Thought its itsel a Bergain—Could have Does Bester at Home.

In subtrobus towns you will Bed a number of people who think they can purchase most any article choaper in the city than in their home town. We have a lot of that class in Barrington.

Here is an illustration.

Says a farm dweller coming out on the subtrobat he other day. "I think if I made a rather good bargain in the city today. My wife wanted a pair of yaboe. They wanted £1.00 a pair for 'em in Barrington. Primary Will Name Candidate.

Next April Illinoisans will have an opportunity to indicate their preference for United States senator. The new primary election law provides that any candidate for the nomination for that office may have his name printed on the primary ballot of his political party, and that "the vote upon such candidates small be had for the sole phropse of ascertaining the sentiment of the voters in the respective parties." A man with senatorial aspirations is not obliged to have his name put on the ballot. He may withaspirations is not obliged to have his name put on the ballot. He may with-old it from the primaries and trust exclusively to the good will of the leg-slature, says the Springtled News. The object of the primary law was
