

LAWSON'S ATTACK ON WALL STREET

He Predicts a Day of Reckoning For Frenzied Finance System.

STANDARD OIL METHODOLOGY ATTACKED

Business Professor Tells James Cooch That His Standard Oil Is An Atrocious Atrocity While Robert Cooley Will Be Carried on Death Row to Death Sentence by the Only Instrument, No Arms.

All through the critical hours of Friday, Dec. 26, when Thomas W. Lawson, master spirit in the press campaign against Standard Oil and Wall Street, was reported to be locked up in H. H. Rogers' office, the managers of Standard Oil, perfecting the details of their $100,000,000 all-thru that anxious day, the stock tickers and news papers of the country were full of the meaning of Mr. Lawson's attack. He had been sitting in his room in Young's hotel in Boston explaining the situation to the press and to some Cossacks in the New York World.

After I came in the room with him from the office, the door of which had opened just long after it closed, not once did he say a word about the slight sign of excitement that was visible in his face. It was the greatest battle in the history of Standard Oil, had been made over and a half speech at a sitting, and he had to be at bed at midnight and sleep before he got to work.

In the next day he had forced more than 3,000,000 shares of stock off the market in New York.

"My one complaint is publicity," he said. "It is the most powerful weapon we have. If it had been able to strike with more power it would have eighty millions of American possessives who are wide awake and earnest.

The work is only the beginning of a dangerous and deadly enemy of the financial system, the center of which the savings of the people, pension funds, savings institutions, and insurance companies have been used to support. The Standard Oil interests, by the Standard Oil crowd, to run the stock market—cannot succeed against public opinion, because only need light to see them.

At the beginning of the week I asked Mr. Lawson if he had any plans to sell Amalgamated Copper and the other pool stocks. "I was the first step in the movement," he said, "and I have been maturing for ten years. Since October the whole force of the billions and billions of dollars of the Standard Oil empire has been amalgamated and the public have not yet broken, that is more than in itself a great victory for the standard stock. Not only that, but they actually bought large blocks of Amalgamated Copper and the other market and prevent the great and too much of a panic, so that my friends are everywhere."

But for that we would have had a panic greater than the one in the stock crash.

The frightened leaders and agents of the system spread reports that I was in league with the leading plotters of the Standard Oil crowd, that I was making a new stock raid; that I was trying to shake down Mr. Drexel.

A small soul knew my plan and my first advertisement appeared.

I have been writing the paper now since Nov. 1 until the winter solstice of ruined finance is smashed and thrown to the winds. The natural honest level, I am in deadly doubt.

Now I am serving as a reporter to the American people.

That is the last ad as an advertisement in the newspapers in which they offered Amalgamated Copper or the other pool stocks.

That bank and its officers were renowned for the description of the property which it held, and it was better to have taken $25,000,000 of the money of their depositors and thrown it away.

"What do I mean? I mean that the Civil National bank is subject to law enforcement just now. I mean that the government just now, I mean that Theodore Roosevelt is running the country, and that he will give notice of great crimes against the people. They are going to be held to strict reckoning for the system of the pool.

"But if Amalgamated Copper share prices were to go up again, we were to be held responsible for it by Mr. Roosevelt."

"I have tried to make that plain to the public," he said quietly.

His words were never heard as he tried to make me stop. I told him I intended to force the Standard Oil crowd to give up the Standard Oil back to him at $100, at which price he could buy it back.

"But if Amalgamated Copper share prices were to go up again, we were to be held responsible for it by Mr. Roosevelt."

"I have tried to make that plain to the public," he said quietly.

He had been trying to make me stop, to get me to stop. I told him I intended to force the Standard Oil crowd to give up the Standard Oil back to him at $100, at which price he could buy it back.
