GRIM REAPER DEATH

Enters Three Barrington Households Early Friday Morning.

We are called upon to record the work of the harvester death, who has entered our village and called three of our people to answer the summons. It is the first instance on record in this village where three deaths have occurred in one morning. The sudden appearance of the silent messenger proves the uncertainty of life.

MRS. WILLIAM DONLEA.

Mrs. William Donlea was called to the better world, Friday morning, March 29, after having suffered an illness extending over a period of several months. She had been subject to heart trouble and medical aid seemed powerless to furnish relief. Mrs. Donlea was a lady who by her consideration for the welfare of others had attracted many firm friends and acquaintances who will read with profound regret this announcement of her passing away. She was one of the old residents of the vicinity and here she had raised her family and enjoyed the best years of her life. Mrs. Donlea manifested great interest in the work of the church with which she had been connected since early childhood, and in the careful training of her children and interests of her home. No family of children could have had a more loving and indulgent parent, no husband a more faithful helpmate.

The deceased was born in Limerick, Ireland, November 8, 1837 and when 13 years of age came to America, settling in Chicago in 1850. In January 1855 she was joined in marriage to William Donlea who survives her. They started life in this vicinity. Of the twelve children born to them the following are living: Mrs. D. J. Baldwin, residing in Nebraska; Mrs. J. Buckley, Chicago; Mrs. E. Monahan, Volo, Ill.; John Donlea, Evanston; Mrs. G. Krimse, Misses Dina and Nellie and Mr. Lawrence Donlea of this village. Mrs. Donlea was a member of St. Ann's Catholic church and the funeral will be held from there Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

The aged husband and members of the family have the sympathy of the people in this hour of sorrow.

HENRY RIECK.

Thursday night Henry Rieck well known to every one in Barrington, retired to rest apparently in the best of health. A few minutes before five o'clock Friday morning he complained of a severe pain in the region of the heart. An hour later he had obeyed the summons and passed to the life beyond.

Henry Rieck was born in Germany, February 2, 1848, and emigrated to this country in 1873, making his home in Chicago. He secured employment as a section laborer on the Northwestern road and in 1875 came to Barrington. Three years later he was given the position of foreman of the section crew here and held the place continuously since. He was the father of nine children, five of whom and a wife are left to mourn his sudden taking away. Mr. Rieck was an honest, hard working man, and by his industry acquired a comfortable home and some additional property. He was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran church and of the Modern Woodmen which order will assist in the funeral services to be held at St. Paul's church, Monday at 2 o'clock.

MARIA SCHOPPE.

After a brief illness Mrs. Maria Schoppe laid down the burden of life work Friday morning, March 29, at 2 o'clock the cause of her death being peritonitis. The deceased was born in Germany in 1833 and came to this country in 1851. For 45 years she has resided in this immediate vicinity, removing from a farm in the town of Palatine to this village four years ago. She was a woman of kindly disposition and in the winter of her life had suffered more than her share of this world's trials and tribulations. She was the mother of four sons and three daughters who with the husband survive. The funeral will be held at her late residence Sunday at 1:30 o'clock, services to be conducted by Rev. Halter of Zion Evangelical church.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

The Items Collected and Compiled by

One of the Opposite Sex.

The average American husband does not seem to be able to get through his well meaning but halting mind that nothing on God's earth humiliates a wife more than to be compelled to ask her husband for money, writes Edward Bok. She instinctively hesitates to do it, and oftentimes she goes without rather than ask. Every wife should be given all that is possible for a husband to allow for household expenses, and it should not be doled out to her in driblets nor given to her as a favor, but as her right and without question. I have no hesitation in saying that if the truth were known it is just this humiliating dependence on a man for every little trifle that a woman needs that is making thousands of women restless and anxious for outside careers.

If you wish to be most tremendously swaggar this season you'll have to choose turquoise blue, scarlet or mauve for your hat. Of course you may select any hat or any shade of any of these colors and be in style. You may combine them all or put any one or two with something else, but you must bow to the stern decree of Dame Fashion and show some hint of some one of them in the headgear you select about Easter tide.

The metropolitan papers are publishing letters from many people on the question "What shall be done with men who desert their families?" The question ought to be easily settled. Imprisonment at hard labor or hanging would be mild punishment for such specimens of humanity.

Such a garden of delight as a woman will get into when the first spring bonnets are on real dress parade, as they will be in a few days. Such a wilderness of delicate color and such a maze of gauze and maline, each a network of queer braids and such prairies of posies never was dreamed of.

It was at the woman's club where the question was under discussion, that one of the pronounced man managers said: "It is right and proper that a woman should manage her husband. It was for that very reason that they two were made one, for a man left without such management is like a ship without a pilot. He is sure to do something that he ought not to have done at all, and to feel wretched in consequence, and he seldom realizes that it was all because he lacks man's most precious possession—a good, sensible, managing wife. The woman who fails to manage her husband has no more right to complain than—well, than a man has because the whisky he drank made his head ache. We must always bear in mind the laws of cause and effect. The woman who never has her own way is uncomfortable, but she should not forget that it is because of her own sins of omission. She has not studied that most important of womanly arts—the art of managing her husband. Instead of complaining she should set herself the task of acquiring this art."

AN INHERITANCE IN WESTERN CANADA.

Indian Reservations and Other New Districts to Be Opened Up This Year.

In the Great Saskatchewan Valley and the Fertile Plains of Assiniboia.

To the Editor, Dear Sir: The past three or four years have demonstrated to a large number of Americans the value of the grain-growing and ranching lands of Western Canada. Tens of thousands have taken advantage of the offer made by the Canadian government as well as of the exceedingly low prices asked for lands by the railway, colonization and other companies. The experience of those who have been settled there for some little time is of a highly gratifying character. So much so that the Canadian government, who has control of the immigration into Western Canada, has decided to open up some new districts this year in the well known Saskatchewan Valley and also in the fertile plains of Assiniboia. These districts are probably the most productive in the entire West and in close touch to largely settled communities as well as being situated on some of the most important lines of railway. They are within easy reach of markets, schools, churches and other social advantages. In some of these districts lands may be homesteaded as well as purchased outright at very low prices. Now as to what can be done on these lands. The evidence of the settlers in the neighborhood of the lands now about to be opened for settlement (some of them being located in one of the best Indian Reservations) goes to show that the very best results have followed even most indifferent methods. Cases are given where farmers having gone there with most limited means, barely enough to erect a small house and break up a little land, have in three or four years time become prosperous, all debts paid and money in the bank. The soil in the districts mentioned, Assiniboia and Saskatchewan, is a rich black loam, fifteen inches to three feet deep. As a settler says, "It appears like the accumulation of decayed vegetation and ashes for centuries (the sub-soil is a stiff, putty clay)." On this soil it is possible to raise from 40 to 50 bushels of wheat to the acre, oats 75 to 100 bushels, all of which bring good prices at the local market. For mixed farming these new districts are probably among the best in Western Canada. Stock raising easily on the wild grasses. Hay is plentiful, and prices splendid. Another settler writing to a friend in Iowa says: "The climate is all that could be desired, plenty of rainfall in summer, with no hot, dry winds. On the 25th of September I saw prairie flowers in full bloom, sweet corn, potato and tomato vines that had not been touched a particle with frost, and the winters are milder than those in the State from which I came. After the holidays the winter sets in clear and cold, with plenty of snow for good sleighing; no high winds or blizzards are known. Horses live out all winter and pick their own living, while cattle live all winter in open sheds and around the hay racks. Wheat, oats and barley are the principal grain crops. Potatoes and all other roots and vegetables do well, the yield being enormous as compared to those in the States. Wild fruits, such as strawberries, raspberries, cranberries, gooseberries and all varieties of currants yield in abundance. As a reader of your valuable paper for a number of years, I feel that I should inform you of the progress and advancement being made in Canada within the past few years, and the inducements and advantages that will follow settlement in Western Canada. Those who desire information can do as I did, and apply to any Agent of the Canadian Government, whose name I see appears in advertisements appearing elsewhere in the columns of your paper, and when writing ask particularly about the Saskatchewan Valley or Assiniboia Districts.

Yours truly,
Old Reader."

REPORT OF THE PROCEEDINGS.

Representative Hammond Is Pushing a Bill for the Protection of Discharged Employers by Providing Against Blacklisting—Written Cause of Discharge.

Tuesday, March 19.

Frank Farnum of Chicago introduced a bill regulating the taxation of capital stock of corporations. It closely follows the New York law which taxes corporations. It provides that Illinois corporations shall pay an annual tax into the state treasury, computed upon the basis of the amount of its capital stock employed in the state as follows: One-half mill for each 1 per cent of dividends if the dividends amount to 6 per cent or more; 3 mills if the dividends are less than 6 per cent; 3 mills upon each dollar of capital stock if no dividends are made or declared. Representative Cornelius D. O'Connor of Chicago stirred the legislative waters by introducing a street railway bill, which fixes the maximum life of a franchise at ten years. The bill seeks to repeal the old horse and dummy act which once was repealed by the Allen law but which was put back on the statute books when the Allen law was repealed. Governor Yates appointed his brother, Harry Yates, superintendent of insurance, to succeed James R. B. Van Cleave. This is one of the best appointments the governor can make. He also appointed his cousin, Charles B. Mueller of La Salle county, a member of the Illinois and Michigan canal board, to succeed Homer J. Tice of Menard county.

Wednesday, March 20.

Much of the time in the house was given to the fight over the bill which relates to the disconnection of territory from cities and villages. All of the many amendments offered by the opponents of the bill were voted down and the bill was advanced to third reading. The fight will be renewed again when the bill comes up for a vote. The purpose of the bill is to give discretionary power to a city council or village board over the disconnection of territory.

At the meeting of the Knox county board of supervisors at Galesburg the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, We believe the passage of the hard-roads bill now before the legislature would greatly increase our state taxation and create a lien upon our property which we would receive no adequate benefit; therefore,

"Resolved, That this board is opposed to any legislation granting state aid for improvement or in any degree taking from local authorities the care or control of country roads."

Thursday, March 21.

Gov. Yates sent to the senate this morning a message announcing the appointment of Homer F. Aspinwall of Stephenson county as a member of the board of managers of the reformatory at Pontiac to succeed William Jackson of Rock Island county, resigned. After the reading of the regular order the senate went into executive session and confirmed the appointment. In the house the senate bill regulating the disconnection of territory from cities and villages was recalled to second reading, and amended so as to prevent railroads from securing the disconnection of their rights of way from a city or village through which it may pass. The discussion of the bill occupied nearly an hour. It was again advanced to third reading.

Electricity as the method of inflicting the death penalty in Illinois may be substituted for the hangman's noose. Legislative sentiment in favor of replacing the gallows with an electric chair is changing. The house judiciary committee has voted to make a favorable report on Dennis E. Sullivan's electrocution bill.

Friday, March 22.

Less than a quorum was present in the house and senate. In the house Carl Burgett introduced a bill regulating stockyards charges, fixing the yardage rate for cattle, horses and mules at 10 cents per head and for hogs and sheep at 50 cents per head, and providing that not to exceed 25 per cent in excess of current prices for food shall be charged. No charge is to be made for loading or unloading or watering. Fire insurance agents want representation in the governor's cabinet. A fire insurance association in Chicago is preparing a bill to change the office of fire marshal. There is some prospect that the active politicians in the house and senate might take up this bill and pass it, for the measure, it is said, provides that the state fire marshal shall have a deputy state fire marshal and an attorney in every county. This would add 204 jobs to the Illinois civil list.

Monday, March 25.

Carl Mueller introduced a bill designed to place private banks under state control. This is another of the several bills brought out by the legislative attack on John Alexander Dowie of Chicago. The Mueller bill is similar in its provisions to the bill introduced last week by Mr. O'Meara. It requires the state to examine every private bank once a year and require private banks to make semi-annual reports to the auditor.

NOTES OF THE SESSION.

The bill, sent down by the Illinois Manufacturers' association of Chicago, which exempts from taxation the capital stock of corporations engaged in mercantile business, was ordered to be reported out favorably by the senate committee on revenue after Senator Shumway had failed in his efforts to have it amended so as to exempt also the capital stock of gas and electric light companies.

Mr. Allen stated in the house that somebody had been stealing copies of the revised statutes and other articles from the desks of members during the night. Speaker Sherman said he had received numerous complaints of this nature and that if any more were received there would be changes on the pay roll so that watchmen would be employed who would attend to their business.

Senator May has introduced his bill, which provides for the election instead of the appointment by the mayor of the members of the Chicago board of education.

In the course of the debate over the bill relating to the disconnection of territory from cities and villages the statement was made that unless the bill passed several hundred villages in Illinois would be in peril of disincorporation because of a recent supreme court decision which held that where a majority of property owners petitioned for disconnection of their property from a village it was the mandatory duty of the village board to disconnect such territory.

Senator May has introduced a bill to legalize and confirm defective plats which fail to comply with the law in force at the time of their making. Also one requiring a notice of five instead of ten days in pauper cases.

Injured by Burning Oil.

A diver of floating oil swept down upon the little village of Glen Gardner, N. J., while its inhabitants were asleep Sunday morning and reduced eleven buildings, stores and residences to ashes. The village is in a valley along the line of the Jersey Central railroad. An immense freight train was wrecked at Glen Gardner at 6:30 a. m. It was composed of a string of coal cars and eighteen tank cars. The tank cars burst and the oil caught fire. Villagers awakened by the explosions rushed from the oncoming flood of blazing oil, carrying children in their arms. From the wrecked cars the oil also flowed down the incline of the railroad track, making a long line of fire that destroyed the ties and bent and twisted the tracks. The loss is estimated at from $60,000 to $75,000.

Shoots Theater Men in Cafe.

A. W. Dingwall, general representative of the theatrical enterprises of Jacob Litt, manager of McVicker's theater, Chicago, theaters in Milwaukee and the Broadway theater in New York, is badly wounded in Roosevelt hospital, New York. May Buckley, an actress, the intended target for the bullet which surgeons are trying now to locate in Mr. Dingwall's body, escaped with a bullet hole through the bottom of her skirt. John G. Leffingwell, an assistant to Mr. Dingwall, at the theater was slightly wounded by a spent ball. These are the net results accomplished by Richard Hayden Moulton, scion of a Springfield, Tenn., family, who terminated an after-theater supper party at the Hotel Pabst, New York, with a few pistol shots, superinduced by too much drink and infatuation for the actress.

Sloux Cheats the Gallows.

A mixed-blood Sloux Indian, Louis Cottier, was killed at his home on Spring Creek, Pine Ridge Indian reservation, by Billy Day, a full-blooded Sloux, recently, and Tuesday to escape punishment Day killed himself. Cottier was alone when Day, accompanied by his wife, drove up to the house. Day and his wife soon afterward rode hurriedly away, and half an hour later Cottier was found with a bullet hole in his head and a wound in his breast. Indian policemen sent out by Indian Agent Brennan soon brought Day to bay, surrounding his place of refuge. When the officers entered the place they discovered the fugitive's lifeless body.

Slays Six Children.

Becoming violently insane while her husband was away, Lizzie Naramore, wife of Frank Naramore, at Cold Brook Springs, Mass., murdered her six children with ax and club, and tried to kill herself, at their home on the Babcock farm, about an eighth of a mile from the village. Mrs. Naramore laid the blood-drenched bodies on the beds, two on one bed and the other four on a bed in another room, and then cut her own throat with a razor. When discovered she was in the bed on which the bodies of the four children were lying. Although she cut a deep gash in her throat, and suffered the loss of much blood, it is believed she will recover.

Incorporation in Arizona.

Governor Murphy of Arizona has signed a bill regulating the incorporation of corporations just passed by the Arizona legislature, making a law which will become as famous, if not more so, than New Jersey's corporation law. The process of incorporating can now be conducted cheaper in Arizona than in any other state or territory in the country, and the laws affecting corporations are the most liberal.

Killed Looking for Burglars.

After searching for burglars whom he believed were in his house, Frank P. Scott, a pattern-maker about 40 years old, was found dead with his throat cut in the passageway outside his home in Portland, Ore. A razor lay beside the body.

Plot to Seize by Murder.

Great excitement prevails at Rio Janeiro over the arrest of Admiral Custodio Jose Mello and others on account of the revelations of a monarchist plot through the suicide of Baron de Bural. Extraordinary precautions are being taken by the government to prevent any outbreak. Apprehension centers about the navy. The war vessels are being closely guarded, as it is believed the officers are not quite trustworthy.

Left and Right.

Bank clerks are so often called upon for information that they fall into the habit of giving it in a hurried, mechanical way. A Philadelphia exchange cites an instance which was followed by unexpected and amusing results. The usual formula when a stranger is called upon to sign his name is "Sign here, pen and ink, left hand." One morning a stranger entered a New York savings bank and asked for a certificate of deposit for a considerable sum of money, and was directed as above. It took him a long time to sign his name. A month later the same man appeared and presented the certificate. He signed his name, but when the clerk looked at it he saw that it was vastly different from the first signature. "This is not the signature of the man to whom I issued this certificate," he said, severely. "Well," said the stranger, "when I was here a month ago you told me to write my name with my left hand, and I can't write very well that way." A light dawned upon the clerk, and he asked the man to write his name again with his left hand. This he did, producing a fac-simile of his first signature, and the money was paid.—Youth's Companion.

NEARLY GONE.

Mrs. Julia A. Mallahan, of Owosso, Mich., Has a Very Narrow Escape—The Doctor Had Little Hope.

Owosso, Mich., March 25.—(Special.)—Elitte Rebekah Lodge, No. 2, I. O. O. F. of this town, came very nearly losing their esteemed and capable secretary, Mrs. Julia A. Mallahan. Mrs. Mallahan caught a severe cold last winter, and like many others, failed to recognize the dangerous possibilities until it had settled in her kidneys, and left her with very severe bearing down pains and almost constant backache. It almost carried her off. Mrs. Mallahan tells the story this way:

"I caught a cold last winter, which I neglected until it settled in my kidneys, causing severe bearing down pains and almost constant backache. My health had previously been so good that I paid little attention to these symptoms, until the disease had gone so far that my doctor entertained but a slight hope of my recovery.

"Fortunately one of our Lodge Members mentioned Dodd's Kidney Pills. Her description of the cures they had effected sounded like a fairy tale, but I sent for a box, deciding to give them a trial. I soon found that she had but half told the story of what they could do. I less the day I first tried them, and have nothing but the highest praise for them."

Many very valuable lives have been saved by the timely use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and not a few of these have been in Owosso and other neighboring Michigan towns. There seems to be no case of kidney trouble or back-ache that Dodd's Kidney Pills will not cure.

They are 50c. a box, six boxes for $2.50. Buy them from your local druggist if you can. If he cannot supply you, send to the Dodd's Medicine Company, Buffalo, N. Y.

A certain British pickle-maker has his pint bottles made to hold just over a pint, so as to be on the safe side of English law. His caution met with poor reward when some of these bottles arrived in Canada, where the law provides that any measure holding more than a pint must pay duty as a quart.

DUEL WITH HUNGRY WOLVES.

Was it the knowledge that in south-eastern Europe this winter has been so severe that the wolves have ravaged the country in search of food, attacking even the villages—was it this knowledge gained from the news dispatches that proved the straw finally to break the reason of Otto H. Biernath? Was the memory of that awful time on the Russian steppes, ten years ago—a never-fading memory at the best—supplemented by tidings of this winter, until the mind of the man now in the Bellevue insane pavilion gave way? It is an odd coincidence and a likely theory to credit.

Biernath, a night watchman for a

From there he saw a peasant woman about to be seized by the ravenous creatures. In some accounts he says he ordered a volley fire, which killed her instantly. In other stories he says he ordered one man to fire, who did, and yet again, he tells that upon the refusal of the soldier to fire he himself had sent into the woman's brain the ball that saved her from death at the teeth of the wolves. But all his statements agree on one point—that he had killed a woman to save her from wolves.

When he and his command returned to their station he was tried on the charge of murder of the woman, con-

This has driven the wolves from the forests of the Balkan states to descend upon the villages for food. They have attacked passengers who alighted from a train held up by the snow in Roumania. Five infantrymen who were serving at Galatz left their station to visit their homes, a few miles from that town. Their parents knew of their departure, and as they did not reach home, alarm arose and a search was made. Two weeks later the searching party came upon a patch of blood-stained snow which contained the men's feet, their bayonets and a few buttons—all that was left of the soldiers. The disturbed condition of the

DEATH IS DEALT BY WIND

A Tornado Sweeps Through Birmingham, Ala.

TWENTY-FIVE ARE KILLED.

A Half Hundred Others Hurt—Buildings in the Storm's Path Are Crushed Like Eggs—Property Loss Is Estimated at $3,000,000.

Twenty-five persons were killed outright, a dozen more received injuries from which they cannot recover, a half hundred others were hurt more or less severely and a property loss reaching a total of $3,000,000 or more was entailed by a tornado which swept over the southern part of Birmingham, Ala., Monday. Fully 500 houses were demolished or damaged by the gale, and more than 2,000 persons were rendered homeless. The storm first struck the city at the southeastern corner about 10 o'clock a. m. It passed eastward with terrific velocity, sweeping away all buildings, trees and telegraph and telephone poles that stood in its pathway. The course of the tornado was due east and from Green Springs on the west to Avondale on the east it left in its wake a scene of ruin, death and desolation. Leaving the city the storm continued eastward until it found its fury checked by the mountains beyond Irondale, a small town six miles east of Birmingham. The path of the storm was narrow, the damage being confined to a track only 150 feet in width. The work of the tornado was quickly done, and rescuing parties were hastily formed to search the ruins for the dead and injured. The former were removed to temporary morgues, and the latter were taken to the various hospitals of the city. Eighteen dead bodies were recovered, of which all but five were those of negroes. It is known that there are other bodies in the ruins, and the number of dead may exceed the estimate of twenty-five made. A large part of the wreckage has not yet been searched and the work of rescue will be resumed at dawn tomorrow. All the members of the fire and police departments and the hospital corps are engaged in the work, along with a large force of volunteers. Among the dead are Dr. G. C. Chapman of the firm of Tally & Chapman, who conduct a private infirmary in this city, and the wife and infant child of Robert J. Lowe, chairman of the democratic state executive committee. The morning dawned cloudy and sultry and grew more threatening as the day advanced. Shortly after 9 o'clock sharp lightning flashed from the southwest. The velocity of the wind suddenly increased and from out of the southeast came the dreaded funnel-shaped cloud. Sweeping close to the earth, it passed through the city in leaps and bounds. The altitude of the cyclone was not more than seventy-five feet. Negro shanties and cottages in the lowlands in the path of the storm were the principal sufferers. The larger residences on the higher grounds suffered but slightly. Large trees were torn up by the roots and great masses of stone were twisted out of the ground and broken and scattered about. From Eighth to Tenth street the tornado bounded like a rubber ball and when it again descended it struck a two-story house occupied by Joseph Busenheiner and almost razed it to the ground. The 11-year-old daughter of John Krunsey was caught under the debris and severely injured. A house occupied by Taylor Hanson near by was unroofed and three small negro houses demolished.

Escapes from Two Kidnapers.
A daring attempt was made to kidnap Edward McAvoy, aged 11 years, of Wilkesbarre, Pa. Two men picked him up in the yard of his father's house, carried him to a surrey, placed a handkerchief saturated with chloroform over his nose and drove away. The child became unconscious, and when he revived he found himself on the back seat of the vehicle, which was then jarring over the country road. Young McAvoy jumped from the carriage. One of the men ran after him, but the youngster's cries attracted the attention of the occupants of another carriage, and the kidnapers whipped up their horses and disappeared.

Mrs. Nation Sees the Mayor.
Mrs. Nation called on Mayor Julius Fleischmann at the Cincinnati city hall and scolded him for operating a distillery there. On her arrival the mayor greeted her cordially and asked her if he could do anything for her. She said: "Yes, I want you to give me some advice as to how to close the hell holes in this city. You know that they exist. What are you going to do? You will never do well as long as you are a man who manufactures intoxicating drinks. You will have some serious questions to answer when you face your God. I can do no more than warn you, and that I must do."

Says 3-Cent Fare Will Pay.
New York and Philadelphia authorities are at present receiving the attention of Albert L. Johnson, the traction company promoter, who wants to introduce his 3-cent-fare system in both cities and connect them with a high-grade trolley service. Johnson will propose to the New York officials a plan to build tunnels under the East river and the narrows in order to carry passengers from the Philadelphia Electric railroad in to the heart of New York city and to build a new trolley system, connecting New York and Brooklyn, with 3-cent fares.

Alleged Plot on Czar's Life.
The Berliner Tageblatt prints a special dispatch from St. Petersburg by way of Lemberg to the effect that the Karpovitch investigation has revealed a great plot similar to the nihilistic conspiracy, with Kieff as a center, the main branch at Odessa, and ramifications extending to the lowest strata of society. The plan was to make an attempt on the life of the czar, who was thereupon removed to Gatchina. Eighteen students are closely confined at Schluselberg because they were affiliated with the murderer of M. Bogolipoff.

Tunnel to Staten Island.
Albert L. Johnson has accepted the proposition of Alexander E. Orr, president of the rapid transit commission, to bid for the construction of a tunnel from the Battery to Flatbush avenue, Brooklyn, to Fort Hamilton, thence under the narrows to Staten Island. Mr. Johnson will put up $1,000,000 cash security, a bond for construction and a bond for the payment of rent.

Broken Pledge Costs $10,000.
The jury in the breach of promise suit of Mrs. Sophia Oleson against John Anderson at Fort Dodge, Iowa, has given a verdict for the whole amount asked—$10,000. The case has been on trial before Judge Weaver for the last three days and has aroused much interest, as both principals are well known. Anderson is well to do.

CROWN OF PORTUGAL, WHICH HAS BEEN TAKEN OUT OF PAWN

The crown of Portugal, which King Carlos has just taken out of pawn, is a most highly prized ornament. A few years ago, when his majesty needed ready cash, he gave it as security for a loan which, while considerable, was in no wise commensurate with its real value. It is said that the king took his crown out of pawn not so much as a matter of pride as for future use in the way of a pledge with which to raise money. He was given pecuniary assistance by Edward of England. The gems in this royal bauble are said to be worth $6,000,000.

Held as Captives by Indians.
A message found in a bottle picked up on the beach at Galveston, Tex., says the schooner Rover of New York was wrecked at Cape Horn, and that the two writers of the message—Joseph and James Swift—are captives of the Terre del Fuegian Indians. It is believed that the schooner Rover of Baltimore is missing or lost. The message from the bottle bears date of Aug. 1, 1899, and is written on a playing card.

Fire Kills Two; Hurts Six.
Two children were burned to death and six other members of the family badly injured by the burning of the home of John Holland at Milan, Ill., Friday morning. The fire started from a defective flue. The dead: Willie Holland, 5 years old; Eddie Holland, 3 years old. All except the two who perished jumped from a second-story window. John Holland and his 16-year old son are so badly injured they probably will die.

Hearing of Teachers' Plan.
Evidence has been taken at Springfield on the mandamus proceedings brought by the Teachers' federation of Chicago against the state board of equalization to compel the board to tax the large corporations of Chicago upon their franchises. Miss Goggin declares the testimony proved the correctness of the schedules drawn up by the Teachers' federation, and presented by it to the state board of equalization as a basis upon which to tax the corporations complained of. This schedule is included in the petition for mandamus. The testimony developed only one material change in the figures contained in the schedule. This change occurs on the scheduled bonds of the Consolidated Traction company. The schedule lists $6,750,000 worth of outstanding bonds on April 1, 1900. According to the evidence the Consolidated Traction company had no bonds outstanding at that time, however. The issue was made a few days after April 1.

Dr. Buck's Second Marriage.
On Feb. 21 last Dr. Edward T. Buck, son of Composer Dudley Buck of New York, was united in marriage at Hoopston to Miss Daisy Deane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Deane, the Rev. E. J. Reggans of the Presbyterian church officiating. The ceremony occurred at the home of the bride's parents, who are well-to-do and highly respected people. Dr. Buck is employed as traveling salesman for a drug company in New York. He first met Miss Deane at Indianapolis, Ind., where she was employed for six years as stenographer for the Indiana Life insurance company. It is now reported that he was in 1896 married to Miss Louise Underhill of Babylon, Long Island, from whom, it is alleged, he was not divorced when he married Miss Deane.

Illinois Coal Deal Near.
The unification of all the soft coal interests of Illinois is expected to take place shortly, and the rumors which have been current at Carbondale to the effect that Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock was about to retire from his position are largely due to the fact that it is expected the operators of Illinois will ask him to act as the promoter of a giant consolidation. It was entirely through the active work of Mr. Hitchcock that the great plate glass trust was brought into being, and he has always been more or less interested in Illinois coal. The operators claim that consolidation is necessary because they are hampered by the United Mine workers, which is so strong that they cannot oppose their demands in their present separate condition.

Lake Forest Has the Mumps.
Lake Forest University has the mumps. The result is an early vacation for two departments. Almost twenty cases of the malady are reported, the girls in Ferry Hall Seminary being the greatest sufferers. This department has been dismissed and the attendants at the college also were allowed to go home. Lake Forest Academy, the boys' preparatory school, will continue work for another week, when the regular spring vacation will begin. Because of the mumps 250 of the 400 boys and girls have left for their homes. Alice Home, the university infirmary, now holds seven mumps patients.

Discuss Plans to Win Endowment.
At a meeting of the trustees of the Lincoln university and the citizens of Lincoln, held for the purpose of devising means to raise the balance of $9,000 of the $25,000 needed to secure the gift of $50,000 for the Lincoln university from James Milliken of Decatur, the banker and philanthropist, an executive committee of five was appointed to make a thorough canvass of the city to secure the remainder. It is believed the sum will be obtained within a few weeks. The present endowment of the university is $60,000, and Mr. Milliken's gift will raise it to $110,000.

Serious Fire at Seneca.
Fire at Seneca destroyed the Hotel Commercial, J. F. Clark's furniture store and the office of the Central Union Telephone company. The cause of the fire was the crossing of some telephone wires. The furniture from the big hotel was saved, but everything else in the three buildings was destroyed. Insurance of $1,000 was carried on the stock of furniture. All the property destroyed belonged to J. F. Clark and his loss is about $10,000.

Isaac N. Pearson Again Married.
Isaac N. Pearson and Miss Edith Kerman, both of Macomb, were married at the residence of W. R. Kelly in Omaha, Neb., where Miss Kerman was visiting her sister, Mrs. Kelly. Mr. Pearson was secretary of state of Illinois from 1889 to 1893. This is his second marriage, his first marriage occurring in Springfield, Ill., June 26, 1894, his bride being Miss Jennie Robinson, daughter of the late Judge Alexander Robinson of Springfield. She died two years after marriage.

firm in the wholesale dry goods business of New York, gave himself up to the police as he felt himself going crazy. He told in effect one story which had some variable features. It was that ten years ago when an officer in the Russian cavalry, commanding a squadron on the steppes, he had killed a woman whom he could not save from the wolves. Sometimes he said his squadron had been attacked by the fierce animals who came at his men in an enormous drove and the soldiers had to take refuge in a cave.

LITTLE TOTS' ALLOWANCE.

Children Should Be Instructed in the Use of Money.

Two extremes have been taken by parents with regard to children's handling money. Some give children all the money they want, while others never give their children a cent. In the first case their children grow up without any ideas of the value of a dollar, and are often obliged to learn later in life, through failure, the value of money. In the second case, as soon as the child reaches an age to earn anything, he wishes to enjoy the luxury and freedom of spending as he chooses, and often does so with about the same result as in the first instance. Neither method is wise nor just to the child. A great deal of his future happiness and usefulness as well as that of those connected with him, depends upon his ability to earn and manage an income. Whenever the child can earn money honorably let him do so. Give a child a certain amount of allowance. As soon as he is old enough teach him to keep a little book account, says Good House-keeping. Let him spend some of his money. He will make mistakes, of course, but better learn to use good judgment through a 5-cent mistake when a child than through a $500 one when grown. Advise a child how to spend it, but if possible make him feel that he is responsible for the result. Every time that he makes a poor bargain let him suffer the natural consequences. Teach him system in finances. One of our wealthy men made it a rule to lay by one-fifth of his income for a nest egg. A certain proportion should be given to benevolent and religious purposes. By teaching a child honor and good judgment in the use of money you teach him much that goes into the making of a good citizen.

Profit in Ostrich Farms.

Very remunerative is ostrich farming, which, for a considerable time followed in California, has now been introduced into New Zealand. Five hundred of the birds are now on the farm of the Messrs. Nathan at Whitford Park, a short distance from Auckland. All the steps in the industry, from the nesting of the birds to the dressing, dyeing and mounting of the plumes, are carried on at this establishment. The manager states that an adult bird requires about the same amount of attention as a sheep, and that the ostrich consumes about twice the quantity of grass needed by a sheep. The birds become dividend paying investments when about 10 months old, after which age they are clipped every eight months. The feathers clipped are worth from $3.75 to $6.20 per pound, the after dressing increasing the value enormously. The male and female birds manage the incubation of the eggs between them, taking four-hour watches each. To his share of this duty the male ostrich adds the labor of turning the eggs. The chicks are hand fed, as with those of the ordinary farm yard fowl, and are reared without serious loss.

It may well be that the immediate cause of his woe may be attributed to the many newspaper dispatches telling of the fearful onslaught of the wolves this winter on the people of south-eastern Europe. Though the winter in the neighborhood of New York has been unusually mild, Europe has suffered extraordinarily severe storms and prolonged spells of intense cold.

TEMPERANCE AFFAIRS AT BERKELEY, CAL.

Some months ago certain public-spirited citizens of Berkeley, Cal., offered to pay into the town treasury the $1,800 received annually from liquor licenses. On this condition a prohibition ordinance was adopted and the saloons were allowed three months in which to wind up their business. At the expiration of that time the $450 necessary for the first quarterly payment was raised, but it was wisely held in hand to await the attitude of the town authorities toward the prohibited traffic. That attitude was one of indifference. As much liquor was sold as before and the citizens' committee refused to pay the money.

Civilized State Without Papers.

Andorra is believed to be the only civilized state in the world in which not a single newspaper is published. Andorra is a little republic—about 36 miles long by 30 miles broad—situated on the south side of the Pyrenees, next to the Spanish province of Liria and the French department of Arles. It is under the joint suzerainty of France and Spain, though its 14,000 inhabitants speak the Spanish language. Andorra has an area of 175 square miles, and has a council of 24, elected by certain of the inhabitants, a judge and two vicars appointed in turn by France and the bishop of Urgel.

Catch Big Fish in Florida.

Chicago boys who sit on the pier for hours fishing for striped perch and northern boys generally who are pleased with catching "bull heads" or trout, would have cause to shout, I fancy, if they should happen to land a tarpon, says the Chicago Record. Fishermen off the coast of Florida have fine sport with the tarpon or "silver king," as it is locally known. Two specimens recently caught by one man in a few hours had a combined weight of nearly 300 pounds. Laid endwise in a row boat they measured nearly eighteen feet.

Mrs. Ault's Premotion.

A short time ago Mrs. Katharine Ault, a widow of Galveston, took a large quantity of beautiful flowers to the Christian church, of which she was a member, and arranged them artistically around the pulpit for her own funeral. She placed a stand for the coffin, and decorated it with chrysanthemums, and then made all the arrangements for her funeral. On the same night she retired to bed in apparently excellent health, and never woke again.

snov told plainly of the fearful struggle for life made by the young men.

From other parts of Roumania come stories of single persons who ventured away from the villages being attacked and devoured by the hungry wolves. And hundreds of cattle and sheep have been eaten in the fields, and sometimes even in their shelters.

No wonder if Biernath's recollection of his terrible though humane deed was intensified to the utmost by these accounts.

EDUCATING GERMAN SAILORS.

School Establishment to Train Officers for Merchant Marine Service.

Under the title of the "North German Lloyd Training Ship for Cadets" a school has been formed in Germany in which everything of practical value will be taught to the aspirants for appointments in the higher ranks of the merchant service. Work which traditions have linked with the training of the officer, but which in reality is mere waste of time, will be discarded, but work of the hardest description from which the slightest benefit will accrue will be thoroughly dealt with. A large, four-masted sailing ship, to be christened the Herzogin Sophie Charlotte, has been bought for the training ship. Every year she will sail as a trading vessel, carrying goods on long voyages. The crew of the ship will include, in addition to about 100 cadets, a captain, four officers, instructors and a doctor, as well as the necessary men. The cadets will live in a special portion of the ship under the care of the officers and instructors. A three years' course will be provided for the thorough training of the cadets, yearly engagements being entered into. During the first year the cadets, who as a rule must be under 18 years of age, are entered as boys. During the second year they are rated as ordinary seamen, and during the third year as able-bodied seamen. For a fourth year the young officers are placed on one of the steamers of the North German Lloyd, where they act as warrant officers and quartermasters. By that time the requirements for the examination for a mate's certificate and for entrance into the navigation school have been complied with. After obtaining the mate's certificate the former cadets are engaged, as far as possible, as fourth officers on board the North German Lloyd steamers, the other large shipping firms having also promised to specially consider the claims of the cadets. In addition to every department of navigation being carefully taught on the Herzogin Sophie Charlotte, special attention is given to the English and French languages and to the commercial histories of the great sea powers, especially those of England and Germany.

Red Cross Tax.

The Russian authorities have imposed a stamp tax on passenger tickets for the benefit of the Society of the Red Cross, which cares for the sick and wounded. The tax amounts to about 2 1/2 cents, and is required on all first and second class tickets which cost 2 roubles ($1.03) or more, and third-class tickets which cost 8 roubles ($4.12) or more, which latter are not more than 2 per cent of the whole number of third-class tickets. No fourth-class tickets pay this tax. It is estimated that the Red Cross will get about $125,000 a year from this tax.

The Growth of Our Trade.

The treasury bureau of statistics has just made public some interesting and suggestive figures, giving a comprehensive picture of the growth of the commerce of the country from the beginning of the republic until now. The table below shows the imports and exports and excess of imports or exports of the United States in each inaugural year from Washington's first to McKinley's second inauguration. The figures for the first date named are necessarily those for the year immediately subsequent, and those of the last named date are those of the calendar year immediately preceding, while in all other cases they are for the fiscal year in which the inauguration occurred:

While it is not assumed that the inauguration of a president bears any relation to the commerce of the year in which it occurs, the quadrennial events furnish convenient mileposts by which to measure the growth of our commercial greatness.

It seems hardly possible that the members of the New York Yacht club will so far ignore public opinion and the tenets of good sportsmanship as to insist that no yacht not owned by a member of that organization shall be allowed to enter the competition to decide what boat shall race with Sir Thomas Lipton's new yacht for the America's cup. The races for this valued trophy have been international events ever since the racing days of the America herself. They have been contested between the best skill of the United States and the best skill of the British. While those races have hitherto been conducted under the auspices of the New York Yacht club, there should be no bar against a boat built or owned by persons other than members of the club provided such boat shall prove itself faster than the club members' boat. A candidate for the honor of cup defender is being built by Mr. Lawson of Boston and is to be known as the Independence. The statement has been made that this yacht would not be permitted to enter the competitive races preliminary to the main contest, for the reason that Mr. Lawson is not a member of the New York Yacht club. It is understood, however, that arrangements have been made by which the Independence will be temporarily turned over to a member of the New York club and will be given full and fair opportunity to demonstrate her speed in the preliminary trials, and if she proves herself superior to the craft being built by the Herreshoffs for the Belmont syndicate, which is composed of members of the New York Yacht club, the Boston boat will be the defender of the cup. The American people have very little interest in the New York Yacht club, the Belmont syndicate or Mr. Lawson, but they do feel a lively concern in the retention of the America's cup and hope to see it defended by the best possible product of America's boatbuilding skill and seamanship.

It is said that eight cyclist companies, to be composed of 120 men each, are being formed in London for service in South Africa. It would seem as though a thousand scorches ought to carry everything before them, unless it should happen that the enemy employs some sharp "tack-tics" for puncturing tires.

Vineland, N. J., prides itself on being the only municipality in the world that has a millionaire superintendent of public works at a salary of $1 per month. The main point is, Does he earn his pay?

Americans whose daughters marry titles have perhaps discovered by this time that there is not much difference between the aristocratic debt and the other kind.

It is said that Canada proposed to place an embargo on corn from the United States. This is a rather amusing cereal story.

The Example of Mr. Carnegie.

Immediately following the departure a few days ago of Andrew Carnegie on a vacation visit to Scotland an announcement was made of a gift from him which surpasses in its opulent generosity any of his former benefactions. It was a gift of $5,000,000 outright as a fund in trust for the benefit of the employees of the Carnegie works in Pittsburgh and vicinity. The sum of $4,000,000 is set apart as a pension fund for Carnegie employees and under certain conditions to the employees of his former business rivals, and the other $1,000,000 is given for the endowment of the libraries at Braddock, Homestead and Duquesne.

This splendid benefaction particularly marks Mr. Carnegie's retirement from active business life, and the provision he has made for the pensioning of worthy and deserving employees is highly commendable to him. Mr. Carnegie readily recognized what so many employers are want to ignore, that he owes a great measure of his success to the services of his employees. A gift of such proportions from a single individual is a significant illustration of the wealth producing power of the great industries with which Mr. Carnegie's name has been associated, and it is gratifying that he recognizes that labor, as well as his own genius and business sagacity, was an important factor in the creation of his vast fortune. Other men of great fortunes who desire to rear to themselves the most enduring monuments would do well to follow the example of Mr. Carnegie. There are perhaps very few men in the United States who can afford to give away $5,000,000 in a single day "without feeling it," but there are hosts of men in his own period of life who have more money than they need and who ought to follow his example of retiring from business not simply to get personal pleasure, but "for usefulness in fields which have other than personal aims" and with the purpose of doing something for their less fortunate fellow men.

Secretary Long has suggested a plan for rewarding the navy when it has occasion in the future to go out smashing the navies of other nations. He proposes to have four medals, to be known as the medal of the republic, the Paul Jones medal, the Farragut medal and the campaign medal. The first named will confer upon its recipient the greatest honor and is to be awarded only to the commander in chief of a fleet or squadron who gains a decisive victory over a squadron of the enemy equal or superior in strength. This medal carries with it an increase of pay of 33 1/3 per cent, which will obtain in the various grades through which the officer may be promoted, and upon his death his widow will draw a pension equal to his active pay. This pension will continue until his children shall have reached the age of 21 years. The Paul Jones medal can be awarded only to an officer contributing in a special manner to a decisive victory over an enemy and will be accompanied by an increase of pay of 25 per cent. The Farragut medal is to be given to an officer or enlisted man distinguished by eminent conduct in action, such as rescuing a wounded man under fire, and a smaller pension will be given with it. The campaign medal will be awarded to officers and men participating in a campaign. If the plan proposed would prevent the repetition of such an unhappy controversy as that with which the country has been afflicted for the past two years, the American people would hail its adoption with universal satisfaction.

There is a bill before the Indiana legislature providing that no marriages shall be celebrated in the state unless the contracting parties have been passed by a board of physical examiners consisting of two mothers, two physicians and an attorney. If the bill becomes a law the human race in Indiana will doubtless improve at a rapid rate, but really the Hoosiers are pretty hale, hearty and healthy people, and are in no greater need of physical improvement than the rest of mankind. There is a good deal of nonsense in the various propositions to regenerate the race by statutory enactment which are occasionally sprung on state legislatures.

Next summer ought to be a great baseball season—that is if there shall then be as much expert baseball playing as there has been expert baseball financing by the magnates during the last month or so.

Germany has a scandal based on the price it has been paying for armor plate. And yet it has always been understood that Mr. Krupp had been throwing in the blowholes gratis.

Peace may be declared in South Africa, but the continuance of fighting will largely depend upon the view which General De Wet takes of the situation.

The wound on Emperor William's cheek will leave a scar, but doubtless he can train his mustache to cover it.

The shirt waist problem will be ripe again in a couple of months.

Johnnie Gave an Interpretation.

A nearby Sunday school teacher requested her pupils each to learn a verse to recite when he dropped in the pennies at the next missionary meeting, appropriate for the occasion. They all came prepared the next Sunday and the first little fellow as he deposited his offering said, "Blessed is he that considereth the poor." The second repeated, "He that giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord." The teacher was delighted, and as the third little boy went forward she whispered in his ear, "Now speak out loudly, Johnnie." As Johnnie reluctantly put his penny in the box he shouted, "A fool and his money are soon parted."—Ex.

A Remarkable Record.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a remarkable record. It has been in use for nearly thirty years, during which time many million bottles have been sold and used. It has long been the standard and main reliance in the treatment of croup in thousands of homes, yet during all this time no case has ever been reported to the manufacturers in which it failed to effect a cure. When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even as soon as the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is pleasant to take, many children like it. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by Chas. E. Churchill.

To Voters of Barrington Township.

Having been nominated for the office of constable of said town I desire to state that if elected I shall transact such business as may be given me in Barrington and will not maintain an office outside the township nor remove from the village as has been reported. GEORGE M. WAGNER.

Samples free at Chas. E. Churchill's drug store.

Joe Manton's Pistol.

Joe Manton, the famous gunmaker, was crossing Hounslow beach when he was stopped by a highwayman. On hearing the summons to "stand and deliver" Manton recognized a pistol of his own make leveled at his head. "Why, confound it, you rascal," cried the indignant gunmaker, "I'm Joe Manton, and that's one of my pistols you've got. How dare you try to rob me?" "Oh, you're Joe Manton, are you?" said the highwayman coolly. "Well, you charged me 10 guineas for this brace of pistols, which I call a confounded swindle, though I admit they're a good pair of barkers. Now I mean to be quits with you. Hand me over 10 guineas, and I'll let you go because you're Joe Manton, though I know you have got $50 at least about you."

Joseph swallowed his wrath and promptly paid the 10 guineas. But he never forgave the highwayman for getting a brace of his best pistols for nix, and he made himself a special double gun with barrels barely two feet long, which he always carried about with him afterward when traveling and christened "The Highwayman's Master." With this weapon I have heard that he subsequently shot a highwayman who stopped his chaise and mortally wounded him—"Kings of the Rod, Rifle and Gun."

Then He Hurried Up.

He was too modest to be a successful lover, and he had let 40 years of his life go by without ever coming to an emotional point.

He was in love with a fair being of suitable age, but he would not tell her so, and though she knew it she could not very well give him a hint about the situation.

She was willing because she had arrived at that time of life when a woman is not nearly so hard to please as she might have been at some other time, but he was stupid and went away without a word.

He was gone a long, long time, and when he came back he found her still ready.

"I have come back after many years," he said to her as he took her hand in greeting.

She had learned something in the years since she had seen him last. "Well, for goodness' sake, Henry," she exclaimed fervidly, "why don't you take them? I'm 35 now. How many more years do you want?"

Then a great light shone upon him, and he did not wait for any more.—London Answers.

The Manufacture of Plate Glass.

The casting table of a plate glass factory is about 20 feet long, 15 feet wide and 6 inches thick. Strips of iron on each side afford a bearing for the rollers and determine the thickness of the plate to be cast. The molten glass is poured on the table, and the roller passing from end to end spreads the glass to a uniform thickness. The glass, after cooling rapidly, is transferred to the annealing oven, where it remains several days. When taken out, it is very rough and uneven and in that state is used for skylights and other purposes where strength is desired rather than transparency. The greater part of the glass, however, is ground, smoothed and polished.

BRITISH FORCED TO LEAVE

Their Work on Railway Siding Stopped.

RUSSIA DICTATES TERMS.

Russian General Does Not Stand on the Order of the English Troops' Departure, but Says They Must Withdraw or He Will Not Do So.

Count von Walderssee, General Barrow and General Wogack have been in consultation at Peking, China, and General Wogack has agreed to withdraw the Russian troops from the disputed ground at Tientsin provided the British also withdraw. He insisted also upon a guarantee that work on the railway siding should not proceed until the matter had been diplomatically adjusted. This proposal and stipulation were satisfactory to General Barrow and were accepted by him. The British and Russian troops were withdrawn at 5 o'clock a. m. Friday. Orders have been issued, however, that no British officer should leave, or even "sleep out" at night, or go to dinner without furnishing his address to the adjutant. The marines will return to the ships. Admiral Seymour objects to any of the Australian naval brigade, who volunteered for service on the railway, remaining. The military authorities say he does not understand the situation, that his interference is uncalled for and that the Australian marines are just the men needed. The Russians have ordered a regiment to proceed from Port Arthur to Tientsin. The arrangements made by General Bailloud, the French commander, are regarded as completely satisfactory, and all danger of a collision between the British and French is considerably obviated.

Text-Books Found Improper.

The school board of Somerville, Mass., has made the discovery that text-books on physiology and hygiene used in the schools are indecent and corrupting in the hands of scholars. At its meeting Tuesday night the following order was adopted: "That in the primary and grammar school's instruction in physiology and hygiene be entirely oral, and that hereafter a single text-book be furnished for the use of teachers only, and it is hereby also ordered that instruction be regarding the proper care of the body, rather than the structural formation." Mr. Sanborn, who offered the order, said that a number of parents had objected to the use of the books by the children.

Glass Plants to Close.

It develops that the visit of President James A. Chambers and General Manager George Moore of the American Window Glass company to the factories in the gas belt of Indiana was due to a desire of the company to close some of the smaller pot plants. Of the forty-two factories owned by the trust twenty-six are located in the Indiana gas belt. The blowers and gatherers at the small plants will be put in the large tank factories, which are short of help. It is probable the shut-down will occur at the beginning of warm weather.

Butter Laws in Minnesota.

The Minnesota legislature has no bill before it for the control of the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine, as has been erroneously stated. The state has a very stringent law upon the subject, which has recently been sustained by the United States Supreme Court, though it was declared unconstitutional by the Minnesota Supreme Court. The legislature has passed a bill regulating the sale and branding of renovated butter and has passed a joint memorial urging Congress to enact the Groat oleomargarine bill into a law.

Farmer Influence Prevails.

Governor Bliss of Michigan has affixed his signature to the bill prohibiting the coloring of oleomargarine. A strong effort was made to induce the governor to veto the measure by residents of cities, but farmer influence prevailed. The governor has also signed the bill providing for the admission to the soldiers' home at Grand Rapids of veterans of the Spanish-American and Philippine wars.

Buy a Mexican Railroad.

Positive assertions have been made at New York to the effect that the control of the Mexican Central Railway company, Limited, has been acquired by a group of New York capitalists. At the next meeting of the company, it was said further, these interests will show their hand and bring about changes in the management.

Gushing Oil Well in Wyoming.

There is great excitement in the section about Cheyenne, Wyo., over the discovery of high-grade lubricating oil near Evanston, in the southwestern corner of Wyoming. The Union Pacific, while drilling for water, struck a flow of oil, and the well has since assumed the proportions of a gusher. Oil men from California, Pennsylvania, Nebraska and Utah have hurried to the scene, and upward of 621 square miles of oil land have been located. Experts pronounce the discovery one of the most important made in years.

Senator Mason and Collector Coyn: unable to avert cut of $15,000 in internal revenue office expenses in Chicago.

Fearful for McKinley's Life.

Apprehension that Thomas P. McKeating of Chicago might attempt the life of President McKinley brought Agent L. P. Porter of the United States secret service, who is one of the president's bodyguard when he is traveling, to Chicago Thursday. Any danger that might have existed from McKeating was averted when he was committed to the insane hospital Thursday. Several letters threatening his life have found their way to President McKinley from McKeating. It was believed that the writer was insane, and the matter was turned over to the treasury department, from which County Physician Hunter of Chicago received instructions to find the writer of the letters and examine into his mental condition.

Threat to Kidnap a Child.

The police department of Milwaukee reports that Win J. Morgan, a real estate man of that city, recently received a letter from some one threatening to kidnap one of his children unless he paid $700. The letter also contained a reference to two mines in which Mr. Morgan is interested. Mr. Morgan turned the letter over to the police.

Alexandra on the Continent.

Queen Alexandra has arrived in Brussels, traveling in the same white saloon car used by the then prince of Wales at the time of the attempt upon his life by Sipido. All the curtains of the train were drawn. The British minister to Belgium, Edmund C. P. Phipps, presented a bouquet to her majesty and the train then proceeded for Copenhagen.

THOUSANDS OF FAIR WOMEN HERALD PRAISES FOR PERUNA.

Catarrhal Dyspepsia and Nervous Prostration Make Invalids of More Women Than All Other Diseases Combined.

Peruna is the woman's friend everywhere. It is safe to say that no woman ever used Peruna for any catarrhal derangement but what it became indispensable in her household.

Every day we receive letters from women like the following. Women who have tried doctors and failed; women who have tried Peruna and were cured.

Miss Katie Klein, 6125 Bartmer avenue, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "Peruna has done me more good for catarrh than the best doctors could. I had catarrh so bad, but after taking Peruna it is entirely gone, and I feel like a different person."

Miss Anna Prescott's Letter. Miss Anna Prescott, in a letter from 216 South Seventh street, Minneapolis, Minn., writes:

"I am sincerely grateful for the relief I have found from the use of Peruna. I was completely used up last fall, my appetite had failed and I felt weak and tired all the time. My doctor advised me to try Peruna and the relief I experienced after taking one bottle was truly wonderful."

"I continued its use for five weeks, and am glad to say that my complete restoration to health was a happy surprise to myself as well as to my friends."—Anna Prescott.

A constant drain of nervous vitality depleting the whole nervous system causes the mucous membrane surfaces to suffer accordingly. This is the condition called systemic catarrh. It very nearly resembles, and there is really no practical difference, between this condition and the condition known as neurasthenia, or nervous prostration.

Peruna will be found to effect an immediate and lasting cure in all cases of systemic catarrh. It acts quickly and beneficially on the diseased mucous membranes, and with healthy mucous membranes the catarrh can no longer exist.

Peruna is a True Friend to Women.

Mrs. F. J. Lynch, writes the following from 324 S. Division street, Grand Rapids, Mich.:

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O. Gentlemen—"I earnestly recommend Peruna to any suffering woman, as it cures quickly. Last year I had a most persistent cough which nothing seemed to cure. Two bottles of Peruna did more for me than all the doctors seemed to do. In a couple of weeks I found myself in excellent health, and have been enjoying it ever since. Hence I look on Peruna as a true friend to women."

Peruna is equally efficacious in curing catarrh of the throat, as in curing systemic catarrh or catarrh of the stomach. Catarrh is essentially the same wherever located. Peruna cures catarrh.

Peruna Makes You Feel Like a New Person.

Miss Mary Coats, a popular young woman of Appleton, Wis., and president of the Appleton Young Ladies' Club, also speaks in glowing terms of Peruna. A letter recently received from her by The Peruna Medicine Co., of Columbus, Ohio, reads as follows:

"I am glad to call the attention of my friends to Peruna. When that languid, tired feeling comes over you, and your food no longer tastes good, and small annoyances irritate you, Peruna will make you feel like another person inside of a week.

"I have now used it for three seasons, and find it very valuable and efficacious."—Miss Marie Coats.

Diseased nerves are traceable directly to poor digestion, and poor digestion is directly traceable to catarrh. With the slightest catarrh of the stomach no one can have good digestion.

Very few of the many women who have catarrh of the stomach suspect what their real trouble is. They know they belch after meals, have sour stomach, a sensation of weight or heaviness, a fullness, irregular appetite, drowsiness, gnawing, empty sensations, occasional pain—they all know this; but they do not know that their trouble is catarrh of the stomach. If they did they would take Peruna.

Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. As soon as Peruna removes catarrh from the stomach the digestion becomes good, appetite regular, nerves strong, and trouble vanishes. Peruna strengthens weak nerves, not by temporarily stimulating them, but by removing the cause of weak nerves—poor digestion. This is the only cure that lasts. Remove the cause: Nature will do the rest. Peruna removes the cause.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

Maud—I don't like to see you throwing yourself at Fred, Elizabeth. Elizabeth—Why not? He's a good catch.

Would Tax Bachelors.

A bill to tax bachelors was introduced in the State senate Thursday by T. J. Dawson. He is a married man, and says he has observed the wonderful benefits of matrimony as well as the miseries of bachelorhood. While the bill was not received with any great amount of seriousness upon its introduction he says he will endeavor to secure its enactment and holds that Governor Yates, as a married man, can not fail to support such a measure, particularly after it has been passed by both houses of the legislature, made up of members nine-tenths of them married.

The bill provides a tax of $100 on all bachelors over 40 years of age who apply for marriage licenses. It exempts persons over the age of 40 who have previously been married. It also creates a "Bachelor's Tax fund," to receive the moneys collected from the operation of the law and provides for the use of the fund for a "Spinsters' Home."

Band Concert.

The M. W. A. band, a musical organization of which Barrington has just cause to feel proud, gave a concert at Stott's hall last Friday evening and packed that assembly room. The rendition of every number was fine, and especially so was the cornet duet by Misses Alma and Mabel Stiefenhofer and the trombone solo by John Kampert. Vocal selections by S. L. Landwer, Prof. Horn, Alma and Myrtle Plagge and L. H. Bennett were among the features of the program as were recitations by Miss Alma Strickfaden and Miss Esther Lageschulte. The selections by the band were given in a manner to demand encore and the entire program was most entertaining and enjoyable.

FREE ENTERTAINMENT

Will be Given at the Village Hall This Saturday Evening.

The entertainment to be given the voters of Barrington at the village hall this evening will open at 8 o'clock sharp and is one that should draw a full house. The performance promises to be of unusual interest on account of the number of star performers who will appear. The candidates for honors have carefully sized up the situation, and we are informed that if the present plans are carried out; if some differences of opinion are patched up before the opening number on the program, the entertainment will develop more fun than Muldon's picnic. Prophets are without number but some of them will know more after it is all over.

The village caucus is of interest to every resident who is interested in the welfare of the village; it is the place to select candidates, and every voter should make it a special business to go there. The contest, as it looks now, will be principally for the offices of president of the board of trustees and village clerk. For the first named Henry Boehmer desires to be renominated and will be opposed by Miles T. Laméy. For clerk William B. Shales, L. H. Bennett and Frank Waterman will contest for the nomination. For trustees there seems to be but small opposition, if any, to Messrs. Peters, Grunau and Robertson, and to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Trustee Willmarth, but one or two names have been mentioned.

There will be dark horses, as there always is sure to be, and no one is at this time able to name the ticket. It will be easy to select a representative ticket as the material to draw from is good and substantial.

Attend the caucus tonight.

CONSOLIDATION OF SCHOOLS.

The Scheme as Advocated by Superintendent Bright of Cook County.

During a lecture delivered here not long ago, Superintendent Bright of Cook county advocated the consolidation of township schools. The matter is receiving considerable attention from the press and educators, and also the general public. There are many who do not understand the question, and we herewith give an outline of the same.

The experiment is being made in Iowa and the result is very gratifying to both parents and pupils. What the educators hope to accomplish is the abolition of the district school houses, the majority of which are not adapted to the purposes for which they were erected. The idea is one of economy, and it would seem that the plan if carried out successfully would result in a great saving to the taxpayers. It has been found that in Iowa as elsewhere there are in the country districts too many school buildings and teachers for the population and that in many places the cost of educating the pupils was much greater than it should be.

As a trial a central school has been built in each of about fifty townships and all the little district schools done away with. Transportation is furnished for pupils living at remote distances and the teachers, in reduced numbers, gathered in the main school. The townships are enabled to hire a better class of teachers at a slight advance of salary, and there are fewer of them. The pupils have had no trouble this winter in getting to or from the schools, and aside from the educational there are other advantages in the plan.

There is a bill before the legislature of this state modeled on the same lines as the one passed by the Iowa solons and it stands in good position to pass without serious opposition. Leading educators and others interested in school work are using all honorable means to bring about the reform.

Piano Recital.

J. I. Seane announces a piano recital to be given at his studio next Tuesday evening by Miss Mary Putnam of Palatine, assisted by the Junior Orchestra. Miss Putnam has a well deserved reputation as a pianist and the event will be of interest to lovers of classic music who are fortunate enough to be present. The following is the program:

Les Adieux, op. 81.....Weber

Voters of Barrington Village.

At the solicitation of a number of the electors of the village I announce myself as a candidate for the nomination for the office of Village Clerk, and ask your support in the caucus to be held this, Saturday, evening.

WILLIAM B. SHALES.

To Electors of Cuba Township.

Since my nomination for the office of Justice of the Peace, conditions have come about that will necessitate my declining the office as my place of residence will be in Cook county.

I thank my friends for the unsolicited support given me in the caucus.

C. H. MORRISON.

To the Public.

I have been nominated for the office of constable for Barrington township and if elected will give my time to the duties in the township and not in Chicago. The reports now in circulation as to my intention to remove to Chicago or elsewhere in Cook county are without foundation.

J. E. EVANS.

Doesn't Count For Much.

"Lovely wedding, wasn't it?" asked the maid of honor.

"Quite so," admitted the bride's dearest enemy.

"Every detail perfect," suggested the maid of honor.

"Oh, I don't know. We might make an exception of the groom, don't you think?"

"Oh, possibly, possibly," admitted the maid of honor, "but that's a minor detail, anyway."—Chicago Post.

Heat of the Stars.

Experiments at the Yerkes observatory have led to certain results on the heat of the stars that may be summarized as follows: The apparatus employed was sensitive enough to register the heat received from a candle 15 miles distant. The heat received from Arcturus was equivalent to the heat received from a candle at a distance of about six miles.

MUSTY RECORDS

Tell of the Organization of Barrington Township—First Meeting.

Through the courtesy of Leroy Powers, town clerk of Barrington, we are permitted to publish the minutes of the first town meeting held in the now prosperous, well cultivated and thickly populated township. The clerk of that meeting, J. W.
