nine meat distributing centers, was effected in Chicago shortly before 7 o'clock Wedrasday evaning, and most of the budters returned to work Thursday morning.

By the terms of the agreement, signed by representatives of each side, all disputes pertaining to wages and working conditions will be summitted to a board of arbitration, and to reversy the men will receive the assume wages that were paid just previous to the strike.

A basis for settlement was obtained after a conference lasting more than three hours, held in the downtown of-fices of Swift & Co. The question of releastating the men on strike was the chief matter of dispute, and finally was disposed of by an agreement that the men shall be taken back as fast as possible without discrimination.

And the settlement was obtained to the control of the Former Business Associate of Secretary Morton Thinks Much of Him.

Tom Lee, the giant general passens and commoders of its feet on the Hudson, used to work under Paul Morton, now secretary of the nevy. In temperament the two are much silke-open, genial, cheerini, magnetic, receptive and responsive. When Lee was sought by the Leckawanan Lee was acquit by the Leckawanan senignation to Morton, who Indignantly rejected it. Lee resigned three times, and Morton at last understood that he reality meant it. Finding he could not alter his assistant's determination, he wrote as existant's determination, he wrote as existant's determination, he wrote as got to let yee, but I think you are making a dammed fool of yourself." Lee is still 6 feet 4 inches and has not lost flesh. He regards Morton as a big man.
