

THE BARRINGTON REVIEW.

VOL. 16. NO. 38

BARRINGTON ILL, SATURDAY SEPTEMBER 28, 1901.

$1.50 A YEAR IN ADVANCE.

PALATINE LOCALS

Gathered and Compiled by A. G. Smith, Local Editor.

Oysters for sale at Fenton's bakery. George Gray was in town last week.

E. Prellberg, sr., went to Dundee on business Monday.

Raymond Beutler is confined to his bed with sickness.

Paul Patten will attend Chicago University this year.

G. H. Arps is improving, but is not yet able to return to work.

Miss Della Smith was a guest of friend at Glenwood Saturday and Sunday.

Quite a number of Palatine people attended the Elgin street fair this week.

Fred Stadt sprained his wrist by falling from a horse which he was riding from Chicago, Monday.

Harry Rea has entered the senior class at Northwestern University and will graduate next fall.

John Hirn is busy with auction sales. He has a sale for Garret Phalman, south of Long Grove, on October 8th.

FOR RENT—Farm of 240 acres, for cash, or will furnish stock and rent on shares. C. H. PATTEN. (1f)

Tuesday evening was ladies' night at the club rooms and quite a number of ladies attended and enjoyed the evening.

R. M. Putnam expects to move into his new house next week. Hutchins Hart will occupy Mr. Putnam's present residence.

Tom Burgess has been in Beloit, Wis., this week, where his horse has been getting third and fourth money in the races there.

Several Masons from this place went to Elgin Tuesday night, where Henry Harmering took a degree conferred by the Elgin Commandery.

Mr. Heise has had a week's vacation from bank work and took a trip to Michigan last week. He returned by boat and had a pleasant voyage.

The Chicago Chronicle had an anthrax spasm Monday, and after getting a prescription of information, came around better the next morning.

The Epworth League will give a Dollar Experience Social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richmond next Friday evening. All are cordially invited.

If there is to be a division of Palatine into two voting precincts, why not let the town and village officers make the division on a non-partisan basis?

Mr. and Mrs. E. Beutler and family, Albert Beutler and wife and Miss Boorman were guests of Mrs. J. H. Harris and family at Arlington Heights Sunday.

FARM SALE—The Sayles farm of 80 acres, 4 miles north-east of Palatine, will be sold at public auction October 22 at 2 p. m., on the premises by B. D. Wood, administrator. (1f)

The Woman's Relief Corps attended Memorial services in a body at the Methodist church Sunday morning. Rev. D. J. Holmes gave a very interesting sketch of the life and virtues of the late president.

H. W. Meyer, Geo. Brinkmeyer and Carl Wolf returned from Oklahoma Tuesday and were much impressed with the business chances in the West. They report crops good and business rushing in all sections of the country.

We understand that Palatine will have two voting precincts for county, state and national elections hereafter. The county commissioners decided this is according to law. One polling place will be in the village hall and one in A. C. Danielson's store, if the present plans are carried out. It means an extra big expense to the county.

George Schroeder and Miss Lena Scharrenhausen were married at the Lutheran church Thursday morning by the pastor, Rev. J. C. Drogemuller. A grand reception was held at the home of the groom's parents in the afternoon and evening, which was attended by a big crowd of friends and relatives. Refreshments were served and a merry time was enjoyed by the guests.

Mrs. Mary Schoppe will sell 27 head of cattle, 7 hogs, 20 milk cans, 16 acres of corn in shock, 6 acres of fodder corn, plow, buggy and other farming implements, at her farm 3 miles north-east of Palatine and 4 miles south-west of Barrington on Monday, September 30. All cattle have been vaccinated and none have been infected with anthrax. John Hirn, auctioneer.

An old bachelor says being possessed is nine points of law with a woman.

Excursion tickets to C. E. convention at Danville, Ill., via the North-Western line will be sold at reduced rates October 3 and 4, limited to return until October 7, inclusive. Apply to agents Chicago & North-Western R'y.

Twenty members of Palatine camp, M. W. A., attended the initiation of Senator Wm. E. Mason as a social member into the order in Masonic Temple, Chicago, Thursday night. The Elgin Forester team did the work and their drill was a fine exhibition. Their difficult maneuvers were executed with precision and their beautiful uniforms made it an imposing sight. Senator Mason was much impressed with the degree work.

Let Us Improve.

Arlington Heights, Des Plaines and other villages have improvement associations and we believe that such a society would prove of great benefit to Palatine. We have a good start here. Our street lines have been all straightened and much curbing has been done, but there can be extensive improvements in many ways. Why not form an association to induce property owners to put in curbing, plant hardy shade trees and make improvements on the highways? Other improvement could be attended to, but this should be the first as it takes more time and labor. We have the best of facilities for making a beautiful village and it only needs organized push to make it the prettiest town on the line. Let some one call a meeting and see if the people are not willing to see improvements in Palatine.

113th Regiment Reunion.

The 113th Illinois Volunteer Veteran association held its 17th annual reunion at Sheldon last week Wednesday and Thursday. The reunion was held in Y. M. C. A. building and between forty and fifty were present. Three sessions were held and resolutions were drafted in regard to stamping out anarchy either by compulsory laws or treating all who teach it as traitors. Resolutions were also ordered drafted offering sympathy and condolence to Mrs. McKinley. The secretary was appointed to draft suitable resolutions.

The Woman's Relief Corps served a grand banquet to all old soldiers on Thursday night and the comrades showed that time had not affected their appetites.

The following officers were elected: President, T. S. Arnold of Watseka; Secretary, A. R. Baldwin of Palatine. The reunion will be held at Watseka next year.

Anthrax Rules.

Drafted by the committee appointed for the purpose of abating and suppressing anthrax and adopted by the Board of Health of the Township of Palatine:

FIRST. There shall be and are hereby appointed two inspectors in each school district, whose duty it shall be to enforce the following rules:

1. The owner of any infected herd must notify the inspectors of his district and report all deaths from anthrax to them.

2. All animals that have died of anthrax shall be cremated at once by the owners.

3. No dead animal shall be moved from the premises, except it be necessary for the purpose of cremation. When it becomes necessary to move animals to a place of cremation a stone boat shall be used. The head and rear of the animal shall be wrapped securely so no blood or droppings may escape. The boat shall be covered with a canvas heavy enough to retain all droppings and the canvas burned with the carcass.

4. Should the burning of diseased animals be fully impracticable and so proven to the inspectors, they may in such cases, give permission to bury such carcasses. The burial must be on high ground, the grave at least eight feet deep and the carcass well covered with unslacked lime.

5. All animals suffered from anthrax shall be separated from others and should be so placed that in case of death they may be cremated without further removal.

6. No diseased animal shall be permitted to run at large, or be driven upon the highway, or removed from the premises of the owner.

7. No milk from infected herds shall be shipped or delivered to factories while any sick animal is in the herd. Ten days after all symptoms of disease have ceased and permission of the inspectors of his district been obtained, shipment may be resumed.

8. No stock (cattle) shall be shipped from any infected herds until ten days after all symptoms of disease have ceased and permission granted by said inspectors.

9. All shippers of stock must obtain a health certificate for same from the inspectors at the point of shipment.

10. The above rules must be observed by the owners of diseased cattle and in failure thereof, the inspectors shall cause it to be done at the expense of the owner.

11. The violation of any of the foregoing provisions shall be punishable by a fine not to exceed $100 and costs, to be recovered before any court of competent jurisdiction.

We hereby adopt the above rules and order their enforcement.

M. L. STAPLES, Supervisor.
J. H. SCHIERDING, Assessor.
HENRY C. GREEBE, Town Clerk.

Dated this 18th day of September, A. D. 1901.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

1. Timely vaccination is recommended as a preventative.

2. Sick animals should be herded on high ground and fed lightly.

3. In Europe bleeding is resorted to when the disease makes its appearance. Carbolic acid is given in doses of half a teaspoonful in a pail of water. Sulphur and saltpeter may be fed and a light physic, glauber salts, or the like, should be given.

4. Pastures where cattle have died, boggy pastures and impure sloughs, will retain anthrax germs for five or six years and should be drained and cultivated and avoided as a pasture in the future.

Suit on Lost Note.

D. Levy & Son of Chicago, proprietors of a sale and exchange stable at 17 Cornelia street, claimed to have had in their possession a promissory note for the sum of $100, dated about Sept. 5, 1897, signed by Philip Gonyo, made payable to D. Levy & Son. The original note is said to have been lost.

There is nothing strange about that part of the case but there is about the facts which follow. Mr. Gonyo is a well known and prosperous farmer residing in the town of Antioch, near the Wisconsin state line. Mr. Gonyo never had any deal with Levy & Son, or heard of such a firm; has no outstanding notes and was never asked to pay any such note as Levy & Son claim to have once had. His credit at the Antioch bank is A1. The note nor any correspondence relating to its collection was ever sent to any bank or collection agency, although it was given for 30 days at 6 per cent interest, four years ago. Levy & Son brought suit for the payment of the note before Justice Morrison, last Tuesday. The claim from an even $100 four years ago, has grown to $179.

The defendant accompanied by M. S. Miller of Lake Villa, came here to discover, if possible, something about the note, where it originated, what it was given for, and pay it, if it was a just claim. Mr. Levy was in the village half an hour before the case was called but did not remain to meet the man "who had been owing him $100 for four years." The case was called and Mr. Levy's representative asked for and was granted a non-suit. That was a strange act for a party who had been searching diligently for the defendant for four years. But there were other strange proceedings.

Awaiting outside the office of Justice Morrison was a Cook county constable. Mr. Gonyo, unfamiliar with the peculiar situation of Barrington as regards boundary lines, stepped across Main street into Cook county. He was immediately served with a summons to appear before Justice McIntosh, next Tuesday morning to answer in the very same action. He will be there, he says, and endeavor to discover if there is anything in the case.

The matter has been commented on by many who have heard of it, and while it may be a legitimate case it has a queer color. Mr. Gonyo says that he is prepared to meet all his obligations but is not paying $179 until he finds out what it is for. The outcome of the case is awaited with interest.

Young Man of Today.

A matron whose intense Americanism has become a proverb among her friends, has rather a poor opinion of the young man of today. She "raised" four boys herself and all of them are successful men, so perhaps she has earned the right to an opinion on the matter. "The up-to-date young man," said she, "pampers himself altogether too much. His shoes and neckties cost more each year than did the entire wardrobe of his grandfather. He feels a sense of degradation in small beginnings and plodding, and he waits for success ready made to come to him. There is not a young man in the country who would imitate Ben Franklin and march through the streets munching a loaf of bread while looking for employment. He dares not, indeed, because society has become also finicky and he would be arrested as a tramp. The young man is in many cases a very poor creature indeed. Why, most of them seem to think that on leaving school they are fit for a bank presidency or 'something equally good,' as the politicians say. Why they should be afflicted with such a nonsensical idea I'm sure I don't know, for nearly every prominent man you hear of has risen from the ranks."

It is easier to protect one's self from an enemy than from a fool friend.

THE WAR CONTINUES

In the Philippines and a Standing Army of 40,000 Men Necessary to Control Insurgents.

The majority of Americans have been led to believe that the war in the Philippines was a thing of the past. That the insurgents had laid down their arms, signed the declaration and agreed to become half way decent in their behavior. Like the English, who supposed they had the Boers whipped to a finish, we have been misinformed or, as an army officer says, who has been there, "deliberately lied to by those in authority."

Advises received by General Wesley Merritt from a staff officer tell the story and it is not pleasant reading. General Merritt says:

"The present situation is a source of great anxiety to the authorities in the field. There is a strong feeling among them that the real facts in the case have been kept back by the government. The United States are in possession of a rich but small area of the whole territory. The insurgents are likely to maintain guerrilla fighting for an indefinite period, thus seriously retarding the final conquest of the island. The enemy is blackmailing the native towns and villages without difficulty, obtaining all necessary supplies, since a native can live on a handful of rice a day."

"Doubtless the American people will be sorry to be assured that a permanent army of 40,000 soldiers will be required to hold the Philippines, but conservative officers on the spot are convinced that this view of the situation is correct."

"In the opinion of officers there the policy of the civil government of the islands is an absolute mistake. The Filipinos are thoroughly dishonest, so it is impossible to place the slightest reliance on their promises. The idea of appointing such men to official positions is distinctly foolish, since it only serves to impress the natives with the belief that the United States is weakening."

A Washington dispatch says that President Roosevelt proposes to make a radical change in the policy toward the insurgents and will recall a number of high officials now in the islands.

Says There are Others.

A dainty note received at this office contains the following: "Yes, sir, you are right. Fools still live, but they are by no means all confined to the feminine sex. There are others. Now what do you think of this. An overgrown young man, supposed to be well versed in the ways of the world—in fact he knows a great big lot about everything, is anxious to fall into an easy position. He reads the Chicago papers and finds just the opportunity he has long awaited. An extensive (?) dealer in soap wishes to employ a manager for a branch in Wisconsin, at a fair salary. The wise young man arranges for an interview with the soap dealer who informs him the job is open; that to secure the same is easy. The wise young man gets $50 from his pa or somebody's pa, and deposits it with the soap maker to secure the job somewhere. He gets inside his best clothes, the young man does, and goes to Wisconsin where he remains several weeks under an expense, waiting for soap, or orders from the "manager." Like the prodigal son he returns home. No, he didn't buy a Jewsharp, but his experience in the soap business cost pa about $75. You are right, the foolish people are not all dead yet."

Misery loves company and the little lady found a fellow mourner. She has our thanks for the communication. Next!

Dorcas Society Will Sew.

The ladies of the Dorcas society will sew at your home for 50 cents an afternoon or will take in the following articles at given prices:

Wrappers 75c, baby dresses 25 to 35c, nightgowns 25c, nightshirts 25c, kitchen aprons 5c, children's aprons 25c, children's under-clothes 15c, portieres $1.50, woolen shirt waists $1.25, dressing sacks 35c, tucking and hemming 4c a yard, comforters 35 to 50c.

Is Life Worth Living?

Friday evening Rev. C. A. Shyne, S. J. of St. Louis (Mo.) University delivered a lecture at St. Ann's Catholic church which proved of more than ordinary interest. "Is Life Worth Living?" was the subject and it was handled in an eloquent manner. This, Saturday, evening, he will speak on the "Confessional." All of whatsoever creed are invited. Seats free.

Brilliant falsehoods dazzle more eyes than gems of truth.

Use Heath & Milligan's paints.

The Big Store's Great Autumn Sale.

MILLINERY.

Everything new in Fall Hats are on display at The Big Store. Ladies' and Children's Trimmed Hats at great bargains.

FALL DRESS GOODS.

New stock of Fall Dress Goods. Big invoices have arrived and we are now ready to give you a special, good selections in Fall Dress Goods. We ask you to make a thorough inspection of our big stock of new goods, as we are in a position to give you great inducements this month in dress goods.

CLOTHING.

Here is where you can buy Clothing cheap. We are offering a large stock of Men's and Boys' Suits very cheap. We want to increase our large business in Clothing over last year. Our stock of Clothing is very carefully selected; only the best in makes, materials and furnishings are used for Clothing made up for us. We want you to come and see what we are doing in the way of selling Men's and Boys' Suits cheap.

Complete Stock of Underwear.

LOWEST PRICES. THE BIG STORE. LARGEST STOCK.

A.W. MEYER & CO Barrington

Bargains in Shoes

Mens Heavy Working Shoes—98c, $1.29, $1.48, $1.74 a pair.

Men's Dressy Shoes, latest style and shape, at $1.29, $1.49, $1.99, $2.49 a pair.

Ladies Shoes, fine shape, elegant style, at 98c, $1.29, $1.49, $1.99, $2.49 a pair.

Nice line of Children's Shoes from 50c up.

Men's Laundered Shirts and Ladies' Shirtwaists, sold at 50c, 75c, $1, on sale at only 29c.

LARGE VARIETY OF DRY GOODS.

BIG LINE OF HIGH-GRADE CLOTHING.

GROCERIES.

Arbuckles Ariosa Coffee, 10c a lb.
Good Santos Coffee, 12c a lb.
White Distilled Vinegar, 10c a gal.
Dry Prunes, 5 lbs. for 25c.
Soda Crackers, 5c a lb.
Sterling Flour, made from spring wheat, guaranteed to be equal to any flour made, $1.00 a sack.

Next week we will receive an invoice of seasonable goods, which will be put on sale. Watch this advertisement next week for bargains.

LIPOFSKY BROS., Barrington

WM. BELL,

Concrete Sidewalk Builder and Roofer

Factory and Residence, No. 509 Hill street, near Enterprise. Office, 2 McBride blk. Office open evenings only Telephone 713.

ELGIN, ILLINOIS.

MINOR EVENTS OF THE WEEK

Items of General Interest Told in Paragraphs.

COMPLETE NEWS SUMMARY.

Record of Happenings of Much or Little Importance from All Parts of the Circled World—Incidents, Enterprises, Accidents, Verdicts, Crimes and Wars

J. S. Crowell, instructor in the Missouri State School of Mining, murdered young woman who rejected his suit. Committed suicide when cornered by posse.

Man arrested in St. Louis confessed complicity in Czolgosz crime, but his story discredited.

Miss Sarah Williams, aged 52, of Muncie, gave her fiancé $3,400 and he never came back.

Woman masquerading as man arrested at Springfield, Ill. May be another Ellis Glenn case.

Gen. W. J. Palmer of Colorado Springs gave Colorado College $100,000.

President Roosevelt will attend bi-centennial celebration at Yale.

Turkey agreed to pay the claim of M. Lorando, a French subject, for money advanced to the Ottoman government years ago. Constans preparing to return to Constantinople.

Republicans and Citizens' Union held conventions and nominated the anti-Tammany ticket agreed upon by the organizations opposed to Croker's rule. Seth Low for mayor.

Careful measures taken to protect Emperor William at his hunting lodge. Duke and Duchess of York left Ottawa for Winnipeg.

Pennsylvania fusionists nominated an anti-Quay state ticket.

Miss Helen Bloodgood, the missing daughter of a New York millionaire, found in hiding at a local hotel. Left home because angry at her governess.

John W. Gates to acquire the controlling interest in the Kansas City and Northern connecting railroad.

Swift Packing company bought controlling interest in Sioux City stock yards.

Admiral Sampson to be relieved from active duty on Oct. 1. Left Boston navy yard for Fort Hamilton, N. Y.

Floods causing destitution in the Yang-Tse valley in China. Ten millions homeless.

Eight men robbed car barns of Philadelphia street railway of $1,200.

Rube Ferns knocked out Erne in nine rounds at Buffalo.

Johann Most is arrested at Corona, L. I., while addressing an anarchist meeting of 500 persons in a saloon.

Pet elk in Brooklyn park attacks and fatally goes its keeper.

French Benevolent Society of New York will build $500,000 hospital.

Mrs. McKinley, upon the advice of Dr. Rixey, takes a drive, paying a visit to West Lawn Cemetery, where the President is buried.

The expense incurred by the death of President McKinley, including medical services and the funeral, will be met by Congress through a special provision. Aid will also be given Mrs. McKinley.

Helen A. Bloodgood, young daughter of New York people, started on a shopping trip four days ago and has dropped completely out of sight, the case baffling the best detectives of the city.

General Frederick Funston has undergone a successful operation for appendicitis at Manila and it is believed he will recover.

General Kitchener reports heavy losses in a party of Lovatt's scouts, who were surprised by the Boer general, Kritzinger, near Herschell, Friday morning.

United States transport Buford is stranded on a sand bar off the island of Midway and it is feared she will be wrecked if a typhoon should sweep the coast.

Candidacy of Tomas Estrada Palma for presidency of Cuba with support of all political parties will be announced this week and his election seems assured.

Woman's building at the State Fair grounds, Springfield, Ill., destroyed by fire, which started while a cooking school was in progress. Panic caused among young women students.

Government officials seized $200,000 at Huntington, W. Va., which it is asserted was part of the money embezzled by Captain O. M. Carter. It was in possession of his brother.

Four men killed in a railroad wreck at Wayne, Mich.

Drunken soldier at Fort Meade killed a comrade.

Insurance managers in annual convention at Frontenac, N. Y., suspended operations during the hour of the President's funeral and adopted appropriate resolutions.

Daniel C. Brown of Carlinville, Ill., shoots wife, father-in-law and himself.

British torpedo boat destroyer Cobra, the fastest vessel in the world, strikes a rock in the North Sea, explodes and sinks with the loss of sixty-five lives.

Fire in the five-story building at 280-288 Madison street, Chicago, occupied by Florsheim & Co. and other tenants, caused a loss of $100,000.

Czar and Czarina of Russia arrived at Dunkirk, where they were received by President Loubet. Czar reviewed French war fleet.

KILLS ONE, WOUNDS ANOTHER.

Farmer Near Pontiac, Ill., Fires on Men With Fatal Results.

E. G. Richter shot and killed James Thompson and fatally wounded Sam England on his farm six miles north of Pontiac, Ill. Thompson and England were gathering nuts on Richter's farm and were ordered off. Some words then passed between them, when Richter, who is quick tempered, shot Thompson in the head with a revolver, his victim dying almost instantly. England then stepped aside, but Richter fired on him also and it is feared he cannot survive. Richter left the place of shooting and tried to escape, but Sheriff Talbott caught Richter and placed him in jail. Richter has always been considered a very dangerous character in and around Cornell and will undoubtedly plead insanity, as he has been confined twice at the asylum at Kankakee, as has also his wife. A brother about five years ago killed his mother and committed suicide in the county jail here while awaiting trial. Thompson, who leaves a wife and two children, is also a bad character, having killed a man in Ohio.

LATEST MARKET QUOTATIONS.

Spring wheat—No. 1 northern, 69 1/4c; No. 2 northern, 68 3/4c; No. 3 red, 71 1/2c; No. 3 hard, 69 1/2c; No. 4 hard, 69c; No. 5 hard, 68 1/2c; No. 6 hard, 68c; No. 7 hard, 67 1/2c; No. 8 hard, 67c; No. 9 hard, 66 1/2c; No. 10 hard, 66c; No. 11 hard, 65 1/2c; No. 12 hard, 65c; No. 13 hard, 64 1/2c; No. 14 hard, 64c; No. 15 hard, 63 1/2c; No. 16 hard, 63c; No. 17 hard, 62 1/2c; No. 18 hard, 62c; No. 19 hard, 61 1/2c; No. 20 hard, 61c; No. 21 hard, 60 1/2c; No. 22 hard, 60c; No. 23 hard, 59 1/2c; No. 24 hard, 59c; No. 25 hard, 58 1/2c; No. 26 hard, 58c; No. 27 hard, 57 1/2c; No. 28 hard, 57c; No. 29 hard, 56 1/2c; No. 30 hard, 56c; No. 31 hard, 55 1/2c; No. 32 hard, 55c; No. 33 hard, 54 1/2c; No. 34 hard, 54c; No. 35 hard, 53 1/2c; No. 36 hard, 53c; No. 37 hard, 52 1/2c; No. 38 hard, 52c; No. 39 hard, 51 1/2c; No. 40 hard, 51c; No. 41 hard, 50 1/2c; No. 42 hard, 50c; No. 43 hard, 49 1/2c; No. 44 hard, 49c; No. 45 hard, 48 1/2c; No. 46 hard, 48c; No. 47 hard, 47 1/2c; No. 48 hard, 47c; No. 49 hard, 46 1/2c; No. 50 hard, 46c; No. 51 hard, 45 1/2c; No. 52 hard, 45c; No. 53 hard, 44 1/2c; No. 54 hard, 44c; No. 55 hard, 43 1/2c; No. 56 hard, 43c; No. 57 hard, 42 1/2c; No. 58 hard, 42c; No. 59 hard, 41 1/2c; No. 60 hard, 41c; No. 61 hard, 40 1/2c; No. 62 hard, 40c; No. 63 hard, 39 1/2c; No. 64 hard, 39c; No. 65 hard, 38 1/2c; No. 66 hard, 38c; No. 67 hard, 37 1/2c; No. 68 hard, 37c; No. 69 hard, 36 1/2c; No. 70 hard, 36c; No. 71 hard, 35 1/2c; No. 72 hard, 35c; No. 73 hard, 34 1/2c; No. 74 hard, 34c; No. 75 hard, 33 1/2c; No. 76 hard, 33c; No. 77 hard, 32 1/2c; No. 78 hard, 32c; No. 79 hard, 31 1/2c; No. 80 hard, 31c; No. 81 hard, 30 1/2c; No. 82 hard, 30c; No. 83 hard, 29 1/2c; No. 84 hard, 29c; No. 85 hard, 28 1/2c; No. 86 hard, 28c; No. 87 hard, 27 1/2c; No. 88 hard, 27c; No. 89 hard, 26 1/2c; No. 90 hard, 26c; No. 91 hard, 25 1/2c; No. 92 hard, 25c; No. 93 hard, 24 1/2c; No. 94 hard, 24c; No. 95 hard, 23 1/2c; No. 96 hard, 23c; No. 97 hard, 22 1/2c; No. 98 hard, 22c; No. 99 hard, 21 1/2c; No. 100 hard, 21c; No. 101 hard, 20 1/2c; No. 102 hard, 20c; No. 103 hard, 19 1/2c; No. 104 hard, 19c; No. 105 hard, 18 1/2c; No. 106 hard, 18c; No. 107 hard, 17 1/2c; No. 108 hard, 17c; No. 109 hard, 16 1/2c; No. 110 hard, 16c; No. 111 hard, 15 1/2c; No. 112 hard, 15c; No. 113 hard, 14 1/2c; No. 114 hard, 14c; No. 115 hard, 13 1/2c; No. 116 hard, 13c; No. 117 hard, 12 1/2c; No. 118 hard, 12c; No. 119 hard, 11 1/2c; No. 120 hard, 11c; No. 121 hard, 10 1/2c; No. 122 hard, 10c; No. 123 hard, 9 1/2c; No. 124 hard, 9c; No. 125 hard, 8 1/2c; No. 126 hard, 8c; No. 127 hard, 7 1/2c; No. 128 hard, 7c; No. 129 hard, 6 1/2c; No. 130 hard, 6c; No. 131 hard, 5 1/2c; No. 132 hard, 5c; No. 133 hard, 4 1/2c; No. 134 hard, 4c; No. 135 hard, 3 1/2c; No. 136 hard, 3c; No. 137 hard, 2 1/2c; No. 138 hard, 2c; No. 139 hard, 1 1/2c; No. 140 hard, 1c; No. 141 hard, 1/2c; No. 142 hard, 1/4c; No. 143 hard, 1/8c; No. 144 hard, 1/16c; No. 145 hard, 1/32c; No. 146 hard, 1/64c; No. 147 hard, 1/128c; No. 148 hard, 1/256c; No. 149 hard, 1/512c; No. 150 hard, 1/1024c; No. 151 hard, 1/2048c; No. 152 hard, 1/4096c; No. 153 hard, 1/8192c; No. 154 hard, 1/16384c; No. 155 hard, 1/32768c; No. 156 hard, 1/65536c; No. 157 hard, 1/131072c; No. 158 hard, 1/262144c; No. 159 hard, 1/524288c; No. 160 hard, 1/1048576c; No. 161 hard, 1/2097152c; No. 162 hard, 1/4194304c; No. 163 hard, 1/8388608c; No. 164 hard, 1/16777216c; No. 165 hard, 1/33554432c; No. 166 hard, 1/67108864c; No. 167 hard, 1/134217728c; No. 168 hard, 1/268435456c; No. 169 hard, 1/536870912c; No. 170 hard, 1/1073741824c; No. 171 hard, 1/2147483648c; No. 172 hard, 1/4294967296c; No. 173 hard, 1/8589934592c; No. 174 hard, 1/17179869184c; No. 175 hard, 1/34359738368c; No. 176 hard, 1/68719476736c; No. 177 hard, 1/137438953472c; No. 178 hard, 1/274877906944c; No. 179 hard, 1/549755813888c; No. 180 hard, 1/1099511627776c; No. 181 hard, 1/2199023255552c; No. 182 hard, 1/4398046511104c; No. 183 hard, 1/8796093022208c; No. 184 hard, 1/17592186044416c; No. 185 hard, 1/35184372088832c; No. 186 hard, 1/70368744177664c; No. 187 hard, 1/140737488355328c; No. 188 hard, 1/281474976710656c; No. 189 hard, 1/562949953421312c; No. 190 hard, 1/1125899906842624c; No. 191 hard, 1/2251799813685248c; No. 192 hard, 1/4503599627370496c; No. 193 hard, 1/9007199254740992c; No. 194 hard, 1/18014398509481984c; No. 195 hard, 1/36028797018963968c; No. 196 hard, 1/72057594037927936c; No. 197 hard, 1/144115188075855872c; No. 198 hard, 1/288230376151711744c; No. 199 hard, 1/576460752303423488c; No. 200 hard, 1/1152921504606846976c; No. 201 hard, 1/2305843009213693952c; No. 202 hard, 1/4611686018427387904c; No. 203 hard, 1/9223372036854775808c; No. 204 hard, 1/18446744073709551616c; No. 205 hard, 1/36893488147419103232c; No. 206 hard, 1/73786976294838206464c; No. 207 hard, 1/147573952589676412928c; No. 208 hard, 1/295147905179352825856c; No. 209 hard, 1/590295810358705651712c; No. 210 hard, 1/1180591620717411303424c; No. 211 hard, 1/2361183241434822606848c; No. 212 hard, 1/4722366482869645213696c; No. 213 hard, 1/9444732965739290427392c; No. 214 hard, 1/18889465931478580854784c; No. 215 hard, 1/37778931862957161709568c; No. 216 hard, 1/75557863725914323419136c; No. 217 hard, 1/151115727451828646838272c; No. 218 hard, 1/302231454903657293676544c; No. 219 hard, 1/604462909807314587353088c; No. 220 hard, 1/1208925819614629174706176c; No. 221 hard, 1/2417851639229258349412352c; No. 222 hard, 1/4835703278458516698824704c; No. 223 hard, 1/9671406556917033397649408c; No. 224 hard, 1/19342813113834066795298816c; No. 225 hard, 1/38685626227668133590597632c; No. 226 hard, 1/77371252455336267181195264c; No. 227 hard, 1/154742504910672534362390528c; No. 228 hard, 1/309485009821345068724781056c; No. 229 hard, 1/618970019642690137449562112c; No. 230 hard, 1/1237940039285380274899124224c; No. 231 hard, 1/2475880078570760549798248448c; No. 232 hard, 1/4951760157141521099596496896c; No. 233 hard, 1/9903520314283042199192993792c; No. 234 hard, 1/19807040628566084398385987584c; No. 235 hard, 1/39614081257132168796771975168c; No. 236 hard, 1/79228162514264337593543950336c; No. 237 hard, 1/158456325028528675187087900672c; No. 238 hard, 1/316912650057057350374175801344c; No. 239 hard, 1/633825300114114700748351602688c; No. 240 hard, 1/1267650600228229401496703205376c; No. 241 hard, 1/2535301200456458802993406410752c; No. 242 hard, 1/5070602400912917605986812821504c; No. 243 hard, 1/10141204801825835211973625643008c; No. 244 hard, 1/20282409603651670423947251286016c; No. 245 hard, 1/40564819207303340847894502572032c; No. 246 hard, 1/81129638414606681695789005144064c; No. 247 hard, 1/162259276829213363391578010288128c; No. 248 hard, 1/324518553658426726783156020576256c; No. 249 hard, 1/649037107316853453566312041152512c; No. 250 hard, 1/1298074214633706907132624082305024c; No. 251 hard, 1/2596148429267413814265248164610048c; No. 252 hard, 1/5192296858534827628530496329220096c; No. 253 hard, 1/10384593717069655257060992658440192c; No. 254 hard, 1/20769187434139310514121985316880384c; No. 255 hard, 1/41538374868278621028243970633760768c; No. 256 hard, 1/83076749736557242056487941267521536c; No. 257 hard, 1/166153499473114484112975882535043072c; No. 258 hard, 1/332306998946228968225951765070086144c; No. 259 hard, 1/664613997892457936451903530140172288c; No. 260 hard, 1/1329227995784915872903807060280344576c; No. 261 hard, 1/2658455991569831745807614120560689152c; No. 262 hard, 1/5316911983139663491615228241121378304c; No. 263 hard, 1/10633823966279326983230456482242756608c; No. 264 hard, 1/21267647932558653966460912964485513216c; No. 265 hard, 1/42535295865117307932921825928971026432c; No. 266 hard, 1/85070591730234615865843651857942052864c; No. 267 hard, 1/170141183460469231731687303715884105728c; No. 268 hard, 1/340282366920938463463374607431768211456c; No. 269 hard, 1/680564733841876926926749214863536422912c; No. 270 hard, 1/1361129467683753853853498429727072845824c; No. 271 hard, 1/272225893536750770770699685945414569152c; No. 272 hard, 1/544451787073501541541399371890829138304c; No. 273 hard, 1/1088903574147003083082798743781658276608c; No. 274 hard, 1/2177807148294006166165597487563316553216c; No. 275 hard, 1/4355614296588012332331194975126633106432c; No. 276 hard, 1/8711228593176024664662389950253266212864c; No. 277 hard, 1/1742245718635204932932477990050652425728c; No. 278 hard, 1/3484491437270409865864955980101304851456c; No. 279 hard, 1/6968982874540819731729911960202609702912c; No. 280 hard, 1/13937965749081639463459823200405219405824c; No. 281 hard, 1/27875931498163278926919646400810438811648c; No. 282 hard, 1/55751862996326557853839292801620877623296c; No. 283 hard, 1/111503725992653115707678585603241755246592c; No. 284 hard, 1/223007451985306231415357171206483510493184c; No. 285 hard, 1/44601490397061246283071434241296702098368c; No. 286 hard, 1/89202980794122492566142868482593404196736c; No. 287 hard, 1/178405961588244985132285736965186808393472c; No. 288 hard, 1/356811923176489970264571473930373616786944c; No. 289 hard, 1/713623846352979940529142947860747233573888c; No. 290 hard, 1/1427247692705959881058285895721494467147776c; No. 291 hard, 1/2854495385411919762116571791442988934295552c; No. 292 hard, 1/5708990770823839524233143582885977868591104c; No. 293 hard, 1/11417981541647679048466287165771955737182208c; No. 294 hard, 1/22835963083295358096932574331543911474364416c; No. 295 hard, 1/45671926166590716193865148663087822948728832c; No. 296 hard, 1/91343852333181432387730297326175645897457664c; No. 297 hard, 1/182687704666362864775460594652351291794915328c; No. 298 hard, 1/365375409332725729550921189304702583589830656c; No. 299 hard, 1/730750818665451459101842378609405167179661312c; No. 300 hard, 1/1461501637330902918203684757218810334359322624c; No. 301 hard, 1/2923003274661805836407369514437620668718645248c; No. 302 hard, 1/5846006549323611672814739028875241337437290496c; No. 303 hard, 1/11692013098647223345629478057750482674874580992c; No. 304 hard, 1/23384026197294446691258956115500965349749161984c; No. 305 hard, 1/46768052394588893382517912231001930699498323968c; No. 306 hard, 1/93536104789177786765035824462003861398996647936c; No. 307 hard, 1/187072209578355573530071648924007722797993295872c; No. 308 hard, 1/374144419156711147060143297848015445595986591744c; No. 309 hard, 1/748288838313422294120286595696030891191973183488c; No. 310 hard, 1/1496577676626844588240573191392061782383946366976c; No. 311 hard, 1/2993155353253689176481146382784123564767892733952c; No. 312 hard, 1/5986310706507378352962292765568247129535785467904c; No. 313 hard, 1/11972621413014756705924585531136494259071570935808c; No. 314 hard, 1/23945242826029513411849171062272988518143141871616c; No. 315 hard, 1/47890485652059026823698342124545977036286283743232c; No. 316 hard, 1/95780971304118053647396684249091954072572567486464c; No. 317 hard, 1/191561942608236107294793364998183888145145139732128c; No. 318 hard, 1/383123885216472214589586729996367776290290279464256c; No. 319 hard, 1/766247770432944429179173459992735552580580558928512c; No. 320 hard, 1/1532495540865888858358346919985411105161161117856224c; No. 321 hard, 1/3064991081731777716716693839970822210322322235712448c; No. 322 hard, 1/6129982163463555433433387679941644420644644711428896c; No. 323 hard, 1/12259964326927110866866775359883288841289289142257792c; No. 324 hard, 1/24519928653854221733733550719766577682

NOT TOLD FOE'S LOCATION

Wise Did Not Deliver Message at Santiago.

LONG'S ORDER IGNORED.

Note From Sampson Advising Flying Squadron's Chief to Stay at Cienfuegos Is Before Tribunal—Records Found Altered—Admiral Cotton's Testimony.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 26.—In the Schley court of inquiry captain W. C. Wise, who commanded the scout Yale during the Spanish war, admitted under oath that, notwithstanding positive orders from the Secretary of the Navy directing him to "inform the flying squadron" that the Spanish fleet was in Santiago harbor, he did not do so. Captain Wise merely notified Captain Philip of the Texas, just as the flying squadron was starting for Key West to coal, and, so far as was developed today, this important fact was not communicated to Commodore Schley. Slowly but surely it is brought out that important papers have been suppressed and that official charts and reports have been altered.

Suppressed Letter Introduced.
A sensational development was the introduction, as evidence, of the suppressed letter written by Sampson to Schley, directing the latter to remain off Cienfuegos. Sampson had received a dispatch from Secretary Long which said that, according to the best information of the department, the Spanish fleet was in Santiago harbor. Sampson then wrote Schley, under date of May 20: "After fully considering this telegram (the one relating to the Spanish fleet), I have decided to make no change in the present plans; that is, that you should hold your squadron off Cienfuegos. If the Spanish ships have put into Santiago they must come either to Havana or Cienfuegos to deliver the munitions of war which they are said to bring for use in Cuba. I am therefore of the opinion that our best chance of success in capturing the ships will be to hold the two points, Cienfuegos and Havana, with all the force we can muster. If later it should develop that these vessels are at Santiago we could then assemble off that port the ships best suited for the purpose and completely blockade it." This and another dispatch relating to the belief that the Spanish fleet was in Santiago were the only dispatches received by Schley until May 31, when the flying squadron was off Santiago.

Schley's Dispatch Is Altered.
The correct version of Schley's dispatch, in which he informed the Secretary of the Navy that it would be impossible to obey orders with regard to coaling the "flying squadron," was introduced as evidence. It was shown by this copy that a number of changes had been made in Schley's dispatch as it appears in the official records. The copy, as printed, does not show that Schley said the sea was boisterous and prevented coaling. In addition to suppressing this the department, in its official report, inserted the words "very difficult to tow the coiler. Unable to get the cable to hold." This sentence does not appear in Schley's original dispatch. In the department's version of the dispatch appear the words, "much to be regretted, cannot obey orders of the department. Have striven earnestly." The original dispatch, however, as it appears in Schley's letter copy book, reads: "It is to be regretted that the department's orders cannot be obeyed, earnestly as we have striven to that end." Rear Admiral Schley's attorneys contend that the correct copy of his dispatch gives an altogether different appearance to the incident.

Harvard's Commander Confused.
Rear Admiral Cotton, who commanded the Harvard during the war, upon direct examination said positively he had delivered dispatches to Commodore Schley on May 27 from Secretary Long and Acting Admiral Sampson, informing Schley that the Spanish fleet was in Santiago harbor. By referring to the official records and after refreshing the memory of Rear Admiral Cotton, Attorney Rayner demonstrated that one of these dispatches, which Cotton claimed to have delivered to Schley on the afternoon of May 27, was not sent from Washington until that day. It was impossible, therefore, to deliver this dispatch to the commander-in-chief of the flying squadron at the time as first sworn to by Cotton.

HE STANDS BY HEILNER.
Machinist Claxton Supports Commander at the Schley Inquiry.
Washington, D. C., Sept. 26.—The Schley court of inquiry resumed its sessions with a fair attendance. A. B. Claxton, who said he was a first-class machinist on the Texas during the Spanish war, was on the stand shortly after the court opened and gave testimony supporting the evidence of Commander Heilner that the log of the Texas was incorrectly written. Rear Admiral Cotton was also a witness and told of conversations with Schley regarding the subject of coaling.

Claxton Supports Heilner.
Claxton supported Commander Heilner's testimony.
To his knowledge there had been no signal for the reversal of the engines. He said that he had been excused from service in the engine room, but still he knew that the engines were reversed for about two minutes.
"What was the next change made in the indicator of the port engine of the Texas?" he was asked.
"Full speed ahead."
"What was the next after that?"

"There was no other order given for some time afterward."

"When was a further signal received by the indicator, and what was the signal?"

Direction Is Changed.
"Within the first hour of the engagement the direction was changed to full speed astern."

"Can you not give any estimate of the time when the signal was given for full speed astern, and how long after the beginning of the action?"

"I could say within the first hour."

"Was there any other signal given during that watch within your knowledge for the port of engines to reverse?"

"There was none to my knowledge."

"You were on duty in the port engine room throughout the day, were you not?"

"Off and on, sir."

"Where else were you on duty, if anywhere, at the time?"

"I was excused for a time on account of the heat."

"As a matter of fact, were the engines reversed?"

"They were, for about two minutes."

There was no cross examination by Mr. Rayner.

Rear-Admiral Cotton Testifies.
Rear-Admiral Charles S. Cotton was the next witness. He is a sharp-spoken man, and he answered the questions of the attorney almost before they were uttered. Cotton, who was then a captain and commanded the scout ship Harvard, testified that he met the flying squadron off Santiago and that he went aboard the Brooklyn with four or five dispatches. He said the weather was smooth enough for a seaman. Cotton then detailed the conversation that he had had with Schley in the latter's cabin regarding the coaling of the ships. Several points were discussed and Schley told his visitor that if he could not coal nearer he would have to go to Key West.

BIG BOAT RACES.

First of Series of Contests to Be Decided Today.

New York, Sept. 26.—The greatest event of the year in yachting circles begins today. The Shamrock II, representing British hopes, as the challenger, will meet the Columbia, the American cup defender, and these giant speed marvels of the ocean will strive for supremacy. It will be a battle royal. When they meet off Sandy Hook there are likely to be many exciting moments when quick handling alone will avoid collision.

It is estimated that 100,000 enthusiasts will go down to the great ocean race track, which is about two hours distant by boat from New York. They will pay more than $1,000,000 for the pleasure of seeing the international conflict. Every police boat has been pressed into service, anticipating the trouble of keeping the course clear of the immense flotilla of pleasure craft.

Threaten Big Tie-Up.
Chicago, Sept. 26.—The Brickmakers' Alliance, which has within its membership nearly all of the men employed in the manufacture of building and fire brick in Cook county, has sent forth its edict that unless the Owens Terra Cotta Company of Hobart, Ind., signs an agreement with the union and takes back the men who, it is alleged, were discharged because they became members of the organization, work on bricks which are intended for the post office and other big buildings now in course of construction in Chicago will cease.

Dartmouth Honors Webster.
Hanover, N. H., Sept. 26.—Dartmouth college, the college of Daniel Webster, is observing the 100th anniversary of his graduation. A two days' celebration, to be the most important event in the history of the college, has been commenced, hundreds of returned alumni and invited guests being in attendance. The old town is fairly aglow with brightly colored decorations.

Grain Burned at Chenoa, Ill.
Chenoa, Ill., Sept. 26.—E. D. Church III & Sons' large grain elevator at Meadows, four miles west of here, containing 40,000 bushels of grain, was destroyed by fire at 2 p. m. Loss about $30,000, insurance about $10,000. The fire is supposed to have been started by sparks from a passing train.

City Wins in a Big Suit.
La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 26.—Judge Bunn in the United States court rendered a decision in the case of Samuel J. King vs. the City of West Superior, involving the validity of $700,000 in bonds, in favor of the defendant, by which the city is relieved from paying the amount of the bonds.

Henry Siegel Has Retired.
New York, Sept. 26.—Henry Siegel, senior member of the house of Siegel, Cooper & Co. here, has retired from active management of the business. B. J. Greenhut, youngest member of the concern, succeeds him. The sale of Mr. Siegel's interests involved over $1,000,000.

Kills Wife as Poor Cook.
Homer, Ga., Sept. 26.—Neal Riley, convicted of the murder of his wife, has been sentenced to be hanged October 8. The woman could not bake bread to suit her husband's taste and he killed her.

New Head for Augustana.
New Haven, Conn., Sept. 26.—Dr. Gustave Andreen, instructor in Scandinavian languages at Yale, has accepted the presidency of Augustana College at Rock Island, Ill.

FIND EVIDENCE OF PLOT.

Cleveland Detectives Discover a Plan to Kill McKinley.

Investigations made at Cleveland by Police Detective Schmunk reveal the startling possibility that a plot to assassinate President McKinley was laid a year or more ago, before he was elected for his second term, and that it may have been laid in the peaceful precincts of Orange township, where the Czolgosz family lived. A remittance made to the assassin by his brother, Waldeck Czolgosz, about a month ago led to the investigation that may have an important bearing on the case. From the first the Buffalo police and the secret service agents of the federal government have been strong in their belief that there was a plot, although the Cleveland police have been inclined to doubt the theory.

Judge Eli Torrance of Minneapolis, who was recently elected commander of the Grand Army of the Republic to succeed General Leo Rassieur, is well known in Grand Army circles, and has always taken a great interest in all

One of the strong elements in the belief of the Buffalo and secret service detectives has been the fact that the handkerchief with which the assassin concealed the hand in which he held his weapon was a woman's handkerchief. What is more important is that the handkerchief was tied about the hand in a way that he, it is claimed, would not have been able to tie it himself, no matter how skillful he might have been with the other hand or how much time he might have taken to tie it. The fact that Czolgosz had money impelled the detectives to try to learn whence he got it. Sunday his brother, Waldeck Czolgosz, confessed to having sent it to Leon under the name of Frank Snyder at West Seneca, N. Y. In his search for clues Detective Schmunk learned from the neighboring farmers that the Czolgosz boys, Leon and Waldeck, have been readers of socialist papers for several years.

John D. Knox, an aged farmer who lives in the vicinity of the former Czolgosz farm, said: "The two boys, the one that shot the President and Waldeck, used to come to my house and talk to me about their socialist papers. They brought their papers to me and tried to get me to read them. Once when they were here during the last presidential campaign they got to talking about President McKinley, and one of them said: 'If he is elected he will be shot before he serves out his term,' and then went on, 'I'd serve John D. Rockefeller the same way if I got a chance. They talked violence all the time, and I was glad when they went out of the neighborhood. Almost every night there was a crowd of people from the city at their house. They used to come over to the farm from the electric road so that we could not see them as we would if they had come by the road. The back of the farm extends to the railroad, and the visitors used to go back and forth that way instead of by the way of the road. Sometimes there would be quite a crowd of them.' Then said that the father, sister and brothers are going to Buffalo shortly, and the police believe when they confront Leon that he will break down and reveal all that is now a mystery in regard to the shooting of the President.

Insane Asylum Burned.
The asylum for the insane in Norfolk, Neb., was destroyed by fire. The body of Victor Casper was found in the ruins. The dead, injured, and missing, so far as known, are as follows: Victor Casper, patient, burned to death; Jespersen, patient, severely

One Killed and Five Hurt.
In a head-on collision on the Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad, eight miles north of Cadillac, between a regular freight train and an extra passenger train carrying excursionists from Petoskey to Cadillac, Engineer Fred Zimmerman of Cadillac, was killed and Conductor Fred Volkert, Grand Rapids; brakeman Hiram Witkop of Cadillac, Engineer B. J. Dart, Grand Rapids; News Agent W. A. Saevely, Grand Rapids, and Albert Soon, Cadillac, injured.

burned; Kyser, patient, severely burned; Peter O'Ber, patient, missing; John McGovern, patient, missing. The fire originated from some unknown cause in the west wing of the institution. The loss on buildings and their contents will reach $300,000. There were 600 inmates in the asylum, and all but two are accounted for. Nearly all the patients were taken from the burning structure in their night clothing. About 250 were taken to Lincoln and placed in the asylum at that place. The remainder of the patients are housed in the buildings that are still in condition for use.

Czar says Turkish atrocities in Armenia must stop; that the people must accept Russian protection or be exterminated.

OMAHA'S LITTLE EXCITEMENT.
Drug Man Wants to Dictate Style of His Clerk's Hair.
Drug clerks with their hair parted in the middle are going out of style in Omaha. The following advertisement in an Omaha paper caused consternation among soda-water mixers: "Wanted—Drug clerk, registered; only those parting their hair on the side need apply. H. L. Hesterwood & Co."
This came near causing bloodshed. Rutherford B. Hayes, who was employed by the Hesterwood pharmacy, told the proprietor that he would leave his employ in a few days. The next morning this advertisement appeared. Hayes' friends called his attention to it, and he became the butt of many jokes. His hair was parted in the middle, and he took the advertisement as a personal insult.
The proprietor of the store explained to Hayes that no affront was intended, and stated that he was tired of having clerks with hair parted in the middle, and had decided to change his luck. His explanation did not pacify Hayes, however, and he left the store without notice.
The Hesterwood pharmacy is in a fashionable section of the city, and Hayes was a social favorite among the young women who came to the store to drink soda water. All his friends are indignant.
When asked why he wanted clerks who parted their hair on the side, Druggist S. L. Hesterwood said: "Hair parted in the middle usually goes with cigarettes and red vests, and a great faculty of posing and keeping dressed up. I want men to work. Since I inserted the ad I have had applications from twenty sensible looking drug clerks. All of them but one had their hair parted on the side; he was baldheaded."

Wood Slated for Cabinet Post.
General Leonard Wood, it is believed, will be invited before long to become a member of the Roosevelt Cabinet. It is understood at Washington that the President has informed him that he can have the navy portfolio if he wishes it on the resignation of John D. Long, who is expected to retire in a short time.

Kansas Men Desert Navy.
United States training ship Mohican arrived at San Francisco after two months spent in delivering landmen to various naval stations on the coast and to Honolulu. Ninety-five of the men deserted, most of them coming from Kansas.

Chandler Declared Sane.
John Armstrong Chandler, divorced husband of Amelle Rives, now Princess Troubetzkoy, the Virginia authoress, and who escaped from a New York asylum a year ago and whose recent appearance near his old Virginia home caused a widespread sensation, has been declared sane by Circuit Judge John E. Mason of Louisa Co., Va. Judge Mason has directed that all funds in the trustee's hands be turned over to Chandler in his own right.

Think Richter Shams Insanity.
E. G. Richter, who shot and killed James Thompson and wounded Sam England near Cornell, was safely lodged in the county jail at Pontiac and still talks of mobs and his fear of lynching. As Richter has already been confined in the Kankakee asylum twice for insanity it is thought he is talking so as to strengthen an insanity plea in this case. England, it is thought, cannot recover.

To Observe Temperance Day.
Fifteen societies in the Catholic Total Abstinence Union have arranged at Chicago to celebrate Temperance day, Oct. 10. Preparations for the festivities were made at the session of the Cook county board of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union at Handel hall. During the session resolutions of sympathy and condolences for the family of President McKinley were passed.

$79,248,968 in Personality.
Chicago's personal property valuations, as given out by the board of review amount to $79,248,968. County towns add $4,074,504, making a total for Cook county of $83,323,472. The real and personal valuations for the county aggregate $363,070,934, for the city, about $340,000,000.

Deserted Gypsies and Returned Home.
Mary Gibson, aged 14 years, a half-sister of Richard Ferguson, and a niece of Mrs. F. P. James of Alto Pass, has just arrived at that place unexpectedly, after an absence of four years. She was spirited away from there by her stepfather, John Woolen, a horse trader, and was compelled to travel about the country with a band of gypsies. At Covington, Ky., she slipped away from Woolen, told her story to a county official, and finally reached her old home.

LATEST ILLINOIS NEWS.

New Illinois Corporations.

The following corporations have been licensed: Chicago Pantrymen's Cullinary Club, Chicago; mutual protection; incorporators, L. M. Fraser, A. L. Palmer, T. H. Brawley. Chicago Heights Turnverein, Chicago Heights; social; incorporators, G. F. Schreiber, Theo. Wagelaar, Henry Becker. Tri-City Regalia Company, Rock Island; capital, $10,000; manufacturing uniforms, etc.; incorporators, Tiley Eichelsdorfer, William Andersch, J. T. Stafford, Richards & McKinley Company, La Hogue; capital, $7,500; deal in hay, grain, coal, etc.; incorporators, E. L. Johnson, G. S. Eddy, H. C. Adeock. Scandia Fish Company, Chicago; capital, $25,000; deal in fish, groceries, etc.; incorporators, Gustaf Hallbom, John Hagland, Charles Olson. Hurricane Coal Company, Carbondale; capital, $10,000; mine coal; incorporators, S. T. Bush, J. C. Bush, Morris Fryar. Economical Bottle Stopper Company, Chicago; capital, $2,500; manufacturing bottle stoppers; incorporators, M. D. Clasen, W. R. Clasen, E. S. Cummings. Mount Morris Pleasure Club, Mount Morris; incorporators, H. W. Cushing, R. C. McCredle.

Church Election at Decatur.

The United Brethren conference at Decatur elected these officers of the church erection board: J. A. F. King of Decatur, F. N. Munch of Argenta and J. Groff of Coleta; M. B. Spayd, treasurer; member of the conference Sunday-school board, Rev. O. O. Inman of White Heath; missionary treasurer, Rev. L. Field of Decatur; members of the board of appeals, L. Field and J. A. F. King; J. C. Peck of Cerro Gordo was elected trustee of Westfield college. These officers of the Preachers' Aid Society were elected: President, D. O. Griffin of Argenta; vice-president, J. W. Baumgardner of Orenna; secretary and treasurer, Z. T. Hatfield of Polo.

Preparing for a Clash.

Anarchists and citizens are arming themselves in Spring Valley and vicinity for an expected clash on the question of the right of L'Aurore to continue publication. L'Aurore is the weekly organ of about 3,000 anarchists in Bureau, LaSalle and Putnam counties. In this sheet a week ago in regard to the assassination of William McKinley, the editor, John Ciancabilli, said, "We are glad of it." On Thursday the climax of the fomenting riot is likely to take place. On that day L'Aurore is printed and taken to the Spring Valley postoffice.

Rich Residents Assessed.

The Lake county board of review hit wealthy Lake Forest people doing business hard in its final decisions. Helen Culver, who attracted attention by threatening to fight the board if it assessed her for back taxes was heavily assessed. Back taxes were ordered collected on $87,767 assessed value for last year. This year she was assessed $88,767 and this was cut to $74,767. A new property at Lake Forest was found in that of Ann Francis Larned and it was assessed at $19,000 for last year and $17,821 for this year.

Social Leader Arrested.

Charles A. Colson, formerly a prominent merchant at Mattoon, has been arrested at Bridgeport, Oklahoma, on a charge of receiving and purchasing stolen goods. A year ago Colson and his father, G. E. Colson, were indicted for purchasing brass stolen from the Big Four and Illinois Central roads in Mattoon. The elder Colson was acquitted in the circuit court, but the son was reindicted. The Colsons are prominent in social and church circles and the arrests of father and son caused a sensation.

Think Richter Shams Insanity.

E. G. Richter, who shot and killed James Thompson and wounded Sam England near Cornell, was safely lodged in the county jail at Pontiac and still talks of mobs and his fear of lynching. As Richter has already been confined in the Kankakee asylum twice for insanity it is thought he is talking so as to strengthen an insanity plea in this case. England, it is thought, cannot recover.

To Observe Temperance Day.

Fifteen societies in the Catholic Total Abstinence Union have arranged at Chicago to celebrate Temperance day, Oct. 10. Preparations for the festivities were made at the session of the Cook county board of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union at Handel hall. During the session resolutions of sympathy and condolences for the family of President McKinley were passed.

$79,248,968 in Personality.
Chicago's personal property valuations, as given out by the board of review amount to $79,248,968. County towns add $4,074,504, making a total for Cook county of $83,323,472. The real and personal valuations for the county aggregate $363,070,934, for the city, about $340,000,000.

Deserted Gypsies and Returned Home.
Mary Gibson, aged 14 years, a half-sister of Richard Ferguson, and a niece of Mrs. F. P. James of Alto Pass, has just arrived at that place unexpectedly, after an absence of four years. She was spirited away from there by her stepfather, John Woolen, a horse trader, and was compelled to travel about the country with a band of gypsies. At Covington, Ky., she slipped away from Woolen, told her story to a county official, and finally reached her old home.

THE POPULAR GIRL.

She is Neither Egotistical Nor Wrapped Up in Herself.

The self-centered girl who stands with her back to people, takes the tallest chair, pushes herself to the front and snubs young and old, friends and enemies alike, because she is thinking and caring only for herself, is never the popular girl. She is the one who causes much mischief among humanity. So wrapped in self she forgets that there is any other being besides herself on earth and she, consequently, wants all the attention of her friends, if she has any, to the exclusion of everybody else. Her friends dare not mention any other's name; hers must be on their lips constantly. She is the ideal egotist, this self-centered girl. Watch and listen to the popular girl. She is thinking about you, your likes, your opinions, your happiness. She sets you and everyone she comes in contact with at ease and makes you appear at your best because she looks and expresses a friendly interest in you. Her motto is not "what are you going to do to me or for me," but "what can I do for you." The same is true of all those around her. She is constantly studying how she can make others happy. There is no excuse for any girl not to possess all the womanly charms which go so far toward making one popular and others happy when they can be had for the taking. The oldest, youngest, poorest, homeliest and most sedate can possess these charms if she so desires. Then there is another reason why girls should endeavor to cultivate these charms, because it makes them attractive, lovable and winning, which is every woman's mission and which makes her useful to the world. No true woman can afford to live for self. She will be the heaviest loser in the end. The world will not coax any one to be kind and lovable, but it will abundantly reward those who pay attention to these things.—Pittsburg Press.

GENTLEMAN IN BARE FEET.

He Causes Much Surprise in Gardens of Moscow.

For some weeks a gentleman elegantly dressed, except as regards his feet, has been walking for several hours daily in one of the public gardens at Moscow. On his feet he wore neither shoes nor stockings, and for this reason naturally attracted much attention from the crowds that frequent the garden. That he was a man of wealth many persons conjectured from his extremely fashionable attire, but why he did not cover his feet they could not understand. The mystery has now been solved. As the odd looking pedestrian was walking in the garden the other day, an elderly woman, confident that he was a beggar, approached him, and, taking out her purse, handed him 25 cents, saying: "Take this and go and buy yourself a pair of second-hand shoes. I am only a poor woman; otherwise I would give you more." With these words she went away, but the gentleman followed her hastily, and, holding out the 25 cents, he said: "Please take this back, for I really do not need it. I can buy all the shoes I want, but am a disciple of Kneipp, and I think it healthier to go barefooted." The woman, however, had never heard of Abbe Kneipp, and, still convinced that the man was a beggar, she refused to take the money, and hurried off so fast that the gentleman could not overtake her.

The Russian Army.

An idea of the present efficiency of the Russian army may be gained from the recent Russian conquest of Manchuria, which was effected almost entirely by Siberian troops, the troops at home having been left practically untouched. In this campaign Russia swiftly and secretly massed 150,000 efficient troops on the Manchurian frontier, thousands of miles from Europe, without any special effort. The general total on peace footing, including those not in the ranks, garrison troops and local reserve forces, amounts to 950,000 men, with 350,000 horses. On a war footing, including the reserves, the soldiers of the czar amount to 3,500,000 men and 600,000 horses. The total population of the empire is 128,939,537 souls.

Dancing Around a Mausoleum.

Cornwall has many curious customs, but that new one of twenty-one years' date called the Knill celebration is, perhaps, the most curious of all. The late John Knill left £5 to be equally divided between ten girls, under 10 years of age, natives of St. Ives, and daughters of seamen, fishermen or tanners, who shall dance and sing round the mausoleum containing his mortal remains on the anniversary of his death. Other curious gifts, such as £5 to the native with most children, are also distributed. The ceremonies last week were very picturesque, and the local magnetes did their best to let everybody have a good time.

Steel Bridge Over Klondike.

The first steel bridge in middle Yukon has been formally opened for traffic. It spans the Klondike river, nearly opposite the mouth of Bonanza Creek, or about a mile and a half above its junction with the Yukon at Dawson. The main span is 154 feet long, and rests on steel caissons filled with cement and strengthened with crib and rock-work. The total cost of the bridge in position was $30,000.

She—Did it ever occur to you what poor talkers the men are? He—Did you ever consider that it is the women who teach babies to say things?

The Barrington Review

Entered at Barrington as Second-Class Matter

Subscription $1.50 per year in advance. Advertising Rates made known on application.

MILES T. LAMEY, Editor and Publisher.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1901

Education and Training.

During the next six or eight months the youth of the country will be at lessons in the common and public schools. Many of them will be the better for the lessons, and many of them will get real enjoyment from their tasks. Where love of study and the opportunity to gratify it go hand in hand the gods look on with approval. But there is a practical side to the question.

Does the education secured, the education offered, always tend to fit the individual for his or her sphere in life? Parents look to the teachers and often praise or blame according to results. The teacher takes the material as it comes to the schoolroom and makes the most of it. When all is done, there may be a double or a treble disappointment. The teacher has worked hard, the parents have been patient and hopeful, but the pupil finds that the essential thing has yet to be learned—that is, how to earn bread with an educated brain.

There are more partly educated boys and girls looking for situations above their powers to fill than there are partly trained apprentices looking for vacancies. In other words, beginners overrun the market, but real help is scarce. The apprentice at farmwork, housework and in the factory has learned how to do something even though all the business has not been mastered. He or she can take hold somewhere. The school graduate almost always has to begin at the bottom round, and that is a serious disappointment, for it has been promised by the parent and school trustee that diligent work in the classroom shall fit the pupil for the "higher walks of life."

The teacher's responsibility is easily fixed. The rules of the school demand recitations. If they are forthcoming all is well. If they are not up to the standard it is for the parent to decide whether or not time will be wasted in keeping the youth at books. The right kind of pupil can learn something worth while in any school. Some youths can't learn anything in the best of schools. They have powers fitted for something, but not for books and recitations. To them school is a torture and it must be confessed they are a torture to their teachers and fellow pupils. The desire of parents to have educated sons and daughters is a noble one, but to insist that every boy and girl shall pass years at school and hold the school responsible for failure, if failure comes, is a wrong to both teacher and pupil.

The moral benefit of thorough training in a good school cannot be overestimated, but the practical benefit as an aid in mastering the problems of life to be derived from years of poring over books is often misunderstood, and for this the advisers of youth are responsible. It is sad to think that those who have been patient and devoted scholars find themselves scoffed at as "mere school children" when they ask for a chance to earn bread in the busy marts of the world. The first question of the would be employer is not "What do you know?" but "What can you do?"

Men who possess the faculty for unraveling puzzles will find a fertile field for the exploitation of their peculiar talent in the present Colombia-Venezuela-Ecuador muddle. It is an imbroglio which the editorial writer is debarred from treating by reason of the fact that no one outside the three republics involved appears to know what the trouble is all about. At any rate, some maker of comic opera ought to be able to get a mighty good libretto out of the episode without the exercise of much originality.

When William Gillette produced "Sherlock Holmes" for the first time at the Lyceum theater in London, the gallery gods attempted to "boo" the American actor off the stage, although the pit was applauding. The London newspapers heartily condemn this act of rowdism. Apparently the Anglo-Saxon entente doesn't extend to those whom Mr. Gillette in a happier day called the only true critics.

It is beginning to occur to thoughtful persons that perhaps the example set by the municipal governments of our big cities is not wholly edifying. In many of them it appears to be a perpetual battle between the rascals who are in and the rascals who are out and wish to get in.

General Plaza, president of Ecuador, wishes the world to know that his country is at peace with all the world. It is such a rare thing for a South American country to be in such a happy state it is no wonder the president is proud to announce it.

Nature delights in presenting striking contrasts. This year she has given New England the biggest crop of hay and the smallest crop of hay fever known for years.

The New President.

Theodore Roosevelt, the twenty-sixth president of the United States and the youngest man who has ever occupied that exalted position, becomes the chief executive of the nation under peculiarly sad and trying circumstances. Upon his ascendancy to the place of highest honor and responsibility in the gift of his countrymen there was none of the gratifying ceremonies which ordinarily attend the elevation of one chosen by popular expression to be the chief magistrate of many millions of citizens. There was none of the pomp and splendor of the march along the historic avenue leading from the national capitol to the executive mansion. The plaudits and congratulations of assembled thousands formed no part of the ceremony. It was not upon the steps of the nation's capitol in the presence of vast throngs of his rejoicing and enthusiastic fellow citizens that Theodore Roosevelt took the oath to support the constitution of the United States as its chief executive, but in a house of mourning, where was gathered a hushed and saddened assembly of scarcely a hundred people, at a time when the nation was plunged in deepest grief.

Many have said that Theodore Roosevelt is somewhat too impulsive, too self-willed, too strenuous (using an expression peculiarly his own), to make a safe and conservative chief executive of such a nation as ours. Whether or not this notion is well founded, the sad and solemn circumstances attending his induction into office are such as to exert a sobering and subduing influence upon a nature however impetuous and self-assertive. The humility, dignity and poise with which the new president has borne himself under the trying circumstances of the late president's death and his own elevation to the presidency have been especially satisfying to his political and personal friends and associates and reassuring to those not in political harmony with him. The sincerity of his grief over the death of his predecessor, and the keen sense of responsibility which he has evinced in accepting the duties thus thrust upon him are fully and universally recognized.

That he will continue the policy of his predecessor is assured not only in his clearly and frankly expressed utterances, but in his sincere desire that President McKinley's advisers should remain as members of his official household and aid him in carrying out that policy.

A Parisian actress deserves some praise for her efforts to impart to the recently commonplace art of press agency an air of novelty. She has been losing her jewelry, a habit of actresses since the time when the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, but her thief is not the conventional one. The starling which Laurence Sterne and Mrs. Cholmondeley found a useful adjunct to their stories has been called in by the Parisienne. Having missed necklaces, belts and rings, she set a trap with a diamond bracelet, leaving it on the mantle in her boudoir. Watching from the next room, she saw the starling fly into the window, lift the bracelet and hide it in a convenient chimney, where of course the other missing articles were found.

The good opinion that Emperor William of Germany has of himself is not at all surprising when one considers that the North German Lloyd company names its great vessels for his family. A 700 foot liner now building is to be named the Kaiser Wilhelm II., and the newest mammoth of the seas is called the Kronprinz Wilhelm (Crown Prince William). Think of calling a ship 663 feet long and capable of developing twenty-four knots an hour for a nineteen-year-old boy!

The natives of Holland are not popularly supposed to be very "swift," and yet a trolley line is under construction in the land of dikes the contract for which stipulates that a speed in excess of 100 miles an hour must be attained, the penalty for failure being the forfeiture of an immense sum of money by the builders.

John L. Sullivan has announced that he has sworn off. To make his good resolves more firm he is going to become a drummer for a mineral water house. He will have to drink so much mineral water to prove the virtue of his wares to prospective customers that he won't have room for anything stronger.

A scientist has outlined a plan whereby a man who studies the different varieties of clouds carefully can make his own weather forecasts. It is to be hoped that this plan will work better than the one by which the bureau in Washington foretold the weather last July.

A man who recently sold his western railroad distributed from the proceeds of the sale a million dollars among the road's employees. Switching and breaking are likely to be popular callings in that section from this time.

It is proposed in Europe to enroll a commission to see that Latin is pronounced properly. The commission might send a member to this country to drill railway employees who call out the names of stations.

Our Horses in South Africa.

That the American horse and mule possess qualities of size, strength and hardihood unequalled by those of other nations has been proved by the record of their work during the Boer war. Most of the animals used for military purposes have been imported from the United States. Horses from other countries cannot stand the climate, but they cannot survive the work and climate together, while the animals from this country, especially the mules, live longest and do the most work in South Africa.

Former Consul General Stowe of Cape Town is of the opinion that the demand for our horses and mules is likely to increase rather than decrease after the close of the Boer war.

Our export trade in horses to South Africa has increased wonderfully in the last two years. During 1899 it amounted to only $16,000. In 1900 the value of this trade increased to $988,000. In the fiscal year 1901, ended last June, the horses exported to Africa were worth $3,408,000 and the mules nearly $3,000,000. Nearly all these animals were needed for military purposes and were subjected to usage that killed or wore out large numbers of them. Recently the authorities have been selling animals unfitted for army use, offering them at nominal prices to farmers who have suffered losses of live stock during the war.

Undoubtedly Consul General Stowe is correct in his prediction that there will be an urgent demand for many thousands of American horses and mules on South African farms as soon as farming and stock raising are resumed. A trade built up during war will continue in peace. The war has destroyed most of the native horses. The Boers commandeered large numbers of farm animals, nearly all of which have perished. The sacrifice of horses on both sides has been unusually large. Many of the Boers will be too poor to buy new horses, but all who can will do so, and the British settlers will need large numbers of animals. The prices offered are good. It is evident that American stock raisers with plenty of good mules and farm horses will have little difficulty in finding a market for their animals during the coming year.

"When Greek meets Greek, then comes the tug of war." Emperor William of Germany has the reputation of being possessed of a reasonably strong fondness for having his own way. His son, the crown prince, is also said to be a trifle stubborn. The young man has become enamored of a bright American girl whose name is not divulged. Naturally the Kaiser is not overwhelmed with joy over the discovery. He is reported to have ordered the young man to cease his attentions to the girl. The young man is reported to have listened respectfully to the admonition of his revered sire and then to have gone to England to renew his courtship. But the honor of the Hohenzollerns is safe, for, astounding as it may seem, the fair American has announced that she cares nothing for the crown prince and would not marry him if he had twice as much (or only half as much) royal blood in his veins.

On the person of a notorious pick-pocket recently captured in New York was found a letter addressed to his wife concluding with these words: "Now, Dollie, take care of yourself and pray, as Jim prays, for you." Imagine the nightly prayer of such a man! "May women carry well filled purses in their hands. May the careful be careless in guarding their valuables—the careless more careless. May safes be easy to crack. May burglar alarms fail to go off, night watchmen be stricken blind, deaf and dumb, and may watchdogs fail to bark. May jimmies always do sure work, may pistols never miss their mark, may the police fall asleep oftener than they do. Amen."

The old time writer of articles telling how to make a success of life, who lived in a garret and worked for a mere pittance, has been superseded in modern "yellow" journalism by the dowdy fashion writer who never looked stylish for a minute. These members of the gentler sex affect to believe in their work, and that was more than could ever be said for the attic prosperity purveyors.

The fact that an American electric vehicle company has been losing money until now it is $5,000,000 in debt is enough to make a horse laugh, but it is no laughing matter to the stockholders.

Professor Lewis of Yale says that America is too young to produce any great poets. There is hope, however, that the national defect of youth will be remedied in time.

Justus Schwab, son of the noted anarchist, has asked for police protection. This is one of the inconsistencies of the anarchist creed.

It is reported that when Admiral Dewey called the naval court of inquiry to order he said, "You may fire when ready, gentlemen."

Rear Admiral Ramsay, having held his tongue, can now properly hold a position on the Schley court of inquiry.

A Communication.

MR. EDITOR—Allow me to speak a few words in favor of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I suffered for three years with the bronchitis and could not sleep at nights. I tried several doctors and various patent medicines, but could get nothing to give me any relief until my wife got a bottle of this valuable medicine, which has completely relieved me.—W. S. BROCKMAN, Bagnell, Mo. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

THE REVIEW prints the news.

Frank Robertson

Attorney at Law

701 Kedzie Bldg.,
120 Randolph Street, Chicago.

Residence, Barrington.

HENRY BUTZOW

BAKERY

—AND—

CONFECTIONERY.
Fruits, Cigars, Tobacco, Etc.

ICE CREAM AND OYSTER PARLOR
IN CONNECTION.

Barrington, - Ill.

The Barrington Bank

....OF....

SANDMAN & CO.

John Robertson, Pres.
A. L. Robertson, Cashier.
John C. Plague, Vice-Prest.
.....H. C. P. Sandman.

Barrington, - Illinois

GEO. SCHAFER,

Dealer in

Fresh and Smoked Meats.

Fish, Oysters, Etc.

Barrington, - Ills

M. C. McINTOSH, LAWYER.

Office 420 Ashland Bk., Chicago Residence, Barrington.

PHONES: CENTRAL 3361
CENTRAL 3353
BARRINGTON 221.

TAKE YOUR WASHING
TO THE.....

Barrington Steam Laundry.

Prompt Service, Prices Reasonable
Only First-class Work Done.

J. F. GIESKE, Proprietor,

Opp. Grunau's barber shop.

Bennett & France

with Jackman & Bennett

Attorneys at Law.

Practice in state and federal courts.

Farms for sale, estates handled, loans,
Collection a specialty.

Office: Howarth Bldg., Barrington

DR. E. W. OLCOTT

Will be at his Dental Rooms in

BATTERMAN'S BLOCK,
PALATINE,

Friday of Each Week

Chicago office:
65 E. RANDOLPH ST.
Hours 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.

PALATINE BANK

OF CHARLES H. PATTEN.

A General Banking Business Transacted....
Interest Paid on Time Deposits.
Loans on Real Estate.
Insurance.

Standard of the world.

For Interior and Exterior Painting

Pure white lead and pure linseed oil make the best paint.

It is the cheapest paint—in first cost and durability. A house can be kept well painted for a term of years with white lead at less cost than any other paint.

It completely covers the surface to which it is applied.

It penetrates and firmly adheres to the surface, protecting it from the elements and preventing decay.

Does not Scale or Chip

The best white lead is made from metallic lead by the "Old Dutch" process, which requires from four to five months time to complete the finished product. There are numerous quick processes of making white lead, but the products differ materially from those produced by the Dutch method, and it has so far proved an impossibility to make in a few days the same quality that requires months of time to perfect. This may be compared to a process of ripening, that cannot be hurried without detriment to the product.

Pure Linseed Oil

Is as necessary as pure white lead. There are numerous mixtures and substitutes offered in place of linseed oil, containing resin, coal oil and other deleterious materials, which, if used, will ruin the best white lead paint.

You can buy pure white lead and pure linseed oil by purchasing HEATH & MILLIGAN'S PAINTS. It has been in use for 50 years, so that its value and character is thoroughly established. Be sure to get this brand.

We handle the best grades of Raw and Boiled Linseed Oils, White Leads, Turpentine, Varnishes, Hard Oils, Colors in Oil, Dry Colors, Brushes, etc., etc.

Our line of building material is up to the standard. Call and get our quotations, we can interest you.

PORTLAND AND LOUISVILLE CEMENT.
LIME, STUCCO, WALL PLASTER, BRICK, TILE, PLASTERING HAIR, SAND, STONE, ETC.

LAMEY & CO.

Building Material and Painters' Supplies.

Barrington, - Illinois.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE

Items of Interest Picked Up in Surrounding Towns for The Perusal of Review Readers.

WAUCONDA.

F. D. Wynkoop of Woodstock spent Sunday here with his parents.

Prof. Hodge of Rockefeller called on friends in our village Saturday.

A few of our young people attended the dance at Grayslake on Saturday evening.

Mot Kimball of Elgin is spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Kimball.

Chas. Thomas and Miss Ramsdal of Rollins were pleasant callers in our village Sunday.

Miss Lillian Tidmarsh and Della Hammond visited with friends and relatives at Elgin the first of the week.

Dr. Dawson moved his office to new quarters last week and now occupies rooms in P. A. Nimsgearn residence.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Fuller, and Mrs. George Hapke and daughter attended the street carnival at Elgin Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Coxhead of Chicago spent Sunday in our village with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Dixon.

Geo. C. Roberts returned from his Eastern visit Tuesday. He was gone about three weeks and reports a very pleasant trip.

Wm. Tekampe and family moved to Waukegan Sunday, where Mr. Tekampe has secured employment in the sugar refinery.

Mesdames Alice Baseley and Charlotte North visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jewel North and family at Lake Zurich Wednesday.

The stock sale held in our village on Wednesday was attended by a large crowd for miles around. Nearly everything was sold and Mr. Roney seems well satisfied with the result.

The Wauconda sorghum mill will be in operation again Monday for the usual fall harvest. Sugar cane has been coming in in large quantities and promises a larger grist than ever before.

Last Thursday memorial services were held and was largely attended. Rev. Dutton addressing the assembly. No business was done during the services, all business places being closed from 4 to 3 p. m.

Half rates to State fair at Springfield, Ill., with the North-Western line. Tickets will be sold at one fare for round trip September 28 to October 5, inclusive, limited to return until October 7, inclusive. Apply to agents Chicago & North-Western R'y.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Spencer moved to our village last week and are occupying one of the Harrison residences. William will assist his father in conducting the mill and expects to make our village his future home.

The M. W. A. reception at the M. W. A. hall Tuesday evening proved a social success. Cards, caroms and other games marked the early part of the evening's entertainment, after which refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake, were served. Dancing was then indulged in until about 12 o'clock when all departed, well pleased with the evening spent.

Miss Laura Harrison entertained a few of her friends at her home Friday evening. Vocal and instrumental music and various social amusements were the order of the evening, interspersed with refreshments at 10:30, and it was well nigh the midnight hour when the guests departed, thanking their hostess for a most enjoyable evening.

RESOLUTIONS.

The following resolutions have been adopted by the Wauconda W. R. C., No. 38:

WHEREAS, The assassin's bullet has laid low the beloved president of our country, thereby causing grief untold throughout our land, and the world grieves with us, therefore be it

Resolved, That it is fitting that we, the members of Wauconda Relief Corps, No. 38, auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic, express our sorrow for the untimely death of our martyred president, William McKinley, whose loss we shall ever deplore, and be it further

Resolved, That the Corps extend to the widow and stricken family our deep and heartfelt sympathy in the hour of trial; further, that a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to the department headquarters of the Relief Corps of Illinois.

LAURA E. COOKE,
BELLE TAGGART,
ALICE BASELEY, } Committee.

LAKE ZURICH.

Ball and dance tomorrow.

Henry Branding made a business trip to Chicago Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Selp visited with their son Fred in Chicago Sunday.

John Kohl made a trip to Long Grove Wednesday.

Chas. Patten and family moved back to Palatine Monday.

Chas. Selp of Palatine visited with Mrs. H. Selp Thursday.

John Hodge of Rockefeller called here Thursday of last week.

Herman Helfer made a trip on his wheel to Elk Grove Thursday.

A number of our citizens attended the auction sale at Wauconda Thursday.

The Lake Zurich St. Peter's church congregation will hold their annual meeting next Sunday. Every member should be present.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Klipper, a baby girl, Thursday. Charley's face is wreathed in smiles.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Knigge of Wheeling were visiting with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buesching, Sunday.

If a dealer asks you to take something said to be "just as good" as Rocky Mountain Tea made by Madison Medicine Co., ask him if he makes more money. Ask your druggist.

If you are going to California apply to agents Chicago & North-Western R'y. about the through tourist sleeping car service to Los Angeles and San Francisco. Round trip tourist tickets on sale daily. dec. 31

A matched game of base ball between Palatine and Lake County Stars for a purse of $25 will be played at Oak Park tomorrow. Game called at 1:30 p. m. In the evening a dance will be held, music by Varello Bros. Chicago orchestra. Everybody attend and enjoy a nice time.

CARPENTERSVILLE.

John Oleson of Geneva was a visitor Monday.

M. C. McIntosh of Barrington was a visitor last week.

August Meyer and family were here recently on business.

Miss Ruby Simpson and Miss Mary Collen of Nunda were here Saturday.

H. T. Abbott and Hecies, Mrs. F. Abbott and Miss Netta, were here Sunday.

Miss Katie Eggleston of Pennyan, New York, will spend the winter with Miss S. M. Eggleston.

Mrs. Frank Miller of Elgin addressed the ladies at the Home Missionary meeting Friday afternoon.

The ladies of the Dundee Congregational church met with the Guild here in a home missionary meeting last Friday.

Arthur Arvedsen and Miss Georgia St. Clair were married at Nunda last week Wednesday. The Episcopal minister of Dundee performed the ceremony.

Mothers write us that they have solved the problem of keeping their children well. Give them Rocky Mountain Tea each week. A blessing to mother and child. Ask your druggist.

Half rates to Minneapolis, Minn., via the North-Western line. Tickets will be sold at one fare for round trip October 9, 10, 12 and 14, limited to return (by extension) until October 31, inclusive. Apply to agents Chicago & North-Western R'y.

Auction Sales.

William Peters, our popular auctioneer, will cry the following sales next week:

October 1, at 10 o'clock, all the farming machinery, feed and grain, 5 milch cows, 10 3-year-old springers, 5 2-year-old heifers, 5 yearlings 2 bulls and 2 work horses, weight from 1,100 to 1,300 pounds, on the F. L. Waterman farm, 6 miles south-west of Barrington, 6 miles east of Dundee and 4 miles east of Clark Station. Mrs. C. Hostrich and F. L. Waterman proprietors.

October 2nd John Nagatz will sell at public auction on the Fred Kampert farm, 3 1/2 miles south of Barrington, 21 milch cows, some with calves by their side and balance coming in soon, 2 heifers, 2 spring calves, 1 stock bull, 2 horses, feed, farming machinery and household goods.

L. H. Lageschulte having sold his farm, will sell at public auction on the farm, 4 miles north-west of Barrington and 1 mile south-east of Cuba Station, on October 3, at 10 a. m., 10, milch cows, 7 heifers, bull, black mare 8 years old, gray mare 10 years old, farming implements grain and feed.

WRITE TOM AYRES, Pierre, S. D., for big stock ranches and choice farm lands in South Dakota. Maps and prices on application.

One hopeful sign.

While I was living in California, writes an Englishman, I had the opportunity of noting the extreme consideration shown to employees by California employers. I cannot recall an instance of a cruel and cutting rebuke from one in authority to a clerk or servant during the seventeen years of my stay.

A friend of mine had a clerk who was always forgetting important duties. Letters would be forgotten, important entries on the books omitted, and messages even were sometimes not delivered. Said my friend to me one morning:

"Really, I must speak to John."

So John was summoned, and I wondered what manner of rebuke would fall upon his head.

"John," said my friend, "it is most astonishing what a very bad memory you have. But I believe that in time it will improve, because I have noticed that you have never once forgotten to draw your salary on the first of the month."

John took the hint, and after that my friend was more faithfully served.

Antiquity of the Water Pump.

The water pump of today is but an improvement on a Grecian invention which first came into use during the reign of Ptolemaeus Philadelphos and Energetes, 283-30 221 B. C. The name, which is very similar in all languages, is derived from the Greek word pempo, to send or throw. The most ancient description we have of a water pump is by Hero of Alexandria. There is no authentic account of the general use of the pump in Germany previous to the beginning of the sixteenth century. At about that time the endless chain and bucket works for raising water from mines began to be replaced by pumps.

In the seventeenth century rotating pumps, like the Pappenhann engine, with two pistons, and the Prince Rupert, with one, were first used. Pumps with plunger pistons were invented by Morland, an Englishman, in 1674, and the double acting pump by De la Hire, the French academician.

Funny Speeches.

Grose relates that Caulfield, meeting Mr. Thomas Sandby, said: "My dear Sandby, I'm glad to see you. Pray, is it you or your brother?" It was a Spaniard who remarked ingeniously that an author should always write his own index, let who will write the book. Edgeworth relates the story of an English shopkeeper who did pretty well in the direction of the bull proper when, to recommend the durability of some fabric for a lady's dress, he said, "Madam, it will wear forever and make you a petticoat afterward." This is quite equal to the Irishman's rope which had only one end because the other had been cut away.—Temple Bar.

A Certain Cure for Dysentery and Diarrhoea.

"Some years ago I was one of a party that intended making a long bicycle trip," says F. L. Taylor, of New Albany, Bradford county, Pa. "I was taken ill with diarrhoea and was about to give up the trip, when Editor Ward, of the Laceyville Messenger, suggested that I take a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I purchased a bottle and took two doses, one before starting and one on the route. I made the trip successfully and never felt any ill effect. Again last summer I was almost completely run down with an attack of dysentery. I bought a bottle of this same remedy and this time one dose cured me." Sold by all druggists.

Unclaimed Letters.

The following is a list of unclaimed letters remaining in the post office at Barrington, Sept. 27, 1901:

Miss Dianthe Braga Mrs. Grace Meyer, John Allen, Jas. H. Bell and Aug. Fredrick Witt.

H. K. BROCKWAY, P. M.

Wanted

SALESMEN To sell a choice line of Nursery Stock. Steady work and extra inducements to the right persons. All stock guaranteed. Write now for terms and secure a good situation for the fall and winter. Address THE HAWKS NURSERY COMPANY, Milwaukee, Wis. jan 14

Subjects for Thought

The Telephone is the ideal rapid transit.

The cost of transportation by this method is less than by any other.

It makes you a neighbor to all prominent business houses and families everywhere.

Business Rates, 5c. per day and up. Residence Rates, 3 1/2c. per day and up.

Chicago Telephone Company.

A Mind Reader

May know all that's in his subject's head but merchants of today want every body to know what they have to sell—the very best way to acquaint the reading public is by a well written and printed ad in the

REVIEW

It covers this field thoroughly and... goes in every home in this vicinity..

A Household Necessity

Is THE REVIEW It keeps you acquainted with the doings of your neighbors and the happenings of the community. That we may further our news-gathering efforts, we would ask all to send or bring in any item of interest. It is impossible to learn of all the happenings and we ask help and cooperation from all.

JOB PRINTING

We print anything — Note heads, cards, statements, envelopes, etc.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS, DESIGNS, COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

Castle, Williams & Smith

Attorneys at Law.

1020 22 Chamber of Commerce Bldg., south-east corner Washington and LaSalle streets.

CHICAGO

Henry J. Senne,

FRESH, SALT AND SMOKED MEATS,

Oysters and Game in season,

Batterman's Block. PALATINE

Louisville & Nashville

Railroad, THE GREAT CENTRAL SOUTHERN TRUNK LINE

Winter

Tourist Tickets

Now on sale to FLORIDA.....

and the

GULF COAST.

Write for folders, descriptive matter, etc., to

C. L. STONE, Gen'l. Passenger Agt., LOUISVILLE, KY.

Send your address to

R. J. WEMYSS,

General Immigration and Industrial Agent,

LOUISVILLE, KY.

And he will mail you free

MAPS, ILLUSTRATED PAMPHLETS and PRICE LIST of LANDS and FARMS in Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi and Florida.

J. F. MOORHOUSE,

BARBER SHOP.

Fine Candles, Fruit and up-to-date line of High Grade Cigars, Tobaccos, etc.

Palatine, Ill.

H. C. KERSTING

Photographic Art Studio.

West of Schoppe Bros.

OPEN THURSDAYS ONLY.

All kinds of photographs and old pictures copied to life-size in India ink, water color and crayon at prices to suit.

Palatine, Ill.

A. S. OLMS

Druggist and Pharmacist.....

A full line of Patent Medicines, Toilet Articles and Stationery. Prescriptions compounded at all hours, day and night.

PALATINE, ILL.

WE WANT A YOUNG MAN

who can furnish a horse and wagon to represent us

IN THIS COUNTY

to such a man we can offer a

LIBERAL PROPOSITION

Applicants will please give references, also present occupation. Address

WHEELER & WILSON MFG. CO.
82 & 80 WABASH AVE.
CHICAGO, ILL.

F. J. ALVERSON

Fresh, Salt & Smoked Meats

Bakery Goods, Canned Goods, Vegetables and Fruits. I solicit a share of your patronage and guarantee satisfaction.

Highest price paid for Hides and Tallow.

F. J. ALVERSON

Make a Start in Life.

Get a Business Education.

Book-keeping, Penmanship, Business Forms, Commercial Law, Correspondence, Arithmetic, Stenography, Type-writing by the 'Touch' System etc. Up-to-date methods. The largest and best equipped commercial school. 28 years under same management. Experienced teachers. Thorough instruction.

Students received at any time. For Prospectus address O. M. POWERS, PRINCIPAL, 7 MONROE ST., CHICAGO.

H. T. AEBOTT, Watchmaker & Jeweler

WATCH, CLOCH AND JEWELRY REPAIRING A SPECIALTY.

All Work Guaranteed.

My Prices are Right.

..The Filibusters of Venezuela..

Or the Trials of a Spanish Girl.

By SEWARD W. HOPKINS.

Copyrighted 1900 by Robert Bonner's Sons.

CHAPTER VIII.—(Continued.)

Don Juan set out at a gallop. He had not traveled more than a mile when he saw before him a hut, with a large white rock in front of it. At the door of the hut stood the horse of Gomez.

Leaping from his horse, Don Juan tied him to a tree and crept cautiously forward toward the hut.

It was a rude habitation, made of logs, the crevices partly filled with mud. The sounds of voices at ordinary tones inside could be easily heard by a listener outside.

Don Juan applied his ear to a convenient crack.

"I say you lie!" he heard the voice of Gomez say. "She is here."

"Sensor is mistaken, came a voice in Spanish. The Indians of the Spanish-American countries early learned to use the language of their conquerors. "There is no one here."

"You lie, I tell you!" exclaimed Gomez. "Mattazudo took a girl away from the castle and brought her here. I learned of it, and came at once to take her away. She is to be my bride."

"Men do not steal their brides now," replied the Indian.

"I did not steal this one. I tell you I know she is here. Mattazudo stole her from the castle and brought her here. I know this, I tell you, and if you do not give her up it will be bad for you."

"I am an old man, sensor. You may kill me, if you will. I am powerless against an army. My friends are not your friends. The friends of the republic are mine, and they are defeated."

"What do I care about all that? I did not ask for your friendship. I want that girl."

"She is not here, sensor."

"She is here. Mattazudo told me she was here."

"You are not wise to believe the words of Mattazudo. The half-breed has a lying tongue and crafty mind. If he has taken the girl away, he has put her where you cannot find her."

"I will find her."

"I hope so, sensor. I would not wish she would remain in the hands of Mattazudo. He is a devil of cruelty, and knows no law but his own passions. He would not bring the girl here, for he knows I would protect her. He is my enemy—I am his."

"I must find her. If she is lost to me, I will kill the half-breed."

"He should have been killed long ago, sensor."

"You swear you have told me the truth?" "I swear it, sensor."

"You swear you have not seen the girl? Repeat it after me."

"Sensor, you are wasting time. I know nothing. I swear I have not seen the girl."

"Then let Mattazudo beware."

Gomez rushed from the house, mounted his horse and rode away.

Don Juan did not seek to stop him. The old Spaniard was bewildered by what he had heard. While it was evident that Gomez knew that Lola had been taken away from the castle, he had said nothing to indicate that her abduction was at his own bidding.

Fortunately Gomez did not ride toward Don Juan's horse.

Garza returned to the castle reaching it before Gomez. He went directly to Philip.

"Well! said the pretender, eagerly, rising to his feet.

"I have not found her," said Don Juan, fiercely, "but I know the name of the scoundrel who took her away."

"Name him."

"Mattazudo, the half-breed."

"Ah! tell me all that you have learned."

Don Juan related what had taken place at the Carib's hut.

"Has Gomez returned?" asked Philip.

"No, but Mattazudo is in the castle."

"Then send for Mattazudo."

The orderly was called in.

"Tell the half-breed who commands the Zambos to come here," said Philip. In obedience to the summons Mattazudo came swaggering in.

"Scoundrel!" exclaimed Don Juan, springing toward him.

The half-breed looked in astonishment from Garza to Philip.

Surely you or Gomez must be mistaken."

"How? Gomez? What about Gomez?"

"Gomez came to me and said: Mattazudo, Don Juan Garza is anxious for the safety of his daughter. We do not know how strong the force of Salvarez may be. He may retake the castle, and the girl must not be exposed to the passions of victorious soldiers. Do you know of a safe retreat near this place?"

"None nearer than a mile," I answered. "The hut of the Carib Ramana." Take her there," he said. "Tell her that Don Juan, her father, is in command of a portion of the army and cannot come to her. He commanded me to do this sensor, and I did. She followed me, and I took her to Ramana's hut."

"You lie!" cried Don Juan, beside himself. "I have been to the Carib's hut. Gomez was there. He demanded my daughter of the old Carib, but the Indian swore that she had not been brought there."

"You heard that, sensor?"

"I did. I missed my daughter, and knew that some foul fiend had taken her away. Gomez left the castle, and I followed him. I heard his conversation with the Carib. He cursed because my daughter was not there, and swears vengeance on you."

"On, me, sensor? Gomez has tricked us both. His command to me was a lie to get the girl out of the castle. But he tricked you more shrewdly still."

"Tricked me?"

"Tricked you, sensor; he and Ramana. You saw his horse. You crept to the hut. You made no allowance for Gomez keeping a watch for pursuers. You heard him curse because the girl was not in the house. But did you go inside?"

"Go—inside? What do you mean?" gasped Don Juan.

"I mean sensor, that if you had gone inside, perhaps you would have found your daughter. I took her to the Carib's hut. Gomez went there to get her. He saw you coming. He and Ramana quarreled to trick you. You saw him ride away. You did not wait to see him come back. For proof, sensor, where is Gomez now?"

Don Juan turned to Philip with a white face.

"Have I been so stupid?" he asked.

"The mistake can be remedied," said Philip. "Mattazudo, you thought you obeyed Gomez before. Obey me now. Take some of your brave Zambos with you, go to the Carib's hut and bring back Don Juan's daughter. Go. Your life depends on it."

CHAPTER IX.

The Sliding Panel.

"Well, we are here," said Tempest, standing with the lantern in his hand. "We own the caverns, what are we going to do with them?"

"The first thing," said Medworth, "is to destroy this powder train, and take precautions that the magazine is not blown up while we are in here."

They spent a half hour at this work, and when they considered the magazine safe, they began an examination of their surroundings.

Not far from the powder magazine they found a rude stone stairway running from a central position in the cellar to an abrupt termination against a wooden door, what seemed to be one at the top.

Upon examining the wall at the top, they found that what had seemed to be a door had no knob, and no apparent way of opening it.

"This door, if it is a door," said Tempest, "was never made to open."

"There must be a secret spring," said Medworth. "Surely the stairs are not here for nothing. If force cannot open the door let us look for a spring."

They began a careful examination of the surface of the door, and the walls around it, going over every inch with their finger ends, Tempest holding the lantern to facilitate the search.

"Ha! Here is something," said Medworth. "A button."

He pushed, pulled and twisted this, but to no purpose.

"I am convinced that this button opens the door," he said. "Now, while I manipulate it, you push the door. It may be out of order."

He tried again, and Tempest, putting his strength to the door, had no difficulty in opening it.

"Now be careful," said Medworth. They passed through the open door, and found themselves in a narrow passage, entirely destitute of furniture, and perfectly dark save for the rays of the lantern.

There was no other door to this place than the one they had come through, but at the other end they found what seemed to be a panel in the wall. From the side they were on it could be easily noticed, and Medworth marveled that the trick was not more skillfully done.

He placed his hand on this panel, and found that it slid noiselessly to the left.

Before them was a large, sumptuously furnished library, the table of which was strewn with papers and maps, and the air heavy with tobacco smoke, though no person was visible. A lamp shed a gloomy sort of light over the apartment. After making themselves certain that there was no one in the room, Medworth and Tempest went in.

There was a door opening from this room into a wide hall. Peering out into this, they saw, at the further end, a sentinel standing, leaning on his gun.

Medworth now examined the sliding panel. He found that, rude as the contrivance was on the other side, here it was a most carefully executed thing. It was simply one of any number of panels that ornamented the walls of the room, and which closed could not be detected as different in its construction from any of the others.

Medworth counted them, and found that the sliding panel was the fifth from either end, being exactly half way.

They would have turned their attention to other things, but hearing footsteps they sprang into the hiding-place and closed the panel.

They distinctly heard two men enter the room.

Bending down, Medworth applied his ear to the panel to listen to what was said.

"It is a strange—a most inexplicable thing, Garza," he heard some one say. "I confess I do not understand it."

"Your majesty," was the reply, and Medworth's heart throbbed as he recognized the voice of the father of the girl he loved, "as for understanding it, believe me, I have not been near that point. My heart is bursting with grief. It was a detestable crime. A crime for which the criminal must die when I learn his name."

"It is still doubtful, then, whether Gomez or Mattazudo is lying."

"It is almost a certainty that neither is telling the truth."

"Strange. You say you rode to the Carib's hut with Mattazudo?"

"Straight from your presence. You commanded Mattazudo to find and return my daughter, and it must be said, in all truth, that he seemed at least to be sincere in his effort. We went to the Carib's hut. We found the old Indian there. Mattazudo at once commanded him to deliver up the girl that he, Mattazudo had brought there under a misunderstanding. The Carib smoked calmly on and asked how many more were coming for a girl he had never seen. Mattazudo threatened to shoot him, but nothing could move the old Indian. I pleaded with him. I besought him with all the energy of a broken-hearted father to restore my daughter to me, but he still claimed he had not seen her. Mattazudo told me that Ramana was a friend of Gomez, and no doubt had agreed to keep silent. The only way, of course, was to get the truth out of Gomez. When we returned to the castle I taxed Gomez with the crime, but without waiting to deny it, he sprang upon Mattazudo with drawn sword, and would have killed him, had not some of the Zambos been standing near to interfere. Then, to me, Gomez denied all knowledge of my daughter, and says the story of Mattazudo is a lie. Now, what am I to believe? Only one thing is certain—that my poor girl is stolen from me, and I would give my life to know she was safe."

The old Spaniard had not left the room before two silent figures crawled stealthily away from the sliding panel and down under the foundations again to lay their plan of action.

(To be continued.)

Game of Bowls Revived.

There are signs and symptoms of a revived interest in the game of bowls, one of the oldest outdoor pastimes in England. In its heyday bowls ran archery very closely, so close, indeed, that in the interests of national defense it was deemed essential to discourage the game. Thus it was, probably, that the pastime came to be looked upon as having something of an illicit character, and for a time was more or less associated with houses of entertainment which were not always of the best repute. But, in spite of the ban of bygone centuries, the bowling green has survived, more especially in the north of England and in Scotland. Nor can there be any more delightful game than bowls for a summer evening, more especially for those who have attained to an age when such lively physical exertions are as involved by cricket and tennis become a little unbecome.

He Was the Hotel Echo.

A guest of one of the hotels at a certain mountain resort took a notion oneday to climb to the top of the nearest hill. Having reached that point, he was astonished to find there an old man sitting on a rock, with a pair of field glasses in his hand, through which he looked at short intervals, and after each look he would whoop and halloo at the top of his lungs. "What in the world are you doing?" asked the tourist, approaching the old man. "Don't talk to me, sir, if you please," answered the old man; "if you do, you'll take my attention, and I'll lose my job. I'm the Echo at the Mountain House, down there, and I have to watch for my time to cove in."

Japanese Emperor's Salary.

The emperor of Japan has an allowance something like $2,000,000 a year to keep up the imperial establishment. He has also a large private fortune, having invested in stocks and real estate. At the close of the Chinese-Japanese war Parliament voted his majesty 20,000,000 yen (an amount equal to 10,000,000 gold dollars) out of the indemnity paid by the Chinese as a mark of gratitude for his direction of the naval and military operations.

Weak arguments are often thrust before my path; but although they are most unsubstantial, it is not easy to destroy them. There is not a more difficult feat known than to cut through a cushion with a sword.

..The Filibusters of Venezuela..

Or the Trials of a Spanish Girl.

By SEWARD W. HOPKINS.

Copyrighted 1900 by Robert Bonner's Sons.

CHAPTER X.

Prisoners.

When General Salvarez learned of the failure to blow up the castle, he did not for a moment doubt that his enemies were in possession of the secret passage.

There was nothing left for him to do but hurry back to his troops, and make what preparations he could to withstand an attack, for it was almost certain that the royalists would follow up their victory, and attempt to destroy the force under his command.

And Salvarez reasoned correctly. Shortly after the scene between Philip and Don Juan, a portion of the mob, called the royalist army, was led out by Gomez, who had with him, in immediate command of their respective followers, Francisco and Mattazudo.

Between Gomez and Mattazudo there had arisen a violent hatred, but Gomez feared the power of the Zambos too much to attempt to injure the half-breed then.

About the same time that Gomez left the castle, Don Juan Garza, accompanied by the two men he had chosen to accompany him, left also, and set out toward the Carib's hut.

Garza and his two companions had not gone far when two forms emerged from a hiding-place, and like noiseless shadows, glided after them.

Not a word was spoken by either party during the journey.

Reaching the Carib's hut, Don Juan found the Indian sitting on a log before his door, smoking a rude stone pipe, and enjoying, in his own fashion, the cool evening.

"I am here again, Ramana," said Don Juan.

"I see you," replied the Carib. "I must have the truth about my daughter."

"I have told it to you twice. I have not seen your daughter."

"Ramana, listen to me. You behold in me a broken-hearted father. My happiness is in your hands. How can you still be cruel? Where is my child?"

"I know not."

"Ramana, are you loyal to the king?"

"When he is king I will be loyal to him," replied the Indian. "It matters not to us who may be our rulers. One kind is as bad as another. We had lands—they took them from us. One government follows another. Each one is as bad as the last. We have nothing left, yet we are expected to be loyal."

"Restore my daughter to me, Ramana, and the king will restore your lands. I swear it."

"I would give you your daughter if I had her. But I have not. I have not seen her."

"Will you come and tell that to the king?"

"The king! Has the Spaniard who calls himself king sent for me?"

"Yes. My daughter was to wed the king. He is anxious about her, too, Ramana."

"I will go," said the Indian. "There is some mystery here. The other said she was to wed him. The half-breed is the one."

They left together, and Medworth and Tempest started to follow them. Then a sudden thought arrested Arthur and he turned back motiing for Tempest to follow him. Instead of following Don Juan and Ramana back to the castle they remained hidden near the hut. Medworth's idea in doing this was that if Ramana was lying Lola might be somewhere near.

They waited some little time and, hearing no sound, peered into the open door of the hut.

There was no one there.

The hut was such a rude, ill-made thing that it seemed hardly possible that there could be a hiding-place connected with it.

Satisfying themselves that no one was inside, they withdrew again into the shadows and waited.

After a time they heard voices, and two persons came walking slowly toward the hut. They were both Indians, and were speaking in Spanish, yet in so low a tone that the listening Americans could not understand what they said.

But when they reached the hut and found it empty, one turned to the other and said:

"Ramana, the hut is empty. Where are the old ones?"

"It is strange," said the one called Ramana. "My father and mother are very old. They do not go far from their hut at night."

Just then the sharp hiss of a woman's voice was heard, and an old Indian had come from a clump of woods about a hundred yards away.

"Oh, there you are," said Ramana. "We missed you. Where is the old one?"

"I left him here. Strange things are being done now."

"What do you mean?"

"A girl was stolen from the castle. First Gomez comes to find her and says Mattazudo the half-breed brought her to Ramana. But Ramana has not seen her. Then the half-breed comes himself and demands her. What a liar that half-breed is. Perhaps some one has been after Ramana."

"I saw the half-breed," said Ramana, "while the sun was still high, by the river."

"He has hid the girl, it is certain," said the old woman. "I would not give much for her chances in the half-breed's hands."

"Where could he hide her?" asked Ravona's companion.

"There is a place," replied Ravona, "but I thought only my father and myself knew it. It is near the river. It is a cave."

"Then go there," said Ravona's mother. "If the half-breed is at his tricks again, defeat him. The girl must be hungry. Take food with you."

"Have you any?"

"Plenty. Ramana is a great hunter."

The three went inside the hut, and in a moment the crackling of fire could be heard. Then came the appetizing odor of cooking meat.

It seemed an interminable wait to Medworth, but the food was ready at last, and Ravona, accompanied by his companion, came from the hut, carrying a pot of steaming, savory stew.

They struck into a narrow path leading toward the river, and the Americans kept as close to them as they could without being themselves discovered.

After traveling thus a while, Ravona passed before a thick network of vines and parted them. He and his companion pressed their way through.

Behind this barrier was the entrance to a cave, and Medworth poked his head through the vines just in time to see the two Indians disappearing into the cave.

"Come on!" said Medworth.

They followed the Indians in. The cave was a large one. A lantern, hung on a peg stuck in a crevice, threw a gloomy light around.

On a couch of furs reclined a girl, sobbing, her position being such as to indicate that she was fastened there.

"The half-breed's work," said Ravona.

At the voice, the girl raised her head.

"Lola!" cried Medworth, rushing to her past the Indians.

"Arthur! my Arthur!" she exclaimed. "You here—in Venezuela?"

"I am here," he said, joyfully; "and so is my old friend, Tempest."

"Never mind me," said Jack; "cut those cords."

"Who are you?" now demanded Ravona.

"Friends of this senorita," replied Tempest. "We have been looking for her."

A glance at Lola, whose head was nestled against Arthur's breast, proved to Ravona that Tempest spoke the truth.

"Then I am not needed," he said. "But beware of Mattazudo. See, I leave you the food. There is plenty. Adios."

"Where am I, Arthur?" asked Lola, when the Indians had gone.

"You are in a cave near the river. Who brought you here?"

"I do not know. A dark-skinned man came to me and said my father sent him to guide me to a place of safety until after the battle. He brought me here and bound me. I screamed and struggled, and begged him to release me, but he would not. Oh, how frightened I was! I thought I was going to be killed."

"Well you are in the hands of friends now, Miss Lola," said Tempest, "and I'll answer for the neck of the next man who lays a hand on you."

"Come," said Arthur, "you have not touched the supper the Indian brought."

He tenderly assisted her out of the cave and they started toward the castle, Lola carefully guarded between her two companions.

Suddenly the sound of firing was heard.

"The battle is on," said Medworth. "I hope Salvarez is successful."

As they progressed the firing grew louder and nearer, until they paused in alarm.

"Listen!" said Lola. "Was that not a woman's scream?"

"Surely it is," said Medworth. "The shrill scream of a woman in distress was distinctly heard."

"Stay here," said Tempest. "I'll be back."

He darted away, and they heard his voice and the sound of fighting.

Then a girl came rushing toward them with streaming hair.

"Save me!" she cried. "Our army is lost!"

It was Jacinta, the daughter of Salvarez.

The rushing forms of men closed in around them, and a voice called:

"Seize them!"

In another instant, Tempest, Lola, Jacinta and Medworth were seized upon, and, under the command of Pedro Francisco, were conveyed prisoners to the Castle of Salvarez.

CHAPTER XI.

A Puzzled Spaniard.

Philip was pacing to and fro in the Council Room. His head was bent. His hands clasped behind him. He was evidently in deep thought. As he passed a high barred window he paused and looked out. His gaze wandered to the distant fields and well-tilled acres of Salvarez.

It was a splendid, a magnificent estate.

As far as the eye could see the land belonged to Salvarez. And Salvarez was now a prisoner, one of fifty survivors of the bloody battle that destroyed the defenders of the Republic.

A footstep was heard, the door opened, and Gomez came in.

"Things go our way," he said, smiling. "Venezuela is ours."

"Part of it," replied Philip, not smiling.

"All of it. The soldiers of Salvarez are nearly all killed. Salvarez himself is a prisoner. There is now no reason to delay pushing on to the north and planting our standard beyond the Orinoco. Our friends are waiting for us there. Caracas must fall at last."

"At last. But there is something to be done here before we cross the Orinoco. What is the sentiment of the people near us, now that Salvarez is crushed?"

"Judging from the reports we are receiving, the entire country south of the Orinoco is loyal to you."

"Then I must delay my coronation no longer."

"I would not delay it another day."

There was a pause, a strained silence.

"Gomez," said Philip, bending a keen gaze on the General. "I want the truth about that mysterious affair of Lola Garza."

"I thought it was mysterious no longer. The girl is found. What is her story?"

"I have not yet heard. Garza is with her now. I will send for him at once."

Garza was sent for, but before he arrived Francisco came in. He was there when Don Juan entered.

"You sent for me?" said Don Juan.

"I did," said Philip. "You were with your daughter. How is she?"

"Alas, she is not well. The cave in which she was confined by that half-breed scoundrel was damp, and as she was bound hand and foot, she became thoroughly chilled. The result is now that she has a bad fever, which alternates with severe chills."

"That is bad! Have you heard from her own lips the story of her abduction?"

"Yes. Ah, what a scoundrel that Mattazudo is. Yes, he went to her, telling her that it was my wish for her to accompany him to a place of greater safety until after the battle. She believed him, and followed him to a cave up the river about a mile, where he bound her, and, heedless of her cries for mercy, left her, telling her to be quiet until he came for her. She was found there by the two Americans, who, it appears, have followed us here for no other purpose than to rescue my daughter from myself. That is a strange case. As if I had not my daughter's welfare at heart. But they are prisoners, and my poor girl is safe; so what matter?"

JUDGE JERE M. WILSON DEAD

Chief Counsel for Rear-Admiral Schley Expires Suddenly.

A HEAVY BLOW TO SCHLEY.

A Congressional Investigation of the Navy Department May Follow the Decision of the Court of Inquiry—Blame of Errors in Battle Report.

Judge Jere M. Wilson, principal counsel of Admiral Schley, died at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning at the Shoreham hotel in Washington. His death was entirely unexpected. Isidor Rayner, his associate in the famous naval inquiry, left him at 10 o'clock. Judge Wilson was complaining of a slight attack of indigestion, but nothing serious was apprehended. The physicians who attended him say affection of the kidneys rapidly developed. He told Mr. Rayner to go out to the navy yard and proceed with the case and that he would come as soon as possible. The court convened at the regular hour, and with the exception of Judge Wilson's absence, everything proceeded in the regular manner. Commander Bates and Capt. Schroeder verified the printed copies of the evidence that had been given Monday, and Admiral Dwyer had administered the oath to Arthur B. Claxton, who was a machinist on the Texas during the Spanish-American war, when an orderly handed a written message to Mr. Rayner. The attorney said a few words to Admiral Dwyer and the proceedings ceased. Mr. Rayner made a trip to verify the news contained in the note and then in a low voice informed the court of inquiry that Judge Wilson had just died. He moved that the hearing adjourn until 11 o'clock Wednesday. This was done.

Sorrow on All Sides.

The death of Judge Wilson was received with every sign of sorrow by both sides of the naval controversy. "Terrible, terrible," said Admiral Dwyer. "Why, he appeared all right yesterday." Judge Advocate Lemly hastened to Mr. Rayner and offered his condolences. He also said a few kind words to Admiral Schley, who sat with his face buried in his hands. The admiral had very little to say regarding Mr. Wilson's death. He said that he had become very fond of him in the last few weeks and that he had placed implicit confidence in his advice regarding the management of his case before the court of inquiry. The date of the funeral has not been decided upon. The death of Judge Wilson undoubtedly will prove a serious matter to Admiral Schley. The judge had the entire confidence and respect of the officers composing the court. This was shown by the close manner in which they listened to his arguments and to the consideration which they gave every suggestion he made. From the Schley advocates at the court of inquiry it was hinted that a congressional investigation of the navy department might follow the decision of the court of inquiry. There has been more or less of such talk going the rounds ever since the inquiry began, but it was given a fresh impetus by the admission of Commander Heilner that the report of the board of navigating officers of the battle off Santiago which was sent to Congress contained glaring errors which were known at the time Admiral Sampson signed it, and was unfit for use in the inquiry. His testimony to this effect was supported by Judge Advocate Lemly Monday afternoon. A number of congressmen who have failed to secure what they desired in the way of patronage from the navy department have been insisting that a committee from Congress should look into the workings of that branch of the government, and the Schley people insist that Heilner's testimony, supported as it was by that given by Commander Bates will furnish the peg upon which to hang the excuse for such an inquiry.

Proceedings at Inquiry.

The proceedings of the court were rendered very brief by the announcement of Judge Wilson's death. Commander Bates and Schroeder were recalled to listen to the reading of the official report of their testimony as given yesterday, and First Class Machinist A. B. Claxton of this city, who had charge of the port engine of the Texas on the day of the battle off Santiago, had just taken the stand when the announcement of Judge Wilson's death was received.

Examination of Bates.

It had been expected by the government that Mr. Claxton would confirm the statement of Engineer Bates concerning the reversal of the engines of the Texas. During the short time that he was on the stand Engineer Bates was asked a few questions. One of these was by Capt. Parker and was in regard to the steam log of the Texas. In reply to the first inquiry Commander Bates said the log had been written up the day after the battle.

The other questions were by the court and related, the first to the coal supply of the Texas on May 26, 1898, and the second to the condition of the machinery of the Texas on the 31st of that month. The questions of the court and the responses to them were as follows:

"Are you positive that the quantity of coal reported on hand May 26 was correct?"

"Yes, sir, as nearly as anybody can be positive. There was no accurate means of weighing what was sent us, and generally there is no absolutely accurate means by which coal is weighed coming aboard ship. All naval officers know that coal is weighed to the best of our ability and an accurate account kept to the best of our ability, and it is generally a good estimate. It is weighed out in the same way."

"Was the machinery of the Texas in efficient condition for service on May 31st?"

"I should say, by recollection, yes. I do not recollect that anything was wrong about the machinery."

Judge Advocate—"It is the day of the bombardment of the Colon that is referred to, the 31st of May."

Commander Bates—"There was nothing the matter with engines as I remember. On that day we were off coaling."

It had been the intention of the court to call Admiral Cotton, Capt. Wise and others connected with the government scout ships immediately after the discharge of Machinist Claxton.

Higginson's Testimony.

Admiral Higginson, commander in chief of the north Atlantic squadron, was the first witness called. He said that he had as captain commanded the battleship Massachusetts during the Spanish American war and that for a part of the time the Massachusetts had been a part of the "flying squadron," of which Admiral Schley had been in command. He told of joining the fleet at Newport News, of going to Key West and then on the 22d of May of going to Cienfuegos, Cuba. Key West had been left on May 19, 1898, and Cienfuegos reached on the 22d.

"What was then done to secure communication with the Cuban forces on shore," Captain Lemly asked.

"Nothing to my knowledge," the witness replied. "I did not see that anything was done, but I understood that information concerning the Cubans was received through Captain McCalla."

The witness also told of the fleet's leaving Santiago for Key West on the night of its arrival at the former place and of how after steaming westward for some time the vessels all, in response to Commodore Schley's signals, returned and steamed to within two or three miles of the mouth of the harbor.

"What happened to cause the decision to return to Key West?" the witness was asked.

"I don't know," was the reply. "What was the condition of the weather at the time for coaling at sea?"

"It was not impossible to coal, I think."

"Did you have any conference with the commanding officer in regard to returning to Santiago after you had gotten on the way to Key West?"

"None. We acted under general orders. All we did was to follow the signals of the flag—signals of the commander in chief."

Speaking of the conditions when Santiago harbor was again reached the admiral said that he could see well into the harbor and that he saw the Spanish ship Colon lying in the outer harbor. He did not remember seeing other vessels, but the Colon was then 1,000 yards beyond Morro castle. The vessel had lain there until she was fired upon, which was done on May 31, and had then retired.

Describing this engagement, Admiral Higginson said it was on the day before the arrival of re-enforcements under Admiral Sampson. He said that Admiral Schley had come aboard and said that he wanted "to go in and fire on the Colon."

"So we went in and fired on her," continued the witness. He said the shots fell short of the Colon and that the Spanish shore batteries had in turn fired at the bombarding ships.

In reply to questions as to what had been accomplished by the bombardment the witness replied that it had served to draw the fire of the Spanish shore battery and to give an idea of what it was composed of.

"What idea did you get of its composition?"

"I didn't think it amounted to anything."

"Where was Admiral Schley during the bombardment?"

"At one time he was with me in the conning tower, but most of the time he was on the outside of it. I was near him most of the time."

"Describe the admiral's manner in this engagement."

"I hardly know how to answer that question except to say that his manner was that of a commander-in-chief."

Plans Clubs for Farmers.

At a meeting of the Farmers' Institute committee on clubs and organization, held in Chicago, elaborate plans were made for the coming year. Clubs of twelve families each are to be organized in all parts of the state. When organized the clubs are to meet once a month, the day being Wednesday when the moon is nearest full. The twelve families will assemble at the house of a different family each month, each family thus entertaining the others once a year.

Murderer Hiding in Swamps.

Parties from the scene of the Bosley murder at Grantsburg, Wis., say that Murgaw is hiding in the tamarac swamps. These swamps are practically inaccessible to a white man.

The Absence of It.

If there is any truth in the saying that happiness is the absence of all pain, mental and physical, the enjoyment of it can only be found in heaven. But so far as the physical is concerned, it is within easy reach; at least measurably so, as far as cure will go. The sum of human misery in this line is made up of greater or less degrees of physical suffering. The minor aches and pains which afflict mankind are easy to reach and as easily cured. There are none in the whole category, which, if taken in time, cannot be cured. They must in some form afflict the nerves, the bones, the muscles and joints of the human body. They are all more or less painful and wasteful to the system. St. Jacob's Oil is made to cure them, to search out hidden pain spots, and to cure promptly in a true remedial and lasting way. Very, very many have not known happiness for years till they used it, and very many are, putting off cure and happiness because they don't use it.

A City of Apartment Houses.

The building operations on Manhattan island show that New York City more and more runs to hotels, restaurants and apartment houses, and this goes to show the marked decline of home life, in the old acceptance of the term. Folks of more modest incomes who desire to maintain the old conditions are driven to the suburbs of the great city or to its outlying parts. Unless one be possessed of great fortune, to live near the heart of the city means much sacrifice of privacy as residence in hotels and apartment houses involves. The roomers and transients give abundant business to the multiplying restaurants. Thus New York tends to become a city apartment and tenement houses, the well-to-do in the former and the poor in the latter. Under the pressure of these conditions the science of building apartment houses of the first-class has made great advances, by which the largest amount of luxury is aimed at with the least expenditure of space. Apartments of the best sort command yearly rents that would buy a fine house in the lesser cities. The increase in apartment house building this year is the notable feature of the real estate development.—Springfield Republican.

WISCONSIN FARM LANDS.

The best of farm lands can be obtained now in Marinette County, Wisconsin, on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway at a low price and on very favorable terms. Wisconsin is noted for its fine crops, excellent markets and healthful climate. Why rent a farm when you can buy one much cheaper than you can rent and in a few years it will be your own property. For particulars address F. A. Miller, General Passenger Agent, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, Chicago.

Barber in Reckless Mood.

A Droltwich barber was just finishing lathering a customer and was talking volubly, as usual. "Yes, sir," he said, "there's no carelessness allowed by our employer. Every time we cut a customer's face we are fined sixpence, and if we make an ugly gash it costs us a shilling." Then, picking up and brandishing his razor, he added: "But I don't care a rap today. I've just won a sovereign."—London Answers.

AGENTS WANTED.—Maurice Halstead's greatest book, "Life of Mr. McKinley, the Martyr President," all about his life; complete and authoritative history of the life of McKinley's career as President; over 500 pages; large octavo book; written by official historian to the department and private secretary when Governor of Ohio; years in preparation; will contain full account of the funeral; all about anarchy; largest and only authentic book; agents can make from $10 to $25 per day; most liberal terms; guaranteed price only $1.50; sent at sight; freight paid; handsome outfit free. Send 10c in stamps to pay postage. Educational Union, 324 Dearborn St., Chicago.

Mother-in-Law in New Britain.

In the islands of New Britain a man must not speak to his mother-in-law. Not only is speech forbidden to this relative but she must be avoided; and if by any chance the lady is met, the son-in-law must hide himself or cover his face. Suicide of both parties is the outcome if the rule is broken.

Ladies Can Wear Shoes.

One size smaller after using Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder. It makes tight new shoes easy. Cures swollen, hot, sweating, aching feet, ingrowing nails, corns and bunions. All druggists and shoe stores, 25c. Trial package FREE by mail. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

"White Coal."

"White coal" is the striking name given by a French paper to the force generating electricity by harnessed mountain streams.

Little Edith had never seen a lobster before, and when dining at the home of a playmate she was offered a portion she politely replied: "No, thank you; I never eat grasshopper."

What is the use of employing some one to do your dyeing for you. If you use PUTNAM FADELESS DYES you can do it just as well as a professional. Sold by druggists, 10c. per package.

In 1846 our annual consumption of wool was 45,000,000 pounds; last year it was 456,000,000 pounds.

I am sure Pilo's Cure for Consumption saved my life three years ago.—Mrs. THOS. ROBINSON, Maple Street, Norwich, N. Y., Feb. 17, 1900.

Happiness is increased, not by the enlargement of the possession, but of the heart.—Ruskin.

Pain relieved, sickness prevented, by timely use of Wizard Oil. Keep it always in the home.

Farwell originally signified may you fare or travel well or in safety.

Marriage is a lottery—therefore all money is a gambling debt.

Too Particular.

A business man who had eaten a meal at a restaurant where he frequently took his midday luncheon, walked up to the cashier and said: "I find I haven't a cent of change about me today. If you will kindly let me owe for this until I come in again, which will certainly be in a day or two, I will square up then." The cashier was not a good judge of human nature, or was under the influence of a momentary irritation, for she replied: "We don't run any accounts at this shop. If you haven't anything to pay with you can leave something with us as security."

"I didn't say I hadn't any money," the customer rejoined. "I said I had no change. Please take the amount of my check out of this."

And he took a $50 bill out of his pocketbook and handed it to the astonished cashier.

"It will be better to pay it now perhaps," he added, "than to leave something as security, for you will not be likely to see me here again."

Then picking up his change which comprised about all the money the cashier could find in the establishment, he bowed and walked out.

A DISTINGUISHED MISSIONARY.

Washington, Ind., Sept. 23d.—There is at present, living at 106 East 15th street in this city, a most remarkable man. He is Rev. C. H. Thompson, and he came to Washington from Little York, Ind., a short time ago.

Rev. Mr. Thompson spent many years of his long and useful life as a missionary among the Indians of the West. The great exposure and the drinking of so much bad water brought on Diabetes, and at Wagoner, Indian Territory, he was struck down while preaching.

Physicians, one of them a Chicago specialist, pronounced his case hopeless. Dodd's Kidney Pills were recommended, and as a last resort he tried them. He was completely cured, and restored to good health and his case and its cure has caused a sensation among the physicians.

The Excess of Women.

The census returns show that of the 32,526,075 persons enumerated in England and Wales, 15,721,728 were males and 16,804,347 females. This gives an excess of 1,082,619 females, an excess which is partially attributable to the fact that men serving in the army, navy and the merchant service abroad are excluded from the reckoning. In 1891 the excess was $96,723. To each hundred males enumerated there were 106.9 females. The proportion of females has been steadily increasing at each census since 1851, having been successively 104.2, 105.3, 105.4, 106.4, and 106.9 to one hundred males.

AMERICA'S GREATEST TOUR.

New York and Return $31.00 via Cincinnati, Richmond, Va., Old Point Comfort, New York and Buffalo. 18-hour ocean trip. For scenery, historic interest and business, the best. Address W. E. Conklyn, C. & O. Ry., 234 Clark St., Chicago.

Ethnologist Studies Pueblo People.

Professor O. P. Phillips of the Northern California museum, representing the bureau of American ethnology, went recently to the Pueblo region, where he obtained motion pictures illustrating the industries, ceremonies and domestic customs of the Pueblo people.

Doctor 126 Years Old.

Dr. Charles Smith, a physician of Philadelphia, contends that he was born in Calro, Ill., in 1775—126 years ago. He says that he can produce indisputable proof that he was more than 30 years old when he was graduated at the medical school at Jena in 1808.

"New York City, June 12th, 1901.—I heartily recommend Garfield Tea for liver trouble. Our family physician prescribed your Tea, and after taking four packages my system is in perfect condition and my complexion has become clear." It has been demonstrated by years of use throughout the world that Garfield Tea cleanses the system and purifies the blood; from all reports it would seem that nothing can equal this simple herb medicine that cures in Nature's way.

Society Leader Does Not Think. "Do you believe in reincarnation?"

"I do, indeed. Look at Giddings. In a former sphere he acquired the habit of not thinking and now he is the leader of the social set."—Brooklyn Life.

Are You Using Allen's Foot-Ease?

It is the only cure for Swollen, Smarting, Burning, Sweating Feet, Corns and Bunions. Ask for Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder to be shaken into the shoes. At all Druggists and Shoe Stores, 25c. Sample sent FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

Education in a Night School.

"But he doesn't seem to know much about the topics of the day." "Well, no wonder; he got all his education in a night school." Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

BIG MONEY MADE

Selling "Life of McKinley." Send ten cents at once for postage on sample of most complete book, giving History of Anarchy and secret detective service. Best terms ever offered. Credit given and freight paid. We are headquarters for this book. Write Quick. American Citizen Co., Chicago.

Paul Sivert, of Dresden, has a new process for making bathtubs and other large tanks out of blown glass.

No trouble to prepare quick breakfasts if you have Mrs. Austin's famous Pancake Flour. Ready in a moment.

Fast and furious—chained bulldogs.

SOZODONT for the Teeth and Breath 25¢

At all Stores, or by Mail for the price. HALL & RUCKEL, New York.

Water Pressure and Temperature.

The pressure of water at the average depth of the ocean—two miles—is about equal to that of 320 atmospheres, that is to say, 4,800 pounds to the square inch. The temperature of the atmosphere cools, on an average, about one degree for every 300 feet that we ascend, or warms at the same rate as we descend. The mean temperature at the north pole is about 0, and at the equator between 80 and 90 degrees. We can, therefore, get into a temperature one degree colder for every 70 or 80 miles that we travel north, or in a temperature one degree warmer for every 70 or 80 that we travel south.

An Incomplete House.

We run wild over the furnishings of a house; its furniture, carpets, hangings, pictures and music, and always forget or neglect the most important requisite. Something there should be always on the shelf to provide against sudden casualties or attacks of pain. Such come like a thief in the night; a sprain, strain, sudden backache, toothache or neuralgic attack. There is nothing easier to get than a bottle of St. Jacob's Oil, and nothing surer to cure quickly any form of pain. The house is incomplete without it. Complete it with a good supply.

A woman's anger, like a glass of soda water, soon fizzes out.

Mrs. Austin's Pancake Flour makes lovely Pan cakes, muffins and gems. So good you always ask for more.

Ink or rust may be removed with lemon juice followed by salt.

Hall's Catarrh Cure

Is a constitutional cure. Price, 75c.

Some men get rich while others are waiting for great opportunities.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

Some people save a lot of money by not buying soap.

THE CHEAPEST PAINT

The economy in using Devco ready paint is in results more than price. It covers more and lasts longer than lead and oil, two to one; ten to one of some paint.

Use Devco; and figure cost by the square yard, or year, not by the gallon; it's the cheapest paint made, figured that way.

Ask the nearest dealer for Devco; insist on having it. Our pamphlet on painting free if you mention this paper. GOOD-PAINT DEVCO, CHICAGO.

HOWE SCALES

BEST In The World. ALL KINDS FOR ALL PURPOSES. Write for Catalog. Free. BORDEN & SELLECK CO., 44-52 Chicago St.

CURE FITS

A Full Size 31 Treatment of Dr. O. Phelps Brown's Great Remedy for Fits, Epilepsy and all Nervous Diseases. Address O. PHELPS BROWN, 96 Broadway, Newburgh, N. Y.

WE SHIP DIRECT TO

Contractors and Consumers

LUMBER, LATH, SHINGLES

MOULDINGS, SASH, DOORS, Etc. AT WHOLESALE PRICES

COMPLETE HOUSE BILLS. COMPLETE BARN BILLS.

Permission given to examine grades before payment. We ask only satisfactory guarantee that we will get our money when stock is found as bought. SEND IN YOUR LISTS FOR ESTIMATES.

JOHN E. BURNS LUMBER CO.

Long Distance Phones: 40 W. CHICAGO AVE., CHICAGO, ILL.

COLORADO MINING STOCKS.

Buy DEER GOLD MINING COMPANY'S stock at $50 per share. Company controls 23 acres of ground, adjacent to the famous Little Johnny of Leadville, a mine that has produced upwards of $25,000,000 and made eight or ten millionaires. There is no reason why this mine should not develop into a property of equal magnitude. Heavy development work is now being carried on in both shafts, one 700 and the other 500 feet deep. One hundred thousand dollars have been spent to date in development. Experts pronounce this ground the making of one of the largest mines in the Leadville district. Leadville has produced upwards of $25,000,000 and has made more millionaires than any other camp we have. I believe a dividend will be paid on this stock in the very near future. Twenty-five dollars buys 100 shares, one hundred and twenty-five dollars buys 500 shares, or two hundred and fifty dollars buys 1,000 shares. Don't fail to send in your orders at once, as the stock will shortly advance in price. Here is an opportunity where a small investment means large profits and big interest on the money. Approved stock carried on a margin or sold on the installment plan. HERBERT S. SHAW, BROWN PALACE HOTEL, DENVER, COLORADO.

AGENTS WANTED

BEST DISTRICT MANAGERS, to handle the only authorized official, authentic life of MCKINLEY, Garfield; complete inside history of the villainous workings of the anarchistic societies; profusely illustrated; over 500 pages; liberal commission to agents and a straight guaranteed salary to those in the advanced positions. You never had a better opportunity to make big money quickly and easily than you have today. You can make $500 per month for the next three months pushing this marvelous history of a great and good and useful life. Strike now, while the iron is hot. Do not delay, for every day is worth from $20.00 to $50.00 to you. And bear in mind that if you demonstrate to us that you can sell books, that later in the fall we will be willing to employ you under a straight-out guaranteed salary to appoint and instruct other agents. This is the chance of a lifetime. We make our own books and can easily duplicate the order of any other house and will do so. Many of these concerns that are advertising McKinley books are merely general agents and buy their books from us. We advise you to order from us and thus deal directly with the manufacturers. Credit given; freight paid; outfit free. Write today and send 10c for postage on outfit. CO-OPERATIVE P. B. CO., Manufacturers of the only official Life of McKinley, 900-956 DEARBORN STREET, CHICAGO.

ENGINEER'S LICENSE

40-page pamphlet containing questions asked by Examining Board of Engineers. SENT FREE. GEORGE A. ZELLER, Publisher, Room 596, 18 South Fourth St., St. Louis, Mo.

SOUTHERN FARMS

$3 to $10 per acre. Some of these farms have produced 40 to 50 bushels wheat per acre. Write for descriptive list. T. T. FRAZIER CO., BURLINGAME, S.C.

SOZODONT for the Teeth and Breath 25¢

At all Stores, or by Mail for the price. HALL & RUCKEL, New York.

THE BEST WATERPROOF CLOTHING IN THE WORLD

BEARS THIS TRADE MARK. TOWER'S FISH BRAND. TAKE NO SUBSTITUTES. ON SALE EVERYWHERE. CATALOGUES FREE. SHOWING FULL LINE OF GARMENTS AND HATS. A. TOWER CO. BOSTON, MASS.

"VAN'S" BUCKWHEAT

Now Ready. Easy to BUY! Easy to MAKE! Easier to EAT! Buy a Package TO-DAY and See! AT ALL GROCERS.

YOUR TIME HAS COME

To look up your old winter dresses. Make same as good as new by drying same with Best Opposite's German Household Dye and restore the most wonderful results. Will dye anything. To make the Best of German Household Dye and restore the saving ladies of the land, we offer to send three packages of any color for 25 cents, together with a free package of Easter Eggs Colors or Laundry Dyeing. Money refunded if not satisfactory.

PAUL OPPERMAN & CO., Milwaukee, Wis.

$15 A WEEK! and EXPENSES for Man With Rig

To introduce our POULTRY MIXTURE in the country; straight salary; weekly; year's contract. We furnish bank reference of our reliability. We require no money in advance for samples. Address with stamp, EUREKA MFG. CO., Dept. P, East St. Louis, Ill.

PATENTS FREE!

During this year only, our twentieth anniversary. The only absolutely free Patents ever offered by any attorney in the world. Send for New Book on Patents and full information. FREE.

Solicitor of Patents. Washington, D. C. 30 years a Solicitor of Patents, 14 years an Examiner in the U. S. Patent Office. References furnished in every State in the Union.

5,000 Agents Wanted Quick

For the "Historical Life of William McKinley," Memorial Edition, by Murat Halstead, America's most popular journalist, and intimate friend of our beloved President. 300 pages. Illustrated. Only $1.50. Best commissions. Freight paid. Credit given. Drop every other book. HALSTEAD'S LIFE OF MCKINLEY. OUTLET ALL OTHERS. Order free outfit quick. THE OFFICIAL PUBLISHER, Manhattan Building, Chicago, Ill.

INVEST

Ten dollars and earn two hundred. Legitimate Zinc and Lead Mining in very profitable in Joplin district. Keep away from watered stock if you want a show for your money. Have options on three drill holes with thirty feet of work. Need one thousand to sink each shaft. Send ten dollars to Luck Mining Co., Box 791, Joplin, Mo., and get certificate.

On GAS & GASOLINE ENGINE JUST OUT

How to buy, operate and handle it. What to do with it. How to get it. How to do it. Postpaid $1. Anderson, Ind.

PENSION JOHN W. MORRIS

Washington, D. C. Successfully Prosecutes Claims. Late Principal Examiner U. S. Pension Bureau. 17 yrs. in civil war; 15 adjudicating claims; 45 since.

DROPSY NEW DISCOVERY

gives quick relief and cures worst cases. Book of testimonials sent to 100 names FREE. DR. H. H. GREEN'S ROSS, Box 8, Atlanta, Ga.

OIL Farm, Ranch, Rice & Timber Lands, in tracts to suit, from one acre up to 30,000 acres, in Texas. John E. Willey, Houston, Tex.

It afflicted with Thompson's Eye Water

core eyes, use!

OFFICIAL DIRECTORY VILLAGE OF BARRINGTON.

PRESIDENT.....MILES T. LAMEY
TREASURER.....HENRY DONLEA
WILLIAM PETERS.....JOHN ROBERTSON
WILLIAM GRUNAU.....J. H. HATJE
CLERK.....L. H. BENNETT
Treasurer.....A. L. ROBERTSON
Police Magistrate.....M. C. MCINTOSH
Attorney.....FRANK ROBERTSON
Marshal.....JOHN DONLEA
Fire Marshal.....HENRY SCHROEDER

BARRINGTON LOCALS.

The leaves are turning into gold;
They always do the same;
It is a little way they have,
A sort of green goods game,
The hazy twilight brings a moon
That takes up half the sky
And makes a hungry fellow think
Of future pumpkin pie.
Practical watchmaker and jeweler.
J. JAPPA, Barrington.

FOR RENT—House, containing 10
rooms, on Cook street. A. D. CHURCH.

This section is enjoying Indian summer weather. May it continue indefinitely.

The State Fair opens at Springfield next week. It promises to be a great exhibition.

All is fair in love and war—or, in other words, during courtship and after marriage.

The Elgin Industrial Carnival attracted many visitors from this section during the week past.

The new directory is in press and the publishers expect to deliver copies to subscribers about Oct. 10.

"M. W. A." stand for Modern Woodmen of America or "mighty wise act" for the men who become members.

Barrington was well represented at the Elgin street fair this week. A large number of people attended each day.

October 7 has been decided upon as Illinois day at the Pan-American exposition. The original date was September 24.

The camel can go two weeks without taking a drink, but it would make some men hump themselves to abstain for two days.

Lake county is one of twenty-six in the state where the taxes have not been returned to the State Board of Equalization.

The corn crop in this vicinity will average better than was expected. It is estimated that the yield will be two-thirds of that of 1900.

The W. R. C. and G. A. R. Post enjoyed Wednesday at Lord's Park and attending the carnival at Elgin. The weather was perfect and the occasion overloaded with pleasure.

Louis Elfrink lost 13 head of fine cattle from the effects of impure vaccine. The company manufacturing the vaccine have settled with Mr. Elfrink for the loss by paying him $40 a head.

The local telephone system is now in excellent working order. The service has been greatly improved and the operator, Mrs. Perry, courteous and obedient to patrons; always attentive to duty.

Miss Ethel King was crowned queen of the Industrial Carnival at Elgin, Tuesday night in the presence of 10, 000 spectators. Miss King is a rare example of womanly beauty and a belle of Elgin.

Members of the Lake County Board of Supervisors and a number of invited guests partook of a game dinner at Muerkes's, at Nippersink Point, Wednesday. A royal entertainment was given the party.

Very low rates to New York City and return via the North-Western line daily. Tickets will be sold until October 20, 1901, limited to return within 20 days. Apply to agents Chicago & North-Western R'y.

We are pleased at the favorable comments bestowed on the column in this paper headed "Church Notes and News." If the pastors of the several churches will kindly contribute that department may be greatly improved.

The first meeting of the Thursday Club, to inaugurate the season of 1902, will be held at the residence of Mrs.
S. E. Howarth, October 3, at three o'clock. The beautiful new calendar programs for the season have been distributed to the membership.

Last spring Waukegan started in on a reform plan. Everything was to be closed up and closed up tight. For a few weeks the reform movement was popular, but now it is different. Billiard halls, pool rooms, bowling alleys and all other public resorts are allowed to run wide open until 11 o'clock.

Again we wish to call the attention of contributors, especially secretaries of societies, that matters for publication MUST be in this office early on Friday. Put your items in THE RE-VIEW box, telephone 203, or bring to the office. Items are omitted each week because they are received after the forms are ready for press.

A citizen remarked yesterday: "I read in your paper that the committee on fire and water, of the village board, was instructed to see that the shut off valves in the street mains were left accessible and ready for use.
Was that correct?" When you read it in THE REVIEW it is true.

A number of local Woodmen attended the initiation of United States Senator Mason as a social member, held at Masonic temple, Thursday evening. The plethoric candidate never kicked but the goat did. The honorable gentleman is a candidate for reelection to the senate.

This Saturday evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, Rev. C. A. Shyne of St.
Louis, will lecture at the Catholic church on the Divine institution of Confession. No intelligent man or woman in Barrington should be ignorant of the explanation of a doctrine believed in by 3,000,000,000 of people.
That explanation will be given this evening. Seats are free.

The flagman which the board of village trustees ordered to be maintained at the West Main street crossing by the E. J. & E. Railway company, has not as yet put in an appearance. The safety gates promised by the North-Western company, to be erected at Walnut street, Williams and East Main street crossings, have not arrived. It is to be hoped the committee having the matter in charge will see that the order of the board of trustees is obeyed.

Jefferson Dockery and Thomas W.
Cret possess no parchments, sheepskins, etc., covered with Latin hieroglyphics, red or gold seals, attested by a court clerk or dean of a law school faculty. They never read Blackstone, Kent, never dived into Greenleaf on Evidence or Story on Contracts, but when it comes to conducting a case in police court they know a heap about law. Gentlemen, open an office. As 20th century lawyers you are them.

F. M. West, late city editor of the Waukegan Gazette, who entered the employ of Elijah the Two Times at Chicago, has quit his job, and instead of conducting the Zion Banner is employed by the Western Coal Dock company. It is said Mr. West could not stand the pressure brought upon him as an employee of Dowie, which was to attend church four times on Sunday, write up Elijah's sermons and give to the church one tenth of his salary.

According to the Chicago Inter-Ocean and Tribune there is not a cow in this section of the state that is not afflicted with anthrax. From the same authority we learn that "choice dairy stock is dying by the hundreds daily in the vicinity of Barrington."
We believe there is but very little truth in the statements. There was a number of cases of the disease near here and may be a few cattle mildly afflicted now, but the deaths did not number "hundreds daily."

The parties held by the Chicago police and deemed anarchists, and thought to be implicated in the murder of President McKinley, were kept in durance vile for ten days, but no evidence was produced to show that they were in any way concerned in the matter and they were discharged.
They had one consolation however and that was they were absent from home when troublesome visitors were about the vicinity of their residences.

Few young men who have been given a collegiate or even a common school education are out of debt to their parents at the age of thirty. In return for this debt the young man is expected to become a useful member of society and to care for his parents in their old age. If he lives, he may do so; if he dies and leaves an old father or an old mother dependent upon others, he has not fulfilled his obligation. By securing a certificate in some good fraternal beneficiary society he can make sure of repaying the debt he owes.

The doctrine that like cures like, or as the homeopaths put it, "similia similibus curantur," may have some force in medicine, and the hair of the dog may be good for the bite, figuratively, but that lawlessness will cure lawlessness is a theory which should find advocates in no civilized world.
We hear expressions daily by people who believe in observing the law. It is the opinion of all good citizens that those who advocate anarchy should be set off in a territory of their own, but the idea that they should be shot, executed or burned at the stake is not a remedy for the evil. This is a Christian nation and not a barbarous one.

Encouraged by the successes of the past, Peoria is making preparations for a corn exposition next month that will surpass in interest and value all efforts heretofore put forth by her enterprising citizens. Beautiful and complete as have been the two great corn shows that have made that city famous, the extensive program and the extraordinary premium list arranged for the 1901 exposition give promise that it will exceed in brilliancy, variety and in the quality of exhibits any corn show in the world's history. And this notwithstanding the fact that the corn crop is, in most sections light and in many sections a failure.

Mrs. Sinclair and children have returned to Chicago and will again make the big city their home. This little woman found her stay in Barrington anything but pleasant. The individual (he is not worthy the name man) who had promised to honor and protect her, the father of three little ones, deserted her here leaving her in illness and destitute circumstances.
He was employed as night operator at the Northwestern station. Mrs. Sinclair endeavored to secure employment here to support as best she could her children, but found it difficult. She has secured a position in Chicago. It is to be regretted that such beings as Sinclair are allowed to roam the earth.

Persistence is characteristic of all men who have accomplished anything great. They may lack in some other particular, may have many weaknesses and eccentricities, but the quality of persistence is never absent in a successful man. No matter what opposition he meets, or what discouragement overtakes him, he is always persistent. Drudgery cannot disgust him, labor cannot weary him. He will persist, no matter what comes or what goes, it is a part of his nature; he could almost as easily stop breathing.
It is not so much brilliancy of intellect or fertility of resources as persistency of effort, constancy of purpose, that gives success. Persistency always inspires confidence. Everybody believes in a man who persists. There is no keeping him down.

Miss Julia Wilson, a school teacher in White county Indiana, has introduced a new method by which to prevent tardiness among her pupils. She announced before the school that she would kiss the first arrival every morning. Miss Wilson is a pretty, voluptuous maid of 19 summers and as sweet as a peach, the boys declare. The first morning after her announcement as early as 5 o'clock a number of the eldest schoolboys were roosting on the fence awaiting their pretty school teacher's arrival. At 8 o'clock the entire school was there. The township trustees also put in an appearance.
The teacher kept her promise. The township officers of Barrington and Cuba and school directors of the districts about here, are wishing that the handsome teachers employed here may try the new method.

PERSONAL MENTION.

L. E. Runyan visited his sons at Elgin Wednesday.

Mrs. Robert Prcell is visiting relatives in Wisconsin.

M. S. Miller of Lake Villa was here on business Tuesday.

Mrs. Flora Lines is visiting among friends in South Dakota.

Enoch Colby and wife attended the Elgin carnival Wednesday.

Philip Gonyo of Antioch township, was in the village Tuesday.

John Blank of Chicago was a Barrington visitor, Wednesday.

Mesdames Dolan and Ryan were visitors at Woodstock Wednesday.

Mrs. Edw. Heimerdinger of Woodstock is at the home G. Heimerdinger.

Miss Minnie Ehler of Harvard is again making her home in this village.

Henry F. Rambow, wife and children, visited relatives in Elgin during the week.

Mrs. Miles T. Lamey spent Wednesday and Thursday with her mother in Waukegan.

James Finn, wife and daughter of Chicago were guests at the home of Wm. Thorp, Sunday.

Mrs. Richard Strobach of Chicago, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kirschner, Wednesday.

Lelia Catlow and sister Henrietta of Evanston are visiting their grandmother, Mrs. Catlow, this week.

Mrs. Fred Bennett or Woodstock was the guest of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Louisa Bennett, Saturday.

Louis D. Comstock, in advance of the Melbourne Shows, enjoyed the past week with his parents here.

George Clark of Idaho, brother of Matt Clark of Wauconda, called on
G. H. Comstock and other friends here Monday.

Mrs. E. H. Sadt of Oswego, Ill., and Mrs. John Fields of Union, Iowa, are guests at the home of Delos Church this week.

Rev. C. A. Shyne, S. J., of St. Louis University, St. Louis, Mo., is in the village conducting a mission in connection with St. Ann's Catholic church.

John Nordmeier.

John Nordmeier was born in Landringhausen, Hanover, Germany, May 1, 1819. He emigrated to America in 1853 and settled in the vicinity of Palatine. November 10, 1849 he was married to Dorothy Golderman. This union was blessed by eleven children, seven of which are now living, Mrs.
William Ties, William and Fred Nordmeier of Plum Grove; Mesdames

John C. and Frank H. Plagge of Barrington; Mrs. C. J. Frey, of Ashton, and Mrs. Nicholas Stenger of Naperville, Ill.

Mr. Nordmeier came to this country possessed of but small means, and by his labors as a stone mason earned a comfortable farm home in Plum Grove settlement. He was endowed with a peaceful, cheerful disposition which rendered him a pleasant companion.
He was a good neighbor, strictly honest, respected by all who had made his acquaintance. As a Christian he lived up to the principles of his profession of faith. As a citizen he used his influence for good, moral government.

Mr. Nordmeier will be sadly missed from the neighborhood he has known as home for so many years; he will be missed by the aged widow who for 52 years has been a helpmate; by the children and grandchildren to whom he was so devotedly attached; by the attendants of the little church in Plum Grove where his powerful voice was each Sabbath heard in song and prayer.

The deceased enjoyed good health to within three months of his passing away. Quick consumption was the cause of death, September 19, 1901, at the advanced age of 81 years, 4 months and 19 days. He died as he had lived, a righteous man. Surviving him are the widow, seven children, 34 grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren.

The funeral services were held from the Plum Grove church Sunday afternoon, conducted by Revs. A. Strick-faden and H. Meier of Barrington.

His remains were laid to rest until the great Resurrection Day, in the cemetery adjoining the church he so dearly loved.

Sent to Insane Asylum.

For some months Ernest Kastan, residing in the country near here, has shown signs of insanity. His condition was such that friends and relatives were afraid to have him about.
He threatened all sorts of acts. One day he was determined to kill stock, next he was going to set fire to the house and out buildings of his brother-in-law, Wm. Meister. He threatened bodily harm to many. It was feared he might carry the threats into execution and a watch was placed on his movements. Last week he attempted to commit suicide by trying to jump into a cistern. His relatives then consulted the authorities and he was taken before Judge Jones at Waukegan, and upon examination adjudged insane and committed to the asylum at Elgin.

Several years ago Kastan was struck by an engine while walking on the C.
& N. W. tracks, and he has also suffered a severe sun stroke.

Wallmuth-Johnholtz.

Miss Malinda Wallmuth and Mr.
Herman Johnholtz were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr.
and Mrs. Christian Wallmuth, 713 Wing street, Chicago, Thursday, Rev.
Fractinich officiating. The bride was attired in white silk organdi and carried bridal roses and the groom was dressed in conventional black.
Misses Emma Wallmuth, Emily Pelletier and Bertha Johnholtz were the bridesmaids and Messrs. Albert Wilke, William and August Wallmuth attended the groom.

The home was handsomely decorated with smilax and other flowers.
They were the recipients of many beautiful and useful presents.

About one hundred friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony, among them were: Mr. and Mrs. John Wal-muth, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wallmuth, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wall, Mr. and Mrs. Koehler, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs.
W. Fractinich, Mr. and Mrs. Brimkamp, Miss Rose and Martha Wilke,
Mr. and Mrs. Pingle, Barrington; Mr. and Mrs. Johnholtz, Joliet; Mr. and Mrs. Will Lake Zurich; Mr. and Mrs.
Chas. Walbracht, Dundee.

After October 1 Mr. and Mrs. Johnholtz will be at home to their friends in Barrington.

C. F. Hall Co., Dundee.

The way you buy depends on how well the man you bought of was able to buy.

Mill purchase of cotton blankets.
Full sized goods, good weight and well fleece. Dark greys at 45c. Fancy white at 48c. Extra fleece and heavy at 63c.

Boy's knee pants, size 4, at 10c; wool goods at 25c. Men's all wool suits at $5 and $5.50. Remember these are prices on woools.

Flannelettes at 8c. Remnant in Denims at 7c and 8c. Remnant in ticking at 6c, 7c, 8c per yard.

MILLINERY GOODS.

The small millinery shop is a thing of the past. We sell the year through, we buy in quantities, we can afford to sell on a small profit. See our prices.
Men's wool hats at 10c, 15c, 19c and extra heavy at 25c.
Pillsbury's best flour at 95c.

To the Public.

I have equipped a first-class blacksmith, wagon and carriage repair shop in my lately acquired property on East Main street, and will during the coming week open the same for business.
For many years I have catered to your wants in this line and you know my ability as a mechanic. I solicit the patronage of all in need of first-class work.
J. H. HATJE.

CHURCH NOTES AND NEWS

Methodist Episcopal.
Rev. W. H. Tuttle, Pastor. Services held each Sunday at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 9 a. m.

Salem Evangelical.
Rev. A. W. Strickfaden, Pastor. Preaching each Sunday morning and evening. Sunday school at 9:15 o'clock

Baptist.
Rev. W. L. Blanchard, Pastor. Services at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 11:30 o'clock.

Zion Evangelical.
Rev. J. Haller, Pastor. Services each Sunday morning and evening. Sunday school at 10 o'clock.

St. Ann's Catholic.
Rev. Father Quinn, Pastor. Regular service the first Sunday and third Saturday in each month. Sunday school every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran.
Rev. Alfred Menzel, Pastor. Services each Sabbath morning at 11 o'clock, Sabbath school at 9:30.

Make your trials stepping stones to a higher Christian life.

We never know for what God is preparing us in his schools; for what work on earth, for what work in the hereafter. Our business is to do our work well in the present place, whatever that may be.

Is Confession the invention of God or Man? The question will be answered eloquently at the Catholic church this, Saturday, evening. Doors open to all. Seats free.

A class of 25 from St. Ann's church were confirmed by Bishop Muldoon of Chicago, at St. Mary's church in Woodstock, Wednesday.

Daily order of exercises at St. Ann's Catholic church this week: 8 a. m., mass and sermon; 3 p. m., way of the cross and instruction; 7:30 p. m., rosary, lecture, benediction. The exercises will close on Sunday morning immediately after 8 o'clock mass.

If we could only see beforehand what it is that our heavenly Father means us to be—the soul beauty and perfection and glory, the glorious and lovely spiritual body that this soul is to dwell in through all eternity—if we could have a glimpse of this, we should not grudge all the trouble and pains
He is taking with us now to bring us up to that ideal which is His thought of us.

There is only one way in which our nation may overcome every threatening peril. There is only one way in which she can meet the responsibilities she has assumed. There is only one way in which she can reach the goal of her ambition. Her safety and her progress and the accomplishment of her work all depend on her being in truth that which she is in name—a Christian nation.

"Seek first the kingdom of God, and His righteousness." It is the most precious thing, this priceless jewel, this pearl of great price. It is so precious that, if you possess it, not you are poor indeed; though having all things else. Seek it first, before any other object, as first in importance;
give it the first place in your thoughts,
the highest place in your affections,
the ruling place in all your efforts—Ged will take care of the rest; you shall not want; do not worry.

We cannot cure disease by ignoring its existence. Wrongs are never made

You don't have to pull hard to get action on our cigars.

right by declaring that they do not exist. Very real and very serious dangers threaten our country's welfare.
At the head stands the drink evil, a curse so gigantic that a great many people have despairingly given up the hope of ever really subduing it. Greed for wealth, with its inevitable degradation of both rich and poor, is presents for solution problems which will have to be settled before very long. Young men of integrity and Christian purpose are frequently advised to keep away from politics, as there are enough bad men to manage successfully the affairs of the several states and of the nation, but Mr.
Beecher once wrote a man who had protested against his preaching a sermon designed to stir up his hearers to perform their civic duties, "Some of us like to think that a man's highest duty as a citizen is essential to Christian character." Remember that young people, when you are told that the thing which so vitally concerns the country's welfare is no business of yours. As a matter of fact we have no right to ask God to protect our land from these dangers unless we are doing all we can to conquer them.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

FOR SALE—Three heating stoves.
A. D. CHURCH.

FOR RENT—Two hundred acre farm, well stocked. Inquire at THE RE-VIEW office, Barrington.
E. ROBERTSON.

FOR SALE—One heater, wood and coal, 3-arm chandelier, 1 hanging lamp, cheap.
F. J. HAWLEY.

FOR RENT—Forty acres of good land two and one-half miles east of Barrington. Buildings will be put in good order.
M. C. MCINTOSH.

FOR SALE—7-room residence and 2 lots at 528 Hough street, nice location. Clear title guaranteed. Apply at this office for particulars.

Arrival and Departure of Trains

C. & N. W. Ry.

WEEK-DAY TRAINS.

NORTH.				SOUTH.
LV. Chicago	PA. ne	AR. Bar'tn	LV. Bar'tn	PA. ne	AR. Chic	LV. Chicago	PA. ne
7:30am	8:20am	8:45am	5:25am	5:34am	6:35	10:00	11:49
8:05	9:00	9:12	5:50	5:58	6:55	10:50	11:49
10:50	11:49	12:00 m	6:35	6:45	7:46	1:30pm	2:15
1:30pm	2:25pm	2:50	7:30	7:40	8:40	3:27	4:25
3:27	4:25	4:35	9:22	9:30	10:15	5:01	5:54
5:01	5:54	6:03	9:30	9:40	10:40	6:01	6:03
6:01	6:03	6:15	12:30pm	12:40pm	1:40	6:35	7:35
6:35	7:35	7:50	2:35	2:45	3:50	8:00	8:56
8:00	8:56	9:05	6:07	6:16	7:00	11:35	12:28
			6:49	6:57	7:45

SUNDAY TRAINS.

NORTH.				SOUTH.
LV. Chicago	PA. ne	AR. Bar'tn	LV. Bar'tn	PA. ne	AR. Chicgo	LV. Chicago	PA. ne
4:00am	8:30	4:50am	7:30am	7:40am	8:35pm	10:00	11:49
9:10	10:10	10:32	4:25	4:35	5:40pm	10:50	11:49
1:30pm	2:35pm	2:50pm	5:45	5:55	7:00	1:30pm	2:15
4:45	5:45	5:58	8:48	8:58	9:45	3:27	4:25
5:35	7:35	7:50	9:05	9:15	10:15	5:01	5:54
11:35	12:28	12:40				6:01	6:03

Saturday only.

E. J. & E. R. R.
SOUTH.
Waukegan	7:00am	3:00pm
Rondout	8:10am	3:30pm
Leithton	8:30am	4:00pm	