

THE BARRINGTON REVIEW.

VOL. 20. NO. 10.

BARRINGTON, ILLINOIS, FRIDAY, MARCH 10, 1905.

$1.50 A YEAR IN ADVANCE.

PALATINE LOCAL NEWS

Gathered and Compiled by A. G. Smith, Local Editor.

Pin Arps is confined to the house with a bad case of tonsillitis.

Mr. Weisner, the Rockford sidewalk man was in town this week.

Some men never give religion a thought until they are sick in bed.

A. G. Smith has dropped out of the race for collector and Theodore Frye and Mrs. Meyer are in the race.

Fred Hartels and Bert Camp has rented the Thurston house. Fred expects to build a new house this summer.

Miss Clara Taylor is quite seriously ill having been under medical treatment for some weeks without much improvement.

Henry F. Anderson wishes to announce to the voters of Palatine that he is a candidate for office of constable to succeed himself.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schuppe, Henry Schuppe and Fred Lanthoff started for New Orleans Tuesday where they will enjoy themselves a few days.

The new lodge hall is receiving the finishing touches and will soon be furnished for the last meeting. The Athletic club are preparing to move into their new quarters.

The Ladies Aid society of the M. E. church will hold their regular meeting in the church parlors on March 15. It is important that all members be present as there is much work to be done.

All of the present members of the village board expect to be candidates for the positions again. There is some talk of a contest but whether it develops into a serious one remains to be seen.

Ira W. Frye has closed his books and will return to Chicago Tuesday. He has broken the record for collecting this year their being about $2,000 delinquent out of $10,257 and only a few persons who have moved away.

Misses Addie Filbert and Mimi Hancock will give a recital in elocution at the M. E. church, Friday, March 21, at 8 o'clock. The Palatine orchestra will assist with music. An admission fee of 10 cts. will be charged. The church should be crowded to encourage such excellent home talent.

Miss Julian Bollenschack and Mr. Fred Kuhlman were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Bollenschack, in Palatine last Wednesday night. Rev. Zeimer of the Highland Grove church performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties.

The funeral of May Foreman who died Thursday night was held at St. Paul's church last Sunday afternoon and the church was filled with sympathizing friends of the family. The deceased had been a sufferer from consumption for several months and during her illness was patient and uncomplaining through it all. She was a faithful attendant at the Methodist Sunday school and her greatest regret was that she was compelled to stay away during her illness. Rev. J. C. Hofmeister of St. Paul's church and Rev. Young of the Methodist church spoke in high praise of the young lady's Christian life.

Mr. Louis Krueger.

Mr. Louis Krueger died at his home last Thursday night from cancer. She had been a sufferer for some time from the dread disease but had been able to do about her duties in the home until within about three weeks of her death. Mrs. Krueger was a woman of a very social disposition and her work with the concordia and church society was an inspiration to her co-workers. In her home she was a kind mother and an exceptionally good manager in the business care of the farm. She leaves beside the husband two daughters and three sons. The funeral service was held in the St. Paul's church last Tuesday afternoon and the pastor, Rev. J. C. Hofmeister, presented her life as one that might be an example to others.

For Collector.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of town collector and ask the support of my friends at the polls. CHARLES C. MEYER.

May Advance Price of Milk

The price of lactated milk shows a tendency to advance as a result of a combine of the large milk dealers of Chicago, just organized. Union milk wagon drivers believe the organization has been effected to fight the demands of the union for an increase in wages recently submitted.

The small dealers predict an advance in the price of milk. There is little hope that the dairymen will in any way profit by the raise of price in Chicago.

Geo. R. Lyon in Cuba

Ex-representative Geo. R. Lyon of Lake county and his wife are enjoying a season mild scenes in the beautiful island of Cuba. Mr. Lyon writes of the many points of interest there and the perpetual summer weather.

RESTORED TO HEALTH

After Sleeping Out in a Tent During Weather of Past Year.

A year ago local physicians and Chicago specialists were of one mind relative to the ailment of which Miss Anna Wathhausen 19 year daughter of John Wathhausen, residing west of here, was afflicted. The medical men gave her no hope of her recovery. She was said to be a victim of consumption. Her parents and friends lost hope. Miss Anna decided that she would try the open air treatment. If it did not benefit her it certainly could not aggravate her condition.

A tent was put up in the yard adjoining her home and she lived virtually out of doors. When taking up her residence in the tent she was reduced to a mere skeleton weighing not more than 45 or 50 pounds.

Last fall she began to improve and continued to remain out of doors during the severe weather of this winter, only sleeping in the house two nights when very stormy.

Now Miss Anna is a strong, rugged young woman, weighs 150 pounds and presents a perfect picture of health. Her many friends are greatly rejoiced at her restoration to health and her parents are the happiest people in Cuba township.

It is one of those cases where doctors failed to tell the truth.

B.Y.P.U.A.

The young people of the Baptist church have recently organized a society and given it the name of Baptist Young People's Union of America. A cordial invitation is given to all young people to attend the meetings, Sunday evenings at 7 o'clock and to join the society.

The officers elected for the next six months are:
President—Miss Laura Hawk.
Vice President—Miss Mabel Banks.
Secretary—A. G. Smith.
Treasurer—Miss Nettie Lombard.

SPRING POLITICS

Seekers for Office Now Interviewing His Majesty the Voter.

Just now the attention of the citizen is called to the annual town meeting and village election. The indications now point to a campaign as quiet as a quaker meeting. Not a contest of any importance for any office within the gift of the voters is heard of in the township of Cuba. There may be dark horses in the hands of their citizens to be placed in the field, at the last moment, for the office of collector and commissioner, which will enliven the caucus, but there is nothing certain about it. Indications point to the re-nomination of Fred Kirschner for assessor and F. H. Piage for clerk. The offices of justice and constable find no takers. The honor is an empty one and the revenue as short as weight given by the beef trust.

In Barrington township the usual fight is on for collector. Three announced candidates are asking support at the caucus. F. A. Dolmeyer, Geo. J. Jencks and Steve J. Palmer, and the strength is pretty equally divided. It is possible that there may be something doing when nominations are called for highway commissioner. In village politics there is little doing. No radical change in the present administration is contemplated. It is almost certain that but one ticket will be asking support this spring, though independent candidates may be brought out for one or more offices.

The same contingent which contested with C. H. Morrison for the office of police magistrate last spring is after the "judges" for mayor, judge of the peace and justice of the peace for the long term. Should he consent to again be a candidate he will have to assist him the record of his short term which is clear of any underhanded methods, and an endorsement of two local county judges for his keeping aloof from a class of Chicago parasites who fatten off the work of suburban justices.

Arnett C. Lines, a young man who contemplates the study of law in Chicago, has announced his candidacy for the office and is making an active campaign for support in the caucus.

CELEBRATE ELEVENTH ANNIVERSARY

Woman's Thursday Club and Guests Fittingly Observe the Occasion at Home of Mr. and Mrs. John Robertson.

THE THURSDAY CLUB

BY HADREY.

IN this, the twentieth century of progressive civilization, America stands first in all that tends to the education and advancement of the human race; first in the safeguarding of that dearest spot on earth—the home. For this we are indebted to the refining influence of woman. That influence is the result of progressive education. Woman's clubs have done much for bringing about this improved condition of American home life. I refer not to those clubs whose only object is momentary amusement and the frivolities of life, but those organizations whose object is higher attainment along the lines of culture and knowledge of current events.

The Woman's Thursday club of Barrington is composed of the leading women of the village. Leaders not only in society circles, but in all matters of mutual benefit and advantage to the village, and the influence of the organization is noticeable outside of its immediate environment. It enjoys the admiration and endorsement of not a faction of our people, but of all. The noblest work of the Creator is the goddess of the home. The wife and mother who is equipped to advance thought on public events, who aspires to keep abreast of the times, is the ideal of husband and children.

The mission of the Thursday club is a most laudable one. Since the day of its organization it has prospered, following closely its main object. That it will continue to advance in the good work it has for 11 years so successfully carried forward, there is no doubt as it rests upon a solid foundation, unshaken by the petty disturbances which often wreck similar organizations.

History of the Club

BY A CHARTER MEMBER.

The Woman's Thursday club of Barrington was organized March 6th, 1894, by five Barrington women at the residence of Mrs. Thos. Fitzsimmons, Lake St. and Grove Ave. The club was named because it was organized on Thursday and that day set apart for meetings of the club. The object of the organization was to promote a social spirit among the women of Barrington and also to take up a course in reading and literary work which would be of benefit to the members. The charter members were Madames Thos. Fitzsimmons, Leroy Powers, E. E. Ferguson, Ada Tate, McIntosh and Miss Eugene Harrington. Meetings were held each week at the homes of the members, and among the first new names to be added to the membership were Madames T. Dolan, S. E. Howarth, C. H. Austin, succeeding years. She was obliged to refuse the office for another term on account of other lines of work. While Mrs. McIntosh was president she worked in her usual earnest manner for the upbuilding and enlarging of the work planned by the club. At her suggestion a printed calendar program for each year was introduced and she originated the plan of entertaining the gentlemen at intervals during the club year, a plan which has ever since been successfully carried out. She acted as chairman of the program committee for three years and also as club correspondent for several years.

Mrs. S. E. Howarth followed Mrs. McIntosh as president of the club and has since held that office to the benefit of the organization. Many happy occasions have been participated in by the club members and their friends during the 11 years of its existence which included annual Residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Robertson Where Anniversary was Celebrated.

C. Meyer, F. J. Hawley, and P. A. Hawley. At this time the membership was limited to twenty, and the number was soon filled with representative women of Barrington. Mrs. Fitzsimmons acted as president of the club during the first few years of its organization, and during her term as president she served the club in a most capable manner, being a woman of much natural refinement, education and rare musical ability. Through her influence a social spirit was originated in the work of the club and a plan instituted by which each member was to entertain the other members once each year by giving a club "tea." The first one was given by Madames F. J. and P. A. Hawley.

During the second year of the organization a difference of opinion arose as to the advisableness of taking up a proposed University Extension course of study. As this question could not be settled to suit all, seven of the members withdrew from the club leaving the membership thirteen. There places were soon filled, and the prosperity of the club continued as heretofore. The membership was enlarged to twenty-five. Mrs. Zoa Meyer was elected president of the club to succeed Mrs. Fitzsimmons, and made a most efficient officer. Through her work and assistance many pleasant and profitable sessions of the club were held, both social and literary.

During the absence of Mrs. Meyer in Europe Mrs. Ada Tate McIntosh acted as chairman of the club and was afterward elected president for two club and its work. This was followed by the sending of telegrams, to out of town friends, relative to the success of this the 11th banquet. Many of the messages were very clever and amusing, and Mrs. Brockway was voted the best lady writer, the prize being a handsome china plate. Lyman Powers was awarded a beautiful mirror as a reward for the best gentlemanly writer.

Musical and literary numbers were artistically rendered by members of the club and the evening of pleasure closed with a "watch" contest in which Dr. Welch demonstrated his ability as a watchmaker, capturing a quaint little ring tree as a prize. The reception after banquet proved one of the most enjoyable ever held by the club and great credit is due the gracious hostess for so pleasant an evening.

The club entertained as guests Prof. J. I. Sears and wife, Mrs. Myrtle Bennett and Miss Robt. Brockway.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

Mrs. S. E. Howarth, president of the club delivered the following short address, her topic being "Another Anniversary."

"Our eleventh anniversary! How

Mrs. S. E. Howarth President of the Thursday Club

swiftly these pleasant occasions follow each other, and as we stand on the threshold of another year, the twelfth of our club life, we see much cause for satisfaction. Our members have been blessed with good health; our meetings pleasant and harmonious; our work agreeable and instructive.

The principal subject of our study and reading, Russia and Japan, has been particularly interesting at this time when the attention of the entire world is centered upon the two unhappy nations now waging a frightful war. The one, as it seems to us, contending for national existence; the other for conquest while rest at home by the struggles of its people for light and liberty.

Looking forward to the coming year we cherish the pleasant anticipations of the continuance of good fellowship, of pleasant meetings and continued improvement in our work. Let us endeavor to make the year upon which we now enter the most progressive and most profitable of our organization.

We are standing on the threshold. We are in the open door. We are ready to receive the order laid. We have never had before. We will bid the new year welcome. And let the club year go. And pass into the future. Which none of us can know.

Olive Monthly Program

The Young People's Society of St. Paul's church gave its regular monthly program Sunday evening, which was as follows:

Song—..... Society
Recitation—..... Katie Laufenberger
Duet—..... Anna Reese and Amanda Schmitt
Solo—..... Otto Stanger
Duet—..... Mary and Miss Fannie
Solo—..... Mary Gottschalk, Edith Brock and Emma Gieseler
Recitation—..... Otto Stanger and Lydia Kleinen
Duet—..... "Trust for the Kleinen"
Solo—..... "Trust for the Kleinen"
Duet—..... "Trust for the Kleinen"
Solo—..... "Trust for the Kleinen"
Duet—..... "Trust for the Kleinen"
Solo—..... "Trust for the Kleinen"
Duet—..... "Trust for the Kleinen"
Solo—..... "Trust for the Kleinen"

The society is entitled to special credit for the manner in which the program was rendered, especially the vocal music, which was under the direction of Rev. Stanger.

Startling Mortality

Satistics show startling mortality from appendicitis and peritonitis. To prevent and cure these awful diseases, there is just one reliable remedy, Dr. King's New Life Pills. M. Flannery, of 14 Custom House Place, Chicago, says: "They have no equal for Constipation and Biliousness." See at Barrington Pharmacy.

WAUCONDA MENTION.

Succinctly Told by Our Regular Correspondent.

Too! Too!
Look out for our railroad.

F. L. Carr was on jury duty at Waukegan this week.

John Serst was a Chicago visitor the first of the week.

H. T. Graham was a Barrington visitor the first of the week.

Mrs. A. Graham has fully recovered from a recent attack of quinsy.

Frank Roney transacted business in the city Tuesday and Wednesday.

Edgar Mills is enjoying a week's vacation from his duties at the cash store.

H. T. Fuller and Dr. L. E. Gidding transacted business in the city Wednesday.

Riley Hill, of Waukegan, called on relatives and friends here the first of the week.

Miss Lucy Sowles returned home Sunday after a week's visit with Grayslake relatives.

Joe Hans left for Columbus, Ohio, Sunday, to be operated upon. Fred Hapke is caring for the barber shop during the former's absence.

The Woodmen announces a St. Patrick's ball in their hall, Friday evening, March 17th. Good music will be in attendance, and a good time is assured.

The Basket social given by Miss Gertrude Coyle and pupils of Brick School last Friday evening was a success in every way, proceeds amounting to about $25, which will be invested in a school library.

The railroad meeting Monday afternoon resulted very favorably. D. S. McMullen of Chicago was present in company with the traffic manager of the Chicago & Milwaukee Electric Railway Co. and A. C. Harlett of Diamond Lake. The meeting was called to order by E. W. Brooks and Dr. Wells was then elected chairman and F. L. Carr secretary. Several of our local people addressed the meeting as did the visitors. The company asks for $25.00 and the right of way between Rock-feller and Wauconda. Everybody in Wauconda and Fremont at least should interest themselves and do all in their power to help along the good start which the sube. pion has received.

VILLAGE BOARD

Meets in Regular Session But Transacts Little Business

The board of trustees of the village of Barrington met in regular session Monday evening. The session was a short one and but little business disposed of although it was expected that the trustees might take up an important matter relative to the alleged violation of a village ordinance, but the anticipated "excitement" failed to materialize because the communication was referred to the committee on license where it will rest for 30 days and perhaps longer.

A committee identified with the temperance cause went out upon a tour of investigation a week ago last Sunday and found three of the four saloons in the village open for business. The committee reported the result of its investigation to the local lodge of Good Templars whereupon that organization passed the following resolutions, which were sent to the board for consideration:

Whereas, the committee having duly reported that on Sunday, Feb. 28, 1905, the saloons operated in the village of Barrington, Ill., were found to be open within the hours of 2 p. m. and 10 p. m., contrary to and in violation of the ordinance of said village; and Whereas, said violation is detrimental to the peace and morality of said village as well as indicating a "backsliding" of law and order therefore be it

Resolved, That the secretary of this lodge be instructed to make a formal complaint of said violation to the proper authorities against said George W. Foreman, Paul Miller and Louis Jensen, and to let it forth.

Resolved, That the support of all good citizens be solicited for this Good Templars Lodge in its fight to keep the liquor traffic out of this village within the specifications of the law.

Bills for salaries of marshal, night watchman, for street lighting and water supply were presented and allowed.

Barrington Township Caucus

The local voters of the town of Barrington are hereby notified that a town caucus will be held at the Village Hall, in the village of Barrington, on Friday, March 17, at the hour of 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of placing in nomination the various town officers to be voted for on April 4th. LEROY POWERS, Town Clerk.

LAZARUS OF LOUISIANA

BY MARY DEVEREUX

WITH ILLUSTRATIONS BY DON C. WILSON
(Copyright, 1917, by Little, Brown and Company)
(All Rights Reserved)

CHAPTER XIII.

The sun was nearly two hours high when Lazare awoke from slumber, and prepared to make himself ready for the responsible and arduous duties lying before him.

In view of Lazare's dying request, he had considered carefully the arrangements for Lazare's immediate future, and this he unfolded to Maria Brigidia, Lazare's old nurse and companion, after sending Perez to superintend the gathering of such stores as were to be taken to the shore, preparatory to putting them aboard the "Black Petrel" and another craft, which was to sail under command of Perez, who, in addition to his other valuable attainments, was a skillful navigator.

As to the slaves, of whom there were several hundred, it was not prudent to attempt taking them in a boat to Louisiana, and Lazare decided, for the present, to leave by the greater number of them upon the island, where there was abundant food and shelter, and take with him only a few, including such as Lazare should select for his own.

A trifle of diamonds, a strolling of pearls like that of Jeannine's, a pair of soft arms thrown about his neck, and a rain of passionate kisses on his face and head—these roused him quickly, as a rich voice, broken by tears, cried, "Jean, my own Jean!"

He tried to rise, and to unclasp the arms clinging to him so closely that it was difficult for him to disengage them without risk of hurting her.

Still clinging to him, she threw her supple form across his knees.

"You have been so long, so long away, and I was so glad you had come back to me! Ah, Jean, will you not know how dearly I love you? I would follow you to death if you would but say that you love me in return?"

Jean Lazare was a man, and possessed a man's nature. But there was scarce an added throb to his heart-beats as he looked down into the beautiful face.

His glorious eyes, brilliant coloring, and full crimson lips affected him with a sudden loathing, while he felt the velvet arms around his neck as icy cold as the wings of death, and this gave severity to his judgment, making him fail to consider her girlishness, her ignorance of convention, altho, or to make excuses for her imprudent nature.

"Are you insane, Senorita Lazare?" he asked.

"Why did you fail to kill the Indian?" she demanded imperiously, as if holding Lopez accountable for a grave offense.

"Kill him!" repeated the old man, who had been sitting in his room, and this gave severity to his judgment, making him fail to consider her girlishness, her ignorance of convention, altho, or to make excuses for her imprudent nature.

"Yes," was her haughty reply. "You should have killed him."

"How was I to do that?" he asked with a scornful smile, as if testing the unjustness of her accusation. "I had washed my knife on the traitor and I now lie somewhere off Satan's Key, my power and pistol were trampled, and he took good care to keep out of reach, after I came to my senses aboard the English ship."

"I understand," she said now in a more gracious tone, "and we are very glad you are safe. But, she added, "what could have happened that would have led to committing such an act of treachery?"

Lazare caught Lopez's eye, and in a half-glance saw that the man in the uniform of the former's foe, the gunner made no reply.

Lazare appeared to have forgotten her question, for she remained silent, and in a few moments went to her own quarters, followed by Maria Brigidia.

The meal was soon finished, and the men gathered from the table the gold and silver plate, parking it in boxes, and then, to the shore, to be taken aboard the "Black Petrel."

The greater part of the slaves to either with those brought from the brigantine to be turned loose among their stable fellows, were, of course, important as to the plans of their owners, and when they retired for the night, it was to slumber but little less deeply by reason of their tired respite from labor, while the men arraigned, half sick from their long imprisonment, with their darkness and poor air slept far more soundly.

On the next morning, the "gunner" awakened in a fit of the late hours of the hour, and wondering why no overseer's lash had roused them long before, now realized that something unusual had happened, for the sun was not two hours high when a compact load of pearl-encrusted and shimmering empty the chests and pack their contents for removal.

The chests were soon emptied, and the bundles lying ready for removal. Early in the afternoon the entire crew came ashore with the body of their dead captain, and all on the island were given a half-holiday, in order that they might show respect to their internment.

Lazare was not present; and Lazare saw her no more until evening, when, with Perez and some of the crew, she joined him and the others at the table, to partake of the last meal that would be eaten on the island of Herio.

In the midst of it they were startled by the sudden appearance in their midst of a bedraggled and weary form. It was that of the gunner, Lopez, who, still wet from the rain, and his garments torn by the thistles through which he had pushed his way, dropped stiffly into a chair, seemingly too worn out for speech. His face was white, and a bandage enveloped his head.

It was as Lazare had supposed and contemplated. Evidently he had helped the chiefs to the shore, and had helped the enemy's favor, and the latter, in consequence of the information furnished by the Indian, had not time to repair damages, and setting sail in pursuit of the brigantine.

There was general rejoicing over Lopez's escape. But this feeling was, in a measure, tempered by anger at the treachery of Lopez, and indeed indeed would have been the Indian's fate should any of those sly hands have crossed his brow's throat.

When the gunner's story was ended, a half-suspense of fear had swept through the room, to be hushed by the uplifted hand and reproving frown of Lazare, for Lazare had not yet left the island, and with Maria Brigidia beside her, at the farthest end. Her lips were parted slightly, and an angry light glowed in her black eyes.

"It would be most imprudent for you to do so for some time to come, if you, as you must, ever leave, he replied firmly, looking down into her face. The English must have seized the island, and will doubtless hold it, and, as the most of the men should have been the Indian's fate should any of those sly hands have crossed his brow's throat.

When the gunner's story was ended, a half-suspense of fear had swept through the room, to be hushed by the uplifted hand and reproving frown of Lazare, for Lazare had not yet left the island, and with Maria Brigidia beside her, at the farthest end. Her lips were parted slightly, and an angry light glowed in her black eyes.

"And may I not return to the Harra de Herio later on after a while?" he inquired, with a faint smile, which surprised him.

"It would be most imprudent for you to do so for some time to come, if you, as you must, ever leave, he replied firmly, looking down into her face. The English must have seized the island, and will doubtless hold it, and, as the most of the men should have been the Indian's fate should any of those sly hands have crossed his brow's throat.

When the gunner's story was ended, a half-suspense of fear had swept through the room, to be hushed by the uplifted hand and reproving frown of Lazare, for Lazare had not yet left the island, and with Maria Brigidia beside her, at the farthest end. Her lips were parted slightly, and an angry light glowed in her black eyes.

"And may I not return to the Harra de Herio later on after a while?" he inquired, with a faint smile, which surprised him.

"It would be most imprudent for you to do so for some time to come, if you, as you must, ever leave, he replied firmly, looking down into her face. The English must have seized the island, and will doubtless hold it, and, as the most of the men should have been the Indian's fate should any of those sly hands have crossed his brow's throat.

When the gunner's story was ended, a half-suspense of fear had swept through the room, to be hushed by the uplifted hand and reproving frown of Lazare, for Lazare had not yet left the island, and with Maria Brigidia beside her, at the farthest end. Her lips were parted slightly, and an angry light glowed in her black eyes.

"And may I not return to the Harra de Herio later on after a while?" he inquired, with a faint smile, which surprised him.

"It would be most imprudent for you to do so for some time to come, if you, as you must, ever leave, he replied firmly, looking down into her face. The English must have seized the island, and will doubtless hold it, and, as the most of the men should have been the Indian's fate should any of those sly hands have crossed his brow's throat.

When the gunner's story was ended, a half-suspense of fear had swept through the room, to be hushed by the uplifted hand and reproving frown of Lazare, for Lazare had not yet left the island, and with Maria Brigidia beside her, at the farthest end. Her lips were parted slightly, and an angry light glowed in her black eyes.

"And may I not return to the Harra de Herio later on after a while?" he inquired, with a faint smile, which surprised him.

"It would be most imprudent for you to do so for some time to come, if you, as you must, ever leave, he replied firmly, looking down into her face. The English must have seized the island, and will doubtless hold it, and, as the most of the men should have been the Indian's fate should any of those sly hands have crossed his brow's throat.

When the gunner's story was ended, a half-suspense of fear had swept through the room, to be hushed by the uplifted hand and reproving frown of Lazare, for Lazare had not yet left the island, and with Maria Brigidia beside her, at the farthest end. Her lips were parted slightly, and an angry light glowed in her black eyes.

"And may I not return to the Harra de Herio later on after a while?" he inquired, with a faint smile, which surprised him.

"It would be most imprudent for you to do so for some time to come, if you, as you must, ever leave, he replied firmly, looking down into her face. The English must have seized the island, and will doubtless hold it, and, as the most of the men should have been the Indian's fate should any of those sly hands have crossed his brow's throat.

When the gunner's story was ended, a half-suspense of fear had swept through the room, to be hushed by the uplifted hand and reproving frown of Lazare, for Lazare had not yet left the island, and with Maria Brigidia beside her, at the farthest end. Her lips were parted slightly, and an angry light glowed in her black eyes.

"And may I not return to the Harra de Herio later on after a while?" he inquired, with a faint smile, which surprised him.

"It would be most imprudent for you to do so for some time to come, if you, as you must, ever leave, he replied firmly, looking down into her face. The English must have seized the island, and will doubtless hold it, and, as the most of the men should have been the Indian's fate should any of those sly hands have crossed his brow's throat.

When the gunner's story was ended, a half-suspense of fear had swept through the room, to be hushed by the uplifted hand and reproving frown of Lazare, for Lazare had not yet left the island, and with Maria Brigidia beside her, at the farthest end. Her lips were parted slightly, and an angry light glowed in her black eyes.

"And may I not return to the Harra de Herio later on after a while?" he inquired, with a faint smile, which surprised him.

"It would be most imprudent for you to do so for some time to come, if you, as you must, ever leave, he replied firmly, looking down into her face. The English must have seized the island, and will doubtless hold it, and, as the most of the men should have been the Indian's fate should any of those sly hands have crossed his brow's throat.

When the gunner's story was ended, a half-suspense of fear had swept through the room, to be hushed by the uplifted hand and reproving frown of Lazare, for Lazare had not yet left the island, and with Maria Brigidia beside her, at the farthest end. Her lips were parted slightly, and an angry light glowed in her black eyes.

"And may I not return to the Harra de Herio later on after a while?" he inquired, with a faint smile, which surprised him.

runs was been advancing from the island's shore.

The greater number of the frightened slaves fled inland, to hide in the thickets and gullies. But some of the more intelligent sought the shelter of the stone stronghold, and finding it deserted, they quickly shut and barred the oaken gate.

It was not long before a storm of blows upon the gate called some of them to it, and looking through a loophole, they saw the strangers gathered behind a commanding officer who was demanding entrance in the king's name.

The terrified slaves—a few of whom understood the words—lost no time in obeying, and were soon assured that no harm would come to them from the intruder whose leader, upon questioning the natives, was made aware of the condition of affairs.

Meanwhile, noisily called the "Black Petrel" with Lazare in command, and a few of the crew—such men as he knew had his own catch at heart.

It was noon when the "Black Petrel" reached New Orleans, and Lazare called aboard her, and a great crowd of men came to meet him with Maria Brigidia and Maria Brigidia.

No others left the brigantine, as its commander's sole business in the city was to see that the provisions for the immediate future, after which he proposed sailing at once for Harra de Herio.

One of his most intimate friends, Philip La Roche, a man of middle age, a banker of New Orleans. He was of fine family, of high social position, and a gentleman of the strictest honor.

It was to his care that Lazare committed Lazare, after seeing her retired safely, in company with Maria Brigidia, at the French convent in the Place d'Armes.

During the voyage, preserved an air of calmness to which was added an occasional touch of scorn; but when, while they were alone, Lazare bade her adieu, she burst out a cry, and she stood with downcast eyes before him.

"When will I see you again?" she asked in a restless tone.

"I cannot say," he replied. "But the mother superior will know how to communicate with me, if I am needed," he answered calmly.

"And may I not return to the Harra de Herio later on after a while?" he inquired, with a faint smile, which surprised him.

"It would be most imprudent for you to do so for some time to come, if you, as you must, ever leave, he replied firmly, looking down into her face. The English must have seized the island, and will doubtless hold it, and, as the most of the men should have been the Indian's fate should any of those sly hands have crossed his brow's throat.

When the gunner's story was ended, a half-suspense of fear had swept through the room, to be hushed by the uplifted hand and reproving frown of Lazare, for Lazare had not yet left the island, and with Maria Brigidia beside her, at the farthest end. Her lips were parted slightly, and an angry light glowed in her black eyes.

"And may I not return to the Harra de Herio later on after a while?" he inquired, with a faint smile, which surprised him.

"It would be most imprudent for you to do so for some time to come, if you, as you must, ever leave, he replied firmly, looking down into her face. The English must have seized the island, and will doubtless hold it, and, as the most of the men should have been the Indian's fate should any of those sly hands have crossed his brow's throat.

When the gunner's story was ended, a half-suspense of fear had swept through the room, to be hushed by the uplifted hand and reproving frown of Lazare, for Lazare had not yet left the island, and with Maria Brigidia beside her, at the farthest end. Her lips were parted slightly, and an angry light glowed in her black eyes.

"And may I not return to the Harra de Herio later on after a while?" he inquired, with a faint smile, which surprised him.

"It would be most imprudent for you to do so for some time to come, if you, as you must, ever leave, he replied firmly, looking down into her face. The English must have seized the island, and will doubtless hold it, and, as the most of the men should have been the Indian's fate should any of those sly hands have crossed his brow's throat.

When the gunner's story was ended, a half-suspense of fear had swept through the room, to be hushed by the uplifted hand and reproving frown of Lazare, for Lazare had not yet left the island, and with Maria Brigidia beside her, at the farthest end. Her lips were parted slightly, and an angry light glowed in her black eyes.

"And may I not return to the Harra de Herio later on after a while?" he inquired, with a faint smile, which surprised him.

"It would be most imprudent for you to do so for some time to come, if you, as you must, ever leave, he replied firmly, looking down into her face. The English must have seized the island, and will doubtless hold it, and, as the most of the men should have been the Indian's fate should any of those sly hands have crossed his brow's throat.

When the gunner's story was ended, a half-suspense of fear had swept through the room, to be hushed by the uplifted hand and reproving frown of Lazare, for Lazare had not yet left the island, and with Maria Brigidia beside her, at the farthest end. Her lips were parted slightly, and an angry light glowed in her black eyes.

"And may I not return to the Harra de Herio later on after a while?" he inquired, with a faint smile, which surprised him.

"It would be most imprudent for you to do so for some time to come, if you, as you must, ever leave, he replied firmly, looking down into her face. The English must have seized the island, and will doubtless hold it, and, as the most of the men should have been the Indian's fate should any of those sly hands have crossed his brow's throat.

When the gunner's story was ended, a half-suspense of fear had swept through the room, to be hushed by the uplifted hand and reproving frown of Lazare, for Lazare had not yet left the island, and with Maria Brigidia beside her, at the farthest end. Her lips were parted slightly, and an angry light glowed in her black eyes.

"And may I not return to the Harra de Herio later on after a while?" he inquired, with a faint smile, which surprised him.

"It would be most imprudent for you to do so for some time to come, if you, as you must, ever leave, he replied firmly, looking down into her face. The English must have seized the island, and will doubtless hold it, and, as the most of the men should have been the Indian's fate should any of those sly hands have crossed his brow's throat.

When the gunner's story was ended, a half-suspense of fear had swept through the room, to be hushed by the uplifted hand and reproving frown of Lazare, for Lazare had not yet left the island, and with Maria Brigidia beside her, at the farthest end. Her lips were parted slightly, and an angry light glowed in her black eyes.

"And may I not return to the Harra de Herio later on after a while?" he inquired, with a faint smile, which surprised him.

"It would be most imprudent for you to do so for some time to come, if you, as you must, ever leave, he replied firmly, looking down into her face. The English must have seized the island, and will doubtless hold it, and, as the most of the men should have been the Indian's fate should any of those sly hands have crossed his brow's throat.

Illinois Legislature

PASSES PRIMARY BILL.

After voting solidly along party lines in favor of their substitute, twenty-six Democrats turned in and signed the bill, which was then promised to the people of the state by party conventions and by Gov. Deussen during his ante-election campaign.

The measure was passed by the house without amendment, receiving 112 yeas, while only twenty members voted against it. Of these twenty were Socialists, one was a Prohibitionist and seventeen were downstate Democrats. Fifteen Democratic members from Cook county voted for the bill, and eleven county members of that party put their shoulders to the wheel and gave the bill a strong boost on the way.

Not a single Republican fell by the wayside, eighty-four casting their votes for the bill as agreed upon in the caucus. Daumier, Prohibitionist, and McCheskin, Independent, furnished the other votes, bringing the total up to 112.

The strength manifested in favor of the bill was a surprise to many on the Republican side, who had insisted that it could not pass without the support of the entire Republican forces. Other members of the Democratic staff pledged to the bill and would have given their votes to support it, but they were not asked at any time. It was desired to have the complete Republican support, however, in support of the bill, and the members were lined up.

The bill was called up by unanimous consent by Chairman Rinker of the primary election committee immediately after the reading of the bill, and the bill was then passed by a large majority.

Mr. Rinker (Grundy) introduced a bill providing that convict labor shall be used on materials for the state and its institutions, the printing of a uniform series of school books, the manufacture of school furniture, and such other materials as the board of prison industries shall determine, which shall not interfere with free labor in the open market.

Senator Foster introduced a bill revising the law in regard to habeas corpus, providing that application for a writ shall be made to and entertained by the courts of judges within the judicial circuit where the same has been issued. For this purpose Cook county is regarded as a judicial circuit, the law being amended in that instance of State's Attorney Healy and is intended to correct abuses complained of in Cook county.

Senator Foster introduced a bill revising the law in regard to habeas corpus, providing that application for a writ shall be made to and entertained by the courts of judges within the judicial circuit where the same has been issued. For this purpose Cook county is regarded as a judicial circuit, the law being amended in that instance of State's Attorney Healy and is intended to correct abuses complained of in Cook county.

Senator Foster introduced a bill revising the law in regard to habeas corpus, providing that application for a writ shall be made to and entertained by the courts of judges within the judicial circuit where the same has been issued. For this purpose Cook county is regarded as a judicial circuit, the law being amended in that instance of State's Attorney Healy and is intended to correct abuses complained of in Cook county.

Senator Foster introduced a bill revising the law in regard to habeas corpus, providing that application for a writ shall be made to and entertained by the courts of judges within the judicial circuit where the same has been issued. For this purpose Cook county is regarded as a judicial circuit, the law being amended in that instance of State's Attorney Healy and is intended to correct abuses complained of in Cook county.

Senator Foster introduced a bill revising the law in regard to habeas corpus, providing that application for a writ shall be made to and entertained by the courts of judges within the judicial circuit where the same has been issued. For this purpose Cook county is regarded as a judicial circuit, the law being amended in that instance of State's Attorney Healy and is intended to correct abuses complained of in Cook county.

Senator Foster introduced a bill revising the law in regard to habeas corpus, providing that application for a writ shall be made to and entertained by the courts of judges within the judicial circuit where the same has been issued. For this purpose Cook county is regarded as a judicial circuit, the law being amended in that instance of State's Attorney Healy and is intended to correct abuses complained of in Cook county.

Senator Foster introduced a bill revising the law in regard to habeas corpus, providing that application for a writ shall be made to and entertained by the courts of judges within the judicial circuit where the same has been issued. For this purpose Cook county is regarded as a judicial circuit, the law being amended in that instance of State's Attorney Healy and is intended to correct abuses complained of in Cook county.

Senator Foster introduced a bill revising the law in regard to habeas corpus, providing that application for a writ shall be made to and entertained by the courts of judges within the judicial circuit where the same has been issued. For this purpose Cook county is regarded as a judicial circuit, the law being amended in that instance of State's Attorney Healy and is intended to correct abuses complained of in Cook county.

Senator Foster introduced a bill revising the law in regard to habeas corpus, providing that application for a writ shall be made to and entertained by the courts of judges within the judicial circuit where the same has been issued. For this purpose Cook county is regarded as a judicial circuit, the law being amended in that instance of State's Attorney Healy and is intended to correct abuses complained of in Cook county.

Senator Foster introduced a bill revising the law in regard to habeas corpus, providing that application for a writ shall be made to and entertained by the courts of judges within the judicial circuit where the same has been issued. For this purpose Cook county is regarded as a judicial circuit, the law being amended in that instance of State's Attorney Healy and is intended to correct abuses complained of in Cook county.

Senator Foster introduced a bill revising the law in regard to habeas corpus, providing that application for a writ shall be made to and entertained by the courts of judges within the judicial circuit where the same has been issued. For this purpose Cook county is regarded as a judicial circuit, the law being amended in that instance of State's Attorney Healy and is intended to correct abuses complained of in Cook county.

Senator Foster introduced a bill revising the law in regard to habeas corpus, providing that application for a writ shall be made to and entertained by the courts of judges within the judicial circuit where the same has been issued. For this purpose Cook county is regarded as a judicial circuit, the law being amended in that instance of State's Attorney Healy and is intended to correct abuses complained of in Cook county.

Senator Foster introduced a bill revising the law in regard to habeas corpus, providing that application for a writ shall be made to and entertained by the courts of judges within the judicial circuit where the same has been issued. For this purpose Cook county is regarded as a judicial circuit, the law being amended in that instance of State's Attorney Healy and is intended to correct abuses complained of in Cook county.

Senator Foster introduced a bill revising the law in regard to habeas corpus, providing that application for a writ shall be made to and entertained by the courts of judges within the judicial circuit where the same has been issued. For this purpose Cook county is regarded as a judicial circuit, the law being amended in that instance of State's Attorney Healy and is intended to correct abuses complained of in Cook county.

Senator Foster introduced a bill revising the law in regard to habeas corpus, providing that application for a writ shall be made to and entertained by the courts of judges within the judicial circuit where the same has been issued. For this purpose Cook county is regarded as a judicial circuit, the law being amended in that instance of State's Attorney Healy and is intended to correct abuses complained of in Cook county.

Senator Foster introduced a bill revising the law in regard to habeas corpus, providing that application for a writ shall be made to and entertained by the courts of judges within the judicial circuit where the same has been issued. For this purpose Cook county is regarded as a judicial circuit, the law being amended in that instance of State's Attorney Healy and is intended to correct abuses complained of in Cook county.

Senator Foster introduced a bill revising the law in regard to habeas corpus, providing that application for a writ shall be made to and entertained by the courts of judges within the judicial circuit where the same has been issued. For this purpose Cook county is regarded as a judicial circuit, the law being amended in that instance of State's Attorney Healy and is intended to correct abuses complained of in Cook county.

Senator Foster introduced a bill revising the law in regard to habeas corpus, providing that application for a writ shall be made to and entertained by the courts of judges within the judicial circuit where the same has been issued. For this purpose Cook county is regarded as a judicial circuit, the law being amended in that instance of State's Attorney Healy and is intended to correct abuses complained of in Cook county.

Senator Foster introduced a bill revising the law in regard to habeas corpus, providing that application for a writ shall be made to and entertained by the courts of judges within the judicial circuit where the same has been issued. For this purpose Cook county is regarded as a judicial circuit, the law being amended in that instance of State's Attorney Healy and is intended to correct abuses complained of in Cook county.

DERANGED NERVES

DISTRESSING TROUBLES LEFT BY ST. VITUS AND GRIP.

Woman Afflicted Ten Years by Strange Spells of Numbness and Weakness Recovered Perfect Health.

When she was fourteen years old, Mrs. J. L. Brown had St. Vitus' dance, the final stage of the most noticeable effects of the strange ailment, but was pitted by very uncomfortable sensations, which she recently described as follows:

"One hand, half of my face, and half of my tongue would get cold and numb. These feelings would come on, last for about ten minutes, and then go away, several times a day. Besides, I would have palpitation of the heart, and my strength would get so low that I could hardly breathe. As time went on these spells were coming off more and more, and the numbness would sometimes extend over half my body."

"How did you get rid of them?" "I consulted a doctor, as if I were a child, and he told me that I could not get rid of them. I was not until about six years ago that I found a remedy that had virtue enough in it to reach my case. This was Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and they have since entirely cured me."

"Did it take long to effect a cure?" "Not I didn't take the whole of the first box before I saw a great improvement. So I kept on taking them, growing bolder all the time, until I had taken eight boxes, and then I was perfectly well, and I have remained in good health ever since with one exception."

"What was that?" "Oh! that was when I had the grip. I was in bed, under the doctor's care, for two weeks. When I got up I had dreadful attacks of dizziness. I had to keep hold of something or I would fall right down. I was just miserable, and when I saw the doctor, he was not helping me. I began to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills again. In a short time they cured me that trouble too, and I have never had any dizzy spells since."

"Mrs. Brown lives at No. 1705 D-Witt street, Mattson, Illinois. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are without an equal for the rapid and thorough cure of nervous prostration. The system is so deranged in the system by such diseases as grip and the best of tonics in all cases of weakness. They are sold by every druggist."

How to Cook Rice. Physicians and others who have eaten rice cooked by a Hindoo, or Chinaman, or even a white man, have remarked the difference between the results obtained by these artists and those of the bright cook of the South. We have seen the Hindoo's rice, which the secret lies in the following recipe:

The rice should be carefully washed and placed in a kettle of boiling water, and when it has reached the back of the range over a low fire, where the rice should simmer slowly until done. Straining is not only useless, but harmful. If there is any doubt, it is better to strain off carefully, and the rice should then stand in a hot place for some time.

Nothing should be added during the cooking, not salt, sugar, milk, or butter. If the cooking has been done properly, each grain of rice will stand up by itself, plump, dry and beautiful. Served very hot, it is a delicious dish, and should then be served with a little butter and a little salt, and a little pepper and butter, after which will be revealed to the consumer one of the secrets of the success of the Japanese army—New York Medical Journal.

Doing Great Work.—(Special.)—From all over the West reports come of cures of different forms of Kidney Disease by Dodd's Kidney Pills, and this is not without evidence of the great work the Great American Kidney Remedy is doing.

Among the cures here is Mr. J. V. Waggoner, a well known physician, who has introduced Dodd's Kidney Pills have done wonders for me. My kidneys and bladder were badly out of order. I used many medicines, but got nothing to do me until I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. Two boxes of them fixed me up so that I have been well ever since.

Tell the poor kidney and bladder diseased man to take Dodd's Kidney Pills and get well."

No case of kidney complaint is too far gone for Dodd's Kidney Pills to cure. They are the only remedy that has ever cured Bright's Disease.

Wealthy Lovers of Horticulture. Mrs. Anna Wichtman Walker of Chicago, who has been a successful horticulturist for many years, writes to us that she has just added $2, the same being a prize for the best mushrooms exhibited at the Pennsylvania Horticultural society's show.

She is a millionaire, though not so rich as Mrs. Walker, who is for cultivating to perfection the most prized.

Gallops for Aid. When your stomach is all upset, your liver is bad, your head is out of whack, your head like to split, and every nerve in your body on edge, Dr. J. C. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People will cure you. It clears out your poisoned system, brings fresh clean blood supply to all your digestive organs, and restores to you that comfortable feeling of perfect health. Sold by all druggists at 50c and $1.00 a box. Beware of cheap imitations.

How long a barter would have you arrested if you gave him counterfeit money in payment for his useless law talk.

Notaries' Bonds. Senator Gardner introduced a bill amending the act regarding the appointment of notaries. Provides their bond shall be twenty thousand dollars, to be approved by the judges of the county court.

Notaries' Bonds. Senator Gardner introduced a bill amending the act regarding the appointment of notaries. Provides their bond shall be twenty thousand dollars, to be approved by the judges of the county court.

Notaries' Bonds. Senator Gardner introduced a bill amending the act regarding the appointment of notaries. Provides their bond shall be twenty thousand dollars, to be approved by the judges of the county court.

Notaries' Bonds. Senator Gardner introduced a bill amending the act regarding the appointment of notaries. Provides their bond shall be twenty thousand dollars, to be approved by the judges of the county court.

Notaries

SINKING OF SEVASTOPOL

Russian Battleship's Last Fierce Struggle at Port Arthur.

SPIES BETRAYED HER TO THE JAP

Captain Van Essen Tells How, Encircled by Japanese Torpedo Boats, With Only One Hundred Men, He Fought With His Vessel to the End. Russian Amazed by Enemy's Fearlessness—Incidents of the Siege.

Captain N. O. Von Essen of the Russian navy, who has been paroled by the Japanese government, commanded the battleship Sevastopol during the engagements at Port Arthur. He recently arrived in New York and thus related some of the details of the siege of Port Arthur to a reporter of the New York American.

Before I tell you of the conditions at Port Arthur let me recount my own experience on the Sevastopol, which will give you an idea of what we went through. Before the capture of Two Hundred and Three Meter hill, which was the turning point in the siege, the Japanese had brought up huge guns and for weeks were shelling the harbor at random. You see, they could not tell the position of our ships, so that perhaps only 1 shell out of 200 would do any damage. As it was, we were hit five times, but not greatly crippled.

On Dec. 12 I was notified by General Stoessel that Two Hundred and Three Meter hill had been lost and that this gave the Japanese a vantage point from which they could get up and down movements and direct the fire of their big guns. I determined to leave the harbor, but fortunately, owing to the fact that I was lying behind Liao Tshan hill, the Japanese could get no clear view of my ship, and so for the time being at least I was comparatively safe. They could see only the tops of my masts, but the other ships were in plain view to them. They opened a tremendous cannonade with ten inch guns, and one after the other the big battleships and cruisers listed over and went down in the shallow waters of the harbor. The officers and crews escaped.

On Dec. 17, they concentrated their fire on me, and I saw that I would have to abandon my position. It would have been useless for me to attempt to leave the harbor in the day, so I waited until darkness. The entrance to Port Arthur is very narrow and shallow, so that I had to wait till high tide, which was at midnight. In the blackness of the night we felt our way out and anchored behind the hills which rise abruptly from the sea and which sheltered us completely from the fire of the Japanese.

At that time I had only 100 men on board. Of my total complement of 620, 340 had been killed or wounded or were lying sick at the hospital, and 240 had been sent ashore to reinforce the army in working the batteries.

It was so dark that the Japanese did not see us as we left the harbor. It was two days before they discovered that we had gone. During that time they rained heavy shells, 300 or 400 a day, on the place where we had been. At the end of the second day they were informed of our location by spies. Again they turned their big guns upon us, but owing to our location this did little damage. We were struck by a number of six inch shells, two of which exploded in my cabin, but we were not crippled to any extent. Finding it difficult to reach us from the shore, they sent a swarm of torpedo boats in to attack us.

I had lowered my nets and sent out booms, which gave us excellent protection. The first night twenty torpedo boats came at us from all sides. With the greatest daring they steamed in full speed on, and each launch threw from two to three torpedoes.

I was on the bridge at the time and not only our searchlights, but those of the shore batteries, lit up the sea for miles. Our quick firing guns had been sent ashore, so that we only had our six and ten inch guns to work with, but the men fought them through all that long night until the whole ship shook from their tremendous discharges. I myself saw four Japanese torpedo boats go down from the effect of our shells. Twelve others I learned afterward from reliable sources, were seriously damaged. The Japanese distinguished commander, whose name I do not know, was killed.

Most of the torpedoes discharged at us were caught in our nets and, while they all exploded, they did very little harm. What small damage was inflicted was repaired at once by our divers. Two days afterward they came at us again. Line ahead they passed with in 1,200 yards or less, steaming in perfect order and launching their torpedoes as they went.

Once more we opened fire and beat them off, but again and again they returned to the attack with a fearlessness that I had never before witnessed in all my life. One Japanese torpedo boat was so badly crippled that she became unmanageable, and I signaled to one of our boats to go after her. Unfortunately the men at our guns on shore could not distinguish our small boats from those of the enemy. My own men were exposed to a terrific fire from Stoessel's guns. In spite of this they steamed up to the Japanese torpedo boat only to find that every soul on board had been killed by one of our great shells which had swept it from stem to stern. Our officer, seeing the conditions, backed away, sinking her with torpedoes.

The following night was one of the

BLACK DRAUGHT STOCK & POULTRY MEDICINE

This great stock medicine is a money saver for stock raisers. It is a medicine, not a cheap food or condition powder. Though put up in a powder form than Thelord's Black Draught, it is prepared for the cure of the digestion troubles of persons. It has the same qualities of invigorating digestion, stirring up the hepatic liver and loosening the constipated bowels for all stock and poultry. It is carefully prepared and its action is so healthful that stock grow and thrive with an occasional dose in their food. It cures hog cholera and makes hogs grow fat. It cures chicken cholera and roop and makes hens lay. It cures constipation, diarrhea and colds in horses, murrain in cattle, and makes a draught animal to more work for the food consumed. It gives animals and fowls of all kinds new life. Every farmer and raiser should certainly give it a trial.

It costs 25c. a can and saves ten times its price in profit.

PREPARED, KAN., March 25, 1904.
I have used Thelord's Black Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine on my stock for some time and have seen it make sick stock feed and I have found that yours is the best for my purpose.
J. S. HANSON.

worst that we had. Nothing daunted by their two repulses, the Japanese swarmed in on us again from three sides, letting go torpedoes and firing at us with their machine guns. It was in the midst of a blinding snowstorm, while a heavy fog was whipping the sea until it was almost impossible for the lighter craft to hold their own. Notwithstanding this a small Japanese boat crept up within a few hundred yards of us, sealing in a torpedo which struck the Sevastopol near the stern. It exploded with tremendous force. For a moment I thought that our ship was gone. Soon I realized that we were safe for the time being, but I found later that our steering gear had been badly crippled and that the officers' quarters had been wrecked. The Japanese, feeling that our ship was crippled, left us alone after this. I did the best I could to patch things up. I learned, however, that I could not restore the steering gear so as to give me a chance to escape to the open sea if I had so desired.

In the meantime General Stoessel had sent word to me that he desired me to take command of the batteries on Liao Tshan hill, with orders to hold out the Japanese position day and night. I ran a wire out from my vessel, connecting it with a telephone. This from my quarters on board I not only commanded the Sevastopol, but directed the men ashore. This went on for more than a week, when on Jan. 1 General Stoessel telephoned me that it was all over.

He told me that it was useless to attempt to hold out longer and that he had sent word to the Japanese commander, making an offer of surrender. When I heard this I made up my mind at once that my ship should not fall into the hands of the enemy. I called my officers together, gave them their instructions and took my place on the bridge. Steering slowly with our engines, we headed toward the open sea until we were about a mile offshore, when I gave the order to slow down. Then I gave the order to open the sea valves, and gradually the water began to pour in. As I stood on the bridge I saw the huge hull slowly settle in the water. As she sank gradually the officers and crew left her in our boats, but I remained on deck until I felt her list steadily.

I gave her one last, long look and, going over the side, got into my launch. We steamed away probably 200 yards. When I looked back I saw her list suddenly to the starboard, turn bottom up and go down in thirty fathoms. The Japanese will never get her. She will rest on the bottom of the China sea for all time to come.

After the sinking of the ship we steamed into Port Arthur, where I immediately had an interview with General Stoessel. He told me that he had already arranged the terms of surrender and that the city in a few days was to pass into the hands of the Japanese. He was greatly affected, but declared that there was nothing else left for him to do. When he pointed out the conditions I realized that he was right. The story that he surrendered in spite of his officers is not true. General Stoessel is one of the bravest men in the Russian army, and if there had been any possible chance to hold out longer he would have been the last man to give up.

You cannot imagine the terrible condition of the city. The streets were literally paved up from the rain of great shells from the Japanese guns, more than half the houses were demolished, the hospitals were packed with sick and wounded, many of the officers and men had not slept more than four hours a day for weeks, and what little provisions were left were of inferior quality and rapidly appearing scarce. General Stoessel explained that he considered that it would be simply torturous to hold out longer. I agreed with him, and today I cannot but admire what he did.

After the surrender and before the Japanese took possession of the city I made a round of the new town, the docks and some of the fortifications. In the forts I found that the guns had been overturned, the carriages smashed and the hillside torn up as if by an earthquake. Nobody will ever know how many thousands and thousands of shells, hundreds of thousands, I should say, had been poured in upon our soldiers during all these long weeks, until

YOU FORGET that you ever had SORE LUNGS when you take that world-renowned remedy that ALWAYS CURES THE WORST COUGHS AND COLDS DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY FOR CONSUMPTION

J. O. EDGE, of Hanson, Ky., writes: "My little daughter had Bronchitis in a severe form, and after trying other remedies and doctors without relief tried DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY. The first dose relieved her and in two or three days she was entirely well."

Trial Bottles Free FULLY GUARANTEED! Large Bottles 50c and $1 SOLD AND RECOMMENDED BY

It was almost beyond human endurance to hold the positions. The medical supplies had almost disappeared. 12,000 men had been killed or wounded and thousands more were sick.

Nor must I forget the women. Led by General Stoessel's wife, they had worked as faithfully as the men. Among them were many widows whose husbands had been killed in action or had died of sickness, but they toiled day after day, acting as nurses and tending to the wants of those who were unable to take care of themselves.

General Stoessel's wife brought away from Port Arthur with her twenty orphan children of her husband's officers, and I understand that she is taking them all back to Russia with her.

This war has taught us a great many new lessons. Europe had no idea of the strength of the Japanese; they are magnificent fighters—brave, determined and efficient in all that is best in military science. Their soldiers I do not believe have any superiors in the world.

Many of French Dancing Masters. French dancing masters have formed a Societe Academique des Professeurs de Danse de France. The director of the association is Professor Desrat, who proposes, with his colleagues, to run the ballet in opposition to the "exotic and inartistic terpsichorean movements" borrowed from the black people of Santo Domingo and elsewhere, "alias the cakewalk."

New Orleans' First Apartment House. Building operations to the extent of about $1,200,000 were completed during 1904, including an apartment house, says the Manufacturers' Record, the first of its kind in New Orleans.

The cowboy element is in no danger of fading out of American life through race suicide, according to recent statistics of Cupid's doings in the great range districts. It seems that no fewer than 4,500 white men have taken Sioux brides. Why dusky belles are chosen in preference to jolefsaws is a nut for sociologists to crack. But there seems to be no reason other than a purely social one why Indians and whites should not intermarry. The Indians have been subjugated and are, in a sense, a subject race. In the past, however, Indian blood has made many strong characters among the whites. Since they have no social future, the Indians may be doomed to degeneracy. Inter-marriage might prevent total decay and preserve what was best in the once noble red man.

A proposition of the New York restaurant proprietors to do away with music at the dinner hour sits up discussion as to the relation between music and digestion. The restaurant keepers doubtless took no thought beyond furnishing a novel attraction for patrons. Whether the consumption of food or injured digestion or both combined built up custom, the caterers didn't stop to inquire. If the music no longer pays, as alleged, and has to go the interest of good digestion would be served by sending surly waiters and tip hands into exile too.

The perfect railroad has yet to be constructed. What is called the "creeping" of the track is an evil which railway men are trying to surmount, says the Railway Age. Rails creep with the direction of the traffic, except on heavy grades. They creep faster under fast traffic or heavy loads than they do under slow or light traffic. Among the prime causes are short rails, isolated supports, inefficient spikes, insufficient splices.

Thirty Minnesota as Wolf Baiters. From the number of applications for wolf bounties which come from localities comparatively well settled it is reasoned that in some portions of Minnesota, says the St. Paul Pioneer-Press, wolves are being raised simply for the purpose of killing them after they become full grown in order to get the $7.50 bounty which the state gives for each carcass. "I am inclined to add a state official," that there are Indians in the northern counties who understand the value of a wolf carcass as well as does their pale faced brother. There is no doubt that they raise wolves for the bounty. It is stated that the bounties paid show that wolves are on the increase instead of decreasing.

The Review

is in every sense of the word a home newspaper. It prints the local news. No household is complete without it.

$1.50 a year

is the subscription price. If you wish to keep posted as to happenings in the villages of Barrington, Palatine, Wauconda, Lake Zurich and vicinity, also news of the state

Subscribe Now

If you are in need of any description of good, up-to-date Job Printing make your wants known to us and we will gladly quote you prices that are right.

Ayer's Pills

Want your moustache or beard a beautiful brown or rich black? Use BUCKINGHAM'S DYE

Keep them in the house. Take one when you feel bilious or dizzy. They act directly on the liver.

LAMEY & COMPANY

Dealers in Building Material, Paints, Oils, Glass, Tile and Cement. Barrington, - - Illinois.

Use H. & M. Paints. The Best.

—"Yes!"
—"Yes!"
—"Very enjoyable; I saw an interesting account of it in last evening's Post."
—"Didn't you?"
—"Well, why don't you read The Chicago Evening Post?"

MAPLE CITY

MONMOUTH ILLINOIS

THE BEST SOAP IS THE CHEAPEST. You catch the point don't you?

Is Your Time Money

If so you ought to appreciate anything that will help you save it.

The best way to save time is to have a Chicago Telephone

Cost but 5 cents a day

CHICAGO TELEPHONE COMPANY

INAUGURAL ADDRESS OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

Short Speech Delivered by Chief Executive After Taking the Oath of Office—Our Duties as a Nation to the World and to Ourselves.

After taking the oath of office during the inauguration ceremonies at Washington, March 4, President Roosevelt delivered the following speech:

My Fellow Citizens: No people on earth have more cause to be thankful than ours, and this is said reverently, in no spirit of boastfulness in our own strength, but with gratitude to the Giver of Good, who has blessed us with the conditions which have enabled us to achieve so large a measure of well-being and of happiness. To us as a people it has been granted to lay the foundations of our national life in a new continent. We are the heirs of the ages, and yet we have had to pay for the perils which in old countries are exacted by the dead hand of a tyrannical civilization. We have not been obliged to fight for our existence against any alien race; yet yet our life has called for the vision and effort without which the maelstrom and harder storms wither away. Under such conditions it would be our own fault if we failed; and the success which we have had in the past, the success which we confidently believe the future will bring, should cause in us no feeling of complacency, but rather a deep and abiding realization of all which life has offered us; a full acknowledgment of the responsibility which is ours; and a fixed determination to show that under a free government a mighty people can thrive best, alike as regards the things of the body and the things of the soul.

Much has been given to us, and much will rightly be expected from us. We have duties to others and duties to ourselves; and we can shrink neither. We have become a great nation, forced by the fact of its creation into relations with the other nations of the earth; and we must have as becomes a people with such responsibilities. Toward all nations, large and small, our attitude

WHAT THEY SAY.

It is not often, in these busy times that we can take the opportunity to comment favorably upon things in general which come to our attention and appeal to us in a satisfactory way. We give thanks, too often, perfunctorily, not meaning what we say. This, however, was not at all the spirit in which the following letter, recently written to a ticket agent of the Rock Island System:

"Los Angeles, Calif., Jan. 1906. Dear Mr. —: I arrived here Saturday safely and enjoyed my trip very much on the Golden State Limited. All of our party noted this train the finest that they have ever traveled upon. The accommodations were first class in every respect—the Sleepers, the Observation Car, the Dining, the Buffet-lounge smoker, with bath and barber could not have been improved upon. The entire train crew were gentlemen and very obliging—doing all they could to make everybody comfortable and feel at home. I shall try to get my friends and relatives to take this train when coming to California."

Mr. John Sebastian, passenger traffic manager, singles this out as one of the many commendatory letters that have been received in his office. The Golden State Limited is maintaining first place among transcontinental limited trains.

No Money in Making War. Of old there was a mistaken impression that a nation could grow rich on the spoils of war; but few persons harbor that delusion today. It is now clearly understood that war means a diminution of the general prosperity. As the trade of the world is increasing by leaps and bounds, the practical sense of mankind looks for a more peaceful and prosperous world. The world of a nation can be augmented faster by selling goods than by stealing them, and the mass of men see this quite clearly. Commerce is a safe pacifier. There is no place in its scheme for the unscrupulous passions of men. No matter how selfish its ends they are best subverted by good temper and an absence of violence.—Boston Post

YELLOW CRUST ON BABY

Would Crack Open and Scab Causing Terrible Itching—Cured by Cuticura.

"Our baby had a yellow crust on his head which I could not keep away. When I thought I had succeeded in getting his head clear, it would start again by the crown of his head, crack and scale, and cause terrible itching. We got Cuticura Soap and Ointment, washed the scalp with the soap and then applying the Ointment. A few treatments made a complete cure. I have advised a number of mothers to use Cuticura, when I have been asked about the same ailment of their babies. Mrs. John Borce, Pine Bush, N. Y."

Disraeli's Oldest Tenant. Thomas Coates, the late Lord Bessborough's oldest tenant, died at Highbury, Buckinghamshire, Feb. 6, at the advanced age of 88. He had had the closest relations with the great Conservative statesman, who frequently consulted him on agricultural questions, and the deceased had many interesting reminiscences about the earl. He remembered innumerable visits to Highbury, including the late duke of Wellington. Mr. Coates last Easter resigned his churchwardenship for Highbury, which he had held for nearly half a century.—London Standard

Every housekeeper should know that if they will buy Defiance Cold Water Starch for laundry use they will save not only time, because it never sticks to the iron, but because each package contains 16 oz.—one full pound—while all other Cold Water Starches are put up in 4-pound packages, and the price is the same, 19 cents. Then again because Defiance Starch is free from all injurious chemicals. If your grocer tries to sell you a 12-oz. package 1, it is because he has a stock on hand which he wishes to dispose of before he puts in Defiance. He knows that Defiance Starch has printed on every package in large letters and figures "16 oz." Demand Defiance and save much time and money and the annoyance of the iron sticking. Defiance never sticks.

"Webster's New Standard Dictionary" of the English language, known as the latest revised encyclopedic edition, is excellent enough to stand on its own merits. It not only contains the latest and most correct terms, scientific or erudite, but hundreds of new words now appearing for the first time in a dictionary. The arrangement has been carefully made in order to facilitate ready reference to the spelling, pronunciation, definition, etymology and proper use of all words. The work should meet with the approval of teachers, students, literary workers and the public in general (Herald & Lee Chicago)

Young Roosevelt is Hurt. Washington dispatch: Theodore Roosevelt, it is reported to be moving in a broken nose, and it is said the injury is the result of a contact with a new boxing instructor recently introduced to the white house.

DEATH ENDS THEIR HONEYMOON

Couple Write Letters to Friends and Husband Complicates Tragedy. Tulsa, I. T., special: Will H. Nees, aged 25, of this city, shot and killed his wife, Edith Nees, 21, who was in this city. At the inquest it developed that the tragedy had been planned, as both had written letters direct to their friends, should anything happen to their personal affairs. They were married Sunday, Feb. 25, at Longton, Kan., and returned Friday from their honeymoon trip.

REPORT FAVORS MEAT PACKERS

Commissioner Garfield Fails to Find Proof of Existence of Beef Trust.

DECLARES PROFITS ARE SMALL

Make Less Than 2 Per Cent on Total Sales, Although Six Leading Concerns Slaughter 45 Per Cent of Cattle.

Chicago dispatch: Commissioner Garfield's report on the dressed meat industry, which was transmitted to congress by President Roosevelt Friday, will not interfere with the grand jury investigation into the operations of the packers, to commence in Chicago March 20, according to Assistant United States District Attorney Charles H. Morrison.

Mr. Garfield, as commissioner of operations, reported the result of his inquiries into the business of Armour & Co., Swift & Co., Nelson Morris & Co., the National Packing Company, the Schwanbach & Schlenger Company and the Cudahy Packing Company. He says these six concerns in 1902 slaughtered about 45 per cent of the total indicated slaughter, in the United States; that for three of the companies in 1902 the average net profit was 50 cents per head; that the year 1902 instead of being one of extraordinary profits was less profitable than usual; that during the months when prices of beef were the highest some at least of the leading packers were losing money on every head slaughtered.

Profits Are Modest.

The report declares that the changes in the margin between prices of cattle and beef are in themselves no indication of the changes in profits. Mr. Garfield, after reviewing prices and conditions for 1902, 1903 and 1904, concludes that the six companies whose names apparently are not overcapitalized and the percentage of profit on the gross volume of business is comparatively small.

He finds that in 1902, 1903 and 1904 the profit of Swift & Co. averaged 2 per cent of the total sales.

Private Car Lines Pay.

Private car lines are shown to be sources of profit, a net return of 14 to 17 per cent being indicated, but Mr. Garfield adds that computed on a basis of the dressed beef transported this profit would increase but little the price of meat to the consumer.

While the six concerns named slaughtered but 45 per cent of the total cattle killed in 1902, it is shown that they slaughtered nearly 98 per cent of all the cattle killed in eight of the sixteen packing centers. They furnish New York about 55 per cent of the beef it consumes, Boston more than 85 per cent, Philadelphia about 60 per cent, Pittsburgh more than 60 per cent and Baltimore 50 per cent.

Commissioner Garfield reports his inability to find any general interlocking stock interests, including concerns which he specially discusses and avers that there is lively competition among them for business.

Report in Brief.

Commissioner Garfield's report is summarized in the following: Existence of a "beef trust" is denied. Packers' profits less than 2 per cent of total sales.

Six leading packing concerns slaughter but 45 per cent of total number of cattle killed in the United States.

Private car lines found to be profitable, but net returns of 14 to 22 per cent up from this source do not greatly increase price of beef to consumer.

Six big packing concerns slaughter nearly 98 per cent of beef killed in chief packing centers of west, 75 per cent in New York, 45 per cent in Philadelphia and about 60 per cent in other eastern cities.

Keen competition among great packing concerns for business.

District Attorney Loss Fees. Washington dispatch: The provision that in no case except in the District of Columbia shall United States district attorneys receive fees and fixing the salary of the district attorney at New York at $10,000, remains in force. The bill also retains the provision for paying actual expenses not to exceed $10 a day to judges of the court of appeals for travel and attending sessions away from their homes.

Young Roosevelt is Hurt.

Washington dispatch: Theodore Roosevelt, it is reported to be moving in a broken nose, and it is said the injury is the result of a contact with a new boxing instructor recently introduced to the white house.

DEATH ENDS THEIR HONEYMOON

Couple Write Letters to Friends and Husband Complicates Tragedy. Tulsa, I. T., special: Will H. Nees, aged 25, of this city, shot and killed his wife, Edith Nees, 21, who was in this city. At the inquest it developed that the tragedy had been planned, as both had written letters direct to their friends, should anything happen to their personal affairs. They were married Sunday, Feb. 25, at Longton, Kan., and returned Friday from their honeymoon trip.

Many Persons Have Catarrh of Kidneys, Or Catarrh of Bladder and Don't Know It.

President Newhof and War Correspondent Richards Were Promptly Cured By Pe-ru-na.

Mr. C. R. Newhof, 10 Delaware street, Albany, N. Y., President Montefiore Club, writes:

"Since my advanced age I find that I have been frequently troubled with urinary ailments. The bladder seemed irritated, and my physician said that it was catarrh caused by a protracted cold which would be difficult to overcome on account of my advanced years. I took Peruna, hardly daring to believe that I would be helped, but I found to my relief that I soon began to mend. The irritation gradually subsided and the urinary difficulties passed away. I have enjoyed excellent health now for the past seven months. I enjoy my meals, sleep soundly, and am as well as I was ten years ago. I give all praise to Peruna."—C. R. Newhof.

Suffered From Catarrh of Kidneys, Threatened With Nervous Collapse, Cured By Pe-ru-na.

Mr. F. B. Richards, 609 E. Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., War Correspondent, writes: "Exactly six years ago I was ordered to Cuba as staff correspondent of the New York Times. I was in charge of a Cuban dispatch boat through the Spanish war zone, and a complete strain showed plainly on my return to the states. Languid, depressed, the verge of melancholia, and incessant kidney trouble made me practically an invalid. This undesirable condition continued, despite the best of treatment. Finally a brother newspaperman, who like myself had served in the war, induced me to give a faithful trial to Peruna. I did so. In a short time the lassitude left my kidneys resumed a healthy condition, and a complete cure was effected. I cannot too strongly recommend Peruna to those suffering with kidney trouble. Today I am able to work as hard as at any time in my life, and the examiner for a leading insurance company pronounced me an 'A' risk."

In Poor Health Over Four Years. Pe-ru-na Only Remedy of Real Benefit.

Mr. John Nimmo, 215 Lippincott, St. Toronto, Can., a prominent merchant of that city and also a member of the Masonic order, writes: "I have been in poor health generally for over four years. When I caught a bad cold last winter it settled in the bladder and kidneys, causing serious trouble. I took two greatly advertised kidney remedies without getting the desired results. Peruna is the only remedy which was really of any benefit to me. I have not had a trace of kidney trouble nor a cold in my system."

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotics of any kind. Peruna is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. Peruna does not produce temporary results. It is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh. There are a multitude of homes where Peruna has been used of and on for twenty years. Such a thing could not be possible if Peruna contained any drugs of a narcotic nature.

Say Plainly to Your Grocer

That you want LION COFFEE always, and he, being a square man, will not try to sell you anything else. You may not care for our opinion, but

What About the United Judgment of Millions of housekeepers who have used LION COFFEE for over a quarter of a century?

Is there any stronger proof of merit, than the Confidence of the People and ever increasing popularity?

LION COFFEE is carefully selected at the plantation, shipped direct to our various factories, where it is skillfully roasted and carefully packed in sealed packages, unlike loose coffee, which is exposed to germs, dust, insects, etc. LION COFFEE reaches you as pure and clean as when it left the factory. Sold only in 1 lb. packages.

Lionhead on every package. Save these Lion-heads for valuable premiums.

SOLD BY GROCERS EVERYWHERE

WOOLSON SPICE CO., Toledo, Ohio.

A LAND SLIDE IN FAVOR OF THE UPPER PENINSULA OF MICHIGAN

Will Be Your Decision, if You Are a Homeseeker and Will Give This Northern Agricultural, Stock and Dairy Region a Fair Examination.

There is absolutely no better undeveloped farming region in the United States or Canada than that of the Upper South Shore & Atlantic Railway in Northern Michigan. The climate is excellent, the soil is productive, the land is well watered, there is a fine harbor, and the region is well supplied with ample transportation facilities. There are thousands of acres of vacant land.

IT IS INDEED A LAND OF PROMISE

For full particulars address

E. W. McPHERRAN, Land Commissioner, D. S. & A. Ry. MARQUETTE, MICH.

32 YEARS SELLING DIRECT

We are the largest manufacturers of vehicles and harness in the world selling direct to consumer, exclusive.

We Have No Agents

but sell direct to you, guaranteeing safe delivery. You are not buying from a middleman, you are buying from the manufacturer. We make 20 years of experience in the manufacture of vehicles and harness. Our quality is guaranteed. We have 1000 employees. We are located at 1211 Centre Street, Chicago, Ill.

Elkhart Carriage & Harness Mfg. Co., Elkhart, Indiana.

Inaugurated March 4, 1905.

must be one of cordial and sincere friendship. We must show not only in our words but in our deeds that we are earnestly desirous of securing their good will by acting toward them in a spirit of just and generous recognition of all their rights. But justice and generosity in a nation, as in an individual, count most when shown not by the weak but by the strong. While ever careful to refrain from wronging others, we must be no less insistent that we are not wronged ourselves. We wish peace; but we wish the peace of justice, the peace of righteousness. We wish it because we think it is right and just, because we are afraid. No weak nation that acts manfully and justly should ever have cause to fear us, and no strong power should ever be able to single us out as a subject for insolent aggression.

Our relations with the other powers of the world are important, but still more important are our relations among ourselves. Such growth in wealth, in population, and in power as this nation has seen during the cen-

Thinks "Dem-Hur" Great Book. Asst. At. General, Mr. Henry C. Rogers, in charge of the work of the United States Department of the Interior, has applied to the publisher of "Dem-Hur" for a review of the work. Mr. Rogers has written a number of articles, including a review of "Dem-Hur" in the "Dem-Hur" itself. It is his opinion that there is not for just such a book as "Dem-Hur" which is so well as "Dem-Hur" which is the most interesting and interesting book of this year in the English church of which he is a member.

Everybody "Practical" Now. "We" the "Practical" age, are marked a West Philadelphia. "For years I've noticed the sign of a man who adheres to the practical basis of life. A West Philadelphia 'Practical' has been blown down to a practical basis. Napoleon always showed himself. I always thought I proved him either over-optimistic or over-cautious, but neither it was because these who believed the razor were so practical in those days. The sign of the practical troubler is to get up."—Philadelphia Record.

Every body has its thorn, certainly, but that is no reason why one should forever be pricking his fingers on the thorn.

All Up-to-Date Housekeepers use Defiance Cold Water Starch, because it is better, and it costs more of it for same money. They buy Defiance Starch. Requires no cooking.

He who has no character is not a man; he is a thing.—Chamfort.

Barrington Local Happenings Told in Short Paragraphs

Friday, March 10, 1905

The snow has melted from the street. The mud is very deep. The springtime comes with dancing feet.

She awakens from her sleep. We smell it near, we smell it far. The scent of that campaign clear.

Minstrel at local night.

Additional local on page 4.

Salvation Army at the M. E. church.

Minstrel at Old Fellows' hall to-morrow evening.

Conrad Seip of Chicago was a guest at A. B. Giese Sunday.

Chris Hartz and family will occupy the Bismarck cottage on Elia street.

Miss Pauline Clausen of Palatine visited with friends here Wednesday.

Rev. F. N. Lapham contributes an article which will be found on page 4.

Barrington township caucus at the village hall, Friday afternoon March 11.

Have you paid your taxes? Remember the books close tomorrow afternoon.

J. E. Hollister has been serving on circuit court jury at Waukegan this week.

Lester Webster is again employed by Charles Hober at his Honey Lake home.

Cuba township caucus Saturday March 12, at 2 o'clock at the Lamey building.

Henry Gatschalk, employee of the Barrington Laundry enjoyed a vacation this week.

Miss Jessie Austin of Chicago was the guest of Miss Alta Powers the first of the week.

Mrs. Edith McCarthy, formerly Miss Edith Wollaver, of Chicago, spent the week here.

Wright Kilton of Chicago was the guest of his brother James Kilton a few days this week.

Hyland Hawley is slowly recovering from a severe illness, but still unable to leave the house.

The Lenten season opened Wednesday and was ushered in by most acceptable spring weather.

Mrs. William Thorp has been in Chicago the past week called there by the illness of her mother.

The funeral of John Catlow was held Monday morning at the M. E. church. Rev. Lapham officiating.

Miss and Mrs. John Stemple of Arlington Heights visited at the home of G. H. Landwer, Thursday.

Invitations are out for a "Married People's Dance" to be given at the Village hall this Friday evening.

Frank West, of Waukegan, representing the Western Co. company, paid this section a visit Thursday.

For Rent—House keeping or sleeping room in the Lamey building. Inquire of Miss M. Lamey or at this office.

The Thursday club will meet next week at the home of Mrs. Luella Austin, 1329 Perry street, Bismarck.

The "devils" of this office wish to return their thanks to Miss Genevieve Fletcher for a supply of delicious ice cream.

Knight of the Globe will hold a business meeting next Monday evening. All members are requested to attend.

The Medicine show has departed but we have the Salvation Army and a company of minstrels to relieve the monotony.

Benjamin Neumann of Minneapolis, Minn., called on his parents Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Neumann at Honey Lake, Tuesday.

M. T. Lamey, supervisor of Cuba township, has been attending a session of the Lake county board at Waukegan this week.

John Allen, residing on the Fox river road, has been very ill for some weeks past and his condition is still regarded as serious.

The board of education expects to finish consideration of the bids and award the contracts for the new school building tomorrow.

Now trot out your personal preference for township and village officers.

Every citizen has the right to aspire for political preferment.

Special meetings every night at 7:30 in the M. E. church, conducted by the Salvation Army Brigade with Adjutant Albrecht as leader.

Marriage license was issued Tuesday to James H. Allen and Margaret Marvin of Barrington township. The groom is 20 and the bride 26.

Paul Hawley says: "Of course it is hard to believe, but the old timers tell me I was considered a god damned handsome baby along about the time I was teething."

Many readers have no doubt struggled over the pronunciation of the Japanese physical training system "Jiu Jitsu," the correct form of which is spelled "Jiu Jitsu."

Sunday afternoon at 3:30 there will be a general meeting of the M. E. church, to which all are most cordially invited. This meeting will also be under the charge of the Salvation Army.

Miss Grace Young, who has filled an engagement with "His Highness the Reg" company at LaSalle theatre Chicago, the past winter, is visiting her father Wm. Young, at the James Allen farm.

The bowling contest on Furber's alley, which has attracted friends of the sport for sometime, will close to-morrow evening. Ernest West, E. E. Edward Martin, second, Roy Meyer and Bert Houghtaling tied for third place.

Suppl has captured one of the most stubborn of Barrington's bachelor colony and by this time next week unless the lady reconsiders the matter he will be a Benedict lacking in the seventh heaven of matrimonial bliss.

In another column Arnett C. Lines announces his candidacy for the office of police magistrate. Arnett received preliminary training for the primary duties of the position at the hands of M. C. McInnis, ex-magistrate, acting as his clerk.

Some people are never satisfied. A number of our citizens were not happy until they purchased several packages of German Herbs and now they are not satisfied because the medicine has not dissipated and removed from them a parasite 25 feet or more in length.

The regular meeting of the Cook County Teachers' Association will be held in the Association Auditorium, corner LaSalle street and Avenue C, Saturday, March 11, at 10:30 a. m. Dr. J. Paul Goode, of the University of Chicago, will address the meeting, subject "Chicago a City of Destiny."

Mayflower Camp, R. N. A., will give an entertainment at Woodman hall, Monday evening March 20, to celebrate the tenth anniversary of the organization of the Royal Neighbors of America. Woodmen and their wives and Royal Neighbors and their husbands are invited to this entertainment.

Rev. Robert Kelley, the present pastor of the Baptist church here, is winning a large circle of admirers by his excellent pulpit talks. Like his predecessor, Rev. Garth, Rev. Kelly is a young man, a thorough student of theology and discusses topics of interest to both old and young. He is not of the old Elder Knapp school of Baptists, but a twenty century advocate of Christ's teachings.

Don't Forget the Day

Miss Emmert will be at Dr. Richardson's Thursday, March 16.

Mrs. H. F. Landwer, of Barrington, says: "A year ago Miss Emmert fitted me with a pair of glasses which have entirely overcome an almost constant nervous sick headache of which I suffered greatly. Money could not buy them from me."

Miss Fletcher Entertains.

One of the most pleasant events of the season was a party given by Miss Genevieve Fletcher to twenty four members of the younger set of ladies and gentlemen, at Schaefer's hall, Tuesday evening.

The main feature of the evening's pleasure was a chess which was played by all present. Prizes were awarded as follows: Ladies', first, Miss Rose Lock; second Miss Alta Powers; booby, Miss Grace Otis. Gentlemen's first, Arthur Gleason; second Arnett Lines; consolation, Verne Hawley.

A delightful dinner was prepared and served by Mrs. E. M. Fletcher, and included many delicacies.

In Justice Court.

A case of more than ordinary interest was heard before Justice Court Morrison Tuesday and attracted quite an audience of farmers and other employers of labor.

August Schwemm, a farm hand lately employed by E. L. Wollaver a farmer near Dundee, brought suit to recover wages and a sum deducted from his wages for the payment of repairs to a wagon damaged while in his care.

The plaintiff was represented by L. H. Bennett, and the defendant by F. W. Castle of Chicago.

While the plaintiff was employed by the defendant, and unloading milk at a farmer's house, the horses ran away and damaged the wagon to the extent of $8.50. When the defendant paid the plaintiff his wages for January, he deducted the amount of the bill for repairs. The plaintiff continued to work for the defendant until some days when he quit, before the expiration of his contract and demanded the sum due for 20 days' work and the $8.50 deducted.

This the defendant refused to pay, but offered a check for the labor alone which was refused. Hence the suit.

The question rested on the liability for damages by the employee and his leaving before the expiration of his contract.

The court decided that the plaintiff was entitled to recover the amount due for his labor during the 20 days, but not to recover the $8.50 deducted for repairs to the wagon as the damages were from his intention to quit and further for the reason that he had accepted without protest the deduction from his January wages and continued to work for the defendant, stating to him no grievance until final settlement.

The plaintiff was given a judgement for $17 and costs of suit.

Shadow Social.

A shadow social will be given by the pupils of the Waite school, Wednesday, March 15, to which all are cordially invited. The ladies will provide the baskets and treat.

After a short program the ladies' shadow show will be auctioned to the highest bidder, who gets the shadow and the substance (the basket). Proceeds for the library fund.

Strikes Hidden Rocks.

When your ship of health strikes the hidden rocks of Consumption, Pneumonia, etc., you are lost, if you don't get help from Dr. King's New Discovery for J. W. McKinnon, of Tallahassee, Fla., writes: "I had been very ill with Pneumonia, and was on the verge of death, but was getting no better when I began to take Dr. King's New Discovery. The first dose gave relief, and one bottle cured me." Sure cure for sore throat, bronchitis, coughs and colds. Guaranteed at Barrington Pharmacy price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Won the Diamond.

The German Medicine company which visited this village some days ago, awarded a very pretty diamond ring to the lady receiving the highest number of votes in a voting contest.

Votes were given with each package of medicine sold and also with work done by the dentist and prescriptions compounded by the doctor.

There were a number of entries at the start but the contest finally narrowed down to Miss Edna Houghtling, Mrs. Geo. Foreman and Miss Louise Rieck. The first two named kept close together up to the final count when some 1200 votes were deposited for Miss Rieck and the prize awarded to her.

For Police Magistrate.

I wish to announce myself as a candidate for the office of Police Magistrate subject to the village caucus.

ARNEIT C. LINES.

Lost—Bunch of keys, attached to silver chain, on R. F. D. route No. 1. Liberal reward if returned to S. L. Landwer or this office.

Some people worry because they are unable to find out things that would worry them still more.

READ THIS.

Clayton, Ill., Aug. 23, 1901. This is to certify that I have been cured of kidney and bladder trouble. Less than one bottle of the Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, did the work. I also know of a boy 12 years old who was cured of bed wetting by the use of it. I can fully recommend it to the public.

I. M. BROWN.

A Texas Wonder.

One small bottle of the Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, cures all kidney and bladder troubles, removes gravel, cures diabetes, seminal emissions, weak and lame backs, rheumatism and all irregularities of the kidneys and bladder in both men and women; regulates bladder troubles in children. If not sold by your drug store, it will be sent by mail on receipt of $1. One small bottle is two months' treatment and seldom fails to perfect a cure. Dr. W. H. Hall, sole manufacturer, P. O. Box 629 St. Louis, Mo. Send for testimonials. Sold by all druggists.

I. O. O. F. Elects Officers

Barrington Lodge I. O. O. F., held its semi-annual election of officers last evening. Roy Meyer was elected to the noble grand's chair, C. C. Groff chosen vice grand, and W. H. Voss re-elected treasurer for one year. Five trustees were chosen for the ensuing year.

Win. Tonne has announced himself as a candidate for the office of collector for Elia township. Mr. Tonne is a popular young man and will undoubtedly receive good support.

Incredible Brutality.

It would have been incredible brutality if Chas. F. Lemberger, of Syracuse, N. Y., had not done the best he could for his suffering son. "My son," he says, "cut a fearful gash over his eye, so I applied Backlen's Arnica Salve, which quickly healed it and saved his eye. Good for burns and ulcers too. Only 25c at Barrington Pharmacy.

If you are not a subscriber to the home paper you ought to be. Now is the time to subscribe.

C. F. Hall Co. March Sales.

Special waist values reduced from $1.25 to 25c and 50c. Child's tennies damask night gowns 25c. Fifty ladies' dark colored tailor suits, well made, handsomely trimmed, and perfect in every way, choice $2.95. Girls' mislin skirts, lace trimmed, 15c. Ladies' 25c fleeced drawers now 10c. Children's 5 to 8, all solid Dongola kid shoes 95c. Ladies' strictly all solid shoes 95c. Boys' every day suits, sizes 10 to 14, clearing sale prices 75c, 85c, $1.25. Boys' colored shirts, with 2 collars, 25c cents.

SKIRT VALUES.

Great spring sale, Ladies' all wool dress skirts reduced to 95c, $1.00. Boys' confirmation suits, much larger assortment than we have ever before shown.

5 AND 10 CENT STORE.

Visit this store just opened on our second floor, 300 1/2 St. Stephen street, Barrington. Ladies' plated shoes, C. C. pots, Pavers or Fowler racks 10 cents. Enamelled dippers, stew pans, wash basins, etc., 10c. Full size washboard, dish pan or water pail 10c. Nothing over 10c on sale.

Trade show and show round trip R. R. ticket and we refund your car fare both ways.

C. F. HALL CO., Dundee, Ill.

Tax Books Close March 11.

I will be at the office of Lamey & Co., Barrington, to-morrow to receive taxes for the town of Cuba. Saturday March 11, is positively the last day for payment of taxes to the collector.

E. W. RILEY, Collector.

Notice.

All persons holding road warrants on the treasurer of the commissioners of highways, Cuba township, are requested to present same for payment at once. No interest will be paid after March 15th.

Geo. J. HAGER, Treasurer.

Announcements.

Collector.

At the solicitation of many friends I hereby announce myself as a candidate for collector of the township of Barrington at the coming caucus.

STEVEN J. PALMER.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for collector for the township of Barrington and solicit the support of the voters of the township.

FRANK A. DOWMEYER.

I desire to announce myself as a candidate for the office of collector of the town of Barrington and solicit the support of the voters of the township.

J. F. HOLLISTER.

I am a candidate for the office of collector of the town of Cuba and ask the support of the voters of the township at the caucus.

HENRY KIRKSE.

For Sale Cheap—One Eldridge and one Wheeler & Wilson sewing machine. These machines are new and will be shipped direct from the factory. Call or address this office.

Wanted—Man and wife for hotel work. Man must understand horses and be handy with tools. Woman for general house work and to be a fair cook. Address, G. P. Renahan, Hainesville, P. O. Lake county, Illinois. 2t

Settlers' one-way second-class rate to Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota including Black Hills District, Wyoming, Manitoba, Western Ontario, Saskatchewan and Assiniboia via the North-Western line, on Tuesdays, March 7, 14, 21 and 28, and April 4, 11, 18 and 25, 1905. For tickets and full information apply to agents Chicago & North-Western R'y.

Subscribe for the home paper.

DANIEL F. LAMEY

BIG VALUES

50 lb. sack Family Flour - $1.15

3 lb. can Best Tomatoes only 10c

13c can Fancy Table Corn only 10c

13c can Fancy Table Peas only 10c

Bourbon Flakes Bkfst Food pkg 10c

45c Japan Tea per pound 35c

Java and Mocha 35c Coffee only 28c

Java and Mocha 35c Coffee only 28c

Fancy Table Syrup per gallon only 35c

Barrington Hall, 10c steel-cut Coffee 35c

Lamey's 1 lb. can Gold Medal Bkg P'der 25c

14c Best stove gasoline, gallon, 11c

Wall Paper

We must now start in and clean up our Wall Paper stock as we have bought heavily for Spring trade. We make you pretty Parlor paper for 6, 7, 7 1/2c and 8c per roll. Bring us measurement of your rooms and we will give you estimate cost and save you money.

Window Shades

Floor Linoleums, Floor Oil Cloths.

We make window shades to fit any size window. Floor linoleums for any size floor. Matings at 18, 20 and 25c per yard.

Cotton Dress Goods

Let us sell you Cotton dress goods. Our prices are low—5, 6, 7, 8, 10c per yard.

Fine Shoes

We are making big sales in Ladies' fine dress shoes. This week a big bargain in $2.50 value, our price only $1.50.

Daniel F. Lamey, BARRINGTON, ILL.

Barrington Pharmacy

L. A. JONES, R.Ph., Manager
Barrington, Illinois.

Drugs, School Books, School Supplies, Stationery.

OUR SPECIALTIES

Flavoring Extracts, made on honor.

Jones' Jichi Toilet Cream.

Jones' Gail Powder.

Bring your old school books to us.

W. W. WELCH & CO.,

Dealers in

Fresh, Salt and Smoked Meats

Fish, Oysters. Game, Vegetables

Bakery Goods and Sausages Everything the Best at Lowest Prices.

Fresh every day.

We solicit your patronage.

W. W. WELCH & CO., Barrington.

"The Barrington" GAS AND GASOLINE ENGINE

The latest Improved and Best Gas or Gasoline Engine on the market.

Simple Construction. Guaranteed. Lowest Prices.

made in all sizes from 2 to 20 Horse Power. by

A. SCHAUDE & CO.

Barrington, Illinois

Manufacturers of Shafting, Pulleys and Belting, Cisterns and Tanks.

Repairing of All Kinds of Machinery a Specialty.

