Platt as an "Easy Boss."
A dispute has arisen as to the origin of the title "Easy Boss" applied to Senator Platt. The phrase was originated by Senator Platt and was first published in the New York Evening Sun in January, 1852. Mayor Strong had been in the office a few days and had refused to take orders from Rev. Charles II. Parkhurst. The doctor gase out a long statement, in which he said that "Boss Platt" was running the city government. When asked by a reporter to reply to the Parkhurst statement Senator Platt checkled and said: "I am an easy boss if I am boss. I do not say to this man, You must come," or to that man, You shall go." The interview with the senae: "Easy published under that a gas Platt." That originated the title of Easy Boss.
