forceful talker. He took up the life of a boy from the time of his birth up to manhood. The lecturer held his audience spell-bound from the beginning to the end.

A burst of hearty laughter greeted the lecturer's portrayal of the youngster's power in the household, and from there on the audience was kept in a continual roar of laughter by the lecturer's graphic description of the cutting of the first tooth, the first pair of pants and the life up to the time of the son's departure for college, when the audience was deeply moved by the scene of the first parting between mother and son.

The son's life at college was humorously described by this eminent divine, and caused many smiles. Upon the son's return from college, the story of the love affairs of Clarence, as we must now call the son, and the pretty Clarissa caused much merriment, and blushes on the part of the many young ladies present, but this was eclipsed by the scene of the 18 year-old "Romeo" asking papa for the hand of his beloved Clarissa. It was now that the young ladies had their inning. They laughed heartily, while the young male contingent took turns at turning red and white. It is quite evident that it will take several months for them to recover their nerve again, so if they seem a little backward the young ladies can easily guess the reason and lend a helping hand.

Clarence did not get papa's consent, but instead got some good, wholesome advice, which we hope every young man present will attempt to follow. The lecturer's vivid description of the mother's deathbed, and the grave in the little cemetery brought tears to the eyes of many.

All in all the entertainment was one of the best of the season, and was highly enjoyed by the 400 people present. The St. Paul's Jugendverein is to be congratulated for the success of this, their first public entertainment.

HISTORY OF A WEEK.

THE NEWS OF SEVEN DAYS UP TO DATE.

Political, Religious, Social and Criminal Doings of the Whole World Carefully Condensed for Our Readers—The Accident Record.

The London Daily News and the Chronicle have a report from Constantinople, said to be on the best authority, that an imperial irade has decreed the wholesale expulsion of all Christian missionaries from Armenia, who are mainly French Catholics and American Protestants. Great Britain and America will protest.

The wife of William M. Hampton of Indianapolis, Ind., was prostrated by fright by the presence of a burglar in her sleeping-room, and she died of exhaustion.

The Rev. Stephen Vincent Ryan, bishop of the catholic diocese of Buffalo, is seriously sick at his residence. Physicians entertain little hope of his recovery. He is about 70 years old.

The proposed visit of John G. Carlisle, secretary of the treasury, to Chicago to address the workmen of that city has taken on a new character. It may develop into a discussion of the money problem between him and W. H. Harvey.

The marriage of ex-President Benjamin Harrison and Mrs. Mary Scott Lord Dimmick took place in St. Thomas' Protestant Episcopal Church, New York, at 5:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, the Rev. Dr. John Wesley Brown officiating.

By a vote of 244 to 27 the House of Representatives on Monday passed the Cuban resolutions, which originated in the senate. As far as Congress can do so in this way these resolutions recognize the fact that a state of war exists in Cuba, and go beyond this to the extent of recommending steps be taken by the President looking toward the independence of the island.

While at practice Monday afternoon a mile out on Lake Mendota at Madison, Wis., a squall struck two shells manned by oarsmen of the University of Wisconsin's crew. John Day, of Janesville, was drowned and Lester Street, of Dixon, Ill., and Curran C. McConville, of La Crosse, are in a critical condition.

Utah's republican convention to name national delegates was held Tuesday in Salt Lake. The democrats will meet there June 6.

At Easton, Pa., the Northampton county democrats instructed their ten delegates to the state convention for ex-Governor Pattison for president.

Republicans of the fifteenth Illinois senatorial district will hold their convention May 5 at Marion in conjunction with the twenty-second congressional district convention.

In a circular issued at Louisville, Ky., the National Linton league denies that Congressman Linton of Michigan has withdrawn from the A. P. A. presidential nomination race.

A. P. A. municipal tickets met uniform defeat in Montana. In Butte, where a year ago the association won everything in sight, its candidates were defeated in five out of eight wards.

Mrs. Mary Alice Fleming, nee Livingston, will be put on trial in New York April 20 for the alleged murder of her mother, Mrs. Bliss, by poisoning. Sheriff Eulless and Jailer Scaggs were indicted by the grand jury at Fort Worth, Tex., for allowing Martin McGrath, a condemned murderer, to escape. Both officials were arrested and placed under bond.

Frank Prideaux, of Dodgeville, Wis., was thrown from his horse and broke two ribs.

Andrew Ferguson fell out of the cage at a coal mine at Brazil, Ind., and was killed.

A man named Jaeger was drowned near Burlington, Iowa, by the overturning of his boat.

James Kelly, a veteran, fell downstairs at Benton Harbor, Mich., and died of his injuries.

Allen Jorden was instantly killed by a powder explosion in the Powell coal mines at Danville, Ill.

Mrs. Curry and her negro servant were asphyxiated by coal gas at her home near Lake Mahopac, N. Y.

The boiler in the Orr Huseid oil mill at Piqua, O., exploded, slightly injuring three men and causing a loss of $75,000.

A. J. Harwood, a farmer living near Shelbyville, Ill., was fatally burned in attempting to lead a cow from a blazing barn.

The boilers in Watson Brothers' mill at Ridgerton, Ont., exploded, killing Daniel Leitch, the engineer, and William Cunningham, who was in the boiler-room. Three men were severely injured.

Guicento and Felice Curcio and Francisco Russo, Italians, were asphyxiated in their beds in the Hotel Torchio on Webster avenue, Pittsburg, Pa., by gas which they had turned on but failed to light.

CASUALTIES.

News of the terrible death of two children, William and Alice Johnson, in a prairie fire in Morton county, near Richfield, Kan., has reached Topeka. The children made a heroic effort to outrun the fire, but their horse became exhausted and could go no further. Flames, which were leaping twenty feet in the air, were soon upon them, and death speedily followed.

Exhaust Laporte, of Wausau, Wis., was fatally shot while playing with a gun.

The cloudburst on Little Sexton and Buffalo creeks, near Booneville, Ky., did more damage than at first reported. Instead of four there were probably sixteen drowned.

The Grove creamery at Bowers, Wis., was destroyed by fire. Loss, $7,000; insurance, $3,750. The flames communicated to the store of C. E. Mower, who sustained a loss of $3,000, partly covered with insurance.

Letters received from Rainy River, on the Canadian boundary, report the death of Colonel A. F. Naff, a United States deputy marshal, and their entire party of explorers, in all probably eight men. They were on their way to investigate reports of lumber stealing by Canadians along the boundary and tributary waters and were ascending the Rainy by sleighs. They are reported to have broken through the ice and to have been lost.

A fire started about 1:30 p. m., Thursday, which swept away many of the most prosperous business enterprises of Brunswick, Ga., and for a time it was feared the whole town would be in ashes. The total loss is conservatively estimated at about $500,000, and the insurance is placed at $400,000.

FOREIGN.

After repeated consultation by cable with Gen. Weyler the Spanish government has decided definitely to send no large expedition to Cuba until September, the Commander-in-Chief having declared it is not needed. 30 thousand men will, however, be called to the ranks in June in order to receive military instruction to be ready in case of emergency.

The Vienna correspondent of the London Times says the Vaterland publishes a letter from the superior of the Catholic mission station at Orfah, declaring that 8,000 Armenians have been massacred there.

A dispatch to the New York World from London says: "The positive statement came to your correspondent from a leading financier of the city (the money-making part of London) that England has concluded a treaty of alliance with Spain."

A terrible fire has occurred at Manila, in the Philippine Islands, by which 4,000 houses were destroyed and 30,000 people left homeless. Manila is the capital of the Philippine Islands, and has a population of 100,000, or, with the suburbs, 160,000. It is one of the great emporiums of the east.

The London Chronicle says it understands that a solution of the Venezuelan question satisfactory to all parties is anticipated with great confidence.

A skirmish has occurred at Atriah, between Suakim and Abu Hammed on the Nile, in which friendly Arabs routed the forces of a dervish outpost, killing several of them.

A British expedition has left Georgetown, Demerara, to establish new stations on the Cuyuni west of the Schomburgk line and to open a new road to the Yuruan as a protest against Venezuela's big grant to American capitalists in the gold country at the mouth of the Orinoco.

CRIME.

A negro, 18 years of age, charged with insulting a white woman, was hanged by a mob in front of the courthouse at Tupelo, Miss.

James Patterson, charged with assaulting and robbing Charles Shoup at Elyria, Ohio, returned from Chicago to visit his wife, and was captured.

Israel M. King, of Silver City, a member of the New Mexico legislature, is in jail at Juarez, accused of stealing cattle. He will appeal to the Washington authorities.

San Francisco police are certain that Julius Festner, the Omaha man arrested for following a woman, had nothing to do with strangling two women in San Francisco. He will be examined for insanity.

Sheriff W. O. Gwynne of Pike county, Ga., was killed, and John F. Madden, a prominent citizen, fatally wounded, at Concord, a little mountain town in that county, by the notorious Delk gang of outlaws.

Domestic infelicities in the family of Edward Polen at Clinton, Ill., culminated in the murder of Mrs. Polen and her mother, Mrs. William McMullen, by Polen. After he had committed the crime Polen ran to the Illinois Central yards to escape the crowd of excited pursuers, who intended to lynch the murderer. To avoid this fate he threw himself in front of a train, and was seriously, probably fatally, injured.

Thomas Wharton, Sunday editor of the Philadelphia Times, fell from a fourth-story window of the house in which he lived and was instantly killed. It is generally believed that he committed suicide.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Secretary Carlisle declines to enter into a contest for the democratic nomination for the presidency. He has written a letter to the chairman of the state central committee of Kentucky in response to one from the chairman asking him to consent to the use of his name, declining to do so. At the same time the declination is not so forcible as to entirely remove Mr. Carlisle from the list of possibilities.

The "free silver" men of 100 or more townships and counties of Missouri held conventions Saturday. In almost every instance free coinage at 16 to 1 was endorsed and delegates to the state convention were instructed to vote for delegates to the national convention who favor that idea. Wherever the issue was made the conventions expressed themselves in favor of sending a solid silver delegation to Chicago regardless of the choice of congressional districts.

Populists of Portland, Ore., have nominated ex-Governor Pennoyer for mayor.

During the last three days, 359 names have been added to the Iowa Allison-McKinley club.

At a mass meeting in Iron Mountain, Mich., Mayor Pingree, of Detroit, formally announced his candidacy for governor.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge's canvass for his old seat in Congress has inspired the women of the district to reorganize their old movement against him. The race with Owens two years ago was close. Now Col. Breckinridge's friends express full confidence in his success.

Dr. E. A. Grange of the Michigan Agricultural college, who has investigated tuberculosis in almost every part of the state, has discovered that the disease also exists in the fine herds of thorough bred at the college farm, notwithstanding the especial care and exercise given these cattle. Experiments will be made upon the infected animals.

R. C. Patterson of the Newcastle Wire Nail Company is authority for the statement that as a result of the steel billet pool wire nails will be advanced 25 cents a keg. This will make an advance of 40 cents within the last two weeks.

In the closed Farmers' Bank of Decatur, Ill., is $45,000 belonging to the state. B. K. Durkee, Superintendent of Insurance, together with Mr. Casner, the chief stockholder, and L. E. Eymann, started the bank in 1893. The state money is well secured and every cent will be restored as soon as the assignee can get at the cash due the concern. There is about $45,000 due other depositors.

Miss Chiro Ruehlen, the Bellefontaine, Ohio, heiress, who disappeared from Denver, has returned from a visit in Leadville, greatly to the relief of her friends.

The Lawrence Manufacturing company, of Lowell, Mass., having decided to abandon the manufacturing of cotton goods, has closed one of its mills, throwing 2,000 operatives out of work.

Ben Fletcher, traveling passenger agent of the Detroit, Grand Haven and Milwaukee road, has been appointed Michigan traveling passenger agent of the Grand Trunk lines, with headquarters in Detroit.

During 1895 the value of goods imported at Philadelphia was $47,271,435. Of these, goods worth $31,820,358 paid a duty. The number of immigrants landed was 25,595, of whom 8,399 were from Ireland and 5,621 from England.

The house bill requiring a residence of a year in suits for divorce in the territories was favorably considered by the senate committee on territories, after being amended so as to provide that it shall not affect suits already begun.

Mr. Quigg's New York custom-house bill was favorably reported by the house committee on public buildings. It provides for the immediate construction of a new custom-house on the present site at a maximum cost of $5,000,000.

FROM WASHINGTON.

THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE LIVTH CONGRESS.

A Brief Report of the Doings in Upper and Lower Houses of the National Legislature—The Work of a Week Condensed.

Eighty-seventh Session.

The house practically completed the consideration of the snudry civil bill. In the course of a debate on an amendment to appropriate $75,000 for commencing the erection of a new military post at Spokane, Wash., Mr. Cannon, the chairman of the appropriation committee, made an appeal for economy on the ground that the condition of the treasury was such that no new project should be entered upon by this congress. He was supported in his appeal by Mr. Grosvenor (O.), who insisted that the necessities of the situation must govern. He called attention to the fact that the receipts under the present tariff law for the first nineteen months were $481,000,000, over $76,000,000 below the expenditures, and contrasted the receipts under that law with the receipts under the law of 1890, when they aggregated $560,000,000 for the first nineteen months. He said prosperity to the treasury and to the people would not come so long as the present tariff law remained on the statute books.

Mr. Patterson (dem., Tenn.) replied to Mr. Grosvenor and a political controversy between the two gentlemen took place, which greatly amused the house. Later, Mr. Bowers (rep., Cal.), an ardent free-silver republican, renewed the merriment by resenting the attacks made by the manufacturers of Philadelphia and the gold press on the silver republicans, and offered a series of farcical resolutions to the effect that the "silver cranks" should be expelled from congress.

Senator Call of Florida offered a radical Cuban joint resolution Wednesday directing the sending of an adequate naval force to Cuba to put an end to barbarities and to protect American citizens in their treaty rights. The president is instructed to notify Spain that the United States will forcibly intervene unless murder and outrage ceases. The resolution went over.

Senator Peffer gave notice that his motion to take up the resolution for a senate inquiry into the recent bond issues would be made today.

Eighty-eighth Session.

The postoffice appropriation bill served to bring out some sharp discussion in the senate Thursday on the propriety of abolishing country postoffices and absorbing them as branches of city offices. Mr. Gorman opposed the plan as undemocratic. It was, said Mr. Gorman, part of the prevailing tendency of the world to absorb power and place it in the hands of a few men. Those small postoffices were local institutions, the postmaster was one of the local people, and the people did not want their offices absorbed by the great city offices. Mr. Gorman declared that this consolidation was undemocratic and un-American. After a speech by Mr. Elkins, advocating subsidies and other means of extending American commerce on the seas, the postoffice bill went over.

During the day Mr. George closed his speech, covering three days, in opposition to Mr. Dupont's claim to a seat. The resolution for investigating the bond sale again went over, on Mr. Hill's objection.

In the house to-day the question of appropriating public money for private or sectarian institutions, which was debated for several days during the consideration of the District of Columbia appropriation bill in connection with some appropriations for charitable institutions in Washington, was again fought over for four hours in the house to-day. The bone of contention was the Howard university, a colored institution of Washington, for which an appropriation of $32,600 was inserted in the sundry civil bill Wednesday on motion of Mr. Evans (rep., Ky.). Mr. Hainer (rep., Neb.), in whose temporary absence the amendment was adopted, rallied his forces against the appropriation, on the ground that it was both a private and a sectarian institution, a school of theology being maintained by the university. The appropriation was coupled with a proviso that no part of it should be used for religious teaching, but Mr. Hainer insisted that it could not be denied that it was in a sense a religious institution.

Mr. Cannon, Mr. Evans and other members who supported the amendment, on the other hand, declared that they were opposed to appropriating public funds for sectarian institutions, but argued that the proviso freed it from this criticism. The house voted 129 to 105 to retain the appropriation, thus in a measure reversing its action when the district bill was up.

An analysis of the vote shows that 107 republicans, nineteen democrats and three populists voted for the amendment, and fifty-five republicans, forty-seven democrats and three populists against it. The sundry civil bill as amended was passed.

A resolution of inquiry, presented by Mr. Hitt, chairman of the foreign affairs committee, was adopted without debate, calling on the president, if not incompatible with the public interest, to transmit to the house copies of all dispatches, notes and telegrams in the state department from December 1, 1895, until the present time, relating to mediation or intervention by the United States in the affairs of Venezuela, together with all correspondence with foreign governments relating to the same topic. Mr. Hitt stated that his committee had unanimously reported the resolutions.

Eighty-ninth Session.

Chairman Hitt, of the foreign relations committee added his contribution to the Cuban debate in the house. After explaining the parliamentary status and pointing out the difference between the senate and house resolutions Mr. Hitt said:

"The unmistakable voice of the people of the United States, as expressed in the enormous majority given in this house—262 to 17—is in favor of recognizing the belligerency of the Cubans. Their success is now probable. For a year they have baffled the armies of Spain. In a recent statement by the Spanish minister, addressed to the people of the United States, he said that Spain had sent 125,000 men to Cuba. With this great army more than forty war vessels have been co-operating to shut the Cubans in and subdue them. Far from being subdued, they have fought on successfully for a year, each month and week pressing forward, bringing province after province under their power, until their authority was extended over six hundred miles from the eastern to the western end of the island, and the Spanish forces are to-day largely hemmed in the cities.

"When this vote has been given, as it will be, overwhelmingly by this house, concurring with the senate in expressing the will of the people of the United States, we cannot doubt that the executive will act and obey the voice of the nation, and that we will speedily hear that the president has recognized the belligerency of the struggling Cubans. The waning cause of Spain has been apparent from week to week for two months past. It will not be long until we shall have an end of all the bombastic pretensions and abominations of Weyler's savage operations, and the Cubans, having vindicated their rights with their arms, will enjoy the liberty they have earned."

Ninetieth Session.

The house adopted the senate concurrent Cuban resolutions, so that now both legislative bodies of the United States government have put themselves on record in regard to recognizing the belligerency of the insurgent army which has been waging war for freedom in the "Gem of the Antilles." The resolutions which were adopted are as follows:

"Resolved by the senate (the house of representatives concurring). That in the opinion of congress a condition of public war exists between the government of Spain and the government proclaimed and for some time maintained by force of arms by the people of Cuba; and that the United States of America should maintain a strict neutrality between the contending powers, according to each all the rights of belligerents in the ports and territory of the United States.

"Resolved, That the friendly offices of the United States shall be offered by the president to the Spanish government for the recognition of the independence of Cuba."

There were 244 votes in favor of the resolutions, and only 27 against them. New England furnished eleven of these, New York six, and the south ten. The west voted solidly for the resolutions.

The senate spent the entire day on the postoffice appropriation bill, but did not complete it. The bill served to bring out some sharp criticisms by Senator Gorman on the administration of the postoffice department, and by Senator Allen on alleged irregularities resulting from the civil service system. Mr. Allen spoke for the retention of the old system with its country postmasters and arraigned civil service as a farce. He repeated many sensational charges as to campaign contributions.

An agreement was reached to vote on the postoffice bill at 5 p. m. today.

Horses Cheaper Than Bicycles.

At the recent sale of the assets of a riding academy in New York city the saddle horses brought on an average less than $30 apiece. This is said to be the lowest price on record for horses of this description, and the fact was generally noted that in New York the market value of a horse is lower than that of a bicycle.

City Life.

The city is the battlefield of the hour, and will become more so as humanity gathers in great masses in city life. There is a providence in the human desire to gather in multitudes in commercial centers. It seems strange that humanity, like ripe fruit, decays faster in heaps than in any other form. We have not as yet found the secret of saving cities.—Rev. Dr. Hickman.

A little saltpeter added to the water in which cut flowers are put will keep the flowers fresh a long time.

PROPOSED HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE TO BE ERECTED AT ROCK ISLAND, ILL.

Plans for the new state insane asylum at Rock Island have been approved and Lewis M. Curry, the architect, has advertised for bids.

The building, which is to cost about $100,000, will be of stone, rough and dressed, with some brickwork, and will be fireproof throughout. It is to follow a modified "cottage plan" of construction, combining isolation of patients' homes with centralization of the administrative functions. Surrounding the central administration building will be six two-story ward buildings, or cottages, connected with the former by covered runways. In the one will be gathered the kitchen, the dining-rooms, laundry and bakery; in the others the patients will have their sleeping, lounging and reading rooms.

At the meeting in the architect's office last week there were present, besides Gov. Altgeld, William S. Gale of Galesburg, John S. Eden of Sullivan, and T. J. Medill of Rock Island, composing the asylum trustee board, and

Dr. Arthur Reynolds of Chicago, George W. Curtiss of Stockton, and James McNabb of Carrollton, three of the four members of the state board of charities. All gave the plans their approval.

Mr. Curry supervised the construction of the Industrial Home for the Blind, built at Chicago, and also was architect for the Home for Juvenile Offenders at Geneva, Ill.

Work on the new building will be begun not later than May 1.

GEN. HARRISON WEDS.

NUPTIALS SOLEMNIZED AT NEW YORK MONDAY.

The Marriage of the Ex-President to Mrs. Dimmick Witnessed by But a Score of Invited Guests—Bridal Party Leaves at Once for Indianapolis.

The marriage of Mrs. Mary Lord Dimmick to General Benjamin Harrison was solemnized at St. Thomas' church at New York city Monday afternoon at 5:45 o'clock. Dr. Wesley Brown, rector, officiated at the ceremony. The general's children were not present.

The marriage, which took place in the presence of twenty relatives and select friends of the bride and groom, was a very private affair. The guests as they arrived at the church were re-

BENJAMIN HARRISON. Received by E. F. Tibbitt, General Harrison's private secretary, and Daniel M. Ransdell, who was marshal at Washington during General Harrison's administration, and were seated in the front pews of the church.

At 5:20 o'clock Mrs. John F. Parker, the bride's sister, was escorted to the front pew on the left by Mr. Ransdell and simultaneously Mr. and Mrs. Pinchot were escorted to the front pew on the right by Mr. Tibbitt.

Governor Morton, attended by his military secretary, occupied the pew directly behind Mrs. Parker, and behind him sat Senator and Mrs. Stephen B. Elkins, John W. Fosetr and George W. Boyd of Pennsylvania railroad.

General Harrison left the Fifth Avenue hotel, accompanied by General Benjamin F. Tracy, in a close carriage, at 5 o'clock and was driven to Rev. Dr. Brown's house on Fifty-third street. They passed through the house to the vestry, where they awaited the coming of the bridal party.

The bride left the home of her sister, Mrs. John F. Parker, 40 East Thirty-eighth street, at 5:10 o'clock. She was accompanied by her brother-in-

MRS. BENJAMIN HARRISON. law, Lieutenant John F. Parker, who gave her away. They arrived at the entrance at 5:20 o'clock, and proceeded to the tower-rooms, where the bridal procession formed. They proceeded to the chancel, where General Harrison, accompanied by his groomsmen, General Tracy, received his bride. The ushers, standing to one side, faced the altar as the bride and groom stepped forward to the altar rail, where the rector, Dr. Brown, was waiting. Dr. George William Warren, organist of the church, playing the bridal music from "Lohengrin," and during the entire ceremony playing very softly Mascagni's intermezzo in the "Cavalleria Rusticana."

That portion of the matrimonial service known as the marriage service proper, the recital of which lasts only about fifteen minutes, was used, and immediately the blessing was pronounced General and Mrs. Harrison, followed by Mrs. John F. Parker and General Tracy, Mr. Tibbitt and Mr. Randall, Lieutenant Parker and Mr. and Mrs. Pinchot, walked down the aisle to the strains of the "Tannhauser" march of Wagner, and entering the carriages waiting at the entrance, the bridal party was driven to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Pinchot, 2 Grammercy park, where light refreshments were served, and where the party donned traveling attire for the trip to Indianapolis.

STUDENTS DROWNED.

Sad Accident on Lake Mendota, Wisconsin.

Monday afternoon, a mile out on Lake Mendota, a squall struck two shells manned by oarsmen of the University of Wisconsin's crew. One man was drowned and two others are in a critical condition. The dead:

JOHN DAY, Janesville, Wis., only son of Mrs. Jeanette Day.
The injured:
Lester Streeter, Dixon, Ill.
Curran C. McConville, La Crosse, Wis.

Late in the afternoon the boats started out for a short working trip for the men. At the time the weather did not seem squally and the lake was fairly calm. Within a few moments after the boats left shore, however, the wind began to rise, and just as one of the boats was about to make the turn it was struck by the squall.

GOV. BOIES AND FREE SILVER.

Iowa Democrats to Give the Money Question a Test Vote.

Ottumwa, Iowa, April 7.—Ex-Gov. Boies has consented to go to Chicago as a delegate-at-large from Iowa if the Dubuque platform declares for free silver. This is practically the first move to secure the democratic nomination for president for Mr. Boies. His answer to a letter sent him requesting him to run is a tacit admission that he will accept the nomination if tendered him. He says: "I am in full accord with your view that some plan should be adopted by which, as nearly as practical, a full and explicit showing of the sentiment of a majority of the democratic party in our state upon the question of currency reform, and especially upon the question of the free coinage of silver as money of final redemption, may be had; and, inasmuch as I am now unable

NEW LIBRARY BUILDING FOR THE UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN.

The new library building which is to go up at Madison, Wis., for the use of the university will be one of the prettiest structures in the state. The entire cost will be in the neighborhood of $400,000. That portion that is to be built for the use of the State Historical Society will be begun in July, and although the work must be slow until the full appropriation be made, it will not be stopped. The material will be light colored stone and the exterior architecture in the Ionic order of the Renaissance. The main entrance is led up to by a balustrade terrace six feet high, and the portal is three-arched. The first floor is divided into seminary, packing and sorting rooms. On the second floor is the reading-room, 50x70 feet, with accommodations for 300 readers. Opening upon its sides are newspaper and magazine rooms. The third floor will be used chiefly for a large lecture-room. The building is so planned that it may be extended along its length if necessary. As the original, however, will be constructed with a capacity for 600,000 volumes, it is not believed an increase of space will be needed for many years. The building will be erected on the west portion of the lower campus.

Fire Lost at Dayton, O.

Fire, caused by the explosion of a gasoline tank, destroyed $10,000 worth of property at the northeast corner of Third and Canal streets, at Dayton, O., Friday.

The boilers in Watson Brothers' mill at Ridgeton, Ont., exploded, killing Daniel Leitch, the engineer, and William Cunningham, who was in the boiler-room. Three men were severely injured.

Chicago convention; with the understanding, however, that if our state convention at Dubuque, by resolution or otherwise, approved of our present financial policy I will not be expected to serve."

The letter sent him signed by C. A. Walsh and E. W. Curry of the democratic state central committee and hundreds of prominent democrats hints of a bolt if the convention declares for gold.

NEWS OF ILLINOIS.

A RECORD OF THE DOINGS OF SEVEN DAYS.

Some Social, Religious, Political, Obituary, Matrimonial, Criminal and Miscellaneous Happenings That Have Taken Place Since Our Last Issue.

Steven G. Rook, a wealthy farmer of Bowen, is dead, aged 77 years.

Mrs. William Brown, aged 75, died at her home in Belvidere of a paralytic stroke.

Charles S. Marsh, aged 69, a well-known resident of Rockford for thirty-five years, is dead.

John Taylor has been put in jail at Sullivan on a charge of abducting Blanche Ballard, aged 15 years.

Webb Noyers of Charleston, was killed while coupling cars. He was a brakeman on the Clover Leaf railroad.

Moses Keyes, a farm hand near Rockford, committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor because of despondency.

Clark Hasten, a colored miner at Danville, fell on the track and the wheel of a car loaded with coal passed over his neck.

The body of William Van Tassell of Beardstown, who has been missing since Feb. 9, was found by fishermen in the Illinois river.

State Veterinarian Trumbow has discovered traces of tuberculosis in forty cattle at the Illinois eastern hospital and they will be killed.

John J. Perkins, aged 85, who died from the effects of a fall at Pinckneyville Saturday night, was buried at Marion, where he had long been a resident.

Contracts have been let to the Yawger Construction company of Bucyrus, Ohio, for building the Carpentersville, Elgin & Aurora electric road from Elgin to Geneva.

Shannon has been considering electric lights furnished by being connected with Lanark, by wire. Suppose some miscreant should chop the wire, where would Shannon be?—Ex.

Pastor Charles J. Sonnema of the Reformed church of Bushnell announced that owing to the unsafe condition of the ceiling of the church the services next Sunday would be held in the opera house, and as a consequence many straight-backs were horribly shocked.

According to the Rockford Republic, the strain of wearing a boiled shirt and stand-up collar for four days hand running has been too much for Plumber W. H. Derham. He attended the plumbers' convention, when he indulged in this riotous living, but now he is sick abed.

H. M. Grant of Aurora, in announcing himself a candidate for town collector, said that he had been laid up for over a year with a broken leg, and a family to support, and had not been able to earn a dollar. There it goes again. When will politicians learn that sentiment will not make votes? A $5 bill is vastly more persuasive.—Ex.

John Cushing and F. Maybanks, night runners for a couple of Galena hotels, have had differences of their own for some time, growing out of rivalry in attracting the trade of the traveling public. Last Friday, by agreement, they met at midnight in battle and had it out. After several hot rounds Cushing marched off with the laurel wreath, having downed his antagonist and inflicted a discoloration of the optics.

Many litigants in the United States Circuit court at Chicago who had hoped to have their cases on the jury calendar heard at this term will be disappointed. Judges Seaman and Baker will close court at the termination of the cases now on trial. There are 198 cases on the calendar, of which only fifty-five have been disposed of during the last four weeks. The Federal court in Chicago is just eighteen months behind its work. There will be no more jury trials until next fall after this term.

The Purdon family and their family hatchet had a falling out the other day in McDonough county. Will Pudon was holding a ladder for his brother, who was pounding the hatchet on the roof of a building. The hatchet objected to being pounded, and, falling out of the brother's hand, decided to settle the difference with a split, selecting Will's nose as the object of a compromise. The handle of the hatchet first struck Will on the head, much against his will, and then the blade divided the nose.

The Illinois Steel company has filed a demurrer in the Chicago Circuit court in the quo warranto proceedings begun against it recently by Attorney General Moloney. The demurrer goes purely to the technical correctness of the information filed by Mr. Moloney, and will come up for argument in the regular order of such matters. The demurrer claims the company has bought land for its needs and not for speculation, as charged. It is also asserted that the attorney general has not set up any unlawful act or usurpation in which the people are interested, or which would be a ground for the forfeiture of the charter of the company.

John Etwanger, Jr., of Poplar Grove, was fatally crushed between a load of baled hay and a shed.

At Eureka, the Eureka Brick, Tile and Electric Light company confessed judgment in favor of the State Bank of Eureka for $4,200.

Martin West did not attend the democratic caucus at Bushnell and the assembled brethren took advantage of this fact to nominate him for the office of school trustee.

Over 300 teachers were in attendance at the institute at Rockford, the work of seven grades in the Brown school being exemplified by Mrs. Marie Rice, the principal.

Henry McClusky and Jim Farrell were arrested at Kankakee, charged with the robbery of Big Four cars. Two years ago they were convicted of holding up a car on the outskirts of Kankakee, relieving the motorman of his watch and $15 in fares. For this they were sent to the reform school, from which they were released four months ago. They pleaded guilty.

Mrs. Millie Klingenhoefer of Mascoutah has entered suit against her husband, Prof. Charles B. Klingenhoefer, for divorce upon the ground of desertion. She also asks for reasonable alimony. The young couple were married last December, after a courtship of several years. Two days after the marriage they separated, but positively declined to make public the reason for the sensational separation.

A man fell backward from the steps of a passenger train going eastward on the Lake Erie & Western railroad, his head striking on a tie, near Elliott, one day last week. Apparently crazed by the blow, he got up and told those around him that the men were going to kill him. Then he started to run across the fields. A number of persons started in pursuit, when he soon turned, drawing a revolver, which he flourished, holding the crowd at bay. He fired several shots, hitting no one. Then he resumed his flight, and, entering the stable of John White, he took a horse, which he mounted and started on. By this time the crowd was largely increased. At another stable the man changed horses. Riding on, he was obstructed by a barb-wire fence. He dismounted and resumed his flight on foot. Soon after shots were fired at him by members of the pursuing party, and he was hit in the knee and head. He was captured and taken to a farmhouse, where the leg was amputated. He died the next morning. The man's name was John Franklin and his home Fort Recovery, Ohio. He had been en route with his wife to St. Louis, but the wife was taken sick, and at Bloomington he turned back, and was returning to Ohio when he fell from the steps of the train.

Milwaukee's Woman Lawyer.

Visitors to the Milwaukee police court the other morning were surprised to see a tall, handsome woman addressing a jury in behalf of a woman charged with theft. It was the first appearance of a female barrister before this tribunal since the days of Kate Kane, who years ago removed to Chicago. The new claimant for honors at the Milwaukee bar is Mrs. Elizabeth H. Fordyce. She was born at Portage, Wis., in 1865. Her maiden name was McDonald, and her father, Alexander McDonald, was one of the earliest Scotch settlers of Columbia county. Mrs. Fordyce graduated at the Portage high school and for several years taught school in northern Wisconsin. It was there that she met John M. Fordyce, a prominent and successful business man of Phillips, Price county, to whom she was married Dec. 7, 1887. Mr. Fordyce died Sept. 5, 1890, leaving Mrs. Fordyce with a little daughter. The widow has a stout heart and soon demonstrated that she was a woman of resource. While engaged in closing up her husband's affairs she was obliged to grapple with a great many business problems and saw something of the workings of the law. It was this practical insight that led her to conclude to study law. She entered the legal department of the University of Wisconsin at Madison in September, 1893, worked early and late and graduated with honors in June, 1895.

A New Delight.

One of the school teachers in a negro school on Twelfth street had her class in English grammar before her a few days ago, and was giving them a series of exercises. The teacher gave out a word and the class built a sentence about it. Everything progressed smoothly for some time, until the word "delight" was given.

"Make a sentence in which appears delight," said the teacher. There was a brief silence and several woolly heads were scratched and big brown eyes were rolled in the endeavor to originate a sentence. Finally a black hand went in the air, two rows of shiny teeth showed delight at having been the first to prepare an answer, and all eyes were turned in the direction of the successful boy, as he arose and said: "When I goes to bed I puts out de light." The teacher says she did not explain the boy's error for several minutes.—Washington Post.

THE WINNING TICKET

The following ticket deserves the hearty support of every voter at the village election to be held April 21st:

- For President—Henry Boehmer.
- For Clerk—L. A. Powers.
- For Village Trustee—John Hatje.
- For Village Trustee—August Landwer.
- For Village Trustee—E. W. Shipman.

The above gentlemen are strictly honest and reliable, and will make the village efficient officers. Vote for them.

ELECTION NOTES.
"If you want to run for office, you have to do these things!" And they did.

There will be an election held in the White School house, District No. 4, Cuba, on Saturday, April 18th, for the purpose of electing school directors for that district.

Its a pity the campaign cannot be lengthened for a couple of months. If it could good times might be looked for—for the physicians and clothing dealers—judging from the past week's events.

An election will be held at the village school house, Barrington, on Saturday, April 18th, for the purpose of electing a president and three members of the Board of Education.

But one thing that ranks in the brains of some of the politicians is how any dispenser of "jolly me up" water can have the gall to charge $4 a round for which others charge half that price. And especially as that only celebrated the nomination and the supply for the trip up "Salt Creek" is yet to be purchased.

There is more or less "kicking" against the village officers in the course of a year, at the way they conduct business. The people that do the "kicking" have only themselves to blame. If the citizens have not enough "get up" about them to turn out at the election and put good timber in office it is their own fault. Take some interest in your local affairs, and use your weapon—the vote—at the election. Don't forget that a village election will be held on Tuesday, April 21st. Turn out and vote for the best man.

A big vote was polled at the election for town officers in the Town of Cuba Tuesday. Lively hustling was done by both sides. The result was as follows:

- For Supervisor—M. T. Lamey, 175.
- For Town Clerk—James Kitson, 100;
- G. S. Kimberly, 82.
- For Assessor—Fred Kirschner, 182.
- For Collector—Robert Frick, 102;
- Wm. Paddock, 80.
- For Road Commissioner — George Hager, 105; Henry Winkler, 78.
- For Constable to fill vacancy—John Brasel, 179.

The election in the Town of Barrington, Tuesday, did not arouse much interest. Out of 77 votes cast five were thrown out because they were not marked. Each one of the caucus nominees received the entire vote. The officers are as follows:
For Supervisor—John C. Plagge.
For Clerk—Leroy Powers.
For Collector—August Rohlmeier.
For Assessor—J. W. Kingsley.
For Highway Commissioner—Fred Homuth.
For School Trustee—W. N. Miller.

The Chicago papers are elated over the fact that only five of the "boodle aldermen managed to get elected on Tuesday. They evidently forgot that old, old proverb: "One rotten apple will corrupt a whole barrel of sound ones."

A man in Newark, N. J., has been sentenced to six years in the penitentiary for beating a woman to death with a chair. Is that what a woman's life is worth? If the man had stolen a valuable horse, he would have got at least ten years

It has been said over and again that if a suicide would put off his intention of self murder for 24 hours something would happen that would save him every time. A curious illustration of this has been furnished in Chicago. A German carpenter had been out of work since Christmas. He had a wife and three children and a father and mother dependent on him. Maddened by the prospect of starvation for these loved ones, he first chloroformed them till they were unconscious and shot them dead one after another. Then he shot himself. Two kindly neighbors called next morning at his rooms to tell him they had found work for him. They noticed the odor of chloroform on entering the place. They looked through the rooms and found the seven bodies stretched cold in death.

We have a nice mix up in the matter of our laws against the admission of Chinese into this country. It has been decided by the perspicacious solicitor of the United States treasury, Judge Reeve, that while a Chinaman resident permanently in the United States may visit his native land, he cannot bring his wife back with him, for she is debarred under the act forbidding the admission of Chinese. Does Judge Reeve, commiserating the scarcity of marriageable men, perhaps want to give Chinamen a chance to marry American women?

Maceo, the colored Cuban general, is a man of immense will and force of character. He was in Spain when the revolution began, but he hired a small vessel to bring him quickly to Cuba to join and lead the patriot army.

CARBOLINEUM AVENARIUS—THE WORLD-FAMED WOOD-PRESERVING OIL STAIN AND PREVENTIVE OF DAMPNESS IN WALLS.

It is a well known fact that all kinds of wood will rot sooner or later and it is evident, that great advantages must be derived from a process insuring durability in wood. Fifteen Years of careful experiments have fully demonstrated to the world that the patent oil compound, "Carbolineum Avenarius" meets all requirements so long sought for. It is acknowledged to surpass all preparations in efficiency, cheapness and simplicity of application. It is antiseptic oil for impregnating wood, and protects by its preserving and disinfecting properties, all kinds of wood from decay, fungus and rot for any length of time. It will never wear out nor wash off, and is neither inflammable nor poisonous. It imparts to woodwork a neat and lasting nut-brown color and its large covering capacity makes it the cheapest paint for all farm buildings, barns, grain-eries, silos, fence posts, wind-mill towers, etc. Sidewalks, floors, fence posts and vineyard posts will never rot nor break down; shingles will never shrink, curl or rot; shingle roofs will never leak, troughs, tanks, cisterns and cellars will always be clean and sweet where this paint is used. It will keep away flies, gnats, mice, rats, etc. In cases of diseases of cattle, horses, sheep and swine, it will prevent contagion. Chicken Coops will always be free from lice if painted with this preparation.

Unsystematically

Some persons could fall off some housetop and land feet down, while others fall from a chair and land head down. So it is in business. Some business men get up in the morning, open their business houses, sweep out, wipe off the dust from their wares, and sit down and wait. They put prices on their wares of which they seem to be ashamed, for they are afraid to let the people know what they keep. These men call their method of conducting business "Systematically." This is the kind of person that could fall off a chair and get hurt.

HERE is a man that gets up in the morning, reads his mail, gets out his wares, and hustles until night. He has opened the way towards making a good day's sales by judicious advertising, in which he told the people what he had and what prices he could make. Everybody in the county knows him. His wares do not become rusty, for the reason that he don't keep them long enough. He sells cheaper than any other dealer, and can afford to, because he makes quick sales. This man calls his business method "Unsystematically," and this is the kind of person who could fall from a housetop and never get a scratch. Such a man is became unruly and Mr. Clifford came very near losing his life. Dr. Alverson was summoned and bandaged the wounds. We hope no serious results.

Chas. W. Kohl has purchased the entire stock of merchandise of E. A. Ficke and will now be pleased to receive your patronage. He has engaged Chas. Sholz as clerk.

A HAPPY GATHERING.

On Sunday, March 29, the residence of Mr. Henry Seip, was the scene of a happy family reunion, and great preparations were made for the festivities. All invited guests were cared for in a hospitable manner upon their arrival.

The Zurich brass band rendered many choice selections during the afternoon, while a select orchestra of four pieces furnished music during the evening. After partaking of a bountiful spread, the guests, one and all took to merry making, and to say all had an enjoyable time would be putting it mildly. Games of all sorts were indulged in. The songs rendered by Prof. Walz, Fred Renard, J. Sieman and others, were greatly appreciated. Otto C. Ficke was pianist of the evening and delighted the audience with several selections. J. Sieman kept the audience in good humor with his banjo.

Among those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames H. Seip, Fred Seip, Wm. Bicknase, H. Hillman, H. Branding, A. Fiedler, J. Sbrocchi, J. Blaine, W. Prehm, H. Prehm, A. Cunningham, J. Diekson, D. Laughner, Rev. Kasten and H. Rieneka.

Mesdames L. Ficke and J. C. Meyer. Messrs. W. Eichman, Chas. Seip, J. Decker, Bert Seip, O. C. Ficke, Ben Searns, H. Swerman, Chas. Sholz, Frank Sholz, J. C. Meyer, Frank Meyer, L. Clifford, Chas. Sties, J. Sieman, A. Bushell, A. Lohman, G. Walz, E. Branding, J. H. Forbes, Chas. Kohl, Louis Seip, H. Kropp, N. Weitzer, Fred Renard and C. Mitchell. Misses Millie Rusick, Molly Lohmeier, Emma Ficke, Emma Meyer, Annie Meyer, Amelia Kukuk, Katie Kukuk, Lizzie Kukuk, Julia Packard, Augusta Eichman, Gertie Sholz, Hannah Sholz, Ella Seip, Jennie Seip, Edith Seip, Emma Seip and Clara Eichman.

The distance intervening was too great for the scribe to be present, which he regrets very much.

A canvass among the druggists of this place reveals the fact Chamberlain's are the most popular proprietary medicines sold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, especially, is regarded as in the lead of all throat trouble remedies, and as such, is freely prescribed by physicians. As a croup medicine, it is unexcelled, and most families with young children keep a bottle always handy for instant use. The editor of the Graphic has repeatedly known Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to do the work after all other medicines had failed.—The Kimball, S. D. Graphic. For sale at 25 and 50 cents per bottle by A. L. Waller, Druggist.

NOT TO BE TRIFLED WITH.

From Cincinnati Gazette: Will people never learn that a "cold" is an accident to be dreaded, and that when it occurs treatment should be promptly applied? There is no knowing where the trouble will end; and while complete recovery is the rule, the exceptions are terribly frequent, and thousands upon thousands of fatal illnesses occur every year ushered in by a little injudicious exposure and seemingly trifling symptoms. Beyond this, there are to-day countless invalids who can trace their complaints to "colds," which at the time of occurrence gave no concern, and was therefore neglected.—When troubled with a cold use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is prompt and effectual. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. L. Waller, Druggist.

RUTHVEN'S WARD

BY FLORENCE MARRYAT.

CHAPTER I.

MR. RUTHVEN was what his lady friends termed "very eccentric." In their eyes the chief part of his eccentricity lay in the fact of his being a bachelor and perfectly contented with the position. But that was not all. He said such awful things. He was a dramatist and cynic. His plays were the most successful of the time, but he would never allow any one to mention them to him, far less compliment him upon their popularity. They were all full of the most sentimental love scenes, and airy, graceful humor, yet Mr. Ruthven, if ever he mentioned the tender passion personally, sneered at it as a chimera of the poet's and novelist's brain—a monstrous impossibility, not to be found in this world.

Quiet, steady-going husbands did not like Ruthven to associate with their wives. They were not in the least afraid of his upsetting their morality; far from it; he had never been known to flirt in his life; but they were afraid of his destroying their faith in the existence of truth and virtue.

If his own word were to be believed, he did not credit mankind with any feelings beyond those of self-gratification and aggrandizement. He ignored love and laughed at matrimony, except as a convenient contract for such parties as desired to benefit by their mutual possessions—a temptation he always ended by saying he thanked the Lord he had been preserved against. But if Mr. Ruthven did not care for marriage, neither did he set much store by riches. He was very liberal with what he earned—no inconsiderable amount—and openly pitied those who considered it incumbent upon them to save. He could not see the fun of planting fig-trees for the next generation to sit under. Yet he did not spend his money on his own home, which was a very modest one, situated in an old-fashioned purlieu of Kensington. There he lived, in a tiny house, waited on by an ancient purblind housekeeper—one of those inconvenient legacies which a man sometimes finds himself compelled to accept against his will, and does not know how to get rid of afterward without being called a brute.

Mrs. Garrett had not much trouble, however, with her master, who always spent his evenings at his club. There he might be found, night after night, the center of a circle of admiring friends, for Ruthven, though so unpopular with the women—in consequence of an unpleasant habit he had contracted by saying what he meant—was an immense favorite with the men, who heard no such caustic, witty, stinging remarks from any other member of the Cannibal Club. With the other sex Ruthven became hard, philosophical, sometimes almost uncomplimentary, but his own knew him as he really was—thoroughly good-hearted, honest, and true; hating vice, and with a very tender spot somewhere, waiting for the right hand to probe and reveal. Another great cause for offense with the ladies against Ruthven was, that he never went to their dinner parties, and, worse still, he never answered their letters.

Many and many a fair woman had angled for that tough old heart of his in vain, for a popular dramatist, and one of the cleverest men in town, was not a parti to be let slip without an effort. Yet the coveted, cunning fish swam by them, flashing his cold, glittering scales in the sun, uncaptured and unlikely to be so. The married women said he was a bear, the unmarried ones that he was a fool; but Ruthven cared not what they said. In appearance he was decidedly good-looking. His earnest, deep-souled eyes were set in a face whose features betokened three grand qualities—decision, perspicuity, and humor; but as his short sight compelled him always to wear a pair of double glasses, few people knew how much tenderness beamed in his glance and was mixed with the rest of his disposition. His age was about five-and-thirty, but his hair was already plentifully sprinkled with gray. He gave strangers more the idea of being a disappointed and soured man than anything else, and the ladies were not slow to attribute his misanthropic temperament to his having been jilted by one of themselves; but they were wrong. Ruthven had never been jilted. His cynicism was due to the fact that he did not believe in that which he had never experienced, and the love passages which issued from his pen were drawn, as we draw pictures of heaven, from his imagination only.

If a lady, by any chance, induced Ruthven to appear at an evening party, she was always more elated at her success than the event seemed to warrant; for he was generally either brusque or silent whilst there, and invariably withdrew himself to join his beloved Cannibals as soon as it ever was possible to do so.

And his hostess, could she have looked in upon him afterward, would have been surprised and disgusted to find how agreeable and talkative he could become directly he entered his proper element and felt himself to be at home. Just as those of his acquaintances, who thought him "so terribly sarcastic" that they hardly dare open their mouths in his presence, would have been amazed to hear Mrs. Garrett scold him for letting his breakfast grow cold whilst he lay in bed, or for remaining in damp boots with his feet upon one of the best chairs whilst he discoursed eloquently on all the cardinal virtues for the benefit of his nephew, young Hamilton Shore. That young Hamilton Shore was Mr. Ruthven's nephew every one had been told, and some believed; but no one knew how he came to be so—Ruthven's antecedents and family history being alike unknown in the world of London.

The majority of his acquaintances—according to the usual charity displayed by those who benefit by all we have to give them, and make the worst of everything we do in return—were bold enough to hint there was a closer connection between Ruthven and his protegee than he chose to confess; and he never took the trouble to contradict them. He had said that Hamilton Shore was his nephew, and what society chose to believe on the subject was a matter of supreme indifference to him.

The lad was now sixteen, and, having shown a disposition to enter the law, had been removed from the public school and was working under a tutor somewhere in the vicinity of his uncle's house. Except at breakfast-time he and Ruthven saw but little of each other; but he was under the special charge of Mrs. Garrett, who gave him his supper when he returned home of an evening, and generally looked after him.

He was a fine, handsome lad, tall and upright, with wide-open blue eyes, and fair, curly hair—bearing no resemblance whatever to his uncle. On rare occasions he appeared by Ruthven's side in the stalls of the theater, and he always attracted much attention from the friends of the latter when he did so; but his uncle did not encourage the practice. Like most men who have passed through the crucible of the world, he did not see the necessity of being scorched by its flames, and wished to save Hamilton from too early an acquaintance with its evil. He had been burned himself too often not to dread the fire for his nephew.

So young Shore was still considered and treated as a mere child, at which he was sometimes more than disposed to grumble.

Ruthven, who usually sat up writing half the night, seldom left his bed till eleven or twelve o'clock in the day; when, after a desultory breakfast, he would saunter down to the Strand and spend his afternoon among the theatrical world of London, being as well known in every lobby and greenroom as the manager himself.

It was on one particular day in spring when, having passed some hours in the way described, he was walking quietly down a street in the city in which one of our principal police courts is situated. There was an amused smile upon his face, the smile of a man who has heard something which excites his ridicule either by its absurdity or its untruth.

The fact is, Lord Lupton had just met and congratulated him on his supposed engagement to Cissy Vanilla, the prettiest and most popular burlesquer on the boards. His lordship had appeared to imagine that it was the most natural thing in the world that the well-known dramatist should be about to contract an alliance with the well-known actress, and that he was a very lucky fellow to get her. Ruthven had acknowledged the possible luck, while he denied the fact, but his lip curled inwardly the while. He and Cissy Vanilla! Where would the world's folly stop? Last month he had been accused of losing his heart to Mrs. Flutterley.

Next week, in all probability, he should hear his name linked with that of Signora Scandalati, or some other prominent female. Why could they not leave him alone—he who troubled his head so little about paying attention to any of them? If his detractors could only have looked into Ruthven's heart at that moment they certainly would not have put themselves out of the way to invent a destiny for him any longer.

As Ruthven arrived at the police court he perceived there was a large crowd at its entrance—so unusually large a one, in fact, that it induced him to ask the policeman in attendance the reason of it.

"It's one of them spiritual cases coming on, sir; a doctor to be tried for his position, and the evidence against him given by a member of parliament."

Ruthven immediately decided upon going in to hear the trial. It was a common habit of his to attend the police and law courts when anything of interest took place. His profession was the study of mankind, and he knew of no better arena for the pursuit of it. So he turned short round and entered the court. It was very crowded in anticipation of the coming case, and for some minutes he could hardly get standing room, and of what was going on in front of him he had no idea, except from the remarks of the people, who were not complimentary to the cause of justice.

"Shame!" exclaimed one man, stoutly.

"If she did do it, what harm?" said another.

"She's a mere child to look at," remarked a third.

"Silence in the court!" was shrieked out by the clerk in office.

"What is it all about?" demanded Ruthven, pushing his way to the front rank.

There in the dock was a pitiable sight. Held up between two policemen, because she trembled so she could not stand, was a young girl, whose age was put down in the charge-sheet as thirteen, but who, by reason of her attenuated appearance, did not look more than ten or eleven. Her small, white, pinched face, from which two immense blue eyes stared tearfully at the magistrate, was filled with terror; her rough and tangled hair, which should have been flaxen, but was so begrimed with dirt as to appear what artists would term a neutral tint, hung down upon her half-naked, bony shoulders; and her ragged cotton gown was scarcely sufficient for decency. She looked like a half-starved, hunted fawn, with those wild, pitiful, entreating eyes, and her whole appearance filled Ruthven's breast with so much compassion that he listened with interest to hear what charge was brought against her. He concluded it would be theft, and so it was—of what other crime could such a child be guilty? But the evidence given against her by one of the policemen was certainly of an aggravated character.

"Please your worship," he commenced, after having been sworn, "I was on my beat last evening along Little Peccadillo Street—"

"Speak out," said the magistrate, testily. The policeman grew red, cleared his throat, and recommenced.

"I was on my beat in Little Peccadillo Street—"

"You've said that before," interrupted the magistrate.

"When I see this young gal, your worship, stooping by some palings outside a house; and when I came up with her she had got 'er 'ands full of onions, which she had stole inside the palings, and—"

"Only three," articulated the pale lips of the child in the dock.

"What does she say?" interrupted the magistrate.

"She said it was only three onions as she'd got, your worship."

"Only three! Three is as bad as thirty. What more, constable?"

"Nothing in particular, your worship. She was thieving the onions—not the first time by many, I know—and I took her in the act."

"What's the prisoner got to say for herself?"

"What 'ave you got to say for yourself? You can speak to his worship, if you will," repeated one of the constables to the criminal.

"Please, sir, I was so hungry!"

"Hungry! nonsense. Hunger is no excuse for crime. Where does this girl live, constable? What's her name? Has she got no parents?"

"Her name is Peg O'Reilly, your worship, and she's got no parents as she knows of; and she ain't got any friends, nor any home in particular, neither; she gets her living about the streets."

The magistrate frowned visibly. Ruthven was watching every phase of the farce through his double eyeglasses.

"Ha! very bad! very bad indeed! Does she attend the School-Board?"

"No, your worship."

"Been vaccinated?"

"'Ave you been vaccinated?" demanded the policeman in charge.

"Whacked," said the prisoner, mistaking the word; "oh, yes, sir, often."

The mournful tones went through Ruthven's toughened heart.

Spring Excursions to Great Southwest.

On April 21 and May 5, 1896, the Santa Fe Route will run a series of homeseekers' cheap excursions from the East to principal points in Arkansas, Arizona, Central and Western Kansas, Southern Missouri, Oklahoma, Indian Territory and Texas.

Ticket rate will be about one fare for round-trip, with liberal limits and stop-over privileges. These Santa Fe Route excursions will enable you to take a Spring outing and see a new country.

By addressing G. T. Nicholson, G. P. A., Monadnock Block, Chicago, you may obtain free literature descriptive of lands in the Great Southwest.

A Romantic Career.

There is no more romantic career in fiction than that of the dowager empress of China. Her parents were destitute peasants in the suburbs of Canton when she was a child and rather than see them starve she begged them to sell her as a slave. She was bought by a famous general, who was so captivated by her beauty and wit that he adopted her as his daughter. He took her to Peking, where she so charmed the emperor that he made her his wife.—Exchange.

Cheap Excursions to the West and Northwest.

On April 21 and May 5, 1896, the North-Western Line (Chicago & North-Western R'y) will sell Home Seekers' excursion tickets at very low rates to a large number of points in Northern Wisconsin, Michigan, Northwestern Iowa, Western Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota, including the famous Black Hills district. For full information apply to ticket agents of connecting lines or address W. B. Kniskern, G. P. & T. A., Chicago, Ill.

All About Western Farm Lands.

The "Corn Belt" is the name of an illustrated monthly newspaper published by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy R. R. It aims to give information in an interesting way, about the farm lands of the west. Send 25 cents in postage stamps to the "Corn Belt," 209 Adams St., Chicago, and the paper will be sent to your address for one year.

Underrated.

"Hello, Jack!" said the man in the railroad station, slapping the back of the man walking ahead of him.

"I guess you have read your hand wrong," said the man, who turned out to be a stranger. "I ain't no Jack. My name's King."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Pilgrim—Easter Number

Will be ready the early part of April. Everything in it will be new and original. It will contain articles by Capt. Chas. King, U. S. A., ex-Gov. Geo. W. Peck, of Wisconsin, and other noted writers. An entertaining number, well illustrated. Send ten (10) cents to Geo. H. Heafford, publisher, 415 Old Colony building, Chicago, Ill., for a copy.

Returned the Money.

Charles Epstein, one of the oldest merchants of Parkersburg, W. Va., recently received a letter postmarked Los Angeles, Cal., but written and signed evidently by a woman. The letter contained a $2 note, which the writer sends to pay for a pair of gloves which she says she stole thirty years ago from Epstein's store. She says she was recently converted, and could not sleep until she had made restitution for the petty theft committed thirty years ago.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure, be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by druggists; price, 75c per bottle. ## THE TRADE REVIEW.

QUARTERLY STATEMENT OF FAILURES AND LIABILITIES.

Figures Show an Increase Over Those of Last Year, Practically All at the South.—Improvement in Business Has Begun.—The Week's Failures.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

"The regular quarterly statement of failures shows 4,031, with liabilities of $57,425,135, against 3,802 last year, with liabilities of $47,813,683, and 4,304 in the same quarter of 1894, with liabilities of $64,127,343. The average liabilities were $14,246, against $12,577 last year and $14,900 in 1894. Manufacturing failures were 833, against 651 last year, with liabilities of $23,507,326, against $20,223,991 last year; increase, 16.2 per cent, but the decrease in comparison with 1894 is 16.4 per cent. Trading failures were 3,118, with liabilities of $31,424,312, against $25,979,894 last year; increase, 20.9 per cent, but in comparison with 1894 the decrease is 6.9 per cent.

"The ratio of defaulted liabilities to payments through clearing-houses was $4.45 per $1,000, the average for the previous ten years having been $3.27, and the average per firm in business was $47.48, against $38.64 for the previous ten years.

"The main increase over last year has been in manufacturing failures in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Kentucky, and in trading failures in Texas and Minnesota, owing to two recent large defaults. Other commercial failures are also larger than last year, practically all the increase being at the south. Banking failures have been 51, against 36 last year, but with liabilities of only $4,751,972, against $13,482,527 last year.

"More than half the entire banking defaults were in northern states, west of the Mississippi.

"The improvement expected with spring weather begins, though in some branches of business scarcely visible. As consumers make spring purchases, they must lessen stock and compel buying. The stocks taken in advance of last summer's demands have been distributed far more slowly than was expected, but months of waiting have helped to lessen the load which it is hoped spring buying will clear away. The backward season has been a hindrance, as has also been the number of hands unemployed in important industries, and the low price of farm products. Apprehension of foreign or financial difficulties have hindered, but are now scarcely felt. Gold exports are rumored, but at this season are so far natural that they have no such power to cause alarm as they had in winter.

"The gigantic steel combination is expected to have a great influence in sustaining markets and stimulating confidence, and though such operations often miss the success they seek, they rarely fail to kindle speculative buying for a time.

"The woolen manufacture does not gain in orders, and a large part of the machinery is stopped. Prices of wool have fallen 7 1/2 per cent, the average of 104 quotations being 13.62 cents. Sales in March were smaller than in any other month since 1894, and for the quarter were only 57,147,780 pounds, of which 30,916,200 were foreign, against 69,081,315 last year, of which 26,253,850 was foreign.

"Cotton mills still pile up goods in advance of orders, as reductions in price have failed as yet to stimulate buying.

"Speculation in products has been tame. Cotton continues to come forward so largely that former predictions of 6,500,000 bails are remembered with derision, and the outlook for the next crop continues good.

"Wheat, has slightly advance, and if late reports of injury from extensive frosts and storms prove correct will advance more, though western receipts continue nearly 50 per cent larger than last year, and for five weeks past have been 13,835,410 bushels, against 8,331,372 last year, while Atlantic exports have been only 6,733,132 bushels (flour included), against 8,435,701 last year. Corn exports are large and receipts also heavy, but pork has declined 75 cents per barrel."

McKinley Assured of Two More.

Birmingham, Ala., April 7.—McKinley scored another victory in De Kalb county Saturday, the result of which is to give him the Seventh district, with its two delegates, to the republican national convention. The district convention is to meet at Gadsden Tuesday. McKinley has twenty-one of the delegates, six are uninstructed, and nine are divided among the combination opponents. It seems certain that C. D. Alexander of Attalia and George Curtis both McKinleyites, will be sent to Louis.

Paralysis Follows Bloodlessness and Nervous Prostration.

A PATIENT WOMAN AFFLICTED FOR YEARS.

She Tells How at Last She Was Permanently Cured.

From the Press, New York City.

For more than fifteen years, Mrs. A. Mather, who lives at No. 43 East One-hundred-and-twelfth Street, New York, was a sufferer from anemia, which, in spite of the treatment of physicians, gradually developed into nervous prostration until finally marked symptoms of paralysis set in. Mrs. Mather gladly gave the reporter her experience.

"For many years," Mrs. Mather said, "I was a constant sufferer from nervousness. It was about fifteen years ago that my condition began to grow worse. Soon I became so affected that I was prostrated and, until about two years ago, was a part of the time unable to leave my bed. I employed several physicians from time to time, my bills at the drug store for prescriptions, sometimes, amounting to as much as $50 a month, but all the doctors did for me did not seem to help me at all. My blood became greatly impoverished and after years of suffering I was threatened with paralysis.

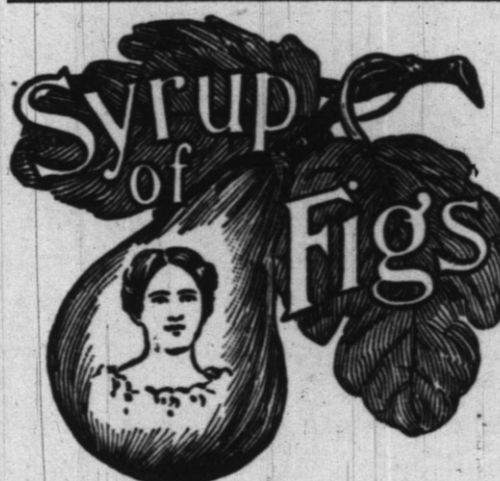

"When I walked I could scarcely drag my feet along and at times my knees would give away so that I would almost fall down. Feeling that doctors could not help me I had little hope of recovery, until one day I read in a newspaper how a person, afflicted almost the same as I was, had been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I purchased a box and began taking the pills. The effect of this first box pleased me so much that I bought another. Before I had taken all the pills in the first box I began to experience relief, and after the third box had been used, I was practically cured. It was really surprising what a speedy and pronounced effect the medicine had upon me.

"I always keep Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the house now, and when I feel any symptoms of nervousness find that they give me certain relief."

Mrs. Mather's daughter, Miss Anna, corroborated her mother's account, and told how she herself had been cured of chronic indigestion by these pills; and how, too, her cousin had been cured of anemia. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppression, irregularities and all forms of weakness. They build up the blood, and restore the glow of health to pale and sorrow cheeks. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork or excesses of whatever nature. Pink Pills are sold in boxes (never in loose bulk) at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists, or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Med. Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Mexico's Defensive Forces.

The regular army of Mexico comprises 27,000 men of all arms, including a police of about 2,000 men and a gendarmerie of 250. The navy consists of two small unarmed vessels and three gun boats. The annual expenditure on account of army and navy is from $12,500,000 to $15,000,000.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—firmly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

HOW EASTER WAS OBSERVED

FINE PROGRAMS RENDERED AT THE SALEM, BAPTIST AND METHODIST CHURCHES.

SALEM CHURCH.

Every seat was filled at the Sunday evening service at the Salem church. The altar of the church was filled with fragrant flowers in bloom. An elegant program was rendered in an exceedingly able manner, and was as follows:

Voluntary by Miss Mary Frye.

Words of welcome and Scripture reading by Rev. Suhr.

"Auferstehung der Toten"—Theodore Suhr, Luella Plagge, Esther Lageschulte and Laura Rieke. The young ladies carried flowers in their hands.

Male Quartette—Theodore Suhr, John Kampert, Sam Landwer and Sam Gieske.

"Easter Song"—Esther Kampert, Rose Lageschulte, Nora Plagge, Mabel Stiefenhofer, Alma Stiefenhofer, Rose Kampert, Emma Lageschulte, Lydia Sott, Lula Boehmer and Louise Suhr.

Dialogue, "Die Bedeutung des Osterfestes"—Laura Frye, Grace Landwer, Martha Kampert, Luella Peters and Laura Boehmer.

Quartette—Rev. and Mrs. Suhr, Theodore and Miss Lydia Suhr.

Solo — Bennie Brinkamp. This little gentleman deserves special mention for creditable manner in which he sang his song.

Dialogue, "Der Zwölfjahrige Jesus"—Frank Plagge, Henry Sott, Walter Roloff, Alvin Meier and Sammie Naehner.

One of the chief features was the march and song by a chorus of sixty children, drilled by Miss Mary Frye. The little ones were grouped in a pleasing way on the stage, and acted their part well.

Collection.

Bible class, twenty-one in number, B. H. Sott, teacher.

A double quartette rendered a choice selection, after which the congregation was dismissed with the benediction.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

The Baptist church was well filled at the Sunday evening service, and the following program was well rendered:

Voluntary—Violin solo, Prof. Sears. Opening chorus by the Sunday School.

"Welcome," (original) — Arnett Lines.

"Meaning of Easter"—Six girls.

Solo, "Jesus Blis Us Shine"—Edwin Austin.

"I Am the Resurrection"—Florence Peck.

"We Come As the Marys"—Chorus girls.

Motion song, "How Easter Is Kept"—Primary class.

Violin Solo—Prof. Sears.

"Unused Spices"—Ida Hutchinson.

Chorus, "Christ Has Risen"—Mrs. Austin's class.

Recitation, "Low in the Grave He Lay"—Ethel Austin, Lotta Palmer and Beulah Otis.

Contralto solo, "Immortality"—Miss Hopkins.

Recitation—Grace Young.

Marching chorus, "Hail the Song of Jubilee"—Girls.

"Deck the Altar"—Willie Grunau, Mary Brant, Arthur Morehouse and Florence Jahnke.

"How I Keep Easter"—Emma Jahnke.

Duet—Cora and Myrtle Burtis.

Violin Solo—Prof. Sears.

"The Robin's Song"—Myrtle Burtis.

Quartet, "Just As I Am"—H. Drewes, Mrs. Lines, Myrtle Dixon and H. Vermilya.

"Easter"—Willie Grunau.

"Legend of Easter Eggs"—Nellie Dawson.

Doll Drill—Eight little girls in costume.

Easter offering.

Violin Solo—Prof. Sears.

"His Tender Care"—Mrs. Austin's class.

Parting prayer by Rev. Kingsley.

METHODIST CHURCH.

A large congregation was entertained at the Methodist church Sunday evening by the following program:

Organ Voluntary—C. A. Alberding.

Song by the Sunday school.

Recitation, "For Lo! He Hath Arisen"—Annie Jordan.

Prayer by Rev. T. E. Ream.

Song by the Sunday school.

Opening Address (by a boy)—Fred Loco.

Opening Address (by a girl)—Myrtle Runyan.

Song by the Sunday school.

Recitation and Song, "Easter Buds"—By sixteen children.

Duet, with Chorus by the School—Sadie Krahn and Carrie Meyer.

Recitation, "Easter Bells"—Iva Runyan.

Song and recitation for five boys and five girls, "Easter Comes in Spring."

Recitation, "What Is Easter?"—By five girls.

Song by the school, "Forth from the Dead."

Recitation, "Easter Morn"—Chester Catlow.

Song by the school, "Hosanna," with solo by Miss Carrie Kingsley.

Song by the school, "To Him Be Glory."

Paris Exposition.

In the summer of 1900, the French nation will hold at Paris a great international exposition, which bids fair to rival, if not surpass, the late World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago.

Already people all over the civilized world are making preparations for visiting Paris—the city of boulevards and palaces—studying the people and their language, but it remained for Chicago enterprise to introduce the first plan whereby people of moderate means will be enabled to visit Paris and the exposition at a comparatively trifling cost.

On March 10, there was incorporated under the laws of the state of Illinois. The Paris Exposition Association of the Metropolitan Business College of Chicago, one of whose main objects will be to provide a fund of savings to enable its members and their friends to attend the so-called Paris Exposition in Paris, France, in 1900.

It is estimated that by combining means and forces, the members of the association will be enabled to visit the exposition at a cost of not more than $125 for each person, payable in equal monthly installments.

This amount is expected to take a member from Chicago to Paris and return, and to pay the member's hotel bill in Paris for thirty days.

In case of death or withdrawal of a member, money paid in on installments will be returned with savings bank interest added.

Special inducements offered persons joining the association before May 1. For application blanks and further particulars call on or address.
