Washington dispatch: "I think the sensational stories printed in many mewspapers recently to the effect that there will be a great coal strike next spring are unwarranted," as ald John, Mitchell, president of the United Mineworkers of America, who came here to see President Rocsevelt. "I can see no reason why there should be a general strike next pring. I have not seen the railroad presidents who are also presidents of the companies, and I do not expect to hear from them for some time, but I do expect that in time there will be a readjustment along the lines on which we are now working."

Mr. Mitchell said, in response to a suggestion that large supplies of coal were now being stored away in anticipation of a strike, that he did not take any stock in that story. "This is the time of year," said he, "when coal is always stored in large quantities."

Mr. Mitchell says the response to his efforts to increase the strength of his organization has far exceeded his expectations. The coal situation was not discussed with the president, he affected at Scranton, Pa. Louis Hammerling, who is an applicant for the office of internal revenue collector in the Scranton district.
