Has Lived Long in One Home,
Mrs. R. A. Howard of Clear Lake, Iowa, has lived in one house for forty-eight years. When her husband brought her to Iowa a bride in the spring of 1857 he built a home for her with native timber, supplemented by finished lumber from Austin, Minn. The stairway was made of black walnut cut from the forest surrounding the home. The house has stood substantially as it was built for forty-eight years, and all that time Mrs. Howard has occupied it. Her husband was killed in the civil war,—

Operators Break Contracts.
The action taken by the operators in declaring all contracts abrogated by the miners is followed by declarations from the officials of the latter that the call for a new contract will be followed by insistence on more liberal terms than were granted in the present agreements.

The operators, on the other hand, will not only insist on reimbursement for the additional expense entailed by the operation of the new law, but will demand a radical change in the present ecale. They will insist on a wage agreement with sereen insicaed of mine run basis.
