May Advance Price of Milk

The price of facteal find shows tendency to advance as a result of a combine of the large milk dealers of wagon drivers believe the organization has been effected to fight the de-mands of the union for an increase in mands of the union for an increase in wages recently submitted. The small dealers predict an ad-yance in the price of milk. There is little hope that the dairymen will in any way profit by the raise of price in Chicano.

RESTORED TO HEALTH

RESTORED TO HEALTH

After Sieeping Out in a Tent During Weather of Past Year.

A year age local physicians and Ohicago specialists were of one mind relative to the allment of which Miss Anna Waithausen 19 year daughter of John Waithausen, residing west of here, was afficted. The medical men gave no hope of her recovery. She was waid to be a victim of consumption. Her parents and friends lost hope. Miss Anna decided that she would try the open air treatment. If it did not benefit her it certainly could not aggrave the roundition.

A tent was put up in the yard adjoining her frome and she lived virtually out of doors. When taking upter residence in the tent she was reduced to a mere skeletom weighing not more than 65 or 70 pounds.

Last fall she began to improve and continued to remain out of doors during the severe weather of this winter, only sleeping in the house two nights when very stormy.

Now Miss Anna is a strong, rugged young woman, weights 150 poinds and presents a perfect picture of health. Her many friends are greatly reploited at her restoration to health and her parents are the happlest people in parents.

Seckers for Office Now Interviewing His Majesty the Voter.

Just now the attention of the citizens is called to the annual town meeting and village election. The indications now point to a campaign as quiet as a Quaker meeting. Not a countest of any importance for any office within the gift of the voters is heard of in the township of Cuba. There may be dark horses in the hands of their growns to be placed in the field, at the last moment, for the gifting of collector and commissioner, which will enliven the caucus, but there is nothing certain about it. Indications point to the renomination of Fred Kirschner for assessor and F. H. Plagge for clerk. The offices of justices and constables find no takers. The honor is an empty one and the revenue as short as weight given by the beef trust.

In Barrington township the usual sight is on for collector. Three annuanced candidates are asking supper port at the caucus. F. A. Dohmeyer, Geo. J. Jencks and Steve J. Palmer, and the strength is pretty equally divided. It is possible that there may be something doing when nominations are called for highway commissioner, but it is a streamed to the contemptation of the office of police magniturate last spring is after the "judges" few stray locks of hair and he may decide to try for the long term. CELEBRATE ELEVENTH ANNIVERSARY

Woman's Thursday Club and Guests Fittingly Observe the Occasion at Home of Mr. and Mrs. John Robertson.

THE THURSDAY CLUB

The Interstance CLUB

The stands first in all that tends to the education and advancement of the human race; first in the safeguarding of that dearest spot on earth—the home. For this we are indebted to the relining influence of woman. That influence is the result of progressive cludation. Woman's clubs have done much to bring about this improved condition of American home life. I refer not to those clubs whose only object is momentary amusement and the frivolities of life, but those organizations whose object is higher attainment along the lines of culture agk knowledge of current events.

The Woman's Thursday club of Harrington is composed of the feading women of the village, Laders not only in society circles, but in all matters of mutual benefit and advantage to the village, and the influence of the of-ganization is noticeable outside of its immediate environment. It employs the admiration and endorsement of net a faction of our people, but of all. The noblest work of the Creator is the goddess of the home. The wife and mother who is equipped to advance thought on public events, who aspires to to its organization of the Thursday club is a most landable one. Since the day of its organization of the Thursday club is a most landable one. Since the fall is the dol of unshand and children.

The mission of the Thursday club is a most landable one. Since the day of its organization it has prospered, following closely its main object. That it will continue to advance in the good work it has for 11 years so successfully carried forward, there is no doubt as it rests upon a soulf coundation, unshaken by the petty disturbances which oftimes wreck similar organizations.
